Warren Day from north of Lovington came through the Moultrie county corn husking contest on Monday with a total of 24.27 bushels in the 80-minute period.

The above figures, while ten bushels too low to assure Moultrie county a place in the state contest, represented good work considering the tangled condition of the corn following last week's rain and heavy wind.

The march to the field started at 10 a. m. Each wagon was drawn by an Allis-Chalmers tractor furnished for the contest by Reedy & Grote of Sullivan.

The contest ended at 11:38 a. m., and the wagons were on the way to the scales immediately.

Prizes awarded the winners were as follows: First, Warren Day—$25.00 cash by Funk Bros. Seed Co.

LOCAL MEETINGS WILL LAUNCH 1938 FARM PROGRAM

Township Meetings To Be Held During November To Learn Objectives Of Conservation Program.

Moultrie county farmers will have an opportunity at a series of meetings scheduled during November to learn more about the objectives and goals under the 1938 agricultural conservation program, according to Farm Adviser Paul M. Krows.

At these meetings farmers will also elect committeemen who will administer the program in Moultrie county. First of the community meetings will get under way around Nov. 8 in many Illinois counties with all meetings in the state to be completed by Thanksgiving, Nov. 25. Dates for the Moultrie county meetings have not been determined as yet.

Efficiency with which the 1938 program is administered will depend to a great extent on the type of committeemen selected at the community meetings. The chairman of the community committees will constitute the county board of directors, and it is from this board that the county committee is selected.

All farmers actively taking part in the 1937 agricultural conservation program or those who plan to participate in the 1938 program are eligible to aid in the selection of community committeemen.

Prior to the community meetings to be held soon after Nov. 8, a series of district conferences for farm advisers and county committeemen will be held in various sections of the state to discuss objectives and goals of the 1938 program. The date and place of the district meetings which Moultrie county representatives will attend is Nov. 4 at Shelbyville.

SULLIVAN JUDGING TEAM PLACES 2ND IN NATIONAL MEET

H. P. Erwin And His Local Students Return Home Last Thursday Evening From Kansas City.

Sullivan's vocational agriculture dairy cattle judging team lived up to its high standards in the national contest at Kansas City, on October 17-22. Having won the state contest in Urbana in June the Sullivan team represented Illinois in the national contest held at Kansas City in connection with the National Future Farmer meeting and the American Royal livestock show. The Sullivan boys placed second in judging Guernsey cattle while Vernon Callison placed sixth in the judging of that breed. The total score made by the Sullivan team was 1001 points in judging all breeds and was distributed as follows: Billy Baumgartner 360, Vernon Callison 339, and Garrett Burtchard 302. Edward Gabhart was Sullivan's alternate.

Dairy teams from Michigan and Arizona won first and second places, respectively, in judging all breeds. The five highest ranking individual judges were boys from Michigan, New Mexico, Oregon, Nebraska, and Oklahoma, in the order named. A Virginia boy was first in judging Jerseys, Guernsey judging was won by a boy from Arizona, while an Idaho boy captured the honor for Holsteins. Thirty-eight states were represented by teams in the dairy divisions of the contest.

This was the second time Sullivan has represented Illinois in the national contest and is the first time in fourteen years that any team has won the Illinois contest twice. Sullivan having won in 1935 and 1937. Vocational agriculture teams from Sullivan have set up some high records during the past several years, having won honors many times in the state meets as well as in the national contests. Competition among Illinois' 308 high schools where vocational agriculture is taught is keen.

Sullivan was second in all-around competition in 1934, and first in 1935. All-round awards were discontinued in 1936. The grain team was 10th in 1933, 7th in 1934, 2nd in 1935, 7th in 1936 and 2nd in 1937. The Sullivan fatstock team was 6th in 1934 and 8th in 1935. The poultry team was 8th in 1935, and the corn team 6th in 1936. High individual honors have been won in each division—corn, grain, poultry, fatstock and dairy judging. Highest ranking honors in each division have been won by Sullivan boys during recent years.

The real object and value of all these contests and of the FFA is to motivate learning in fundamentals for farm and rural life, including leadership. There is abundant and visible evidence about Sullivan to indicate the value of vocational agricultural training. Project earnings, improved farm practices, relative earnings of vocationally trained farmers, young men established in farming who have received the training offered (even though inadequate) and the social and civic activities of these young farmers—these are suggested measures.

New Phase of New Deal Expected If Severe Business Slump Comes

By MARK SULLIVAN

Last week President Roosevelt, in the course of a statement about the budget, announced that he had given directions to wind up two of the great agencies for recovery through spending. The Public Works Administration was to take on no new projects, and no existing commitments were to be increased. A similar announcement was made about the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

About the same time important members of the Administration who had talked with the President declared publicly that he was determined to balance the budget. All the atmosphere, the whole emphasis, was on ending the period of spending in order to bring recovery. Underlying the new policy, presumably, was the theory, that recovery is here, that "pump-priming" and other depression expenditures were no longer necessary. Then came one of the most sensational price drops the securities markets have ever had. The fall was of proportions which, in past experience have usually heralded rather marked recessions in business. Decidedly the stock market was not saying that recovery is here. Rather it was saying the opposite.

Let us not read any necessary meaning into the coincidence of Mr. Roosevelt's assumption that recovery is here with the securities markets' indication that some degree of business recession is ahead. Between the two incidents is no necessary relation of cause and effect. Such a relation may be there, but no one can be certain it is. Much of the fallacious thinking currently afflicting the world arises from mistakenly assuming a relation of cause and effect between events which have no such relation or only a slight one.

But the stock market slump raises some interesting questions about balancing the budget, and about Mr. Roosevelt's policies generally. The stock market slump is not much taken into account yet except by persons closely concerned. Readers of newspapers distant from the great cities are hardly aware that anything has happened, or that it means anything to them. But nearly all experience suggests that a market slump of this extent is followed fairly soon by recession in volume of general business, including of course some increase in unemployment. Indeed, this is forecast by other indexes, such as the drop in activity in the steel industry. If business recession and increase of unemployment are to follow, the country generally should become conscious of it about the time the special session of Congress meets the middle of next month.

If there is marked increase of unemployment, what will be the reaction of Congress, the President and the country? Will Mr. Roosevelt continue in the determination to balance the budget? Balancing the budget is made more difficult by business recession, in two ways. Increase of unemployment leads to demand for

Lesson for October 31 THE MORAL ISSUE IN THE DRINK PROBLEM

LESSON TEXT—Romans 13:12-14; I Corinthians 6:9-11; Galatians 5:16-24. GOLDEN TEXT—Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh.—Galatians 5:16. PRIMARY TOPIC—My Neighbors. JUNIOR TOPIC—The Greatest Law. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why Is It Wrong to Drink Alcoholic Beverages? YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Moral Issue in the Drink Problem.

The title for our lesson is well-chosen—"The Moral Issue in the Drink Problem."

First, let it be clear that there is an issue. Those who have business, social, or political connections with the liquor traffic would like to have us believe that the repeal of prohibition settled the matter once for all. But let us be sure of this fact—the liquor problem is at our very door, and it must be met.

In the second place, many would have us think that the matter of drunkenness is a social, political, or even a physical problem, without any moral implications whatever. But those who are informed know that even the supposedly innocent beer is inextricably tied up with vice and crime. A prisoner in a federal penitentiary writing before prohibition was repealed said, "Criminals hail with delight . . . the return of liquor via the beer route and the greater license that the return of the saloon will inevitably bring. With the return of beer will come open prostitution and gambling." His words were true.

I. Drunkenness Is a Work of Darkness (Rom. 13:12-14).

Just as there are darkness and daylight in the physical universe, so there are two contrasting spiritual realms, of darkness and light.

Men "loved darkness rather than light because their deeds were evil," according to the Lord Jesus. (See John 3:19.) This spiritual realm of darkness is directed by "rulers of the darkness of this world" (Eph. 6:12), and their purpose is "spiritual wickedness." With the "works of darkness" the believer is to "have no fellowship" (Eph. 5:11), but is to "reprove them" and bring them into the light where their true nature is made manifest (Eph. 5:13). "God is light, and in him is no darkness at all," and those who have fellowship with him "walk in the light." (See I John 1:5-7.)

Drunkenness is a work of darkness. It separates man from God and makes him fear the glorious light of his countenance. The solution for that awful condition is revealed in v. 14. "Put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ."

II. Drunkenness Is a Work of Unrighteousness (I Cor. 6:9-11).

No drunkard "shall inherit the kingdom of God" (v. 10), and the man who takes his first drink has put his foot on the path that leads to the drunkard's grave. Of course no man plans to go that far, but the fact is that such is the tragic conclusion for hundreds of thousands of men and women—damned for time and eternity by drink.

Again in this passage we have the answer to our problem. Not reformation, not education, not culture (desirable and useful though we recognize these things to be), but being "washed," "sanctified," and "justified" in "the name of the Lord Jesus and in the Spirit of God." Try that on your town drunkard. Thank God, it works!

III. Drunkenness Is a Work of the Flesh (Gal. 5:16-24).

The flesh—that is our bodies ruled over by self-will as opposed to God's will—is revealed in the Scriptures to be thoroughly bad, and in opposition to God. Consider the appalling list of the works of the flesh in verses 19 and 20. And note that in the midst of them stands drunkenness.

It is the lowest in man that responds to intoxicants. Little wonder that the Brewers' Journal came out right after the election of 1932 with the statement that "not one tenth of one-per cent of American youths know the taste of real beer. We must educate them." In other words the normal taste of an intelligent person would revolt at the stuff, but once give it a chance to stir the lusts of "the flesh" and the victim is caught.

Once again, note the antidote—live in the power of the Holy Spirit, and the flesh with its lusts is crucified (v. 24). How shall we have the Holy Spirit and his power in our lives? By taking the Lord Jesus Christ as personal Saviour.

Words Without Action Few men suspect how much mere talk fritters away spiritual energy—that which should be spent in action, spends itself in words.

AAA PAYMENTS ARE TO BE PAID AS WAS ANNOUNCED. The AAA has announced that payments to farmers participating in the 1937 agricultural conservation program will be made at the maximum rates provided under the program as announced last December.

The 1937 program as originally announced included a tentative schedule of payments subject to a 10 per cent adjustment upward or downward, depending upon the extent of participation by farmers.

In computing a farmer's payment, his pro rata share of the expense of administering the program in this county will be deducted from the gross amount determined by the application of the maximum rates.

H. R. Tolley, administrator of the AAA stated that payment of maximum rates originally authorized will fully carry out the offer made to cooperating farmers, while staying well within budget requirements.

"A factor in the decision to pay the maximum was based on the unusual character of local administrative expenses which this year are deductible from payments to farmers," Tolley said. "Local expenses during recent months have included a considerable amount of aerial mapping work which will be used in administering the program in future years. Also, since the 1938 program was drawn up much earlier this year than in the past, a disproportionate amount of current local administrative expenses incurred in 1937 are in connection with the 1938 program instead of the 1937 program. Bring your orders for JOB WORK to The Moultrie County News.

TUSCOLA-ATWOOD SCHOOL DISPUTE RULING PROMISED ON NOVEMBER 12TH.

TUSCOLA, Oct. 28—A ruling in the Tuscola-Atwood school dispute—started when Atwood presented petitions annexing 18 non-high school districts, many near Tuscola—was promised for Nov. 12 by Circuit Judge Joseph L. McLaughlin on Wednesday.

Judge McLaughlin Wednesday heard arguments on an Atwood motion to quash an injunction restraining Luther Black, county school superintendent, from recording the annexation of the districts.

Fred Kelly, Atwood school board attorney, argued that the injunction was not the proper proceeding since he believed the law means that Atwood annexed the territory as soon as petitions for annexation were filed with the county superintendent.

Both sides admitted Wednesday that 10 signers of the Atwood annexation petition had offered to withdraw, but Atwood attorneys claimed they could not legally withdraw.

Tuscola school authorities were angered several weeks ago when the Atwood petitions were filed and suit was started on the ground that much of the territory taken into the Atwood school district should go to Tuscola.

DEMAND IS STILL GREAT FOR OPEN POLLINATED CORN.

Despite the ever increasing acreage of hybrid seed corn planted in Illinois each year, it still pays farmers who have a good strain of open pollinated corn to select seed for next year with care, says J. C. Hackleman, crops extension specialist, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Demands for such seed will come from about half of the farmers of the state since hybrid seed supplies are available for planting half of the 1938 corn acreage, he explained.

Furthermore, many farmers will plant open-pollinated corn since they are not convinced hybrids are superior for their conditions.

To guide farmers in selecting seed corn from the field Hackleman listed a number of factors to consider. First of these is the selection of corn from plants that are erect. Then, the ears should be carried at medium height on the stalk. A good ear shank is one that is of medium length and strong enough to hold the ear erect.

The stalk should be free from smut or marked purpling. Also the stalk should be strong and vigorous, since no one wants a field of corn that is easily blown over. Upper leaves of good color are evidence of good growth and heat resistance.

Ears that are well covered with husks are to be desired. Naturally, they should be mature and free from evidence of disease.

"If these points are kept in mind as the ears are selected and if the corn is properly cared for during the winter, some splendid seed will be available next spring," Hackleman said.

"It pays to pick three or four times as much seed now as will be needed next spring. If 35 or 50 ears are selected for each acre to be planted next spring, the weak ears can be culled or thrown out on germination tests. Furthermore, if a farmer selects more than he needs for himself he may have chances to dispose of the surplus to those who are not so careful."

CAP AND BELLS

AND THAT WAS THAT!

The court was silent except for the clear-cut tones of defending counsel. Everyone hung on his words, and many thought that he would win his case quite easily. "And now, gentlemen of the jury," he began to wind up, "I ask you—where could the prisoner have hidden the watch? Not in his pocket. The constable has already told you that the man was searched. Not in his shoes—the watch was too large. Then where was it hidden?"

He paused dramatically for effect, and during the pause the prisoner ventured: "Please, sir, I put it under my 'at.'"—London Tit-Bits Magazine.

Modern "Dorothy," said mother irritably, "you have disobeyed me by racing around the house and making a terrible noise. Just for that you shall have that piece of candy I was saving for you."

A few minutes later, when father came in, he was surprised to find Dorothy huddled in a corner, quiet as a mouse.

"What's the matter, little one?" he demanded. "Why so quiet?" "I've been fined for speeding," sobbed Dorothy.

CLUCK, CLUCK

Bystander—Have you solved the mystery of the worm family's disappearance? Sleuth—No, but I suspect foul play.

Ready Answer "Yes," continued the loquacious explorer, "when we neared the island we could see the whole place was literally red with lobsters."

"Ha, ha," cried the clubman, who was waiting to trap him, "lobsters are only red after boiling." "This, sir, was a volcanic island."—Automobilist.

A Bit Bucky Unseen by the referee, the all-in wrestler bit his opponent severely. "You're biting," hissed the sufferer.

"Well," gasped his adversary, "do yer expect me to swaller yer in a lump?"—London Bystander.

Scratching Didn't Help Auntie (on the farm, to little city niece)—Couldn't you get any eggs, dear? Niece—No, Auntie. The hens were scratching all around as hard as they could, but they didn't find a single egg!

Tie That! Inquiring Schoolboy—Daddy, what effect does the moon have on the tide? Dad (from the depths of his newspaper)—Not any, son. Only on the untied.—Drexel Drexerd.

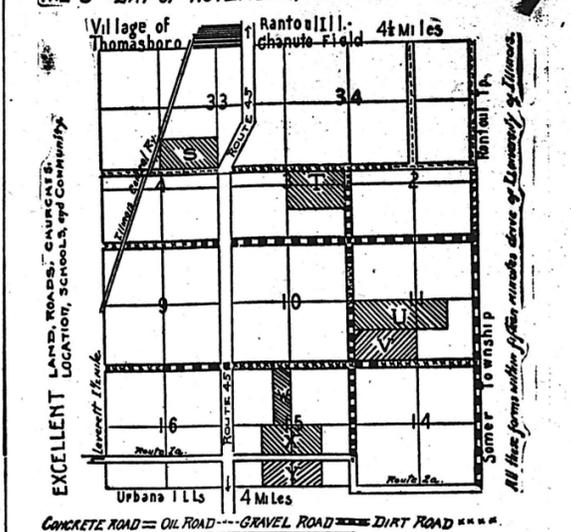

In Defense Judge—You admit that you drove over this man with a loaded truck. Well, what have you to say in defense? Defendant—I didn't know it was loaded.—Harvard Lampoon.

Modern Requirements "Is Si Simlin what you'd call a good farmer?" "No," said Farmer Cortnessel. "He doesn't know a thing about politics or finance."

PASSED IT ALONG "Did your wife do anything for her cold?" "Yes, she gave it to me."

Proddy Mother—Do you know what happens to little boys who tell lies? Johnny—Yes, mother; they travel for half-fare.—Neal O'Hara in New York Post.

SIMPLE HEALTH RULES FOR THE FALL SEASON.

There is no reason why fall and winter should not be healthy seasons, yet many people dread the coming months. Following a few simple health rules will help in the prevention of those diseases which afflict careless persons during the fall and winter, according to a statement from Tuberculosis Association. 1. Go to your doctor for a physical examination. Beginning ailments may be detected while there is an opportunity for early correction. 2. Eat fats, starches and sugars for body heat, but do not neglect fresh and cooked vegetables and fruits for minerals, vitamins and roughage. 3. Do not "go stale" through lack of exercise. Physical activity for the normal person is just as important in winter as in summer. 4. Get some sunshine, not through glass but directly. 5. Avoid persons with colds. Coughs and sneezers spread disease germs. If you catch cold, do not neglect it. 6. Sleep at least eight hours out of every 24. Drink plenty of water. 7. Be moderate. Disease germs find hospitality in the weary fatigued body.

J. A. McBRIDE CO. OF ST. LOUIS ASKS DAMAGES OF $7,000

The J. A. McBride Gas Engineering corporation of St. Louis has brought summons against the city of Sullivan on two counts claiming damages for $5,700 on one and $7,000 on the other. The plaintiffs in the case claim that in July, 1933, the City of Sullivan had under consideration and contemplating the making of a local improvement for this city consisting of the design and construction of a municipally owned gas plant and distribution system within and for the use of the city of Sullivan.

The bill of particulars charges that the City of Sullivan requested and directed the plaintiff to render and perform for it the necessary engineering services in the designing and carrying forward the construction and completion of such a local improvement.

It is charged that the city authorities then and there promised the plaintiffs to pay on request a reasonable value of said services which should be rendered.

The plaintiff charges that it has sustained damages in the sum of $7,000 and asks for a money judgment against the city for that amount.

The suit has been brought by Baker, Leseman, Kary and Wagner, attorneys of St. Louis on behalf of J. A. McBride company.

Battle of Lake Champlain

Gen. Sir George Prevost in 1814 led 12,000 troops in an invasion of New York by way of Lake Champlain. On September 11, Commodore Haddock won a brilliant victory over a superior British squadron in the battle of Lake Champlain. His line of supply from Canada thereby disrupted, Prevost and his army abandoned the invasion and beat a hasty retreat.

Popular Ballad

Undoubtedly America's most popular ballad was "Frankie and Johnnie." During the latter part of the Nineteenth century, says Collier's Weekly, this simple song, despite its theme, attained such widespread fame that more than 300 variations of it were sung from coast to coast. This number equals, possibly exceeds, the total of all extant original ballads in the English language.

"King of the Pines"

The sugar pine tree, "King of all the pines," grows to an incredible height. Its wood is smooth and soft and cream-colored. It is a species relatively rare, growing only in California and Oregon. Even there it is found only in certain choice locations, where the rich soil left by long-vanished glaciers, combined with amenities of altitude and climate, favor it.

Wards Island in New York

The National FFA, Public Speaking Contest, the Tenth Convention Celebration Program of the FFA, band concerts by the big state FFA bands from Texas, Missouri, and Utah—more than 100 pieces in each band, trips to interesting parts of the city, the American Royal Livestock Show, the stock yards, the Horse Show, and finally the National FFA banquet. All FFA meetings were held in the new Municipal Auditorium covering an entire city block. The dining room where the banquet was held covered the entire ground floor of the auditorium and into which big trucks were driven to unload the food prepared for the banquet.

The trip to Kansas City was made by auto. Mr. H. P. Erwin, coach of the team, drove his car on the trip leaving Sullivan Sunday morning and returning Thursday night, Oct. 21. The trip out was made via Springfield, Jacksonville, Hannibal, Mo., Macon, Cameron and south to Kansas City. Time was taken out at Hannibal to visit the Mark Twain cave where the boys saw such parts as the "post office" where Tom Sawyer was lost, the various entrances to the cave, where Jesse James and his crowd were in hiding, where the "treasure chest" was found and other legendary parts of the cavern. The return trip was made via Columbia, where a visit was made to the University of Missouri and its College of Agriculture. The Missouri river was crossed, both at Kansas City in going over into Kansas, and again at Mexico, Mo., on the return trip. The well known Stark Bros. Nurseries were seen at Louisiana, Mo., after which the "Mighty Mississippi" was crossed back into Illinois. Shortly afterward the team crossed the Illinois River and came onto the route taken on the trip out.

If worthy character is the result of interesting and satisfying experiences and if high ideals are promoted by association with those who hold and teach high ideals, one must conclude that boys who take advantage of the opportunities offered in vocational agriculture will build high character. Wonderful trips, opportunities for self expression, and association with the nation's best in youth and youth training including the highest ranking of the nation's leaders should interest, satisfy and promote.

TREES IN LARGE GOVERNMENT PARKS MAKE VERY ATTRACTIVE APPEARANCE.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Chapin and Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Burns motored to Brown County, Ind., on Friday of last week to view this region, which is fast becoming famous for its scenic beauty. The center of interest is the Brown County State Park, located just south of Nashville; the county seat. This park has an area of 3,822 acres and adjoins the state game preserve of 11,390 acres. These two park units of rugged timbered hills present a scene of rare beauty, especially at this time of the year when the leaves are so colorful.

The park custodian reported an attendance of 18,756 during the week preceding, 8,282 being there on Sunday. The attendance this year to date he said was 105,934 as compared with 85,986 last year.

The whole county only has six miles of railroad and that is across one corner. Nashville with less than 500 population, is the largest town in the whole county and is of interest in itself. The court house is the only one of its kind with its outside stairs leading to the court room on the second floor, and of particular interest is the old log jail.

Nashville is cashing in on the tourist trade by charging admission to the various places of interest. By the window displays we judge that the farmers are mostly engaged in raising fine apples and vegetables.

There is only one bank and one newspaper in the entire county.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Rev. C. E. Barnett, Pastor
The revival continues with increasing interest and attendance. It will close Nov. 3rd. Each evening at 7:30 is a treat in song and sermon. The Rainbow chorus delights us and radiates good cheer. Come and have a part in these evening services, with Forrest Hampton leading in song and John Ray Clark in sermon.

Sunday's services should be high marks in the revival. The Sunday school at 9:30 a. m., convenes for the study of the Word and uplift of soul. The church service at 10:30 o'clock provides the communion and worship period, with sermon by the evangelist.

Again in the evening at 7:30, Rev. Clark will present a message of uplift and inspiration. There will be a great song service led by Mr. Hampton. It is the fifth Sunday evening of the month, our regular union service together. We appreciate the co-operation of other churches and invite attendance of all who may come.

The Christian Endeavor societies will meet at 6:30 p. m. Don McKown will lead the seniors, discussing the topic and question "Liquor—What Are We Doing About It?" In the Intermediate society Myrna Stricklan will be the leader.

Again we urge your presence at all services of the church. The purpose of the revival is to arouse the soul and to give man an incentive to improve his social condition, and so to save the soul. Come to church each evening at 7:30 and at the usual hours on Lord's day.

50% OF '38 CORN CROP TO BE PLANTED WITH HYBRID SEED.

Every other acre of corn in Illinois next year will probably be planted with hybrid seed, it is estimated by C. M. Woodworth, chief in plant genetics, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, who bases his conclusions on the large acreages of detasseling fields this year and the high yields of seed expected.

The ever-increasing acreage of hybrid corn is almost certain to affect agricultural practices with some shifts already under way, he said. Hybrid corn stands up much better than ordinary corn and for that reason is better adapted to machine harvesting. This fact has increased the demand for mechanical corn pickers this fall.

Furthermore the sowing of winter wheat between the rows of standing corn is more feasible with hybrid than with open-pollinated corn.

"Better yields of hybrid corn and the necessity of growing it on good soil to get the best results are causing farmers to attend more to their fertility problems than before," Woodworth said.

"This is especially important since hybrid corn is not a magic corn. If it yields 10 per cent better than ordinary corn, it takes out of the soil 10 per cent more fertility, and this must be replaced if good yields are to be maintained.

"On account of the good seed crop obtained this year, the price for hybrid seed will likely be reduced next spring below what it was in the spring of 1937. This is desirable as more farmers will buy it, and more hybrid corn will be produced.

"However, since there are several items of cost entering into the production of hybrid seed, it is hoped that prices will not go so low as to effect adversely the quality of the product. Farmers will profit if they obtain reports of the state performance tests as soon as they are available, determine what hybrid or hybrids are best for their particular section and place their orders immediately. It is planned to have a report of the 1937 performance test available for distribution for Farm and Home week at the agricultural college, January 10 to 14.

"The hybrid corn program is not static, it is growing and developing. Hybrids that are good now may be replaced by better ones in the near future. There is much yet to be done. How much improvement in yield can be expected is problematical, but certainly considerable improvement will be made in insect and disease resistance and in quality."

CHICAGO AGAIN PLANS FOR HUGE STOCK SHOW.

Farmers and stockmen from many states, several Canadian provinces, as well as from Australia, South Africa, and South America have thus far listed entries of livestock and crops for the 1937 International Live Stock Exposition.

The exposition will be held in the new International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards November 27 to December 4.

Predict Record Entry.

According to Secretary-Manager B. H. Heide, the early entry is the heaviest in the history of the show, which leads him to predict that this year's event will be a record one in number of exhibits. There were over 14,000 head of livestock shown at the 1936 exposition.

It will be the 38th annual renewal of this largest exposition of farm animals and crops on the continent. Prizes will total over $100,000, distributed over contests which will feature all breeds of beef cattle, draft and light horses and ponies, sheep, and swine.

Spectacular horse shows will take place every evening from the opening to the closing days. The finest riding and driving horses and ponies in this country and Canada will be seen in contest for prize ribbons in these events.

Big Crops Exhibit.

The world's largest crops exhibit, the International Grain and Hay Show, will be held for the 19th time in connection with the exposition. Growers from 37 states, Canada and Australia took part in this contest last year. The management expects an even wider and more extensive display of exhibits this year because of the good crop yields in most sections of the continent.

Special low round trip fares have already been scheduled for the week of the exposition by many of the railroads entering Chicago to accommodate the thousands who will visit this premier annual showing of the nation's livestock and farming industries.

Luke 7:22, "Go your way, and tell"

We who have been to Jesus and experienced the miracle of salvation through believing upon Him and trusting in Him have much to go back and tell, but how slow we are to tell it. Jesus did not ask John's disciples to take his word for who he was, but he let them see his works. They could return with personal knowledge.

When we come to Christ seeking to know him, we are not asked to believe simply because he says, but he meets us with a personal experience, one that we cannot doubt. I might travel far and go a long way from Christ but I could not doubt his personality, or my personal experiences when I come to him. Instead of spending so much time in spreading the gospel which we hear, how much better to spread the gospel which we have. The gospel will stir up trouble while the gospel will stir up sin. Gossip makes tears, the gospel wipes tears away. Gossip drags people down, the gospel lifts people up.

Go your way, and tell, but be sure you have something worth while to tell. I know the cure for all the ills of a sick old world, it is the Christ that opens spiritually blinded eyes, the Christ that will cause the spiritually lame to walk, the Christ that cleanses the lepers of sin, the Christ that will open the spiritually deaf ears, the Christ who will raise those dead in trespasses and sin, the Christ with a gospel for the poor. As I go my way and tell, I know that all will not listen but some will, let us have an interest in the some.

This Week In Washington
By RALPH E. CHURCH
Illinois Representative in Congress

President Roosevelt has issued a call for a special session of Congress beginning on November 16th, six weeks in advance of the opening of the regular session in January. In his tenth "fireside chat" he outlined four major legislative proposals: (1) wage-hour bill, (2) crop control, (3) reorganization of the executive branch of the government and (4) regional planning through "little TVAS."

These four principal legislative tasks were emphasized by the President in his radio address as representing the "immediate need" and wish of the people. They constitute his concrete program for the special session. As a matter of fact, they were a part of the program for the last session. But a rebellious Congress, weary from a long and bitter fight over the Supreme Court proposal, left them on the Administration's calendar as "unfinished business."

Every one will agree, I think, that when Members of Congress packed their trunks to go home last August they were in no mood to consider any one of those four important measures. They were angry with the President because of his Court plan. They were angry not only because of the plan itself but because they had no advance notice of it. They became angrier when the President sent his other major proposals to Congress late in the session and in piecemeal fashion.

When Congress was ready to adjourn last August it was in anything but a deliberative mood. The Court fight had caused Members to be suspicious of Executive drafted bills. It disorganized the legislative machinery of the Democratic majority. Issues were lost in personalities. Less and less were the rules of personal courtesy observed in debate. More and more it became the practice to call each other a distasteful name.

In view of the mood and temperament of the Congress at the last session, the President and the people as a whole should be glad these important bills were left on the calendar. Regardless of one's attitude on any one of the proposals, for it or against it, he should be glad it was left in an "unfinished status." Tired, impatient, angry men cannot give proper consideration to their responsibilities in writing laws of such far-reaching importance.

The best laws are those which are hammered out, not rushed out of the legislative mill. They are the product of extended debate, compromise, amendments and perhaps a complete rewriting. They are the ultimate result of many minds and many points of view. All that could have been done at the last session, after the court fight, would have been to obtain the "rubber-stamp" approval or complete rejection of each bill. Not much more could have been expected. At the time Congress was largely controlled by emotions rather than logic and reason. It was anxious to adjourn. There is an old saying, "More haste less speed." It was largely because of this "haste," poorly drafted and inadequately considered laws, that many of them were unable to stand the test in the courts. It was never intended and should not be the function of Congress simply to accept verbatim and without question that which is handed to it by the Executive. Administration bills should be looked upon as recommendations. To offer an amendment and to fight for its enactment is not a "national crime," a "calamity" and does not of itself make one a "tory," "ingrate" or "reactionary," as seems to be the attitude of the more enthusiastic New Dealers. We know the President's program for the special session. What frame of mind Congress will be in when it assembles no one knows. No doubt every Member recognizes that he is being called to Washington to consider legislation which is certain to have a far-reaching affect upon the entire nation. It is a program which calls for real deliberation.

Reds Spoil Shelbyville's Homecoming Celebration With Four Touchdown Offense.

Clark Dennis' gridiron stalwarts went on another scoring orgy last Friday night to overwhelm an inferior but courageous Shelbyville eleven. Homecoming through shivered throughout the entire contest as the fighting warmed up for the invasion of Monticello's Sages here this afternoon by pushing over touchdowns, one in each period.

From the first touchdown on, there was really very little doubt as to the relative power of the teams. The sensational running of Billy Shasteen and Wayne "Little Bear" Elder led to the downfall of Shelbyville's light band of gridmen. However, they were made possible by some especially fine blocking on the part of their mates in the line and backfield. Admittedly strong the Dennismen appeared brilliant last Friday night and it is hoped by STHS followers that the locals will pull out a magic wand in order to give the gridders from Piatt county a thorough walloping today.

It was the second straight win of the season for Sullivan, while the defeat marked Shelbyville's fifth consecutive loss in local competition. By virtue of the Shelbyville victory the Dennismen climbed back in first division in the Okaw Valley conference standings.

Sullivan Scores Early.

The game was only a few minutes old when the scoreboard indicated that the Moultrie county school had jumped off to a 7 to 0 lead. Taking the initial kickoff the Reds marched down the field on straight football tactics to the two-yard line. Boyce England plowed over the goal line for the first touchdown. The try for extra point was good.

Elder Returns Punt For 50 Yards.

"Little Bear" Elder, elusive STHS speed merchant, set the stage for the second touchdown of the game by grabbing a Shelby punt on his own 45 yard line and scampering 50 yards down the field to Shelbyville's five yard stripe. Two line plays proved enough to permit the crossing of Shelby's goal line by Roy Bolin with Sullivan's second touchdown. The conversion was successful and Sullivan left the field at intermission with a 14 to 0 advantage.

Passes Begin To Fly.

Sullivan had Shelbyville completely stopped in its tracks until the third quarter. At this time the Purple and White team began to throw passes in all directions. A forward pass was ruled complete due to interference on the locals' one yard line. At this moment Shelbyville's only touchdown was scored by Wade from the 1-yard line. The try for point was unsuccessful.

Roy Bolin Scores Again.

Aroused by Bill Shasteen's long run in the third period to Shelby's 5-yard line, the highly vaunted STHS scoring machine collaborated nicely in putting over its third touchdown of the tussle. Roy Bolin plucked the ball over from the 3-yard stripe.

Retaining its steady touchdown a period pace, the Reds scored again the fourth period when Elder received a 20-yard aerial from England and placed the ball in close range for Captain Creek to score on an end-around play. Just before the game ended the Reds were knocking at Shelbyville's door again but the gun barked with the ball deep into Shelby's territory.

Barclay Stars On Defense.

Carl Barclay, promising Sophomore griddler, played a whale of a defensive game for the local charges. The Reds' line looked good and if there was anyone phase of the playing which did not show up well, it was the tackling and forward pass defense.

Monticello Homecoming Guests.

The annual meeting between Monticello and Sullivan-high Friday (today) at Victory field will be one of the main features of the 1937 football program for Clark Dennis' cohorts. Each year the traditional battle with the Sages proves to be the highlight of the Redbirds' schedule. Faced by two of the highest scoring backs in the Okaw Valley in the persons of Captain Carl Hunt and Bob Duvall, the Sages promise to be a worthy foe for today's colorful battle. It will take an inspired STHS eleven to halt the power of Carl Bergeson's boys and also some good breaks of the game. A large delegation will unquestionably be present to cheer the locals on to victory.

ANNUAL HOMECOMING AT STATE UNIVERSITY THIS WEEK END.

This week end more than 25,000 alumni from all parts of the state and nation will return to the University of Illinois for the twenty-seventh annual Homecoming. The event will also honor Coach Robert C. Zupke on his silver anniversary as Illini mentor.

In 1910 the University of Illinois was the scene of the world's first Homecoming celebration. Today the idea has spread to colleges, and even to high schools, throughout the nation.

The event will be a gala occasion on the Illini campus. Decorations of fraternity and sorority houses, alumni reunions, and a busy round of activities will mark the week-end. A high spot will be the Illinois-Michigan football game Saturday afternoon.

A huge pep meeting will be held the preceding night on the quadrangle Pageantry featuring the football court of Illini co-eds representing each of the Big Ten schools will precede the game. Between halves Coach Zupke will be specially honored.

Formations and playing of the famous University of Illinois football band will thrill spectators before the game and during the half. Alumni will have a reunion luncheon before the game in the huge hall beneath the west stand of Memorial stadium, and a general alumni reunion will be held there after the game.

Saturday night the annual Homecoming Stunt show featuring 14 acts and more than 250 student actors will be presented in the new Ice Skating rink. It will be the first stage production ever presented in this $375,000 structure.

Both Friday and Saturday nights the Illini Theatre Guild will present "Boy Meets Girl," a riotous farce on Hollywood, as its Homecoming production. This will be given in the well-equipped Little theatre of Lincoln Hall. Homecoming dances will be further features of the week-end.

Sullivan will be represented among the students taking part in the Homecoming production by Joseph McLaughlin, who will take part in The Homecoming Stunt Show.

ANNUAL HOMECOMING AT STATE UNIVERSITY THIS WEEK END.

This week end more than 25,000 alumni from all parts of the state and nation will return to the University of Illinois for the twenty-seventh annual Homecoming. The event will also honor Coach Robert C. Zupke on his silver anniversary as Illini mentor.

In 1910 the University of Illinois was the scene of the world's first Homecoming celebration. Today the idea has spread to colleges, and even to high schools, throughout the nation.

The event will be a gala occasion on the Illini campus. Decorations of fraternity and sorority houses, alumni reunions, and a busy round of activities will mark the week-end. A high spot will be the Illinois-Michigan football game Saturday afternoon.

A huge pep meeting will be held the preceding night on the quadrangle Pageantry featuring the football court of Illini co-eds representing each of the Big Ten schools will precede the game. Between halves Coach Zupke will be specially honored.

Formations and playing of the famous University of Illinois football band will thrill spectators before the game and during the half. Alumni will have a reunion luncheon before the game in the huge hall beneath the west stand of Memorial stadium, and a general alumni reunion will be held there after the game.

Saturday night the annual Homecoming Stunt show featuring 14 acts and more than 250 student actors will be presented in the new Ice Skating rink. It will be the first stage production ever presented in this $375,000 structure.

Both Friday and Saturday nights the Illini Theatre Guild will present "Boy Meets Girl," a riotous farce on Hollywood, as its Homecoming production. This will be given in the well-equipped Little theatre of Lincoln Hall. Homecoming dances will be further features of the week-end.

Sullivan will be represented among the students taking part in the Homecoming production by Joseph McLaughlin, who will take part in The Homecoming Stunt Show.

NYA PROGRAM IN ILLINOIS FOR GAME CONSERVATION IS OUTSTANDING.

The National Youth Administration's program in Illinois for game bird conservation is outstanding in the Decatur (Number Four) district which comprises twenty-two counties in the east-central section of the state.

In cooperation with the Sportsmen's Conservation Clubs of Macon county at Decatur, Bond county at Sorento and Montgomery county at Hillsboro, NYA youths assisted in constructing and caring for quail brooders and feed boxes and improvement of feed patches. Transportation was furnished at Decatur by City Commissioner of Public Property John Rehfeld. Youths also are employed at construction spanning beds in Lake Decatur and planting willow trees to strengthen levees.

At Charleston and Mattoon in Coles county, NYA boys, working independently, gathered old wood, packing boxes and crates from which they built thirty-three bird houses and fifteen squirrel houses. One half of the houses were sent to the park at Toledo and the remainder divided between Mattoon and Charleston. They were erected in Lawson, North, Peterson and Lytle parks in Mattoon and in the North Side Park in Charleston.

In cooperation with and under the supervision of Harry Williams, Chief Boy Scouts of America Conservation Department, thirty NYA youths engaged in the development of the Harrison Park Bird Sanctuary at Danville. Twenty large shelters for quail and pheasant were constructed and erected in the 40-acre sanctuary in a heavily wooded section of the park.

An excellent conservation unit was organized in Douglas and Piatt counties where NYA youths in cooperation with the Isaac Walton Chapter of Piatt County Sportsmen's Club, Atwood, a 10-acre game preserve was constructed. The boys trimmed trees, planted flowers and feeding patches and built watering troughs. At present they are cutting corn and building twenty additional bird shelters along Lake Fork and assisting in constructing, placing and caring for scores of smaller bird houses.

For The HOMEMAKER

OYSTERS ARE IN SEASON. If you serve oysters in soups or on half shell alone you are neglecting many fine dishes that use these flavorful morsels as a base. Here is a proof.

Creamed Fresh Oysters.

4 tablespoons butter.
1 pint oysters.
Pepper.
5 tablespoons flour.
2 cups milk.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 cup diced celery.
1 pimento or 1 teaspoon paprika.

Melt butter, stir in flour, salt and pepper and when well blended add milk. Stir over a low fire until smooth and thick. Boil 1 minute, add drained oysters, celery and minced pimento or paprika. Cook gently about 3 minutes or until the edges curl. Serve at once on hot toast or in patty shells.

Oysters Au Gratin.

4 1-2 tablespoons fat.
4 1-2 tablespoons flour.
1-2 teaspoon salt.
Few grains pepper.
1 1-2 cups milk.
3 dozen oysters.
3-4 cup oyster liquid.
1 cup grated cheese.

Heat fat, add flour, salt and pepper. Add milk gradually; cook over water until thick. Heat oysters in oyster liquid until edges begin to curl; combine with cream sauce. Sprinkle with grated cheese; cover with crumbs. Bake in a slow oven about 20 minutes or until crumbs are a delicate brown.

Oyster Casserole.

Place 2 cups cooked rice, 1 cup diced cooked celery, 1 pint of oysters in a casserole with a sauce made from 2 cups milk, 4 tablespoons flour and seasonings. Add paprika. Bake in a hot oven for 25 minutes.

SOUP CHALLENGES CHILL FALL DAYS.

Get out the soup kettle now that crisp autumn days are here—the family will appreciate its savory contents.

Baked Onion Soup Au Gratin.

Slice small onions very fine and allow 1 onion to a serving, placing them in individual soup dishes (the kind designed to stand over heat). Add 1 tablespoon of butter to each. Place in the oven until the onions take on a golden brown tint. Then add 1 cup of strong onion-flavored consommé or clear meat stock to each little pot, top with a round of bread that has been toasted in the oven, sprinkle quickly with Parmesan cheese cover and bake for 10 minutes.

Canned Soups.

Try combining some of your favorite canned soups and you will be surprised at the fine flavors you can create. Here are some combinations: Mock turtle and pea; chicken and celery; Philadelphia pepper pot and mushroom; tomato and turtle soup.

THE PORK BARREL.

Out of Washington comes a story which is highly enlightening if given proper study. It concerns the Federal Coal Commission, created by Congress, to regulate the soft coal industry. It is another bureau in the making.

Possibly the soft coal industry needs some regulating. It is quite likely the industry could be regulated under existing laws, by existing law-enforcing agencies. If present laws are not sufficiently clear, or if they do not cover the subject completely they could be amended or otherwise strengthened. Then state's attorneys, or district attorneys could go into court and procure penalties against individuals or corporations convicted of violating the laws. That would be regulation.

Instead of this procedure, the seven-man board was created and seven names were added to the staggering payroll of the nation. On top of that political jobs were created under the board and more names were shoved into Uncle Sam's pocket.

Now comes word out of Washington that the board is engaged in internal strife over political patronage—or the pork barrel.

One member of the board, who is said to have obtained his position on the board through the backing of John L. Lewis, CIO leader, has asked for an investigation. He wants a member of the Senate to institute the inquiry for the purpose of making public an accounting of expenditures made by the board, and a list of jobs created by it and the salaries being paid to the job-holders.

This member of the board, whose name is John C. Lewis—probably not a relative of John L. Lewis—is quoted by the Associated Press as saying he was "getting sick and tired of being hooked in the back and buffeted about like a jackass," and further that the work of the board "wouldn't do credit to a ten-year-old boy."

Lewis is a member of the board and should know what he is talking about. That, or he doesn't know what it is all about. In either instance there is something radically wrong. If he is right, the taxpayers are getting a beautiful gouging and a great industry—the soft coal industry—is in line for some questionable regulating. If he doesn't know what it is all about, and is a member of the board, the situation is much the same.

View the situation from any angle and it looks as if the pork barrel and political pie is of more importance than regulation of the soft coal industry. At any rate, the story out of Washington is enlightening. It gives the taxpayer something to think about.—Champaign News-Gazette.

PRESIDENT SMITH OUTLINES FOUR-POINT PROGRAM IN RELIEF PLANS.

A four-point program to promote greater efficiency and economy in handling unemployment relief was outlined by Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association in a report recently to the Special Relief Committee selected by John Martin, chairman of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission.

Mr. Smith, a member of the special committee, offered his suggestions stating that he "could not agree with many provisions of the committee report."

Referring to the "exceedingly large appropriations for relief" and the "breakdown of initiative and interest of many on relief in securing and maintaining private employment," Mr. Smith recommended:

1. Discontinuance of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission and its functions not later than the early summer of 1938

2. An accurate check of relief rolls under the supervision of an independent committee to ascertain the percentage of employables still on relief who have made a sincere effort to find work regardless of its nature;

3. Limit relief to unemployables and those who have made an honest effort to get private employment even though not highly desirable nor especially remunerative;

4. At the discontinuance of state-wide relief, place full responsibility for unemployment relief on the local governments in which those on relief rolls reside.

"The longer such changes in relief policies are delayed, the more difficult the problems of relief and re-employment will become," Mr. Smith asserted. "It is impossible for me to believe that with the substantial improvement which has taken place in business conditions as shown by reports disclosing the many thousands who have been added to private payrolls; and with many other thousands formerly on relief rolls who are now receiving old age assistance, that any need exists for supplementing funds now available for relief during the interim between now and the date determined upon for complete discontinuance of state-wide relief."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning! It's So Good!

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the little looks punk.

Lawson's is only make-shifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else, etc.

S. T. H. S. Gossip

By Check and Double Check.

Today is the day of all days. It is Homecoming of '37. This afternoon things start off with the parade at 1:30. This is the annual event and it's always worth seeing. Of course it will be led by the band and the grade schools have been invited to take part also. At 2:30 there will be the football game with Monticello. Everyone come and help us root for Sullivan. This is a very important game to us and we certainly want to win. After the game will be the homecoming supper served in the foods room. We told you all about that last week, but don't forget it. You won't be able to get a better supper any place. Then last but not least is the homecoming play, "Spooky Tavern". This begins at 8 o'clock. Before the play the orchestra will play a few pieces and between acts there will be some special musical numbers. Some time during the night it will be announced who is the Homecoming Queen. This is really the crowning event in more ways than one. After all this, one more grand homecoming has become just one more precious memory. We have come to the end of a perfect day.

Still on the subject of homecoming, we want to tell you this. Be sure and vote for homecoming queen. On each ticket the names of the various class queens are given and a square by each for you to check one. Be sure to vote for your favorite. Every vote counts.

Already plans are being made for another celebration. We don't get one over before we begin another. This time it is in honor of American Education week which is from November 7 to 13. Some kind of a program will probably be given. Posters are also to be made for this week. Come on, students, better try your hand at making posters. It will be worth it. The best one is to receive one dollar; the second, seventy-five cents and the third, fifty cents. Now, how does that strike you?

Here's something we can be thankful for. Thanksgiving isn't far away so here's something for our list of blessings. On November 4th, 5th, and 6th the high school conference will be held at the University of Illinois. You wonder why we should be thankful for this? That's an easy one—school will be dismissed on Friday, November 5th. That is just one week from today, too.

The first six weeks is completed (any way it should be). Those dreaded report cards came out and here are the names of the students who didn't mind getting those cards. Explained here is how the honors are determined:

Grade	No. H.
Amer. Hist., A equals 5x	5 25
Physics, A equals 5x	5 25
Latin, B equals 4x	5 20
Biology, B equals 4x	5 20

Divide 90 by the number of hours the student is taking. In this case it is 20 hours of work. 90 divided by 20 equals 4.5 or what we call a four point, five average. Those who have an average of at least that for this six weeks are:

- Eugene Aylward.
- Billie Baumgartner.
- Dorothea Billingsley.
- Mildred Bolin.
- Bill Bone.
- Berniece Booker.
- Eloise Boyd.
- Charlotte Butler.
- Eloise Buxton.

Last Monday morning our first assembly program was given. It was Mr. Dennis Rooke, a British aviator. His talk of some of his experiences proved to be very interesting. Our next program will be November 10th. Our speaker will be Mr. R. W. Fenton and his subject will be "Does Crime Pay?" Mr. Kilby informs us that the more attentive we are the longer programs we'll get. We really should have some long ones then because with such interesting ones as we have it is practically impossible to be any way but attentive.

On Tuesday the Home Economics club held a meeting in order to select one member as a representative in the Student Council. The one chosen was Joan Shell. Congratulations Joan! We'll know you'll be a good representative.

"Let me see your picture. I'm next. Which one do you like best? Oh, this one is the best. No, I like this one best." These are just some of the statements that are heard around school. The seniors are causing all of the excitement. They are having their pictures taken for the year book and it's the proofs that everyone wants to see and comment on.

The juniors had their pictures taken at school on Tuesday so they were feeling pretty important too. The pictures were just small ones but they were just as important to the juniors as the seniors' pictures are to them. The freshmen and sophomores and the various clubs should be having their group pictures taken in a short time now. Maybe the freshmen and sophomores don't look so important as the dignified seniors and the little less dignified juniors but they are just the same.

On Friday night a game was played at Shelbyville. It was so cold everyone nearly froze in his tracks. However, our boys kept going enough to bring back a score of 26 to 6 in our favor. The band went along and tried to help out but it seemed even what notes were forced out sounded choked up. Could it have been the cold? Anyway, the right spirit was there.

On Saturday afternoon the band played a combined concert with the Bethany band there. Sitting right out in the street with a cold wind blowing wasn't exactly what anyone could call comfortable. The combined band did their best to play for nearly an hour in spite of the cold. After playing the Sullivan band members were given free hot dogs. Did they ever taste good? Your guess is as good as anyone's.

There have been some posters placed in every class room in the building. They are for every one of us to read and know what they mean. Miss Arends had her English III. classes write themes on them which proved to be very interesting. She gave me one of the best ones to print, as it will be good for everyone to read it. This theme was written by Charles Stone. Thanks, Charles. Here it is:

"Pillars and Capstone of Education in a Democracy."
In a democracy, "Fraternal Citizenship" is the capstone or main topic for discussion. If a democracy is to exist and flourish for any length of time, the citizens of this democracy must drop their prejudices and petty grievances and concentrate more upon the common good. They must put into effect the slogan: "All for one and one for all." The people of the present age generally strive for financial success instead of social progress, happiness, contentment. The work of these few people who practice "Fraternal Citizenship" is overshadowed by a multitude of people, who practice fraud and deception upon their fellowmen.

If a capstone is to stand it must have pillars to support it. The capstone of Fraternal Citizenship has four such pillars—opportunity, initiative, responsibility and co-operation, all help to support "Fraternal Citizenship." There is an old saying that "Opportunity only knocks once at one's door." A few people take the opportunity and make a success of their lives. Many people through distrust of their fellow-men turn opportunity aside as though it were contagion to be avoided. Every person whether rich or poor has the opportunity of success.

Initiative is a virtue which a lot of people lack. They sit and grumble about other people's success and their own hard luck instead of starting forth to meet opportunity halfway.

Responsibility to other people helps a person to strive for success. A father tries to make a success of himself in order to give his children the opportunities which he did not have. If a person is responsible for his family he can accept responsibility for other people. A person who can not accept responsibility has no place in the machinery of a democracy.

Co-operation is another essential element in a successful democracy. If a blind man, who was strong and healthy in other respects were to co-operate with a cripple who had good optical vision, both men could cross a crowded street and reach the other side in safety. If, however, the two men attempted to cross respectively, they might not live to reach the other side. Thus in a time of stress if people would co-operate with each other they might escape ruin and gain success.

All these things are possible only if people work attentively, think honestly, and live nobly.

MR. AND MRS. E. A. MCKENZIE ATTEND PYTHIAN SISTERS BANQUET IN DECATUR.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McKenzie attended a dinner in Decatur Monday evening honoring the Past Chiefs of Pythian Sisters of Myrtle Temple No. 2, the oldest Temple in the state of Illinois. There were forty-five seated at one table which was beautifully decorated with yellow candles, black cats resting on pumpkins, all decorations in keeping with the season. Twenty-three Past Chiefs were present which included Mrs. McKenzie.

The M. E. C. Mrs. Brumfield gave each P. C. a small gavel which she ordered made especially for them. On each handle was tied a bunch of ribbon in four colors representing the colors of the order. The gifts were unique and greatly appreciated. Mr. McKenzie was a member of Lily Temple P. S. No. 19, organized May 31, 1893, and Mrs. McKenzie joined in April, 1903, and has held a continuous membership since having served as District Deputy Grand Chief of District No. 19, for seven years and has also held many other offices.

MOULTRIE SUPERVISORS DECIDE TO GO AHEAD WITH WPA PROJECTS FOR THE PRESENT.

Believing that there are not enough available funds on hand with which to care for the needy of the county through the winter, the supervisors at an open informal meeting on Thursday of last week decided to keep up the present plan of carrying on WPA projects and in that way having a means for the workers to make their living.

Believing that there was enough work for all of those in need, those in charge of the WPA projects for this district were hoping that the WPA projects could be dropped.

GOVERNMENT POSTAL INSPECTOR HERE PREPARATORY TO MAKING CHANGES IN RURAL ROUTES.

When John Lucas retires from the rural mail delivery in January, there will probably be no additional carrier employed to take his place. The routes will probably be rearranged so that the other carriers here and Ray Dolan at Allenville may be assigned the mail now going on his route. A careful check-up is being made on the routes and as it is the policy of the postoffice department not to take on any additional carriers it will probably mean that those now in the service will have longer routes in order to take care of the mail.

AUTO COLLISION ON WEST JEFFERSON STREET.

An auto accident occurred at the intersection on West Jefferson street a block west of the Methodist church about 5 o'clock on Saturday evening when a city truck driven by Reub Blystone and a Chevrolet driven by Arthur Cain collided. The truck was hurled against a telephone post damaging the rear end and ruining a tire. Mr. Cain's car had the front end mashed in. Mr. Blystone received a gash on the side of his head but the occupants of the Cain car, consisting of Mr. Cain and his family and Mrs. Selock, escaped uninjured.

MONTICELLO GAME FEATURE ANNUAL H. S. HOMECOMING

Sullivan Players To Have Strong Competition In Trying To Win Important Contest Today.

(By Dale Smith.)

"Power and deception!" That phrase best describes Coach Carl Bergeson's 1937 Monticello high school grid eleven which will engage the Dennismen in the battle of the century, so far as Sullivan high is concerned, this afternoon at 2:30 p. m. on Victory field before the tenth annual Homecoming crowd.

It will take a courageous horde of highly inspired Red and Black warriors to stop the bulky Sages this afternoon in the feature of the homecoming festivities. For the first time in the history of this annual affair Monticello will be making its initial bow on Sullivan high's program.

Monticello will roll into town with a combination of speed and weight and with a powerful offensive attack led by Captain Carl Hunt and Bob Duvall. Both of these lads are perched at the top of the individual scoring honors of the Okaw Valley conference with 30 points apiece. Doped to win the Okaw title before the season opened the Sages were handed a surprising setback a few weeks ago by Villa Grove. Realizing the strength of their foe this afternoon, Coach Clark Dennis will by all means resort to one of those dazzling offensive attacks.

Sullivan play Role As The Underdog. In today's encounter the Reds will enter the game as the underdog, a role it has played on several occasions, on Homecoming only to come off the field with only one loss. Even though many of the local followers would gladly settle now with Monticello for a tie, the locals shrewd mentor will undoubtedly put out all he has in reserve for this important contest. Practically every team yours truly has followed which Clark Dennis has directed usually comes through in the pinches and we are hoping that today won't be any exception.

Reds Build Up Defense. Coach Clark Dennis has been drilling his boys on tackling low and hard during the past week in an attempt to perfect a defense to stop Captain Carl Hunt, Monticello's hard driving fullback, as well as Bob Duvall. Monticello brings a veteran aggregation well versed in the art of taming the Reds for the second time in its 10-year period of homecomings. So far this season the locals have looked miserable on stopping a forward passing attack. Passes are the secret of any good team and it is more than likely Monticello will fill the air full of aerials if they fail to break through our line.

Large Crowd Expected. Before an attendance that should gladden the hearts of those players out there on the field fighting for their school, should be of great advantage to the Sullivan forces. A parade will start from the high school at 1:30 p. m., which will open the day's program. Prizes will be awarded for the best floats. The football game will start at 2:30 p. m., and a dinner will be served, cafeteria style, in the high school gymnasium at 6 p. m., followed by the homecoming play at 8 p. m., in the high school auditorium.

KILTONS ENTERTAIN RELATIVES FROM DENVER, COLO.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Beatty and daughter Katherine of Denver, Colo., visited on Monday and Tuesday at the home of her cousin, Mrs. W. B. Kilton and family and with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bryant and family. The Beattys had come east last Saturday for the Notre Dame-Navy football game at South Bend, Ind., and then came on to Sullivan to visit.

While here Mr. Beatty and Paul Bryant, who were classmates at the United States naval academy at Annapolis, had a very enjoyable visit. This was the first visit the two had enjoyed since graduating from the naval academy.
