Mormonism in Lovington Township at

We publish the following interest ing bit of history. We are well Mormon doctrine, and persons who have read the history of the church, the founders and their domestic life in Utah, are convinced that they are yet unpopular. should they be given an audience It is questionable if the elders should be tolerated when on their mission.

(From Lovington Reporter.)

The proposed adve nt of a party of Mormon elders recall a bit of history connected with Lovington township in which votaries of this particular faith were summarily driven from the neighborhood amid intense excitement and when so bitter a feeling had been engendered, that several tragedies were narro vly averted.

This all happened in 1845, 6 and ; sixty years ago and it is doubtful i many of our readers have more. than a hazy recollection of the stirring events.

Owing to the fact that the Spring field road was the principal thorough fare to the north and west great numbers of Mormons passed through enroute to and from Missouri as early as 1833, and the early settlers had a pretty fair idea of their vagaries. In 1843, according to an early history of the township, one of their elders stopped here for a time and succeeded in converting several families among whom were Andrew Love, a brother of John Love, after whom the town was named, George Best, William Cazier and Chas. Brant. These succeeded in enlisting others and within couple of years quite a colony had been formed.

Love with other families who had embraced the faith moved to Nauvoo 1 1845. Some of these left unsettled affairs and expected to return in year to close up their business. A correspondence was kept up with some of them by their former neighours and the bitterne rather than diminished. The climax came in 1864 when it became known that the wife of William Souther, a prominent citizen, had been induced to leave her home and family. The indignation of the people was almost uncontrollable and it required hard work on the part of the calmer citizens to prevent a resort to violence The citizens for miles around met at the home of James H. Kellar, organized and appointed a committee to give the Mormons notice to quit the country within two days.

On the day appointed amid intense excitement the procession headed toward the no thwest. Mrs. Souther started with the party but was overtaken by her husband near where lence to those who had a hand in at private sale was gran el. breaking up his home. He demanded the return of his wife and after an exciting argument succeeded in getting aer to return with him Three years ater while her bushand was away from home Mrs. Souther bundled up her apparel and left for Salt Lake ity, Utah, where she joined the irs. Mr. Souther afterwar! passed through Utah and induced his wife to go with him to California, where she died. The Louther's at the time of the Mormon upheavel lived where Andy Shields now resides. Mr. Souther was a man of considerable force and was connected with the great Southern California irrigation project in which he made and lost more than a million of dollars. But that is another story.

With this party of the Mormons, history also mentions one James Cazier, who deserted his family for the new faith. He was captured and brought back and escaped a coat of tar and feathers after a tearful plea. A few days later he "biked" out and joined the colony at Nauvon. Three years later Cazier returned and succeeded in convincing his wife that he She is a most attractive woman of the had renounced the Mormon faith and Gibson type—has a style all her own induced her to sell her farm and go to and never fails to win over her audinear St. Joe, Mo. sent L. J. Berry and E. D. Cleveland, who brought her and her children back to friends in this vicinity.

The early story of Mormonism here is a stirring one and at some aware of the unpopularity of the future time we will present our readers with a more detailed resume of such history as has been left upon the subject.

> It is only fair to say that Mormonism today is altogether a different institution than sixty years ago. Their dogmas have been revised and their teachings and practices are altogether different from what they then were. Joseph Smith, the founder of the creed was doubtless illiterate, and perhaps as history has it he was vicious and unscrupulous, but he was undoubtably a genius in that he founded his faith upon such broad lines that it has that is not altogether devoid of good.

Their creed in brief is Paith in the Lord Jesus Christ; repentance; baptism by immersion; lying on of the hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost. There are two thousand of these elders now preaching in different parts of the country. Every elder is required to spend two year's time at this work at his own personal expense they do not take up collections but must have money enough to defray all their expenses.

A unique mail box for use on rural delivery routes has been approved by the postoffice department. The box is arranged at the end of a bar which works on a pivot. The mail carrier does not have to leave his vehicle in making delivery and collections, but simply reaches out with a rod and draws the box to him. In rainy weather this feature will enable the carrier to pull the box entirely within his buggy. When released the box of an elocutionist during his vacation swings back around automatically to its regular position, which is parallel with the road. By a simple device the owner is enabled to tell from a distance whether there is any mail in the box.

BALTIMORE & OHIO PASSENGER RUNS INTO A FREIGHT.

DISASTER AT BELLAIRE, O.

Several Persons Fatally Injured Carle's Opera Company Has Narrow Escape-Musical Director Loses Arm.

Bellaire, O.—Eight men were killed and a score injured, four fatally, when the Chicago & Wheeling express on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad crashed into a freight train at a siding near here Saturday.

Failure of an operator to throw the switch and give a clear track to the express train, which was speeding to make up three hours' lost time, is said to have been the cause of the accident.

The dead are: Carl Bereran, Milwaukee; I. N. Galbraith, engineer, Newark, N. J.; Michael Heinze, Wheeling, W. Va.; H. A. Lipscomb, engineer, Newark, N. J.; F. E. Motz, conductor, Newark, N. J.; F. L. Rose, Cleveland, O.; Harry Seitz, Massillon, O.; William Shaw, Wheeling W. V. The fatally injured: E. J. Blubaugh, mail clerk, Newark, N. J.; Ben Daley, Pittsburg, Pa.; W. C. Do-sant, mail clerk, Newark, N. J.; D. E. Kneer, mail clerk, Newark, N. J.

Among the passengers on the exwere the members of Richard Carle's "Spring Chicken" Comic Opera company. All of them, with the exception of Alfred Dalby, the musical director, escaped serious injury, how-eyer. It was found necessary to amputate Mr. Dalby's right arm, thus ending his musical career.

Several other members of the company, including Mr. Carle himself, had narrow escapes from serious injuries. They owe their escape to the fact their private car was last on the train. Engineer H. A. Lipscomb underwent a heroic surgical operation to save his life. Caught beneath his engine, it was impossible to remove the broken iron from his body. Escaping steam across his face made it impossible to administer any anesthetic and the physicians amputated his leg as he lay there conscious. The effort was in vain, however, as Lipscomb died later.

DIRECTORS VOTE TO SIGN CON-TRACT FOR PURCHASE.

Road's Physical Condition Found Good-Unification of Shorts-Hawley Properties Will Follow.

New York.—The directors of the Toledo, St. Louis & Western railway at a meeting here Friday voted to sign a contract for the purchase of the Chicago & Alton railway from the Rock Island interests, in accordance with the agreement that such should be done provided the Alton received immunity in connection with the Standard Oil rebating investigation. Attorney General Bonaparte recently announced that such, immunity would be granted.

Before the directors acted, a committee submitted an exhaustive report of the physical condition of the road, which was declared to be highly satisfactory.

The old Chicago & Alton board will probably meet during the coming week and resign in a body, after which the new interest will assume formal control. It is expected that some unification of the so-called Shonts-Hawley properties, namely the Toledo. St. Louis & Western, Chicago & Alton, Iowa Central and Minneapolis & St. Louis roads, will speedily follow.

It is planned to make direct connections between the Iowa Central and Chicago & Alton and the Toledo, St. Louis & Western road, thereby fecting a link with Minneapolis and St. Louis. This will give the unified system direct lines between Detroit, St. Louis and Kansas City, as well as direct lines between Chicago and Kansas City.

H. B. Palmer, purser of the Baltic, said the coincidence of such a large number of single women booking passage on the Baltic for one trip caused attention in London. Many of the young women are coming here to seek employment in factories and in homes About one-half of the newcomers will remain in and near New York city, the others having tickets for towns in Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio and North Dakota.

Most of those who landed at once were Irish girls. Some embarrassing incidents marked their arrival at the Battery. They were awaited by a large delegation in Battery park with smiles, but a chorus of "Go 'long wid yez" filled the air.

President Speaks at Dedication of Mausoleum at Canton-Draws Lesson to Nation from Life of the Martyred Statesman.

McKinley mausoleum, the tribute and gift of a nation to the memory of the marytred president, William Mc Kinley, was dedicated Monday after-noon in the presence of hundreds of distinguished men from all parts of the United States, in the presence of representatives of foreign countries, and in the presence of a crowd of approximately 50,000 gathered from all parts of the country.

A feature of the dedication was the presence of the president of the United States, Theodore Roosevelt; Vice President Fairbanks, members of the president's cabinet, United States senators and governors of sev eral states.

Addresses were delivered by Presi ient Roosevelt, Justice William R Day, McKinley's secretary of state, and Governor Andrew L. Harris of Ohio.

The president of the day was Gov Harris, who was introduced by Justice Day. The introduction of the president of the day was followed by an invocation by Rev. Dr. Frank M. Bristol, pastor of the Metropolitan Meth odist Episcopal church of Washington

The opening address was then given by Justice Day. This was followed by the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the Grand Army band of Canton, the Canton Singers' club 'and the entire assemblage led by Mr. Reinkendorff.

Gov. Harris then delivered an address, which was followed by the unveiling of the bronze statue of William McKinley by Miss Helen McKinley of Cleveland, the only sister (", the late president.

Miss McKinley Pulls Veil

Miss Helen McKinley of Cleveland a sister of the martyred president, un veiled the statue. James Whitcomb Riley had a place upon the dedication programme, reading a poem written for the occasion. The dedication cere monies began at about 2 p. m. In the course of his remarks Pres dent Roosevelt said:

"We have gathered together to-day to pay our meed of respect and affection to the memory of William Mc Kinley, who as president won a place in the hearts of the American people such as but three or four of all the presidents of this country have ever won. He was of singular unrightness and purity of character, alike in public and in private life; a citizen who loved peace, he did his duty faithfully and well for four years of war when the honor of the nation called him to arms. As congressman, as governor of his state, and finally as president, he rose to the foremost place among our statesmen, reaching a position which would satisfy the keene tion: but he never lost that simple and south of us.

There is a singular appropriateness in the inscriptica on his monument Mr. Cortelyou, whose relations with him were of such close intimacy, gives me the following information about it: On the president's trip to the Pacific slope in the spring of 1901 President Wheeler of the University of California conferred the degree of LL.D. upon him in words so well chosen that they struck the fastidious taste of John Hay, then Secretary of State, who wrote and asked for a copy of them from President Wheeler. On the receipt of this copy he sent the following letter to President McKinley, a letter which now seems filled with a strange and un conscious prescience: Dear Mr. President:

SECRETARY OF STATE IS GIVEN A ROUSING WELCOME.

OFFICIALS MEET TRAIN

Wife and Daughter-Chapultepec Castle Turned Over to Guests for Residence.

Mexico City.—Greeted by several thousand persons, among whom were many members of the American colony in this city, Secretary of State Elihu Root arrived in Mexico City at four o'clock Monday afternoon on the special presidential train which brought him from the border as the guest of the Mexican government. Accompanying him were Mrs. Root and Miss Edith Root.

As the train pulled into the national station, the Artillery band played an American patriotic air and the statesman was given a rousing welcome. Secretary of Foreign Affairs Ignacio Mariscal, who headed the local reception committee, was one of the first to greet Mr. Root on his arrival at the station. The board of governors of the city and the aldermen, in a body, were on hand to extend official welcome to the visitors, Mrs. Landa v Escandon, Mrs. Fernando Rimentel Fagoaga and other prominent women of the city greeted Mrs. Root and Miss Root and extended them welcome.

The visitors were at once conducted outside the station, where car-riages were waiting to take them to Chapultepec. Every arrangement had been made for the reception of the distinguished visitors at Chapultepec. The Gendarmerie band played American and Mexican patriotic airs. Shortly after the arrival at Chapultepec tea was served. The officials of the federal government, with their wives were present. There were no other functions on the entertainment program for the day, and Mr. Root and party were left to recuperate after the long journey from Washington here.

In accordance with the Mexican custom, Chapultepec castle was formally turned over to Mr. Root, who was told that the historic palace would be his residence during his stay in Mexico. The apartments that Mr. Root and family will occupy are the most elaborate in Mexico. A tele graph room with two of the most expert operators from the Central station in charge was fitted up and will be at the disposal of Mr. Root. An automobile and two carriages pulled by the finest horses of the government stables, have been set aside for the use of the secretary and his family.

J. D. Lee, representing the plaintiff, announced the action as "Platt against Platt," and he said the motion was for the purpose of framing an issue. He said he wanted the details to become generally known.

John B. Stanchfield, who appeared for Senator Platt, asked that the matter be heard in private by a referee He said Senator Platt was never married to Miss Wood, and therefore there was no ground for divorce. Jus-

HOME-MADE REMEDY

INEXPENSIVE AND EASILY PRE-PARED BY ANYONE.

le Said to Promptly Relieve Backach and Overcome Kidney Trouble and Bladder Weakness Though Harmless and Pleasant to Take.

What will appear very interesting to many people here is the article taken from a New York daily paper, giving a simple prescription, as formu lated by a noted authority, who claims that he has found a positive remedy to cure almost any case of back-ache or kidney or bladder derangement, in the following simple prescription, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce: Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime. A well-known authority, when asked regarding this prescription, stated that the ingredients are all harmless, and can be obtained at a small cost from any good prescription pharmacy, or the mixture would be put up if asked to do so. He further stated that while this prescription is often prescribed in rheumatic afflictions with splendid results, he could see no reason why it would not be a splendid remedy for kidney and urinary troubles and backache, as it has a peculiar action upon the kidney structure, cleansing these most important or gans and helping them to sift and filter from the blood the foul acids and waste matter which cause sickness and suffering. Those who suffer can make no mistake in giving it a

PROLIFIC GARDEN

ENGLISHMAN'S FIRST AND SUC CESSFUL ATTEMPTS IN MANI-TOBA-SOIL PRODUCES STRIKING RESULTS.

The Winnipeg (Canada) Free Press of a few days since contains account of the success that followed the efforts of William Knowles, an Englishman who located near Winnipeg, Manitoba. This is but one of many letters giving experiences of settlers, and should be encouraging to those who are looking about for a new home in which they may better their conditions. The following is a copy of the article referred to:

William Knowles, who cultivates some twelve acres of land just below Middlechurch ferry on east side of the Red River has probably as fine a display of horticultural products as any in Manitoba. The whole of his hold-ing is in a high state of cultivation and literally crowded with splendid vegetable specimens, which have for-tunately escaped damage by hail, although heavy storms have more than once occurred within a few miles. The potatoes are a wonderful crop, and he expects to raise 1,500 bushels from his patch of 4½ acres. A half dozen of tubers selected yesterday average more than a pound each. Adjoining the potatoes may be seen a marvelous collection of tomatoes. There are 600 plants, all growing under an enorweight of fruit. One single stock picked yesterday contained eighteen tomatoes and weighed four pounds. This extraordinary example of marvelous growth, together with some of the potatoes were sent to the Free Press office.

The proprietor was the first in town with several specimens, including green corn. The season has been favorable for onions, and one square patch of nearly an acre is looking re-markably healthy. In addition there are good crops of cabbages, cauliflower, turnips, parsnips, carrots, pump-kins, marrows, cucumbers, celery, peas, lettuce, rhubarb, etc. The floral department has not been neglected and charming display of all the well known blooms were shown, including a specially choice lot of asters.

Mr. Knowles, who gained most of his gardening experience in England, is loud in his praise of Manitoba soil for vegetable raising, and is gratified with the result of his first attempt at extensive horticulture.

When a woman suffering from female trouble is told that an operation is necessary, it, of course, frightens her.

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but a great many women have been cured over the course of great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation has been decided upon as the only cure.

The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who by taking made from native roots and herbs, have escaped serious operations, as evidenced by Miss Rose Moore's case, of 307 W. 26th St., N. Y. She writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—'Lydis E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of the very worst form of female trouble and I wish to express to you my deepest gratitude. I suffered intensely for two years so that I was unable to attend to my duties and was a burden to my family. I doctored and doctored with only temporary relief and constantly objecting to an operation which I was advised to undergo. I decided to try Lydis E. This and other such cases should encourage every woman to try Lydis E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before she submits to an operation.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.

SEVEN SURE SYMPTOMS.

By J. R PEPPER.

Seven sure symptoms of good Sunday school officer or teacher are as follows;

1. Inflammation of the Heart. -No matter what other qualifications one may possess, without deep-seated love for the work and for souls, he will not succeed. The heart must de in

2. Enlargement of the Head -Not big head, by any means but a genuine seeking after knowledge, the accretion of which will cause an enlargement ment from a table, much has absolutely necessary to success in the work. The evidence of life is growth. Growth means enlargement.

3. Dilation of the Eyes .-Wide-open eyes to the best things, new and old. Such eyes THE CHICAGO DAILY FARMERS AND see people and recognize them across the street. Such eyes often make journeys of discovery and bring back spoils, which cause the squint eyes of other people to dilate and grow bigger.

4. An Unknotted Counter nance-Vinegar is an excellent article for some things, but not intended to drink or bathe one's face in just before sitting down with young minds. A smile travels the whole circumference of one's being as quick as the wink of the eye, and can embrace a score as easily as one. It is the gentle but successful knock at the inner door of every heart, the passover of admission to the most sacred shrine. Let us rub the knots out of our faces with the chubby hand of a smile.

5. Itching of the Hand-It is said that the average Sunday school life is seven years. Hence the necessity for a genuine case of seven-year itch of the hand on the part of Sunday-school workers. A deep cable message from the heart is often conveyed through the five electric tips on the lower end of the arm.

6. Nervousness of the Feet. -How much we need workers whose feet are nerve-webbed! Feet that can not stay off the track of the sick, the absent, the indifferent, the sinning. Such feet pass the place of the new scholars also, and win them to walk in the same path.

7. Stiffness of the Backbone -This means backbone gymnastics with right purpose. The best plans may all fail for lack of stick-at-it-ness. Many car and do start-excellent things. How many keep sticking to them to successful issue? Stiff backbones are much needed in this day of multitudinous enterprises One good plan, thoroughly executed, is worth more than a doz en backboneless efforts.

Decter The Itch Where The Itch Is-

Don't dose the stomach to cure czema and other skin diseases.

Those afflicted with eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum or other skin diseases of a similiar nature, should never dose the stomach to rid themselves of the terrible 1tch. They should doctor the itch where the itch is-cure the skin through the skin not through the stomach.

Eczema and other diseases of a kindred kind are skin diseases—not blood diseases. Science has shown that eczema is caused by germs in the skin, and that the disease can be eradicated only by killing the germs.

Dr. Decatur D. Dennis was one of the first physicians to follow out the germ theory in skin diseases, Them he discovered that by mixing oil of wintergreen with other soothing agents he had a liquid prescription which killed the germs and cured the awful itch, leaving the skin white and smooth. Since that time this D. D. D. Prescription has been the standard remedy for skin diseas just as D. D. D. soap is the standard high grade skin soap.

The first few drops of D. D. D. give instant relief from the terrible itch and from the frightful burning; of the diseased skin. So reliable is this D. D. D. remedy that hundreds of physicians prescribe it. It is a wash as thin as water and as mild and as pure, which is applied to the discased portion of the skin.

Mrs. Francis Richmond of Milton. Trimble county Kentucky, writes:

Unique Coremony Performed While Traveling 30 Miles an Hour.

East Chicago.-With no other wed ding bells than the motorman's gong and the conductor's five cent register, John Chikero and Madolena Fillip, of East Chicago, received a "fare" start upon the road of matrimony—they were married by Justice of the Peace George W. Rieland on an Indiana Harbor-East Chicago trolley car while the unique vehicle to happiness rolled along upon its speedy journey. The street car wedding, which was spread over ten miles, had its beginning when Justice Rieland adjourned court at noon and hurried to the street car bent upon keeping an engagement. Just as he left the court building he was stopped by Chikero, who, producing and pointing to his blushing bride to be, demanded that they be married immediately. Haven't time," called the judge, as he made a dash for a car. Mut Chikero and Miss Filling were not to be outdone or outrun They caught the same car. "We must be married," panted the bridegroom to be. "We leave for New York at two o'clock. The judge looked at him a moment, then turned to Attorney Abe Optenbeimer, who happened to be on the car, asked, "Will you be the best man?" The attorney consented. The car was going at 30 miles an hour. The couple stood up in front of the judge, whose back was supported by the front doors. Throughout the wedding the conductor continued to collect his fares.

MESSAGE TO ROOSEVELT.

Motor Boats Convey Parchment from Chicago to St. Louis.

Chicago.-A motor boat expedition carrying a message from Mayor Busse of Chicago, to President Roosevelt started from Chicago on a trip down the drainage canal as far as Ottawa There are two boats in the expedition, the Lizzie S., in command of Capt. John T. Flanning, of the Illinois Motor Boat club, and the Bereda, in command of Capt. Arthur Ballou, of the same club.

Commodore Theodore Wiese, of the Illinois Motor Boat club is the official bearer of the message. He is aboard the Lizzie S. The message is engraved on parchment and inclosed in a leather portfolio. After the arrival at Ottawa, Commodore Wiese turned the document over to the commander of a fleet of motor boats and yachts which will proceed to St. Louis, where the message will be delivered to the president upon his start on the Mississippi river trip. The expedition also will deliver messages from the mayors of Joliet, Lockport, Peoria and other towns along the Boy Groom Arrested.

An hour after the marriage of Charles Edward Armstrong to Miss Bertha Schlumpff, the groom was under arrest on a warrant sworn out by the father of the bride charging him with abduction. The couple eloped from Peoria to this city. On the arrival of the couple in Peoria the state's attorney refused to prosecute Arnsdale on a charge of ab duction. As both parties to the marriage are under age it is probable that they will be held for larceny.

Liquor Dealers of Illinois Demand Such Legislation as Protection.

Rock Island.—The Liquor Dealers association of Illinois closed its sea sion after adopting resolutions favoring what was termed "reasonable and sane legislation" for the regulation of the liquor traffic. As an example of laws that harm the trade without penefiting any one the act governing the sale of intoxicants to drunkards was singled out. It was claimed that saloonkeepers have no opportunity to protect themselves. It was urged that the law be changed to provide for the registry of drunkards by the authorities in each city. East St. Louis was chosen for the next meeting.

GOVERNMENT TRYING HARD TO PREVENT EMIGRATION.

Asserts Panama Canal Laborers Are Treated Atrociously-Minister Cicova Drafts Rigorous Law.

Madrid. — The Spanish gover ment, alarmed at the increasing emigration of Spanish laborers, has entered upon a vigorous effort to pre vent laborers going to Panama for work on the isthmian canal.

The government claims to pos proof that the laborers are grossly deceived by the recruiting agents of the canal and that upon their arrival at Panama they are compelled to live and work under the most atrocious conditions. The complaints, however are plainly traceable to the Spanish landlords, who find their workmen de serting under the prospect of better wages abroad. Within the past two years thousands of Spaniards have gone to the isthmus, and although the number now being forwarded has been reduced to about 150, the applications far exceed that number.

Since the advent of the Maura cal inet the government has been especial ly active. Senor Cieova, the ministe of the interior, has drafted a most rigorous law to restrict emigration and will present it for the approval of the cortes when it assembles nex month. Although it ostensibly recog nizes the right of a Spanish subject to emigrate, it absolutely prohibits the departure of Spaniards subject to military duty and requires the express permission of a department or gration, which the law created, for those desiring to go abroad for the purpose of colonization. Moreover, it reserves to the government the right. for reasons affecting the public good public health, or unusual risks which intending emigrants may incur," to entirely prohibit "temporarily" all emigration to "certain countries of sections."

It also contains another clause aimed directly at canal emigrants, namely, voiding all contracts in which the transportation, as in the case the canal laborers, is to be repaid by The conditions and restrictions it proposes to impose upon the steamship companies are almost prohibitive.

Nebraska Food Commissioner Starts Out to Enforce the Law.

Lincoln, Neb. - Food commission er Johnson is beginning a campaign against the packing house which are offending against the pure food law. Packages of meat must hereafter have the net weight ståmped upon them.

To start his campaign for package of honest weight, Johnson Wednesday ordered the county attorney of Douglas county to institute proceedings against the South Omaha packing houses. It is found that packages of bacon and ham are wrapped with pa per and cloth until five or six per cent. of the stamped weight is thus accounted for. The order is that all Nebraska packers must comply with the law. If outside packers do not, retailers handling the goods will be held responsible.

Springfield.—Seventeen counties in | Chicago World's Coming Fur Center the state will vote in November or the question of saloons or no saloons. In most of them a vote against liquor will bar saloons from the entire county or from practically the entire county. At last one-tenth of the state is likely to be "dry' after the November elections. This is the progress seing made in the direction of forcing one of the two Illinois political issues to the front. The other issue, that of the restriction of Chicago's representation in the general assembly, is being preached all over the state by Speaker Shurtleff, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, running on a restriction platform No legislative action at this session is looked for, but if members of the house of representatives want to debate the question of restriction Mr. Shurtleff will not interfere, and if Chicago asks for any special legislation they will get the chance for such discussion. The liquor question gets to the front first because of the new local option law. Counties not under township organization ,of which there are 18, elect township officials this fall. Seventeen of them have used the privilege granted by the local option law and have asked for a submis sion of the liquor proposition. The vote cannot be taken by counties The liquor interests at Springfield were strong enough to prevent that. but it is taken by precincts in coun ties not under township organization and by townships in the remainder of the state. In the counties which vote on the proposition in November the vote is by precincts, but petitions cov ering every precinct have been filed by nearly half of the counties in volved, and there is a likelihood of the whole territory being declared "dry." The counties which will vote prac tically as an entirety are: Perry, Johnson, Pulaski, Case, Mas sac, Pope, Edwards, Menard, Scott.

The vegetable display, however, was largely in readiness Saturday. The display of corn is or the same large scale as in past years Sangamon county is particularly well represented in this department. Corn vegetables and garden products of all kinds are displayed. The exhibit is in the form of a farm scene, showing the farmhouse, windmill, gardens, barns, etc., all true to life. American flags form the chief decoration in the Dome building, the national emblem is ar ranged in artistic folds about the pillars supporting the balcony which encircles the interior of the building. Owing to the fact that the floral dis play is the largest in the history of the fair, the interior of this building is exceptionally beautiful. Many more conveniences for visitors are found on the ground this year than ever before. One great boon is an abundance of good drinking water. Huge wooden tanks, newly made, are scattered at various points about the grounds, where the crowds are thick est. They are kept filled with ice water for the benefit of the visitors. The exhibit of the country and village schools is especially interesting. Twenty-nine classes of entries by the country schools and 15 in the graded schools are included in the premium list and the schools of Sangamon county are represented in nearly

The campaigh for club members will be extended to the other wards of the city.

Plans are under way to revolution te the longest standing business tradition of the new world—the tradition governing the disposition and sale of the furs of the Northwest Territory. If the project is successful Chicago will soon become the fur center of the world, robbing London of that title, which it has held for 230 years, and business in the skins of animals amounting to over $5,000,000 a year will be thrown to that city. Swiggart, of Joliet, Ill., with offices in the First National Bank building in Chicago, is the man who has evolved the gigantic scheme to turn the fur business of the world to the Windy city. He is president of the Swiggart. Trading company, a competitor of the Hudson Bay Trading company. The foundation of the plan lies in the intention of Mr. Swiggart to ship all the furs purchased from Indian trappers by his own company to Chicago. By so doing, he stated, he hopes soon to be able to force the Hudson Bay Trading company to follow his example, and thus insure to Americans the choicest of all the furs in the world. Mr. Swiggart's plan is recognized as one of the final clashes of modern business methods with business traditions. The Hudson Bay company, organized 230 years ago, his own company, and the Hyslop & Nagle Co., 20 years old, the only traders in the Northwest Terirtory, each since their inauguration has been shipping all furs purchased to London. American buyers going there to secure furs for this country are forced to take second choice. If the fur trade center can be changed to Chicago, as Mr. Swiggart declares it will be within a few years, first choice will be offered Americans at much reduced cost, the saving being effected by the difference in transportation bills on the raw fur. Mr. Swiggart started in the trading business eight years ago. He was among those going to Alaska at the time of the gold fever there, but, recognizing the possibilities of the fur traffic, he entered it.

Aid Roads to Dodge Taxes?

Objections to the state board of equalization's methods of assessing railroads and capital stock and its general course of business took tangible form when the members gathered here. That the attack, was con ing was forecasted late last week to Gov. Deneen and Attorney General Stead! They were preparing to attack the board's rule of assessing railroads and capital stock at only 70 per cent. of their full fair cash value. Warren E. Colburn, of Chicago, offered a resolution asking the attorney general for an opinion on the right and duty of the board to make such sessment. Incorporated in the resolution are allegations that the board is assessing property below a fair cash valuation. The attorney general is appealed to for a decision on the matter. The resolution was deferred for two weeks by a vote of 15 to 6. To Renew "Open Sunday" Fight.

Following the rejection of the proposed new Chicago charter, efforts will be made to renew the fight for an "open Sunday" policy in Illinois. Among the demands made upon the legislature in resolutions adopted by the German-American Press association of the West, at its session in Peoria, is one that the city council of every incorporated city or village in the state be empowered to regulate the sale of intoxicants on Sunday. The German-American Press association of Illinois, the membership of which consist of a large part of the members of the other organization, was in session at the same time and unanimously adopted resolutions protesting against any attempt to restrict the Chicago representation in the general assembly.

McGermick Corrects Statements.

President McCormick has prepared a circular which is being sent to every town along the Illinois river. "So many false statements concerning the proposed work of the sanitary district at Joliet have been given out that it is proper that you should be given a correct statement of the case, says the circular. The president of the district then explains a map accompanying, and asserts that the district will acquire the property south of Joliet and above Lake Joliet to prevent the waters of the channel from overflowing southern Joliet and the surrounding country. That property will be acquired and a levee built re-gardless of whether the legislature gives the district what it desires.

Gossip of People and Events Gathered in Washington

TTASHINGTON.—As a forerunner of the embassy about to be established by the Turkish government in Washington, Mohemd Ali Bey is coming to this capital as minister from the sublime porte. The news came to the state department from Ambassador Leishmann at Constantinople, who cabled the department that the porte had requested him to ascertain whether Mohemd would be acceptable in a ministerial capacity. The department replied affirmatively, and it is understood that the new minister will be in Washington by the time that President Roosevelt returns to this city from his western trip.

The new minister is the son of one of the intimates of the Turkish ruler, the well-known Izzet Bay, the sultan's personal secretary for foreign affairs, which office, neces sarily, has brought him into frequent and close contact with his sovereign. lzzet Bey is also legal adviser to the sublime porte. The fact that with sufficient influence with the sultan to enable him to select almost any diplo matic post for his son, Izzet should have chosen Washington, is regarded as a manifestation of the growing appreciation in Turkey of the import ance of America as a factor in inter-

FAIR DEALING IN ERECTION OF ILLINOIS BUILDINGS

RECORD TO BE PROUD OF

Administration Has Insisted on Open Competition in All Cases, and Taxpayers Have Received Full Value for Their Money.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 23.—The work of the state architect of Illinois cov ers a broad field. He is called upon to design and erect every imaginable type of buildings and improvements various state purposes. He must design root-cellars for the protection and preservation of the vegetables raised on the institution farms or carried for institution consumption. He must design chapels, gymnasiums, park pavilions, armories, swimming pools and drainage systems. Within the past three years he has been called upon to draw plans for and superintend the construction of a palace of justice. To obtain the beat designs, utilize the latest improve-ments and give the state the very best that is obtainable in the way of modern architecture, it is necessary for him to inspect institutions of other states and compare them with institu tions in Illinois, and then with the aid and advice of the superintendents of the Illinois institutions, or departments, to give to the state the most improved designs that he can offer as a result of these comparisons

Within the past two years the state architect of Illinois, W. Carbys Zimmerman of Chicago, has been called upon to superintend work that has cost $3,000,000. Structures which has designed have ranged in value from $1,000 and $350,000. In awarding contracts for the work that has been done a fair deal has been given to contractors.

Upon completion of the plans in every instance bids were publicly advertised for in papers certain to reach all contractors interested. Competition was further encouraged by pri vately inviting desirable bidders to submit estimates. The result of this effort was to produce genuine compe tition, and an unusual number of com petitors submitted estimates for the work. That this plan was a decided advantage to the state has been shown by the results. In most cases the bids were below the cost that could, considering the rise in price of labor and material, be reasonably expected Open to Competition.

In writing specifications for the work a special effort was made to frame them in such a way as to give the dealers and manufacturers of building material, fixtures and equipments an equal opportunity. specifications were worded so definite ly as to call for the best materials to be had and at the same time to make them so broad as not to limit the bidder to any special make or brand. Public work in many instan ces was let for less than was fore cast carefully estimated cost, based on the cost of similar buildings erect ed for private clients. For instance the new supreme court building now being completed in Springfield brought estimates from fourteen gen eral bidders with prices ranging from $148,000 to $181,877. This favorable competition was repeated when the interior finishing of the building was ontracted for

For the extensive repairs and im provements undertaken on the state capitol, similarly satisfactory compotition took place. Detailed estimates had been prepared some years before of the cost of this work and an appropriation based on this estimate was very decidedly reduced, notwithstanding the increased cost of material and labor. When the appropriation was made for these repairs and im provements it was regarded hopeless ly insufficient. Nevertheless, through the close competition which was secured, figures were obtained and con tracts let, which not only kept the cost within the appropriation but left quite a substantial balance in the treasury,

Wherever there was the faintest idea of political or other influence be ing brought to bear, the administration made it a point to see that there was an equal opportunity for all com

Must Round Down Cost.
One of the great difficulties con fronting the state architect is to plan and design the buildings so as to keep their cost within the appropriations provided. Appropriations for the state's new buildings can, of course be only a fraction of its total income and the amount available for some of the buildings is very small, considering the requirement caused by the constant growth and rapid develop ment of the institutions and depart ments. The architect must plan a high-type building so as to give the greatest capacity at the lowest pos-sible cost, which, of course, must be within the amount of the appropria-

SAVED STATE MONEY tion. It can be pointed out with considerable satisfaction that the control siderable satisfaction that the cost of the new buildings last year was kept within the amounts appropriated for the service.

Among Buildings Designed.

At the Illinois State Normal Schools n auditorium-manual arts building has been provided for, while a dormitory een erected at the Eastern Illinois State Normal School, Charleston, and a model school building erect ed at the Southern Illinois Normal School, Carbondale. An operating building and service and ward buildings have been erected at the Illinois Charitable Eye & Ear Infirmary,

The architect drew plans for barracks and one armory for the Illinois National Guard at Camp Logan. He provided designs for the monu ments and grounds at Fort Massac. The plans for the state building at the Jamestown Exposition, Norfolk, Virginia, were drawn by him and its erection superintended by him. In addition to this regular work Governor Deneen called upon him for a complete inspection of all the state charitable institutions, prisons and reformatories This inspection was made and a com plete report was presented to the governor. In that report the state architect found occasion to criticise the construction of a number of the institutions as follows:

"It was found that the structural parts of the buildings, old and new, are in as good a condition and repair as can reasonably be expected. It would appear, however, that in the older buildings the fixtures, the equip-ment and the finish, viz: the nonstructural part of the buildings, have in some of the institutions been allowed to run down, are antiquated, obsolete and worn out, so that these features are dangerous and unsanitary in many instances. This is es pecially true of the plumbing, floors and in the majority of cases of the machinery and electrical work.

Fire Escapes Needed. "Your committee was unpleasantly impressed by the fact that with very few exceptions all of the institutional buildings, old and new, are of ordinary non-fireproof construction. This regrettable fact would, in view of the number and character of the occupants, necessarily demand the most complete system of fire escapes, exits and life extinguishing arrangements possible to arrange for. It was found however, that a most lamentable condition existed in most institutions regarding this matter. In very few insti tutions are there sufficient exits and fire escape arrangements, or is there a fire extinguishing system with a sufficient-water supply that would, in case of emergency, answer the pur-pose and prevent a catastrophe too fearful to think of."

In view of the large number of changes that the state architect thought should be made it was recommended that these improvements be undertaken in the following order: First-In the physical operation of he institutions. Second-For the safety of the inmates. Third-For the well-being and comfort of the inmates. Fourth-To improve sanitary and neral conditions. Fifth-To promote economy and efficiency of operation. While members of the appropriations committee of the 45th general assembly took occasion to criticise the tions, and some even went to the extent of advocating the abolishment of his position, they finally recognized the importance of his recommendations and voted to provide the various institutions with the fire protec improving the heating and ventilating in the institutions, the extension of the water system and the improvement of the sewer system and engin eering plants has been of material benefit to the state because it has provided the institutions with the most modern improvements that are available. Zimmerman has devoted much time to the study of literature bearing upon state institutions and in inspecting late Nelson Morris, as the head of the big Chicago packing concern, was born in Chicago October 1, 1866. He received his education in the public schools of the city and embarked in business with his father in 1880. Rapid promotion followed and at the time of the death of Nelson Morris the son was vice president and treasurer of the company. He is also vice president and treasurer of the Fairbank Canning company, vice president of the Consumers' Cotton Oil company and a director of the National Packing company, A. M. Rothschild & Co. and the Union Rendering company. In addition to being an officer or director in various other companies Mr. Morris is a member of the Chicago board of trade. Mr. Morris is a member of the Mid-Day and Standard clubs and lives at 4455 Grand boulevard.

Mr. Morris, in becoming the head of the big packing company, will have charge of one of the largest business institutions in the country. His father came to the United States while a boy, without a cent of money in his pockets, and hired out for a mere pittance per week. He worked at the butcher trade and in no great while started in the meat business for himself, success crownng his efforts from the outset.

The attack on the meat trusts aroused the country but a short time ago and the big combine is said to-day to be suffering from the notoriety it gained, and it is declared that the foreign trade of the meat barons has not yet recovered from the shock and exposure.

FULFILLING A GREAT MISSION

.Joseph Hodges Choate, in his address at the unveiling of the statue to his great cousin, Rufus Choate, in the Boston courthouse October 15, 1898, said, "Many a noted orator, many a great lawyer has been lost in oblivion in 40 years after the grave has closed over him."

To-day Joseph H. Choate seems to be in no great danger of oblivion. As one of America's delegates to the peace conference, he has been a commanding figure, and if the conference really accomplishes anything it will bear the strong impress of Mr. Choate.

Born on January 24, 1832, at Salem, Mass., of colonial stock on both sides, he graduated from the Dane Law school in 1854 and was admitted to the Massachusetts bar, but a year later went to New York and began an active life that has led to the sounding of his name around the globe. He became the leader of the New York bar and handled some of the largest and most important cases tried there and in the higher courts. Except as president of the New York constitutional convention 1894, he had filled no public office, and, apparently, had aspired to none. In the following year, however, he stepped upon the broader stage of national and international life, as ambassador of the United States at the court of St. James, the most important foreign station within the gift of the government.

Benson is nearly 70 years old, a jolly, jovial, genial sort of a man who wears a $100 suit of clothes as if it were a ten dollar "hand-me-down Benson's downfall and exposure came when the report of the interior department was filed some time ago and he was charged with being the head of land swindlers operating over a dozen western tates. After the report came the arrest.

Benson, however, was well known to the government at Washington, having been chased out of the capital not so very long after the war for being mixed up in some kind of a shady financial transaction. It was Benson's accuracy that caused his downfall. He was a surveyor and in making surveys for the government his work never showed an error. All the other surveyors had trouble at the end of their lines, but Benson—never. He had contracts for enrolling township after township, and the work called for the payment of hundreds of thousands of dollars to him. He collected, in fact, above a quarter of a million, and no mistakes in his work. An investigation followed and it was found that Benson was a clever thief-who sat in his office, made his maps and collected pay for work he hadn't done.

But it was under the "lieu land" act, signed by President McKinley on June 4, 1897, that Benson was convicted. Benson's scheme was to send out dummies to get land from the government. In this he was assisted by his partner Hyde. The land was then turned over to Benson and Hyde. They ran out of names and advertised for help. The names of the applicants were used and more land obtained. They became bolder and bought up state officials essential to their schemes, and always got first whack at the state and school lands about to be incorporated in a forest reserve. When a bona fide entryman came along and contrived to get in ahead of them the state officials held up his entry until the swindlers could be notified and get a false claim filed.

McCREA PICKED FOR LONG TRIP

Cant. Henry McCrea, commanding the battle ship Georgia, may not be included in the older officers who are to give way to younger blood on the battleships that are to make the long trip from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Capt. McCrea is an efficient officer, and only recently was commended by the president for his actions on the Georgia at the time of the explosion in which 11 of the ship's officers and crew were killed. Also the president, through Capt. McCrea, complimented the crew of the ship for its conduct during that fearful mishap.

Of the 18 officers now commanding the ships that are scheduled to take the long voyage, it is said only four, and with Capt. McCrea, only five, will be permitted to go.

when he was appointed to Annapolis from Indiana. He prevented the landing of troops for an attack on the town, which would have been extremely dangerous to the life and property of foreigners. It was due to a conference between Capt. McCrea and the commander of the Colombian gunboat, Gen. Pinson, that an indefinite postponement of the proposed bombardment of the city was obtained. The ultimate result was that Panama achieved its independence with scarcely a shot fired or a drop of blood shed ... Furthermore the United States was able at last to secure the
