SAN FRANCISCO MAYOR IS CON-VICTED OF EXTORTION.

RELEASE ON BAIL DENIED

No Better Than Any Other Criminal, Intimates Court—Money Re-ceived from French Res-

San Francisco.—Eugene E. Schmitz, mayor of San Francisco since 1901, convicted Thursday night by a jury of the crime of extorting money from the owners of Franch restaurants in the issuance of liquor licenses, asked Judge Dunne Friday to release him on ball until sentence is pronounced Thursday, June 27. The request was denied by the judge who directed that Schmitz be taken to jail. The court intimated that the mayor, like any other convicted criminal, should be cked up in jail.

Now Mayor in Name Only. According to a statement made by Acting District Attorney Heney, Mayor Schmits, being convicted, becomes mayor in name only. Though unable to perform the duties of his office, under the law of California. Schmitz, it is said, still retains the Schmits, it is said, still retains the office. A few years ago a law was placed upon the statute books of the state that a convicted person could not be ousted from office until such conviction had been upheld by a higher court. As cases move slowly on appeal, it is considered likely that the higher court would not pass upon this matter until after the mayor's term of office has expired.

Under the charter, however, Schmitz, by reason of his confinement in prison, should he be sent there, would be unable to perform the duties of his office. Under the circumstances, the supervisors have no pow-ed to oust him, but must select some one of their number to act as mayor during Schmitz' disability. As chairman of the finance committee of the board, Supervisor Gallagher would be-come acting mayor, leaving the gov-ernment practically in the hands of the prosecutors, who, if empowered to install new officials, may succeed in effecting extensive reforms in the civil government.

There were five counts in each in-dictment against Schmitz and all were for mohey extorted from the French restaurant proprietors. Two were for extorting money from Antonio B. Blanco, proprietor of the new Poodle Dog restaurant, which before the fire was a blaze of light every night in the center of the tenderloin at Eddy and Mason streets.

Get Money in $1,000 Payments.
The indicted men are said to have secured $1,175 from Blanco in January, 1905, and $1,000 in February, 1906. The third and fourth counts were for obtaining the same amounts from Joseph Malfanti, propriets of Delmonico's restaurant in O'Farrell street, and from his partners, Charles Kelb and William La Frenz.

The first indictment is a specimen of the others. It relates that Eugene of the others. It relates that Eugene E. Schmitz and Abraham Ruef on January 15, 1905, extorted from An-tonio Blanco $1,175 by threats that unless he paid them the money and promised to pay $1,000 in addition one year from that date he would not ob tain a license and that Schmitz and Ruef would prevent him from carrying on his business. PURIFIED LIFE INSURANCE.

Benefits from New Law, Which Remains Substantially Unchanged.

Through the influence of Gov. Hughes, the New York Legislature de-cided to make no radical changes in the new insurance law. It was pointed out by Gov. Hughes that the New York law has already accomplished wide-spread reforms, with proportionate benefits to policyhelders, and that it should be given a thorough trial before any amendments were seriously considered. It is estimated that the considered. It is estimated that the cost of the mismanagement of the past did not average more than 20 cents to each policyholder, while the benefits to present and future policyholders will amount to many times more and be cumulative besides. The speed craze of the big companies and the excessive cost of securing new business was the most extravagant evil of the old managements. Under the new regime the cost of new business has already been greatly reduced, along with other economies.

The showing made by the Equitable Life Assurance Society in its' report for 1906 was a strong argument against meddling with the new law. In the Equitable alone there was a saving of over $2,000,000 in expenses, besides an increase in the income from the Society's assets amounting to as much more. The ratios of the Equitable's total expenses to its total income was 19.42% in 1904, 17.38% in 1905, and only 14.48% in 1906. The dividends paid to Equitable policyholders in 1906 amounted to $7,289,734, which was an increase of more than 9% over 1905.

While the Equitable made a better showing than any other big company, all reported radical economies and un-der such conditions the Legislature wisely decided to leave the law sub-stantially as it stands.

The recipient of the letter was, of course, greatly pleased, and, feeling sure that his head gardener would be much interested in the letter, he read it to him. She further says: "As this time I was induced to take up the famous food drink, Postum, and was so much pleased with the results that I have pleased with the results that I have never been without it since. I commenced to improve at once, regained my twenty-five pounds of flesh and went some beyond my usual weight.

"I know Postum to be good pure, and healthful, and there never was an article, and never will be, I believe, that does so surely take the place of coffee, as Postum Food Coffee. The beauty of it all is that it is satisfying and wonderfully nourishing. I feel as if I could not sing its praises too loud." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pleas. "There's a Reason."

HARRY ORGHARD IN TEARS

ATTACK ON HIS MOTIVES MAKES WITNESS WEED

Declares He is Sceking to Make Reparation for Crimes Because He Was Converted.

Boise, Idaho.—The men who are battling to save the life of William D. Haywood and the good name of the Western Federation of Miners made their greatest assault upon Harry Or-chard Thursday, when, carrying the review by cross-examination of his life down to his confession, they bit-terly assalled his guiding motives.

Six days they spent in stripping him before the jury of every shred of mor-ality of character, and then, suddenly turning upon him in final flerce, at-tack, they fought with every means known to the legal craft to convince the jury that Orchard was committing a crime in falsely swearing away the lives of innocent men in the hope of saving his own. They carried their attack to the very language with which the witness answered their questions, and everywhere they alleged by forceful implication that it was put into his mouth by men controlling him.

Orchard broke down when they re cited to him the tale of David and Uriah, that Detective McParland re-lated to him when he came seeking a confession. He fought to save him-self, but tears filled his eyes and he rocked unevenly like a fainting woman. His voice lowered to huski-ness, and he hid his face in a handkerchief. Then he steadied himself and went on strongly to the end. He defended his motives by saying that the had finally experienced conversion and penitence and had resolved to make all possible reparation by freely confessing all. McParland had told him that he was doing a great service for the state, and that states were kind to men who served them; there was no other promise.

For hours the defense hammered away on the motive of saving his own life. It was suggested that Orchard had placed his future in the keeping of McParland; that the Pinkertons had sent money to his family in Canada: that he had been supplied with dates to strengthen his story, and that Mc-Parland had trained him as a stage manager would for his appearance on the stand, but all this Orchard denied. pered, petted, hero-like prisoner, fed from the table of the warden, addressed as "Harry" by Gov. OLDEST LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEER IN THE UNITED STATES.

William Best of Missouri Now In His Ninety-Fourth Year, Assisted In Operating the First Railroad in the Country.

Along with "only survivors" of other historical events prominent in the speeding race of our nation, the oldest locomotive engineer and most cer-tain the only survivor of the several who assisted in operating the first railroad in the United States, is en-titled to some notice. This man is William Best, now a resident of Gen-try county, Missouri. On the same farm where he literally pitched his tent more than half a century ago, near the village of Alanthus Grove, the old man still hobbles around his premises from day to day. This old man, now in his ninety-fourth year, can draw a vivid picture of the first rail-road in the United States. The date is 1833, and the scene Philadelphia. that time some people were beginning to get restless and wanted to go faster. The stage coach did not travel with the speed it once did. The new mode of traveling on which it had been decided to call a railroad train seemed to be gaining popularity. There was a daily increase in the number of daring ones who risked their lives for the sake of novelty.

There was, in those days, no union station with its whirl of trucks, shouting newsboys, iron cages with uni-formed guards "jawing" people about crowding. No confusion of voices and clanging of gongs and puffing of loco-motives, piles of trunks scurrying to and fro, says the Kansas City Star. The little toy of an engine with three or four little omnibuses attached look-ed more like a plaything than a train. The boiler of the locomotive was not much larger than a barrel and the en gineer's cab was a little platform with some curtains hung around it. Just behind the engineer's cab was a pile of wood for the boiler.

It was one of these primitive trains that William Best drove across country at awe-inspiring speed of 15 miles an hour. When a stop was made The damage by fire will be repaired as quickly as possible and operations resumed. The greatest loss is in the of the First Methodist Episcopal ed him as he oiled his engine and wiped this hards on the curtains of his cab. That was 74 years ago, when Best was 20 years old.

The veteran engineer was born in England, in Cornwall, in the year 1813, two years before Waterloo was fought He came to America while in his teens and worked in the machine shops at Philadelphia. Promotion followed, and in 1833 he was believed to be capable of running the engine. He was given charge and made his first trip between Philadelphia and Tren ton, a distance of 30 miles. There back to Philadelphia consumed the day, and was counted a day's work. The wages were high for those days. Sixty dollars per month, as engineers were very scarce. The track was constructed of cross ties and wooden sleepers laid along them with the strips of iron fastened on top with spikes. These spikes often worked loose and stuck up an inch or two above the rails, when they were called "snake heads." He remembers one day when they were running at a good d-which meant probably 18 miles an hour—a drive wheel got tangled in some snake heads and the flange as wrenched off. It flew through the cab and narrowly missed

Best thought more of his life than his job, and vowed he would quit soon and did. After resigning his place as engineer he was sought by Baldwin, the pioneer locomotive builder in this country, to go with an engine to the south and run it on a new road. It was customary then for the builder of a locomotive to send an expert along and start it for the buyer. Best declined, because he had had enough of railroading.

STORY WITHOUT A FLAW.

Drummer's Narrative Was Deceptive, But All Right,

A half dozen traveling men were vaiting in a Connecticut town station the other evening for a train for New York. A flerce storm was raging. "This is a sorry night to be on the road," remarked the shoe drummer. "Yes," said the cigar man, "and it was just such a night as this last summer when a train on the road struck a bad place four miles east of here and the next instant ran off the bridge. I was the only passenger on the train to escape with his life."

"What month was that in?" he was asked.

"Latter part of July."
"I fail to recall that wreck," said one of the crowd.
"So do I," said another.

"How many did you say were kill-ed?" asked the shoe drummer. "Didn't say any one was killed," replied the cigar man.

"You didn't, eh? You said you were the only passenger who escaped with his life."

"Certainly. That's easily accounted for," explained the cigar man, looking innocent. "I was the only passenge on the train."

"Aha! That's your game, is it?" said the shoe drummer. "Hold on there!" said the only one in the party who had not spoken up to this time, as he bustled up in front of the cigar man. "You said the train struck a bad place in the road." "So it did, but it got over it all

"It did, eh? But how about it running off the bridge?"

"That's all right, boys. We ran off it after we had crossed it. The story is all right, boys. You can't find any

ONE TRAIN A YEAR.

No Danger of Collisions on This Pennsylvania Railroad.

In. Pennsylvania there is a railway branch over which but one train a Think of missing that train!

Imagine yourself starting out from home when you hear the engine whistle on the west hill. Think of legging it down the incline and pelting across the meadow, and bursting onto the station platform with your heart pounding holes in your side and your breath coming in frightful gulps only to see the rear end of the last car of that annual train 100 yards away and gathering speed at every

And then think of the anxious parents who begin to feel worried about the time the yearly train is due, and who say to their children: "You mustn't play around the railway track to-morrow, dears—the big, black en-gine and the bumpety cars might run over mamma's darlings and cut ums all to 'ittle tiddleybits!"

And think of the strain on the patience of that careful old lady who always sat down in the station and waited until the next train went byfear she might otherwise assume dangerous chances by crossing the track in the face of the coming express.

Yes, indeed, it must be a pretty erious strain on the people who have to live along the trail of the annual train, and serious, too, for the mother-in-law and the poor relations who design visiting you, and still more serious when you come to consider the means for getting them back home

Stole a Whole Railroad.

The wholesale theft of a railway ounds like a large order, but it has been accomplished in Ireland, according to a story told before the vice regal commission on Irish railways.

A line was built between Birr and Portumna in 1868. The Great South-ern & Western worked the line until when it failed to renew

The neighboring population then tole the railway. The telegraph wires vent first and the rails followed in short order. Then the gates, buildings, in fact the total equipment, were carried off.

In the words of Deputy Lieut. Trench, at present the bed of the railvay alone survives. This testimony was corrected, how-ver, as a bridge spanning the river Brosna has up to the present escaped. A man, however, did come down with cranes and other appliances, inending to carry off the girders of this bridge, but the police station happened to be close by and the sergeant of police took it upon himself to prevent the man from taking the bridge way.-N. Y. Sun.

Sixty-Two Years of Service. Albert Roath of New London, Conhas recently been retired after having served 62 years in railroading on the ore division of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad.

Vegetation Costly to Railroad. In South Australia it costs the rail-way companies $80,000 a year to remove the vegetation which grows on the permanent ways.

Our Springfield Letter

Special Correspondent Writes of Things of Interest at the State Capital.

Springfield.—Mayor David S. Grif-fiths was drowned and Fire Chief Peter Jacobs, of Springfield, narrowly escaped a similar fate while they were going to a camp which some of the city firemen had established on the banks of Sugar creek, ten miles south west of this city. They attempted to cross the creek on a bridge that was submerged so that they could not see the floor of the structure. The buggy began to slide off the side of the bridge and the horse reared and fell, knocking the buggy into the creek Mayor Griffiths became entangled in the harness and the horse fell on him holding him under the water. Fire Chief Jacobs escaped the entangle-ment and swam out. He at once went for aid. The body of the mayor was found under the animal and was taken out of the stream and brought to Springfield. Mayor Griffiths was 32 years old. He had previously served as deputy county treasurer, city treasurer, and chief deputy United States marshal for the southern district of Illinois. A widow survives.

The city council elected Alderman Samuel Twiman mayor pro tem.

Pastor Charged with Counterfeiting. Rev. James R. Kaye, of Oak Park, was indicted by the federal grand jury on a charge of having in his por sion molds in similitude with United States coins. Rev. Mr. Kaye came to Springfield for the investigation, expecting to be indicted. As soon as the bill was reported Mr. Kaye furnished bond for his appearance for trial. The molds and dies were found in the base-ment of the house formerly occupied by the minister in Lincoln, Ill., where he was pastor of the First Presby-terian church. After the church was combined with the Cumberland church, Mr. Kaye went to Oak Park and conducted a prohibition publication. The dies were found early in the winter by workmen repairing a furnace in the basement of the house. The facts at that time were suppressed. Early in May gossip about the finding of the dies was revived and Capt. Porter, of the secret service bureau, began an investigation, which ended in finding a number of dies. ended in finding a number of dies and a plate for printing one dollar bills. The plate and some of the dies were found in an outhouse and others were secreted in the basement of the dwelling. Some babbit metal was also discovered, but there was no trac of counterfeit coins. The dies were declared to be exceedingly crude and would not have turned out coins which would pass, but the plate was said to be an excellent one. Capt. Porter and a number of witnesses from Lincoln and other parts of Logan county were the principal witnesses before the grand jury. When the accusation wa first made against Kaye, he denied the seriousness of the charge and declared the dies were for the purpose of making souvenir medals for his Sunday school class. He said he lead and even melted some old silver, but finding he couldn't get the sharp finish, abandoned the work. He insisted that the finding of the dies was conclusive proof of his innocence. Rev. Mr. Kaye was a popular pastor and leader in social reforms in Lincoln. He was a conversationalist of exceptional ability. He was in great demand as a speaker before women's clubs and stood high in the councils of the Lincoln Ministers' association.

Mr. Kaye lives with his wife and two

State Soldiers Are Barred. The interstate commerce commission has ruled that the word "militia" in the act to regulate commerce ap plies, so far as special rates are con-cerned, only to soldiers of the regular army whose expenses for transports tion are paid by the government. Sev eral railroads had agreed to make special rates for the militia or na tional guard of several state propos ing to travel in uniform to the James town exposition. The commission has decided that any special rates made for such bodies, or for members in uniform of a civic organization, must also be tendered to the general public. The interstate commerce law does not apply to the transportation of nationments, but the railroads have decided not to make any reduced rates for these events in states which have a law making two cents per mile the maximum rate.

$60,000, the Illinois state fair will be held Sept. 27 to Oct. 5. The premium list has just been printed. It shows that the premiums of the cattle are $1,000, for hogs $1,800, sheep $1,000, draft horses $3,500, and for light horses $4,500. In addition to these premiums offered by the fair association the various breeding or-ganizations in the country offer considerable sums of money for prizes.

Au aggregate of $17,560 are the purses in the speed ring. Many changes and additions also have been made in the premium offer;ngs in every department. The florticulture classification is entirely changed and $1,500 in premiums is added. There are marked changes in the classification for cattle, horses, hogs, and the sheep. One of the new features added is the milk and cream test, which is thrown open to the world.

Kindness and Toleration.

"The spirit of kindness and toleration overshadows every other thought, 'Am I my brother's keeper' is never asked. We are here to care for these people. A great state with a quicken-ing public conscience has given them into our keeping and entrusted them to our care and we have gone out to the farms and villages of Illinois and have secured a force of employes im-bued with that kindliness of heart that with inexperience and in this atmosphere of non-resistance, with the Geneva cross, the non-combatants' em-blem of the civilized world floating from our flagstaff, have made of them valuable lieutenants, everyone in sympathy with our policy and eager to ex-tend its influence.

"The press of the state has been our inspiration. Though not sparing omishas thereby rendered a distinct service to humanity. The management has been given a free hand by our present governor, who has shown his in-terest by no less than three visits within the year. His present strong board of charities has generously ap-proved the methods in operation here and with this support it is believed that the Illinois asylum for the incurable insane, now happily changed by legal enactment, is destined to greater accomplishments than ever."

Question of Good Roads.

Another feature of the association meeting was an address on the question of good roads by Mr. A. N. Johnson, the state engineer of the state highway commission. Mr. Johnson's address was highly interesting. He

"A summary of road expenses of the state shows that in 1905 the total cost of maintaining the 94,141 miles of pub-lic highways, including both money and labor tax, was $4,625,365, of which $490,563 is the estimated value of the labor tax, leaving $4,134,802 as the actual cash tax raised. Of this amount $1,888,730 was for bridges. "Through the aid of the 26,000 rural letter carriers of the state exact information concerning over a third of the roads in the state has been secured. Concisely the summary of this information is that most of the at the wrong season, and the system is an extravagant one.

Life fo the Soil.

The soil which to many appears lifeless mass of dirt is a scene of activity and life. Movements of air and warer, actions of heat and evaporation, life:-rounds of countless miscroscopic organism, decay and disintegration of plants and soil particles are all present in the productive soil. If our ears were delicate enough we could hear the shuffle of the worksound of the tiny machinery. We should get over the idea that the soil is a thing to be avoided. It is not unclean and a thing to defile a person. It is a living and breathing mass. The wholly unproductive soil is inactive, and before it can be made to produce our crops life must be instilled into it.

ON THE TRAIL OF THE AMERICAN MISSIONARY

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

are tackling this proposition, they have certainly got nerve," exclaimed a newly-arrived American tourist, after his first ride through .Tokio. The immensity of this city of a million and a half of people, its impassivity, its impenetrable orientalism, and the unrelatedness of its parts one to another impress every visitor. He must be a hardy propagandist indeed who, without a sense of hopelessness, can undertake the task of converting Tokic to anything.

Yet Tokio is the key to Japan. It is more like Mecca to the Mohammedan than like Washington to an American, or Ottawa to a Canadian. The fact that this is the largest city of the emission of the control of the contro pire means less to the native mind than that it is the home of his imperial majesty, the emperor, whom all Japanese regard with real reverence, Japanese regard with real reverence, as well as unquestionable loyalty and whom most of the people worship as a divinity. Here, too, center all na-tional interests and enterprises; this is the commercial and educational capital. Tokio leads Japan. Hither every ambitious youth hopes to come; and the fact that a cook, an artisan or a student hails from Tokio gives him prestige wherever he may go

Up-to-Date Methods in the Orient. So, despite the herculean nature of the task, the missionaries have laid siege to this strategic city. And, con sidering that there are missionaries still living and resident here who came to Japan when there was not a single Christian in the empire, the present situation is very creditable. While it is easily possible for a tour-ist to pass through the city and find brought into frequent contact with Gotemba and one in Kumamoto.

This, at least, has been my experience; and in all the citations in this article I am confining mys if carefully to my own personal experience. ences and observations. Arrived the church, you find an ordinar congregation of 700 persons, four-fifths of whom are students, listening intently to a sermon nearly an hour long.

Creek and Roman Catholic Churches. In all Tokio there is no more conspicuous building than the Russian Orthodox Christian church building, with its great dome. There are 30,000 members of this body, all of them s monument to the work of one man, Bishop Nicolai, who has labored pere alone, or with only one other Euro-pean helper, for 30 years. His character has been equally effectual with his intellectual ability and his dili-gence in spreading his church.

During the war he had to go into retirement, being a Russian, and the cathedral was guarded constantly by the Japanese authorities, lest misguided patriots burn or sack it. Bishop Nicolal gave himself largely to literary work, but his priests did most acceptable service in ministering to the Russian prisoners, who were of their own creed

The romance of the Roman Catholic Church in Japan—one of the fine stories of all religious history—must stories of all religious history—must be told in another connection, but here in Tokio the church is repre-sented by a cathedral, which, next to the Greek church building, is the most imposing ecclesiastical edifice in the city. The total Roman Catholic membership in Japan is 59,000, and the missionaries are nearly all French. There are schools conducted by nous and by the feaching orders ist to pass through the city and find the missionaries are nearly an not the slightest vestige of missionary French. There are schools conducted activity or Christian life, it is impossible for him to reside here for a and a notable amount of philanthropic week, and to become reasonably familiar with Tokio, without being tenance of two leper hospitals, one in the context with the frequent context with the frequent context.

to be found in Tokio as in Philadel. The Tokio leper home in streets on a clear Sunday, and you will find Japanese preachers talking to interested crowds, just as on Bos ton Common. A man wearing the con ventional Salvation Army cap (al though inscribed in Japanese charac ters), but otherwise dressed in na tive garb, lifts his cap as you approach, bows politely, and in flowery language, invites you to buy the copy of the Japanese "War Cry" which he extends to you.

Setting the Japanese to Singing.

As you pass native houses you oc casionally hear childish voices swell ing in the familiar strains of Moody and Sankey hymns, and you know that one of the numerous Sunday schools in Tokio is in session. Going to and from these are met boys and girls car rying the thick, pudgy red hymn books, and you recall that within two years 100,000 copies of this book have been sold, although there are only about 50,000 Protestant Christians in the empire. Mission workers say that the Japanese did not know how to sing at all, except a few Chinese songs of limited register to accompany the samisen and the koto, and now some of the mission school graduates per form the most difficult of instrumental and vocal music, and one is sure to hear brass bands executing the airs that were popular in America a few years ago. Not everybody who is heard whistling or singing a Chrisyears ago tian tune is necessarily a Christian for it appears that this newly-awak ened ability of the Japanese is due primarily to the missionaries. It is especially interesting to hear a crowd of Japanese youngsters singing a temperance song to the tune of "John on's Body Lies a Moldering in the

of the Christian propaganda. It is a started by Miss Youngman, a Presby an American and European religious organization which works for the lepers of the east. Under this same auspices is Miss Riddell's leper asy-lum at Kumamoto. Miss Riddell, who is a Church of England missionary, is the only foreign lady in Japan ever

The Tokio leper home is managed two native Presbyterians, Mr. and Mrs. Seishin Otsuka, whose refinement and Christian character is written on their faces. They have been in charge of the home since its opening, 12 years ago, and the devotion of the 56 inmates to them is apparent even to a visitor. There are constant experiments being made for the cure of these unfortunates, but thus far all seem to be in vain. The most that can be done appears to be to make the lepers as comfortable as possible and to keep their bodies in the best possible condition by frequent medicinal baths. They suffer no pain, although they are in all stages of leprosy, from the little children and sturdy young men who show no outward taint of the disease, to the blind and helpless victims whose members have been entirely eaten away.

After the Men Who Run Things. Mention of one form of special work suggests many others. There is here a rescue home for girls from the Yoshiwara, an asylum for the insane (although this, the only one in Japan, is not under distinctively Christian auspices), a prison-gate home, free kindergartens, and "rescue missions," after the type familiar to all large American cities. There are also special missions to railroad men, to policemen and to post-office workers. These last, now separate missions, are the outgrowth of a Biblereading league for Japanese, at present numbering 10,000 members, started and long maintained by one of the foreign physicians of Tokio, who, out of his lucrative practice, personally supports numerous missionary enter-in Tokio there are several independent missionaries, who are not con-nected with any denomination or missionary board. The usefulness of these more stir in the homeland, where their money is being raised, than they do here. They are usually temporary, since they depend upon one man, and cannot continue beyond the term of his personal residence here. He, in turn is so busy keeping alive the interest of his supporters, that he has little time left for actual work among the Japanese. As an illustration, I may cite the case of one man, personally an upright, honorable and pleasant gentleman, whose publication (intended only for home consumption) gives the impression that he is arousing Tokio to a veritable revival yet that man has been here nearly a decade and does not speak the lana decade and does not speak the lan-guage, so that he is personally use-less as a preacher to the Japanese. In the light of conditions in this country, I would say that the only effectual missionary work that can be pursued is that conducted on a broad basis and a long-continued plan by the great churches of Japan and of Christian lands.

Taking Religion to Get English.

A building that is the center of no small work is the big brick Young Men's Christian association, which also has branches and dormitories in many of the educational institutions here. The Young Woman's Christian association has lately come to Japan and is opening dormitories for young women students. Both these organizations do Bible class work.

This suggests a characteristic phase of mission work in Japan-the conduct ing of Bible classes. Every missionary, from the newest recruit to the oldes veteran, has a measure of this to do Some of the Bible classes are large as many congregations. The secret of all this is, as is apparent to everybody concerned, the desire of the Japanese to learn English. The eagerness of the natives in this par-ticular is nothing short of a craze. Frequently I have had young men accost me and enter into conversation purely for the purpose of practicing their little stock of English. Some ing, but the missionaries have had their patience well trained. They take the Japanese on any terms and find, they say, that out of Bible classes attending from a purely selfish motive, have come many of the most earnest converts and Christian workers.

Other mission lands have many mi sionary hospitals; in Japan there are only two, both maintained by American Episcopalians, one at Osaka .nd. one here. The reason for this is that the Japanese have their own physi-cians and hospitals. St. Luke's hos-pital in Tokio, is fully endowed, and could not well be abandoned. As a matter of fact, it is so popular and successful that it is entirely self-supporting. It has fine quarters near church for Europeans and large boy's school on the Protestant Episcop compound.

Baseball and Missions Often I hear the question raised as to whether Christianity is having any practical effects upon the character of the converts. That is not so simple a question to answer as would at first appear; the missionary is really working for his converts' grandchildren. Yet I must admit that I have run across cases that are not without meaning. After speaking at the oldest university in Japan, an institution distinctively not Christian, I was entertained at luncheon by the presi-dent, and six of the leading professors were invited to be present. One of these was a man who in appearance s rikingly resembled the young col-lege Y. M. C. A. men in America, and he himself was an active Christian worker, and responsible for the religious organization existing in the college. I learned that his standing was high among the professors and his influence among the undergraduates propounced.

aged man who has invented a process for making articles of wearing appar-el—neckties, shawls, purses, hats, fanvy vests, etc.—from wood shavings He said he was about to introduce his novel wares into America. Questioning him further, he said that about 15 years ago he became a Christian. that awakened in him a desire to better himself and to do something for Japan. The result is this invention. Perhaps the most curious of many unexpected evidences of Christianity in this city is the crack baseball team in the Waseda university, an institu-tion with more than 7,000 students. The Japanese have taken ardently to American sports, and this particular team made a successful tour of the Pacific coast last year. It owes its efficiency to Rev. F. Merrifield, a Baptist missionary who was a star on the University of Chicago championship baseball team a few years ago. Merrifield goes three days a week to Waseda to coach the team for the sake of the opportunity thus given him to do Christian work among the stu dents. *

Of many forms of this sort of indirect missionary work I have learned directly and indirectly. One night l met with a fine body of business and professional men who are organized into an "English Speaking society," and hold their meeting in the home of and the desirement of the following a Quaker missionary. There are dozens of sewing classes among the Japanese women missionaries. Some missionaries take the children prominent Japanese into their homes to teach them the American way of Gen. Kodomo, the foremost military figure in Japan, has, with the son of another general, been dining weekly at the home of one of the Young Men's Christian association taries.

SKILLFUL "TRUST BUSTER"

Cordenio Arnold Severance, the go attorney who has unearthed such valuable evidence in the Harriman railroad deals that the department of justice has resolved to start crim inal suits, is a young western attorney who had achieved an enviable reputation as a corporation lawyer when he enlisted with the government forces. Mr. Severance was born and raised in Minnesota and has held a number of offices, in-

Mr. Severance's law business extends all over the country, from Massachusetts to California. He has been counsel for various railroads in the northwest, also for a number of Chicago packers, for the United States Steel corporation, and numerous other business industries. He was em-numerous other business industries. He was employed by the interstate commerce commission in the recent investigation into the Harriman railways. In connection with latter proceeding he took testimony in New York, Chicago, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and ably argued the matter in Washington, and his skillful handling of the last-mentioned investigation was especially commended.

As a partner of United States Attorney Frank B. Kellogg, Mr. Severance was associated with him in all the important trust investigations in which that lawyer figured so successfully, notably the Western Paper trust and the workings of the Standard Oli company.

Mr. Severance is immune from the common disease of running for office. He delights in social intercourse and his genial disposition has won him a prominent place in leading clubs of Minnesota, Duluth, Chicago, New York and Brooklyn. Whether telling a humorous story or pursuing an octopus, Mr. Severance enters into the spirit of the thing with all the vim and enthusiasm that even strenuous President Roosevelt could ask.

SURGEON GENERAL RIXEY

Presley Marion Rixey, surgeon general of the United States navy, who attended the late Mrs. McKinley in Canton, O., has had official care of the health of the presidents of the United States for the past nine years. He accompanied President McKinley on his fatal trip to the Pan-American exposition and was with him when he died.

Dr. Rixey was one of the most skillful, experienced and widely traveled surgeons of the navy when William McKinley became president. He was made a White House physician and took charge of Mrs. McKinley, who had been in precarious health for years.

The engaging manners of the Virginian and the success which attended his care of Mrs. McKinley attracted the president to him. The two became fast friends. One of the last official acts of Mr. McKinley before he was struck down by the assassin's bullet, was to arrange for Dr. Rixey's promotion to the position of surgeon general of the nayy.

One of President Roosevelt's first acts on taking office was to carry out the dead president's wish. Dr. Rixey was made surgeon general with the Many honors have come to Dr. Rixey in the course of his career, one of the most prized being a decoration from King Alfonso XIII. of Spain for his valuable services rendered to officers and men of the Santa Maria following an explosion on that vessel.

Rather tall and of courtly bearing, and possessing a wholesome geniality that never fails to make friends wherever he goes, Dr. Rixey is a general favorite in all circles of official Washington.

HAD NO OPPOSITION

To run for office and be elected without op osition is an unusual thing in American politics This rare distinction has befallen D. R. Anthony Jr., who was nominated for congress by the Re publicans of the First district of Kansas to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation of Congressman Curtis to the United States senate.

Mr. Anthony received a remarkable political indorsement in that he was unanimously nominated by his own party, and the Democrats of the district met and resolved to make no nominition against him.

The new congressman is editor of the Leavenworth Daily Times, and is a son of the late Col. D. R. Anthony, one of the pioneers and historical characters of Kansas' struggle to be a free state. He is also a nephew of the late Susan B. Anthony, and a broth er-in-law of Capt. Koehler, the army officer who recently had a clash with Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood in the Philippines.

As showing the trend of politics in the western states, Mr. Anthony's platform calls for revision of unfair tariff schedules by the friends of the projective principle, stands for government control of the railroads as advocated by President Roosevelt, and declares for the curbing of criminal trusts

EASY GOING MONARCH

King Carlos of Portugal is the happiest, most easy-going and pleasure-loving ruler in Europe. only cloud upon his horizon has been a parliament which persisted in trying to make laws and run the country. Life was not worth living, decided the jolly monarch, with such a pest always on hand, so he sent the lawmakers home and proclaimed that he would run the country alone for three years.

The private life of Portugal's monarch is rather interesting, because it is more like that of a private gentleman than the daily round of a sovereign. As he rises at five in the morning, he contrives to get all his work done before mid-day, then five days of the six he gives over the moon and evening to his one amu sport. He has explored every corner of his kingdom in his motor car, an a short time since, when driving through some out-of-the-way place, he had rather an amusing experience. Arriving at a small town, he found a crowd waiting, but no one recognized him. In fact, the chief point of interest at that moment was an old woman, who had had her basket of eggs upset by those who jostled her. The king, with his usual good nature, approached and asked what was the matter. "They say the king is coming through here, so these idiots are waiting to see him. One cannot even do one's daily labor, with this crowd watching for a fat, lazy fellow, who does no work and spends his time in eating."

The king laughed, presented her with a coin to pay for the eggs, and to "remember the fat lazy fellow by," and a moment more the royal car had vanished in a whirl of dust before anyone knew it had arrived—save one dumb-struck peasant woman.

EST FOR TARE LAW

MISSOURI STATUTE WILL HAVE THREE MONTHS' TRIAL.

FEDERAL JUDGE'S RULING

If Rate Proves Unremunerative Rail ways May Appeal to Courts— To Argue Freight Law Later.

Kansas City, Mo.—The Misson wo cent passenger fare act will go nto effect at six a. m. on Wednes-ay next, and be given a three months' day next, and be given a three months' trial. If at the end of that time the rate is found to be unremunerative the law's enforcement can be fought in the courts by the railroads.

The state officials are temporarily enjoined from enforcing the maximum freight rate law and this case will be argued later in the federal court.

Indee Smith McPherson in the Judge Smith McPherson in the United States district court here Mon-day afternoon, after handing down an opinion maintaining the court's juris-diction in the premises, ordered the promulgation of the above stated facts, which had been agreed to by the attorneys for the state and the 18 Missouri railroads involved. The court in its decision had suggested that the two-tent fare should be first given a practical trial before injunction proedings preventing its enforcement

Herbert S. Hadley, attorney general, said regarding the two-cent bill: "If at the end of three months the railroads want to litigate the reasoness of these rates, the matter of the jurisdiction of the state and federal courts to determine the question will be fought out and the state has lost none of its rights and advantages

"The injunction suits that I have brought against the railroad compa nies on the passenger rates in the state courts will stand."

San Francisco Supervisors Make J. I Gallagher Acting Mayor.

San Francisco.—Under orders of William H. Langdon, the board of supervisors shortly after seven o'clock Monday night adopted a resolution declaring Mayor Eugene Schmitz tem-porarily unable to perform his official duties and appointing Supervisor James L. Gallagher acting mayor. The latter says he will assume the mayor-alty at once, and he denies that he has made arrangements with the district attorney or anyone to resign at demand in order to make way for a reform mayor.

District Attorney Heney, Rudolph Spreckels and Mr. Laugdon and their graft prosecution are by this move placed in actual control of the municipal situation. That they will be allowed to so remain without legal contest by the convicted mayor's attorneys is not expected.

It is the plan of the prosecution to call for the resignation in a few days of some one of the 18 supervisors. This forthcoming, Acting Mayor Gallagher will appoint to the vacancy a man named by the district attorney. So soon as he takes office Gallagher will resign from the mayor's chair and his resignation will be accepted. The board, acting under orders from the prosecution, will select the new member as president pro tempore, and by virtue of the office he will at once ome acting mayor. The first act of the reform mayor, if the prosecution's program is carried out, will be to demand the resignation of practically the entire Schmitz ad-

"About four years ago I was afflicted with black splotches all over my ce and a few covering my body, which produced a severe itching irritation, and which caused me a great deal of suffering, to such an extent that I was forced to call in two of the skin eczema in the worst form. Their treatment did me no good. Finally L became despondent and decided to discontinue their services. My husband purchased a single set of the Cuticura Remedies, which entirely stopped the breaking out. I continued the use of the Cuticura Remedies for six months, and after that every splotch was entirely gone. I have not felt a symptom of the eczema since, which was three years ago. Mrs. Lizzie E. Women for the most part spend their lives at home, and it is these women who are willing and ambitions that their homes ahall be kept nest and pretty, their children well dressed and tidy, who do their own cooking, sweeping, dusting and often washing; ironing and sewing for the entire family, who call for our sympathy.

Truly the work of such a woman is "hever done" and is it any wonder that she breaks down at the end of a few years, the back begins to ache, there is a displacement, inflammation or ulceration of the abdominal organs, a female weakness is brought on, and the struggle of that wife and mother to continue her duties is pitiful.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, is the exact medicine a woman needs whose strength is overtaxed. It keeps the feminine organs in a strong and healthy condition. In preparing for childbirth and recuperating therefrom it is most efficient. It carries a woman safely through the change of life and in making her strong and well assuts her to be a good wife and mother.
