APPETITE FLAGGING.

Supervisor Warren A. Parkiser, who, according to reports, is engaged in the task of eating one rabbit a day for forty days, on a wager, called on The Leader Saturday. He was accompanied by a body guard, Supervisors D. W. Howe and W. F. Reed, whose duty it was to ward off the hounds or restrain him when he heard them baying. Park informed us that his appetite for bunny was flagging, and that unless some stimulator was found he was afraid he'd lose his bet. We gave him a dose of our own "appetizer" and he departed in a more cheerful and hopeful mood.—Shelbyville Leader.

Todds Point.

W. H. McKinney, wife and daughter, Miss Lisa, spent New Year's day with C. H. Beck and wife.
