LARGE NUMBER ATTENDED CADLE MEETING SUNDAY

Evangelist From Indianapolis Is Well Pleased With The Reception Received
On Visit Here.

A crowd estimated at almost 2000 or over attended the evangelistic meeting held on Sunday afternoon by E. Howard Cadle of Indianapolis at Freeland Grove park in this city.

Mr. Cadle was assisted in the meeting by his organist, Curtis Davis and Mrs. Cadle. During the afternoon several musical numbers were given by the two assistants.

A special offering was taken to purchase radios for many of the churches in the rural districts in the mountainous regions of Kentucky and Tennessee which have been unable to hold services on account of a lack of funds with which to employ a pastor.

In addition to large numbers from all over Moultrie county other places including Springfield and Decatur were represented in the large audience.

Evangelist Cadle preached on "Sin" and said that a return to religion and a moral life would do more than anything else to rid this country of the present depression.

When the invitation was given for those desiring to accept Christ as their personal savior and to turn away from their sins a large number went forward.

Success for the meeting is due to the splendid efforts of Halac Lansden of Bethany, who was the promoter and sponsor of the meeting.

In his service over the radio on Monday morning Evangelist Cadle spoke of his service here the afternoon before and of the fine audience and response he had had here.

ACTIVITIES OF THE NATIONAL GUARDS THIS SPRING

Two Officers And Fifteen Enlisted Men Of Headquarters Company Attend
Post Exercise In Decatur.

Two officers and fifteen enlisted men of the local Headquarters company attended the Command Post exercise held in the Decatur Armory last week end. Capt. Pifer, the Regimental supply officer, was also in attendance and functioned on the Regimental Staff.

Corporal Carl M. Garrett, the federal caretaker, left Thursday morning for a three day school on the Rifle Range at Zion, Ill. This is an annual affair and officers and enlisted men from all units in the state attend. Instruction is given in the rifle, machine gun, Howitzer weapons and automatic rifle. About 240 enlisted men will be in attendance and all new officers in the state who have not attended the school.

The rifle season opened on May 1st this year, one month earlier than usual. All men and officers under fifteen years service will be required to fire.

Drill attendance in the local organization has been exceptionally good during the winter. At no time has it been under 95 per cent and in December a perfect record was attained for the month.

Inspections are over for the year and the company gave a satisfactory account of themselves on all occasions. The rifles were graded the best inspected by the Ordnance group so far in the state.

There have been several changes in personnel in the past few weeks. Staff Sergeant George Dedman has gone to Chicago to study art and Sergeant George Hoke has been promoted to fill the vacancy. Guy Carline left the early part of May for California where he expects to enlist in the Army. Hubert Vanderveer expects to leave for Montana next Monday, Lawrence Wilson has moved to Decatur. Sergeant John McKinney transferred to Headquarters company in Decatur but is back with us again.

Paul Freeland went to Chicago recently and qualified as an amateur radio operator and was issued a license to own and operate an amateur station. It is estimated by Ft. Benning Service school that it requires from 400 to 600 hours of work to train a radio operator. This gives us two amateur operators in the company, the caretaker having held a license for several years.

Camp this year will be held the first two weeks in August at Camp Grant, Rockford. No recruits will be accepted after May 31st.
Richard L. Reeser, Darrel A. McGuire and Wayne H. Davis have recently enlisted in the company. Many more have applied but on account of the strength of the organization being limited to 25 men it has not been possible to accept them.

ALLENVILLE WOMAN ACCUSED OF BEING SHOPLIFTER.

A woman residing near Allenville
was arrested Wednesday on a charge of shoplifting in a Mattoon store,
police said today, but later was released after paying the manager $1.50 for the goods said to have been stolen. No charges were filed against her, police said.

Patrolman Charles Eaton, who arrested the woman, said she offered him $5 to free her while enroute to the police station and offered to give he store manager a similar amount if he would not prosecute her.—Mattoon Journal-Gazette.

SALES OF STOCKS AND BONDS ARE WAY DOWN.

What can be done to get business going again and the wheels of industry turning? That question is on many lips these days. Figures on private investment in securities reveal one sore spot that must be healed.
Stocks and bonds are sold primarily to provide money for building new factories or enlarging existing factories thus providing work for many people.

Last month only $13,800,000 worth of new stocks and bonds were sold, lowest since November, 1935. In April, 1937, $177,000,000 worth of new securities were issued. The way things are going now it is likely that less than $400,000,000 will be invested in industry this year. Compare this with the, $2,835,400,000 investment figure of 1926, or the $3,667,- 800,000 figure of 1929, or even the $1,369,400,000 figure of 1937.

In other words, the average adult put $35 of his 1926 savings into new stocks and bonds, while this year the figure will be in the neighborhood of only $5.

Who Shall Call the Tune?

By WALTER LIPPMANN

It is evident that what interests Congress in the new spending bill is whether the President is to have the final say in each Congressional district about how much is to be spent and for what projects the money is to be spent. There will be speeches denouncing the extravagance and the deficits. But in so far as there is effective opposition to the program,
it will come from those Republicans and Democrats who object to letting the President enjoy the political power that follows from being able to give and to withhold large sums of money. If each Congressman could control the spending in his own district, there would be very few Congressmen in either party who voted against it.

This is a pork barrel, and the real issue is whether it shall be a Presidential pork barrel or a Congress-sional pork barrel.

There is no doubt that there is here a great issue. The primaries in Alabama and in Florida show
what every practical politician knows, that whatever controls the allocation of billions of dollars is virtually unbeatable in an ordinary election. Thus it is no accident that the decline of the President's authority in Congress,
in the period from the introduction of the bill to the defeat of the reorganization bill, coincided with the exhaustion of PWA and other free funds. The revival of his authority in the Alabama primary coincides with the decision to revive the spending program.

For whatever the voters may feel about spending in the abstract, there are very few voters who do not insist on having their share of the spending if there is to be any spending.
They may think the whole thing is wrong. But they expect the money to be spent anyway. They realize that they must contribute to it in taxes. And so they want to get as much of it as they can. If they are to get their share, they must elect a Representative who can get it, and since Representatives who stand well at the White House are sure to get more than those who do not, the President's men have every advantage.

Within a constituency the pressure to get Federal money when Federal money is to be had is stronger than almost any other pressure. It does not come merely from the direct recipients of relief and Federal jobs.
It comes overwhelmingly from the local politicians in the cities and the counties who for years now have been balancing their budgets with manna
from the White House.

The conference of mayors is one of the greatest lobbies in the history of the country. It has been created by the Federal spending program which from the point of view of any mayor is a politician's dream of paradise; to get great sums of money for schools, bridges, sewers, highways, swimming pools without having to raise the local tax rate, to be able to spend magnificently without asking the local voters to pay for the magnificence is to have reached the point at last where a politician can eat his cake and have it too.

As long, therefore, as this spending power is under Presidential control the local Democratic machines

must be under Presidential control,
and the local Republican machines cannot afford to make too bold a fight.

The indirect and more or less unconscious effects of the Presidential pork barrel are perhaps even greater.
For consider the practical demonstration of the past eighteen months.
In 1936 huge spending, great apparent prosperity, and Presidential landslide; in 1937, reduced spending, renewed depression, and a Congress-sional revolt.

To promote a true recovery based on a resumption of private investment, and then to balance the budget,
is to renounce the power to control
the Democratic party and to perpetuate the existing control. As a patriot Mr. Roosevelt might be prepared to make this sacrifice. But it would be less than human if he were not rather lukewarm about insisting on it. For he can most surely perpetuate his political power by achieving prosperity through public expenditure; the other kind of prosperity would almost certainly mean
the dissolution of his personal power.

Thus, as a consequence of the Presidential pork barrel we have a deep underlying conflict between the political interests of the New Deal and a normal recovery based on private enterprise.

It might be supposed that having said all this, the conclusion is that we ought to return to the Congressional pork barrel. This is, I believe, the position of my friend, Mr. Mark Sullivan, and I can see the force of the argument which consists in saying that a Congressional pork barrel is a lesser evil than a Presidential pork barrel.

But, for my part, I am not so sure that a Congressional pork barrel is the lesser evil. For while the present system accentuates the power of the President, and that is an undoubted evil, a Congressional pork barrel will tend to cause a deadlock in the government paralysis of the Federal power. If I have to choose between the impotence of government in 1932 and the excessive authority of the President in 1938, I would feel I had to choose the evils of 1938. For in the present state of the word, the one thing no democracy can dispense with is strong government and the one thing democracies cannot afford is a general paralysis.

(So if the only alternative to the Presidential pork barrel is a Congressional pork barrel, I would feel I had to prefer the Presidential.

It ought not to be necessary to have to make such a hard choice. It ought to be possible to devise a method of spending money in which the allocation of funds is a matter of right under law and not of personal discretion by the President or of log rolling by Congressmen. It ought to be possible to have the money allocated to communities under general rules fixed by Congress and administered by some sort of impartial and non-partisan tribunal.

And that is why the Bacon bill,
which looks toward a solution of this kind, deserves more public attention than it is receiving.

AT THE GRAND

CROSBY AND LILLIE HEAD COMEDY CAST.

An ace singer who can clown and a ace clown who can sing, pool their talents in Paramount's smashing new musical comedy, "Doctor Rhythm,"
which comes Sunday and Monday, May 22-23 to the screen of the Grand theatre. They are Bing Crosby, fresh from his triumph in "Double or Nothing," and the inimitable Beatrice Lillie, who has panicked audiences all the world over and now appears in her first important screen venture.

It is a jazzed-up version, set to music, of the great O. Henry's immortal story, "The Badge of Policeman O'- Roon," which relates the rollicking experiences encountered by a fashionable New York physician who masquerades as a policeman for a day to help a friend out of trouble. He gets more than he expects when his first assignment is to be personal body guard to a mad cap society woman, Miss Lillie, who is also the favorite patroness of the New York police force.

Trouble piles on trouble for the pseudo cop when Miss Lillie orders
him to track her beautiful niece, Mary Carlisle, and see to it that she does not run away with a no-good racketeer, Fred Keating, with whom she fancies herself in love. When his borrowed uniform fails to impress the girl with his importance, he crouches her into submission.

Swing music, under the leadership of Louis Armstrong and his famed band, paces the mad comedy of the picture. Bing has a bag of song hits well up to the high standard he has set in his previous productions, chief among them "My Heart Is Taking Lessons" and "On The Sentimental Side."

For this light-hearted comedy Director Frank Tuttle gathered some must run...

Railroads must operate even when business
as a whole turns sharply downward.

Facilities necessary to handle considerable traffic must be maintained.

Otherwise there could be no recovery.

Through more than a century of alternating periods of depression and recovery, our railroads have continued to sustain our nation's business—to render faster, better,
safer transportation.

That record has earned and deserved public confidence. Railroads can never be a burden, but rather a staff upon which the nation may lean.

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT RABIES.

Rabies is a disease that turns the animal often called man's best friend
into one of his most dangerous enemies, a disease that is invariably fatal once it develops. It is characterized by spasms, restlessness,
shudders at the least breath of air,
parching thirst with complete inability to swallow, convulsive movements,
fits of rage, rapid agonizing death.
What Animals Are Subject To Rabies?
All domestic animals, including birds, are susceptible to rabies. In Illinois we find most cases of rabies caused by infected dogs. Once the disease appears in a community no dog should be allowed to run at large.

Dear Suzie —

May 18, 1938.

Hooraay and a couple of flap-doodles! At last the light has dawned, and now we're well on the way to having our selves a new, much-needed building. The state legislature is meeting this Friday in a special session and—well we're on their schedule. So at least there's hope.

Things have just been sailing along, and all of a sudden—bang! One week from today, school will be over, done, finished. And we'll be the ones "finished," if something doesn't happen, and quickly! Everything is way behind itself; we feel like dogs who try to catch up with their tails. For then, a week from Friday, our semester exams will begin. And that torture goes on for ten days. Exam schedules are out, and the moaning and groaning never ceases. Either they're all bunched up at the first, or else they all come at the end, or they're scattered over too long and dragged-out a time. Oh, I promise you, you can't please them! But then, who would be pleased with any list of three-hour final exams?

Spring formals have blossomed all over campus. A lot of them are very elaborate and very beautiful. At one fraternity house, the pin design was formed out of sixty orchids, which were then removed and given to the girls as corsages! Oh yes, they're quite some occasions!

Another type of big occasion is coming up now—and that's Inter-Scholastic Week End. That includes track meets, baseball game, and the Interscholastic Circus to top it off. I remember when I was in high school, that was a big week end on my calendar. It is, up here too, a big week end on our calendars. But it's a sort of last fling before the battle. I suppose the Gymkana tumbler will be on the program at the circus, and I just want to tell you that they're still coming through. Joe Gialombardo, our extra-special gymnastic expert, went to the National meet—and took first place! Wouldn't you know it. He's just getting in the habit of taking prizes—de-servedly, too!

This week end also marks the Sachem Sing—that is the singing competition between the fraternities, held each spring. And do they take it seriously! They practice three or more times a day and get up at perfectly unholly hours to work on their songs! One thing about it, though—they really turn in a good program. And besides, it is awfully good training for serenades. They're beginning to float around, these spring nights. Except that the recent rains aren't too encouraging.

They aren't at all encouraging, in fact. We're awfully barometrical around here—and when the barometer is down, and the weather is droopy, so are we.

Which again reminds me of swimming. I've learned the weirdest things in that class. Did you know that you can float in almost any position? My word, we were doing a Jelly-fish float, or something such, in which we just naturally doubled up and held onto our ankles—and floated face down. Works! And did you know that the easiest way to go down in the water is to throw your arms up? Well, I'll admit, I didn't. It was so funny—we were supposed to sink down to the bottom of the pool, feet first—and we couldn't sink to save our necks! Finally, they told us the little trick of raising our arms, and down you go.

Well, enough of our little lessons on swimming. Now you tell one.

Which reminds me, I left out the ladies a while ago when I was talking about the sing. The Shi-Ai (sorority) sing in which thirteen sororities will take part, is being held this Saturday night. And the poor gals are having a hard life of it now, too. They have to drag out at all hours of the morning and go to the auditorium for practice. And we hope no men are about at that hour—cause honestly, they aren't quite ready for inspection at that hour. Indeed!

You know, if you want a real success story, here's one, straight from our campus. In the election of the Junior Bar association—a blind student, Willard Ice, was chosen for president! He has been blind since an accident when he was four or five years old. And yet, he is a college graduate and is in his first year of law school. He went to the school for the blind at Jacksonville, and then graduated from Illinois College—the valedictorian of the senior class there.

He is doing NYA work, typing, here in school and also made a five point average his first year here. Now he has been honored with one of the most note-worthy positions on campus and in his school. And we're proud of him!

Band Concert tonight—and next week's the last one. Seems funny . . . all those Seniors going for good . . . and summer coming . . . and exams. . . AND EXAMS!

And so me for the books.

By Check and Double Check

At last those long-awaited-for Retrospects have come out. They were distributed to those who had paid on Tuesday afternoon after school. We thought we'd never get them, but we were certainly well rewarded. We'll have to hand it to you, seniors, because you really put out one swellelegant book.

We should also like to bestow orchids (in words) upon two other persons. Again they are people in the Senior class but it seems they get all the attention near the last of the school. And why shouldn't they? All of us will have our time. Always from the senior class two for outstanding scholarship are chosen. We now wish to congratulate Paul Freeman who is Valedictorian and Rachel Richardson who is Salutatorian. May you be as successful in the future as you have been in high school.

Of course the classes must have picnics and that has been a topic of conversation for sometime. However there has been difficulty for all of the classes finding a suitable time and place.

The seniors have had the definite date, Monday, May 23, set for a good many days. However, they have finally decided to go to Turkey Run which is the place nearly all classes of seniors end up with. It is a good place though and since each year it is a new bunch to enjoy it, it is a popular spot.

The Juniors are slow and we're wondering if they'll ever be sure. It seems no definite date or place has been chosen. Some want to go to St. Louis, some to Springfield and some say they'll find themselves picnicing in Decatur.

The Sophomores have set the date which is to be on Thursday, May 26. They are motoring to Nelson park in Decatur. It seems the sophomores are allowed to go no farther than Decatur so consequently they're as far as they can.

The freshmen even rate a picnic this year. They were to have had it yesterday, Thursday, May 19th, at the Masonic Home. These poor kids had to stay real close but we'll wager they enjoyed it just the same.

On Tuesday noon the Home Ec club was to have had a picnic dinner in the park, but due to rainy weather the picnic was held in the dining room.

This was the last meeting of the club and a good time was had by all. They really had the "eats" and you should have seen some of those girls go after it. This club has done many interesting and beneficial things during the year. It owes its success and good times to Mrs. Harrmann, who is the supervisor. We're really going to miss her, but we'll never forget what a grand teacher and individual she is.

Besides Mrs. Harrmann we're going to miss Jean Whitfield's smiling face next year. We're going to miss these too like—well, like everything, and we don't mean maybe. To them we wish all the happiness and good luck in the world! They'll always be in our pleasant school day memories of STHS.

Have you heard? There are rumors that there is going to be another one of those popular student dances. This will be a May dance and the last one this year so let's have it. These dances are always grand so let's make this last one the biggest and grandest one yet. We're ready to truck right out (almost ready to truck out of school too!)

Might as well get right down to the point. Baccalaureate is on May 29, and commencement is May 30. That's when the seniors have their big days and bid the STHS a fond farewell. Many memories will live on with them forever and we won't forget them either. Just think how dignified they'll look (notice we said "look") in those caps and gowns. Of course they won't be the least bit warm—much. However we hope it will be a rather cool day for their sakes. We wish the seniors luck and success. As they go on through life. We think good old STHS should have given them a good start.

We hate to even mention it, but you know the semester tests are next week. They start Wednesday morning and last until Thursday afternoon. The seniors are always favored at the end of school so they are exempted from tests on a C average. The rest of us will just have to wait until we're seniors to get this honor. These are the last tests for three whole months, so don't get impatient. Remember only a week more of school and then—vacation!

Metzelaars Lead Winners.

The outstanding figure of the meet was Charley Metzelaars, sensational senior Mattoon athlete. He led the scoring for the victors with 23 points. Metzelaars won the 200-yard low hurdles in 23.3 seconds. Metzelaars nosed out Bone in the pole vault by a narrow margin. The Mattoon star also picked up a second in the broad jump for his remaining points.

Reds Fail To Qualify.

The locals' entries in the dashes and hurdles failed to qualify in the preliminaries which were run off during the afternoon. James Walker finished third in his heat which kept him out of the finals. Marion Spencer, Paul Freeland and Glen Shaw also fell by the wayside in the prelims. Carl Barclay ran up against too strong competition in the weights while Boyce England also faltered in the javelin and low hurdles.

233 Athletes Compete.

233 athletes representing 27 schools competed in the Mattoon meet. Mattoon and Paris will represent this section of the state in the state finals which will be held at the University of Illinois on Friday and Saturday, May 20 and 21. Raymond Firebaugh acted as official starter for the Mattoon meet which was hindered by threatening rain and cold.

Martinsville	9
Sullivan	8 1/2

Mattoon high school's track and field team walked off with the annual district track and field title last Friday night at Mattoon with 42 points. The strong Paris team was second with 37 1/2 and Charleston high tallied 27 points for third place. Villa Grove ranked fourth with 19 tallies while Pana placed fifth with 15 points.

Clark Dennis' boys finished far down the ladder in eighth position by scoring only 8 1/2 points during the meet. Sullivan's points were accounted for by Kent Bone, Paul Bolin and Bill Shasteen. Kent Bone came through with a second in the pole vault and tied for third in the high jump to lead the scoring for the STHS team. Paul Bolin ran a fourth in the mile run while Bill Shasteen wound up in a tie for fifth in the pole vault.

Robert Creek, star half miler for the Reds, failed to break into scoring column after leading the race until the final 100-yards. After a rather slow start, Creek took the lead but failed to have that added spark at the finish to carry him across the line.

Two Records Broken.

Two new records fell during Friday's meet. Lyle Willard of Paris and Walt Storm of Mattoon smashed the high jump record by clearing the bar at 5 feet, 10 inches. The other record of the evening went to Shaffner of Martinsville in the high hurdles. Shaffner ran the highs in 15.6 seconds.

Charleston T. C. Jumper Off Form.

Robert Carroll, versatile Charleston T. C. high school athlete, who has been clearing six feet all spring went through one of those off nights and as a result was forced to be satisfied with a tie for third with Kent Bone of Sullivan. It was the second time this year that the Charleston youth has been beaten in this event.

MOULTRIE FISHERMEN OBJECT

TO FISHING WITH NETS
IN THE OKAW RIVER.
Fishermen of Moultrie county on Saturday sent a petition to Thomas J. Lynch, head of the Department of Conservation for Illinois, asking that the proposed action of opening the waters of the Okaw for the Mississippi river to net fishing be rescinded.
There were about one hundred of the Moultrie county fishermen who signed the petition.

The petition states that the hook
and line fishing which has prevailed has given the Moultrie fishermen a chance to enjoy their favorite sport and the proposed change would greatly interfere with their present arrangements.

Churches

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Rev. C. E. Barnett, Pastor
Sunday school, preaching services and meetings of the Christian Endeavor societies next Sunday at the regular hours.

At 9:30 a. m. the Sunday school. At the hour of 10:30 the worship and communion in the church service. Sermon by the pastor. Again in the evening at 7:30, a sermon and a song service. In the morning service we shall use by request one particular song. We are glad to have these requests and to respond. If there are special hymns you wish sung, tell the pastor, or place the hymn title in the offering plate. The more we make our services meet the needs of the individuals the better we shall serve the needs of all.

Wilma Lane will lead the senior Endeavor society at 6:30. There is an element of surprise in these recent meetings which sets the mind to wondering and stirs the imagination. Imagination stirred and rightly directed is good. Come out, young people, in large numbers and we'll create a big stir.

The annual Memorial service will be held at the Christian church Sunday morning, May 29. Children's day will be observed in the Sunday school on the fifth of June. More about these later.

Now we have had both a series of still pictures in our evening services and the motion picture method of presenting the message. Which do you prefer? Is there a demand for more of either, or both? Tell the pastor. He would like to have your opinion in preparation for future meetings.

"Jesus did not ask us to prove God's love, but to proclaim it." Go to church and prove you believe it.

THE GOSPEL MISSION Over The Post Office

9:30 a. m.—Sunday school.
7:30 p. m.—Friday.
Rev. Alfred Myers will preach.

We have been having such good services. Come and enjoy them with us.

Ps. 46:10, "Be still, and know that I am God."
This is more than a friendly interest and good advice. It is a command. Be still, and know. Know God. Today we looked upon what we believe to be the human results—we are not speaking of spiritual, God alone knows that—of a disregard of this command. A neighbor, a good neighbor, a friendly fellow, a respected man, ideal as measured by the yardstick of society, a busy man, much too busy. Driven hard by his own ambitions to reach the top, driven harder by his bosses for financial gain, little or no time to "Be still, and know". Today we looked upon his face cold in death, self inflicted, all because the mind reached the breaking point and snapped, reason was dethroned and ceased to function along natural lines, and seeking a way back blindly chose the wrong road.

"Be still," we find it hard to be still in a world that is speeding with the throttle wide open toward chaos, but it is not impossible. God never demands the impossible. Where there is a command there is a way made whereby we may obey. God came to Elijah not in the fire or the wind, but in the stillness and quietness of his own self. When Elijah became quiet he found that God was very near, that God talked with him. It is very necessary that we take time out to be still and know that God is our God if we would keep reason enthroned and hope intact, and fulfill our destiny as planned by our all-wise heavenly father.

PURVIS & BECKMAN APPOINTED R. E. A. PROJECT COUNSEL

Purvis & Beckman, Sullivan law firm, have recently been selected by the directors of the Coles-Moultrie Electric Cooperative as project attorneys. The Rural Electrification Administration in Washington has approved this selection during the past week.

The next step to be taken in the development of the bi-county project will be that of incorporation. The necessary papers have been prepared and the incorporation will be taken care of immediately.

The directors of the Coles-Moultrie Cooperative have recently made preliminary plans for approximately one hundred miles of line in each of the two counties. Just as soon as this preliminary plan is approved a membership survey will be made on the proposed lines. Even after the preliminary lines are approved, it may be necessary to change the routing of some of the lines depending of course upon the success of the membership survey.

All persons to be served by the project are required to be members of the cooperative before they can secure service from the cooperative lines. Members must realize that the success of the project depends on each and every one cooperating to their fullest ability. Lack of cooperation will tend to hold up the entire project and such lack of cooperation may cause R. E. A. to get the impression that farmers are not earnest in their desire to secure electric service.

In securing membership applications, prospective members will be advised of the necessity of wiring their houses and farms immediately after the allotment is made in order to be ready to be connected to the electric lines as they are constructed.

Prospective members will pay a $5.00 membership fee at the signing of the application and for this a receipt will be issued. The membership fee is not paid to the Government, but directly to the cooperative. This fund will be used for the necessary expenses incurred by the new organization. These expenditures will consist of survey and mapping expenses, incorporation, attorney fees and office expense. The directors of the cooperative must vote upon each expenditure. The membership fee will entitle a member (when accepted) to a vote in the benefits of the cooperative. A membership will incur no personal liability on anyone, except that he be prepared to take electricity when available and pay his monthly bill for that used.

The length of service line which the cooperative can extend from the main line to the consumer's house can only be determined after the survey is completed and the total cost of the project estimated. Examination may prove that up to 1000 feet can be allowed. This point is of interest to many Moultrie county farmers who live at a distance from the road.

Easements Will Be Necessary.
For the lawful construction of electric lines, it will be necessary to secure the necessary right-of-way easements from all property owners along whose lands the lines pass. The obtaining of these easements will be of utmost importance and will be completed before the engineer prepares the final detailed map of the project.

In signing the easement a person is not obligated financially to the Government or the cooperative. It involves a simple right to construct and maintain electric lines along his property, and when necessary to trim trees for the purpose. The easements will be signed at the time the membership agreements are executed.

Hello Everybody

Corn planting is well on its way to a finish and I am very much interested as to the outcome in regard to the compliance with the corn allotments.

Smith Defends AAA Program At Bloomington.

The tremendous carry-over of 1,067,000,000 bushels of corn on farms April 1, the favorable outlook for another corn crop, the prospects for at least a billion-bushel wheat crop in 1938 in addition to a larger than normal carry-over were cited here tonight by Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, as definite reasons why farmers should take advantage of their opportunity and cooperate in making the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 fully effective.

In defending the act Mr. Smith said: "Are farmers and their business friends going to permit comparatively minor difficulties and injustices to destroy their opportunities through cooperation to control surplus of basic farm products and thus invite ruinous price levels or are they temporarily going to overlook minor inequalities and move forward in the eleventh hour to prevent present surpluses of wheat and corn, to say nothing of 1938 crops, from further wrecking prices and reducing farm income?"

"Is not the latter course the sensible and sound thing to do? With these initial experiences through cooperation will we not together be better prepared to point out the changes, if any, that are needed in the basic law as well as in its administration, so as to remove all imperfections as we develop a permanent surplus control program? The haste with which state, county and community, soil conservation committees have had to work in turning out corn and soil depleting allotments, has made it impossible to be absolutely fair in all cases.

"These inequalities can be and are being ironed out as rapidly as farmer committees can get to them but to say that a program which is fundamentally sound should be scuttled because difficulties have developed is a defeatist policy and one which thinking farmers will generally condemn."

"Certainly to destroy crops in the making as a means of surplus control is less defensible than present day efforts to permit farmers through cooperation to adjust production so as to permit a free flow of stored-up surpluses without wrecking farm price levels," Mr. Smith said.

In closing his remarks, Mr. Smith asked his audience this question: "If all the farmers of McLean County were the stockholders of a corporation owning all the farm lands of McLean County and were they assured that by holding corn acreage to 257,000 acres, their corporation might rightfully expect an income from such production approximating $8,000,000,000; while in continuing their average practice of planting 324,000 acres and every indication pointed toward a total income of approximately $5,000,000,000, what would be their instructions to the directors of such a corporation?"

The month of April has been a progressive one for the Farm Bureau, having added twenty-two members to their list during the month.

The date for the Illinois Farm Sports Festival, U. of I. Campus, Urbana, has been set for September 2 and 3. Plan to attend and join in the fun.

The person that wins is one who sets a goal and then goes to it.

Hundreds of Moultrie County farm radios are being tuned to Radio Station WDZ at 12:10 each Monday, Wednesday and Friday noon to pick up the Illinois Agricultural Association broadcasts, reports Paul M. Krows, Moultrie County Farm Adviser.

A basketball player should be shift.

A good half-back needs to reverse his field.

And a flea's life depends on his erratic hop.

But a good driver always stays in his own lane.

—Roy B. Martin, Organization Director.

PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATION SERVES FARMERS.

Farmers who borrow from their Production Credit Association do not merely get a loan, they become stockholders, which makes them part owners of their own credit institute. This ownership gives them a voice in its management. They hold all the voting stock in the association. They attend its annual meetings and choose its board of directors from among their fellow members, each member having only one vote.

Farmers interested in Production Credit Loans may secure the necessary information they desire from Miss Irene Foley, local representative at the Farm Bureau office.

DISTRICT MEET ON AAA CROP INSURANCE PLAN.

A district meeting to explain details of the new wheat crop insurance program to Moultrie county representatives was held May 12 at Decatur.

Representatives of the State Agricultural Conservation Committee and of the extension service of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois explained details of the crop insurance program.

Attending the district meeting from this county were Earle H. Cruitt, T. H. Boyd, Orla Kimbrough and Paul M. Krows.

County and community meetings to explain the program to individual Moultrie county wheat producers will be scheduled in the near future.

The cost of federal crop insurance to the farmer will depend upon the loss experience on his own farm and that of the county in which he is located. The cost for any farm can be obtained by averaging two figures, the average loss for the farm and the average loss for the county.

Average county losses which will be the average premium rates, have been recorded by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation for all wheat counties.

Many wheat growers already have all the records they need for insuring their crop. These records were obtained in forms filled out for the AAA program for wheat. Farmers who did not participate in this program and do not have the necessary production records can have the local AAA office appraise their farms for insurance purposes.

The average premium rates for Moultrie county and the method of determining premium rates will be explained at the county meeting.

CONTROLLING DANDELIONS IN LAWNS.

Lawns can rarely be kept entirely free from dandelions, as the weed grows almost everywhere, and the wide distribution of the wind blown seeds cannot well be prevented. General care of the lawn is important in controlling all weeds including dandelions. Proper mowing, rolling, fertilizing and watering, all contribute to the vigorous growth of desired grasses and tend to crowd out weeds or to make them less noticeable.

The common practice of cutting out the dandelions at least 2 inches below the ground twice a year has, in many cases, been a satisfactory method of controlling. The cutting should be done in the spring before seed heads form and at intervals during the summer. It is worse than useless to cut a dandelion plant shallow, since several new tops grow from the newly cut surface. Several chemicals have been used in the control of dandelions but most of them have been ineffective. Kerosene, gasoline and commercial weed killers have been used and the results have been erratic. At the present time Iron Sulphate prepared at the rate of 1-2 lbs. per gallon of water and sprayed on the lawn as a fine mist has given best results. Five or more sprayings are usually required.

Several tests are being made on the Campus at the University of Illinois to determine the effectiveness of different chemicals in dandelion control.

QUESTION BOX ON 1938 FARM PROGRAM

For the convenience of our readers we have arranged to print answers to questions which should help farmers as they decide about cooperating with the 1938 AAA farm program.

Answers to the questions were prepared in cooperation with the extension service of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Q. Does the farmer who cooperates with the 1938 AAA farm program and reduces his corn and other soil-depleting crops within his allotment figures, come out as well as the farmer who does not cooperate?

A.—If chinch bugs, grasshoppers and army worms are as bad as present indications appear, the cooperating farmer's conservation payment may be larger than any net returns that would have been received from the soil-depleting crops grown on the diverted acres. In addition, the cooperator has time to do a better job of farming on his allotted acres and the extra fertility left in the diverted acres will contribute to more efficient yields in future years. Furthermore the cooperator is doing his part towards keeping production in line with supplies which will command a price that yields a fair return above cost of production. Of course, the non-cooperator would benefit from such a price, but if too many farmers fail to cooperate, supplies will be such that prices might be far below cost of production as they have been in past years of bumper yields on large acreages.

Q. How do present supplies of corn and other feed grains compare with normal supplies?

A. They average about 14 bushels for each animal unit as compared with normal supplies of about 10 bushels an animal unit. This means that present supplies of feed grain are about 40 per cent above normal.

Q. How do livestock numbers compare with the average for the past few years?

A. On January 1, 1938, the number of grain-consuming animal units was 12,546,000 smaller than the 10-year average of 134,389,000. In other words, at present, feed supplies are 40 per cent above normal, while the number of grain-consuming animals is 10 per cent below normal.

Q. In light of supplies of feed grains and livestock numbers, does the 1938 allotments appear ample to provide feed needs for 1938-39?

A. Acreage allotments with normal yields will supply more than will be needed. Any significant increase above acreage allotments is likely to contribute to excess supplies and lower prices.

Q. Will farmers who exceed their corn acreage allotments be eligible for corn loans on the 1938 crops?

A. No. Farmers who exceed their corn acreage allotments will not be eligible for corn loans on the 1938 crop unless marketing quotas are voted into effect. Under marketing quotas, these non-cooperators could obtain a corn loan on the corn which they will be required to store, but the rate of the loan would be only 60 per cent of that made to cooperators. Of course the cooperators will be eligible for a loan on all of his crop whether or not marketing quotas are in effect. If marketing quotas are rejected in a referendum, no loans will be made to anyone on that commodity during that marketing year.

RURAL YOUTH MEETING THURSDAY EVENING MAY 19TH AT 8:00 P. M.

The Rural Youth Group held their regular meeting on Thursday evening, May 19, at 8:00 p. m. in the Farm Bureau assembly. Group singing was led by Mary Margaret Brennan and Betty Jean Dolan. Following a feature program by Miss Wilma Spough on "The Hit Parade of Movies and Radio," separate discussion periods were held for boys on "What Does It Cost To Start Farming on 160 Acres" led by Orville Jurgens, Leonard Coward, and Kenneth Smith and for girls on "What Does It Cost To Furnish a 5-room House," led by Margery Wickline, Marjorie Casteel, and Lucille Pound. A recreation period followed consisting of folk dances and other games planned by a committee.

HOME BUREAU CHECK-UP MEETING NEXT TUESDAY.

A check-up meeting for Home Bureau Organization workers will be held in the Farm Bureau assembly next Tuesday afternoon, May 24, at 2 p. m. At the April meeting 248 Home Bureau membership cards were in and it is necessary that there be a total of 300 before a Moultrie County Home Bureau Organization is set up.

With a good report of new memberships next Tuesday it is the plan to complete organization plans early in June.

FLY SPRAY SEASON IS HERE.

The recent warm spell which we had a week or so ago quickly called attention to the fact that it is again time to start Blue Seal Fly Spray.

In preparation for this season we have again shipped a carload of Blue Seal Fly Spray into Shelbyville to be distributed as needed. For years Blue Seal Fly Spray has been the leading seller among all Fly Sprays in this area and each year new users find that it is a most economical and most satisfactory spray to purchase.

Blue Seal will be available from all tank wagons and at the Service Station in Sullivan.

APRIL SALES RECORD.

In spite of the fact that the first two weeks of April were very wet, April proved to be the record breaker for sales for the Shelby-Effingham Service Company. All of the trucks were busy nearly night and day during the last two weeks of the month, and on some days as much as five carloads of fuel were hauled to the country. The boys on the trucks have attempted to give everyone the best of service and from all reports the customers are cooperating to the fullest extent in giving as much advance notice of their needs as possible.

ILLINOIS FARMERS SET NEW LIMESTONE SPREADING RECORD.

Illinois farmers set a new all-time record in spreading limestone last year to sweeten sour soil for the more successful growing of legumes, according to C. M. Linsley, soils extension specialist, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Linsley referred to the preliminary report of the State Geological Survey showing 1,121,857 tons of limestone used in the state an increase of nearly 100,000 tons over the previous year. As late reports are received to complete the preliminary estimates of limestone tonnage for 1937, it is possible that the figure may exceed 1,250,000 tons.

For more than a quarter of a century the extension service of the agricultural college has been encouraging the use of limestone as one step in its program of soil improvement and erosion control. In the past 15 years, Illinois farmers have used more than 10 million tons of limestone. One reason for increased use during recent years has been the AAA farm program with its payments for spreading limestone.

Early reports so far this year indicate a still larger tonnage in 1938. With truckers offering a delivered and spread service on limestone at a reasonable cost, farmers are using more limestone during the busy spring season. Many are having it spread on corn ground.

Corn ground is an ideal place to apply limestone, either before or after planting and before the corn is high enough to interfere with spreading. Limestone applied at this time has the advantage of a longer time to act before clover is seeded, and the cultivation of the corn mixes it thoroughly with the soil.

The Sullivan Township high school track team closed a very successful season on Tuesday evening, when they captured third place in the Okaw Valley conference track and field meet at Monticello. Reed of Oakland tied the low hurdle mark at 24.6 in the preliminaries but finished third in the finals.

Bolin of Sullivan won first in the mile run in the splendid time of 4:51 but was disqualified on account of being paced the last part of the race by England who was not running in the race. For the same reason Seaman of Arthur, who was in second place was also disqualified.

Monticello won only two events and tied for first in another but scored heavily in other places. Newman also took three firsts, Hull winning both hurdle races and Underwood the 100-yard dash. Newman won the relay but it did not count in the point table.

KIWANIS INTER-CLUB MEETING HELD HERE

Clarence Valentine Of Aurora, District Governor, Gives Principal Address.

Over one hundred attended the Kiwanis Inter Club meeting held on Thursday evening of last week at the Masonic dining room in this city. The meeting was for the members of the clubs from Effingham, Shelbyville and Sullivan and their wives. J. L. Ogle, president of the Sullivan club, presided.

The meeting opened with the singing of "America" followed by the Kiwanis "Pledge to the Flag" and the invocation by Rev. Morelle E. Stern, secretary of the Shelbyville club. Group singing was led by Wolfgang Kuhn of the local club. Special musical numbers were a couple of violin solos by Wolfgang Kuhn and two vocal solos by John Norman, music instructor in the Shelbyville high school. He was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Norman.

Dr. C. E. Pollard of Champaign lieutenant governor for the district, told of the growth of the Kiwanis organization and of the great amount of good it is doing especially in the cities, where the clubs have been particularly active in the work for the underprivileged children.

The principal speaker for the meeting was Clarence L. Valentine of Aurora, governor of the Illinois Eastern Iowa district. He stated that this was his first visit to this section of the state governor and that he was enjoying his work of visiting the various clubs in Illinois.

During the dinner hour a number of selections were played by an orchestra of the high school students.

The dinner was served by the members of the Eastern Star lodge.

CHANGES NEEDED IN PRIMARY ELECTION LAW

The Present Ballot System Makes It Trying For Some To Vote.

Those attending the recent state convention of county officials at Danville report that much dissatisfaction exists with the present primary election law which provides for separate ballots for the voters of each party. This plan permits the party bosses to keep tab on the way a person votes, and has resulted in some instances in trouble and sometimes coercion when the voting was not to their liking.

Our ballot system was designed to give each voter perfect liberty to express his own opinion at the polls, but corruption and evil practices have crept in until unscrupulous office holders and party leaders make it very trying for some to exercise their voting franchise. It would seem therefore that some change is needed in the primary voting plan.

At the Danville convention it was suggested that both ballots be printed on the same sheet, and in that way the voter could vote his own opinion without interference from others, as the law intended.

Senior Play To Be Presented May 20

At 8 o'clock Friday evening, May 20, the Seniors of the Bethany Township high school will present the three-act comedy, "New Fires". The play will be directed by Miss Helene Schaeffer, the sponsor of the senior class. "New Fires" is a comedy filled with idealism—the sort of idealism that is American in spirit and appropriate to present conditions.

The play itself concerns the family of Stephen Santry, a Chicago author, who realizes that his wife and children, no longer appreciate worth-while things, and so takes them to an inherited farm in the Missouri Ozarks for a week-end visit. In charge of the old farm house is Lucinda Andrew, a widow of fifty; Suzanne, her assistant, and Sid, a farm hand. These three have barely time to prepare for "the cyclone" before it arrives. There are Billy and Phillis, to whom life is a "lark"; Olive, a spoiled debutante; Dick, the eldest son who has just married Eve and expects Dad to still pay the bills and Anne, Stephen's luxury-loving wife.

Supper that evening is served. "country style", and during the meal Stephen explodes his bombshell. He informs the group that they are going to stay on the farm until such a time as he sees fit to return to Chicago, and everyone who expects to eat must work. Their amusement at the plan turns to anger when they sense his seriousness. Each one of the family faces the situation in a different way and they work out their solutions in various manners.

The cast of the play is as follows: Lucinda Andrews, a widow—Gertrude Moore.

Suzanne Toler—Helen Sporleder. Sid Sperry—Robert Strain.

Jerry, his son—George Dickson. Stephen Santry, an author—Eugene Schwartz.
