ILLINOIS FARMERS ARE NOW FEEDING WHEAT.

Extensive feeding of wheat in place of corn to cattle, hogs, and poultry is going on throughout Illinois and adjoining states, according to reports received at headquarters of the Illinois Agricultural Associacounty, who attended an I. A. A. director's meeting in Chicago recently states that farmers in his section are not only feeding wheat which nor-mally would be sold for cash, but that some are buying wheat to feed in place of corn. He cited one in-stance of a neighbor, Bert Hoffman one of the largest hog growers in the community who saved his crop of between 2,000 and 3,000 bushels to grind with oats for his hogs rather than buy corn.

Mr. Dennis states that there be little corn produced south of the B. & O. R. R. in Southern Illinois.

Many cars have only a few grains on STRASBURG WATCHMAN the cob, although the corn-stalks and One of his fields on clover sod, he estimates, will produce 35 to 40 bu. of corn, whereas in a normal year it would have produced 60 to 70 bu.

Ray Miller of the I. A. A. staff who recently toured through Missouri reports that farmers in the northern and central parts of that state are grinding wheat on the farm for hog feed. Lloyd Nickels, an Indiana farmer and director in the Cincinnati Producers Association is feeding two car loads of hogs on a ground wheat ration. Chas. Black of Jacksonville reports that farmers in Morgan feed in place of corn.

"Present conditions warrant the feeding of wheat to dairy cows," states the University of Illinois dairy department. Wheat contains 12.4 per cent of total protein and 80.1 per cent of total digestible nutrients while corn contains 9.6 per cent total protein and 81.7 per cent of total digestible nutrients. Wheat when ground has approximately the same feeding value as corn for dairy cows, and may replace a part or all of the corn in the ration.

"At present prices wheat is selling at approximately $28 a ton and corn at $33. Under these conditions, wheat would furnish 100 pounds of total digestible nutrients at $1.75 while 100 pounds of total digestible nutrients in the form of corn would cost $2.02. Wheat is not a high protein feed, consequently high protein supplements should be used with it and other grains under average con-

TO TEACH NEAR LIBERTYVILLE

Miss Mary Elizabeth Gilbert has been employed to teach a rural school near Libertyville—nine months for $1,125$. There were 27 pupils in the school last year. The school house is strictly modern in every particular and would put many a village school house to shame. SICK stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are overstimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

When he has accu-mulated under this savings program an amount sufficient to satisfy the requirements of the association, he may obtain a loan out of the pooled funds. As security for the loan the borrowing member gives a mortgage on his property, and agrees to retire the dibt with periodic pay-ments plus interest. If a member does not wish to continue payment on his shares, he may withdraw his accumulation, after complying with ertain requirements.

Until recent years the method of saving under most building and loan schemes was obligatory. If a member failed to keep up his periodic payments, he was penalized. greater benefit to mankind than that of Dr. Caldwell in 1885, when he wrote the prescription which has carried his fame to the four corners

Over and over, Dr. Caldwell wrote the prescription as he found men, women and children suffering from those common symptoms of constipa-tion, such as coated tongue, bad breath, headaches, gas, musea, billious-ness, no energy, lack of appetite, and similar things.

Demand for this prescription grew to fast, because of the pleasant, quick way it relieved such symptoms of constipation, that by 1838 Dr. Caldwell was forced to have it put up ready for use. Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is always ready at any drugstore.

Imagination conjures Africa as the impenetrable, intricate jungle, remote from any kind of civilization, inhabited by great beasts and savage tribes of natives.

But Africa has been modernized.

Consider Monrovia, capitol of Li-beria, situated on the west coast of Africa and headquarters of the Firestone Plantations Company now cultivating a million acres to produce rubber to be used for America's 26,- Monrovians receive their daily news from the United States—4400 miles from New York—faster than any newspaper subscriber.

Barely are the stock market closing prices marked on the big board than the final prices are on their way to Liberia at the speed of 186,000 miles a second. This is made possible by the Uni-ted States-Liberian Radio Company operating a short wave public utility between Liberia and the United States.

Letters to Monrovia reach their destination in approximately six weeks by boat—radio communications are received in a clap of the hand. These changes have occurred since Harvey S. Firestone determined to grow his own rubber and free America from foreign rubber and tree Ameri-ca from foreign rubber monopoly.

Where once chattering monkeys gamboled in the lush jungle growth, modern American automobiles now roll across paved boulevards.

There are churches, hospitals schools modern homes, work has been provided for thousands of natives, and electric lights and refri-geration have erased the last trace of the jungle.

Firestone's ability to supply to the motoring public high quality tires at the lowest prices in automotive history is partly the result of its far flung resources. The rubber flows in Firestone hands from the trees. The fabric travels from the cottor fields through Firestone mills—every thing meets in Firestone factories. At every point the control is Fire-

The Company is able then to pass its savings on to the dealer and allow him to sell a high quality tire made by experts with the best of material—at a low cost.

One of the latest developments at the Firestone laboratories is the patented double cord breaker. A double breaker of two plies of cord fabric anchored in cushion rubber is placed under the tread of the tire. Road shocks are absorbed, more pro-tection given against punctures and blowouts and longer non-skid wear is
