

CITY OF SULLIVAN WINS BIG CASE

SUPREME COURT REFUSES TO FURTHER REVIEW PUBLIC SERVICE CASE.

MUST VACATE STREETS

History of the Case Which Has Been In the Courts For Several Years—Attorney Miller Elated Over the Success of His Efforts.

On Thursday, October 20th, the Supreme Court of Illinois, denied the petition of the Central Illinois Public Service company for a writ of certiorari...

On February 19th, 1915, the city of Sullivan filed its bill in chancery in the Circuit court against the Central Illinois Public Service company...

The bill further alleged that a notice had been served upon them, demanding that they vacate the streets and alleys, but they refused to do so...

This case was referred to the Master in Chancery, and a large volume of evidence taken; and the Master in Chancery, Oscar F. Cochran, made his report on the case, finding that the city was entitled to win the suit...

From this decree, the C. I. P. S. company took an appeal to the Appellate court; and the Appellate court on motion of the city transferred the case to the Supreme court.

The Supreme court retr transferred it back to the Appellate court. The Appellate court then heard the case and struck out of the record a large amount of the evidence on the ground that it was not properly certified...

The case was then taken to the Supreme court and heard in the Supreme court which last named court held that the Appellate court was wrong in striking out the evidence and sent the case back to the Appellate court for decision on the merits.

The case went into the Appellate court, for the last time and was heard on December 27, 1920, on new briefs and arguments, and oral argument for the city. The case was taken under advisement and in April, 1921, the Appellate court again decided for the city and affirmed the decree of the Circuit court.

From this last decision, the C. I. P. S. company, attempted to get a review of the case again in the Supreme court, by a writ of certiorari at the October term, 1921.

The attorneys for the city answered the petition for certiorari, setting forth the reason why the city should maintain the suit and why the C. I. P. S. Co. was not entitled to keep their property in the city. An entirely new additional abstract of the record had to also be printed and filed by the city; the Supreme court kept this case under advisement all during the present term of this court, until October 20th, when it denied the petition for certiorari, and thus ended the long litigation, with the city as the complete victor.

The decree provided that the company shall have sixty days in which to remove its poles and property from the streets; and if it does not do so in that time, that the sheriff will summarily remove all its property from the streets and alleys of the city.

It will be remembered that during this litigation, the C. I. P. S. Co. filed

PROMINENT YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED

ALBERT OVERSTREET WEDS MISS LOUISE HANCOCK ON WEDNESDAY MORNING.

WEDDING PRETTY EVENT

Couple Leaves On A Honeymoon Of A Few Days To Chicago—C. A. Corbin And Mrs. Edith Austin Are United At Decatur On Wednesday.

A very pretty home wedding took place at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning when Miss Louise Barbara Hancock became the bride of Albert George Overstreet. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's father, W. L. Hancock, and was attended by only a few of the relatives and friends.

The Hancock home was prettily decorated for the occasion with leaves and cyprianthems. Following the ceremony and congratulations had been extended, a three-course wedding dinner was served. One of the features of the dinner was a bride's cake which was made by the bride herself the day before the wedding.

The bride wore a brown pan velveteen suit.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful presents and included two beautiful bronze statues sent by a friend in New York City.

Following the dinner they departed on a wedding trip of a few days to Chicago.

The bride is a popular young lady of this city, where she has spent her life. She is a graduate of the Sullivan Township high school in the class of 1917 and spent a year at James Millikin University, where she took a course in domestic science.

The groom came to Sullivan last January and has made many friends here where he is one of the leading young business men. He is manager of the local store of Ben Overstreet & Son. He is a graduate of the Paxton high school and later took a course at the Bradley Polytechnic Institute at Peoria.

Guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Overstreet of Paxton; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Overstreet of Dixon; Mr. and Mrs. Lon Sturgell of Tuscola; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swiney, and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Murphy of Farmer City; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Overstreet and daughter Lucille, and Will Overstreet and Miss Marie Bennett, of Paxton; Judge and Mrs. George Sentel, Mrs. J. B. Titus, George Titus, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Hancock, Miss Hortense Miller, of Sullivan; Mr. and Mrs. Perry Bland and daughter, Miss June, and son Wade of Shelbyville; Dr. and Mrs. O. C. Bruce of Arthur.

CORBIN-AUSTIN.

On Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in Decatur occurred the wedding of Charles A. Corbin and Mrs. Edith Austin of this city. They made the trip to Decatur by auto and were accompanied by her sister. Other guests at the wedding which occurred at the parsonage of the Methodist church at that place were Mr. and Mrs. Lamont Swisher of Decatur. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Chesteen Smith.

The bride is one of the charming women of the city. She was formerly employed at the Sullivan postoffice and made a host of friends during her service for the government.

The groom is one of the city's prominent business men. He has been engaged in the furniture business here most of his life and has a large number of friends.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Corbin went to Chicago to spend a few days. They have a host of friends who wish them much happiness in their married life.

Halloween Party

Miss Hazel Hollenbeck was hostess at a masquerade Halloween party at her home Wednesday evening. The guests were members of the Sunday school class of the Christian church taught by Mrs. Mae Rose, and a number of personal friends of the hostess. Altogether there were about twenty-eight in attendance.

The house was appropriately decorated for Halloween, and the evening was spent in games suitable to such an occasion.

Elaborate refreshments of chicken sandwiches, pickles, pumpkin pie, cocoa, ice cream and cake were served.

Senator and Mrs. S. W. Wright

Senator and Mrs. S. W. Wright will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on next Tuesday, November 1. They invite all their friends to call between the hours of 2 in the afternoon and 10 at night.

THE METHODIST REVIVAL PROF. FINLEY CHOSEN

OPENED ON SUNDAY WITH SPLENDID SERVICES. NAMED PRESIDENT OF EASTERN ILLINOIS DISTRICT.

Nearly All Of The Schools Of The County Closed To Permit The Teachers To Attend The Convention.

The revival services which are now in progress at the Methodist church, opened off in line shape and everything points to a successful meeting. The crowds, while not as large as they should be, are yet good for the first week day nights of the meeting and those who have been coming from night to night are seeing created a spirit that is hard to resist and are being benefited by their attendance.

Plans are being made for certain special nights. Wednesday the schools of the city were invited and Wednesday night was grade school night. On this night the grade school students were asked to come as a group and the service was planned to be as interesting as possible to these folks.

Thursday night a delegation from Bethany planned to be present and on Friday night it is planned to hold high school night. Many other of the surrounding towns will come and bring delegations from time to time as well as others of the various local organizations.

Saturday night will be Farmers' night, so let all the farmer friends plan to attend. Of course there is nothing to hinder all from coming each night, and if you come once you will want to come again.

The sermons will be timely and helpful and you will surely enjoy the gospel singing which is one of the features of the meeting. The church and the community need your presence in these meetings but as great as in the need for your presence and cooperation, greater still in your need of the uplift and inspiration which you will obtain in these meetings.

Return From Ohio Visit.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Higgins returned home on Saturday night from a visit of a couple of weeks, with relatives and friends at Columbus and near Dayton, O., and at Richmond, Ind. They started from Dayton in their Ford car at 6 o'clock on Saturday morning and were home by 6 o'clock that evening. While away Mr. Higgins saw the big dams being constructed along some of the Ohio rivers to prevent loss to cities by floods as in the past.

Medical Meetings

Dr. W. P. Davidson, D. M. Williamson and G. S. Kessler were in Pana on Tuesday to attend the meeting of the Central Illinois District Medical association. Dr. Davidson is one of the censors of the organization.

Has Successful Meeting

Rev. Harry Cochran closed a very successful series of meetings at Fletcher chapel on Sunday night. There were thirty-one additions to the church, twenty-six by confession of faith and five by letter. There were large crowds at the services each evening last week.

BETHANY VICTOR IN SULLIVAN GAME

TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL LOSSES CONTEST AT THAT PLACE ON TUESDAY.

ATWOOD HAS FINE TEAM

Easily Defeats The Local Team On Saturday Afternoon By The Score Of 37 To 0—Game At Lovington With Bethany Proves Very Close.

The Sullivan and Bethany Township high school eleven played before a large crowd at that place on Tuesday afternoon. The game resulted in a score of 7 to 0 in favor of the Bethany players. Sullivan made a splendid showing in spite of the fact that several of the best players were not in the line-up.

Bethany was unable to get away with any forward passes although both of the Sullivan ends, Moore and Pence, were out of the game. The Sullivan backfield was also badly crippled but made some good gains on forward passes. Bethany secured its touchdown in the second quarter on plunges through Sullivan's line.

The Sullivan line played a good game and once held the Bethany team for downs on the six-inch line.

The victory was the first Bethany had ever won over Sullivan and a big celebration was held there Tuesday night. Headed by the Bethany band, a parade was staged and the Bethany players were cheered wherever they were seen.

The next game on the local schedule will be that with the Stonington eleven on their field Saturday afternoon.

THE ATWOOD GAME.

The experienced players from Atwood high school were so much for the Sullivan boys on Saturday afternoon that they won the game by the score of 37 to 0. The Sullivan players were outweighed about fifteen pounds to the man and could not do much against their heavier opponents.

The Sullivan team was also badly crippled by injuries. Pence, who was injured in the Arcola game, will probably be unable to play any more this season. Hoskins at full back played only one quarter, Shirey was suffering from a bad ankle and Wehmhoff was out of the game on account of illness.

Reeder and Ware, veterans on the Atwood team, played a fine game and made gains whenever called upon.

LOVINGTON-BETHANY

Bethany emerged the victor over Lovington at the latter place Saturday afternoon by a score of 3 to 0. The Bethany team outplayed Lovington but were forced to battle every inch of the way. The first half was scoreless. Hoover of Lovington tried a drop kick in the first quarter and missed and Davis of Bethany followed suit in the second quarter.

War, nephew of the Millikin captain put a place kick between the posts in the third quarter. In the final quarter Bethany threatened to score a number of times, failing to cross the line once by inches. Lovington was never very dangerous, the attempt at a drop kick being her only threat of a score.

ARTHUR-NEWMAN

The Arthur high school football eleven took Newman down the line Saturday afternoon by a score of 21 to 14 in spite of the fact that the visitors outweighed Arthur fifteen pounds to the man the home team made all its gains on straight football, while Newman was forced to resort to a passing game. Arthur always had the edge, leading at the close of the half 14 to 7. Newman scored its second touchdown with only 30 seconds to go before the game ended. Touchdowns for Arthur were made by Harold, Watts and Haney. Arthur held Newman on the one foot line in the third period.

ELABORATE LUNCHEON

GIVEN BY MRS. McLAUGHLIN ON SATURDAY.

DEATH SUMMONS

AN AGED WOMAN

Misses Hortense Miller and Louise Hancock are guests of honor at a pretty social event. Eighteen friends of Misses Hortense Miller and Louise Hancock were entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon on last Saturday by Mrs. J. L. McLaughlin at her home on Harrison street. While the two brides-to-be were cutting the cake containing the bride's cake emblems they were showered with rice that was concealed in the tiny bags by the plates. The color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in the favors, place cards and luncheon.

Following the luncheon the guests made wedding receipt books for each of the brides-to-be that contained a snap shot photograph of each of the guests. A boudoir shower of many beautiful and useful gifts was given. They were brought in in fairy hope chests that were carried by Helen Gauger and Helen Cummins who represented love fairies. Jack McLaughlin preceded them as Dr. Dan Cupid.

A mock double wedding took place in which Miss Claudia Ireland was the minister, Miss Ruth Moore, ring bearer, and Mrs. Carmen Patterson and Miss Irene Moutray, the brides in full dress attire, and the two guests of honor were very much surprised to find themselves playing the part of the brides.

Those present were Misses Hortense Miller, Louise Hancock, Addie Miller of Harrisburg, Ark., Claudia Ireland, Thelma Palmer, Ruth Moore, Lois Todd, Marguerite Bishop, Helen David, Lora Sabin, Ruth Todd, Irene Moutray, Mayme Dill of Decatur, Mrs. O. F. Foster, Mrs. George Roney, Mrs. Pearl Harsh, Mrs. C. R. Patterson and Mrs. John Taylor.

ANOTHER SHOWER.

Another shower for Misses Louise Hancock and Hortense Miller was given on Thursday evening of last week by Mrs. J. H. Smith and Mrs. Sam Palmer at the home of the former. There were about fifty present. The Smith home was prettily decorated for the occasion.

Clothes pins were given out to be dressed, being alternated with towels which were given out and were to be hammered on the coming brides. Mrs. Dan Milliken won the prize for having the best dressed pin. All the unmarried women present wrote love letters on heart shaped papers while the married women wrote advice for the brides-to-be. These were then read by the young women who are to become brides. Miss Helen David sang an Indian love song.

The gifts were brought in by Bernice Lawson and Marguerite Roadman and presented to the guests of honor.

CHURCH CALLS PASTOR

REV. DAN MACLEOD OF OREGON IS CHOSEN.

Comes To The Presbyterian Church In Sullivan With A Splendid Record As A Pastor—Begins Work At Once.

Large congregations were present at the Presbyterian church on Sunday to attend the services conducted by Rev. Dan MacLeod. The church was very much impressed with the services and at the close of the evening service arrangements were made with Rev. MacLeod to stay here and take up work in the Sullivan field. A special meeting of the congregation will be held in a short time when a formal call will be extended to Rev. MacLeod.

The church has been without a pastor for a few months and is much pleased that they have secured such an able man to come to Sullivan. Rev. MacLeod for five years was pastor of the Presbyterian church at Cottage Grove, Ore., and was formerly stationed at Maroa where he has spent a day or two this week. He is a graduate of the University of Kansas and later took a theological course at the Auburn, N. Y. theological seminary.

Rev. MacLeod spent eighteen months in the service during the World war and only comes to Sullivan as he prefers this part of the country to the Pacific coast where he has been stationed.

Death of Grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Woodruff received word on Monday of the death of their granddaughter at Waterloo, Ia. The child's death was caused by diphtheria. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woodruff and was four years of age. The burial took place at Waterloo on Monday. The news of the child's death came as a great shock to the grandparents who were greatly attached to the little one.

DEATH SUMMONS

MRS. CLEMENTINE MOORE IS CALLED AT HOME HERE ON MONDAY MORNING.

BRIDGET THORPE IS DEAD

Passes Away At Home In Dalton City On Friday After An Illness Of Several Years—Funeral Of Mrs. George Stull At Coles On Sunday.

Mrs. Clementine Moore suddenly passed away at her home in this city early Monday morning. She had been in ill health for a long time but had been confined to her bed for only twelve hours when the end came. Leakage of the heart was the immediate cause of her death. She had been a resident of Sullivan for the past twenty-eight years.

Clementine Newton was born November 13th, 1837, at Fredericksburg. While yet a young girl she moved with her parents to Illinois, where for the most part she has since resided.

On November 1st, 1859, she was united in marriage to T. B. Meeks, to which union was born one daughter, Mrs. Anna Goodman of Decatur, who survives her.

On November 17th, 1860, a little over a year later death claimed her husband and she was left a widow.

On September 1st, 1864, she was again married, this time to Isaac Moore, who had been twice married before. He brought the two small children of his second marriage to her to mother and the son of his first marriage who was then approaching manhood, also found a mother in her and lived in her household until his death which occurred in early manhood.

The union of the deceased with Isaac Moore was blessed by seven children, four of whom survive, the other three having died in infancy.

On July 21st, 1900, the Grim Reaper again entered her home and for a second time she became a widow.

On October 24th, 1921, she departed this life aged 83 years, 11 months, and 11 days, having enjoyed a very liberal allowance of years beyond the allotted span of three score and ten.

The deceased was of a cheery even temperament and a philosophical turn of mind and her years sat lightly upon her. Death came to her without the ordeal of a long and wasting illness and the remains are laid to rest, bearing little evidence of the ravage of Disease or Time.

She spent a very active life and took a keen and lively interest in all that transpired about her. She was of a strong firm character, capable and resourceful, and in her dealings with others she was just and upright.

The children who survive her are Charles W. Moore, Bert L. Moore, Mrs. Cora C. Harshman, Frank Moore, who made his home with his mother, all residing in this city and Mrs. Anna Goodman of Decatur, before mentioned, who together with two stepchildren Ezra A. Moore and Mrs. Rebecca Hagerman, both of Sullivan, mourn the loss of a mother, loved, honored and respected.

She is also survived by one brother, William Newton of Quincy, nineteen grandchildren, six step-grandchildren, and three great grandchildren.

The funeral was held at 2 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon at the family home, 501 Fifth street, with Rev. G. W. Rippey of Atwood in charge of the services. Interment took place at Greenhill cemetery. The pall bearers were Roe Moore, Don Moore, Romaine Harshman, E. M. Hagerman, J. R. Hagerman and Isaac Hagerman.

BRIDGET THORPE.

Bridget Thorpe, wife of John Thorpe, died at her home in Dalton City on Friday night after ill health lasting for several years. She had been seriously ill for the past four weeks. Her death was due to infirmities of age.

Bridget Larkin was born in County Wexford, Ireland on August 25, 1843, and had been a resident of Dalton City for 33 years. She was known to all of the older generation of that community and had for more than 30 years been one of the active members of Sacred Heart church. Mr. and Mrs. Thorpe observed the 44th anniversary of their marriage, May 15, last.

She is survived by her husband and three children: James J. Thorpe and James Watkins of Dalton City and an adopted daughter, Miss Anna Thorpe of Chicago. Her descendants include seven grandchildren. She also leaves one brother, Thomas Larkin, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Hutchison and Mrs. Elizabeth O'Neil, in Ireland.

The funeral was held at 9 o'clock Continued on Last Page.

several suits against the city and one was joined by the city from issuing bonds and improving its own plant; and another suit to enjoin the city from interfering with its workmen in extending its lines and wires in the streets of the city; and still another suit to have the law declared unconstitutional which authorized the city to have its own electrical light plant.

Also that there were dozens of prosecutions and arrests by the city authorities of the workmen of the C. I. P. Co. in unlawfully extending its lines. The importance of this litigation will be realized when it is recalled that the principle of whether or not a city can control its own streets and alleys is directly involved in the issue.

Also the amount involved in the suit and property is considerable. It is claimed by the C. I. P. S. company they paid for their original investment here, $45,000 in cash, and that they have spent much more in improving their plant and carrying on their litigation. On the other hand, the city has a light plant which it has installed at a large expense estimated at near $40,000; so the total property involved in litigation is therefore much more than $100,000.

A FINE OLD HOME PAPER

(Tune—A Fine Old English Gentleman.)
These magazines with gravures and all these works of art, Are very well for city folks who live by dint of mart; But give me first and foremost, I hold it is the prime— That fine old home town paper—one of the good old time.

The printin' isn't perfect, the ink's not uniform,
The type is set by hand perhaps,—considerably overworn,
The dear old press—I know it well—it's covered o'er with grime—
But it prints that old home paper—one of the gold old time.

I look for it each week as regularly it comes,
And when the postman brings it in, I drop all other chums,
I drink it in, from start to fin, ridiculous and sublime,
That fine old home town paper, one of the good old time.

Smith's cat may have some kittens;
Jones is putting in new pumps,
My girl chum has got married and the kids have got the mumps,
Jack Wiltsey's built a lean-to, Johnson's roses upward climb,
Oh! I love the old home paper, boys, one of the good old time.

Got In Wrong Gar.

There was consternation in the W. O. Nichols home on Sand Creek last night owing to the non-appearance of a young son, "J. W." "J. W.," with other members of the family, attended church in Windsor. As some of the family remained for choir practice, J. W. said he would go out to the car. When home going time came no trace of the youngster could be found although search was made high and low, under pews, and even extended up town. The parents became alarmed and telephoned to several friends. Finally Manager C. H. Miner sent out a general alarm over telephone lines. W. A. Bennett of Sexson was one of those awakened and on going out to his car he found the lad sound asleep. He notified the anxious parents that he and Mrs. Bennett would put J. W. to bed and take care of him but Mr. Nichols motored after him. The boy had simply climbed in the wrong car and his presence had not been noticed by Mr. and Mrs. Bennett.—Windsor Gazette.

Tom Reedy Buys Farm

The Lone Star Stock Farm, which is located 4 miles northwest of Hammond sold Saturday afternoon at public auction. The price paid was $253.50 per acre, which is considered cheap for a farm of its class. The farm consists of 190 acres with approximately $16,000 worth of real improvements.

During the past eight years the farm has belonged to S. J. Traxler, who is generally considered one of the best farmers in this section of the state. He kept up the improvements and saw that the crops were properly rotated and today the Lone Star Stock Farm stands in an extraordinary high state of cultivation.

The farm was bought by Tom Reedy, a wealthy farmer residing near Dalton City. It is understood that Mr. Reedy bought the place for a home, and at the price he paid for it, it is generally considered that he made a very fortunate purchase. He gets possession March 1st, 1922.—Hammond Courier.

Prof. Hagen's Car Burns

Prof. Hagen's Ford coupe had a bad day Saturday and finished sans top, sans body, sans cushion and sans most everything.

Hagen and Tuffy Bennett started for the Sullivan football game but when they got about seven miles out of town decided the cushion was for some unaccountable reason getting a good deal like a red hot stove, stopped the car and discovered the whole lower part of it was on fire and the flames just threatening to lick them on the bosom of their britches. They were directly in front of a house and they with several passersby carried several buckets of water and threw on it but all of the bed, top, cushions and all wood parts burned. When the flames were put out it was found the flames had melted some of the soldering on the gas tank and gasoline was spurting out but for some lovely reason had failed to explode. About seven gallons of gas were in the car when the fire was put out.—Arcola Record.

Dehart School Has Basketball Team.

The Dehart school has a basketball squad and challenges any and every school in or out of their class. Raymond Galbreath, a veteran Arthur forward, is the teacher and coach and has put the boys through their paces and imparted to them every secret of the game until they are already semi-professionals. Minkie says he has some real players and is anxious to see them perform in a regular contest.—Arthur Graphic.

Side Line Skirmish.

At the Arthur-Bethany football game last Saturday at Bethany there is said to have been quite a side line skirmish among the rooters in which the Arthur squad were decidedly winners. The Arthur crowd had their scrapping clothes on and refused to take them off or to be dictated to and emphasized the fact with swift punches which put the Bethanyites in the clear and decided the matter in Arthur's favor.—Arthur Graphic.

Christian Church Revival Closes

The two weeks' series of evangelistic meetings at the Christian church were brought to a close Sunday evening. One of the largest audiences that had been present during the revival campaign crowded the building to capacity. At the close there were several additions to the church. Several quartets, solos and other numbers, together with the big revival choir of more than a hundred voices, furnished an hour or more of splendid music and inspiration.

The evangelistic work was done by Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Storm, the pastor and assistant pastor of the church. They proved themselves a great team and judging from the attendance and interest manifested during the two weeks of the meetings the church should feel that an outside evangelistic company could not have accomplished nearly so much. The music, in charge of R. O. Ives, also a member of the local church, was the finest that the church has enjoyed in years. Many complimentary expressions with reference to the good music were to be heard at each service.

Sunday morning the Sunday school reached an unusual attendance of 327. The enrollment of the school is 318, but this figure is seldom reached. The fact that the attendance went beyond the enrollment made it one of the biggest rally days that the Bible school has ever had. The Sunday morning service was termed a fellowship meeting, all of the new members present being welcomed into the local church.

Wednesday night of this week a baptismal service was held at the church. There were special services and a further fellowship meeting for new members.—Lovington Reporter.

Judge Grider Here.

Judge John T. Grider of Sullivan was a Lovington visitor Monday. It is generally reported that Judge Grider is to make the race again this year for the county judgeship, via the democratic ticket and his mission here Monday was to handshake among the brethren and do a little work in behalf of his candidacy. The judge made a splendid showing in Lovington township four years ago and he doubtless counts this territory as one of his strongholds.—Lovington Reporter.

Printer Got Peeved.

A printer got slightly peeved at a letter from a doctor who wanted bids on several thousand letterheads, different grades, and different colors, and wanted the printing form held standing. So the printer took his typewriter in hand and wrote: "Am in the market for bids on one operation for appendicitis. One, two or five inch incision—with or without ether—also with or without nurse. If appendix is found to be sound, want quotations to include putting same back and canceling order. If removed successfully, bidder is expected to hold incision open for about 60 days, as I expect to be in the market for an operation for gallstones at that time and want to save the extra cost of cutting.—Pana Palladium.

Basketball Next.

With the football season well started and the players learning the fundamentals of the game, Coach Ward is beginning to turn his attention toward his basketball team. All of last year's squad are back except Hobart Mathias, to try for their old positions. Harold Daum will try to place and there is some material in the Freshman boys that is worth developing.

Bethany had a very strong team last year, winning eleven out of fourteen games. With Logan, Davis, and Reuss at forward, Capt. Cunningham, Hoskins, Ward and Bone at guard, McLane or Daum at center, the B. T. H. S. should have an excellent team. Several games have been scheduled and we are expecting more soon.

Schools Open Wednesday.

The high school and all of the grades which were made homeless by the big fire last week took up again on Wednesday morning of this week and while they are working under handicaps at present it is expected that the work will be going on in a short time the same as it was before the fire.

The high school is now quartered on the lower floor of the court house, the seventh and eighth grades are in the Methodist church, the sixth grades are in the Chamber of Commerce rooms where Prof. Kirpatrick also has his office and the fourth and fifth are in the South Side Christian church. The first, second and third grades are expected to take up in the Presbyterian church on Monday morning of next week, but did not start at the same time as the others on account of it being impossible to equip them in a satisfactory manner.

As soon as possible after the fire new desks and other school equipment for the high school and the homeless grades was ordered and while it is expected at any time now it has not arrived and until it does the first three grades will not start.—Tuscola Review.

Uncle Sam's Men.

Howard Fortner of the U. S. navy is now with the U. S. S. Charleston at San Diego. He is attending naval school for signal men and also attending San Diego high school at nights. Recently he met Prof. Love, who was principal of the Windsor school a few years ago and who is now located in San Diego.

Lawrence Moberley of the U. S. marine corps is to be transferred from Oklahoma City to Des Moines. He is on recruiting duty.—Windsor Gazette.

Live Stock Shipment.

Twelve carloads of stock were shipped from Windsor Tuesday. These comprised four loads of cattle by Harry G. Storm, three loads of cattle by C. D. Baker, two loads of cattle by J. M. Sargent, all to Chicago, and three carloads of hogs and cattle to Indianapolis by Hancock & Son. Messrs. Storm, Baker and Sargent attended their stock and they accompanied their shipments to market. C. P. Sexton also went with them.

The cattle made up one of the best bunches ever shipped from Windsor. In the Hancock shipment there was a 2800-pound bull purchased from Chris Laging, and also what is said to be the best beef cow seen around here for a long time. It also was fattened by Mr. Laging. Hancock & Son are feeding 75 cattle and preparing them for market.—Windsor Gazette.

Has Raised Twenty Crops.

Al Brown sold his 1921 crop of broom corn the other day for $17.50 a ton. This makes the twentieth crop of broom Al has raised and sold. One year he sold for $500 a ton and the cheapest crop was in 1894, when he only realized $55 a ton. He is what one might call a broomcorn veteran. He raises good broom and has a reputation for handling it in A1 shape. Several different years he received $50 premium for the best handled broom that was delivered in Arcola.—Arthur Graphic.

Not Taking New Corn

No new corn is being delivered to the local market yet; in fact elevators at Arthur are not taking it yet. The reason for this is because of the threatened railroad strike. Corn that goes to the terminal elevators must of course be shelled and there is danger of large quantities of it heating and spoiling. It is likely that no new corn will be accepted locally until 70 pounds to the bushel are allowed. On the other hand the grain is exceptionally dry and solid and many farmers need thereof.—Arthur Graphic.

Bethany township high school plays the Sullivan high school football team here next Tuesday afternoon and every body should go to the game and root.

Bethany has never been able to defeat Sullivan in the past but we have great faith in the future. Here are a few figures for you to think over.

Sullivan defeated Pana 10 to 6 and held the Decatur team to a 0 to 0 score. Arthur defeated Sullivan 16 to 6 and Bethany defeated Arthur 27 to 15. What should be the score in the Bethany and Sullivan game, all things being equal?—Bethany Echo.

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incandescent material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Red Cross Trains 147 Blind Vets In Useful Work

Training designed to fit them for the battle of life was taken by 147 blind ex-service men at the Red Cross Institute for the Blind, near Baltimore, Md., during the fiscal year 1920-1921, according to the report of the Institute for that period.

Of this number, 19 have gone on to other institutions, in almost every case to institutions where those having sight are receiving advanced education. The blind ex-service men who have entered such institutions are provided with special text-books in Braille, reading which they were taught at the Red Cross Institute. Twelve men have passed from the Institute to successfully carry on some occupation or business for which they were fitted by special training. A few have withdrawn from the Institute because of poor physical condition, 14 are receiving further "training on the job" and 87 are still in training.

Red Cross Plans $6,000,000 Effort To Save Children

Medical care and clothing for thousands of children in Central and Eastern Europe are outlined as the activities of the American Red Cross in Europe for the current year, says a statement on the eve of the Annual Roll Call of the organization. These activities, supplemental to the feeding operations of the European Relief Council of which Herbert Hoover is chairman, are designed to provide the most adequate and balanced relief within the resources of private philanthropy. Through the establishment of child welfare stations in the centers of population of those countries where adequate medical care is not now obtainable, the American Red Cross plans to provide the medical assistance needed to restore these children to a normally healthy life. The sum of $6,000,000 has been made available for this work.

Document of the Early Church. The "Didache, or Teaching of the Twelve Apostles," was a didactic work for use in the early church. It was discovered by Bryennius at Constantinople and published in 1833. It had been written in Greek, about 1056 A. D. It is of great value for the study of organization, belief and worship of the early church and was held in high esteem. In it is a description of the two ways—of life and death—in the form of rules for Christian conduct.

COMMUNITY WORK OF RED CROSS

Chapters Show Splendid Work for Soldiers and in Health Lines.

All over Illinois there is an increased interest manifest in the many activities of the American Red Cross. The membership of 293,438 persons in the 126 Chapters shows the far-reaching enthusiasm and the scope of the many activities which comprise the present Red Cross program.

Every part of the state is supporting the work for ex-service men, with five U. S. P. H. S. hospitals caring for ex-service men. This medical special service work is one of the principal activities in each of these hospitals, not only providing recreation, but in assisting the men to adjust their various difficulties.

There have been 10,400 ex-service men served by local Red Cross Chapters during the past year. In addition, 1,521 disabled men still in service have been helped in various ways. World war veterans and their families to the number of 105,522 have been served by Chapters, which have expended $410,000 in this work.

Also 63,225 patients in hospitals at army camps and naval stations have been visited by Red Cross workers this year. In addition 10,188 enlisted men have been served by Chapters. Important as is the work for soldiers and their families, the health program of the Red Cross is filling an equal need in every community where it has been developed.

There are 2,542 nurses enrolled with the Red Cross in Illinois. These nurses are qualified according to Red Cross standards for service in war and emergency. Forty-two Chapters are employing public health nurses for community work.

During the past year 68 Red Cross public health nurses have been employed by various Chapters in the state. Their work has been in the schools, in teaching children health and sanitation, as well as reaching the homes of the community through personal visits.

Women in the state have shown great interest in the classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick, which have been carried on in connection with the work of Red Cross Chapters. During the past year 2,541 persons have received certificates in the 319 classes which have been conducted.

The strong health program of the Red Cross, in addition to Home Nursing instructions, include classes in First Aid, Nutrition, and Life-Saving. Much of this work is along preventive lines and designed to prevent accidents or spread of contagion. There have been 3,853 children enrolled in the 155 Nutrition classes in connection with the work of the schools this past year.

In addition to this work in Nutrition, 448 women have completed courses in Food Selection. As the majority of these women were home makers, approximately that many families have received suggestions and instruction regarding food facts and correct diet.

There are 752 members of the Red Cross Life-Saving Corps in Illinois. Each of these persons have passed the examination and is trained in methods of resuscitating victims of drowning. Also 84 certificates have been issued in the First Aid classes. These classes have been found of great value, not only in instructing men and women in the proper course to pursue in cases of emergency, but in the prevention of accident.

Work of the Junior Red Cross among the 850 Auxiliaries has been carried on by its membership of 210,123 children. They have aided in promoting health programs through the schools, visited hospitals, and helped to provide comforts and entertainment for disabled soldiers, as well as unfortunate children at home and abroad.

To aid in carrying out these many activities, and to increase the community usefulness of the local Red Cross Chapters, an opportunity will be given for renewing membership in the Red Cross during the Fifth Annual Roll Call. This opens on Armistice Day, November 11, and continues through Thanksgiving. Every membership dollar is an investment in community welfare and in relief activities, locally, nationally and internationally.

To Give Musical Comedy

The music class of the Sullivan Township high school is hard at work on a musical comedy "The Gypsy Rover" which it is planning to give early in November at the high school auditorium. This is a gypsy play of three acts and about thirty-five students will take part in it.

The play centers about Gypsy Rob, later known as Sir Gilbert Howe of English nobility. There are twelve other principal characters, four girls and eight boys, and a gypsy chorus.

The music is bright and tuneful and the play entertaining throughout. The students are very enthusiastic over their practices and are hoping to make the entertainment a success.

County Conference.

A conference of the Christian churches of Moultrie county will be held, Thursday, November 3, at the Christian church in Sullivan. This is to be an important conference on "Stewardship." A number of prominent speakers will be present among them C. P. Hedges, who is a minister and missionary. Hearing Mr. Hedges will be worth the time spent in attending the conference.

All the churches of the county are asked to send delegates. The sessions will begin at 10 a. m. with sessions in the afternoon and evening. In the evening there will be a stereopticon lecture on "Stewardship."

Given Big Send-off

Following the marriage of Mr and Mrs. Albert Overstreet on Wednesday morning they were taken by a number of young people and placed in a cattle truck and driven around the square. They eluded their friends, however, after being taken to the station and took the train to Chicago from here instead of at Arthur as planned. The crowd of local young people who went to Arthur however, boarded the train there and gave them a shower of rice.

Lovington Game Tuesday

The football team of the Lovington township high school will come to Sullivan on next Tuesday afternoon for a game with the local team. Both Lovington and Sullivan have been defeated by Bethany and Arthur this year and a splendid game should result from the meeting of the two elevens next Tuesday.

Box Supper At Bolin.

There will be a box supper Friday night, Nov 4, at the Bolin school. Every one cordially invited to be present. Orville Powell, teacher.

Local Markets.

The Sullivan grain dealers were paying the following prices yesterday: Old corn, 32c; new corn, 30c; oats, 23c.

Another Bill Filed.

Frank Adkins, well-to-do farmer of near Lovington, is made defendant in a suit for separate maintenance which has been filed by his wife, Jennie Adkins through the law firm of McLaughlin & Billman.

The couple was married in July, 1918, and have three children, the oldest three years of age and the youngest but a few months old. Mrs. Adkins asks that the defendant be compelled to set aside a portion of his property for the use of herself and children. Frank Adkins owns 240 acres of good farming land, which she estimates to be worth $350 per acre, and she places the value of his personal property at $7,000.

In substantiation of her request for separate maintenance, she alleges many instances of cruelty which he has practiced, claims that he was abusive in his language, was addicted to liquor and has spent a great deal of time with a young woman, having immoral purposes.

Returns To Sullivan.

Mrs. George Miller of Jonathan Creek who has been ill at the home of her sister in Piatt county expects to return to Sullivan in order to be near Dr. A. D. Miller for treatment. Mrs. Miller was operated on last July and has not recovered as complications set in, and it is very probable that she will undergo another operation.

Figures From the Tax Books.

Employees in the office of the county clerk have finished their work on the tax books for the present and now will have to wait for the rates on railroads before they can turn the books over to Oliver Dolan, county collector.

STORAGE SPACE DOUBLED
Surpassing all previous records, the United States Department of Agriculture, during the week ending October 1, licensed 132 grain warehouses having a total capacity of 6,485,720 bushels, thus more than doubling the grain storage space under Federal inspection and license since the passage of the bonded warehouse act in 1916. This increase brought the number of licensed grain warehouses up to 274, with a total capacity of 12,965,720 bushels. During the same week 20 cotton warehouses also were licensed.

On September 26, there were 259 licensed cotton warehouses, ranging capacity from 200 to 75,000 bales, providing a total storage space of 1,035,547 bales. Additional applications pending from cotton warehousemen and which have since been granted raised the total capacity to 1,037,427. Licensed cotton warehouses now have capacity equal to one-twelfth of the normal crop. It is seldom that more than one-third of the crop is warehoused at the same time. Thus licensed capacity would be better than 25 per cent of the cotton in storage at any one time. On the same date records showed 17 wool and 2 tobacco warehouses licensed by the department.

Officials in charge of the work report a keen interest developing among warehousemen in the merits of the Federal license system. This has been evident since May of this year and is steadily increasing, with many applications being received. Under the act the department is authorized to license and bond cotton, grain, tobacco, wool and flaxseed warehouses that are able to meet certain requirements. The receipts issued by the warehouses for the products are looked upon by banks as a high grade of collateral.

MARKETING FARM PRODUCTS.
Thirty-eight states are now giving special attention to the marketing of farm products. In thirty of these states agencies to carry on this marketing work have been created by legislative or executive authority. In the remaining seven states the agencies are a part of some already existing agency in the state administration or are connected with the state agricultural colleges.

The market reports of the bureau of markets and crop estimates, United States Department of Agriculture, are received direct by leased telegraph wire by a number of the states. The department also lends a large measure of cooperation to the state in the joint employment of specialists to standardize and inspect. Educational work concerning the marketing of farm products is being actively carried on in nearly all of the states with the aid of the department's extension specialists.

Market information is being stressed in twenty-four states; standardization work comes in for the lion's share of attention in nineteen states; inspection of food products is kept to the fore in thirteen states; and research work is the major activity in twelve states. Altogether thirty regular market reports and periodicals are issued by the marketing agencies of the thirty-eight states. Six are published daily, twelve weekly, four semi-monthly, and eight monthly.

AUTOMOBILE REGISTRATION
Pennsylvania leads the Union in the number of passenger automobiles registered, according to a tabulation prepared by the bureau of public roads, United States Department of Agriculture.

The total number of such cars registered in Pennsylvania is 557,765. California had only several hundred fewer—557,231. Passenger automobiles in New York are estimated, in the lack of complete information, at 505,642. Other states showing large registrations are Ohio, 547,000; Illinois, 512,541; and Texas, 412,331. Nevada has the smallest number of registrations, 8,688.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. Complete Deafness requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions. STOP THE LEAK
AT ITS SOURCE
State Board Of Health Recommends Medical Inspection Of Pupils Attending The Public Schools.

Illinois, and correctly so, has only recently observed "Fire Prevention Week." Great stress was placed upon the fact that the fire loss in this state has grown from less than $13,000,000 in 1917 to more than $20,000,000 in 1920. Great, as this loss is, the loss from ten preventable diseases, tuberculosis, typhoid fever, diphtheria, whooping cough, scarlet fever, pneumonia, malaria, smallpox, measles and infantile paralysis, was $132,090,950 or $196,015 for every twelve hours of the year 1920, more than seven times the amount of our loss from fire. Further observation reveals that the average city appropriates funds for fire protection and health promotion at relatively the same reverse ratio. This is not an argument against protection of material wealth from the ravages of fire, but for a more adequate protection of the health of our citizens.

The state is vitally interested in the health of its children. In a narrow sense the child belongs to the parents. But in the proper view of future accomplishments the healthy child is a State asset of untold value while the sickly child is a liability. Medical inspection of school children, and a school nursing service are essential not only for the welfare of the individual child, but for the entire mass of school children. By medical inspection epidemics are prevented. Ailing children are not permitted to mingle with children who are well, but are sent home and given prompt medical attention. Some communities have made arrangements to finance medical and nursing service from the public treasury. In other communities the municipality pays part of the bill while the remainder is assumed by the school authorities. In still others the Red Cross chapter, the War Relief committee, and local associations of various kinds are awakening to their responsibilities for the man-power of the future.

The State Department of Public Health is anxious to cooperate with all health agencies of a local character. A part of the duties of the Division of Child Hygiene and Public Health Nursing relate to the establishment of efficient medical inspection and nursing services in the schools throughout the State. The Director of Public Health is prepared to give advice, and if necessary, to detail expert advisors for these purposes. Interested communities are invited to communicate with Dr. I. D. Rawlings, Director of Public Health, Springfield, Illinois.

Market Report.
There were liberal receipts of cream at the creameries during the week, with no particular change in price. Reports that large quantities of New Zealand and Australian butter would arrive later in the season were current. Some Danish butter is being received nearly every week at Eastern seaboard.

The Bureau of Markets of the United States Department of Agriculture, in its report for Thursday, October 20, shows quotations on eight different grades of butter, with a difference in value of 13 cents per pound between the lowest and highest grades. The quality of the butter from abroad is generally very fine, while there is a great deal of medium class butter produced in the United States, as is shown by the range in market quotations. Better care of cream and prompt delivery will tend to improve the quality of the American product.

Receipts of fresh eggs are small, and higher prices are ruling on all markets. Poultry receipts have been ample for all requirements during the week, but the smaller breeds are being discriminated against.

Derived From Old French. "Trom" is old French for weighing machine or beam. The Trom church in Edinburgh took its name from Trom near which it was built. Glasgow was a Tromgate. Formerly Tromweight was a standard weight in Scotland for cheese, butter, wool and other produce.

SHOWS AN INCREASE IN FOREIGN BORN
Greater Number Due To the Coming Of the Miners For Work in the Lovington Mine.

According to the census of 1920, 29.2 per cent, or nearly three-tenths, of the people in the state of Illinois are either infants or children under 15 years of age; 8.3 per cent are young people 15 to 19 years old; 40.7 per cent, a little more than two-fifths, are men and women in the prime of life, being from 20 to 44 years old; while 21.6 per cent, being 45 years of age and over, are well along in middle life if they have not reached old age. A little more than three-fifths of the population, 60.8 per cent, are old enough to vote, being 21 or over; and in this class the men outnumber the women in the ratio of 106 to 100. The male of military age, 18 to 44, constitute 43.9 per cent of the male population and 22.4 per cent of the population. The percentage of foreign born white in the total population of Moultrie county in 1920 was 2 per cent as compared with 1.3 per cent ten years previous. The increase is probably due to the great increase in the number of miners at Lovington.

William Cookson, former prop., of hotel, says: "I suffered from disordered kidneys and a lame back some time ago. My back was so sore and lame, I could hardly get up when down and the secretions from my kidneys caused me to lose much sleep at night on account of having to get up so often to pass them. I was very restless; dizzy and my sight would blur. Mornings I was so sore and stiff, I couldn't stand up for a little while and I was in a general, run-down condition. I took a few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me. I am now feeling fine. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to be an A-1 remedy."

MIGHT BE WORSE
By BELLE HALL
© 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The cook was "peevish." The many-nais had separated and it took the whole white of the egg, added drop by drop, to bring it back to its correct creamy thickness. The kitchen registered 90 degrees at the carving table, its coolest corner, and cook surveyed her puffed and aching ankles with eyes that blurred. "Getting absolutely fat-footed in this confounded place," she raved inwardly, as she gave the luncheon card a vicious thrust back on its nail and took down the dinner menu. "Father's and mother's twenty-fifth anniversary," the daughter of the house, a bride of a month, had written facetiously over the line: "Dinner for 12 at 8:30."

"Twenty-five years—isn't it thrilling!" she had smiled at cook, tapping her tiny teeth with her pencil as she calculated just how many oddly delicious things she could manage to crowd onto one slip of paper, for daughter was practicing the menu part of house-keeping just now in mother's house before she went into her own home on her return from abroad. "Twenty-five years! Thrilling! Humph!" As she chilled and glazed and meringued the dinner for 12, back along the years the cook's mind traveled to another seething summer day—another home not so very much more simple after all, but yet her own, where she had "waited" with mother and laughing bridesmaids by her side, tearful but happy, for the one man to lead her down to the waiting minister, the relatives and friends.

Over them all, her thoughts raced back—the struggling years, the full years, the lean years, the lonely years, the well-worn years—her self pity growing sterner and stronger, and through it all the thermometer mounted and the dinner for 12 progressed, until at 5:30 cook dropped into the chair with a final growl at the little kitchen maid: "Now, let them rave on, kid; we'll be ready."
"Fine!" ventured little Maggie, brightening visibly at the first nearly pleasant word that had emanated from her top boss that day.
"Listen, cook, let's joy ride over with John when he takes Bridget home—will yer?"
"Joy ride—do I look like a joy ride?" snarled the cook. "And what are those pans?"
"Them are the clean pans for the milk. Come on, will yer?"
"Yes, I'll go."
"We'll make him drive us home by the crazy folks' house, the longest way round," whispered Maggie to cook, and then—"Will yer?" she called to John when he came out from the tiny grocery, where he had gone for yeast cakes, after leaving the laundress at her door.
"Will yer?"
"All she can say is 'Will yer,'" shouted cook, above the cranking of the servants' Lizzie-mobile—"Have you time?"
"Yes," said good-natured John, comfortably, "I guess so. The boys will start the milking."
Down the shady country road they chugged along the gardens of the state infirmary.

Just now work for the day was over. In groups under the shade trees the old men waited the call for supper. The boys played a random game of ball. The women, sullen and indifferent, trooped down the walk from the laundry.
John guided the car through the gates and drove slowly round the driveways, past the big stone buildings.
Cook, growing cooler in the soft haze of the June afternoon, forgetting for the moment to look inward and backward, gazed out thoughtfully at the blue denim clad figures.
Cook's kitchen with its diversity of daily troubles, began by contrast to take on a roseate hue.
"Don't they never go out, John? Are the doors all locked on 'em? What's the bars for?" piped Maggie, bouncing from side to side trying to look everywhere at once.
"Behind the bars are the very worst cases," John told her, "the hopeless ones and the violent ones. And that's the hospital."
How much she had to be thankful for, cook's thoughts ran on—her health and earning capacity, her strength and active mentality. Even memory became sweet, as, one by one, the blank faces passed in review.
"Look at all the children? Where do they all come from? Can't they ever get out? Gee, they all look like you do when you're awful mad, cook. Are we going out this gate? Gee, I'm glad we're going out 'an' we ain't lame nor blind nor sick nor nuthin'; ain't you cook?"
With every tired nerve relaxed and every scowling frown eased, bearing proudly a new lease of life, a breathless, laughing cook raced with a skipping kitchen girl through the woodhouse into the steaming kitchen, flipped up the linen to test the Parker House rolls raising by the side of the range; basted the chickens and turned them over, and as she tightened the belt of her apron and started to garnish the cooling ham, she said softly to herself:
"Always—it might be worse!"

SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEYS HURT

Drink lots of water and stop eating meat for a while if your bladder troubles you.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy; full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the seed of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with salt added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Healing Cream Stops Catarrh

Clogged Air Passages Open at Once—Nose and Throat Clear.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head stuffed because of catarrh or a cold, get Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this pure, antiseptic, germ-destroying cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head and membranes. Instant relief.

How good it feels. Your head is clear. Your nostrils are open. You breathe freely. No more hawking or snuffing. Head colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed up, choked up and miserable. Relief is sure.

But the Home Paper Told It!

"Wasn't it fine about Priscilla getting honors in her school work last term?" said Mrs. Smith to Mrs. Brown. "What?" asked Mrs. Brown. "I didn't know about it."

"But it was in the Home Town Paper," replied Mrs. Smith. "Don't you take it?" "No," said Mrs. Brown, "but I am going to."

And she did, for this is a true story. As much a part of the community life as is the school or church is the Home Town Paper.

Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week, Nov. 7-12

Strong for Home Paper

"No, I don't take the local paper any more," one farmer said to another as they were waiting at the creamery to unload their milk.

They had just been looking at a poster advertising "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week, November 7-12." "I take a daily paper, and that's about all I need. It has a few items every week from our community, and I feel that I save two dollars a year by not subscribing to the home paper."

"Well, that's one way to look at it," said the other farmer, "but I've always felt that a local newspaper was a pretty valuable asset to any community, and if everybody took the attitude you do, there couldn't be any local newspaper. Of course we could not get along without our daily papers, because they keep us informed about what's going on throughout the nation and throughout the world, but when you say that they take care of our local news, I don't think you are sticking close to facts. They simply can't, and the publishers haven't any personal interest in our community the way our editor has."

"I have always felt that I got value received for every dollar I've paid out in subscriptions to the local paper, and I don't have an idea that running a country newspaper is any more of a wealth-producing proposition than running a farm. So long as I've got two dollars I intend that the rural mail carrier is going to tuck a copy of the home paper in my box every week."

That farmer knows that the community newspaper is a necessity in his home; that without it his home would be incomplete and his part in the community would be unsatisfactory to himself and his family. He knows the full value of the local newspaper as an institution.

A Community Servant. The local newspaper is the servant of the community in which it is published, but to be a good and efficient servant it must be fed by the people it serves. It is an institution of the town quite as much as are the schools and the churches, and quite as much entitled to support.

A Necessary Luxury. The town newspaper is both a luxury and one of the family necessities.

MCKINLEY MAKES MAIDEN SPEECH

Favors Retention of the American Troops in Germany For Present As Desired By the Allies.

Senator McKinley made his maiden speech in the United States Senate last week in support of the treaty of peace with Germany. On the final roll-call Senators McKinley and McCormick voted for ratification of the pact, both taking the ground that the acceptance of the treaty will stabilize world conditions and operate toward a resumption of trade between this country and Europe.

Senator McKinley in his address urged that the United States maintain its quota of troops on the Rhine, denying that the soldiers are "homesick" for a return to American shores.

"I have visited Europe three times during the past 36 months," Senator McKinley said, "and have formed this impression; leaving out entirely the moral side, the world interests of the United States are too great, the world itself too small, and the means of communication too quick and easy for us to stand by and say to Europe, 'Go to it and fight it out; its none of our affair.'"

"If keeping 5,000 American soldiers on the Rhine will restore the equilibrium in Europe and bring back a market for the excess products of the United States, it seems to me a good business investment to keep that American representation over there. Commenting on the attitude of nations abroad toward the American troops, the Illinois Senator said: "The French, the Belgians, the British—in fact all of the allied nations—want us to be represented, because so long as there is one American soldier on the Rhine, it is notice to the world that the American people will stand for no more wars on ambition or aggression, and that one soldier will be backed by 4,000,000 or 10,000,000 more if necessary to maintain the peace of the world."

New Cook Book.

A new book, which has just been published for free distribution is responsible for a sort of home baking revival in Sullivan. This book the "New Dr. Price Cook Book," is so crowded with good old-fashioned, as well as new and unusual recipes that every homelover in town has been trying them out to see how really good they are! The index covers recipes for griddle cakes, cookies, crullers, doughnuts, old-fashioned shortcake, and many other good things.

For those who have not yet been able to procure a copy of this wonderful book on home baking—that is so easy for every housekeeper, even the most inexperienced, to follow—we add that it may be procured free of charge from the Price Baking Powder Factory, Chicago. If interested in good home baking (and what housekeeper is not?) it will pay to write for it.

Secret is Out. "The tip is stupid and unjust," declares the Manchester Guardian, "because it is conditioned by some special accident of adjacency." We knew there was something wrong with the blamed thing.—Boston Transcript.

AN AGED WOMAN

Monday morning at the church of the Sacred Heart in Dalton City. The services were conducted by Rev. Father Curran. There was a large attendance the church being filled with friends.

The music was furnished by the regular choir of the church.

There were many beautiful floral tributes, in charge of Misses Mary Walsh, Catherine Walsh, Pauline Walsh and Gertrude Witt.

The pall bearers were: James Morrissey, David Henneberry, Michael Hogan, Jacob Vollmer, Michael Walsh and Bert Walsh. The body was taken to Decatur and interred in Calvary cemetery.

MRS. MARY STULL.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Stull was held on Sunday at the Mt. Zion Baptist church northeast of Coles.

Her death took place on Thursday morning of last week at the family home in Coles Station after an illness of about a week suffering from liver and kidney troubles and for the past few days her condition had been serious.

Mrs. Stull was born in Indiana on March 4, 1846. When a young girl she came with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, to this section of Illinois, and in the immediate vicinities of Coles, Cooks Mills and Fuller's Point she had lived her long life. Her parents were among the early settlers of that vicinity.

Mrs. Stull was twice married. Her first husband was John Covert. One child, Mrs. T. P. Finley of Sullivan, survives from that union. A number of years after the death of Mr. Covert she was married to Mr. Stull, to which union eight children were born. Five daughters and a son died in childhood. The survivors are Mrs. John Perry and Jesse Stull of Mattoon and Mrs. James Perry of Cooks Mills. A brother, William Smith, lives in Lovington, and a half-sister, Mrs. W. E. Keefer, lives in Rock Island. Mrs. Joseph Black and Mrs. W. E. Graham, whose deaths occurred during the last few years, were sisters.

Mrs. Stull had been a member of the Baptist church since a young girl.

DEATHS AT MASONIC HOME

Three deaths have taken place at the Masonic Home within a few days. A. C. Clifford died at the Home on October 20. The body was taken to his former home at Champaign. He was sixty-three years of age.

Emmauela Ruehl died on Saturday at the Home. The body was taken to Chicago for burial.

William Alexander McKinney passed away early Sunday morning at the Home. The body was sent to Barry, Iowa, for burial.

Hold County Meeting.

Twenty-eight members of the local lodge of Odd Fellows were in Gays on Friday evening to attend a county meeting of the organization. There were also twenty-nine present from the Allenville lodge. Lake City, Dalton City, Lovington and Bruce were also represented at the meeting. A fine spread was put on by the members and a talk by Superintendent Saylor of the Odd Fellows' old folks' home at Mattoon was a feature of the meeting.

Here On Auto Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McColl arrived in the city last week to spend a few days with the latter's uncle, M. K. Birch. Last summer the couple drove to Canada from San Francisco and spent the summer and now they are motoring through to California to spend the winter. They are sightseeing and visiting relatives. Miss Ethel Birch has also been here from Chicago for a visit at the home of her father, M. K. Birch.

Thalian Society Program

The Thalian literary society of the Sullivan Township high school will meet this afternoon and will present the following program:

Song by society.

High school notes by Iva Elder and Caroline Jennings.

Origin of the first Halloween, Cecil Creath.

Song by quartet composed of Marjorie Bupp, Amy Thackwell, Eva Bradley and Regina Fleschner.

Halloween poem, Everett Worsham.

Original composition by Glen Ray.

Friends-In-Council.

The Friends-in-Council met on Monday with Miss Helen Chase. The program consisted of a paper "The Woman Who Should Marry" by Mrs. Carl Hill, a vocal solo by Mrs. Gay Fleming and a paper on "The Model Kitchen" by Miss Grace Buxton. The roll call was responded to with kitchen hints, many very helpful ones being given.

Miss Hortense Miller was voted into the club.

The meeting next Monday will be held at the home of Mrs. N. C. Ellis.

Taken To Hospital.

Reverend Father Heslan, pastor of the Catholic congregation at this place, was taken from his home in the Catholic parsonage at Mattoon last week to the hospital in Decatur. Rev. Father Higgins to whom Father Heslan is an assistant has been sick in a hospital in Quincy for several weeks past. Father Heslan was not well himself and this doubling of duties has overtaxed the young priest.

Box Supper At Kirksville.

A box supper will be held at the Reedy school at Kirksville on Friday night, November 4. A cordial invitation is given the public to attend. Miss Mildred Pence is teacher of one of the rooms of the school while O. W. Green has the other. The proceeds will go toward buying reading circle books.

HER SUMMONS
By JOHN WESTON.
Copyright, 1921, Western Newspaper Union.

She was a frail little thing, unaccustomed to the confusing ways of a city, and when Barrie first saw her, his heart went out to her. He had come recently himself from an affectionate Scotch home, to the cold barrenness of a boarding house, and his sympathies were dormant. Phyllis, hovering like some frightened butterfly in the dingy hall, had gone forward to him in shy eagerness, as he came down the stair.

"Please," she said, "I have rung the bell several times, but nobody answers. Will you tell me where I can find Mrs. Banby? I have rented her rear bedroom."

"Come on up," invited Barrie cheerily. "I'll show you the way; Mrs. Banby's probably out in the yard, the rear room is right next to mine."

"I'm glad!" said the girl impulsively, then blushed at her boldness.

Phyllis was more glad as weeks passed that her room happened to be next to Barrie MacDonald's. He had a way of leaving little surprises outside her closed door that made her anticipate, and feel less lonely. Coming from the unfamiliar city office at evening, it was cheering to find a well-read book lying there for her perusal—or a magazine maybe, or a fresh-cut flower in a waxen paper. And sometimes there would be fruit, or later as the friendliness grew and the two took pleasant walks together—there would be a small box of candy before her door. Phyllis insisted upon the "smallness" because she had learned that Barrie was earning his profession there in the strange city, and economy was a necessity. Once or twice she took him out to Aunt Martha's in the country for Sunday visits, and shrewd Aunt Martha agreed in her choice of Barrie as a friend. Barrie learned much of Phyllis during those visits, of her past sacrifices in caring for an invalid parent, and how the brother who should have helped had gone far away to seek his fortune. Barrie grew more and more sure that Phyllis was the one girl in the world for him, but Barrie was not sure of Phyllis.

She liked him, that was evident; but the liking was so genuinely natural that Barrie feared the feeling was far from love; so he waited. She had confessed to him, laughingly, her fear of the creaking old house during the lonely night.

"Sounds," she told him, "as if ghostly steps were coming and going in the halls."

So, sometimes to reassure her, Barrie, waking, would tap gently on the wall. And reassured, smiling there in the darkness, Phyllis would tap back her response from the other side. And then one day she went away. Barrie was stunned by the suddenness of his loss. Phyllis no longer brightened by her sweet presence the gloomy walls; Phyllis, no more singing companionably about her adjoining room. It was the brother who returned all unexpectedly with his won fortune who had carried Phyllis away. The brother, jeering at the shabby rear bedroom, had carried her few belongings down to his car, while Phyllis quickly, and more like a flitting butterfly than ever, kissed Barrie warmly and all unasked, and murmured that her spirit would come back to the little room at night, she knew, to answer his taps on the wall. Barrie lay miserably that night. Later, he might hear from her, perhaps, and later they might even see each other occasionally—but it would not be the same. Phyllis would no longer need him, call for him. Distinctly from out the silence came a sharp summons. Barrie sat up and listened. There were the three familiar tappings of Phyllis upon the wall, the usual waiting pause, then three more. Barrie half dressed and ran to the door. His breathless call brought no response. Mrs. Banby called to him from the lower hall.

"Say, I'm glad you're up, MacDonald," she said. "There's been an automobile accident out on the boulevard; some car ran into Phyllis Dale and her brother. Mr. Stearns, who just came in, told me. The brother is raving at the hospital, he says; came tearing on there alone with a cut in his head. He says Phyllis is lying dead in a ditch near the road. Some men have gone out after her body. It's terrible."

How Barrie got to the ditch by the boulevard road he never knew. And he was there first. Instinct may have carried him, while the brother in his confusion gave wrong directions. The grass was very soft and deep from which Barrie lifted the girl, her face shone ghastly in the moonlight. He was holding her when the seekers came upon him, and they allowed him to keep her in his arms as they drove back. Then Barrie gave a shout.

"Dead!" he cried. "She's not dead. To the hospital, quick!"

The soft grasses had saved her body from injury, the doctor said, "and the result of shock would pass over."

"Barrie, dear," Phyllis asked after a long time, "how did you know how to come and find me there?"

"You summoned me," he told her, "by tapping on the wall."

"The last thing I remember before I went off into silence," she said, "was wishing that I might bring you, in just that way."

"You did," answered Barrie gravely. Phyllis smiled.

"Well, anyway, you are here," she said in great content.

City To Extend Lines.

With the news that the Public Service company will be compelled to remove its poles and wires from the streets of the city, Manager Howard Hough of the city light plant is making arrangements to extend the city lines and prepare for the increase in business which will follow the withdrawal of the Public Service company.

Those in charge of the city light plant have in the past avoided unnecessary expense in regard to extending the city's lines but now will plan to take care of all the business here. There will be a big increase in the business of the city plant with the withdrawal of the Public Service company from the city.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a cloth and drink it as a tea or add at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil.

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 35 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

Clouds Supply Needed Moisture.

During the nearly rainless summers of South Africa the mountains in the neighborhood of Cape Town are clothed in luxuriant vegetation, supported by a copious deposit of moisture from drifting clouds.
