NOTES FROM A CORN GROWER

Hon. W. B. McKinley Generously Rewards the Youths.

Monday, January 20, I left Mattoon, over the Big Four for Washington City. At Charleston I was joined by Ivan Goble of Coles county. In Indianapolis we were joined by Mr. Kline and a number of other corn growers. At this point we took the Big Four, Chesapeake and Ohio, in a special Pullman sleeper. Soon at

As we neared Washington City the land was more level. On either side the car, we saw wheat, hay and occasionally a field of corn. On arriving in Washington City, about 8 p. m., Tuesday, we were met at the depot by Hon. W. B. McKinley. He took us home with him for supper, and with O. H. Benson of the agricultural department, and Congressman Stone of Illinois, entertained us during the evening.

We lodged at the Ebbitt House, while in Washington.

Wednesday morning Mr. Benson took us to the Department of Agriculture, where we met Secretary

In the afternoon we listened to a speech by Champ Clark in the Capitol.

We visited the house of representatives. This is a very beautiful room. There are statues all around the walls.

In the Bureau of Engraving and Printing Department, we saw where they printed the government bonds and made our paper money, postage stamps, military, and naval diplomas, passports and other government documents.

I thought the Government Library, the finest building of all. The walls and ceiling were covered with fine paintings. In the center of the building is a large round room with a dome ceiling. All around this room are fire proof book shelves. The books are conveyed from this room to different departments by electricity. At the head of the stairs leading to this room is a large painting called "Minerva."

In the evening we saw a fine play in Chase's theater.

Friday morning we boarded a street car for Mt. Vernon, George Washington's home. In Alexandria we saw the old church he attended. Along the route, we saw fine sights. Washington's home is just as he left it. The old family coach is still in the shed. The furnishings of the room are the same he used, preserved and cared for by an organization of ladies. We saw his tomb in a grove, each tree planted by different men of the nation.

We were then taken to Arlington Heights, the home of Robert E. Lee. The National cemetery and the anchor of the battleship Maine attracted our attention.

At Ft. Meyer we saw the cavalry practice, and it almost made us wish to be one of them.

Friday evening we enjoyed very much a play in the Polish Theater.

Saturday morning we visited the Center market, where we saw everything good to eat. We were presented a commission which we placed to the lapel of our coats and brought home for a souvenir.

From the top of Washington's monument we got a bird's eye view of Washington City and the Potomac river. Had our pictures taken again, and went to the National Museum, to see the government collections, comprising millions of artificial and natural collections from all quarters of the globe.

We made a visit to the Smithsonian institute. Then toured Washington in automobiles and went to the Bureau of Fisheries, the art gallery. The Pan American Union building, where we saw a Spanish Mexican court with a fountain in the center and Central American trees growing. We went through many beautiful parks and saw lots of fine mansions. Saturday night went to another theater in charge of Mr. Chire. Sunday morning started home over the B. & O. R. R. through Harper's Ferry and down the beautiful Shenandoah valley, dotted here and there with battle grounds, and across West Va. to Indianapolis. From there to Tuscola, Ill. I left the other boys here and came on to Mattoon, Monday I brought home with me a Boys Corn Club pennant with the word Illinois on it and the initials B. C. C. in red white and blue. also two groups of pictures we had taken in Washington. We feel very grateful to Mr. McKinley for the interest he has taken in the boys corn club and cannot tell how much we appreciate his kindness and generosity in giving us so interesting and profitable a trip. I hope there will be lots of other boys who will be interested in the boys corn club and win the best prize of all next year, A trip to Washington, Respectfully,

BERT WAGGONER, Gays, Ill.

THE NATION'S CAPITOL.

The construction of the capitol was begun in 1793, and the cornerstone of the central portion of the building was laid by President Washington in September of that year. On Aug. 24, 1814, the capitol was partly destroyed by British troops, who set fire to all the public buildings. The cornerstone of the wings was laid on July 4, 1851, by President Fillmore, and Daniel Webster officiated as orator. These wings, or extensions, were completed in 1857. The total cost of the capitol was about $14,000,000.

After boarding the train, we ate our supper in the dining car, then went to the sleeper and retired. I went to sleep in Indiana and awoke in West Virginia, to behold grand scenery. On one side of the track were mountains on the other New river with many water falls.

We passed through White Sulphur Springs, Clifton Forge, Staunton, Charlottesville, Manassas, and Alexandria, all of historical interest to the school boy.

The New river in some places had cut through solid rock, and many of the rocks on the Allegheny side appeared as if they were just ready to roll down on the track. We traveled a distance along the Green river, it gets its name from the color of the water.

We passed through twenty-four tunnels, the longest one mile in length.

Wilson and were presented diplomas.

We here joined the boys corn growers of the south and the young lady tomato grower of Arkansas, and the group was photographed.

We next visited the capitol and were met by a committee from both houses.

In the afternoon we went to the White House and shook hands with President Taft, and were photographed with him on the steps of the National mansion.

Thence, to the Zoological parks, where we saw many strange and

THE WHITE HOUSE.

The home of the presidents was begun in 1792 and was first occupied by President Adams in 1800. In 1814 it was burned by the British and was rebuilt four years later. The original building is a two story freestone edifice painted white. It is 170 feet long by 90 feet wide and has an Ionic portico. In 1903 the executive offices, which are shown in the upper picture, were erected. The main entrance to the White House is shown in the lower cut.

curious animals to us. We saw birds from all over the world.

Thursday morning we visited the navy yard, and were taken through the shops, where the big guns are made. We saw guns with the bore fourteen inches in diameter and fifty-two feet long.

OBITUARIES

WILLIAM K. BAKER

William K. Baker died in his home near Bruce, Saturday evening, February 8, 1913, at 7 p. m. of apoplexy. His wife departed this life seventeen years ago.

W. K. Baker was born in Gallatin county, Illinois, October 27, 1826. His ancestors were from North Carolina.

Mr. Baker was married at sixteen years of age to Miss Lucinda V. Carter, who at that time was but thirteen years of age. After their marriage Mr. Baker started in life on a salary of $2.00 per week, and a very limited amount of household goods. They, by industry and economy, soon purchased a small farm. He soon became one of the wealthiest and most prominent farmers of the county.

Mr. Baker and wife were the parents of ten children; five, as follows, survive him: Mrs. J. K. P. Rose living on Sand Creek, Mrs. Hannah Whitfield of Decatur, Harvey Baker and Fred Baker of Whitley township and Mrs. Lydia Banks of Windsor. Two, Mrs. Clark and Colbert Baker, died within the last few years and each left several children. He had thirty-four grandchildren and thirty-three great grandchildren.

The funeral was preached in the Liberty church Monday at 2 p. m. by Eld. A. J. Nance of Hammoud and the interment in the cemetery nearby.

MRS. LEV JORDAN.

Florence Alma Farmer, was born in Shelby County Jan. 28, 1880. She was married to Lev Jordan, Nov. 8, 1886. Died near Garden Grove, Iowa, Feb. 6, 1913, of hemorrhage of the bowels.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan were the parents of one child.

The remains, accompanied by the father and son arrived in Findlay Saturday. The funeral was preached by Rev. B. N. Sypolt assisted by Rev. Cuppy, Sunday afternoon in the Church of Christ.

The remains were taken to the White cemetery for interment.

Teachers Institute

The teachers' institute Thursday and Friday of last week was well attended. The teachers seem much enthused with their work and seemed to grasp readily ideas produced and entered heartily in all discussions.

The two lectures delivered by Dr. Daugherty, of Vincennes, Ind., were full of good meat from start to finish.

Those who heard the lecture are very strong in their commendation of it.

The Moultrie County Teacher's Association passed a resolution expressing their sympathy and attesting their appreciation of the worth of Jno. Trainer who is recognized as a benefactor to education generally. The committee asked for material aid rather than a lengthy resolution.

That teachers agreed is shown by the fact that $20.40 was raised in a few minutes after the appeal was made.

Mr. Trainer was the author of the Course of Study now used in thirty-two states of the union. It was through the untiring efforts of Professors B. F. Peadro and John Trainer that the country schools of Moultrie county were graded and not only advanced to the front ranks but stepped out in front.

John Trainer will be long and favorably known, and his memory cherished by the teachers of a few years ago, who were associated with him in the work and profited by his instructions.

Wedding Anniversary.

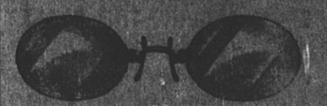

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Harris celebrated their 56th wedding anniversary, Wednesday at their home on Grant St. Those present were Ed Harris and family, W. L. Landers and family, Manuel Sipe and wife and Mrs. W. W. Lewis and daughter of Decatur. Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Harris are now 76 and 77 years of age and have lived in Sullivan for about 22 years.

Chamber of Commerce

The chamber of commerce met in regular session at the city hall, Monday evening. As President O. L. Todd was absent, the meeting was called to order by the vice-president, Dr. H. M. Butler. After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting and other routine business, the election of officers for the ensuing year was in order which resulted as follows:

President—W. A. Steele.
Vice president—Dr. H. M. Butler.
Treasurer—Chas. Shuman.
Secretary—J. R. Fogue.
Board of Directors—W. A. Steele, O. J. Gauger, H. J. Miller, F. J. Harris, F. E. Pifer, Dr. Johnson and Geo. A. Daugherty.

The committee on the Wyman park made its report and asked to be discharged. This brought out a lot of discussion and gave the members a chance to display their forensic ability. After a parliamentary tangle lasting about an hour, the committee was finally discharged but some one made a motion to appoint another park committee and the chair settled the matter by re-appointing the old committee.

The park question was pretty thoroughly discussed pro and con but no recommendations were made by the committee or the Chamber of Commerce. Three definite propositions were submitted. One by Irving Shuman, one by J. B. Titus and one by Lucas Sene. These are practically the same as have been heretofore published, except that Mr. Titus offers to donate to the city five acres in addition to the park site. J. R. Fogue read a letter from J. E. Jennings in regard to another park site and asked to have the matter held over to the next meeting. Some of the members thought the question ought to be settled at this meeting so far as the Chamber of Commerce is concerned. Others argued that more time should be taken to investigate and discuss the different propositions, and that the Chamber of Commerce really has no power in selecting the site. That will have to be done by the city council. It is the final determining body and can select the park site with or without a vote of the people. Most of the members who expressed an opinion, thought the matter should be left to a vote. It seemed to be the unanimous sentiment of the meeting that Sullivan needs the park and must have it, and probably at its next meeting the Chamber of Commerce will vote on the proposed sites. It will then be up to the city council.

TAFT SENDS FOUR WARSHIPS TO MEXICO; DIAZ IN CONTROL

FELIX DIAZ PROCLAIMS HIMSELF PRESIDENT; MADERO SIGNS, RUMOR.

STANDARD OF NEW LEADER RAISED BY FEDERAL ARMY

Washington is informed Government Soldiers Have Gone Over to Colors of New Provisional Executive—Former President Either in Hiding or Flight, Following Revolt in the Capital—United States Embassy Guarded by Picked Force of Twenty Americans—Gen. Blanquet Refuses to Fight New Leader.

Mexico City.—Col. Felix Diaz has proclaimed himself provisional president of Mexico, denouncing Francisco Madero as an enemy to the republic.

Madero is reported to be in hiding with his family in Vera Cruz, ready to flee from the country.

Gen. Mondragon was made commander-in-chief of the rebel forces at the same time Diaz proclaimed himself provisional president.

General Mondragon and Diaz have sent the following reassuring note to Ambassador Wilson:

"American lives and interests will be protected. There will be no anti-foreign demonstration. We are in complete control of the situation."

Three newspaper offices were burned by the rioters.

DIAZ'S RELEASE AND REVOLT AGAINST MADERO CONFIRMED

Washington.—Full confirmation of Gen. Felix Diaz's release from prison, his revolt against Madero, the fighting in Mexico City, and of control by the revolutionists of virtually the entire city, was contained in official dispatches to the state department from Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City.

GEN. FELIX DIAZ

It was said President Madero had fled Mexico City, but confirmation of the report that he had gone to Chapultepec could not be obtained.

President Taft ordered four battleships to Mexican waters to "protect Americans and American interests" during the struggle for the presidency between President Madero and Gen. Felix Diaz.

The vessels available for immediate dispatch to these ports are the gunboat Nashville, which left New Orleans early Monday; the gunboat Wheeling and the cruiser Des Moines.

The full purpose, according to Secretary Knox, is "for observance and report upon the situation," particularly with reference to protection afforded foreigners and their interests.

"The sending of the vessels," said Secretary Knox, "represents no change whatever in the policy of the president. It indicates no bias on the part of the United States."

All dispatches to the state department declared that foreigners in Mexico City and elsewhere throughout the republic were in no immediate danger. Virtually no new details of the Diaz revolt were received here, although Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson at Mexico City was ordered to submit a detailed report at the earliest possible moment.

Protection for American Demanded. Declaring that American lives and property are endangered in Mexico, Representative Hamill of New Jersey

"The Good Lord Made Them All." You doubtless remember the story of the old lady who deplored the shooting of crabs because, though she didn't know what they were, "life was probably as dear to them as to anybody." rom "The Business of Being a Woman," by Ida M. Tarbell.

introduced a resolution in the house directing the secretary of state to require that Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City "notify the existing government of Mexico that it will be held strictly and immediately answerable for any injurious acts to Americans or their property in Mexico."

Immediate intervention in Mexico and permanent guardianship of its affairs by the United States was demanded by Senator Catron of New Mexico. "We should have intervened when Forstio Diaz fell," he said. "I think we shall be compelled to do it now."

Representative Murdock of Kansas assailed the state department for its policy in Mexico, in an interview.

"Kill first and inquire afterward," is the policy of our state department. It should bring the blush of shame to the American cheek," said Murdock. "The policy is insidiously weak. It is nonsense for the department to talk of 'taking steps to ascertain the situation,' when Americans have already been brutally murdered. If it was a European country involved, Mexico would be forced to answer in a day."

Knox Says Situation is Grave. "While the situation is apparently grave and the crisis seems to have been reached, it does not yet appear that there is the slightest possibility of the United States interfering," was the comment of Secretary of State Knox when asked for news of the revolt in Mexico City.

"Intervention talk is premature, as nothing but a general upheaval jeopardizing American lives will change the 'non-intervention policy' of the government in the new few weeks."

Arsenal in Rebels' Hands. Ambassador Wilson said that 200 were reported killed in the fight around Palace square, and that a great portion of the federal army is in revolt.

As dean of the diplomatic corps, Wilson reported he had officially demanded of President Madero and Gen. Diaz full protection for foreigners.

The ambassador was immediately instructed by the state department to submit detailed reports as to conditions at the capital.

Wilson's dispatch stated Gens. Diaz and Reyes were released from prison, Reyes was killed in a fight in Palace square and 200 are reported killed.

DIAZ'S STANDARD IS RAISED BY FEDERALS

El Paso, Tex.—Mexican federal troops in the state of Chihuahua are raising the standard of Felix Diaz. They were kept in ignorance of the revolt in Mexico City for some days, and when they learned of Diaz's success most of them declared for him.

The federal garrison of Juarez, numbering nearly 1,000, is still in ignorance, and has not joined the revolt. The troops are kept closely confined in barracks. Col. Francisco Vasquez, commandant, remains loyal to Madero.

Five hundred citizens of El Paso have been armed and formed into a sheriff's posse to assist in protecting the city in the event American troops are sent into Mexico.

From Ciudad Chihuahua come stories of general defection in the federal ranks and it is expected that nearly all the government troops in Chihuahua state will go over to Diaz.

Advices from Mexico City stated that Madero left the national palace during the night ostensibly to go to the castle of Chapultepec, but that he is not there, and is believed to have fled from the city.

United States army men predict that the United States will be forced to intervene. All the border troops are held in readiness for quick movement, it is said.

It is not believed here that Madero will be able to get together enough loyal troops, should he return to Mexico.

GEN. BERNARDO REYES

Not an Effective Branch. The learned counsel was endeavoring to impress the court with the fact that his client had always been anxious to settle. "My lord," he said, "I have been in the office for twenty years, and I have never seen a case where the plaintiff was not satisfied with the result."

Better Kind. There is this in favor of the thoroughbred dog: Its owner is more likely to keep it shut up.—New York Mail.

FRANCISCO MADERO

Deposed president of Mexico, said to have fled Mexico City and gone to Chapultepec.

Mexico City, to suppress the rebellion. Mexico City advices indicate that Diaz is in complete control of the city and that his control is rapidly extending to all parts of the republic.

MEXICAN ARMY REVOLTS; GEN. REYES AMONG SLAIN

Mexico City, Mex.—The Mexican army arose in revolt against President Madero, freed Gen. Felix Diaz from his military prison, hailed him as leader, attacked the national palace, captured the arsenal and holds the capital virtually against the government.

Gen. Bernardo Reyes, long a prisoner on a charge of treason, but who never had been tried, also was freed, only to be killed in the first battle between the rebels and the troops that stood loyal to Madero.

The minister of war, Gen. Garcia Fena, received a minor injury. President Madero and his ministers were barricaded in the palace, while mobs paraded the streets.

Despite the practical seizure of the government, with the rebels in possession of many public buildings and far greater in numbers than the federal soldiers, President Madero, takes the situation optimistically. He declared that the revolution was under control.

"See, the people are with the government," cried Madero as a mob, composed for the most part of boys, marched past the palace bearing the government colors.

To every point he could reach by telegraph, Madero has sent word that the revolt has been put down. But even as his reassuring messages went out, cavalry, infantry and artillery were joining Gen. Diaz, who, once spared, must now fight to the death.

"We will use the iron hand," declared Madero. Madero was asked by the diplomatic corps to say yes or no as to whether he could give protection to foreign residents. The president did not answer.

The diplomats then sent a message to Gen. Diaz notifying him that they would look to him to give such protection.

The government sent a force to attack the arsenal, but the federals were repulsed with heavy losses by the machine gun, rifle and artillery fire.

250 Were Killed. The total number of dead is reported to be 250. Three Spaniards were killed. An American, E. L. Ramsey, formerly of Galveston, was seriously wounded.

Stray bullets entered the embassy buildings. Madero's family has taken refuge in the Japanese legation, and the president is making a fight, desperate in his efforts, against what appears to be enormous odds, for retention of his power.

Gen. Diaz, who is the nephew of the deposed President Porfirio Diaz, is now at the head of a majority of the capital troops, including most of the artillery, and is in possession of the arsenal in the city and the powder works nearby.

Soldiers Led by Students. Madero is relying on the loyalty of Gen. Blanquet, who has been summoned from Toluca, 40 miles distant, but Blanquet has only a thousand men under his command, and the rebels are confident of defeating him.

The day was marked by four desperate engagements, the most sanguinary of which took place in front of the national palace. But the most important was that which terminated in the formal surrender of the troops in the artillery barracks.

The numerous troops were led by students of the military schools at Tlalpam, a suburb. They marched to the prison to which Gen. Diaz had been transferred for safe keeping and released him.

Gen. Reyes also was freed from Santiago military prison, there being no resistance in either quarter.

To the army of the mutineers quickly came portions of the First cavalry, Twenty-fourth cavalry and Twentieth infantry. Gen. Manuel Mondragon, retired, was in command, but gave way to Gens. Diaz and Reyes.

Unkindly Suggestive. A lady of advanced age required the services of a page-boy, and advertised: "Youth wanted." One of her dearest friends sent her by the next post a bottle of Blank's celebrated wrinkle filler and skin-tightener, a pot of fairy bloom, a set of false teeth, a faxen wig, and a cake of iodine soap.

Better Kind. "Mirandy, Mirandy! Git up! They's ten automobiles gone by 'ready this mornin', an' th' chickens ain't been turned out into th' yard yet!"—Judge.

THOUGHTFUL RUTH.

Ruth—Yes; I got papa to buy a vacuum cleaner for mother. Maud—How thoughtful! Ruth—Yes. Mother is a little stiffened up with rheumatism, you know, and I used to feel so sorry to see her trying to use the broom that I always left home on sweeping day.

What She Meant. "So you think I smoke too much?" he asked, just to keep up a conversation that seemed to be languishing. "Not at all," she answered, not very skillfully concealing a yawn.

A DIFFERENCE

It Paid This Man to Change Food. "What is called 'good living' eventually brought me to a condition quite the reverse of good health," writes a N. Y. merchant.

"Improper eating told on me till my stomach became so weak that food nauseated me, even the lightest and simplest lunch, and I was much depressed after a night of uneasy slumber, unfitting me for business."

"This condition was discouraging, as I could find no way to improve it. Then I saw the advertisement of Grape-Nuts food, and decided to try it, and became delighted with the result."

"For the past three years I have used Grape-Nuts and nothing else for my breakfast and for lunch before retiring. It speedily set my stomach right and I congratulate myself that I have regained my health. There is no greater comfort for a tired man than a lunch of Grape-Nuts. It insures restful sleep, and an awakening in the morning with a feeling of buoyant courage and hopefulness."

"Grape-Nuts has been a boon to my whole family. It has made of our 3-year-old boy, who used to be unable to digest much of anything, a robust, healthy, little rascal weighing 33 pounds. Mankind certainly owes a debt of gratitude to the expert who invented this perfect food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. "There's a reason."

CAPT. SCOTT AND THREE AIDS DIE IN BLIZZARD AFTER REACHING POLE

London.—Capt. Robert Falcon Scott and his party died in a blizzard while returning to McMurdo bay from the south pole, according to dispatches from New Zealand. The first wireless said "the entire party" perished, but later word indicated that Capt. Scott and only four men composing his "flying squadron" died after a dash for the pole, which they reached in January, 1912.

From records found with the bodies of the party it was shown that Scott reached the south pole on Jan. 18, 1912. Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian, who now is in the United States, discovered the south pole Dec. 14, 1911.

Wife on Way to Meet Explorer.
Attempts were made by wireless to communicate with Mrs. Scott, wife of the explorer, who is somewhere on her way to New Zealand. She left England early in January for Wellington, expecting to be there in time to welcome the returning expedition.

Capt. Scott reached the exact spot marked by Amundsen as the south pole and found the Norwegian flag and hut with which the Norwegian signalled he had reached the pole first. Scott's records show, according to a dispatch from Oamuru, New Zealand.

The Terra Nova, Capt. Scott's ship, returning from McMurdo bay, where it had gone to relieve the explorer, who, with his party, had spent the winter there, passed Cape Sanders and wireless that it was returning much earlier than expected because of "a grave calamity."

Met Death in Blizzard.
The latest dispatches from New Zealand indicate that Capt. Scott and the four men who made the final dash to the pole with him in January, 1912, were the only ones who perished. The "flying squadron" of five set out Jan. 4, 1912, from their last base of supplies, 150 miles from the pole.

It is believed that after reaching the pole, Scott and the four men with him—Dr. Wilson, Capt. Oates, Lieut. Bowers and Petty Officer Evans—were overwhelmed on the return journey by a blizzard and their bodies found by other members of the expedition, who had been left at the various supply depots on the trail.

The bodies of the brave ice fighters were brought back over the trail on sledges, it is thought, and kept at the main winter camp on McMurdo bay until the arrival of the Terra Nova.

Expedition Out Three Years.
Capt. Scott had been in the Antarctic nearly three years. The last message from him was received in April, 1912, when Lieut. Pennell, commanding the expeditionary ship Terra Nova, returned to New Zealand, bringing word that Capt. Scott, with a party of four men, were 150 miles from the south pole and was pressing on. He sent back word that he would remain another winter in the Antarctic to complete his work.

According to records here there were 28 officers and scientists and 23 sailors in the entire Scott party that landed on the shores of McMurdo bay in 1910. Of this total of 51 men a number returned in the Terra Nova with Lieut. Pennell last April.

SCOTT WAS RESCUED AFTER FIRST DASH

Capt. Robert Falcon Scott was an officer of the royal navy. He was born in Outlands, Davenport, England, June 6, 1868, and entered the navy in 1882. He was torpedo lieutenant of the Majestic, flagship of the channel squadron in 1898-99; was made commander in 1900 and captain in 1904.

He commanded the British Antarctic expedition in 1900-04. His achievements in the Antarctic won him medals from the Royal Geographical Society, Royal Scottish Geographical Society and American, Swedish, Danish and Antwerp geographical societies.

Capt. Scott's first Antarctic expedition sailed on the ship Discovery in 1901. He established winter quarters in the ice barrier and led a sledge expedition to 82 degrees, 17 minutes, the most southerly point reached up to that time. He was brought back by a relief expedition on the steamship Morning in January, 1903.

On the Discovery expedition Sir Ernest Shackleton was third in command.

Capt. Robert Falcon Scott, R. N., on June 1, 1910, started his south polar expedition from London in the hope of winning for the British nation the honor of first flying the Union Jack at the south pole, achieving thereby the distinction that Commander Peary had secured for the United States at the north pole.

The Terra Nova left the London docks with what was regarded as the most completely and carefully equipped polar expedition that had ever been organized. The British nation had been called upon in patriotic terms to supply the funds.

The country had been aroused by the achievements of Sir Ernest Shackleton, who about the time that Peary reached the north pole was establishing a record of getting within 100 miles of the Antarctic extremity.

$200,000 Was Raised.
The response was immediate and $200,000 was raised, half by public subscription, the other half by government grant.

The expedition consisted of 60 men, half of them picked sailors and 28 of them scientists of repute. Twenty Siberian ponies, such as Shackleton found so well adapted for the work, 30 dogs and two motor sledges were shipped to New Zealand.

MEMBERS OF SCOTT'S POLAR EXPEDITION

The principal members of the British Antarctic expedition, as it first landed in the Antarctic, were:

- Capt. Robert Falcon Scott, R. N.
- Lieut. E. R. G. N. Evans, R. N., second in command of the proposed western party.
- Dr. E. A. Wilson, chief of the scientific staff.
- Lieut. V. L. A. Campbell, R. N., leader of the eastern party.
- Lieut. H. L. L. Pennell, R. N. magnetic and meteorological work.
- Lieut. H. P. Deniss, R. N.
- Lieut. H. R. Bowers, Royal Indian Marine.
- Engineer Lieut. E. W. Riley, R. N.
- Surgeon G. M. Leveick, R. N., doctor and zoologist.
- Surgeon E. L. Atkinson, R. N., doctor, bacteriologist, parasitologist.
- F. H. D. Drake, R. N., secretary.
- Sixty picked sailors.
- Twenty-eight scientists.

SHACKLETON CANNOT BELIEVE SCOTT IS DEAD

New York.—"I consider it most unlikely that Capt. Scott is dead. I was reported dead on one trip, and so was Amundsen," declared Sir Ernest Shackleton when he heard the stories of the disaster to the Scott party.

"At all events, I do not think Capt. Scott died in a blizzard," said Shackleton.

"It is practically impossible to die in a blizzard if one is equipped against it. I shall not believe Capt. Scott has perished until I hear something more definite."

TERRIBLE CATASTROPHE, PEARY SAYS OF NEWS

Washington.—"A frightful and unexpected catastrophe," was the comment of Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the north pole, when shown dispatches detailing the fate of Capt. Robert F. Scott.

"The news comes as a terrible shock to me. Mrs. Scott, the relative of the brave men with Capt. Scott and the entire British nation have my deepest, sincerest and most heartfelt sympathy and condolence," said Admiral Peary.

Why Jocks Failed in Business.

"I'm sorry to hear," said the Lion, "that poor little Jocko has failed in his laundry business." "Yes," replied the Wombat, "he undertook too large a contract by washing the Giraffe's collars for two cents each."

Concerning Woman.

When God thought of mother, he must have laughed with satisfaction and framed it quickly—so rich, so deep, so divine, so full of soul, power and beauty was the conception.—Henry Ward Beecher

My Duty.

There is an idea abroad among moral people that they should make their neighbors good. One person I have to make good; myself. But my duty to my neighbor is much more nearly expressed by saying that I have to make him happy—if I may.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Fault.

Disagreeable people always must be exaggerated. It seems, until they occupy much more than their allotted space in our world.

SEPARATE VOTE IN HOUSE AND SENATE

FEW SURPRISES IN BALLOTS ON LONG AND SHORT TERM CANDIDATES.

LORIMER GETS 3 IN HOUSE

One Republican Votes for Funk and One Progressive Lines Up in the Sherman Column—Most of Day Used in Speeches.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 12.—The first votes on the United States senatorship in the Illinois general assembly were cast in separate sessions of the house and senate. Beyond the entrance of some additional candidates for the short term there were few surprises.

William Lorimer received three votes in the house for the short term senatorship. Those who voted for him were Thomas Curran, McLaughlin and McNichols.

A large number of other candidates made their appearance, and Democrats scattering their votes generally. H. A. Magill of Princeton, who was defeated in the primary by Sherman, was given two votes, Hull and Catlin voting for him.

BalLOTS in Senate.

Results of the ballot on the long term in the senate was as follows: Sherman, 24; Lewis, 24; Frank H. Funk, Progressive, 2.

Andrews, Republican, voted for Funk; Jones, Progressive, voted for Sherman; Clark, Republican, was absent.

The result of the ballot in the senate on the short term was:

- Hopkins, 11; Sherman, 11; R. R. McCormick, 2; Boeschstein, 12; William Ritchie, Oak Park, 2; Monroe C. Crawford, Jonesboro, 4; B. F. Caldwell, 1; George W. Pithan, Jackson county, 1; George M. LaCrome, Effingham, 2; Samuel Alschuler, 2; Funk, 2.

In the House.

The ballot in the house on the long term was as follows: Lewis, 70; Sherman, 50; Frank H. Funk, 26; Berlyn, Socialist, 4.

The result on the short term ballot in the house was as follows:

- Charles Boeschstein, 52; L. Y. Sherman, 43; A. J. Hopkins, 2; E. O. Perry, 1; H. A. Magill, 2; Anton Cerant, 1; Frank H. Funk, 25; George W. Bowlin, 1; William Lorimer, 3; Bowers, 1; J. J. McLaughlin, 1; Duncan McDonald, Springfield, Socialist, 4; John J. Barth, Chicago, 1.

Col. Lewis' friends all voted present and not voting on this ballot, as they had agreed that the long term should go first.

Kiezman Hits Progressives.

Representative Kiezman, Republican, made an attack on the Progressives who refused to vote for Sherman for the long term. He said they had participated in the primary which nominated Sherman and that now they were supporting another man.

The nomination speeches began in the house at noon, but the senate got into a tangle over the vacation appointments and other matters and did not get started until after 1 o'clock. It was the understanding that after the nominating speeches one ballot would be taken and the house would then adjourn until today, when the nominating will all be done over again in joint session and the first joint ballot taken.

Defeat Piercy Resolution.

The senate defeated the Piercy resolution which provided that the two houses dispose of the long term before beginning the fight on the short term. This was Gov. Dunne's idea; but it did not meet with the approval of the Republicans.

The Republicans, Progressives and Socialists are standing together, but the Democrats are badly divided, only 39 of them having gone into caucus. They all agree, however, that they will endeavor to elect Lewis before voting on the short term place seriously.

The nominating speeches in behalf of Sherman were made in the senate by H. A. Magill, seconded by Logan Hay of this city, and in the house by Representative Holaday, seconded by Representative Wood. Senator Denvir, seconded by Senator O'Connor, nominated Lewis in the senate and Representative Karch, seconded by Igoe, named him in the house. Representative Elliott nominated Funk and Seymour Stedman nominated the Socialist candidate, Berlyn.

Frank M. Shepherd of Elgin placed in nomination for the short term senatorship, the name of former Senator A. J. Hopkins of Aurora.

Bee Keepers Meet in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Feb. 12.—For the first time in its history, the National Bee Keepers' association is holding a delegate convention, the first session being called to order this afternoon in the Grand hotel by President George W. York of Sandpoint, Idaho. The experiment is expected to result in the accomplishment of more business and in the incorporation of the association. Routine affairs occupied the afternoon, and tonight the main address will be delivered by Wesley Foster of Boulder, Colo., and Ernest R. Root of Medina, O.

Congressional Notes

The house passed a resolution introduced by Representative Thomas W. Hardwick of Georgia, calling on the president for investigation regarding the exemption of American importers of Manila hemp from payment of the export tax thereon.

Eulogies for the late Senator Frye of Maine and Representatives Hubbard of Iowa and Utter of Rhode Island were delivered in the house. Many representatives joined in the symposium of tributes.

By a viva voce vote the house passed the Webb bill to prohibit the shipment of intoxicating liquors into "dry" states, as it passed the senate, and thereby removed a parliamentary obstruction which threatened to delay its final passage until another session of congress.

The Clayton resolution for a constitutional amendment for a six-year, single presidential term effective in 1921, to exempt Taft, Wilson or Roosevelt from its operation, was put over to the next congress by the house judiciary committee. This indicates no action will be taken on the Works single-term resolution already passed by the senate.

Senator Poindexter introduced a resolution calling upon the secretary of the treasury to furnish him reasons for treasury order authorizing deposit of customs receipts in national banks.

Senator Crawford introduced bill to restrict issuance of interlocutory injunction which suspend enforcement of a state statute.

Resolution calling for safeguarding American interests in Mexico was introduced by Senator Martine.

The house passed a bill forbidding intermarriage of whites with negroes, Chinese, Japanese or Malays in the District of Columbia.

Representative Hensley of Missouri is one of eight Democratic members of the committee on naval affairs who favors making provision for only one battleship in the forthcoming naval appropriation bill. The other six Democrats on the committee favor two or more battleships, and with the seven Republican members constitute an overwhelming majority against the "small navy" members.

President-elect Wilson's attitude on the Panama canal tolls and free passage for American coastwise ships, is expected to have an important bearing upon the senate action on the Root amendment proposing the repeal of the free ships' provision of the bill passed last August.

The majority of the house committee on ways and means, which body is framing tariff revision legislation for the coming extra session of congress, agreed upon radical reductions in the customs duties on mica, aprail and various kinds of chinaware and glassware of the cheaper varieties.

Representative Morgan of Oklahoma addressed the house on his bills to appropriate more than $30,000,000 to compensate that state for losses as a result of nontaxable Indian lands.

Opposition of Democratic senators to the confirmation of President Taft's 1,500 pending nominations has brought some Republican senators in to the position of threatening retaliation after the Democrats come into power March 4.

A resolution calling on President Taft for a statement for the reason why "American marines invaded Nicaragua last summer took forcible occupation of a territory of a friendly nation, and entered into armed combat with its citizens" was introduced in the senate by Senator Alden Smith of Michigan.

Federal office holders and employees who have been solicited to contribute to national campaign funds are to be summoned as witnesses by the senate campaign expenditures committee when it opens up its investigation into campaign expenses of the general election of 1912.

With "no battleships" as their slogan members of the house opposed to a big navy got a sufficient number of signatures to a petition for a Democratic caucus on the question of how many battleships shall be authorized this year.

Senator Gullom filed with the senate a memorial signed by 4,700 citizens of Illinois protesting against the passage of the Owen bill, providing for the creation of an independent bureau of health or other similar radical legislation. Christian Scientists probably predominate among the signers, although osteopaths, eclectics, homeopaths and others appended their names.

Former Senator Joseph W. Bailey's farewell address to the senate will not be printed as a public document. When Senator Martin proposed it Senator Smoot objected to having the speech reprinted at the government's expense.

Despite the fact that the author of the principal charges of corruption in the election of Senators Watson and Chilton of West Virginia in 1911 withdrew his allegations, the senate elections committee may proceed to an investigation.

Permission for the erection of a memorial structure here in Potomac park by the Women's Titanic Memorial association was proposed in a resolution introduced by Representative Townsend of New Jersey.

At a meeting of representatives interested in extending the jurisdiction of the Mississippi river commission from Cape Girardeau to Keokuk, Ia., Senator Stone pledged himself to help the plan in the senate.

President Taft discussed the Burnett-Dillingham immigration bill with the senate and house conferees. No conclusion was reached.

Backache is a Warning

Thousands suffer kidney ills unawares—not knowing that the backache, head-aches, and dull, nervous, dizzy, all tired condition are often due to kidney weakness alone.

Anybody who suffers constantly from backache should suspect the kidneys. Some irregularity of the secretions may give just the needed proof.

Doan's Kidney Pills have been curing backache and sick kidneys for over fifty years.

Little Chance That Voice-Culture Student Attempted to Gratify Old Gentleman's Friend.

Patiently the old gentleman had been sitting through the ordeal of hearing the voice-culture student in the hall bedroom below practicing with a seal which left no room for criticism, but with a talent by no means so kindly described.

Finally, he crept down the stairs and rapped at the door of the young woman's room.

"I can't come in," he said in response to an invitation, "but I simply came to tell you of a friend of mine who would, I know, be willing to pay almost any amount of money to hear you sing."

Overwhelmed with joy the young woman begged the kind old gentleman to write his friend's name and address on a piece of paper.

When he had gone upstairs she looked at the slip of paper which he had handed back to her inscribed and neatly folded. It read: "John W. Jones, Asylum for the Deaf."

A notable housekeeper of the past generation, before the days of screens, had just announced with decision that she never had any flies.

"But, Aunt Augusta," faltered the timid visitor, "it seems to me that I saw a few in the dining-room."

"Oh, those," replied her aunt, with a majestic wave of the hand, "were the neighbors' flies. They will come in occasionally. But I was saying, we never have any of our own."—Youth's Companion.

FERTILITY GUIDES.

The choice of a fertilizer suited to the needs of the farm is a problem of vital interest to success. Hence, the farmer naturally looks for guides—posts which may direct him in the correct choice of this material.

Among other facts which may come to the farmer's mind, the following are a few of his guides in performing this important duty:

(1) The plant food needs of the soil are indicated by both the quantity and quality of the crop. Short and fine straw indicates a lack of nitrogen. Rank stalk growth and poor filling of kernels indicates a lack of potash and phosphoric acid. Slowness to ripen indicates a lack of phosphoric acid.

(2) Each different class of crops requires its distinct type of fertilizer. Grain crops require a medium to small amount of nitrogen, a large amount of phosphoric acid and a small amount of potash. Hay crops require a medium to large amount of nitrogen, fair amount of phosphoric acid and a medium amount of potash. Root crops, such as potatoes, sugar beets, etc., require a fair supply of all three elements, especially potash.

(3) Different soils require such type of fertilizers as will balance up their weaknesses.

(4) The quantity of fertilizers should be sufficient.

Mr. Joe Wing says in the Breeders' Gazette of October 9, 1912:

"In attempting to feed the soil we lose sight of the immense area of an acre. An acre contains 160 square rods, or 43,560 square feet. To apply 400 pounds of fertilizer to an acre is to apply two and one-half pounds to the square rod, almost a ridiculous amount. To apply 1,000 pounds per acre is to apply a little more than six pounds to rod; little enough, is it not? In Europe men know better than we and there applications of 1,000 pounds per acre of basic slag or bonemeal or acid phosphate would be given, even to pasture lands. Had we not better farm fewer acres and feed them well?"

(5) The grade of fertilizers. There is economy in using high grade fertilizers. Fertilizers of high grade carry the largest amount of available plant food and the smallest amount of volume. They are, therefore, the most profitable form of fertilizers to be used.

(6) Fertilizers have experiment station endorsement. The judicious use of fertilizers has the endorsement of all of the foremost agricultural experiment stations. Eighteen years of experimentation with complete fertilizers at the Ohio experiment station has shown a profit of aver 66 per cent on the money spent in fertilizers per acre per rotation.

Thirty years' experience with fertilizers at the Pennsylvania experiment station showed a distinct and profitable increase in the yield of corn, wheat, oats and hay where a sufficient amount of plant food was supplied, over the same crops grown without attention to their plantfood needs.

(7) Suitable fertilizers should be bought early. The farmer should have sufficient time to study the needs of his farm before ordering his fertilizers. He should also give time to the fertilizer agent to deliver the material in good shape. When it is received it should be stored in a dry, cool place.

(8) Fertilizers should be in good condition. If fertilizers are not in good mechanical condition they cannot be evenly distributed nor their value tested fairly. Fertilizers should be uniformly mixed, finely ground, dry and should sow evenly through the drill.

The above are some of the most important things on which the farmer should be informed. The office of the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, Chicago, is established primarily, to assist the farmer in just such questions as the above. His inquiries will have prompt and careful attention.

FEEDING WINTER WHEAT IS PROFITABLE.

Mr. L. R. Peebles of Crawfordsville, Ind., says that nine good farmers in his vicinity made an average gain of 15.9 bushels of wheat per acre on land which they had fertilized, over wheat which was grown without fertilizer. They used an average of nearly 175 pounds complete fertilizer per acre at a cost of about $2.60 per acre.

It is surely good business to give the tiny wheat plant what it needs when it needs it.

At the time of planting, very profitable results have been gotten from supplying a couple hundred pounds per acre of a fertilizer carrying 1 to 2 per cent ammonia, 9 to 12 per cent phosphoric acid and 2 to 3 per cent potash. This gives the young wheat plant an excellent start. In the spring, if the crop appears to have suffered from bad wintering conditions, it has been found profitable to apply a top dressing of 100 to 200 pounds per acre of a fertilizer carrying 3 to 5 per cent ammonia, 6 to 8 per cent phosphoric acid and 5 to 7 per cent potash. The available nitrogen causes an early vigorous growth of the plant. This forces the crop along sufficiently early to escape much of the ravishes of fungus diseases and insect pests. The phosphoric acid helps to mature the plant early, and the potash gives strength to the stalk, and assists in the filling of the kernel.

Available plant food of the right kind makes a great difference, not only in the yield, but in the quality of the product. Grains of all kinds show the benefit of a well-balanced ration of plant food in the soil.

The Proof That Sullivan Readers Cannot Deny.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time. Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results.

George A. Mitchell, E. Washington St., Arcola, Ill., says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills the best of all kidney medicines. I was troubled by disordered kidneys and my back was weak and lame. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills and soon after I began using them, I was restored to good health. Since recommending Doan's Kidney Pills three years ago, I have taken them when I have been in need of a kidney medicine and they have never failed to give me prompt relief. I take pleasure in again endorsing this remedy."

SCRAWL NO ONE COULD READ

Valuable Manuscript Left by Colonel Burnaby Defied the Efforts of Experts.

It was stated at the time of Colonel Burnaby's death that he had left behind him the manuscript of a novel, for which there was considerable competition among the publishers.

This is quite true. The manuscript, a bulky parcel, was handed to me with discretionary power either to publish it myself or to use it in connection with the proposed biography.

Here a singular and, as it finally proved, a fatal obstacle presented itself. Familiar for many years with Burnaby's handwriting, I could not after diligent endeavor make out more than a sentence here and there on the crowded page of manuscript.

Burnaby's writing was, possibly with the exception of Dean Stanley's, the worst I ever saw. It looked as if he had pulled a twig out of the hedge, mixed a little blacking and then gone ahead.

He wrote the whole of his "Ride to Khiva" and his "Ride on Horseback Through Asia Minor" with his own hand. But before they reached the printer they were fairly written out by a copyist.

The hapless man used to make out as much as he could, then leave blanks, for filling up which he had to seek the assistance of the author. Sometimes there were more blanks in a page than words.

Despairing of making anything of the manuscript of the novel, it was submitted to a publisher, who turned upon it his most skillful decipherer. Neither head nor tail could be made of the manuscript and the intention of publishing the novel was consequently abandoned.—Sir H. W. Lucey, in Cornhill Magazine.

Jane Austen Unpopular. It has been pointed out with some surprise that the late W. S. Gilbert had a strong dislike for Jane Austen, but a correspondent of the New York Evening Post reminds us that Mark Twain had a similar antipathy. He said once that "a library that does not contain Jane Austen's works is a good library, even if it hasn't another book in it."

Queer Catch From the Sea. One of the queerest deep sea creatures ever seen in the vicinity was brought in a few days ago by a fisherman of Venice, Cal. It is five feet in length, black and green mottled, with a tail like that of a shark. It has a dorsal fin and four feet, shaped like those of a parrot. Its mouth resembles that of a Gila monster, while its head is a replica on a large scale of that of a California horned toad.

Might Be So-Called. "Isn't it an insult to call me a flopped, bow-legged porcupine?" asked an applicant for divorce.

Prominent Men.

Now listen to this my dearest friend, I'm going to name some prominent men I suppose that you will be able to state which of the men you think is great.

There have been prominent men of late. That think they own the Golden Gate; It may be right that they have ruled, But who do you think that they have fooled?

We will begin with the nation's head I think it's much of him you have read, He's large, robust, round and plump, And he feels just like a sugar lump.

I think that you will know his name, "Billy Tate" it's just the same, He is just the man to eat the salt If we may judge him by his weight.

Next of course is "Wilson" prim, Who is educated butteful slim, It remains to be seen what he will do, He may be one of the privileged few.

Next, we will name "Billy Bryan," meek, Who has been blessed with a widow's streak, Of all the men that were ever here, He is the one the Republicans fear.

Next there comes that "Teddy Bear," Take care my friend stay away from his lair, For just stand back and hear him roar, I suppose it will go on for evermore.

Then there's "Champ Clark" from a Missouri hill, Who thinks that he could fill the bill; But what's the use to be a dunce? They cannot all rule at once.

We have a "Cannon" we mustn't forget, But we'll remember you so don't you fret, Speaker of the house I do believe Is all the title that I can conceive.

Then there's "Judge Duane," has got the reins, I hope that he has got the brain, To pull Illinois to the very top, And tie it there so it cannot drop.

There is "Deussen," whose time is in, But we'll remember the Governor he's been, I think that he will have to admit That he is good and ready to quit.

"Dahs" of course is a socialist man, Equalizing things is the most of his plan, He keeps running for the head of the band Because the others won't take a hand.

Last but not least is "McKinley" wise, I think he can climb it if he tries, He is just the man whom the people like, Because he knows just when to strike.

All of these men seem to want a big name, They want their pictures in the hall of fame, But while these men are pleading their case, Some one else may get a front place.

These men all claim to be honest and true, They are striving to help the red, white, and blue, It is hard to keep them at bay, For they all want to serve the U. S. A.

Accidentally Killed

George Brown of Windsor accidentally ended his life Thursday. As the limited was passing rapidly over the track about a mile east of Windsor, the engineer saw a man walking upon the track. He blew the whistle as he came near him and the man did not leave the track. As he was very hard of hearing the supposition is, he did not hear it. As the train came upon him, Mr. Brown fell across the north rail; the entire train passed over his body cutting it in two. The lower part of the body was very much mangled, but the upper part was not ground under the train. Death must have been instantaneous.

George Brown was a son of James A. Brown, deceased, and was raised in Whitley township between Gays and Coles. He was married about twelve years ago to Miss Ella Henderson. They have two daughters, one 10 years of age, the other about 3. He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. George Rand, Miss Ida Brown and Mrs. David Roland, and one brother, James Brown, living in Mississippi.

The deceased was quiet, unassuming, honest, industrious man; in the neighborhood where he was reared, he was held in high esteem.

3 MORE WARSHIPS SENT TO MEXICO

TROOPS ALSO TO BE RUSHED TO CAPITAL TO PROTECT FOREIGNERS' LIVES.

MADERO'S FORCES REPULSED

Federals Loss at Least 300 in Air-Cay Battle in Heart of City; Neither Side Gains Decisively—Americans Hurt in Streets.

Washington, D. C.—As a result of a conference at the White House, three additional battleships were sent to the east coast of Mexico. Orders also were issued for the immediate placing in commission of two army transports for the transport of troops to the City of Mexico for the protection of the lives of Americans and foreigners, should the situation there grow any worse.

On returning to the White House at midnight from the Wickham dinner, President Taft found official dispatches awaiting him of such a nature that Secretary Hillis was directed to obtain further information.

Appreciating the fact that the situation called for immediate action, messengers were sent to summon Mr. Taft's advisers. It was 1:30 o'clock in the morning before the last sleepy conferees arrived.

Those present were Secretary of State Knox, Secretary of War Stimson, Secretary of Navy Meyer, Maj. Gen. Wood, chief of staff of the army; Brig. Gen. William Crozier, president of the war college; Brig. Gen. James B. Aleschir, chief of the quartermaster's corps of the army, and Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske of the inspection department of the navy.

DIAZ REPULSES ATTACKS ON ARSENAL BY FEDERALS

City of Mexico—President Madero's forces were repulsed with heavy loss in attempts to capture the Ciudadela Citadel and arsenal in which Gen. Felix Diaz had fortified himself. Four times Gen. Victoriano Huerta and Gen. Angeles, the Madero commanders, assaulted the Ciudadela and four times they were driven back by the deadly fire of the Diaz machine guns.

There was terrific fighting from 10 a. m. until after nightfall, west and southwest of the Alameda, the great city park, the battle centering around the arsenal. The American consulate was in the line of the artillery fire and half a dozen shells penetrated the walls of the building. Shrapnel fire slaughtered 70 Madero rurales, who were in position in front of the consulate.

Three Americans injured. Three Americans were wounded during the fighting. Lloyd Osbourne, the author, was shot in the thigh while watching the battle from the top of a building.

Dr. R. H. McCrosson of Lincoln, Neb., was shot in the hand while venturing along a street. He had just arrived here.

Mark Johnson, a negro, of Madison, Ill., received a bullet in the shoulder.

While neither side gained a decisive victory, the advantage rests with Gen. Diaz, who, attacked on all sides, succeeded in holding his position and in hurling back a greatly superior force. It is impossible at this time to give an accurate estimate of the dead and wounded, but the reports are that the federal troops lost twice as many as Diaz in killed and injured. One estimate has it that 150 of Diaz's troops were killed and about 300 injured, and that Madero's loss was at least 300 killed and 500 injured.

Premier Resigns in Japan. Tokio—Prince Taro Katsura, premier of Japan, formally resigned, together with his cabinet, and the anti-bureaucracy riots continued. Katsura expressed his intention of resigning, but the emperor had not accepted it when the premier was stoned in the street by a mob. He then refused to resign, but changed his mind again.

Two New Battleships. Washington—Two battleships in this year's naval appropriation were determined upon by the house naval affairs committee by a vote of 14 to 7. Six destroyers, four submarines, one supply ship and one transport will also be provided.

Taft's Begin to Move. Washington—President Taft began to make the White House ready for the occupancy of Woodrow Wilson. Scores of articles belonging to the Taft family were taken from the attic and started on the way to New Haven.

Patten Given Fine of $4,000. New York—James A. Patten appeared in the federal court and pleaded guilty to the six counts of an indictment charging him with restraint of trade. He was fined $4,000, which he paid in court.

Speaker Clark Introduces Bill. Washington—Speaker Clark has introduced his first public bill of the present session. It authorizes a traction company to construct a bridge across the Missouri river near Webdon Springs Landing, Mo.

NEWS OF ILLINOIS

Winter Closes Mines.

Duquoin.—As a result of the depression in the coal business several of the largest mines in southern Illinois have suspended operations, some of them indefinitely. The unusually mild winter has caused only a fair demand for coal and this, together with the fact that the markets at St. Louis, Chicago, Omaha and other points are overstocked, has demoralized business. Hundreds of cars of coal are being sold on consignment cheaper than the coal can be mined in this field. Comparatively few of the mines are working more than half time.

Negro Assaults Aged Mother.

Hillsboro.—Harry Claypool, a negro, aged 53 years, while in a drunken condition, so brutally assaulted his aged mother that she died. Claypool is in the county jail here. After a coroner's inquest a recommendation was made by the jury that the should be held for murder without bond. "Aunt Emma" Claypool was one of the old "mammies" of this section, having lived here 50 years. She was 87 years old.

Physicians say he has a chance to recover. The index finger of his left hand was torn and may have to be amputated.

Judge J. N. Carter is Dead.

Quincy.—Judge Joseph N. Carter, aged 70 years, died at his home. He was a native of Kentucky, but came to Quincy in 1870. In 1878 he was elected on the Republican ticket as a member of the lower house of the Illinois legislature, and re-elected in 1880. He was elected chief justice of the Illinois supreme court in 1898. He served nine years on the bench of the supreme court.

Illegal Game Shipment Charge.

Springfield.—Patrick J. Harrington of Havana, was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Fairchild on a charge of shipping game and failure to properly label the barrels. The arrest of Harrington is the first under the federal statute, which prohibits the shipment of game from one state to another without properly labeling the package.

Wed After 50-Year Wait.

Bloomington.—Emma Francis, aged 67, arrived at Bloomington from Bedford, England, and was married to James A. Wilson, aged 73, wealthy land holder of Sparland, Ill. They were sweethearts 50 years ago in England and agreed to wed when Wilson became rich. Fortune finally arrived and she joined him.

Fortune for Good Roads.

His widow is left $20,000, but aside from a few other bequests, the bulk of his fortune, estimated at $100,000, is left for good roads.

JAKEY'S FAULT VERY SERIOUS

Father Rightly Felt He Could Never Be Captain of Industry Unless He Was Taught to Improve.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaacs took great pride in their young son, Jakey. Father was determined to make him a great business man, a veritable captain of industry. One day mother heard loud screams coming from an adjoining room and rushed in to investigate the cause of the trouble. Father was vigorously administering a dose of "strap oil" to the young hopeful.

"Ikey! Ikey! Vy for you are licking little Jakey?" "Because I caught him in a lie; dot' vy?" replied father, continuing the chastisement. "A lie? You say a lie?" "Yes; I will teach him to lie better as dot' ef I haf to break every bone in hees body."—Exchange.

Giving Away the Secret.

Willing to have his neighbors think he was a fine musician, Brown installed a mechanical piano near a front window of his home, where he spent hours each day pedaling out melodies. "Your father is a great piano player, isn't he?" one of the neighbors remarked to Brown's boy William one afternoon. "Yep," replied William, "but it makes his feet awful sore."

Compromise.

Know It All. An old but sturdy Irishman, who had made a reputation as a gang boss, was given a job with a railroad construction company at Fort-snipe, Haiti. One day, when the sun was hotter than usual, his gang of black Haitians began to shirk, and as the chief engineer rode up on his horse the Irishman was heard to shout:

"Alles—yo sons of guns—alles!" Then turning to the engineer, he said: "I curse the day I ever learned their language."

HOLIDAYING IN THE WINTER

AN IMMENSE AMOUNT OF MONEY SPENT BY WESTERN CANADIANS IN WINTER SEASON.

"An unusually large number of Western Canada people are leaving or preparing to leave to spend the Winter in California."

The above item of news was clipped from a Western Canada paper early in December. In the same paper were items of news conveying the intelligence that hundreds of Western Canadians were also taking a trip abroad, spending the Christmas season "at home," as they yet term the old land. The Scandinavian element participated largely in the holiday business of the railroads and the steamships, but they all had return tickets. Early in December the east bound trains and boats were loaded, and an estimate furnished by the railroad people gave upwards of twelve thousand as the number who would make the Christmas holiday visit abroad. This does not mean that these people are leaving to avoid the coldness of the winter, nor for any climatic conditions whatever. They have come out to Canada and have done so well that they can afford the hundred and fifty or two hundred dollars or more that it takes to carry them across and back. When they came to Canada they did not have that much money all told, but now they are wealthy and on their return will bring some of their friends with them.

Then there are those, too, who on their wheat farms have made sufficient money that they can afford to take a holiday, and what better winter holidaying ground could they have than California? How many in other farming districts of the continent could afford the money and the time that these people can?—Advertisement.

TORTURED BY UGLY ITCHING ERUPTION

Doctor Recommended Resinol. Half of a 50c Jar Cured It.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 6, 1912.—"My little daughter was taken with a very small spot on the back of her hand. It grew larger and caused her more trouble. It would scratch it, it would bleed and get very ugly looking, so I doctored it myself for about a year, and at last it broke out on both hands, and when she would go to bed she would scratch, and was so tortured and suffered so from the itching, that I took her to our doctor, who recommended Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment.

Improved with first application. "I sent for samples and after the first application the itching and inflammation was improved, and I kept it up night and morning, and by the time the sample was gone she complained very little, so I got a fifty cent jar, and before that was half gone the trouble had entirely disappeared." (Signed) Mrs. Maude Schmechel, 325 Presbury Street.

Nothing we can say of Resinol equals what others, such as Ibsen, Schmechel, say of it. If you are suffering from itching, burning skin troubles, pimples, blackheads, dandruff, chapped face and hands, ulcers, boils, stubborn sores, or piles, it will cost you nothing to try Resinol Ointment and Soap. Just send to Dept. J. E. Resinol Chem. Co., Baltimore, Md., for a free sample of each. Sold by all druggists or by parcel post.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

Stone Ballast for the Wabash

The improvement plans for the Wabash Railroad include ballasting the roadway with crushed stone. Portions of the road were improved in that respect during the past year, and to facilitate the work of completing the replacement of gravel with stone between St. Louis and Chicago, two of the largest size crushers, with suitable conveying apparatus to get the maximum output, all electrically driven, are being installed at Ritchie, Illinois, and will be ready for operation in the early spring.
In order to produce ballast of fine quality and properly cubed, the stone is run through the first crusher, thoroughly screened and run through the second, reducing it to a size well adapted to maintaining a smooth surface and dustless roadbed.
Stone suitable for ballast is rare. It must be a hard and enduring substance, as if it disintegrates, every time it rains the particles absorb moisture and become of the consistency of ordinary mud, which is very detrimental to maintenance of way.
It has been demonstrated that stone, not too large and properly prepared, of sound quality, is the most durable practical ballast used by railroads.
The Wabash Railroad has for many years been ballasted with gravel taken from the streams in its territory, and with a coating of stone, the conditions are almost ideal for permanent way.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is pleasant and safe to take, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to young children. For sale by SAM B. HALL and all dealers. adv.

Farm Interests

Edited by HENRY G. BELL
Formerly Professor of Agronomy and Manager of Farm, University of Illinois and Assistant Professor of Farm Crops, Iowa State College of Agriculture, Ames

FARMER'S FRIEND
What They Say About Feeding the Soil.
Who are the farmer's friends? His neighbors and kin should be and usually are ready to stand by him. His country is continually giving evidence of its parental interest in him. By its laws, his property and life are protected. Opportunity for his education is given by his friend, the state, in an elaborate system of public schools and colleges.
Uncle Sam Helps Farmer.
In 1882 Uncle Sam decided that his farmers needed help. He, therefore, voted land to each state to the value of $200,000 to provide maintenance for a college in each state, which should devote its time chiefly to teaching young farmers the sciences underlying their great calling. To this in 1885 he added maintenance for an agriculture experiment station in each state whose whole work should be to investigate problems of soils, crops, stock, etc.
After careful investigation of soil problems, the directors of these state institutions have published their opinions in bulletins and pamphlets.
The office of the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee desired a definite statement on this very important subject.
It addressed a letter to each of the state experiment directors and commissioners of agriculture in the New England and other eastern states, enquiring as to their attitude toward supplying the needs of our soils in the form of fertilizers.
The judicious use of fertilizers has the endorsement of the foremost investigators of soil fertility.
Ohio Experiment Station Facts.
The practical work of such eminent authority as Dr. Chas. E. Thorne, director of the Ohio experiment station, is of great importance and value to be ignored. Dr. Thorne for over 18 years has made actual farm tests on a rotation of corn, oats, wheat and hay. He has found that the liberal application of suitable complete fertilizers, at an average cost for fertilizer of $19.78 per acre per rotation, gave an average gross return of $32.34 per acre per rotation, or an average net profit of $12.06 per acre per rotation. This is an average profit of over 66 per cent. on the money spent for fertilizers.
The judicious use of fertilizers has the endorsement of the foremost investigators of soil fertility. The following statements are from a few of those received by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee in answer to inquiries on this subject. More of these quotations will be given in future issues.
Director Wm. P. Brooks of Massachusetts Agricultural Experiment station says:
"It is easy to make almost any of our land highly productive at once by suitable handling and application of fertilizers. The productivity of the land, and its present fertility can undoubtedly be maintained and increased by judicious use of chemical fertilizers."
Director Jacob P. Lipman of New Jersey Agricultural Experiment station says:
"The judicious use of fertilizers benefits the land."
Professor L. A. Clinton of Storrs, Connecticut, says:
"The productivity of this state has increased 20 per cent. during the last ten years as a result of the better methods of farming management, the use of selected seed and the judicious use of fertilizers."
Director H. J. Patterson of Maryland Agricultural Experiment station says:
"The land in this state has increased in value, approximately $10.00 per acre during the last ten years. Its increased productivity has been due to better methods of farm management which include the judicious use of fertilizers and the use of selected seed."
Increased Value of Land.
Director J. N. Harper of Agricultural Experiment station, Clemson College, South Carolina, says:
"A great deal of land has gone up from $20 to $100 to $150 per acre. Reference to the United States year book of agriculture, shows that the agricultural production of this state has more than doubled during the last ten years. This has been due to the fact that the farmers are learning how to farm more intelligently and how to use fertilizers more intelligently. This in spite of the fact that they do not rotate to any great extent. Of course, it would be much better for them to rotate their crops. In 1900, farmers of the state spent $4,494,000 for commercial fertilizers; in 1910, $15,136,000 and it paid the farmers to use this great amount of fertilizers."
The experiences of these, the farmer's friends, confirm the value of modern methods of agriculture. They are dollars and cents to the American farmer.

BARNES' Imported Stallions

Percheron and Belgian
Percheron No. A 2875.
Belgian, No. A 5984.
Breeders, Take Notice:
The Belgian I had last year did not prove to be a sure breeder, and I changed him for another of the same breed and color. Read this letter from a man who used him the season of 1911:
To whom it may concern:
I used the Belgian Stallion, No. A 5984, the season of 1911, to help out a colt bought of Oltman Bros. I found this horse to be a sure breeder, showing better than 70 per cent. He breeds true to the Belgian type and weight. I can show colts to months old that weigh 800 to 950 pounds.
W. J. HUNNINGER, Jewett, Ill.
There is no use to say anything about the Percheron. He is known to be one of the surest and best breeders of the Percheron type in Moultrie county.
These stallions will be at the Birch barn in Sullivan after March 1st.
Terms: $15.00 to insure a colt, either Stallion.

No Reason For It

Mrs. Moran became insane and after she had been removed to the insane hospital, one of the friends of the family was sympathizing with the husband.
"I can't understand," said the friend, "whatever could have caused such a thing to Mary. What do you think the cause can be Henry?"
"I ain't got no idee," said the husband. "I hope I'll be struck dead if I ain't tellin' ye the truth when I say that she ain't bin out the kitchen a single day in thirty years."

Notice to Public

Any one, whose children are attending school in Sullivan and have not been vaccinated by next Monday, will be quarantined for twenty days.
