

Atlantic Telegraph—Results of the Investigation—The Directors in Permanent Session.

The fullest investigation into the events which have led to the present pause in the undertaking, into the sufficiency of the appliances for paying out the cable, and into the additional arrangements and precautions which the valuable knowledge and experience gained by the late attempt will dictate in respect to future operations, has been committed to the charge of sub-committees appointed for the purpose to report to the general Board.

The directors will sit in permanent session until their future plans have been fully discussed and determined on. The appeal of the directors to the commanders of the several ships composing the Atlantic Telegraph squadron, to come forward and aid the undertaking at this juncture with their advice and their experience has been cordially responded to, and the following officers have arrived in town, and will be in consultation with the directors to-morrow: Captain V. Amory, Her Majesty's ship Leopold; Captain Sands, United States frigate Susquehanna; Captain Hudson, United States frigate Niagara; Master Commander Nodell, Her Majesty's ship Agamemnon; and Lieutenant Commander Dorman, Her Majesty's ship Cyclops.

Sufficient information has already been obtained to show clearly that the present check to the progress of the work, however mortifying, has been purely an accident, and is in no way due to any obstacle in the form of the cable, nor of any natural difficulty, nor of any experience that will in the future, effect in the slightest degree the entire success of the enterprise. The only sudden declivity of any serious magnitude from 410 fathoms to 1,700 fathoms had been safely overcome, the beautiful flexibility of the cable having rendered it capable of adapting itself, without strain, to circumstances which would probably have been its ruin had it been more rigidly constructed. The combined influences of the low temperature of the water, and the compression of the pores of the insulating medium, and practically shown that the action of a telegraphic cable, so far from being impaired, is materially improved by being sunk in deep water. The only difficulty worthy of consideration which remained was to demonstrate the practicability of making the splice in mid-ocean. This was prior to experimental test by the engineer in heavy sea, subsequent to the accident, and before the return home of the ship. The two ends on board the Yiagra and Agamemnon were joined together, and the splice let down to the bottom into soundings of 2,000 fathoms, and during a heavy sea. The experiment was perfectly successful, and these & all other circumstances which have been wrought out by the recent expedition have made more and more cheering and certain the prospect of complete success on the next occasion.

—There is a young lady living in Saratoga, who has visited the grave of a sister every morning for three years. A more touching sight we have seldom seen, in this inconstant and forgetful world, than this devout maiden kneeling to place flowers upon the green coverlet of a sister's "narrow bed," and to repeat her morning prayers, where none but God can hear them. There is a fanaticism of the affections, which one cannot but reverence, and the scene we have alluded to makes the love of woman holy, even to those whose skepticism has become chronic.

The Rockford Register puts in a claim for Winnebago as the banner wheat growing county in the State. One township alone, raises 150,000 bushels. It is estimated that 66,000 acres of wheat were put in; in that county, producing, at the least calculation one million six hundred thousand bushels.

Hoops. Hoops, hurrah ye noble lords, We'll join you in the shout,
And trust that ere the comedies I'll let you know about Vives less hoops! O let it ring,
On hill top and in vale,
For we would spread their glory far These skeletons of whale
O blame his not because we wear
The things that you detect, impure For remember 'tis a way we have,
To wear what we like and not
And if you cannot bear to see Our founes have their day,
Just turn your modest heads aside,
And look another way
What if it is a foreign land
You're not bound to us,
You show it in your short-tied boots,
And all the clothes you wear.
And we have a much right to Hoops
As any of you men
Have a right to curl your pet gosses
As a Napoleon
We married lords, with woful phiz,
Who cast your eyes askant,
When we were with you
She sharply says, "I shant"
Go, and in penitence and tears,
Bow down those heads of thine,
And mourn that thou art Nesth woman's carolinet Yes, she says "his distinction Enchantment to the view,
And we would keep you all at bay,
To prove the saying true
For we have found, too oft, alas!
Despite your lordly pride There's many a snake tongue behind The grass that grows on this
And as to the great bugaboos,
The more that you shall dread 'em,
And the louder you shall preach 'em down,
The wider we will spread 'em.
If that won't do, then hearken this—
With founes for founes,
We will start you all to Jerdon,
And monopolise the world!

Speak kindly to your Mother.
Young man, speak kindly to your mother, and courteously, tenderly of her. But a little time, and you shall see her no more forever. Her eye is dim, her form is bent, and her shadow falls toward the grave. Others may love you fondly, but never again while time is yours, shall any one's love be to you as that of your old, trembling, weakened mother has been.
Through helpless infancy her throbbing breast was your safe protection and support; in manhood, testy boy-hood, she bore patiently with your chances, and in old age, she has safely through a legion of ills and maladies.
Her hand bathed your burning brow or moisted your parched lips; her eyes lighted in the darkness of a night vigils, watching sleepless by your side as none but her could. Oh, speak not her name lightly, for you cannot live so many years as she would smile her fully. Through reckless and impetuous youth, she is your comfort and solace. To a bright manhood she guides you steps to improve your eternal fortune: never forget to speak gently, then, and reverently of your mother, and when you, too, shall be old, it shall in some degree lighten the remorse which shall be yours for other sins, to know that none wantonly have you outraged the respect due to your dear mother.
I was indignant but once, and I was sorry for it. I was angry but I was sorry for it. I was
