High School Literary Society.

The literary society of the Sullivan high school gave their regular bi-weekly program in the assembly room of the high school building, Monday evening.

The question for the debate was: "Resolved, that the Electric Light Plant should belong to the City rather than a Private Concern."

Ralph G. Smith and Corine Taylor were the speakers on the affirmative. Ralph Boyd and Merle Myers were the speakers on the negative.

The judges selected were: Miss Wood, selected by the affirmative, Miss Read by the negative and Clement Harshman by the chair.

The question was very ably discussed by the speakers on both sides. Much talent, forethought, study and energy was displayed. The judges decided for the affirmative.

After the debate a good program was rendered. One very commendable feature was a review of current news by Clement Murphy, giving the latest political, scientific and calamitous events.

Miss Mabel Poland elucidated on "Superstition." From the general makeup of Miss Mabel, the subject could not have been assigned to a person naturally better able to handle it. Superstition is not in her calendar. She stands for facts, no hobgoblins or mystifiers will puzzle her. She has no time for idle fancies and exploring the realms of magical deceivers. No ear for soothsayers, nor will she be governed by "signs." She believes that "Seeing is Believing."

The society is obligated to Miss Campbell for the music.

George Roney, the treasurer of the organization, was arraigned before the great tribunal for maladministration. A jury was subpoenaed to appear in court.

Judge Isaac Hagerman sat on the bench and convened court at the time affixed.

The jury subpoenaed was Ernest Martin, Ralph Emel, Donald Butter, Hoke Laue, Alfred Lilly and Bruce Munson.

The attorneys were Supt. Finley for the prosecution and the firm of Miller & Hudson for the defense.

Four of the venire of jurymen were accepted but Butler and Lilly were rejected. They then went for pickups and took Misses Reed and Barton.

But a few witnesses were examined until the judge adjourned the court.

In all probability the legality of the litigation will involve some very profound questions, and a judicial contest follow, which no doubt will reach the supreme court as the accused's counsel regard the question of women jurors debatable. They are no pettifoggers and will be able to force Attorney Finley to crawl. At least treasurer Roney yet holds the funds and he rests assured that he is in no danger of impeachment as his counsel have good grounds for throwing the case out of court. If they do succeed in impeaching him they may make a motion to have the impeachment quashed.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE.

Helping to Keep the Boy on the Farm.

While there is an incessant and urgent cry for boys to keep on the farm instead of going to the city, much of the education gained in the average country school is calculated to make the boy yearn for the city rather than for the country. In the first place the course of study is designed mainly by the city men who are unfamiliar with rural life, and all unconsciously, perhaps, in arranging the course of study the needs of the country are almost entirely ignored. In other words, the studies, as a whole, are better fitted for the city boy than for the boy in the country.

This fact is now being recognized and the steps taken in many directions to have vocational agriculture in the country schools is a move that should have been started many years ago. As some one has very pertinently said "In former years everything was done for the boy that was going away from his farm home and nothing was done for the boy that was going to stay at home." Fortunately that is now being changed and the instruction now being given in many a country school and in many a township high school will do wonders in making young people not only contented with farm life, but enthusiastic for it.

In truth there is no study more fascinating and useful than agriculture in its various branches when it is intelligently and scientifically taught. Vocational agriculture training may well take the place for the great majority of country youths of some of the studies now in vogue which are not of the slightest practical use to nine-tenths of the pupils in their after life. Much, too much, has been made of some studies that have imparted a brilliant surface polish which has disappeared when the recipients have entered into the serious business of life.

Wedding Anniversary.

Tuesday evening being the tenth anniversary of the wedding of Mayor and Mrs. F. E. Pifer, a number of their relatives and friends planned a surprise for them.

The contrivers of the party were Mrs. Perry Bland and Miss Jeannette Kalston.

The Pifers went to the country in the afternoon. On their return they found a number of their friends assembled in their home, and an elaborate repast spread on the table in the dining room. The menu consisted of stewed chicken, escalloped corn, gravy, celery, cranberries, slaw, pickles, bread and butter, ice cream and cake.

The guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames W. P. Wright, A. Corbin, J. E. Ireland, C. D. Lindsay, Mesdames Perry Bland, B. Fultz and son, Keith, and Misses Joelle Williams, Jeannette Ralston and Lella Sharp.

They were given two useful and beautiful presents.

D. S. & M. Company.

The directors of the D. S. & M. company met in Mattoon, Saturday afternoon and elected officers.

A letter was read, from Smith, the president of the entire system. He is at present in London. Mr. Smith has planned to return to America in a few weeks and start things to moving. He asks that everything be ready for business on his return. The following officers and directors were elected:

President—J. A. McFall, Mattoon. Vice president—George B. Spitzer, Mt. Zion.

MARRIAGES.

MILLER-HARRIS.

Dr. Joseph Edward Miller and Miss Fern Harris were married at noon Tuesday, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Harris, on West Harrison street, Rev. Albert Miller, of Evanston, officiating. The ring ceremony was used.

Miss Murrell Harris, a cousin of the bride, played "Dear Heart" during the ceremony.

Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. The bride was attired in crepe de chene over white satin. The groom wore the conventional black.

The groom is a son of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Miller, of Hamilton, Missouri. He graduated from the medical college in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, then located in Maryland, Missouri, where he has built up a good practice in two years.

His wife is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Harris. She graduated from the Lovington high school and afterwards successfully taught several terms of school. This summer she clerked in O. L. Todd's dry goods store. She is an accomplished, exemplary and industrious young woman.

The officiating minister is a Presbyterian missionary from China. His home is in Evanston, Illinois.

The home was beautifully decorated with pink and white carnations. After the ceremony a three-course turkey dinner was served.

The bride was the recipient of many valuable and useful presents. Her Sunday school class of the M. E. church, gave her a linen shower on Monday evening.

The bridal couple and the groom's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Miller, departed on the 2:15 p. m. train on the Illinois Central for the home of the groom's parents, in Hamilton, Missouri, where they will remain until Monday, when they will leave for Maryland, thirteen miles distant, where the groom has a home awaiting them.

Mrs. J. E. Miller has resided in Sullivan but a few months, yet she has many friends here who wish her happiness and success.

Anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech.

The Sullivan high school did honor Wednesday afternoon to the fiftieth anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg speech on the occasion of the consecration of the soldiers' national cemetery, November 19, 1863.

Special exercises were held in the assembly room of the high school building. The principal addresses were by Prof. A. L. Smith, Dr. S. T. Butler, veteran F. D. Siple, Cecil Miller, Isaac Hagerman, W. A. Steele, Rev. W. H. Day and Supt. Finley. A number of patriotic songs were sung.

Miss Edna Cummins sang a song which so well pleased the audience that she was called back for a second selection.

W. A. Steele gave each of the high school a card on which was Lincoln's Gettysburg speech and the data of the principal epochs of his life.

Court News.

The attorneys for those indicted by the special grand jury, argued before Judge Cochran in circuit court Friday to have the indictments quashed. Their motion was overruled.

They then proceeded to get a jury in the case of Rose Siler-Jordan indicted on a charge of disorderly conduct. The case was not finished until noon Saturday.

The case was a hard fought one. Att'y. Whitaker, of Shelbyville, was assisted by J. H. Baker for the defense. The state was represented by Att'y. E. J. Miller and States Attorney J. K. Martin.

The jury took the case at noon Saturday and they were not ready for a verdict until 1:30 p. m. Sunday, when Judge Cochran was called to the court house to hear the verdict, which was a charge "Guilty of Disorderly Conduct." Her fine will be fixed by Judge Cochran later.

No more cases will be tried until sometime in December, when Judge Johns, of Decatur, will exchange places with Judge Cochran.

What is The International?

The International Live Stock Exposition, to be held at the Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Nov. 29 to Dec. 6, is the world's largest and best show of live stock.

It is a school of ripe education ready to use.

It is a stimulator of useful thought and action.

It is a measure of progress, a maker of standards.

It is a guide for breeders, a breeder of feeders.

It is an eye-opener to the public, a fountain of human interest.

It teaches, inspires, entertains, awakens and directs. It reveals the scope and strength of the live stock industry, increases trade, brings men into helpful contact with one another and enlarges their horizon.

It trains the eye, builds business, broadens men and compels improvement in live stock. It affords a pleasurable and profitable trip.

It encourages beginners in stock breeding and feeding and imparts practical information through eye and ear.

It presents for inspection the best draft horses, the best cattle of all the beef breeds, including their grades and crosses, the best sheep of all the breeds, with grades and crosses, and the best hogs, with their grades and crosses, that the breeders of the United States and Canada can produce.

It is educationally adapted to the farmer, the breeder, the feeder, the ranchman, the student, the business man, the woman of farm and city, and the public in general.

No person at all interested in the progress of agriculture can afford to miss this greatest and first of all live stock shows.

We are compelled to give notice to all subscribers in arrears on this paper to at once settle the amount of their subscription. It is not possible to make personal calls on parties owing us. Grand Officer Entertained.

A banquet was given by the local lodge of the Pythians in their hall, Thursday evening of this week, in honor of Grand Chancellor Commander W. K. Whitfield, and wife. More than two hundred were present at the banquet and reception; Chancellor Commander Newbould called the meeting to order, then Mrs. Charles Gregory, of Lovington, gave a piano solo. C. C. Newbould made an appropriate address, welcoming G. C. C. Whitfield back to the home lodge, where he yet holds his membership although he resides in Decatur. It was in this lodge where Mr. Whitfield was initiated, and held his first K. P. office.

Mr. Whitfield responded to the welcome address eloquently and wittily.

Miss Fern Wright gave a vocal solo. M. E. chief, Mrs. J. A. Sabin, spoke in behalf of the Pythian sisters. Mrs. Pritchett and Miss Wood favored the audience with good singing. Short addresses were made by different members of the order from Bethany and Lovington, as well as Sullivan Pythians.

An elaborate banquet was served in the dining hall by the Pythian sisters. After the refreshments a social time was enjoyed.

He was charged with burglarizing the Whitlock store in Arthur. Some of the stolen goods were found in his possession when arrested. He admitted having served one term in the penitentiary, and a time in the state reformatory. He was lodged in the county jail.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF GETTYSBURG DEDICATION.

On the recommendation of Governor Dunne the immortal address of President Lincoln at the dedication of the Gettysburg national cemetery was read in the schools of Illinois on November 19, the fiftieth anniversary of its delivery, as a fitting observance of that historic event. The following is the Gettysburg speech:
"Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

TEACHERS GATHER IN SPRINGFIELD

Immanuel Lutheran Instructors Elect Officers.
J. M. GROSS RE-ELECTED HEAD

William Erdmann Named Vice-President—Institute and University Work Urged by Rev. Frederick Brand.
Springfield.—The Immanuel Lutheran Teachers' Conference of central Illinois opened its first session in Springfield. J. M. Gross of Buckley delivered the opening address.
Mr. Gross spoke of the importance of the Lutheran parochial school teachers' calling. He encouraged them very much.
Rev. Frederick Brand touched on education after leaving the Normal school. He said that teachers should continue educating themselves in institutes and university extension work.

Teachers Visit Museum.
Forty Lutheran teachers attending the teachers' convention visited the State Museum of Natural History, at the suggestion of Professor Schoknecht of the local school. After a few minutes spent in a general orientation inspection, as each one individually was prompted by curiosity, they gathered in the entrance hall and listened to a general description of the museum by the curator.
Then they passed to the various exhibits, pausing long enough to obtain a general idea of the nature and purposes of the various collections.

Dunne Warns Girls.
Illinois girls who contemplate leaving positions in this state to go to the western coast for 1915 fair time in the hope of finding better inducements have the distinct discouragement of such a project by Governor Dunne.
The governor, who took time off to consider this new phase of an appeal based his statement on a letter which has been received from Mrs. Keck, general secretary of the Young Women's Christian association at San Francisco. Mrs. Keck declared in her letter that the rush of competent women from the east to the west, in view of the coming international exposition, already has begun, and that all positions incident to the exposition will be filled by western women.
The warning therefore is sounded. As an aid in her work, Mrs. Keck sought a statement from the Illinois governor, who, discussing the Keck letter, said:
"This warning, coming from such a source, I believe to be worthy of consideration by the women of this state and surrounding states and I hope it will save women who have contemplated going to California disappointment and peril."

May Discontinue Passes.
Employees of railroads throughout Illinois are considerably disturbed over the possibility of the newly created state public utilities commission prohibiting the use of railroad passes after the first of next January.
Many attorneys who have examined the act creating the public utilities commission have expressed the opinion that the interpretation of the section of the act bearing upon passes rests largely with the commission. This section prohibits rebates or discrimination of any sort. It was not designed to be an anti-pass clause and no one suspected such an interpretation of it until some time after its passage, when the question was raised.

Improving New State Park.
Engineers of the state highway commission are engaged in making property surveys of Starved Rock, the new state park of Illinois. It has been decided to install a system of drainage, sewers and roads, and as soon as the necessary data is secured, the state park commission will meet with the township highway commissioners relative to the improvement of roads leading up to the park. One road, leading from Deer Park bridge to Utica, will be the first to be improved under the new Tice law.

Always Meant Early Feeding

THE DAYS OF REAL THANKSGIVING

WHEN those early Thanksgivings that crop up in history are associated with much—usually too much—turkey and cranberry sauce and pie. As a child, of course, he was thankful that Thanksgiving day had to come on Thursday every year, instead of flopping all over the week and coming in turn on Saturday and Sunday, when there would be holiday anyway. For is there anything so tragic as a holiday that does not fall on a school day?

Thursday is just right, for then, you see, the school people reason that there is no use bringing the children back for one day, and they might as well have Friday, too. Thanksgiving on Wednesday would be overstepping the mark, since they would not allow two extra days, and Friday meant only one day off, Thursday was the one to choose, and looking back now you cannot help wondering how the present ever happened to hit upon such an altogether satisfactory day.
On Wednesday, you will remember, not much work was done, for everybody was looking forward to the "entertainment." Perhaps you even spoke a piece. If you did your selection was limited, for the posts seem to be kept so busy grinding the mills for Christmas that they have not one little inspiration left for Thanksgiving.
But what Thanksgiving poetry there is agrees on one point—a lively veneration for the "eats." No matter how the poem starts dinner will be served by the end of the last verse.

It was Thanksgiving eve, don't you think, The pies were in rows on the pantry shelves, And nice things to eat, and nice things to drink, Resignedly looked for the morrow to bring A miserable end to everything.

Not that it is rhyminess especially and the last line is painfully ambiguous as to where the miserable end is going to strike, but what matter when the rows of pies and various beverages are safe on the shelf.

After you had stumbled through this, getting purple-red in the face and wondering why all those "fellows" you could lick with one hand down in the school yard should look so terrifying assembled before the platform, you beat a precipitous retreat, falling over a hole in the carpet on the way.

The next number on the program was "The First Proclamation," done by another boy. The family of that other boy had suffered because of "The First Proclamation," for it was to be recited in costume. Now, how should a plain American mother know in what garb Governor Bradford delivered that first proclamation? Father found a picture of the Pilgrim Father in the history and thought that would do well enough, and grandfather said: "Oh, pshaw now; don't he look like one of them big-hat fellers around Pen-Mar?" Finally they borrowed a suit that a neighbor's son had worn when he went as John Alden to a mask ball, though it was much too large, and Johnny protested violently against wearing it. Just so does a simple thing change the course of a noble life. If the suit had not been too large Johnny might have been able to take his mind from his appearance and divert it to the lines he was to speak, but terror that the boys would give him occupied his young brain to the exclusion of all else.

MADE AN EXPENSIVE DRINK

Ball Player Should Have Appreciated Refreshment, for It Certainly Cost Him Enough.

The most expensive drink imbibed by a member of a major league team during the 1913 playing season cost exactly $600.05. The player who drank the costly beverage is one of the best men in the business, but he has long shown a tendency to topple from the water wagon at times when his ser-

THE THANKSGIVING PIE

"And now," said the governor, "gazing abroad," he began.

"And now," said the governor—"Pause."

"And now—" And now Johnny burst into tears and rushed from the platform, stumbling over the hole in the carpet on the way.

Then teacher got up, you remember, and said if you would all excuse Johnny she would read the poem, and there being nothing else to do under the circumstances but to excuse Johnny, you permitted her to go on with "The First Proclamation." The poem was no exception, for you found that in even those early days Governor Bradford's Thanksgiving greeting had to do with "eats."

So shoulder your matchlocks, masters, there is hunting of all degrees; And fisherman, take your tackle and scour for spoils the seas. And maidens and dames of Plymouth, your delicate crafts employ, To honor our first Thanksgiving and make it a feast of joy.

We fall of the fruits and dainties so close at our hand in Devon. Ah! they are the lightest losses we suffer for sake of Heaven; But see in our open clearings how golden the melons lie; Enrich them with sweets and spices and give us the pumpkin pie.

Remember it, don't you? But even then it perplexed you to know why you were hearing so much about pumpkin pie as an attribute of Thanksgiving when in all your innocent young life you had never tasted a pumpkin. You did not know then that "pumpkin" is sort of poetic license for any kind of Thanksgiving pie.

One of the very limited collection of poems for this season was dedicated to "Thanksgiving Pies," and this was delivered by a girl of the school, because of her deeper understanding of the subject.

Such baking, boiling, tasting, heating! Such preparation made for eating! For little hungry girls and boys.

You could hardly wait for tomorrow to come when you heard these lines. It was a very long poem, all about how the hungry girls and boys of a certain household appeased their hunger with pies cooling on the pantry shelf, and you thought how nice it must have been to eat those pies "twelve in number, brown as amber," though you had not the remotest idea what amber was for, save to rhyme with number. But you had a very definite idea that what would happen if you and your hungry little playmates should go and do likewise with the pies cooling right then out on your mother's shelf.
And right when your mouth was "watering like anything," that elocutionist from the big girls' class came and told teacher she was going to recite a Thanksgiving poem for the little children and teacher said: "Very well, if you wish to." As for you, you didn't wish her to. You did not like her brand of poems. "Cur-few Shall Not Ring Tonight" was high in her repertoire, and "The Polish Boy" and "Spartacus to the Gladiators" and another about Robespierre in an unspeakable place where the poet would never have sent him if he had been better behaved. Naturally you did not know the names of the poems then. These you have learned since from constant reading. At that time you knew what she was going to give by the gestures with which she began, and every piece she ever spoke struck terror to your young soul. Even her Thanksgiving treat for the children made you feel shamed as about having been so excited over the holiday.

"Thanksgiving—for what?"—and he muttered a curse— "For the plainest of food and an empty purse? But it is idle to talk of a poor man's woes."

Even after this lapse of years, these features of the Thanksgiving entertainment linger in your memory and spring up when you pick up the paper and read the president's Thanksgiving proclamation or the youngsters come in from school and announce: "Say, pop, I got to speak a piece Thanksgiving. Do you know any?"

After a while, of course, Thanksgiving came to have other significance, too. There was the first year you wore long trousers and a flower in your buttonhole. It would be more appropriate to say bouquet in your lapel, for that was the season that men wore the most enormous chrysanthemum they could find as a boutonniere. They simply could not get the flower big enough. Remember how the cartoonists took it up and depleted the gilded youth wearing huge cabbages in their buttonholes? But it was a very serious matter to you, the selection of your chrysanthemum the Thanksgiving you donned long trousers, and you finally decided upon a great yellow one that made you appear to be bearing a glowing pumpkin to the Thanksgiving feast.

Then after you attained to the dignity of a sweetheart to take to the Thanksgiving matinee. How did the theater come to be so inseparably connected with Thanksgiving celebration? It is, at any rate, so that when you present yourself at the box office as the afternoon performance is about to begin the man inside is apt to ask superiorly: "Do you prefer to stand on the first floor or the second?" But you did not stand. You sat.

"Eats" got shoved into the background around this period, and, dinner being late, as Thanksgiving dinner usually is, you instantly had to ask to have your pie saved for supper, the clock pointing perilously near the hour of two, and the girl yet to be "called for."

Many Thanksgivings have come and gone since that time and the celebration for you now probably means lining up your little family and marching them down to grandmother's where they will have a long, happy day playing and fighting with cousins from other offshoots of the parent tree, for about the only distinctive feature of Thanksgiving, save the church service and "eats" and the football game, is the homecoming it inspires.

Then there is a hurry and bustle in the old house that it has not known since the boys and girls married and left one by one. The newest baby must be admired by all, and the family connection is called upon to notice that Bob's youngest no longer wears dresses.

Then the women go into the kitchen, and by and by there is wafted out aromas from cooking things that ought never have been thought up in these days of high prices. But for once the housemother forgets the high cost of living. She beats up eggs as if they were selling around a cent apiece and, honestly, the way she drops hunks of butter into pots and pans you would think it just most nothing at all. But, like Christmas, Thanksgiving comes but once a year, and if we can't be a bit extravagant then, what is the use of having the old holiday?

loon, ordered a glass of beer. While he was drinking it the wise manager of the club strolled in to see what was going on and, taking in the situation at a glance, informed the surprised and dazed player that the nickel's worth of forbidden liquid would cost him the entire bonus plus the price of the drink.—Leslie's.

Paradoxical Attraction. "She has such a sunny disposition." "That accounts for her popular reign."

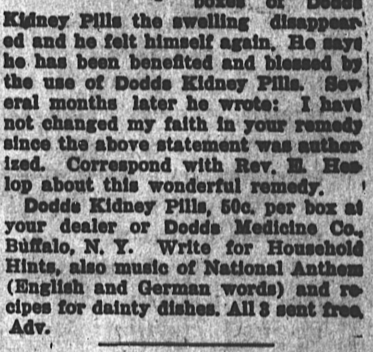

ALL LOOK FOR GRATITUDE

Nothing That Can Be Bestowed is Able to Take Its Place in the Human Heart.

Gratitude given or received is one of the best things in the world. We need far more of it and far better quality. Yet I have never read and satisfactory account of what it so gloriously means. Its value begins just where the value of pay ends. Thanks are personal, and attempt to fit an adequate response to the particular service performed. Pay is an impersonal coin which has been handed out to many before it reaches you, and will go to many others when it leaves you. It is your right and you are not grateful for it. But thanks are a free gift and enrich the giver. There is no nobler art than the art of expressing one's gratitude in fresh, unhackneyed, unexaggerated terms which answer devotion with fresh devotion, fancy with new fancy, charity with sincerity. Artists who get their reward only in money and in the stale plaudits of clapping hands are restless for something more individual. They want to be intimately understood and beautifully answered. For such gratitude they look to brother artists, to the few who really understand. There they find their best reward—but even this leaves something wanting.—The Atlantic.

A CLERGYMAN'S TESTIMONY.

The Rev. Edmund Heslop of Wigtown, Pa., suffered from Dropsy for a year. His limbs and feet were swollen and puffed. He had heart fluttering, was dizzy and exhausted at the least exertion. Hands and feet were cold and he had such a dragging sensation across the loins that it was difficult to move. After using 5 boxes of Dodge's Kidney Pills the swelling disappeared and he felt himself again. He says he has been benefited and blessed by the use of Dodge's Kidney Pills. Several months later he wrote: I had not changed my faith in your remedy since the above statement was authorized. Correspond with Rev. E. Heslop about this wonderful remedy.

CRITIC OF THE GERM THEORY

Writer in Indiana Newspaper Has Some Pertinent Remarks to Make on the Subject.

No inconsiderable body of physicians and these not of any one school, many even of the "regular profession," are beginning seriously to question whether "germs" are the greatest, or, as some hold, the only cause of disease. The United States department of agriculture has issued a bulletin "to determine the best way of pasteurizing milk so as to kill the disease germs and yet not give the milk a cooked flavor or lessen its nutritive value." Where are Sukey and dear old Bossy of yesterday? Gone, without ever having entertained the slightest suspicion that their lactical product was not above reproach. Then science comes into cast doubt upon all their daughters. "A healthy child," says the Homeopathic Envoy, "growing up where germs swarm becomes a strong man, while another fed on pasteurized milk and guarded by sterilization may grow up a weakling. Why? Give it up! Perhaps there are fundamental causes not recognized by the theorists. If milk will cause disease, will heating make it wholesome? If milk is pure, will not heating cause it to lose its best nutritive qualities? If the germs come from the cow, why use her milk? If they come from without, why not keep them out instead of killing them after they get in the milk?"—Indianapolis News.

FAMILY OF FIVE All Drank Coffee From Infancy.

It is a common thing in this country to see whole families growing up with nervous systems weakened by coffee drinking. That is because many parents do not realize that coffee contains a drug—caffeine—which causes the trouble. (The same drug is found in tea.) "There are five children in my family," writes an Iowa mother, "all of whom drank coffee from infancy up to two years ago. "My husband and I had heart trouble and were advised to quit coffee. We did so and began to use Postum. We now are doing without medicine and are entirely relieved of heart trouble. (Caffeine causes heart trouble when continually used as in coffee drinking.) "Our eleven-year-old boy had a weak digestion from birth, and yet always craved and was given coffee. When we changed to Postum he liked it and we gave him all he wanted. He has been restored to health by Postum and still likes it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Write for the little book, "The Road to Wellville." Postum comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be boiled. Instant Postum—a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. Grocers sell both kinds. "There's a reason" for Postum.

HELP SULLIVAN.

"Sullivan Getting on the Map" is a pet phrase with some and by others used sarcastically or derisively.

The expression will admit of two renderings, but it is a weakness of humanity to look at things pessimistically instead of taking the optimistic view.

Sullivan, in general, is populated with highly respected, ambitious and moral citizens. The better class being far in excess of the immoral, the populace of Sullivan will not tolerate disreputable persons or places.

Then again, Sullivan is a country town, the home of retired farmers, families whose earlier lives were foreign to the evils pervading our town, and look with horror on the scandalous violators of the law.

It has been demonstrated in the last ten years that we will never lay our armor down until we have a better town. First, a better town morally and socially, then the enterprises will come. Debauchery, villainy and other sacrilegious organizations wiped out, then we will have a better town.

This is the very thing Sullivan has been doing for a number of years. After a long and tedious fight the open saloon was closed.

The war against the bootlegger is still waging. The inmates of bawdy and infamous houses are being ousted.

The uprising of the people in exposing and clearing a community of outlaws, desperadoes and violators is something to be proud of. Officers coming boldly to the front and taking the lead in the betterment of Sullivan and Moultrie county is a move worthy of giving Sullivan an elevated position on the map. We hear of transients in different parts of the state picking up a Sullivan paper and because a scandal is exposed, a marauding den routed and the lawless characters displayed, remark "Sullivan must be a very bad place." Look at the other side. Sullivan never has had more evil doings to its area, depth or height than other villages, towns or cities, but it does have a class of people who are not afraid to get up and howl loud enough to be heard at the intoleration and some newspapers considerate enough to expose the evil doers without respect to persons. News is news and few crave sensation and scandal. We would prefer at all times to publish pleasant news. Other things come to our notice and it is just, that the public should know what is going on. Moultrie county is coming to our rescue. The voters of the county are aware of the fact that if they want protection they must get it by the ballot. The county seat must look to the county for assistance.

Assistance in electing worthy, qualified adpartorial men for office; assist us in keeping on the map until all the county and its villages are renovated.

We are proud of the fact that we are on the map. Spread our fame to the borders of our state, but reverse the expression and say Sullivan is coming to the front in spite of heavy environments. Sullivan is a good community to live in, a town where your family will be protected and where decency shall prevail. It is true that Sullivan as well as every other community has knockers, stand-patters and hinderers to pull back, classes who permit those who will, (regardless of popularity, cost or public opinion) take the risk, do the work and break down the barriers. Then up comes the popular fellow with his load all on one shoulder, bustling for the front ranks. The day is fast coming where the man trying to carry water on both shoulders, had best have opinions and express them.

A number of our citizens have organized, and are doing their best to improve and extend the interests of our town. Here we have the leaders menaced by the hinderers, standpatters and knockers busy in their line.

One of our good men has taken upon his shoulders the burden of placing the Eden hotel under first class management and on the reputable list.

Success to him. The owners have been deceived time and again by their leasers. The proprietor has given the instructions to lock the doors if decency does not prevail.

Place Irving Shuman's name in the history and the Eden hotel on the map, when he has caused decency, order and right, when the ideal hotel is established and the transient can say, "I was in Sullivan and stopped at the Eden hotel, the best in central Illinois."

It is true to-day as it was 1900 years ago that a prophet is not without honor save in his own country. The lack of appreciation by home people has caused many a man to leave a town and seek a new community in which to begin an enterprise.

Thus a new industry which might have helped this town to grow was lost because its people lacked faith in the home man. The man who goes away and succeeds is rapidly acknowledged by the people of his home town as a genius. Many an inventor and many a projector of new enterprise has had this experience; it is common, indeed, to all mankind. Persons in many communities have not sufficiently appreciated what their neighbors were accomplishing or could achieve and so many a man has gone elsewhere and found the recognition that was denied him at home. Give credit and backing to the home man. Have faith in him and encourage him. If this is done fully and freely it will go a long way toward keeping at home many a man who otherwise will go elsewhere to find moral and financial backing.

There is genius in this town as well as in any other. If you know of a man who has something to develop, don't let him go elsewhere. Help him to get a start right here. Commercial enterprises are a benefit to any town and we should have sufficient pride in this town to want it to grow.

How to Reckon Tonnage. The method of reckoning a vessel's tonnage, carpenter's measurements, is as follows: For a single-deck vessel, multiply the length of keel, the breadth of beam, and depth of hold together and divide by 95. For a double deck vessel, multiply as before, taking half the breadth of beam for the depth of the hold and divide by 95.

HOME TOWN HELPS

TENEMENT HOUSES A BLOT
 Idea in All Large Cities is to Furnish Homes in Suburbs for the Working Population.

There is a very positive movement in the great cities of both America and Europe to discourage the increase of apartment and tenement houses, to reduce the tendency toward congestion of population by spreading it over the suburban areas, and to give people, particularly the working people, of those of only modest means who may live in tenements, out into the open and closer to nature. The success of this movement depends primarily upon two conditions—the economical development of property to insure reasonable values for home sites, and direct and cheap transportation to enable the people to be carried quickly between their homes and their places of employment or business. In Philadelphia, says the Record, the conditions are reversed to the extent that we need fair land values and better transportation facilities to perpetuate the present system to one family houses and prevent the growth of the tenement system of living; in both instances, however, the object aimed at can only be accomplished by a more complete public control of the development of property and a more intelligent exercise of the street-planning power. The abandonment of the apartment and tenement house in favor of the one-family house built with a larger regard for light, air and hygienic conditions means larger building lots and more open spaces in our cities, and this, in turn, will necessitate the exercise of greater economy in street-planning, and especially in the distribution of paved areas upon major and residential streets.

Chance for Missionaries.
 A missionary stationed in a land where the natives were cannibals wrote for assistance as follows: "Our small force of brethren seems to be unable to cope with the distress which prevails in this dark and benighted land. Many of the natives are starving for food. Please send a few more missionaries."

Devised From Old Legend.
 The Mexican stamp bears the coat of arms of the country, an eagle on a cactus, holding a serpent in its talons. This device is the outgrowth of a legend that the first Aztec settlers chose the site of their city from seeing an eagle go engaged, and situated at that spot.

Constipation, if Neglected, Causes Serious Illness

Constipation, if neglected, leads to almost innumerable complications affecting the general health. Many cases of typhoid fever, appendicitis and other severe diseases are traceable to prolonged clogging of the bowels. Regarding the effects of constipation, C. E. Ayers, 6 Sabin St., Montpelier, Vt., says: "I was afflicted with constipation and biliousness for years, and at times became so bad I would become unconscious. I have been found in that condition many times. Physicians did not seem to be able to do me any good. I would become weak and for days at a time could do no work. Not long ago I got a box of Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets, and after using them found I had never tried anything that acted in such a mild and effective manner. I believe I have at last found the remedy that suits my case."

Thousands of people are sufferers from habitual constipation and while possibly realizing something of the danger of this condition, yet neglect too long to employ proper curative measures until serious illness often results. The advice of all physicians is, "keep your bowels clean," and it's good advice. Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 25 cents a box containing 25 doses. If not found satisfactory, your money is returned.

HOUSEKEEPERS Must be Watchful

For great efforts are being made in this vicinity to sell baking powders of inferior class, made from alum acids and lime phosphates, both undesirable to those who require high-grade cream of tartar baking powder to make clean and healthful food.

The official Government tests have shown Royal Baking Powder to be a pure, healthful, grape cream of tartar baking powder, of highest strength, and care should be taken to prevent the substitution of any other brand in its place.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price per pound, and is cheaper and better at its price than any other baking powder in the world.

OPERATION FOR APPENDICITIS UNNECESSARY.

The Success of Internal Treatment An Established Fact. Hypodermic Immunization Prevents Relapse.

For not many years has anything aroused so much country-wide interest among all classes of people as has the wonderful work going on in Neoga. Much good is being done and our citizens are awake to the fact that it is a blessing to those suffering with appendicitis.

For the past year patients have been quietly coming and going. Each train brings one or more patients, while the mails are flooded with letters coming from sufferers in all parts of the country, who have heard of the cure of appendicitis without an operation, perfected years ago by Dr. G. F. Dougherty.

Hundreds of patients have come and gone from Neoga during the past year only, to be cured by this treatment, and they are spreading its worth, while others continue to come. Many patients are cured by the use of the first month's treatment. Many dates are taken in advance.

Regarding his cure for appendicitis the doctor says: "Appendicitis is not a new disease, it is an old disease under a new name. I have treated and cured it 35 years ago and the mortality was not as great as it is now under the surgical procedures of today. I have no relapse. I give the patient the Immunization Treatment, Hypodermatically while they are taking the full course of treatment."—Neoga News. Adv.

BEST MANURE FOR POTATOES

Difference in Favor of Poultry Fertilizer Found to Be 15.25 in Forty-Eight Hills.

(By A. J. LEGG.)

Last spring I put a small handful of dry poultry manure in each hill when I planted my potatoes, except four pieces of rows.

On these I used 14 per cent superphosphate in the hill at the rate of about 250 pounds per acre.

I noticed throughout the growing season that the potatoes manured with the poultry manure were growing much faster than the others. The soil was just about the same in both places, as was the cultivation.

When the potatoes reached maturity I dug 24 hills of each of two rows lying adjacent to each other.

Potato Digger in Action.

One was fertilized with poultry manure and the other with superphosphate. The potatoes from each 24 hills were carefully weighed, with the following results:

Twenty-four hills with superphosphate yielded 30.5 pounds.

Twenty-four hills with poultry manure yielded 35.75 pounds.

Difference in favor of poultry manure, 5.25.

The variety of potatoes planted was common No. 1. All of the potatoes were practically free from scab, as I noticed only one scabby potato, and it was found among the ones grown with poultry manure.

MAKE PROFIT FROM POULTRY

Much Depends on Energy and Good Judgment Poultryman Puts into Work—Few Cases Are Cited.

No one can tell just how much a certain person can make from a certain flock of fowls. A great deal depends on various conditions, not the least of which are the energy and good judgment that the poultry keeper puts into his work, says the Farmer's Wife. Cases are on record where several dollars per hen have been made annually for some years by women who have produced the finest quality of poultry and sold it at the highest prices for exhibition and breeding. Many women make from $1 a hen up by producing market eggs.

A lady in Iowa not only paid for her farm, but sent her children to college by taking up the poultry business after the death of her husband. This much is sure, that the poultry business has never proved unprofitable to any farm woman who gave it a reasonable amount of care and applied to it one-half the judgment of which she is capable.

When not too expensive potatoes may be fed to cows in limited quantities.

Mummy Eyes. Mummy eyes, as they are called, are taken from the bodies of Bolivian mummies, but bear no resemblance to the human eye. They look like glass shells with gilt inside, and in spite of their being solid, they are delicate and very easily broken. When exposed to dampness the gilt appearance is lost and they resemble a piece of yellow crystal.

Long Life.

Sir John Lubbock, the scientist, has shown how long insects may live if preserved from accident and harm of all kinds. The greatest age attained by an insect, as far as known, was that reached by a queen ant, which lived until August 8, 1888, when she was nearly fifteen years old. Another queen of the same species died after a life of thirteen years.

Seeking to Improve Telephone. Because the microphone of a telephone transmitter becomes more sensitive in rarified air, German electricians are trying to make a practical application of the phenomenon.

SEVERE BRONCHIAL COUGH

Doctors Feared Lung Trouble, Restored to Health by Vinol.

The medical profession does not believe that lung troubles are inherited, but a person may inherit a weakness or tendency to them.

Mrs. Kate Heckman, Springfield, Ohio, says: "A few years ago I was in a very bad run-down condition, and the physician told me I had consumption. I tried another physician, and he told me I had ulcers on my right lung. I quit the physicians and started on 'Vinol.' Today I am perfectly healthy, and that is why I recommend 'Vinol.'"

Vinol soothes and heals the inflamed surfaces and allays the cough. Vinol creates an appetite, strengthens the digestive organs and gives the patient strength to throw off incipient pulmonary diseases.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

P. S.—For any skin trouble try our Sazo Salvo. We guarantee it.

Can You Believe This?

Nature's most deadly antipathy seems to have been overcome. A rat was killed in a produce company's plant in Missouri and left four young rats, which the cat has undertaken to bring up, meantime not neglecting her duty of keeping the place clear of all adult rats that come in sight.

ALL SHALL REJOICE

"For the Good Things Are Abundant Which Our Father Hath Sent Unto Us."

"And thou shalt rejoice in every good thing which the Lord thy God hath given unto thee, and unto thine house, thou and the Levites, and the stranger that is among you."

The duty of acknowledging God's care of us is a sacred, sacramental duty; an acknowledgment that he who has promised to give us all things needful, both for our souls and bodies, hath fulfilled his promise.

We exhibit the blessings of the field as representing all the blessings given to us, our country, our homes, ourselves. The returns to the farmer lie at the foundation of so many of our comforts.

"Rejoice," be happy and merry. God is not anxious to receive only your tearful, penitential service. He bids you rejoice. "Be merry now!" Rejoice in every good thing which the Lord thy God hath given unto thee.

Lameness

Sloan's Liniment is a speedy, reliable remedy for lameness in horses and farm stock. Here's proof.

"How dare you insult a lady?" she exclaimed.

He woke up again. "I didn't," he spluttered.
