FROM IOWA

cowa, Feb. 2, 1909.

Mr. Jesse trains trout:

Well, I and the maybe you would see by the pers about our blizzard in Iowa. , last week it was warm sun short all the time just like spring. I worked around in shirt sleeves. Thursday it clouded up and rained as big a rain as I ever saw. thundered and lightened awful. The wind went to the northwest about 8 p. m. and by 12 p. m. it was blowing supported the party. Twelve years a hurricane and snowing. The house rocked as I never saw it before, I thought it would blow over, sure. It never got light until 10 a. m. Friday. I went to the barn about 7 a. m., couldn't see my hand before me, got lost in barn lot, and had to follow the fence to the house. Snow drifted against north side of barn to the top of big doors to feet high. Had to go to south side to get in. Horses and hogs all right. My cattle left the place, went southeast; fences never stopped them. I found six on my place and got them home, and went to look for the rest. I found ten in the creek snowed fast, pulled them out with horses, and saved eight of them. One yearling and one 2 yearold died, found one three miles south east of home, one 2-year-old steer and one black calf I can't find, dead or alive. I lost four head altogether, but I was lucky. I was out looking for my two yesterday, and saw twelve in its descent and the wind soon head of grown cattle dead in one pile. Everybody lost cattle and hogs and a few horses are dead. There are dead cattle all over this country; hundreds and hundreds of them. The damage will run into the thousands of dollars. I couldn't begin to tell you what a storm it was. It lasted forty hours. The wind was so awful and the snow so thick you couldn't get anywhere. The storm drove the stock ahead of it. They left the buildings and stack and went away. I was out from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Friday after my cattle; had to go to neighbors to warm eight times. I ze my face and ears till they are

To Mend a Roof.

In the case of old shingle roofs a leak may start at any time during the winter. These leaks can be stopped by slipping a thin piece of tin, about the same width as a shingle, under them from the outside. This is better than to use a new shingle, which may raise the edges of those about it, and thus make the leak worse.

MORE DEVELOPMENT

One of the largest transactions and one that means much for the future of Poinsett county was completed this week. Negotiations have been pending for some time whereby men of means from Omaha and Chicago were to purchase of Irving Shuman, the well known banker of Sullivan, Ill., the principal part of his real estate holdings in this county. Mr. will be in control of the new company. This new company will have a capital stock of $100,000.00 and will be known as the Poinsett Land and Improvement Co. As the name implies so will the new company direct its efforts principally to the colonizing of their large tracts of lands, to the the re-surveying of their lands into 40, 80 and 160 acre tracts. Special inducements will be offered to men who will move on the land they purchase, and we have the assurance from one of the owners, that these tracts will be sold only to actual farmers. This will mean much to our the soil that will produce any crop that can be grown elsewhere, a beautiful climate and with hundreds of but success for the future. The new company will have offices at Chicago, Sullivan, Ill., and either Harrisburg or Weiner, Ark. Messrs. Kibbe and Shuman came into this county several years ago and purchased valuable was when land sold at figures that today seem impossible, but they were this productive soil in Poinsett county would increase in value very rapidly whenever the drainage was an assured fact. L'Anguille valley land has coubled in value since they came, the drainage boats are launched, rice. has been successfully tested, a healthy growth is surely with us. We are glad to note that Mr. Shuman has not disposed of his private holdings as on his different visits here he has made many warm friends. Mr. Kibbe will spend the greater portion of his time with us and will personally look after the general improvements. He has made many friends here, is a staunch supporter and firm believer in Poinsett county's future. We wish him success and sincerely hope that he will remain with us permanently. Other developments are sure to follow. - Modern News, Harrisburg, Ark CHURCH SERVICES.

Promotion of the Welfare of Working men Principal Object of Meeting to Convene Feb. ruary 10.

Washington.-Invitations have been extended to more than a score of prominent labor leaders in all parts of the country, asking them to participate in the proposed "council of labor to be held on February 10 at the department of commerce and labor, when questions of vital moment to the wage earners of the country will be discussed. Samuel Gompers is among those invited.

It is the earnest hope of those who will attend this conference that some plan or plans may be evolved which will promote the welfare of the wageworkers. The subjects with which the conference will be called upon to deal are indicated in the invitations which have been addressed to the heads of the principal labor organizations by Daniel J. Keefe, commissioner general of immigration, who was designated by Secretary Straus as one of the committee on arrangements.

Other questions which will figure in the council's deliberations will be as to the advisability of recommendations legislation extending the steamboat inspection service to include the inspection of locomotive boilers on interstate railroads, and how the division of information of the department of commerce and labor may be administered for the best interests of the wage-earners generally.

GEN. GOMEZ IS INAUGURATED AS ISLAND'S PRESIDENT.

Ceremonies Preceded by Brilliant IIlumination and Farewell Ball for American Officials.

Havana.—Cuba formally passed back into the hands of the Cubans at noon Thursday, when the new government, headed by President Gomez and Vice-President Zayas, was inaugurated.

The ceremonies were simple. Gen Gomez took the oath from the chief justice of the supreme court and made a brief address to the populace from the balcony of the palace. Afterward in the reception room of the palace Gov. Magoon read the order of President Roosevelt restoring the island and its affairs to the newly elected government.

The coming of this new day of Cuban liberty was signaled by a general display of fireworks, the velvet blackness of the tropical midnight being set aflame by screeching rockets and bombs which sent down showers of golden rain and gleaming, varicolored lights. The streets of the city. which were brilliantly illuminated and garlanded with chains of incandescent bulbs, were thronged and a carnival spirit everywhere prevailed. Thou sands of people gathered around the Clerks' club throughout the night, where inaugural and farewell balls were held jointly in honor of President Gomez and Vice-President Zayas and Gov. Letter Reveals Sense of Humor of Which This Great Man Was Possessed---"Tragedy" That Culminated in Joke on Springfield Citizens

Among legal records in the posses- Tuesday, at 1 o'clock p. m., William sion of Mr. John F. Geeting, prominant Henry started home without him.

nent Chicago attorney and editor of In a day or two Henry and one or American Criminal Reports, is the following letter written by Abraham Lincoln in 1841. It appeared originally in the Quincy Whig of April 9, 1846, and in that article, probably written by Lincoln himself (for it is known that he took much interest in the features of the case) the following lines apear: "On the next Monday Myers arrived at Springfield, bringing with him the now famed Fisher, in full life and proper person." Evidently the letter of Lincoln was written before Fisher had been found.

Springfield, June 19, 1841.—Dear Speed: We have had the highest state of excitement here for a week past that our community has ever wit-nessed; and although the public feeling is somewhat allayed, the curious affair which aroused it is very far from being over, yet cleared of mys-tery. It would take a quire of paper to give you anything like a full ac-count of it, and I, therefore, only pro-

The chief personages in the drams are Archibald Fisher, supposed to be murdered, and Archibald Trailor, Henmy Trailor and William Trailor, supposed to have murdered him. The three Trailors are brothers. On Sat-erday evening, being the 29th of May, Fisher and William came to Henry's dn a one-horse dearborn, and there stayed over Sunday; and Monday all three came to Springfield (Henry on horseback), and joined Archibald at Myers', the Dutch carpenter. That evening at supper Fisher was missing, and so next morning some ineffectual

In a day or two Henry and one or two of his Clary Grove neighbors came back for him again, and advertised his disappearance in the papers.

The mass of the people commenced a systematic search for the dead body, while Wickersham was dispatched to arrest Henry Trailor at the Grove, and Jim Maxcy to Warren to arrest William. On Monday last, Henry was brought in, and showed an evident inclination to insinuate that he knew Fisher to be dead, and that Archibald and William had killed him. He said guessed the body could be found in Spring creek, between the Beards-town road and Hickox's mill. Away the people swept like a herd of buffalo, and cut down Hickox's mill-dam nolens volens, to draw the water out of the pond, and then went up and down, and down and up the creek, fishing and raking, and raking and duck-ing, and diving for two days; and, after all, no dead body found. In the meantime a sort of scuffing-ground had been found in the brush in the angle, or point, where the road leading into the woods past the brewery, and the one leading in past the brick grove met. From the scuffle-ground was the sign of something about the size of a man having been dragged to the edge of the thicket, where joined the track of some small wheeled carriage drawn by one horse, as shown by the road-track.

Archibald and Henry were both present. Lamborn prosecuted, and Logan, Baker and your humble servant defended. A great many witnesses were ntroduced and examined, but I shall only mention those whose testimony seemed most important. The first of these was Capt. Ransdell. He swore that, when William and Henry left Springfield for home on Tuesday before mentioned, they did not take the direct route—which, you know, leads by the butcher shop; but that they followed the street north until they got

Henry was then introduced by the prosecution. He swore that, when they started for home, they went out north as Ransdell stated, and turned down west by the brick-yard into the woods, and there met Archibald; that they proceeded a small distance further. when he was placed as a sentinel to watch for and announce the approach of anyone that might happen that way; that William and Arch. took the dearborn out of the road a small distance to the edge of the thicket where they stopped, and he saw them lift the body of a man into it; that they moved off with the carriage in the direction of Hickox's mill, and he loitered about for something like an hour, When William returned with the carriage, but without Arch., and said they had put him in a safe place; that they went somehow, he did not know exactly how, into the road close to the brewery, and proceeded on to Clary's Grove. He also stated that some time during the day William told him that he and Arch, had killed Fisher the evening before; that the way they did it was by him (William) knocking him down with a club, and Archibald then choking him to death.

An old man from Warren, called Dr. Gilmore, was then introduced on the part of the defense. He swore that he had known Fisher for several years; that Fisher had resided at his house a long time at each of the different spells; once while he built a barn for him, and once while he was doctored for some chronic disease; that two or three years ago Fisher had a serious hurt in his head by the bursting of a gun, since which he had been subject of over Sunday; and Monday all as shown by the standards.

On Thursday last Jim Maxey to continued bad health and occasional res, the Dutch carpenter. That rem. On the same day Arch. was arrived, and put in jell. Yesterday (Friday that Maxey arrested William as next moraing some ineffectual day) William was put upon his examthat the control of the doctor) was from the was made for him; and on ining trial before May and Lavely; on his return, about 11 o'clock, found Fisher at his house in bed, and apparently very unwell; that he asked him how he had come from Springfield; that Fisher said he had come by Peoria, which showed that he at the time of speaking did not know where he had been wandering about in a state of derangement. He further stated that in about two hours he received a note from one of Trailor's friends advising him of his arrest and requesting him to go on to Springfield as a witness to testify as to the state of ith in former he immediately set off, calling up two of his neighbors as company, and riding all evening and all night, overtook Maxcy and William at Lewiston in Fulton county. That Maxcy refusing to discharge Trailor upon his state ment, his two neighbors returned, and he came to Springfield.

Here the testimony ended, and the Trailors were discharged, Archibald and William expressing, both in word and manner, their entire confidence that Fisher would be found at the doctor's by Galloway, Mallory and Myers, who a day before had been dispatched for that purpose; while Henry still protested that no power on earth could ever show Fisher alive.

When the doctor's story was first made public, it was amusing to scan and contemplate the countenances, and hear the remarks of those who had been actively engaged in search for the dead body; some looked quizzical, some melancholy, and some furiously angry. Porter, who had been very active, swore he always knew the man was not dead, and that he had not stirred an inch to hunt for him. Langford, who had taken the lead in cutting down Hickox's milldam, and wanted to hang Hickox for objecting, looked most awfully woebe gone; he seemed the "wictim of unrequited affection," as represented in the comic almanacs we used to laugh And Hart, the little drayman that hauled Molly home once, said it was too damned bad to have so much trouble and no hanging after all.

I commenced this letter yesterday, since which I received yours of the 13th. I stick to my promise to come to Louisville. Nothing new here, except what I have written. I have not seen — since my last trip; and I am going out there as soon as I mail this letter. Yours forever, Hopkins Loses Another Vote-Tippit Democrats Revolt in House and Adoption of Organization Slate.

THURSDAY'S BALLOT. Results of Earlier Ballots. 1st. 12th. 17th. 21st 85 17 Foss16 Shurtleff12 15 McKinley Lowden Stringer76

Springfield. — But one senatorial vote was taken by the joint session Thursday and it was void of interesting results. The program was made to contain but one ballot in order that the members of the two houses might get away from the legis-lative halls in time to catch the early afternoon trains for home. Under joint resolution the two houses adjourned until ten o'clock Tuesday morning.

Quinn

Yates Oglesby

Minor changes occurred when the rolls of the senate and the house were called, with the net result that Senator Hopkins had one vote less than Wednesday on the twenty-first ballot. The Foss vote remained the same. Shurtleff finished with one less, and Yates doubled his holdings from 2 to 4. Senator Hopkins' vote in the senate totaled the same as it did on the twenty-first ballot. Senator Humphrey who voted for Hopkins on the twentyfirst, was absent, but Senator McElvain switched from Lowden to Hop kins and filled the breach. Hopkins' loss was on the house side. again kicked over the traces and went to Shurtleff, a gain of one for speaker; but Lane evened up the Shurtleff change by voting for Yates. The loss of one on Shurtleff's total is due to the absence of Frank J. Mc-Nichols, whose father is dead in Chicago. Representative Dudgeon paired off with McNichols and was recorded as present but not voting. The house and senate divided the honor of doubling the vote for ex-Gov. Yates. The additions were Senator Henson, who committees on judicial apportionment voted for Oglesby upon the last ballot are appointed they will meet jointly on Wednesday, and Representative

Mr. Hull led the break from Hopkins on the nineteenth ballot and Senator Jones followed on the senate roll-call in the same joint ballot. Each gentlemen was permitted to explain his vote and this gave the opportunity to publicly renounce any further obligation to the Hopkins candidacy. It is doubtful if similar action by any other men in the legislature 'would have been considered so harmful to Mr. Hopkins' interests. Hull and Jones are the leaders in their respective branches of the general assembly who have stood firmly up to this time for the things which the primary and caucus represents. In explaining his vote Hull said:

"I have tried to be a consistent Re publican; I have followed the princi-ple of majority rule as represented by the caucus for 18 ballots. It is a fact however, that in the caucus no resolu tion was passed binding those who participated therein to vote for all eternity or any other length of time for the caucus choice. In the light of this fact, the caucus must be said to have instructed us to vote for its choice for a reasonable length of time or until it seemed impossible to elect Mr. Hopkins to the senate, and there after left us to our individual choice.

"In my judgment it is new imposs ble to elect Mr. Honkins not withstand ing he has the greatest number of votes of any candidate before this joint assembly. I feel, therefore, that I have fulfilled all caucus obligations and doing so have fulfilled any obliga-tions imposed upon me by the broad-est interpretation of the primary law, for the primary law, with the popular vote on United States senatorahip, cannot be said to have instructed us to remain in a legislative deadlock for an indefinite length of time. Every Faction Represented.

In the frameup of the house appointees the announcement of which precipitated the trouble in the Democratic ranks, an attempt was made by the slate makers to take care of the outsiders in a way that would forestall opposition. Every faction in the house was given representation, the controlling organization accepting some of the regular caucus candidates who had been decided upon by the progressives and giving other places to Democrats not attached to the Brown following:

Favor District Apportionment,

A new apportionment of the circuit court districts of the state is hoped for before the primary election in April. With this object in view Speaker Shurtleff has decided to appoint the judicial apportionment committee of the house at office.

It was generally agreed that a twothirds vote or an emergency clause is not necessary to make an appor tionment act operative at once, in as much as the constitution provides for the making of a new apportion just preceding to the June election secure a clear interpretation of the other points of the law a committee consisting of Senator Gardner resentatives Chiperfield and Crawford was informally named to obtain an opinion from Attorney General Stead on the subject.

Considerable difference in opinion exists among the members on the subject of judicial apportionment, and it is not improbable that consider opposition will be made to whatever plan is suggested. The principal propo sition in the bills already introdu on the subject is the creation of one additional judgeship in each circuit outside of Cook county. One of the bills reduces the number of circuits to 16, while the other makes no change in the number.

No change is made in the counties comprising the Sixteenth district, which includes Sangamon, Scott, Calhoun, Greene, Jersey and Macoupin counties.

As soon as the house and senate in an effort to facilitiate action.

Deep Waterway Bill Is in.

Gov. Deneen's deep waterway bill was introduced by Senator Schmitt. Under it the proceeds of the $20,000,-000 bond issue will be spent by a board of five commissioners, drawing $5,000 a year each, appointed by the governor and holding office six years. Other features of the bill are:

Five million dollars in bonds may be sold in the next two years, and additional bonds may be issued thereafter as fast as money is needed to do the work outlined by the engineer.

Police powers for two miles each side of the canal are given the commission, and a police force may be employed

A 14-foot channel, at least 200 feet wide at the bottom, is provided for.

Commissioners must give a $25,000

Power of eminent domain and the right to condemn and buy private property needed for the waterway are given the board.

Right to lease water power, subject to conditions of publicity; no lease may exceed ten years, unless under a provision that the rental shall be fixed at least once in ten years by a hoard of appraisers.

Salary Bill Up to Governer

Without waiting for the expected opinion from Attorney General Stea egarding the legality of the amended salary bill, the senate at its morning session concurred in the house amend-ments. If Gov. Deneen affixes his signature of approval to the measure, the members will be able to draw the entire $2,000 compensation during the present session, instead of receiving $1,000 a year and waiting until the end of the year for that.

Impure Water Kills Horses,

The head veterinary of the state was called to the John P. Rose farm on Sand Creek one day last week to investigate the conditions which were killing off valuable horses. After studying the conditions for sometime was caused by drinking impure water. Three valuable horses belonging to Mr. Rose were already dead, and three ground unable to raise a muscle. The state veterinary feared before his arrival that some contagious disease was taking the stock, but as soon as he saw them he realized that there was local trouble. An old well in which the water was so putrid that it smelled bad, was located in the field where the horses had been kept, and this was the cause of the poisoning. Usually horses will not drink such water, but in this case they were forced to it.-Ex.

FEEBLE OLD LABY Has Strength Restored By Vinol

Mrs. Michael Bloom of Lewistown Pa., who is 80 years of age, says: "For a long time I have been so feeble that I have had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair. I had no strength and took cold at the slightest provocation, which invariably settled on lungs, and a cough would result. My son learned of the end liver proparation called Vinol, and procured a bottle for me. It built up my strength rapidly, and after taking three bottles I am able to do most of my work, and I can walk a quarter of a mile easily. Every aged or weak person who requires strength should try Vinol. I am delighted with what it has done for

"Mr. C. J. We fenced three sections and the two homesteads, and built a house, barn, corrals and granary, and have enlarged some of these build-We have broken 200 acres of land, which has been sowed to oats and wheat. During the severe winter of two years ago the winter wheat killed out somewhat, and our crop yielded only ten bushels to the acre, but the spring wheat went 24 bushels to the acre. In this country we must be prepared for storms and cold, at times 20 to 30 below zero, yet on the whole the winters are mild; and while there are exceptional crops, it is fair to say that the average farmer can depend on having a yield in average acre for spring wheat; and winter t in our immediate neighborhood yields from 25 to 30 bushels to the acre on the average.

We have now quite a bunch of horses, over 50 in all, about 350 sheep, after having sold 140 for mutton this fall. We have 20 head of pure bred registered Shropshire, which are worth $20 each. The average price received for mutton sheep was $5.00 and a little over. Port brings 5 and 6 cents a pound. We have about 30 head of cattle on our yearsh head of cattle on our ranch now, and last winter they picted their en-tire living from our pasture, running to the straw stacks for shelter at night. "The increase of land values has been extraordinary. Our land four years ago cost us a little ass than $6.00 an acre. We have sold one section for $15.00, but we would not sell any more for less than $25.00 per acre, as we expect the railroad within four miles of our ranch within the next 18 months. FLEET OF FLOWER BOATS DE-STROYED AT CANTON.

BODIES RECOVERED

Scores of Chinese Jump Into Bay and Drown-British Steamer Clan-Ranald Sinks with 47 Men.

Canton.—At least 250 lives were lost in a fire which occurred Monday in a fleet of flower boats. The charred bodies of 179 victims have already been recovered, but many ersons are still missing.

The disaster occurred in the harbor shortly after noon, and the persons on shore fled in wild panic lest the flames spread to the small wooden buildings which lined the harbor front. As a result there was no effort on the part of the municipal authorities to go to the rescue of the hundreds in the harbor for some time. When finally aid was sent more than 200 lives had been snuffed out.

Scores of Chinese jumped into the waters of the bay to escape death by fire, and they were drowned. The scene was terrible. When the excitement on the shore had subsided and the Chinese seemed to regain their senses relatives of some of the victims rushed madly up and down the quays shouting for some one to save their loved ones. Some made futile efforts to launch boats and several were recorded in that manner.

The lighting of a match on one of the boats is said to have been the cause of the disaster. Before the owners of the craft in the vicinity were sware of what was happening a great sheet of flame leaned from vessel to vessel, leaving death in its wake. It fire had burnt itself out and then the effort to secure the remains of the victims commenced. This was attended by much peril because of the dense pall of smoke which hung over the river, and several of the rescuers were overcome and had to be taken ashore to be resuscitated.

EXTRAORDINARY INCREASE IN 250 DEAD IN FIRE Talks to Salespeople

By MISS DIANA HIRSCHLER, LL. B. (Expert Trainer in Salesmanship)

Generating Selling Optimism

Mr. Salesman has the dyspepsia. bother about directing: the stomach, Certainly a man has a right to have his own dyspepsia if he wants to—he all take care of themselves if you only pays the price for it, and a heavy one, at that.

Well no, not exactly; a salesman be longs to the public. If he can get the dyspepsia and not make the public help him pay for it has has the argument on his side. The trouble is, in spite of dictionaries, dyspepsia be-longs not to the digestion alone, but also to the temper. It colors mental outlook blue.

When the mind has been theroughly eeped in blueing it is not well to air

The mind must be present in selling if the sales-person really wishes to make a record. Of course, a record is sometimes forced upon a sales-pera in spite of himself, but such luck does not become epidemic. In brief, dyspepsia pinches the temper of the seller—and what is more disastrous to good selling than nipped temper?

Occasionally the customer thinks he has a right to have the dyspepsia too; and I don't know but that he has this right in so far as the store is concerned. He does not belong to the store, but the store belongs to When dyspepsia meets dyspepsia look out for that sales-record. Then doe the thing that is crying to be sold hold its breath to see who comes out on top.

Did you, Mr. Salesman, ever realize how it concerns your duty to the public to chew your food so that chunks of it do not make your digestive apparatus go on a strike? Nature has given you wonderful machines to prepare the food so that it will feed the various parts of the body with good red blood. She asks you not to make it too hard for these machines by neglecting to use the mill in your mouth that is there for grinding the food.

The teeth are the hardest materials in the body and are meant to do good service before the food reaches those organs which you do not have to do not impede them.

The one thing that does impede them is to throw down a lot of food without tearing it up and mixing it into a pulp in the mouth. They make it mighty uncomfortable for you in consequence if you don't.

Again, do you realize that you are surrounded with air—that this air is a good thing for you to breathe both day and night? One would think it was poison from the way people cramp their chests to avoid it—they take such little stingy gasps of it.

Air is needed in the body, else we would not have been born with a magnificent pair of bellows—the lungs with which to take it in. Do you ima gine any part of us was made for fun? Both the inside of the body and the outside were meant to be well aired, and unless they are well aired beware of good-nature and continuous optimism, so necessary to selling goods week in and week out.

A big, generous breath, besides sup-plying air to purify, sets muscles in motion that give natural exercise to those digestive organs which cause us so much trouble. This exercise helps them in their own strenuous activity of digesting an underdone potato and an overdone beefsteak.

Do be generous with yourself in breathing. Air costs nothing but effort, and that only at first, for after a time you would no more do without splendid deep breathing than you would do without washing your face.

Out of doors and in street cars count seven, the magic number, while you are inhaling, and feel your trunk and chest expand as if it were a hal-loon. Then hold your breath to the count of three, and count seven while you breathe out. You know you are not breathing out the same air you have breathed in. That air has been eagerly absorbed by yourself to help in the making of rich, red blood. You are breathing out impurities such as, pockets, if retained, give you a headache that is often converted into a lost sale.

You excuse yourself to yourself by saying that you have a headache, when what you really have is poison because of your lasiness in not inhaling fresh air and breathing out un-fresh

Breathe the same way behind the counter. Don't make excuse that the air is not fresh. It is better to keep our breathing machine active with half-pure air than to shut it off with only a miserly bit of exercise.

Remember also that the chest is the box in which the lungs are kept. If you squeeze it in through a bad standing position, rounding the shoulders, the air cannot get into the body.

When you inhale, lift your head up

When you inhale, lift your he as if you were not ashamed of living. Hold it well up at the crown. Then it does not drag down on the lung-box. And, by the way, when you are through exhaling, keep it that way. Look the whole world in the face with a direct look. This pulls up the muscles of the chest.

Always hold the chest well up and forward, as if you were ready to move instantly. This lifts it so the air can get into the space beneath. Now you are ready to breathe.

If your breathing stopped suddenly you would lose your job, wouldn't you? Then it is equally true that if you breathe little you are less capable of holding your job. If you breathe much, you are capable of holding it; for the body is necessary in selling goods. You can't bring your mind into your department without it. And for the best selling, your body must be all there and not in part.

You are born in air, you live in air. you move about in it and would step down and out without it. en, all together, one, two, three, breathe. (Copyright, 1908, by Joseph B. Bowles,)

Coffee Was the Cause

Many daily habits, particularly of eating and drinking, are formed by following our elders.

In this way ill health is, often fas tened upon children. A Ga. lady says:
"I had been allowed to drink coffee ever since I could remember, but even as a child I had a weak stomach, which frequently refused to retain food. "The taste of coffee was in my mouth all the time and was, as I found out later, the cause of the stomach re-belling against food.

"I now see that it was only from following the example of my elders that I formed and continued the miserable habit of drinking coffee. My digestion remained poor, nerves unstrung, fre-quent headache, and yet I did not suspect the true cause.

"Another trouble was a bad, muddy complexion for which I spent time and money for creams, massaging, etc., without any results.

"After I was married I was asked to try Postum, and would you believe it, I, an old coffee toper, took to Postum from the very first. We made it right -according to directions on the pkg., and it had a most delicate flavor, and I at once quit coffee, with the happlest

"Do you know of any woman who ever received any benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com-

If any woman who is suffering with any ailment peculiar to her sex will ask her neighbors this question, she will be surprised at the result. There is hardly a community in this country where women cannot be found who have been restored to health by this famous old remedy, made exclusively from a simple formula of roots and herbs.

During the past 30 years we have published thousands of letters from these grateful women who have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and never in all that time have we published a testimonial without the writer's special permission. Never have we knowingly published a testimonial that was not truthful and genuine. Here is one just received a few days ago. If anyone doubts that this is a true and honest statement of a woman's experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound write and ask her.

Houston, Texas.—"When I first began taking Lydia E. Pink-ham's Vegetable Compound I was a total wreck. I had been sick for three years with female troubles, chronic dyspepsia, and a liver trouble. I had tried several doctor's medicines, but nothing did me any good.

"For three years I lived on medicines and thought I would never get well, when I read an advertisment of Lydia E. Pink-ham's Vegetable Compound, and was advised to try it.

"My husband got me one bottle of the Compound, and it did me so much good I continued its use. I am now a well woman and enjoy the best of health. "I advise all women suffering from such troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. They won't regret it, for it will surely cure you."—Mrs. Bessie L. Hicks, 819 Cleveland St., Houston.

Any woman who is sick and suffering is foolish surely not to give such a medicine as this a trial. Why should it not do her as much good as it did Mrs. Hicks.
