CLEAN SWEEP FOR REPUBLICANS!

Allegorical, Prophetic and Theoretical Soliloquy.

A republican avalanche came with its irresistible force last Tuesday and in the power of its might swept everything before it except a few scions of the parent democratic party that withstood its force and made a breach in the mass, a gap that may grow until the mighty mass will melt and run away in 1908 under the burning influence of some stronger power, like a mass of snow in the sunshine...

"You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink" is a true saying. But you can neither get the democrats to the polls nor make them vote, so long as David B. Hill, Grover Cleveland, and a few others, nominate a ticket without regard to the wishes of the masses of the democratic voters...

Democrats did not go to the polls and vote because they were not satisfied with either the national or state tickets, and the way they were nominated. And who can blame them?

E. A. Silver, candidate for circuit clerk, was elected by a larger majority than the last time he was elected.

A. W. Lux, candidate for states attorney, was elected by a good majority.

B. B. Haydon, candidate for surveyor, had no opposition.

LAND OF THE SETTING SUN.

Reunion of Sullivan People on the Pacific Coast.

A very interesting letter was received from Mrs. Carrie Smyser a few days ago, giving the details of a reception given her upon arrival at Los Angeles, California, Oct. 18. A surprise party composed of Moultrie county people was awaiting her coming, anxious to see some one from home.

Those present were Dr. A. L. Keller, Mr. and Mrs. James Dunoon, Mrs. Isaphora Smyser, Ida McClure, Maggie Bell, Fred Miley, Isaac Monroe, Mrs. Cora Shinn and family, Helen Smyser, Willie Smyser, and George Dunoon. This was a joyful meeting; a greeting of friends. It might be better to say that it was a sacred meeting, as all of the party was almost 80 years of age, and could not expect many more such happy reunions.

Another incident worthy of mention is, that the minister of the Christian church at that place called upon the chairman of the visiting committee, and informed her there was a late arrival from Illinois by the name of Smyser, in the city, who was a member of their church, and requested her to call. The lady, Mrs. Shaw, did so, and two persons were surprised, as the caller proved to be a sister of Mrs. Nancy Meeker, of this city. This fact made it appear as if they were old acquaintances.

CURED CONSUMPTION.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kan., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said that he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him. That was six years ago. Since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal." 25c, 50c, $1. Sold by Pate & Co.

A BIG BLAZE.

Poster & Finley Heavy Losers—Seven Horses Burned.

Between 6 and 7 o'clock Tuesday evening the livery barn just across the alley north of the opera house, belonging to S. F. Hoke, was discovered to be on fire. The flames were seen coming out through the cracks in the wooden structure, and what could be done to save the horses inside had to be done quickly. Two plucky men dashed into the burning building, and liberated several of the horses, which were dashing out of the doomed building and down the street, the last one with flaming mane and tail.

The barn was occupied by Foster & Finley, who buy and ship horses. The horses they purchase were cared for in the barn until they were ready for shipment. On the evening of the fire there were seventeen very fine horses, in fine condition and ready to be shipped the next day, were stabled in the barn.

Some of these fine horses were burned to death, including a very fine span of gray, for which they paid $500, and their carcasses could plainly be seen next morning in the debris still smoking and burning.

A lot of corn, 100 tons of hay and a lot of other feed, besides rigs, harness, and numerous other articles used in the raising of barns were also consumed.

The loss to Foster & Finley is $2,500, with no insurance. The buildings were insured for $1,500. Mr. Hoke estimates his loss at $2,500, besides his loss from damage and loss of tools belonging to his blacksmith shop, which adjoined the barn.

The barn was an old wooden structure, between the barn and the opera house was a brick blacksmith shop with a tin roof, which did much toward checking the fire. It looked for awhile as if the opera house might burn. The heat was so intense that the glass in the windows of the Masonic hall were broken, and also the windows across the street.

Occupants of the Terrace block across the street for a time were very uneasy. Frank Earp and wife live on the east end of the same block, and were in more danger than any one else. The roof of an out building caught fire at one time, but the fire was promptly extinguished. Most of their furniture was taken out and carried across the street until the smoke was over.

A large number of the town people, and quite a number of country folks who were in town to hear election returns, were at the scene of the fire, and election day was forgotten for a time in the excitement.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS

For catarrh that contains mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them.

CONSUMPTIVES.

The government in Washington has announced that in future it will not employ persons suffering from consumption. This decision has been reached by the United States civil service commission. They have established the fact that consumption is contagious and that it is dangerous to put an infected person in the same room with well people. There is no doubt of this and the civil service commission has done well to recognize it.

MOTHERS PRAISE IT.

Mothers everywhere praise One Minute Cough Cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives of the little ones it has saved. A certain cure for coughs, croup and whooping cough. A. L. Spafford, postmaster of Chester, Mich., says: "Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. One minute Cough Cure quickly relieved and cured her and I cannot praise it too highly."

DRIVERS' JOURNAL.

We have completed arrangements by which we can offer the Daily Drivers' Journal and the THE SATURDAY HERALD both one year for $4.00 to those who pay in advance.

THE CORN CROP.

Reports of Corn Crop from Different Sections of the State.

So far there has been a scarcity of corn huskers. Some predict that, as the election is now over, numbers will start out to look for work that stayed at home to vote.

Farmers all over the state are paying from 2 1/2 to 3 cents per bushel for corn huskers. At Decatur last Saturday the restaurants and loafing places were beset by farmers, trying to induce laborers to go to their farms and work, offering the same wages they were getting in town, and their board.

The farmers in many parts of the country are experimenting with the corn husking machine, which will eventually (if not this fall) prove a success, and prove to corn harvest what the self binder was to the small grain harvest. A number have been purchased at Tuscola. Two farmers living between Lovington and Arthur ordered a machine at Arthur last week, and it will soon be at work to speak for itself.

The Arthur Graphic says: "Johnson Monroe was busy last week taking Arthur farmers to David-Sanner's place, near Bethany, to see the new Dearing corn planter at work. Johnson has sold two machines, one to Sim Miller and Alva Hood and one to Briskey Bros. The machine works quite successfully, and does the work of a large force of men. It gets every ear on the stalks and strips them clean. The local machines will be here in a week or ten days, and we will get to see it work."

Lovington township farmers have been husking corn for over two weeks. The corn is yielding about 40 bushels per acre; the average from 30 to 40 bushels. Fifty bushels per acre can be scarcely reached. The quality of corn is not good. It is down, and help is had to get.

Walter Beck, of Ash Grove township, near Windsor, put in seven acres of corn last spring on nice grass sod. From one acre of this he weighed the corn, and it yielded 133 bushels and 43 pounds. A number of the ears are 14 inches in length, each. Mr. Beck has several tracts of bottom land that will yield 100 bushels to the acre. Mr. Beck moved here from Clermont county, Ohio, a few years ago, where the soil was so lacking in fertility that every time a person planted a hill of corn or beans they must, before covering the same, drop in a handful of fertilizer, for plant food.

This would seem very strange to us who have been brought up in this section of Illinois, where we have the most fertile of soils; where fertility is abused, and crops neglected. Go east and you will meet agents selling fertilizing elements, which we know nothing of. Mr. Beck, with his experience in Ohio, and the soil of Illinois, can produce corn where others would likely fail.

WEDDINGS.

FREAD-WILLOUGHBY.

Albert S. Fread, of Sullivan, and Miss Golda Willoughby, of Decatur, were married in Springfield last Saturday. It was a surprise to Scepter's mother and grandparents when he came home last Saturday and introduced the young lady as his wife, as they had no suspicion that he had any idea of becoming a benedict, and were not aware that he had formed an attachment for any of the fair sex. It is needless to say that they are an estimable young couple.

HARRIS-MILWAIN.

Claud C. Harris and Miss Mary J. Milwain were married at 6 p. m. Wednesday at the M. E. parsonage, by Rev. T. H. Tull, in the presence of a few intimate friends of the couple. They left Thursday morning for the world's fair. They will return to Sullivan Saturday. Thursday of next week they will go to Lake Villa, a suburb of Chicago, to reside.

FURRY-BRECOOR.

Married in Sullivan, Wednesday evening, Nov. 9, at the residence of James W. Mathers, Fred Furry, of Gays, and Miss Iva L. Brecoor, of Allenville, Elder Mathers officiating. Mr. Furry has been a resident of Gays about twelve years, and is now employed as a telegraph operator at the Big Four office, working of nights.

A GOOD COMPLEXION.

"Sparkling eyes and rosy cheeks restored by using DeWitt's Little Early Bitters" so writes S. P. Moore, of Nacogdoches, Tex. A certain cure for biliousness, constipation, etc. Small pill—easy to take—easy to get. Sold by all druggists.

OBITUARY.

WILLIAM COOK.

The subject of this sketch was born at Ft. Wayne, Ind., Aug. 5, 1833; died at his home two miles south of Bethany, Nov. 8, 1904, aged 71 years, 3 months and 35 days.

He came from Indiana to Illinois with his father when a mere boy, when this state was yet in its infancy, and the Indiana, deer and wild turkeys roamed over its prairies. His father entered the land on which they both lived and died, now in Marrowbone township, Moultrie county, but then in Shelby.

Mr. Cook's father was a "forty-niner," and a lucky one, bringing back acquired wealth, which he invested in real estate.

His first marriage was with Miss Mary James. To this union were born three children, namely, Mrs. Mary E. Reed, of Vicksburg, Iowa, Mrs. Harriet Bowman, of Oakford, Ill., and Mrs. Myra Wood, of Dunn, Ill., deceased. In 1861 he was the second time united in marriage, to Miss Amanda Jones. They were the parents of four children, Dennis W. Cook, Charles H. Cook, Mrs. Olive Flynn and Mrs. George Hamme, deceased.

Mr. Cook and his father erected the first saw mill in central Illinois, an old water mill on the west Ohaw river, 3 miles west of Sullivan and 5 miles south of Bethany.

Among the relics he prized was an old flat lock gun, almost as old as himself, and some pieces of the saw mill.

Mr. Cook possessed a limited education, but was well informed on current news. He was a lover of home and family, a good provider and a man to be respected.

In his pursuit of farming and stock raising he had accumulated considerable property.

He had a stroke of paralysis about two years ago, and has been an invalid since. The immediate cause of his death is attributed to old age.

Funeral services were conducted Nov. 8, at his late residence, by Rev. Sims, of Bethany. Interment at the Wilburn creek church.

JAMES M. EDMUNDS.

James M. Edmunds, a highly respected citizen of Whitley township was born Nov. 25, 1839; married Dec. 6, 1864, and died Nov. 7, 1904, aged 65 years.

He had been ailing all summer, but his death was unexpected, although he had been much worse the week previous to his death.

His marriage with Dave Hunt Dec. 6, 1864. To this union were born seven girls and two boys. All are living and married, except the three youngest children. The sons, Dudley and Ted, are the youngest members of the family, aged about 15 and 11 years, respectively.

The children were all present at the funeral, except Mrs. E. G. Armantrout, of Marne, Iowa. Mr. Edmunds had no relatives living near by, except one sister, Mrs. Sarah Smith, and the Cordas family.

Mr. Edmunds was a quiet, industrious, inoffensive man. It may be truthfully said of him that he had no enemies; no one ever entertained any feelings of enmity against him. He was a neighbor to all his acquaintances.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 p. m. Tuesday, at the Smyser church. Interment in the Armantrout addition to the church yard cemetery.

AARON DUNHEISER.

Aaron Dunheiser was born Oct. 23, 1848, in Memphis Tennessee. On July 17, 1875, he was married to Miss Mary Fielding. To this union were born four children, May, Charles, Ross and Ethel. Died at his home in Chicago, Nov. 7, 1904, aged 56 years and 9 days.

In the 70's he worked for David Pifer in his carriage factory, being a carriage trimmer and upholsterer by trade. At one time he resided in Mattoon, where he first owned a furniture store, and later was in the grocery business.

He had been in poor health for several years. At first he went south, which did not prove advantageous to his health, and he came back to Chicago, where he died four days after the paralytic stroke. Funeral services were conducted at his residence; interment at Greenwood cemetery.

MISS TODD ENTERTAINS.

Miss Bessie Todd entertained a party of Sullivan friends at her home, 1811 Lafayette avenue, Friday evening.

The guests were fellow members of the Y. Y. club, a Sullivan social organization. A very pleasant evening was spent. The visiting guests were Mesdames S. Miller, F. J. Thompson, E. Dancy, Zion Baker, Misses Flora McClain, Grace Cochran, Helen Clarke and Tess Wright.—Mattoon Star.

BEST LINIMENT ON EARTH.

Henry D. Baldwin, superintendent city water works, Shullburg, Wis. writes "I have tried many kinds of liniment, but I have never received much benefit until I used Ballard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism and pains. I think it is the best liniment on earth." 25c, 50c, $1. Sold by Pate & Co.

DIVIDENDS OF "LAURA LEIGH"

How They Were Saved by a Potato Sandwich

BY ROBERT C. McELROY.

As soon as the mail-sack was securely fastened to her back, and she felt her master's weight in the stirrup, Swinging Sarah lost no time in making her departure.

It is not to be presumed, from this daily morning burst of speed on leaving the Ouray post-office, that Tom Alderson was an unmerciful horseman.

Between the surprising intelligence of Alderson's mount and the loitering pace of Prince, the worthy pony which conveyed Miss Nellie McSwain, school-ma'am at Potot school, to and from her duties each day, there was an encounter every morning which it would be strangely humorous to attribute to that greatly overworked "hand of fate."

After she had first accepted her pedagogical duties at Potot school, Nellie McSwain had found the ride over the rough mountain trail long and monotonous, and at times depressing.

She soon discovered that this agreeable feature of the trip was not apparent on the morning when she chanced to be accompanied by Tom Alderson, bullion guard and mail-carrier for the Laura Leigh Mining and Milling Company.

Without being distinctly aware of it, this ride together over Sneffel's Road, as the trail was called, had gradually become indispensable to them both.

This morning the ride was particularly enjoyable, as it was the first day of the fall school term, after two weeks' vacation.

"I'm really glad to see the place again," said Miss McSwain, as she drew up at the stile in front of the yard.

The school-house was located conveniently at the junction of Sneffel's Road with the trail leading up to the Revenue mines on the right.

"I'm awfully glad to see you back, too," was the embarrassed response of Tom Alderson, who was far too sincere to be a graceful lover.

The girl watched him depart, realizing, with the wisdom of a woman, that nothing but the spur of unusual circumstance would ever lead Tom Alderson to speak of love.

"A hen that lays that kind of egg is a pretty valuable bird!" ejaculated Thaddeus Whipple in his office at the Laura Leigh that afternoon.

He was holding up a retort, fresh from the gold room which the shipping clerk had been hastily preparing for shipment.

"Just one more trip this month, Alderson, to get this little nugget safely in the hands of the express company, and the dividends of the Laura Leigh will stay where I put them last month."

The latter clause was added with some little show of pride, to which Manager Whipple was no doubt entitled.

He had been in charge of the mine from the beginning, and his successful development work had placed it in the front rank of new workings in the San Juan country.

He had been a little anxious this month, as the output had been seriously retarded by several mishaps to the milling machinery.

By hurried work, however, it seemed likely the month's showing could be brought up to that of the previous month, if the bullion was not delayed in its journey to the mint in Denver.

Swinging Sarah, getting out a hand to catch the horse's reins.

"What's the matter, Miss McSwain?" Alderson's self-consciousness disappeared at the sight of her agitation.

"Jake Andrews just rode down from the Revenue a few minutes ago, and said Black Jack and his gang from the Blue Hills are in this neighborhood to-day.

He thinks they are lurking about in the hills between here and Ouray. The telephone wires are out, and there are no means of communication with town."

Alderson remembered vaguely that the chief accountant had been vainly endeavoring to get central a few minutes before he left the office.

"You know the gang," she continued. "They stop at nothing—they would kill a man for five dollars."

He looked down upon her with quiet regard. "And you waited here to tell me this. It was good of you, Miss McSwain." His words conveyed the reverence he felt.

"The girl's form grew tense, and she clung fiercely to the rein. "You shan't risk it, Mr. Alderson. The cowards may be waiting down there now to pick you off. You have no right to place that gold in jeopardy!"

"The gold! How the words stung him. She was thinking only of it, and she was right. Whipple would not thank him for losing the bullion by a rash move. Yet it must reach Ouray in time for No. 5."

"You don't understand, Miss McSwain—I must get this gold to the station within an hour. It must be there!"

"Yes, but you need not go alone. Leave it with me while you go back for help—Swinging Sarah can move faster without it. I can protect it—nobody will know—it will be safe with me. Go back, for my sake, Tom."

Had he heard aright—was that his first name on her lips? He seemed to see but dimly the clinging figure, as through a mist. Then he reached down and lifted the carefully sacked retort from the saddle-bag.

"What will you do with it? Where will you keep it?" His throat was burning and he could scarcely speak.

"Here!" she cried, "my dinner-basket!"

"Good! I've no time to lose. I'm afraid I can't make it, but you shall have your way. Wait here till I come back."

Nellie McSwain stood motionless for a moment as she heard him gallop away. She looked at the white napkin over her dinner-basket, concealing its heavy load.

"What have I done?" Her first feeling was one of fear, and she was white and trembling. "He will never make it, and the gold must be there. Ah!"

The idea came to her forcibly, and for a moment unnerved her. Then came that flash; her eyes for a moment resembled Alderson's, reflecting the fearlessness of the western spirit. "I'll do it!"

The resolution calmed her. Prince no doubt felt it an injustice to carry such an unusually heavy dinner-basket at such an extraordinary pace.

And to think that his faithful service should be so far forgotten that he should be rudely stimulated with a riding-whip! Yet he was merely being urged into a simple trot, and no observer would have accused his charming rider of cruelty to her beast.

She glanced back once or twice. The sun was disappearing rapidly from view behind the treacherous path of the U. S. snow slide, and the canon was narrowing perceptibly in the gloom.

This she knew was due entirely to her imagination, and tried to maintain her courage by glancing ahead toward Mt. Abram, the last peak to release the lingering rays of the sun in the evening.

She blessed it for its kindly brilliancy as it stood, a guardian sentinel over the mining-camp of Ouray, and was glad it seemed so deceptively close.

The sudden neighing of a horse, which he recognized immediately, and which was quickly answered by Swinging Sarah, came from the mouth of the canyon.

The girl sat quietly on her horse as though waiting. Alderson was first to break the awkward silence.

"I'm glad you are safe," he said, huskily. She felt the intensity behind his words.

"Thank you—" her voice went off into a whisper, and he could not be certain she had called him "Tom."

"I found this at the watering-trough." He held out a silver case-knife. "I—I didn't know but it would be all I would ever see again that belonged to you. I was afraid—"

The girl stopped him with a subdued laugh. "That was the sandwich which I was going to feed to Black Jack and his unpleasant companions."

"Then she told him the story of her ride, and how she had delivered the bullion in time for No. 5."

"You saved the dividends of the Laura Leigh," said Alderson, laying a hand gently on Prince's mane.

They sat without speaking for a moment or two. The horses moved closely together, and Alderson was trembling with the nearness of this brave girl who he now knew was everything to him.

Over on the trail they could hear the lusty voices of the miners and townsmen, gleefully bringing the culprits to town.

"I thought for a moment you might have gone over the side of the canyon, Miss—Miss—" His voice failed.

"Would you have cared—Tom?" She was looking at him with the one look a lover always knows, and he gazed at her long and earnestly.

"Would I have cared? Nellie!" He reached over in the saddle and drew her to him.

Tom Alderson has been described as ungraceful in the art of love-making, and as Swinging Sarah and Prince rubbed noses in the moonlight, it is probable they accomplished fully as much in the matter of a caress as did their riders in the awkwardness of that first kiss.—San Francisco Argonaut.

The Return Invitation. "Please, Mrs. Subbubs, mamma says she'll be glad if you'll come to tea on Monday."

"With pleasure, Bessie. Tell your mother it's really too kind."

"Oh, no! Mamma says she'll be glad when it's over."—Chicago Journal.

ODD FACTS FOR FARM FOLK.

Tokay and Syrian Grapes Grown in Northern Idaho—All Grapes Are Over Weight When Properly Grown by Irrigation—White Flax Seed—Corn Wheat in Place of Corn.

It is a big surprise to World's Fair visitors to find that tokay grapes grow in the United States as far north as Duluth, Minn.

The remarkable things done under irrigation are portrayed by a number of states. Colorado has a relief map of the Arkansas valley.

California exhibits her products from lands worth a thousand dollars an acre. Oregon displays her beautiful fruits and grains from irrigated districts, while Idaho, her next door neighbor, won twenty gold medals on her agricultural showing.

The tokay grapes from Lewiston are only one of 62 varieties now successfully grown at that far northern point where the climate is almost as mild as Italy, for the tokay cannot flourish where the winters are cold.

Another fact not well known is that grains grown by irrigation in the dry atmosphere of the western slope of the Rocky mountains are much heavier than those grown in the east, and the yield is far greater.

A sack of oats was received at the exhibit a few days ago which was graded by one of the machines in the building and tested as to weight.

All over southern Idaho, which for the most part is a vast desert, are oases that have been made fruitful by irrigation.

The liberal provisions of the Cary Act of Congress have made possible the reclamation of these lands, the state taking over the lands and disposing of them to settlers at 50 cents an acre.

The water right is an extra cost, in some cases as low as $25 an acre for a perpetual right, the first one or two crops often paying the entire cost of a fine property.

Only a few days ago the state land board of Idaho threw open to settlement 100,000 acres of land under one canal at Twin Falls, on the south side of Snake river.

It is in Cassia county, one of the counties that touch the Nevada border. In this instance the total cost per acre is $25.50, and under the liberal terms of the Cary Act entry may be made through another person.

The payment is in easy installments. Many of the exhibits in the Idaho display are from along the Snake river, which is so named because of its sinuous course, and not because of any snakes.

The water for the Twin Falls tract, which embraces 270,000 acres, is from the Snake, and the cost of the 2,000 foot dam and the 100 miles of main canals is about $2,500,000.

A railroad is being constructed from Minidoka southward to cross the tract, which is expected to repeat the history of the Wood River Country, the Boise and Payette Valleys, and become a populous part of the state.

Idaho has the honor of showing in her agricultural display something that very few farmers have ever seen, namely, white flax seed.

This variety of flax originated in Idaho, and is said to possess great commercial possibilities, because it is richer in oil and produces a grade of very light colored oil that is far more desirable for white paint than the darker grade.

Idaho is trying to do what other mountain states are attempting, that is, to supply the home market with fruits, vegetables, meats, grains and dairy products.

The mountains contain hundreds of mining camps and settlements where everything now produced finds ready market, while the demand increases with each new mining district opened.

Corn is about the only thing that does not grow well in the irrigated deserts of southern Idaho, because the summer nights are cool, but a kind of grain is raised called corn wheat that takes the place of corn, and produces over 100 bushels to the acre.

It is worth any farmer's time to take a good look at the odd things in the Idaho display, where there are 47 varieties of wheat, 41 varieties of oats, 32 varieties of barley, and 31 varieties of grasses, to say nothing of vegetables, beans, peas, honey and other things worth having.

ILLINOIS STATE NEWS.

Kills Negro in Sister's Defense. Defending the honor of his sister-in-law, Ross Patterson, a girl 16 years of age, George Scott, colored, of Aurora, engaged in a quarrel with Lloyd D'Coursey, an Elgin negro, and in a fit of rage cut his throat with a big knife.

D'Coursey died five minutes later on his way to the St. Charles hospital in the ambulance. Scott was arrested shortly afterward and confessed to his crime, and was held to the grand jury without bail.

The girl is at Scott's home under police surveillance, detained as the principal witness.

Child Drowns in Water Jar. While within 100 feet of her father the three-year-old daughter of Durham Leach, of Macomb, was drowned in a 10-gallon jar.

The child was with its father while he was feeding the pigs and it started to the house. Returning, he was horrified to see the little one's feet sticking from the top of the jar.

She was dead when he pulled her out. It is supposed she reached into the jar to play in the water and lost her balance. There was only about seven inches of water in the jar.

Lynchers Given Limit Sentence. The state board of pardons has decided that 10 rioters, who were sentenced to the penitentiary from Vermillion county for lynching a negro in Danville 16 months ago, must serve out the longest sentence permissible under the law—that is, five years.

It was the attack of these men on the Danville jail that Sheriff Whitlock repulsed by firing on the mob and wounding several when they attempted to lynch a second negro.

Jealousy Causes Tragedy. Jealous over the supposed meeting of her husband with another woman, Mrs. Bettie Gettle shot him through the heart and then tried to kill herself at their rooms in Chicago.

Mrs. Gettle is in the county hospital near death. The doctors say her husband's injury is fatal. When the couple were taken to the hospital, although Gettle knew he was dying, he pleaded with the physicians to attend to his wife and not to mind him.

Ends Life Fighting Family. After a terrible struggle with his wife and two young children, who sought to prevent him from carrying out his design, George Geiger, a Peoria real estate dealer, succeeded in shooting himself fatally with a revolver.

The shooting occurred about six o'clock the other evening, and Geiger died within 20 minutes, suffering great agony from his injuries, the ball having struck the groin and perforated the lower intestines.

Girl Masquerades as Boy. A young girl masquerading in male attire and her companion, who claims to be her husband, have been held by the Peoria police for investigation.

The young woman is about 17 years old and gives her name as May Hanley. The young man is 21 years old and says his name is Will Hanley.

They say they came to Peoria from Tallula, Ky., and were en route to Louisville, Ky., having already shipped their baggage.

Told in a Few Lines. A Halloween celebrant in Chicago, mistaken for a thief, was shot and killed by a policeman while seeking to avoid arrest.

A man believed to have been Charles Beavens, a painter who lived in Chicago, was shot and killed by a Joliet police officer.

Myron S. Phillips, a member of the grand jury in Chicago, fell dead during a session of the jurors.

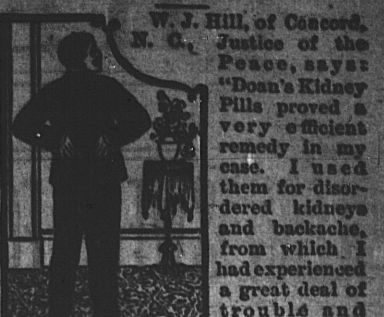

Calvin M. Favorite, of Chicago, the oldest packer in the country, has retired from active business and quit the firm of Armour & Co. He is 71 years old.

John Skala, a butcher in Chicago, shot his wife, who conducts a rival shop across the street, and then killed himself.

Forty-three persons committed suicide and 16 were murdered in Chicago during the Indian summer month, October, according to the coroner's report.

Little Helen Soderstrom, going home from kindergarten in Chicago, followed a policeman across the railway tracks in order to be safe and was killed by a train. The officer was hurrying to save a boy in front of him.

QUICK RESULTS.

W. J. Hill, of Concord, N. C., Justice of the Peace, says: "Donn's Kidney Pills proved a very efficient remedy in my case. I used them for disordered kidneys and backache, from which I had experienced a great deal of trouble and pain. The kidney secretions were very irregular, dark colored and full of sediment. The Pills cleared it all up and I have not had an ache in my back since taking the last dose. My health generally is improved a great deal."

A LITTLE VARIETY.

A student of medicine in London needs at least $500 a year for five or six years.

When widower meets widow there is nothing doing, because each one is afraid to start anything.

The Lewis and Clark exposition at Portland, Ore., has voted $40,000 for premiums for a big live-stock display.

George Clinton Payne, of Newark, N. J., 90 years old last July, still earns his living as a book canvasser, walking on an average eight miles a day to do it.

The Austrian government has sanctioned a plan for training cabmen. The Vienna Cab Proprietors' association hopes to produce thereby the ideal driver, says the Youth's Companion. Every cabman seeking a license will be obliged to pass an examination in the following subjects: The horse and how to treat it; harnessing and driving; topography of Vienna and description of interesting buildings, and politeness.

There will be a three-months' course of lessons. The men will be taught short phrases and descriptions of objects of interest, in foreign languages.

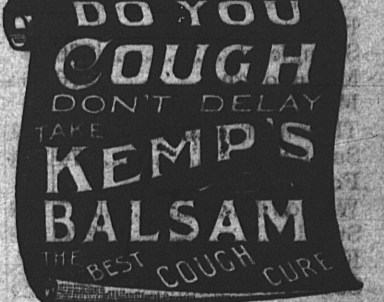

Mrs. Mary E. Meserve, of Salisbury, Mass., was cured of Anæmia, a disease in which there is an actual deficiency of the blood, by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

She says: "The first symptom was an unusual paleness. Later the blood seemed to have all left my body. I had shortness of breath and fluttering of the heart; I was depressed, morose and peevish. I suffered for two years. Physicians did me little good but I am now a well woman because I took twelve boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

These pills really make new blood and have cured obstinate cases of rheumatism, scrofula and erysipelas. They are especially useful to growing girls.

REPUBLICANS WIN AT THE BALLOT BOX

Roosevelt and Fairbanks Elected President and Vice President by Overwhelming Majority—Election Returns

New York, Nov. 9.—If Maryland has gone republican, as unofficial returns at this hour indicate, the republican vote in the electoral college will be the unprecedented one of 325 for Roosevelt and Fairbanks, to 161 for Parker and Davis.

Table showing election returns by state, including columns for State, Estimated Plurality, and Electoral Vote.

The Electoral Vote.

Table showing the electoral vote for Roosevelt and Parker across various states.

Alabama 57,500 11
Arkansas 40,000 9
Florida 35,000 7
Georgia 45,000 12
Kentucky 45,000 12
Louisiana 35,000 9

The Next Congress.

Table showing the composition of the next Congress by state, including columns for State, Rep., Dem., and Miss.g.

crats. There will be 30 republicans, 62 democrats and one prohibitionist in the house in the next general assembly, according to incomplete returns.

Indiana. Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 9.—Indiana has been carried by the republicans by from 45,000 to 55,000. The legislature will be republican by nearly 50, probably more.

Michigan. Detroit, Mich., Nov. 9.—With returns on hand from all but a few of the counties in the state and a careful estimate of the probable vote in the missing ones the Free Press places Roosevelt and Fairbanks' plurality at 142,900, and the plurality of Fred M. Warner, republican candidate for governor, at 47,945.

Wisconsin. Milwaukee, Nov. 9.—It is generally conceded that Roosevelt has carried Wisconsin by a plurality estimated at between 60,000 and 75,000. Both republican and democratic state chairmen claim the state respectively for La Follette and Peck.

Ohio. Columbus, O., Nov. 9.—The State Journal bulletins that the Ohio delegation in congress is 18 to 3, possibly 19 to 2 in congress, while the record is broken on the republican plurality in the state.

Iowa. Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 9.—The republican committee claims the state by 80,000 to 100,000. The democratic committee concedes the state to Roosevelt, with the governorship in doubt.

Nebraska. Omaha, Neb., Nov. 9.—At midnight the indications are that Roosevelt has carried Nebraska by a plurality of from 35,000 to 40,000. The republicans have elected congressmen in the First, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth districts.

North Dakota. Bismarck, N. Dak., Nov. 9.—The republican ticket has carried North Dakota by a plurality of 15,000 to 20,000. The republican ticket has carried North Dakota by a plurality of 15,000 to 20,000.

South Dakota. Pierre, S. Dak., Nov. 9.—The republican ticket has carried South Dakota by a plurality of 15,000 to 20,000. The republican ticket has carried South Dakota by a plurality of 15,000 to 20,000.

Montana. Helena, Mont., Nov. 9.—The republican ticket has carried Montana by a plurality of 15,000 to 20,000. The republican ticket has carried Montana by a plurality of 15,000 to 20,000.

Wyoming. Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 9.—The republican ticket has carried Wyoming by a plurality of 15,000 to 20,000. The republican ticket has carried Wyoming by a plurality of 15,000 to 20,000.

Illinois. Chicago, Nov. 9.—Roosevelt and Fairbanks carried Illinois in the election Tuesday by about 225,000 plurality over Parker and Davis.

Missouri. St. Louis, Nov. 9.—The republican ticket has carried Missouri by a plurality of 15,000 to 20,000. The republican ticket has carried Missouri by a plurality of 15,000 to 20,000.

Arkansas. Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 9.—The republican ticket has carried Arkansas by a plurality of 15,000 to 20,000. The republican ticket has carried Arkansas by a plurality of 15,000 to 20,000.

Minnesota. St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 9.—Returns from the larger cities of the state are coming in very slowly, but so far as received Johnson (dem.) for governor, is maintaining his lead over Dunn and running far enough ahead to insure his election by a comfortable majority.

Missouri. St. Louis, Nov. 9.—At 12:15 o'clock only scattering returns had been received from all portions of the state and the result in Missouri, both on the state and national tickets, was still deep in doubt.

Nebraska. Omaha, Neb., Nov. 9.—At midnight the indications are that Roosevelt has carried Nebraska by a plurality of from 35,000 to 40,000.

North Dakota. Bismarck, N. Dak., Nov. 9.—The republican ticket has carried North Dakota by a plurality of 15,000 to 20,000.

South Dakota. Pierre, S. Dak., Nov. 9.—The republican ticket has carried South Dakota by a plurality of 15,000 to 20,000.

Montana. Helena, Mont., Nov. 9.—The republican ticket has carried Montana by a plurality of 15,000 to 20,000.

Wyoming. Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 9.—The republican ticket has carried Wyoming by a plurality of 15,000 to 20,000.

Delaware. Dover, Del., Nov. 9.—Returns indicate that Roosevelt has carried Delaware by about 2,500 majority, and that the republicans have elected their entire state ticket by majorities a little smaller.

West Virginia. Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 9.—Roosevelt carries the state by a plurality which may reach 40,000, the plurality four years ago being 21,000.

Georgia. Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 9.—Plurality for Parker and Davis between 45,000 and 50,000. All 11 democratic congressmen elected.

Montana. Helena, Mont., Nov. 9.—Returns up to 11 o'clock indicated a gain by the republicans of over 30 per cent. over four years ago.

Wyoming. Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 9.—Returns from nearly every county in the state by pluralities of from 100 to 2,000, indicating that his plurality will not be far from 50,000.

Kentucky. Louisville, Ky., Nov. 9.—With one-third of Kentucky's 1,896 precincts reported at midnight, the vote in the state for Roosevelt is 14,000, for Parker of 12,000, and for Bryan of 1,000.

CUBAN CONGRESS.

Session Begins in Havana—Extracts from Message of President Palma.

Havana, Nov. 8.—The winter session of congress opened Monday promisingly.

The president called attention to the fact that the Platt amendment would not permit Cuba to incur debt unless the ordinary receipts of the treasury were sufficient to pay off the sinking fund and interest, adding that as the present sources above the ordinary expenses are practically absorbed by the first loan, Cuba cannot create a new loan except through increasing taxes.

President Palma called attention to Cuba's responsibility under the Platt amendment for proper sanitation throughout the island and stated that the executive department must assume general charge of all sanitation in order to secure uniform and effective results.

The president reported that health conditions were as satisfactory as last year, with the exception that there had been a number of cases of diphtheria in certain localities in the province of Santiago, which disappeared as the result of special sanitary measures.

President Palma submitted the budget of expenses for next year, amounting to $19,000,000, of which he proposed to devote $2,500,000 for the construction of new roads and bridges.

The president congratulated congress upon the country's tranquility, which he attributes to the patriotism and confidence of the people in the government, and which has attracted an influx of capital that is developing Cuba's resources and industries.

The president compliments the military establishment and the various government departments, especially referring to the public works, the state and the educational departments.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 8.—In an order issued Monday afternoon, Mack Taylor, president of the hoisting engineers' union of Illinois, declares the strike of the hoisting engineers off in obedience to a referendum vote, which resulted 750 to 315 in favor of returning to work.

Elaborate Rites Attend Obsequies of Cincinnati Prelate—Cardinal Gibbons Pronounces Absolution.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 9.—The funeral of Archbishop William H. Elder, at St. Peter's cathedral in this city Tuesday, was impressive and elaborate.

Equalled the Record. Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 9.—With all that faultless stride which characterized her 1903 speed trials Lou Dillon, the recently dethroned queen of the trotting world, was driven by Millard Sanders a mile in 2:01 1/4 Tuesday, thereby equaling the record recently established by Major Delmar for the distance, without the aid of a pacemaker or windshield in front.

URGES FOES TO YIELD.

Nogi Sends Message to Soldiers in Port Arthur Advising Surrender.

London, Nov. 9.—Gen. Nogi, taking Gen. Stoessel at his word when he declared that Port Arthur would not be surrendered as long as there were men enough in the Russian garrison to serve the guns, has made direct overtures to the Russian soldiers, using a Muscovite prisoner as a messenger.

Unofficial reports from Tokio state that the siege is progressing slowly but satisfactorily. The Japanese have come to the conclusion that the capture of Rihlung and Keekwan mountains is not sufficient to force the abandonment of the city, and now plan to storm Antse and Eise mountains as well.

A story comes from Shanghai that a Japanese man-of-war has been sunk off Port Arthur by a mine. Evidently this refers to the battleship Yashima. A Paris dispatch from Tokio last week stated that the Japanese at last admitted the loss of this vessel, which went down in June.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 9.—A report is circulated here that Gen. Stoessel has been compelled to leave the citadel of Port Arthur with 10,000 men and has taken refuge in the forts along Tiger's Tail. The report is denied in official circles. Piteous appeals arrive from the front asking for warm clothing and fuel.

NO THIRD TERM.

President Roosevelt Announces that He Will Not Again Be a Candidate.

Washington, Nov. 9.—President Roosevelt, after the election returns clearly indicated the result, issued the following statement: "I am deeply sensible of the honor done me by the American people in thus expressing their confidence in what I have done and have tried to do. I appreciate to the full the solemn responsibility this confidence imposes upon me, and I shall do all that in my power lies not to forfeit it.

Detroit, Nov. 7.—Edward Howard, a pattern maker living at 501 1/2 street, east, was shot and instantly killed Sunday by his son Arthur, aged 21 years, while the elder man had his wife and daughter pinned to the floor by their throats. He had been drinking and had quarreled with Mrs. Howard because she would not give him more money. The shooting, it is claimed by the son and mother, was accidental.

A HUNDRED DROWNED.

French Vessel Gironde Goes Down After a Collision with Algerians.

Bona, Algeria, Nov. 5.—A hundred persons were drowned Thursday by the sinking of the French steamer Gironde, after having been in collision with the French steamer A. Schianno, near Herbillon, 23 miles from Bona. The Gironde left Bona with 110 passengers, of whom 100 were Algerian natives.

Heavy Loss by Fire.

Oil City, Pa., Nov. 8.—The Smart & Silberberg three-story brick block, corner of Center and Elm streets, was completely gutted by fire Monday night. The firm's losses are $50,000 on the building and $150,000 on stock. George J. Veatch, art dealer, has a loss of $35,000 and the Petroleum Telephone company has a loss of $20,000 on their central offices. The other losses bring the total up to $275,000 with an insurance of about one-third.

Scalded to Death.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 9.—One man is dead and two others are seriously scalded as a result of an explosion Tuesday in the boiler room of the tug Warnick, of Toledo, as she lay at the plant of the Great Lakes Engineering Works in Ecorse. Clarence Corey, aged 23, of Toledo, is dead, and Louis Varin and George Morse, also of Toledo, were seriously scalded.

FRANK HANLY, Governor-Elect of Indiana.

CHARLES S. DENEEN, Governor-Elect of Illinois.

Indicate that Roosevelt's plurality will be 125,000 and the entire state ticket will have about the same number. Republicans elect ten congressmen with the chance that the second district has, which is in doubt, but will all go republican. Wade (dem.); however, seems to be holding his own with the vote of 1902, when he carried the district by 1,500.

Pennsylvania. Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—Estimates from the entire state gives Roosevelt a plurality in Pennsylvania of between 390,000 and 400,000. In Philadelphia Roosevelt's plurality will exceed 175,000.

Maryland. Baltimore, Md., Nov. 9.—The Sun, which supported the democratic presidential nominee, concedes at 2:30 a. m. that Roosevelt carried the state by about 1,000.

Massachusetts. Boston, Nov. 9.—Although the republicans carried Massachusetts for President Roosevelt in Tuesday's election by 82,000 plurality, they lost the governorship for the first time since 1892, William L. Douglas, of Brockton, defeating Gov. John L. Bates, of this city, by about 25,000 plurality. The balance of the republican state ticket is claimed by the republican state committee. The democrats lost the Third district and the delegation to the next congress will stand 11 republicans to three democrats.

Kansas. Topeka, Kan., Nov. 9.—Returns at hand show that Roosevelt has carried Kansas by a majority closely approaching 100,000. E. W. Hoch is elected governor by the republicans by a plurality of 55,000 or more. The legislature, which may have to elect a United States senator, will be overwhelmingly republican. The eight members of congress from this state are all republicans. Con-

SOME people are continually looking for soft snaps—waiting for something easy.

We find men employed in shops, who take special pains never to get to work ahead of time or work over time.

When they approach the paymaster, he says "thank you" to his faithful help, as he hands over the wages.

Many a boy has left the old folks at home to die alone, while he went to the city for a soft snap, expecting to be a millionaire or reach fame.

We are gradually getting away from the heresy that money is all there is in this life.

THE "reorganized, safe and sane democracy" may be all right in theory, but in practical politics it takes votes to win elections.

GAVEL and gag rule doesn't seem to take well with the rank and file of the democratic party.

BY the way, who was the original Parker man in Moultrie county?

It is now up to the "reorganizers" to explain how it all happened.

EVERY man is responsible for his influence, let it be great or small.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

Special Report of Live Chicago Cattle to The Herald.

Union Stock Yards, Nov. 8, 1904.

The demand most of the week for the good to choice cattle was exceptionally strong.

Sales of the week included over 1 lot of choice cattle at $7.00, but nothing sold above that price.

Notwithstanding that they have forced more than a dollar break in good hog values, pickers claim that prices are still too high.

Sheep and lambs met with a strong inquiry this week as the appended quotations amply afford the best evidence.

Table with columns for CATTLE, HOGS, and SHEEP/LAMBS, listing various grades and prices.

RESULT OF THE STRIKE.

The strike of the coal hoisting engineers of Illinois has resulted just as was to have been expected from the beginning.

The strike was ludicrous in some of its aspects and tragic in others. With all the persistent refusals to concede anything, the officials claimed to "have done everything that can be done to bring about a settlement."

I take this method of extending my sincere thanks to my friends in East Nelson, Dora and Lowe townships, who gave me their support in the election Nov. 8.—T. F. HANSEN.

Elder Oliphant, of Indiana, will be present, and other ministers are expected. Meetings will, probably, be continued from day to day throughout the week. All are cordially invited to attend.

"The best curfew ordinance," says a gentleman who is the father of a household of troublesome young hopefuls, "is one that is adopted in each family, where the 'old man' acts as mayor, city council, night watch, and calaboose keeper; where fines and punishments go together, and where a good hickory is to be wielded more than much lobby pop."

There will be a basket supper at the village of Bruce in the school house the evening of the 18th. A fine red pig will be given to the handsomest pig present. This is unfair and growing monotonous; why not reverse it, of leap years and offer the premiums to the homeliest girl, and something nice for the most popular, pretty and attractive gentleman.

FIRE DEPARTMENT NEEDED.
It was again forcibly demonstrated at the fire Tuesday night that Sullivan is sadly in need of a well organized and well drilled fire company. The volunteers did good work after they got started but the lack of organization and discipline was very noticeable. The city should buy another hose cart and more hose and no doubt there would be plenty of volunteers to organize two good companies of fire fighters.

THANKS THE FIRE FIGHTERS.
I wish to express my gratitude to those who so willingly came to my assistance at the recent fire and worked so hard to save my property. Owing to their efforts a more destructive fire was prevented and I most heartily extend thanks to all.

A SAD STORY.

Clint Osborne has filed a bill for divorce against his wife Dora B. Osborne. Mrs. Osborne is the oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Layton of East Nelson township. Mrs. Osborne has been very unfortunate, and her friends regret that it has been necessary to send her to the insane asylum several times. Dora was an unusually bright and attractive child; as a student apt and diligent, few excelling her in her school studies or in music.

When young she had a severe spell of brain fever, and from that time was afflicted with hemorrhage of the nose. A few years ago she married Clint Osborne and became the mother of several bright children. The worry over a sick child unbalanced her mind, and she was again committed to the asylum about two years ago, returning last spring in good health, and made her home with her parents.

THOUSANDS CURED.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has cured thousands of cases of piles. "I bought a box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve on the recommendation of our druggist," so writes C. H. LeCroix, of Zavalla, Tex., "and used it for a stubborn case of piles. It cured me permanently." Sold by all druggists.

MAN AND THE HORSE.

Animal Conquest Marked One of the Epochs in Civilization.

The conquest of the horse by man and its final utilization for all purposes which are discharged by steam and electricity today marked one of the great turning points in the history of civilization. In the great earth and sand preglacial deposits of Europe the true wild horse is as widespread, though not as varied, as in America. It is not at this stage associated with the remains of man, because no preglacial man except the pithecanthropus or trinit man of Java has been found. In the interglacial or postglacial period the remains of man and the horse are first found together. The first association occurs in the middle of the paleolithic or rough implement period. The discovery of all the possible uses of the horse came very gradually, however, for there is abundant proof that man first hunted and ate, then drove and finally rode the animal.

The prevailing drawings of the paleolithic horse represent him as hog maned, with no forelock to conceal the low bred Roman nose. A second type in the Mouths cave, a bearded horse with long, bristling mane, long ears and convex forehead, is regarded by M. Riviere as another species. But it is not clear to my mind that these drawings represent more than the summer and winter coats of the same animal. Besides these Roman nosed types, to which Swart traces the modern cart horse, there are others with small heads and flat noses, which Swart associates with the Celtic pony and possibly with the origin of the thoroughbred. Other cave drawings, reproduced by M. Capitan, leave little doubt that the ass was known in Europe. It is also certain from abundant evidence in the caves of France that there was a larger horse toward the south perhaps, while the smaller breeds may have frequented the colder northern regions.—Optery.

BARGAIN RATES.

On November 23 round trip tickets will be sold via M. K. & T. Ry., from St. Louis, Kansas City, Hannibal, and other Missouri and Kansas points to Indian Territory, Oklahoma, and central and eastern Texas, at $15.00.

The Southwest is inviting. The crops are good; conditions and prospects were never more favorable. Indian Territory, Oklahoma and Texas are in need of more people and offer plenty of opportunities for the investment of capital and labor.

KATY TALKS.

There is quality in railway travel as in everything else. Track, trains and time are the essentials. The M. K. & T. Ry. has that quality. I want you to know of it, try it and be convinced.

At this time of the year you are probably thinking about a winter trip. I'd suggest the Gulf Coast of Texas, San Antonio, Old Mexico or California, as being about as nearly perfect as climate and environment can make them. I have some very attractive literature about these resorts that I'd like to send you. May I? I'd rather talk to you, but if this is impossible, drop me a line and I'll be pleased to give you all the desired information. There are some special inducements too in the way of rates and through. Easy sleepers that I'd like you to know about. Address

FATHER KEEPS CALLERS MOVING

MOVES HIS BED INTO PARLOR AND PREPARES TO UNDRESS.

THEN THE COMPANY GOES

New York Girl Appeals to the Courts to Stop Action of Her Unruly Parent—A Cupid Discourager.

New York.—Miss Regina Greenhouse, a pretty black-eyed girl of 19, declares that as a discourager of Cupid her father, Nathan, is even "beyond the limit." When young men call at the cozy parlor of the Greenhouse home, No. 36 Montgomery street, her father lies in bed upstairs and shouts "it's late." If this gentle hint is not taken various degrees of persuasion adopted by Nathan to free the parlor are most remarkable. They consist in pushing his bed into the parlor and preparing to undress for the night.

Mrs. Rosie Greenhouse sympathizes with her daughter, and in an action just commenced for a separation from her husband she complains that he will not let her daughter's friends call in peace and comfort. Both mother and daughter present affidavits that Greenhouse is cruel and inhuman in his conduct.

"He gets uneasy the minute he hears the bell ring," said Regina, in discussing her sad state, "and he peres over the stair railing to see who it is."

"When I am asking a caller to be seated one can hear him upstairs saying, 'O, that's Mr. So and So; what's he doing here? Can't he find another place where there is light and warmth?'"

"Before 9 o'clock he shouts out, 'It's late,' and keeps it up. Leaning over the stair railing or lying in bed he will keep repeating, 'Regina, it's late.'"

"If this does not drive off the caller he will come downstairs and walk into the room and turn off the gas, leaving my caller sitting with me in the darkness. If I turn the gas on he turns it off again."

"Turning off the gas usually discourages me, but if I persist in entertaining after he turns off the gas he rolls his bed into the parlor and prepares to undress. This is too much for anyone, and I have to bid my caller good night."

CANNIBALS DEVOUR EIGHT MEN AND WOMEN

All of the Crew But One of a French Ship Slaughtered by Savages.

Paris.—The last number of the France Australe publishes the account given by M. Blandinier, captain of the French sailing vessel Julia, of a horrible drama which took place on board the coasting ship Petrel, at Ditarara, in the island of Aureore, in the archipelago of the New Hebrides.

According to the captain, he was aroused by a signal of distress coming from the Petrel, and on approaching that vessel found that of a crew of nine persons only one, a native, was alive, while the bridge and the captain's cabin were covered with blood, giving evidence of a terrible struggle. The lone survivor explained how a few days before they were attacked by a band of cannibal natives, who killed the captain and two women on board with hatchets and then assaulted and murdered all the other members of the crew when they returned from a fishing expedition.

It is the opinion of the Julia's captain that the bodies of the murdered people were eaten afterward by the cannibal population, as no trace of them could be found. It is expected that a punitive expedition will be sent by the French government against the natives.

Cow Dashed Into the House.

Wooster, O.—As a neighbor's cow was being driven past the home of John Swank a bulldog attacked her, and secured a strange hold on an ear. Unable to shake off the dog, the cow became frantic and dashed into the house. There is charged about in its effort to shake off the dog till the furniture was all demolished and the room frescoed with blood. When the owner of the dog finally arrived and called him off the cow was almost dead.

Unlucky Thirteen.

Summit, N. J.—As Mrs. Charlotte O'Connor was talking with a neighbor at her home in Summit avenue and sipping a cup of tea she suddenly gave a cry of pain and dropped unconscious from the chair. When the physician arrived she was dead from heart disease. She was one of a club whose membership has always been kept at 13.

THIRTEEN AT TABLE; ONE DIES SUDDENLY.

County Commissioner Charles Brewer Recalled the Superstition—Heart Disease Fatal to Him.

Meriden, Conn.—County Commissioner Charles Brewer, who was one of the most popular men in the state, was the chief guest at a dinner here. He seemed to be in fine health and certainly was in good spirits and the life of the dinner until it was half over. Then he discovered that 13 persons were at the table.

"I'm not very superstitious," said Mr. Brewer laughingly, "but I do believe that if 13 sit down to table something unlucky will happen to one of them, and I would not have sat down had I known I would be the thirteenth here." Mr. Brewer's mood changed; from being lively he grew grave, at which one of the diners exclaimed:

"Cheer up, Brewer! Here's a charm or a charm against bad luck."

Calling a pretty waitress, he coaxed her to eat at the board.

"I'm afraid it's too late," said Mr. Brewer, but he did cheer up, and the dinner ended merrily.

This is related only because Mr. Brewer died very suddenly at his home in Waterbury the next morning. He was only 48 years old. When he retired at night he appeared to be in perfect health. The physicians say he died of heart disease.

A MODERN COMEDY OF ERRORS AND LOVE.

A Pair of Belgian Elopers Worry the Police of Four European Nations.

Charleroi, Belgium.—An extraordinary elopement has been occupying the police of four nations of late and has ended in the most unexpected manner.

A young man named Charles Robert eloped last August from this place with Mlle. Berthe Poinboef, a daughter of a local police magistrate. The young man left behind him a note saying he was taking with him a sum equivalent to $10,000, and that he and Mlle. Poinboef were going to London to be married, after which they would commit suicide.

A week after her daughter's departure Mme. Poinboef received a postal card from her from London bearing the one word, "Farewell." M. Poinboef set off at once for London to advise Scotland Yard, but no trace of the young people was to be found in London. He rushed over to Paris and set the French police to work, but there, also, met with no success.

Next, the grief-stricken parents received a notice from Marseilles that the bodies of the young people had been picked up in the harbor. M. Poinboef hurried to that city and identified one of the corpses as that of his daughter. He obtained permission of the authorities to remove the bodies to Charleroi, and this he did, arriving there with the coffins a day or two ago.

Upon reaching home, however, he was handed a telegram from the German police saying the young people had been traced to a little village near Lake Constance. A relative promptly went there and had no difficulty in recognizing Charles Robert and his bride.

Meanwhile, the bodies of the Marseilles suicides are at Charleroi awaiting their formalities for being sent back to the French port for burial.

Snakes in Cabbage.

Sioux City, Ia.—There is sorrow hereabout, for the lateness of the frost has made the sauerkraut crop a failure, and the Dutch centers refuse to be comforted. It was the largest ever raised in the state.

After the unprecedented yield of cabbage had been minted it was discovered that little, slimy, white snakes were all through the kraut. Some of them are a foot long.

Prof. H. F. Sumners, state entomologist, being appealed to, declared the sauerkraut snake harmless. But folks at Mount Ayr, Kellerton and Truro, who didn't think he knew, ate some of the snake kraut and triumphantly became very sick. The snakes are very slender, not often so large as a match and the longest 12 inches.

She Spanked Her Husband.

Hoboken, N. J.—A large and angry woman who came from Easton, Pa., told the police that her husband, Samuel Brown, had deserted her and fled here. She asked the officers to find him.

She had last seen him a week ago when he came home with too much hard cider aboard, and she, after her usual custom, placed him across her lap and inflicted a sound spanking.

He left the house immediately and she has had no word from him since. A friend told her he had started for Hoboken.

A STEEPLE JACK LOSES HIS NERVE

TAKEN OUT OF HIM WHEN ARRESTED ON LARCENY CHARGE.

ON TOP OF A HIGH SPIRE.

When Policeman Went to Arrest Him He Was Informed of His Trouble Through a Megaphone—Then Finished Job.

Brooklyn.—J. William Fletcher, who calls himself the "original steeple jack of New York," and who has worked calmly at the top of the highest flagpoles and steeples in this city without flinching, lost his nerve completely in the Tombs court, Manhattan, when he was called to face a charge of larceny before Magistrate Mayo, preferred by his partner, William J. Wessell, who claimed that Fletcher had collected $50 and neglected to tell of it.

Fletcher, who had spent a night in the prison, collapsed soon after being brought into court, and the treatment of a physician was necessary to restore him sufficiently to enable him to be arraigned, when he was held in $1,000 for examination on Monday.

Fletcher fixed a steeple for a church in Sag Harbor, L. I., collecting $50 on account, Wessell alleges, and when the latter learned of it he procured a warrant for his partner's arrest. The warrant was given to Detective Sergeant Jackson to serve and he went to Sag Harbor, where Fletcher was working, to serve it.

On his arrival at Sag Harbor the detective found the man he wanted, but he was at the top of a 300 foot high steeple.

"Did you go up after him?" asked the court, with a smile.

"No," was the reply, "I didn't. I got a megaphone and yelled to him that I had a warrant to serve on him. When I told him what it was, he said he'd come down as soon as he finished the job, so I waited for him."

"He came down after a while, all right," continued the detective, "and said that he could explain the matter all right if he could see Wessell. He couldn't be found in New York when we got back, so I locked the prisoner up."

When the prisoner was led into court he looked a physical wreck.

"My nerve is all gone," he said, as he fell into a seat. "I have been on the top of the highest steeples in the country, but never till now did I know the meaning of nerves. Now I'm down and out. One night in prison has knocked me out for the rest of my life, I fear."

Mrs. Fletcher was in court, and when she ran to his side and kissed him, he sank to the floor, crying feebly:

"My dear little wife, where have you been; where have you been?"

Mrs. Fletcher told Magistrate Mayo that she only learned that morning of her husband's predicament. She said that she was interested in the partnership between him and Mr. Wessell, inasmuch as she had gotten most of the contracts for work. The day before, she said, he got a $500 job for repairing a steeple in another Long Island town. She was there when her husband was arrested.

Ball was furnished by a friend and he walked out of the court room with some of his old-time vigor.

"His nerve is gone now," said his wife, "but soon, with good food and a good rest and nursing he'll be all right."

An Amusing Game.

Paris.—Edw. J. Somber, of Boston, made the acquaintance of three Englishmen in his hotel and visited the sights of Paris with them in the evening. The quartette passed the time in a private room in a cafe, when an amusing game was proposed, the humor lying in the fact that all placed their money in their hats, which were collected by one of the friends, who promptly departed. The others in turn went to look for the former, leaving Somber alone. Somber's pocketbook contained nearly $2,800. He has not seen the three friends since.

Quits Young Wife for Her Sister.

Atlanta.—Deserting his wife and pretty little baby girl, A. S. Daniel eloped with Miss Lizzie Eaton, of Huntsville, Ala., the 17-year-old sister of his wife.

Mrs. Daniel has received a letter from her husband conveying intelligence to the effect that he and Miss Eaton had decided to elope. The communication was written in a businesslike manner. The writer coolly stated that he and his sister-in-law were deeply in love and that they had deliberately decided upon taking the step before them.

MAN SHOCKED TO DEATH IN ELECTRIFIED HOUSE

Dwelling Becomes Huge Leyden Jar and Many Persons Are Laid Low.

Geneva.—Electricity has been the cause of an extraordinary series of accidents at a Geneva dwelling on the Route de Lyon.

The first victim was Charles Girod, a baker, who arrived with the bread in the morning. He was passing the loaves through the bars of the kitchen window, when he uttered a terrible cry and fell to the ground in agony. Soon afterward he died.

Police were called, and the concierge of the house, in explaining the affair to them, passed his arm through the window, when he also was struck to the ground by a severe electric shock. Several persons who went to help him all received severe shocks, and for some time were unable to move him.

The mistress of the house then tried to call a doctor by telephone, but received a shock which rendered her unconscious, while a servant who ran to draw some water at the tap had her fingers badly burned by electricity.

In some way the house had become powerfully charged with electricity, and was, in fact, a huge Leyden jar. The current is supposed to have leaked from the tramway or lighting cables.

BEARS INVADE TOWN; KILL HORSE AND PIGS.

Residents of Bellefonte, Pa., Are Terrorized by Such an Unusual Visitation.

Bellefonte, Pa.—Ten bears invaded this town and after killing one horse, several pigs, and spreading terror among live stock generally, started through the Main streets, routed the crowds in several stores, and wound up by besieging 20 or more inhabitants in a yard of one of the suburbs.

The approach of the bears, which were of the large brown variety, was heralded by a herd of cows that had been driven along by the bears. The lowing of the cattle attracted the attention of farmers, some of whom made a rush for shotguns or whatever weapon was most handy.

In the meantime the bears stopped long enough on the outskirts of Bellefonte to devour several pigs. The bears then pursued their way leisurely to town.

The bears stopped in front of a millinery store, and with wild shrieks the women attendants fled, leaving the latest creations in Paris headgear to the mercy of ruin.

From Bellefonte the bears proceeded to Farrisville, a suburb of Bellefonte, where an unsuccessful attempt was made by a party of farmers to stop them. With loud snorts, they turned on the farmers, who fled. The bears made no effort to follow, but turned their attention to a horse which had been left tied to a fence in a yard. The farmers fired, but not before the bears had despatched the horse. Three bears were killed by the volley, and the others, losing courage by the unexpected attack, fled back to the mountain ridges.

A STRINGENT LAW TO GOVERN THE BARBERS

Must Wash Hands Frequently and Not Drink—A Retaliation Scheme.

Cresco, Ia.—Among the new ordinances adopted by the city council is one governing barbers, which the knights of the razor are strenuously objecting to on the grounds that too much dictation as to the methods of conducting their business is indulged in by the city fathers.

Under the new ordinance every barber must wash his hands before he commences work on a customer. Two clean towels must be used on each person and the barber must not blow his breath on the razor he is using. Among the other rules is that of sobriety. The barber is strictly forbidden to drink intoxicating liquor at any time during business hours.

The penalty for disobeying the ordinance is a fine of from $10 to $100.

The barbers intend to form a local union at Cresco and have the council to amend the ordinance to make it a misdemeanor for a customer to ask a barber for credit.

Act as Guard Against Burglars.

New Martinsville, W. Va.—Burglars attempted to effect an entrance to the home of Joseph Byne, at Little, W. Va., recently, and in prying open the window alarmed a flock of peacocks in the rear yard.

Immediately the night was filled with a concert of wild cries from the flock. The four marauders, in fright fled to the woods. Byne fired on them but failed to bring any of them down.

WISHED TO MAKE SURE OF WEDDING

PENNSYLVANIA GIRL TOOK NO CHANCES ON BRIDEGROOM.

TIED UP WITH CLOTHESLINE

Kept Him in That Condition Over Night So as to Be Sure of His Presence at the Appointment Hour.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Bound hand and foot with a clothesline, the tying of the knots in which had been supervised personally by the girl he was to marry in the morning, Steve Yarsko, of Allegheny, passed the last night of his bachelor life a helpless prisoner in the home of Annie Zokart, his intended. The girl herself set him free in the morning, half an hour before the time set for their wedding, and Yarsko followed her so humbly to the altar that when the service reached the "love, honor and obey" clause he almost took the last word out of the bride's mouth.

Annie Zokart lives in Allegheny. She is a Slav, and, as Yarsko now knows well, is possessed of her full share of the determination characteristic of her race. Her engagement to Yarsko was announced several weeks ago, and preparations for the wedding had been made on such an extensive scale that all the Slav colony was looking forward to the event.

Alleise being ready, Annie gave Yarsko $50 in the afternoon with which to purchase refreshments for the guests. He started out on his errand with all a lover's alacrity, but unfortunately his way led him past a saloon, and almost before he knew it he was taking the refreshments himself. He soon had taken enough to suggest the brilliant idea of having a bachelor party on his own account, and as he circulated from saloon to saloon the number of his guests grew with startling rapidity.

Annie became a little anxious about his prolonged absence, but when one of Yarsko's fellow boarders came to her house and told her of the royal time her suitor was having on her money the worried look left her face and in its place there came an ominous tightening of the lips. Yarsko, she was told, was confiding to half the town that he did not intend to marry her after all, and Annie, muttering the Slav equivalent of "He can take another guess," hurried off to the police station. There she confided her trouble to the sergeant, who asked her what she wanted done.

"I want that man to marry me, and I want you to see that he does it," was the firm reply.

It was decided that the best course would be to place a watch over the recreant bridegroom, and a policeman was detailed for the task. He found Yarsko in a saloon, and, with a subtle sense of fitting the punishment to the crime, took him to Miss Zokart's house to exhibit him. Miss Zokart saw him, but still said she meant to marry him, and to make sure that there should be no further slip in her plans she brought out a stout length of clothesline.

In spite of Yarsko's protests he was bound securely, and it was not until the girl had satisfied herself that every knot was well tied that she left him in the policeman's care and went to bed.

Yarsko was a sorry man when she came to release him, but Annie freed him from his bonds with such tender care and with such tactful silence as to the night before that he vowed he had never loved her so well before.

Wild Drive with Dead Grandfather.

Jackson, Mich.—Mrs. John Reynolds, 21 years of age, drove from her home in Summit township to this city with the body of her grandfather in her carriage. William Purdy, the grandfather, 87 years of age, and an old resident, had been visiting his daughter at her farmhouse. In the afternoon she hitched up the family horse and with her seven-month-old babe started with her grandfather for the city. When a short distance from home the old man dropped back in the buggy and died almost instantly.

Bryn Mawr Girls Run Grocery.

Bryn Mawr, Pa.—The girls of aristocratic Bryn Mawr college, recently warned against flirting "like blowsy English housemaids," have opened a grocery. The stock consists largely of the sweets that delight the palate of the college girl. The proceeds will be devoted to a fund for a new library. The girls organized it themselves, and they are its principal customers.

YOUTH HAS MANIA FOR WINNING GIRLS' HEARTS.

Lucas American Becomes Engaged to Four Young Women in Switzerland.

Geneva.—While making an educational tour in Europe a young American, the son of a well-known San Francisco, succeeded in becoming engaged to no fewer than four of his countrywomen since the beginning of last May.

He arrived at Chamonix in that month and while descending the Brevent had a fall, receiving a bad wound in the head.

It is thought that his brain was affected, for hardly had he recovered when he started making violent love to an American girl staying at the same hotel, to whom he proposed and by whom he was accepted.

One day he suddenly left without giving any reason, and repeated the same maneuvers at Lucerne, Interlaken and other places. He arrived at Geneva some days ago with one of his fiancées and her mother, and on Saturday a crisis was reached when the "Chamonix girl" and her father came to the same hotel by chance.

The young American, in a stormy interview with the jilted girl's father, calmly announced that he was engaged to only four girls and in correspondence with as many more with a view to marriage. His strange conversation plainly showed his interviewer that the young man was not responsible for his actions, and his father, who is staying in London, was telegraphed for.

The little girls, instead of being angry, seem rather to enjoy the comedy, and they and their parents are still at Geneva.

HORNETS STOPPED THE GAME OF FOOTBALL.

An Army and Navy Contest at Philadelphia Ended by the Infuriated Insects.

Philadelphia.—Angry hornets, whose nest was accidentally demolished by a football during a game between jacksies and marines at League Island, attacked and dispersed the players, stinging five so badly that they were obliged to have their wounds treated at the dispensary.

A moment after the nest, which hung on the low limb of a willow tree near the sailors' barracks, was struck, a fierce battle between hornets and the young marine sports ensued. With caps, coats and pads the players attempted to defend themselves, but they could not stand long against the fury of the enemy.

Capt. Gourley Remington of the sailors' team was swirling a coat about his head when he was stung on the back of the neck. "It felt as if someone had poured hot lead on me," he said, "and I quit right there."

Halfback Magee of the marines was stung on the chin and the injury swelled up as large as a plum. Three other men were stung in quick succession and a retreat followed that wound up at the dispensary.

The hornets were not satisfied with driving the sailors and jacksies off the field, but followed them a quarter of a mile in the direction of the marine barracks.

Several of the injured players tried to allay the pain of the sting themselves by plastering the wounded part with mud. But this remedy proving ineffective, they later repaired to the dispensary.

A RAILROAD FIREMAN SWEARS AT UNDERTAKER

An Ohio Man Set Up and Cursed When the Embalming Needle Pricked Him.

Newcastle, Pa.—J. Chalmers Fox, a railroad brakeman whose home is in Ohio, is now at home with his family, and an undertaker in this town has not yet got over the fright which Fox gave him.

Fox was leaning from the window of his engine while crossing the Perrysburg bridge, and he was struck by some of the timbers and rendered unconscious. His body was dragged half from the engine cab, and he hung face downward. Every one thought he was dead, and when an undertaker from the lower part of town took charge of the body he rushed it to his rooms and stripped the "corpse" for embalming.

As he was about to put the embalming needle into the white flesh the arm of Fox gave a twitch and the undertaker's assistant fled in terror. Fox soon came to entirely, and he swore roundly at the undertaker. The injured brakeman was taken to his home in Ohio, where he will recover.

THE USE OF FACE POWDERS

They Contain Harmful as Well as Harmless Substances to Some Skins.

I propose to say a few words on the influence of powders in the making and in the marring of the complexion. As a matter of fact, owing to the manner in which these cosmetics are abused, the general tendency is to mar rather than to make, although the immediate effect may be both satisfactory and pleasing. The great mistake that is generally made is that these so-called aids to beauty are used indiscriminately and irrespectively of the idiosyncrasies and peculiarities of the skin to which they are applied. It must be remembered that the basis of the great majority of powders is starch—a substance which in itself is harmless. It has, however, drying properties, and therefore should not be used thoughtlessly when the skin is naturally dry. And, further than this, it should not be forgotten that starch is not soluble in either hot or cold water, and, therefore, cannot be removed from the pores and interstices of the skin by the ordinary methods of washing. In fact, it not infrequently happens that, owing to this difficulty in removing it after it has once been applied, certain of the pores of the skin become blocked and ultimately result in blackheads or even in boils. The most common addition to the powders of which the basis is starch, is borax or boracic acid. These substances, again, are comparatively harmless, are soluble in water, and act as mild antiseptics, but, like starch, they also have drying properties, and hence should not be lavishly used unless the skin is naturally moist. For greasy skins they are particularly useful.

Among the more harmful substances which are added to these powders are zinc oxide and certain preparations of bismuth. These salts, though particularly soothing to irritated skins, have disadvantages which it is worth while to remember. Both of them, when applied to greasy skins, are apt to turn a somewhat greyish blue hue which presents the ghastly appearance with which we are so familiar in the case of skins which have been enamelled for a considerable period of time.

FRAMES MADE OF WILLOW.

A New Fad Which Has Already Taken Eastern Lovers of Dainty Novelties by Storm.

Picture framing as an art has never been made so much of a study as at present. It is no longer only artists of the brush who recognize the value of an artistic frame, which shall be in harmony with the picture which it incloses. There certainly seems no excuse in this day of wide variety and beauty in picture framing for unsuitable combinations; no matter what the subject and coloring of a picture; it is possible to find an appropriate frame. Perhaps one of the newest ideas in framing is the employment of willow such as furniture is made of. Naturally, this style of frame would only be desirable in certain cases. It particularly commends itself for country houses and willow furnished rooms. The frames are woven in graceful and intricate patterns and will doubtless prove a popular novelty.—Brooklyn Eagle.

PRETTY WILLOW FRAMES.

Message for Double Chins. For a double chin massage up and down along the cheeks and sides of the face, down along the jaw, horizontally on the sides of the neck and back and forth under the chin. Ten minutes' vigorous massage two or three times a day will often produce in a fortnight a remarkable result.

A Refreshing Cuban Drink.

Almond milk is a beverage popular in Cuba. Blanch three dozen sweet almonds, crush thoroughly and boil with two quarts of water, adding vanilla for flavoring. Sweeten to taste and when cool strain through a fine sieve. Chill before serving.

A Hint for the Housewife.

Half a lemon, dipped in salt, is an excellent substitute for oxalic acid in cleaning copper boilers, brass kettles and other copper or brass utensils.

HINTS FOR DRESSMAKERS.

Mme. Baker Says That the Princess and the Godet Skirt Will Be All the Rage.

Whatever happens there are two styles that may be counted upon this season. One is the princess and the other the godet skirt for walking. This, with a good many gores extending to form a sort of peasant waist, is the craze of the moment in Paris and is called "the cowboy walking skirt." It must be very full at the foot to set out in ripples. A narrow strip of hair-cloth in the hem and a petticoat made with the lily flounce will give the set-out look required, a little above the ankle. This will be worn with any kind of waist or blouse.

FOUR SEPARATE WAISTS.

and ungraceful. Neither can one walk in the street wearing a long skirt that has to be lifted or otherwise sweep the sidewalk. The narrow front gore is still considered necessary in nearly all skirts.

Rejane, in one of her plays, wears a stunning costume which is a cross between a redingote and a princess. It is double-breasted, with close sleeves and wide revers, high collar and square cuffs. It fastens invisibly down the front under the lap and has a pretty sweep. Just the thing for a visiting or reception gown for one with a fine figure.

Now, a word about two or three odd combinations of colors and materials: An evening gown of violet tulle is made over a slip of pink silk and chiffon and the wide tucks and shirrings give a variety of orchid shades. A white mousseline has innumerable ruffles, all edged with a pale blue alpaca braid. A brown velvet suit has coat trimming of linen tape dyed to match and crimped, one edge only being caught down by a cross-stitch in each fold, of gold-colored silk.

The fad for costumes of one color comes and goes, but the wise woman knows that a bit of color is like a ray of sunshine on a cloudy day; it makes every one look and feel better.

Lastly, Mme. Baker, who gives the above hints in the American Dressmaker, describes four separate waists, which can be worn with any up-to-date skirt. Fig. A is a waist of taffeta, shirred with yoke and cuffs of Bruges lace. B is a waist of chameleon taffeta with crossed fronts, surplice, tucks, velvet collar, cuffs, revers and belt. C pictures a waist of broadcloth with lace vest, tucks and trimming of braid. D is a waist of crepe de chine with shirring, lace yoke and motifs and ribbons.

DO YOUR OWN MANICURING.

There's No Reason Why Any Girl Should Have Hands That Look Coarse and Rough.

This is the season of the year when it is more than ever difficult to keep one's nails in order. Living out of doors, practicing many sports work havoc to the hands, unless a girl is careful. To go regularly to a manicure is expensive, but with little time and by simple means it is possible to do much toward improving the nails.

The skin at the base is inclined to grow over them, but that can be easily prevented. Fill a basin with nice hot, soapy water, and soak your hands in this for at least ten minutes. By that time the skin will be soft, and with a blunt stick of orange wood (obtainable at any druggist's) can be pressed gently back into its proper position, so that the pretty half moons at the base of the nail can be seen in all their glory.

But remember that too great pressure or ungentle treatment of any kind will probably result in a crop of those little white spots that are so disagreeable.

After pressing back the skin and thoroughly drying the hands, take half a lemon and keep digging your fingers into this until the nails are saturated with the juice. There is nothing like it for improving and beautifying them.

Wipe off the lemon with a soft rag, roll a corner of your towel up into a hard pad, and with this give the nails a brisk rub to restore the polish.

This treatment once a week and a careful pushing back of the skin every time the hands are washed will soon bring about a marvelous improvement in the appearance of the nails. To polish, rub briskly on the palm of the other hand.

BREATHE LONG AND DEEPLY

Something Women Should Do If They Would Be Well, Strong and Beautiful.

To those not accustomed to it deep breathing is somewhat difficult at first, but after awhile it became second nature. It can be learned by everybody and should be practiced constantly, for it plays a very important part in beauty's programme, says a health authority.

It is claimed that people who breathe naturally always breathe deeply. The Indian squaw, who has never known a hand around her waist, breathes deeply. So does the little baby whose lungs have never been cramped. So does every human being until the time comes when the waist is compressed and the body dwarfed.

Deep breathing will reduce the weight if one is fat and will add flesh if one is thin. It is the greatest known equalizer. It puts one in prime condition and one will soon be developed normally. In a short time one will be of correct weight for one's height and one's complexion will be improved.

Before trying deep breathing be sure that the atmosphere is good. The air should be free and pure all the time. There should be no useless bric-a-brac around. There should be no velvet or moth-producing hangings. There should be nothing in the room, especially the sleeping-room, that cannot be shaken out once a day or at least once a week.

The result of sleeping in a room free of small articles soon becomes apparent in the health and complexion of the occupant. The lungs breathe good air, free from microbes, and there is plenty of breathing space. The rooms are not cluttered up.

To get the best results, sleeping or waking, have good cheer, pure air and learn to breathe deeply.

To breathe deeply study the art of filling the lungs with fresh air full. Stand erect. Place the hands upon the hips, throw back the shoulders and breathe. The process is called abdominal breathing and is taught in all gymnasia.

In walking be sure to practice deep breathing. Draw in a long, deep breath. Exhale slowly while walking. One can walk four or five steps while one is exhaling and four or five steps more while one is drawing in the breath. Practice this and it will become second nature.

Practice deep breathing every day. Loosen the clothing, stand erect, throw back the shoulders and inhale a full, deep breath. Try to take ten deep breaths or long breaths as they are called.

Here are the three positions for practicing deep breathing. Stand erect, with both heels together. Place one hand upon the chest and the other hand upon the middle of the back. Take a long, deep breath.

Stand erect, with both heels together, and place both hands low upon the chest. Draw ten long, deep breaths.

The third position is this: Stand erect, with both hands upon the hips, throw back the shoulders and take ten long, deep breaths. Begin at the beginning and try deep breathing over again, going through with the three positions, one after another, breathing deeply all the while.

When deep breathing is painful, as often happens, then there is some trouble. It may be organic trouble or it may be merely a muscular difficulty. In either case it should be treated. A long, deep breath will cause coughing if the lungs are not strong. Or it will give one a sharp pain in the side. Again a long, deep breath will bring on a "crick" in the back, or there are pains in the ribs showing muscular rheumatism.

For organic diseases the services of specialists are required, and there is no need of trying to effect a cure by physical culture alone.

But for muscular difficulties and for nervous twitches, and for cricks and stitches deep breathing is a cure. If it is painful to take a deep breath then try a hot bath after exercises. After the hot bath rub a little skin food into the skin, massaging the ribs and the lungs.

The woman who is muscle bound, as one teacher of physical culture expresses it, needs a little vigorous exercise every day and if she cannot get out into the air to obtain it, she should exercise at home.

Corncake.

These corncakes, which fall from "Ole Virginny," may find favor farther north. To make them one must cut the kernels from the cob and pound them in a mortar till a sort of corn "milk" results. This is thickened up with egg, sugar and triply-sifted cornstarch till a regular cake batter is evolved. A generous tablespoonful of butter is put into an enameled frying pan and enough batter poured in to just cover the pan. When the edges begin to turn golden brown the cake is "fopped" over with a turner in the deft fashion which the genuine mammy possesses in perfection. A minute later it is laid on a warmed plate, sprinkled with powdered cinnamon and rolled over and over like a jelly roll.—Boston Budget.

Apple and Orange Jelly.

Use an equal number of apples and oranges. Wash the apples, slice and core them; put them over the fire in the preserving kettle with enough cold water to cover them and simmer them until they are reduced to a pulp. Pour the apple pulp into a jelly bag to strain out the juice. Measure the juice, and to each pint of apple juice add one of boiled orange juice and a pound of sugar, and boil them together, removing the scum that rises, until a little, cooled upon a saucer, forms a jelly. Then take the kettle off the stove, let the jelly partly cool and pour it into glasses. When cold, seal it up like any other jelly.—Boston Budget.

TOOK BOY'S SUGGESTION

Fireman Came Out of the Field and Told Railroaders How to Start Stalled Engine.

A traveling man relates that while riding on the new orient line between Harper and Anthony a few days ago, one of the side rods of the engine broke, and the other side stopped on a "dead center," so that when the repair was made it was impossible to start again. According to the Kansas City Star he says:

"The engineer, the conductor and all the passengers took turns going over the thing and trying to devise a way to make it run. Finally a boy came out of the field where he had been plowing to see what was going on. He crawled through the wire fence and sat down on the bank and fanned himself with his straw hat. 'If you'd back that last car up the grade and let me come down gerchunk, that 'ud start 'er,' he finally suggested, deliberately.

"The railroad men sniffed contemptuously, but the passengers sided with the boy. Finally the conductor gave orders that the rear car be uncoupled. No less than 60 passengers caught hold and pushed the car up the grade. Once at the top the car was let go. The loose coach gained momentum as it came down hill, and in spite of the engineer's admonition to 'let her come down easy' the emergency battering ram crashed into the train with a tremendous thump. The engine was bumped off 'center' all right."

Careers Arranged.

Best in the World.

Cream, Ark., Nov. 7 (Special).—After eighteen months suffering from Epilepsy, Backache and Kidney Complaint, Mr. W. E. Smith, of this place, is a well man again and those who have watched his return to health unhesitatingly give all the credit to Dodd's Kidney Pills. In an interview regarding his cure, Mr. Smith says:

"I had been for eight months with my back and kidneys and also Epilepsy. I had taken everything I knew of and nothing seemed to do me any good till a friend of mine got me to send for Dodd's Kidney Pills. I find that they are the greatest medicine in the world, for now I am able to work and am in fact as stout and strong as before I took sick."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the Kidneys. Cured Kidneys cleanse the blood of all impurities. Pure blood means good health.

Santa Fe Engines at World's Fair.

All the world loves a locomotive. There is something likeable about the iron steed that whisks us at a mile a minute pace across the country. It seems to be a person, not a thing. The crowds who have been recently watching the test of Santa Fe engine No. 507 (a Baldwin of 15 tons weight) in Machinery Hall, World's Fair grounds, St. Louis, will testify to fascination unexplainable. Not merely the size, nor the wheels going around, nor the throbbing steam—but all these and more.—The engineer at the throttle and the fireman at the furnace door share the general admiration.

The test showed conclusively that the prairie type used by the Santa Fe in hauling its fastest passenger flyers represents the highest achievement of modern engine building.

A convincing orator is one who has sense enough to shut up before his audience acquires that tired feeling.—Chicago Daily News.

I am sure Pico's Cure for Consumption

will cure my life three years ago.—Mrs. Thos. Robbins, Norwich, N. Y., Feb. 17, 1900.

Some men are so anxious to avoid doing

wrong that they neglect to do right.—The Commoner.

Miss Rose Hennessy, well known as a poetess and elocutionist, of Lexington, Ky., tells how she was cured of uterine inflammation and ovaritis by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been so blessedly helped through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I feel it but just to acknowledge it, hoping that it may help some other woman suffering as I did. For years I enjoyed the best of health and thought that I would always do so. I attended parties and receptions thinly clad, and would be suddenly chilled, but I did not think of the results. I caught a bad cold eighteen months ago while menstruating, and this caused inflammation of the womb and congested ovaries. I suffered excruciating pains and kept getting worse. My attention was called to your Vegetable Compound and the wonderful cures it had performed, and I made up my mind to try it for two months and see what it would do for me. Within one month I felt much better, and at the close of the second I was entirely well.

"I have advised a number of my lady friends to use it, and all express themselves as well satisfied with the results as I was."—Miss ROSE HENNESSY, 410 S. Broadway, Lexington, Ky.

The experience and testimony of some of the most noted women of America go to prove beyond a question that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct all such troubles and, at once, by removing the cause, and restoring the organs to a normal and healthy condition.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—About two years ago I consulted a physician about my health which had become so wretched that I was no longer able to be about. I had severe backache, bearing-down pains, pains across the abdomen, was very nervous and irritable, and this trouble grew worse each month. The physician prescribed for me, but I soon discovered that he was unable to help me, and I then decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and soon found that it was doing me good. My appetite was returning, the pains disappearing, and the general benefits were well marked.

"You cannot realize how pleased I was, and after taking the medicine for only three months, I found that I was completely cured of my trouble, and have been well and hearty ever since, and no more fear this monthly period, as it now passes without pain to me. Yours very truly, Miss PEARL ACKERS, 827 North Summer St., Nashville, Tenn."

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health more than a million women, you cannot well say without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." If you are ill, do not hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Her advice is free and helpful. Write to-day. Delay may be fatal.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

Superior in fit, comfort and wear.

W. L. Douglas makes and sells more men's $3.50 shoes than any other manufacturer in the world. The reason W. L. Douglas shoes are the greatest sellers in the world is because of their excellent style, any fitting and superior wearing qualities. If I could show you the difference between the best made in my factory and those of other makers and the high-grade leathers used, you would understand why W. L. Douglas shoes cost more to make, why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater intrinsic value than any other $3.50 shoe on the market to-day, and why the W. L. Douglas shoes are sold for $5.00, $6.00, $7.00, $8.00, $9.00, $10.00, $12.00, $15.00, $20.00, $25.00, $30.00, $35.00, $40.00, $45.00, $50.00, $60.00, $70.00, $80.00, $90.00, $100.00, $120.00, $150.00, $200.00, $250.00, $300.00, $350.00, $400.00, $450.00, $500.00, $600.00, $700.00, $800.00, $900.00, $1000.00.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

Delays of the Various Clubs in the City the Past Week.

The Twentieth Century club held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. S. T. Boom.

After their regular work Monday evening, at their lodge rooms, the Bathhouse Sisters enjoyed a sack social.

The Three N club was entertained Tuesday afternoon by Miss Grace Cochran at her home. Refreshments were served.

The members of the Owl club were entertained last Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Craig, at their home on west Jefferson street. Games were the amusement of the evening.

The Twenty club enjoyed a rare literary treat at their regular weekly meeting, Thursday evening, held at the home of Mrs. E. J. Gillham, the subject being "Shakespeare's Historical Plays." The leader was Miss Mary Powers, assisted by Mrs. A. M. Wand.

The literary division of the Friends in Council met at the home of Miss Emma Robinson Monday evening. The lesson papers were read upon "The Book of the Dead," by Mrs. Ella Steadman; "The Rosetta Stone," by Miss Annie Jarvis. Miss Grace Cochran read Act First of an original play. This play is to be written by several of the members of the club, during the winter. This first act, the production of Miss Cochran, was greatly enjoyed by all the members present. It is to be hoped the club will conclude to place the play upon the stage at the close of the club year.

There was a called meeting of the board of directors of the Friends in Council Monday evening, at the home of Miss Emma Robinson, for the purpose of discussing the advisability of trying to interest the different clubs, and secure their co-operation to plans for holding an indoor chautauque during the coming winter. This is a step in the right direction, and shows that the club is wide awake, and working for a purpose. It is to be hoped that the other different clubs will give their aid and assistance, to carry this proposition to completion, which will not only be a treat to the clubs, but a source of great benefit and enjoyment to the entire community.

Easy Pill

Easy to take and easy to act is that famous little pill DeWitt's Little Early Risers. This is due to the fact that they tonic the liver instead of purging it. They never gripe nor sicken, not even the most delicate lady, and yet they are so certain in results that no one who uses them is disappointed. They cure torpid liver, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, headache, malaria and ward off pneumonia and fevers.

Excursion to New Orleans

The Passenger department of the Illinois Central railroad company will run an excursion to New Orleans, leaving Sullivan, Ill., at 11:16 a.m., Tuesday, Nov. 15, at a round trip rate of $10.00, tickets limited to twenty-one days for return. The itinerary for this trip has never been equaled on a ten days' excursion. The route will be via Memphis, Greenwood, Yazoo City, Clarkdale, Vicksburg and Baton Rouge to New Orleans, returning via Hammond, Jackson, Miss., and Jackson, Tenn. The object of this low-rate excursion and this special itinerary is that real estate agents and home-seekers may have an opportunity to personally visit this section of the south, now so rapidly developing, and see it under the most favorable conditions. Full-man tourist sleepers have been chartered for the entire trip, and the price per double berth will be $11.00 from Illinois points. Application for deeper accommodations accompanied in every instance by draft, P. O. or express order, should be made to the undersigned at Dubuque, Iowa, not later than November 10. Write at once for full particulars concerning this excursion.

J. F. MERRY,
Assistant General Passenger Agent.
