THE TELEGRAM.

We had driven far into the night over the bleak limitless prairie. The approaching light of home cheered us with the thought of warmth and comfort.

No sooner had I entered the door
than a telegram was handed me. It contained but a single line. But that line was as a toxin to the soul. The bright light of home was darkened.
A pang, a feeling of unutterable grief paralyzed my whole being. The warm life currents suddenly froze in the veins. The mind became a sea of stagnate idleness, I could not, I would not believe that my brother was no more. I read again that cruel that fatal message.

It was to plainly written, yet its awful meaning I could not comprehend. Is it possible my brother,
my first playmate, the companion and associate of all these years, is he out of my sight and life forever?
Then came that pang of human misery that makes the tired heart forget its pulsating and almost frees the imprisoned soul.

The irreparable loss grew upon me
each moment, memories of by gone years crowded upon me. Again we sport, by the stream and climbed the high hill, conned our lessons in the same schools, knelt together in evening prayer at mother's knee, college chums, preparing for a place in the busy world; sit again together in the old family circle, all broken into segments now.

In the hard knocks of life, the stronger proved the weaker. My brother has fallen by the way side.
Competition to strong for his frail life, his poor, feeble health. Youthful ambition, merciless, soulless, clambering for a higher place, crushing hearts and wrecking homes, so life's struggle goes on.

Long my brother held his place against fearful odds. Faithful, fond, ever fighting for the right as he saw it, even until the last, that fatal summons came to which all must
bow. He sleeps well, but oh, the sad, broken hearts that remain to mourn his loss.

THE LYRIC GLEE CLUB

They are the attraction for the next number on the local Lyceum Course.
In getting this company the town is getting something in every way equal to the Rounds, except in the matter of numbers. It consists of a male quartet, who furnish brass quartet of instrumental music, also a quartet of singers, then two different readers.
Every one of the four men are artists of the first order. There is no quartet like a good male quartet. The United States government sent these men to the Panama Canal for the entertainment of the Y. M. C. A.'s town there and they were so immensely popular what they were sent down the second time. They have appeared repeatedly all the following Illinois Chautauquas: Old Salem, Urbana, Lincoln, Paris, Aurora, Joliet, Canton, Litchfield, Havana, Eureka, Mt. Vernon.
Such a record is enough to assure that they will be too good to miss.

They will appear in Sullivan on Monday night, January 23, the place to be announced later. There are yet three numbers on the course, including this one. You can buy a ticket for the three for $1, or a single admission ticket for 50 cents at Pogve's
drug store.

OBITUARIES

R. E. ELDER.

R. E. (Frate) Elder, a son of John and Jane Elder, was born in Whitley
township, near the Whitfield church,
October 21, 1860, died January 13, 1911, aged 50 years, 2 months and 22 days. He had been confined to his bed for about three and one half months with typhoid fever and complications resulting therefrom.

He was united in marriage to Sarah Miller, daughter of Peter and Martha J. Miller. To this union were born five children, John P. Elder in the First National Bank in Sullivan; William S. Albert, Walter and Robert, the last three dying in infancy. Their mother dying May 18, 1889. He was married to Rosa James, daughter of J. V. and Martha James.
To this union were born four children, George L., Thomas S., Martha J. and Mary A., all of whom with their mother survive their father.

Mr. Elder spent the most of his life in the community where he died.
He was a member of the Predestinarian Baptist church having pledged his faith with them in February 1880,
and was ordained as an elder in 1893.
He was recognized as a leader among leaders of that denomination; was a prominent minister of the gospel, always standing and living for the principles of right as he understood them.

The Elder family moved to Missouri in an early day, the parents dying, the three boys William, Erate and Dede, with other members of the family, came back to Illinois and took up the battle of life for themselves. They acquired good educations and accumulated property, but better than that they laid up treasures above. R. E. Elder died in the full assurance of eternal rest, and that he leaves a family honored, respected and that will bear in mind
the father's instructions, and be true
men and women.

Men like R. E. Elder are not to be measured or estimated by their broad acres or big bank account, but by the seed they have sown. And Mr.
Elder done well, gained a heavenly home no doubt, and left his family exceedingly well provided for.

The funeral services were conducted at Zoar church about twelve miles east of Sullivan, Sunday, January 15,
by Elder O. H. Reeves of Terre Haute, Ind., and the remains laid to rest in the cemetery near by.

paying one-eighth to his wife, the same portion to each of the following children, Wm. A. Kirk, George A. Kirk, James L. Kirk, Mary Nighs-

further directed that his executor

Sarah T. Welsh and Martha L. Birge, be loaned by the executor upon real estate security to be approved by the county judge, and that the interest derived from said money be paid to said heirs, Sarah T. Welsh and Martha L. Birge, but at the decease of the above named daughters their one-eighth goes to their body heirs.
If they leave no heirs it is to be di-

WAGON TICKETS

There has been considerable controversy as to why there were two kind of tickets used in the Whitfield-Cummins, wagon drawing. There was not a single bogus ticket in the lot. Each and every ticket had the same chance to be lucky. The two young men insisted all the way through, that every thing must be accurate, fair and just. Every precaution was taken to make it so.

The work of numbering the tickets
was begun in the office of the Sullivan Democrat, they used a numbering machine that belongs in the County Clerk's office. It's slightly constructed for numbering paper suited for pen and ink, and the numbers are small, it carries six orders or figures, running to 1,000,000 but not suited to heavy work. I own a larger and

WE call attention to the within Statement, which shows the Bank to be in excellent condition.

At the annual meeting of the Stockholders, for the election of Directors, no change was made in the Board, and at the meeting of Directors the same
Officers were re-elected.

The general policy of the Bank that has been so successful in the past will be continued, and every effort will be made to add to its strength and efficiency.

Out of the earnings of the Bank for the past year
after paying the usual dividend to the Stockholders, we have added $5,000 to the surplus fund, making it heavier machine constructed for card numbering and hard or rough paper, that makes the figures large and plain, easy to follow with the eye and avoid mistakes, but it does not number higher than 99,999, the one in the Circuit Clerks office the same,

when we got to the limit of the machine, I suggested to the Whitfield Cummins that we just change the form of the ticket and begin numbering at one. We did so. Whitfield and Cummins thought Saturday night there would be no need of any tickets Monday, as they thought there would not be much trade in the forenoon Monday. Monday morning nevertheless, we delivered them about 1000 tickets (Monday, Dec. 26,) early in the morning. Then by 9 a. m.
they repeatedly called for more tickets as they were having an excessive trade, and every purchaser wanted
tickets, the six at work in the Herald could not supply the demand, we were instructed to get another printing office to assist, the Sullivan Democrat came to our rescue, then as a last resort to fill the demands, we borrowed the machine in the County Clerk's office, (the one with six figures) it would not work except with the six figures on, I finally handed it to the most steady accurate and keaneast sighted person on the force with instructions to watch it and see that it run along all right with the six orders if it would work no other way, to notice every number and duplicate, she did so, standing in front of a window to get a good light.

That one machine went over the 99,999 but yet it made no mistake
except to contradict the statement
had made that the limit of the numbering machines was 99,999, that the only two I could get to do the work accurately. The third one made no mistakes if we let all the figures run. As I have said before the one running to 1,000,000 was weak would not stand the work, and it would have been impossible to have numbered them correctly, if the machine would have held out, to number such a batch of tickets with that machine would have worn it to fray, early in the business and robbed the County. The tickets were all right everything done on the square connected with the making of the tickets, and counting.
There were some numbers run over 800,000 on the county clerk's ma-

was destroyed by fire, with a loss of $100,000.

Mrs. Carrie Nation, the pioneer

lecturer and active enemy of intoxicants is ended.

Discouraged and weary of life because, according to her own state-

man to whom she had made the last sacrifice a woman can make, Mrs.
Alice Poehler, 25 years old, of Gut-rie, Ind., shot Carl V. Stovey, 20 years old, of Columbus, Ind., above the heart, and then turned the revolver

Braden, Indianapolis. Both the man and woman are believed to have been a number of violations of the laws

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey—the Rockefeller holding company—began its fight for life before the supreme court of the United States; pleaded not guilty to the gov-

through costly legal representatives,

While her husband, G. M. Stroba-ker, superintendent of an elevator company, is lying in a hospital, evidently dying from strychnine poisoning, Mrs.
Mary Strobaker, his wife, was locked up by the police and orders given that no one, not even counsel, be permitted to see her. Chief of Police T. A.
McQuaide, whose men worked on the case, says the department has enough evidence to show an attempt at poisoning. That enough strychnine was placed in the food of Strobaker to kill 25 men is the assertion of chemists who have been called in on the case.

Claims of thousands of dollars must be paid to southern and western shippers by the Missouri Pacific, the Santa Fe and 14 other railroads as a result of an order issued by the interstate commerce commission. The decision is based on the Missouri rate case, involving demands for relief in the sum of $1,200,000 by the Burnham-Hannah-Munger Dry Goods company of Omaha and other concerns, in which the United States supreme court recently sustained the commission's ruling against the railroads.

TY ACCUSED OF INSULTING
WHITE GIRLS.

ROPE BREAKS; MEN SHOT

Victims Strung Up Together, Riddled
With Bullets in Dash for Liberty
—Faced a Life Sentence—No
Arrests Are Probable.

Shelbyville, Ky.—Three negroes were taken from the county jail in Shelbyville by a mob of 20 armed and masked men and hanged from the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad bridge.
The men lynched were Eugene Marshall, who had been convicted of killing an aged negro, and has been sentenced to the penitentiary for life;
Wade Patterson, charged with detaining Miss Elizabeth Rubie, 19 years old,
and James West, charged with beating Miss Mary Coley, a white girl.

Feeling has been high since the arrest of the negroes charged with insulting white girls, several weeks ago,
and they were taken to Louisville,
where they were held for safe-keeping until two nights ago, when the Shelbyville authorities brought them back for trial. The news of their arrival spread, but as there was no demonstration the authorities believed the citizens would allow the law to take its course.

Rope Breaks; Negroes Shot.

As Patterson and Marshall, who were hanged on the same rope, were swung over the end of a railroad tie, their bodies dangling several feet below, the rope snapped. The negroes made a break for cover. The body of Patterson, riddled with bullets, was found near the creek. Marshall's body has not been recovered. However, it is stated he was shot. West's body was found swinging from the bridge.

Happenings in the Illinois
Legislative Halls.

Democrats Must Unite.

The split in the Democratic side of the house of representatives is developing seriously. Representative Al-schuler, who was chosen by all of the Democrats except 14 for minority leader, is having trouble with the 14.
Mr. Alschuler sent to Speaker Adkins
his recommendations for committee
appointments on the minority side.
No sooner were the appointments in the hands of the speaker than objections on the part of the English Democrats were made. They claimed that they had been ignored and they demanded recognition.

As a result, Speaker Adkins doubtless will demand that committee suggestions be withheld until the Democrats can agree among themselves on whom they shall favor for the places.

Some of the leading English Democrats say that they will never agree to any slate prepared by Alschuler.
The Alschuler Democrats say that the English Democrats, who bolted the Democratic caucus and cast their votes for English on the speakership issue, cannot expect recognition on the part of the regular Democrats who remained in the caucus.

The "drys," it is said, have been left entirely out in the cold in the recommendations of the Alschuler side.

House Elects Officers.

The house put through the Republican caucus slate of minor house doorkeeper, Carl S. Burgett; first assistant doorkeeper, William Haines;

second assistant doorkeeper, Capt. H.
E. Hart; third assistant doorkeeper,
Jesse Hawkins; postmistress, Mrs.
Millie Jackson; assistant postmistress, Mrs. Henrietta Vest; enrolling and engrossing clerk, Charles W. Baldwin;
first assistant, George Thorpe; second assistant, William S. Smith.

Perkins on Election Body.

It has been practically decided that Representative Perkins of Logan county will head the committee on elections, to which will be referred the 12 election contests in the house.
Speaker Adkins has outlined the policy this year in regard to the contests. He says that no expense money will be allowed to the defeated contesting members. The member who wins the contest will be given his expenses, but the one who loses must bear the expense himself. In former years thousands of dollars has been paid out to contesting members who were defeated.

river near Utica and that the $20,- 000,000 bond issue for this purpose

duced a resolution calling for the submission to the vote of the people of the question of calling a constitutional convention to make needed changes in the constitution of the state.

CONGRESS

Routine of Daily Proceedings.

In the senate Monday Senator Beveridge introduced a minority report from the committee on privileges and elections, contending that the election of William Lorimer had been accomplished by fraud and declaring the seat vacant. Senator Owen in a separate speech also attacked the senator's right to his seat. Davis Elkins, son of the late Senator Stephen B. Elkins, was sworn in as senator from West Virginia to succeed his father. Adjourning to meet Tuesday, Speaker Cannon defied the house in his action of ruling adversely on a resolution offered by Representative Fuller of Illinois seeking to amend the rules. The speaker's decision was exactly similar to that which precipitated the recent fight last spring. An appeal was taken, but the house sustained the speaker by a vote of 233 to 53, the Democrats refusing to support the Republican insurgents, who voted solidly against Mr. Cannon. The remainder of the day was devoted to District of Columbia matters. Adjourned to noon
Tuesday.

In the senate Tuesday Senator Coe

L. Crawford delivered a scathing arraignment of the alleged corrupt methods used in the election of William Lorimer. He spoke for nearly two hours, and in closing announced himself ready to vote for a resolution to unseat the Illinois senator on the ground that he had not been legally and duly elected by the legislature of Illinois.

By the passage of the Sulloway general pension bill in the house $45,000, 000 annually was added to the expenditure on account of pensions. Speaker Cannon took the floor and vigorously urged the passage of the measure which grants pensions ranging from $15 to $36 to veterans who are 62
years old or over and who served 90 days in the civil war or 60 days in the war with Mexico. The legislative appropriation bill was up when the house adjourned.

Senator Gallinger delivered a set speech in the senate Wednesday in support of his bill providing for an ocean mail subsidy to ports in South America, but no vote was taken. Senator Newlands spoke in advocacy of a permanent tariff commission with comprehensive powers.

The session of the house was devoted almost entirely to discussion of the Moon bill for the codification of the laws relating to the judiciary.
The bill was under consideration
when the house adjourned.

The senate was in session just five minutes Thursday, adjourning immediately on the formal announcement of the death in Colorado of Senator Charles J. Hughes, Jr., of that state.

After spending practically the entire day upon it, the house passed the legislative, executive and judicial bill carrying approximately $35,000,000.
The army appropriation measure was reported out of committee; it carries $92,811,896.

In spite of the effort of Senator Hale to prevent its consideration the senate Friday voted down by a vote of 43 to 17 his motion to adjourn and took up the Borah resolution amending the constitution so as to provide for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.
After an hour's debate the senate
went into executive session, but Senator Borah declared that he would call up the resolution in the immediate future and would press it. During general discussion Senator Bailey effectually blocked one administration bill providing for the enlargement of the engineer corps of the

BILL BEFORE LEGISLATURE.

CANDIDATES FOR MARRIAGE MAY TAKE AN EXAMINATION.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 17.—A sensational bill has been prepared by Senator Beall of Alton, which he will introduce in the upper house this week. It provides that applicants for a marriage license in Illinois shall first submit themselves to an examination by a physician and that before the license is issued the physician must certify that the contracting parties are free from all diseases that might be inherited or propagated through the progeny. After enumerating several diseases and ailments which would bar the applicants from contracting a legal marriage in the state, the bill finally declares that they must be "found sound in body and mind," in order to secure a license. Senator Beall was the famous "stork mayor" of Alton. He was opposed to all owners of flat buildings who drew the line on babies, and in many of his official announcements he urged the good people of Illinois to rear large families and fill their dooryards with flowers and babies.

Some Suspicious Persons

Enquired if we were "hiring" a certain "weekly" paper to abuse us.

Of course every time a spot light is turned on from any source offers a splendid chance to talk about the merits of the products, but 'pon honor now, we are not hiring that "Weekly."

The general reader seldom cares much for the details of "scraps."

A few may have read lately some articles attacking us and may be interested in the following:

Some time ago a disagreement arose with a "Weekly." They endorsed our foods by letter, but wanted to change the form of advertising, to which we objected.

The "Weekly" discontinued inserting our advertisements while they were negotiating for some changes they wanted in the wording and shape of the advertisements, and during this correspondence our manager gave instructions to our Advertising Department to quit advertising altogether in that "Weekly."

Quite a time after the advertising had been left out, an editorial attack came. We replied in newspapers and the scrap was on.

Then came libel suits from both sides, and some harsh words, Generally tiresome to the public.

That "Weekly" has attacked many prominent men and reputable manufacturers.

Our Company seems prominent enough for a sensational writer to go after, hunt for some little spot to criticize, then distort, twist and present it to the public under scare heads.

So an attorney from New York spent more or less time for months in Battle Creek hoping to find impurities in our foods, or dirt in the factories. After tireless spying about he summoned twenty-five of our workmen and took their testimony. Every single one testified that the foods are made of exactly the grain and ingredients printed on the packages; the wheat, barley and corn being the choicest obtainable—all thoroughly cleaned—the water of the purest, and every part of the factories and machinery kept scrupulously clean.

That all proved disappointing to the "Weekly." There are very few factories, hospitals, private—or hotel and restaurant kitchens that could stand the close spying at unexpected times and by an enemy paid to find dirt or impurities of some kind.

In any ordinary kitchen or factory he would find something to magnify and make a noise about.

But he failed utterly with the Postum Works and products. Twenty to thirty thousand people go through the factories annually and we never enquire whether they are there to spy or not. It makes no difference to us.

He next turned to discover something about our advertising that could be criticized.

An analysis of the methods and distorted statements of the "Weekly" may interest some readers, so we take up the items one by one and open them out for inspection. We will 'chain up' the harsh words and make no reference in this article to the birth, growth and methods of the "Weekly" but try to confine the discussion to the questions now at issue.

Some Facts

Battle Creek, Michigan, December 30, 1910.

We the undersigned certify that never to our knowledge has a testimonial letter been printed by the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., which did not have behind it a genuine letter signed, and believed to be an honest statement.

To the best of our knowledge and belief the Company has received upwards of fifty thousand ($50,000) genuine testimonial letters.

This company has never knowingly made nor permitted an untruthful statement regarding its products or its methods.

Distortion No. 1 stated that we have been accustomed to advertise Grape-Nuts and Postum as "cure-alls for everything."

It has never been the policy of this Company to advertise Grape-Nuts or Postum to cure anything.

We say that in cases where coffee disagrees and is causing sickness its dismissal will remove the cause of the trouble, and we suggest the use of Postum for the reason that it furnishes a hot palatable morning beverage, and contains natural elements from the grain which can be used by nature to assist in rebuilding nerve centers that coffee may have broken down.

Likewise Grape-Nuts food does not cure anything, but it does assist nature tremendously in rebuilding, provided the undigestible food that has been used is discontinued and Grape-Nuts taken in its place.

Charge No. 2 states that the passage of the National Food & Drugs Act compelled us to drop from the packages some assertions regarding the nutritive value of Grape-Nuts.

We have never been "compelled" to make any change.

Since the beginning it has been a universal rule to print clearly on every package exactly what the contents are made of.

Before the passage of the Pure Food Law the packages stated that Grape-Nuts food was made of wheat and barley.

We did not esteem the small amount of salt and yeast as of value enough to speak of, but after the new Law came in we became as technical as the officials at Washington and added the words "yeast" and "salt," although we have no recollection of being asked to.

We believed that our statement that Grape-Nuts will supply elements to nourish the brain and nerve centers is true and bring authorities to support the fact.

Some state chemists believed this a gross exaggeration and inasmuch as the Food Dept. at Washington could easily harass grocers, pending a trial on the disputed question, we concluded that much the better way would be to eliminate from our packages such claims, however certain we may be that the claims are true.

Another statement objected to read as follows:

"The system will absorb a greater amount of nourishment from one pound of Grape-Nuts than from ten pounds of meat, wheat, oats, or bread."

Some Department chemists deceive themselves as well as the public.

"Caloried" is the word which defines a unit of heat determined by the amount necessary to raise one kilogram of water one degree centigrade. On this basis a table of calories is prepared showing the percentage of different kinds of food. Butter shows 8.60; Grape-Nuts 3.96; milk 0.70. Remember the statement on the package spoke of the nourishment the system would absorb, but did not speak of the calories of heat contained in it, for the heat is not nourishment, and the nourishment cannot be judged by the number of heat units, notwithstanding the fact that certain chemists would have the public believe so.

As an illustration: Attempt to feed a man sixty days on butter alone, with its 8.60 calories. The man would die before the experiment had run sixty days.

Then, take Grape-Nuts with 3.96 and milk with 0.70—the two combined equal 4.66—about one-half the number of calories contained in butter. The man fed for sixty days on this food would be well nourished, and could live not only sixty days, but six months on that food alone, and we do not hesitate to say from our long knowledge of the sustaining power of the food that a man at the end of sixty days would be of practically the same weight as when he started,—if he be a man of normal weight.

We will suppose that from his work he lost a pound a day and made up a pound each day from food. If that premise proved to be true the man in sixty days' time would make sixty pounds of tissue to replace what had been lost, and this would be done on Grape-Nuts and milk with half the number of calories of butter, upon which no one can sustain life.

Therefore, we have reason to believe that our contention is right that concentrated food like Grape-Nuts, which is partly digested and ready for easy assimilation by the body, presents more nourishment than the system will absorb than many other forms of food, and we will further say that in cases of digestion where meat, white bread and oats cannot be digested, that Grape-Nuts and milk contain more nourishment than the system will absorb than many pounds of these other foods.

Distortion No. 3 charges that our testimonials were practically all paid for and re-written in Battle Creek. These testimonials were demanded by the opposing lawyers. Naturally this demand was refused, for they are held in vaults and kept safe to prove the truth, and are not to be delivered up on demand of enemies.

Testimony at the trial brought out the fact that we never printed a single testimonial that we did not have the genuine letter back of. Many of these letters came spontaneously. A record was kept of twelve hundred and four (1204) letters received in one month from people who wrote that they had either entirely recovered their health or been benefited by following our suggestions on food and beverages.

On three or four occasions in the past ten or twelve years we printed broadcast in papers offers of prizes to users of Postum and Grape-Nuts,—two hundred $1.00 prizes, one hundred $2.00, twenty of $5.00 and five of $10.00 each,—stating that each must be an honest letter with name and address. We agreed not to publish names, but to furnish them to enquirers by letter. These letters writers very generally answered those who wrote to them, and verified the truth of the statements.

Under this agreement not to publish names literally scores of letters came from doctors. We kept our word and neither printed their names or surrendered the letters.

Right here notice an "imitation spasm." The "Weekly" says: "Post got those testimonials by advertising for them. In New York he used for that purpose the New York Magazine of — whose editor is now in the Federal Penitentiary for fraudulent use of the mails. For example, Post announced in that magazine in 1907, etc." (then follows our prize competition.)

We used nearly all of the papers and magazines in New York and the rest of America, but the sensational writer gives the impression to his readers that the only magazine we used was one "whose editor is now in the Federal Penitentiary," etc., something that we know nothing of the truth of now, and never did. Space was bought in the magazine spoken of on a business basis for the reason that it went to a good class of readers. The incident seems to have furnished an opportunity for a designing writer to deceive his readers.

We look upon honest human testimony from men and women as to the means by which they recovered, and of tremendous value to those in search of it. Our business has been conducted from the very first day upon lines of strict integrity and we never yet have published a false testimonial of human experience. Many of these letters covered numerous sheets, some printed, would spread over half a page of newspaper. If we would attempt to print one such letter in every one of the thousands of papers and magazines we use, the cost for printing that one letter would run into many thousands of dollars.

We boil down these letters exactly as a newspaper writer boils his news,—sticking sacredly to the important facts and eliminating details about the family and other unimportant matters. This work of boiling down, or editing, is done honestly, and with a full knowledge of our responsibility, but notice the "twister" in the way he presents to his readers this matter of testimonials.

Distortion No. 4. "This is a bad one. It reads as follows: 'The only famous physician whose name was signed to a testimonial was produced in Court by Colliers and turned out to be a poor old breakdown homeopath, who is now working in a printing establishment. He received ten dollars ($10.00) for writing his testimonial.'

We will wager ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) with any investigator that we have, subject to inspection of any fair committee, upwards of three hundred (300) communications from physicians, many of them expressing the highest commendation of our products, but these will not now or ever be turned over to the publisher for his use.

Notice the statement in this charge: "The only famous physician whose name was signed to Postum testimonial, etc." The truth is, this Dr. Underwood was one of a great many physicians who have not only written commendatory words about the value of our foods, but every now and then some physician writes an article on coffee or on food, and sends it to us with a suggestion of compensation for his time and medical knowledge. Previous to the time when we employed physicians in our own business, we occasionally employed a doctor to write an article on coffee, always insisting that the article be an honest expression of his opinion and research.

officials are honest, and on the other hand we are firmly convinced that some of their conclusions cannot be substantiated by facts in scientific research.

They never criticize the purity of our foods, for so much we are thankful.

If our conclusions in regard to its being a brain food differ from theirs, and we are both honest, they have rather the advantage, because under the law they can order us to eliminate from the package any statement if it disagrees with their opinion. Otherwise they would harass grocers.

Spasm No. 6 says: "The most dangerous thing in the world for one threatened with appendicitis is to eat any food whatever. Notwithstanding he knew that danger, C. W. Post advertised Grape-Nuts at fifteen cents a package for those so threatened."

This is intended to muddle the reader into believing that we put out Grape-Nuts as a cure for appendicitis.

Mr. Post, himself, has had probably as wide experience as any other man in America in the study and observation of food as related to the digestive organs, and we proved in Court by the physicians and surgeons on the witness stand that the predominating cause of appendicitis is undigested food, and that it is necessary to quit eating food, and when the body requires food again, use a pre-digested food, or at least one easy of digestion.

Dr. Oelsner in his work on appendicitis refers directly to the use of the well-known pre-digested foods that can be obtained in Court by the physicians and surgeons on the witness stand that "after treatment" it is advantageous to take on a pre-digested food.

The price of the package (referred to by the weekly) is not known by us to have any relation to the question.

Our advice to stop using indigestible food in bowel troubles and to use Grape-Nuts food has been a great blessing to tens of thousands of people, and we hope will continue to bless a good many more in the succeeding years.

No. 7 is a live wire. It refers to C. W. Post and his studies and experience in "Suggestive Therapeutics," or "Mental Healing" which further lead to a most careful and systematic study of the effect of the mind on the digestive and other organs of the body.

He attended clinics in Europe and fitted himself for a future career in which he has become known as one of the food experts of the world, fitted to judge both of the material as well as the mental side of the question.

For about eight years previous to 1901 he was an invalid. In that year, after being under the care of several well-known physicians, he was quickly healed, by what to him was a curious and not well-understood method. Sufficient to say he became a well man, weighing about 185 pounds.

This experience challenged his investigation into causes of disease and their amelioration. Those studies and experiences developed a very profound reverence for a Supreme Power which directly operates upon the human being, and this reverence for the Infinite became to him a form of religion which included honesty of purpose towards his fellow-man. A statement which will be indored by everyone who knows him closely.

He will make a public announcement in detail of these facts, and the Postum Company will cause that statement to be published in newspapers and magazines in due time. We suggest the reader look for it.

Prevarication No. 8. "Post spends nearly a million a year in advertising and relies on that to keep out of the newspapers the dangerous nature of the fraud he is perpetrating on the public."

The Postum Company does pay out upwards of a million a year for trade announcements. Newspaper men believe our statements truthful or they would not print them. Large numbers of newspaper men use our products.

They are capable of telling the public whether or not we "bribe" them.

It may have escaped notice that we did not "bribe" that particular weekly.

No. 9 states that the amount of the verdict will "be devoted by the 'weekly' to exorcising fraud."

This is almost real humor.

We have two suits pending against the "weekly," total, $500,000.00.

We haven't "devoted" the sum to any particular purpose yet.

Item 10 is a "discovery" that wheat bran is a part of Postum.

But the criticism neglected to mention that for years every Postum package announced in plain type that the outer covering of wheat (bran), made part of the beverage.

They ignorantly fell into a trap here, not knowing enough of food value to know that "Take-Disease" the article used by physicians the world over for "starch indigestion" is made from "wheat bran."

So we use that part of the wheat berry because it contains the element needed to develop the valuable diastase in manufacture. Good Postum is impossible without this part.

These self-appointed critics do make some laughable blunders through ignorance, but—be patient.

Item 11 is an illustration of the squirming and twisting of the sensational writer delivering distorted matter to his readers.

While on the witness stand Mr. Post testified to his studies in Anatomy, Physiology, Dietetics and Psychology,—all relating to the preparation and digestion of food. Asked to name authorities studied he mentioned six or eight from memory, and commented on some clinical experience covering several years in annual journeys to Europe.

Now notice the distortion. (Copy from the printed criticism.)

"He (Post) pointed out a pile of books in possession of his attorneys as the very ones he had read."

(Notice,—the very ones he had read," leading the reader to believe that they were the only ones.)

"Did you consult the books from these editions?" was asked.

"From those and various editions," answered Post.

The attorney "picked up book after book from the pile and showed the title pages to the jury,—all except two had been published since 1905."

This is an example of distortion and false coloring to produce an unfavorable impression.

The facts are Mr. Post purposely introduced the latest editions that could be obtained of prominent authorities to prove by them the truth of his statements regarding appendicitis and the analysis of brain, also the latest conclusions in regard to the action of the digestive organs. These works are:

- Human Physiology, by Raymond.
- Physiological Chemistry, by Simon.
- Digestive Glands, by Pawlow.
- Hand Book of Appendicitis, by Oelsner.

Physiological Chemistry, by Hammarsten.

Biochemic System of Medicine, by Carey.

The "Weekly" carefully eliminates from its printed account testimony regarding the years of research and study by Mr. Post in fitting himself for his work, and would lead the reader of the distorted article to believe that his education began since 1905.

Distortion No. 12 reports Mr. Post as a "dodging witness."

His eye is not of the shifty kind observed in the head of one of his chief critics. On the witness stand Mr. Post looks quietly but very steadily straight in to the eyes of the haggling, twisting lawyer, trying by all his art to ask double-barreled questions and bull-doze and confuse a witness.

The "dodging" it seems consisted of replying, "I don't know."

Opposing counsel holds a book in his hand while he queries,—

"I want to know if there is a single thing in your whole book here that suggests any particular kind of food." Then followed some discussion between attorneys.

When Mr. Post was allowed to reply, he said, "I don't know until I read the book over to see."

This book, it turns out, was written by Mr. Post seventeen years ago and probably has not been read carefully by him in the last fifteen years. It would require a remarkable memory to instantly say "yes" or "no" as to what a book of 147 pages did or did not contain, without reading it over,—but such conservative and well-balanced answers are construed by sensation seekers to be "dodging."

The attorney sought by every art to impress the Jury with the fact that Mr. Post's belief in the power of Mind in relation to the body branded him as unreliable and worse.

The following is quoted from one of the questions:—

(The lawyer reading from the book.)

"The writer of these pages desires to say nothing of himself other than as a simple instrument through which the Divine Principle chooses to manifest itself by precept and example."

"Skill in mental practice is gained in the same way as skill in any department of science—by observation, study, experience and the ability to evolve correct conclusions."

"Read carefully, thoughtfully no more than twenty pages daily. Afterward seek an easy position where you will not be disturbed. Relax every muscle. Close your eyes, and go into the silence where mind is plastic to the breathings of spirit and where God talks to the Son. The thoughts from Divine Universal Mind come as winged angels and endow you with a healing power. If you go into the silence humble and trusting, you will come out enriched and greatly strengthened in body by contact even for a short time with the Father of all life and all power. You will feel refreshed in every way and the food taken will digest readily as the stomach works smoothly when under the influence of a Higher Power."

"I ask you if you did not write that, and if you did not believe it when you wrote it."

For a moment the Court Room was in absolute silence.

Mr. Post slowly leaned forward over the rail, pointed his finger at the Atty's face to emphasize his reply and with eyes that caused those of the Attorney to drop he said, "Yes, I am proud to say I did."

It may be remembered that we were first attacked and have since defended ourselves by placing facts before that great jury—The Public.

A good "scrap" is more or less comforting now and then, if you know you are right.

In the case lately tried, an appeal has been taken to the higher courts. We have unbounded faith in the ultimate decision of our American Tribunals.

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Keep the eggs dry.

Gather and burn the rubbish.

Why don't farmers raise more ducks?

A nervous cow is not necessarily an undesirable cow.

There is no better grain feed for young calves than whole oats.

The market poultryman was never in such a strong position as he is today.

It is said that the cow, of all animals, should have good and pure food.

It is a mistake to let another winter begin without installing a litter carrier.

Severe drouth has thoroughly tested the profitableness of spraying potatoes.

The most money is made upon the farms where the best methods are followed.

A small box or jar of lime should be kept in the cellar to keep the air pure and dry.

A balanced ration is a good thing, but a balanced judgment is needed just as much.

One should so plan that all the hay and straw will be used on the farm, and keep stock enough to consume it all.

Eggs may be preserved fairly well for a few months by packing dry in a mixture of equal parts salt and sawdust.

Hog raising, like everything else, in the stock line, has its many little details that must be met as they come up.

All shrubs that have done blooming should be pruned at once. This induces blooming buds and branches for next year's crop.

Give the apple orchard plenty of fertilizer, particularly potash and phosphoric acid. A starved orchard is not a money maker.

Constipation in hogs, the forerunner of other troubles and diseases, is generally caused by too excessive use of one kind of feed.

Anything that prevents the fat globules from coming in contact with each other delays the churning and decreases the yield.

The honey bee annually produces a crop of honey valued at around $20,000,000, and there are vast opportunities for increasing this output.

Until ready to ripen, the fresh cream from each skimming should be immediately cooled down to 50 degrees or less, and held in cold storage.

If you expect to ship any cocks this winter to poultry shows or to customers, take the precaution of applying glycerine liberally to the combs and wattles.

Well dressed fowls are more attractive to the hungry than well dressed people. If you don't believe it leave it to the hired man or the growing boy.

To overcome the habit of cows holding up their milk it is necessary to refrain from exciting the natural obstinacy of the animal by any disturbing influence.

Nut-bearing trees, owing to their peculiar system of roots, are much more difficult to transplant than are fruit-bearing trees, or even those known as seed-bearing.

The experienced cattle feeder will say that there is no ironclad rule for feeding. He watches his animals and feeds them according to what they seem to be able to stand.

The trouble with the dairy business today, beyond a question of doubt, is that it is being carried on by farmers, not dairymen, who know little or nothing about the profit or loss of the animals they are keeping.

Now is the time to secure leaves or straw, for the fowls to scratch in, when the weather is so bad they are confined to the house, for it is as natural for a chick to scratch as to breathe, and in order to be kept in good health and spirits they must be kept busy.

Treat the cow kindly.

Keep the vigorous chickens.

The tide is setting toward the farm again.

Burnt lime is harmful unless it is very carefully used.

Lime is not a fertilizer, and should be used only to correct acidity in a soil.

Hogs often fail to get a sufficient amount of water during the winter time.

The cost of high living does not worry the farmer; he makes his own living.

With present real estate prices the expression "dirt cheap" loses much of its force.

The value of the manure from the hay and straw used on the farm is no small item.

The right way to water cows in winter is to keep the water before them in the stable.

Hogs may be badly diseased with tuberculosis and not show it in the least before slaughter.

A well-defined system of management for the growing of cattle needs to be put into operation.

Instead of experimenting with a large planting of a new variety of tree fruit, top-graft a few trees.

The farmer who is too far from town to deliver milk at a profit will find buttermaking his salvation.

It pays to maintain a heavy flow of milk, even if expensive feeds must be given the cows at certain seasons.

In apple culture the first great essential in the successful culture of the apple is the improvement of the soil.

If it is winter eggs you want better let the oldest hens go. They sometimes lay a few eggs but very few as a rule.

When buying bran for the cows get enough to divide with the hens. As a hen food bran is just as valuable as a cow food.

It does not pay to plant crops in the peach orchard. Some people do it, but it is generally believed to be a bad practise.

A balky horse is made so by a cranky or cruel driver, and can rarely be cured. So be very careful in breaking the colts.

Convenient coops for marketing the chickens will pay not only in the satisfaction that they afford but in the greater convenience.

Bordeaux mixture is likely to cause russeting of apples on young trees, as it produces excessive development of cork cells in the skin.

It has been suggested that the packer who puts rotten eggs on the market should be sentenced to serve time as a target for the eggs.

Have the floor of the hen house warm and dry. The time is near when the hens to do well must have warmth and dryness under foot.

It is quite true that hogs have not such dainty appetites as sheep, yet they will respond surprisingly to any increased attention in this respect.

Yorkshire breeders will declare that to the best breed because it has given them the best results; so with the Berkshire men and also the Tanworth advocates.

Sugar beets make very good feed for cattle, but some grain and clover and alfalfa should go along with them, as they contain too much water to be fed alone.

On the average farm the sheep are the most neglected animals, and it is really astonishing to note the waste of opportunities in conditioning and marketing lambs.

When the nests are put in order for the winter, sprinkle ashes into the material and put a couple of moth balls in as well. These tend to discourage mites and lice.

Carefully scrape away the dirt around the base of one or two of your trees, and you will be able to discover whether the roots are growing too closely to the surface or not.

Many fall with sheep because they fail to keep the breeds that are best adapted to their farms and do not raise the kind the market demands and is ready to pay the highest price for.

One of the great satisfactions of keeping a daily record of the performance of your cows is that of watching the improved returns from the herd and in showing what improved methods will do.

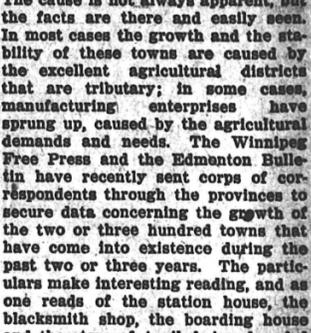

It is a very good winter's training for the young farmer to spend a few months in the village blacksmith shop or as helper to some capable carpenter. There is just as truly an education of the hands as of the head, but some people seem to forget this fact.

THE GROWTH OF TOWNS IN WESTERN CANADA

A BAROMETER OF THE GROWTH OF THE AGRICULTURAL DISTRICTS.

The traveler passing through a country is impressed favorably or otherwise by the appearance of the towns along the line of railway. As they appear prosperous and of healthy growth he at once assures himself that there is either a local industrial factor to cause it, or a splendidly developed agricultural area from which is drawn the resources that contribute or make for the growth that is so readily apparent. On the other hand, if evidence of impoverished streets, badly appearing residences and business places and lethargic citizens, there is an absence of local industry and surrounding agricultural prosperity. There is no line of railway, whether main or branch, throughout western Canada, that through the towns or cities that are built along the ribs of steel do not convey the most favorable impression. The cause is not always apparent, but the facts are there and easily seen. In most cases the growth and the stability of these towns are caused by the excellent agricultural districts that are tributary; in some cases, manufacturing enterprises have sprung up, caused by the agricultural demands and needs. The Winnipeg Free Press and the Edmonton Bulletin have recently sent corps of correspondents through the provinces to secure data concerning the growth of the two or three hundred towns that have come into existence during the past two or three years. The particulars make interesting reading, and as one reads of the station house, the blacksmith shop, the boarding house and the store of April, being dwarfed in August by a hundred or more dwellings, by large hotels, by splendid stores, and a half dozen implement warehouses, not forgetting the two or three churches and the excellent public school buildings, it causes one to stop and think if they ever heard of such marvelous changes. Certainly not often. These are facts, though, as related of western Canada. Then, too, there are now cities—yes, cities of from ten to fifteen thousand people—where five or six years ago there was but the bare prairie and the lone section post. The changes in the Canadian West during the past eight or ten years have been marvelous, and it is no idle tale to say that the development in number and growth of the cities, towns and villages there in the past decade has eclipsed anything in the history of the building of a new country. Agriculture has been the basis, and it is agriculture of the kind that is lasting. The ease with which an excellent productive farm, capable of yielding a splendid living and large profit to the operator, is such that it has encouraged thousands to follow that pursuit, and also other thousands on the limited and expensive farms throughout the Central Western States as well as some of the Coast States, to enlarge their field of enterprise. The climate is excellent, and just the climate that is desirable for the healthy growth of man and the products of the field. All varieties of the smaller and better paying grains are raised, and generally with every assurance of good fields. With government supervision of railway rates, splendid markets are certain, and the highest prices realized. The Dominion Government, that has been carrying on a propaganda of securing settlers for the vacant lands, issues literature descriptive of those available in the provinces, and on request of your nearest Canadian government agent, copies will be forwarded free.

IN THE LIMELIGHT.

"Did you ever feel that the eyes of the world were upon you?"

"Once a year, when I wear the neckties that my wife gives me at Christmas."

A Lesson for Diplomats.

Ellihu Root, at the luncheon in Providence preceding the dedication of the John Hay Memorial library at Brown university, said of John Hay:

"His diplomacy was gracious, and it was prudent as well. I remember, in an argument about a certain international complication, how very warmly and aptly he once insisted on prudence."

"It was the Christmas season, and he said that we might learn a lesson from a little girl who was taught, in the early part of December."

"Dear me," her mother said, "if you're going to be naughty I'm very much afraid Santa Claus won't bring you any presents."

"The little girl frowned."

"Well," she whispered, "you needn't say it so near the chimney!"

What a Trained Nurse Says About Resinol.

I get absolute satisfaction from Resinol and use it constantly. One of my patients has had ulcers for 15 years, and Resinol has helped her more than anything else. She will continue using it until cured. I have made some remarkable cures with it. Mrs. Agnes T. O'Neil, Somerville, Mass.

Cat's Tigerish Nature.

A shocking affair in which a domestic cat displayed tigerish qualities occurred at Ayr recently. A woman named Mrs. John Scott had occasion to go on a message and left a child, six weeks old, in the house. On her return she was horrified to discover that the cat had eaten the small finger of the child's left hand, and had commenced on the next finger.

Stupid Man.

"Why, I thought he was a careful business man."

"He thinks so, too. But he absolutely doesn't realize what a lovely hat I can buy for $48.99."

COMPLETELY PROSTRATED.

So Sensitive to Pain She Had to Be Turned in She's.

Mrs. Eliza Kirk, 8 Main St., Spencer, Ind., says: "I had been prostrated with inflammatory rheumatism. My limbs were swollen, hands drawn out of shape and I was so sensitive to pain I had to be turned in sheets. I was able, at last, under the best medical attention, to crawl around the house with the aid of a cane, but the improvement went no further. Finally my husband brought home a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. It was surprising how quickly they relieved me and how soon I was cured. For three years my cure has been permanent."

TAKE A LESSON FROM VENUS

Moral That Writer Has Drawn Is Not Without Some Points of Worthiness.

Miss Venus is a lovely girl; not one time has she muttered: against her pale, illumined life not one word has she uttered. Just think, she's been without her arms for many dusty ages, and yet she never drops the brine or rants in hopeless rages. She has to stand a bunch of gulf from art bugs down to draymen, and yet she never once comes back and grills the heathen layman. When some low-brow of brutal men starts merrily to panning and says her face is worse than wood and that her hair needs canning, or that he has a waitress friend who jerks a coffee jigger could give her many, many leagues and beat her out on figger, she never even looks at him, that rank untutored sinner, but holds her tongue and pedestals, O Venus is a winner. She's on the job both day and night, she hears man knock or fatter and women not of classic mold get madder than a hatter. She suffers long and quietly with calm and placid manner; in cold no mits to reach a quilt, in heat, no hands to fan her. She is a lesson in herself—a fun for daily picking. Just spare the world your trouble tales and scratch the useless kicking.—G. S., in Chicago Tribune.

SKIN TORTURED BABIES SLEEP AND MOTHERS REST

A warm bath with Cuticura Soap, followed by a gentle anointing with Cuticura ointment, is generally sufficient to afford immediate comfort in the most distressing forms of itching, burning and scaly eczemas, rashes, irritations and inflammations of infants and children, permit sleep for child and rest for parent, and point to permanent relief, when other methods fail. Peace falls upon distracted households when these pure, sweet and gentle emollients enter. No other treatment costs so little and does so much for skin sufferers, from infancy to age. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, for free 32-page book on the care and treatment of skin and scalp troubles.

A Son's Compliment.

His incessant work, his avoidance of all rest and recreation and his rigorous self-denial made Joseph Pulitzer, in his days in harness, the despair of his family.

In this connection a pretty story is told about the famous journalist's son Ralph. Mr. Pulitzer had refused to take a holiday, and Mrs. Pulitzer exclaimed:

"Did you ever know your father to do anything because it was pleasant?"

"Yes, once—when he married you," the young man gracefully replied.

False.
