

Sullivan Express

J. H. WAGGONER, B. B. HAYDON, SULLIVAN, ILL.

AGENTS

The following named gentlemen are authorized to receive and receipt subscriptions for the Express.

Stephen Cannon, Lovington; J. T. Crawford, Marrowbone; J. Y. Hitt, Sullivan; M. N. Van Fleet, Burlington.

Mormon High Priest

Upon the death of Joe Smith, the Mormon High Priest, the Seership of the Mormon church devolved upon his son, Joe Smith Jr., at that time a youth of two tender age to enter upon the duties of his office.

In consequence of young Smith's minority there were Regents appointed, among whom were Brigham Young, Wells and others, to attend to the overseeing of the brethren until young Smith's age should render him eligible to the duties of his office.

Joe Smith Jr., the true and lawful High Priest of the Mormon church, is a married man, about 24 years of age, and is a citizen of Nauvoo, in this State, is a man of sober and industrious habits, a peaceable citizen, and a true and loyal subject of our government.

Facts in the Case

There has been a great deal of gas exploded, and a considerable amount of ink scattered on the subject of "Female Demonstrations" at Lovington; and now that we are occupying the "Sullivan Express," we have the duty of pointing out the facts in the case, so that it is our "pitch in."

It will be seen by referring to the articles of agreement entered into by the parties, which is on file in this office, that Mr. Taylor sold to the citizens all his liquors and license for the sum of one hundred dollars, to be raised by subscription and given over to him. Mr. Taylor further agreed that he would not sell any spiritous or vinous liquors in Lovington or vicinity, neither give away any in his grocery, nor suffer any person to sell liquor on his premises.

We are proud to say that as far as we know, or have heard, Mr. Taylor has religiously kept his part of the agreement. After making the above bargain with Mr. Taylor, the ladies set about to see if they could raise by subscription the amount of money required to pay Mr. Taylor for his sod corn and license, and they went to work in such good earnest that, in a very short time, they had subscribed the sum of one hundred and twenty-six dollars and seventy cents—twenty-six dollars more than was actually necessary to meet their agreement.

After paying Mr. Taylor for his liquor &c., they proceeded to roll the barrels of "fire water" into the streets where they "cared in" their heads, (we mean the barrel heads), and let the glorious essence of sod corn rum. In looking over the list of the names of the contributors to this laudable undertaking, we noticed the names of fifteen ladies, several of whom contributed the liberal sum of five dollars each. Those ladies have set about the great work in right down good earnest; and being "backed up" by good and liberal friends who will see them safely through in their noble undertaking, we feel sure that they will succeed in rooting out of their midst the evil of intemperance.

But they cannot get rid of the evil so long as they allow the traffic in this destroying liquid to be carried on in their town; for so long as the horrible stuff is to be had there will be some persons in the neighborhood who will make brutes of themselves. So ladies, "push ahead, keep moving" in the good cause in which you have enlisted, and do not ask to be discharged from the service till "the war's all over, when you can all return to your quiet and peaceable homes, and sit under your own vine and fig tree, where your ears will not be greeted with the demoniac yells of the inebriate, nor the privacy and pleasure of the home circle be intruded upon by the "Sod Corn S.O.Z."

Sleighing

For the last two weeks we have had delightful sleighing, and the youngsters of this place are enjoying it "prodigiously" and may be seen at almost any hour of the twenty-four "bobbin around," in all kinds of sleighs, jumpers, cutters, old sleds, and in fact any thing else that has the capacity to contain a "young America," together with a sliding property. We are sure that it would astonish any one not accustomed to witness such sights, to see some of the old-fashioned looking things that pass for sleighs now-a-days, for instance one that a certain "Pill Peddler" of our town rides in, and again a certain ox sled with an omnibus bed on it marked "Shelby." Oh what sleighs!

The legal voters of our town met at the Court house on Tuesday, last at 1 o'clock according to previous notice, to vote for or against incorporating the town.

On motion, P. B. Knight was chosen President of the meeting, and Beverly W. Henry Secretary, who after being duly sworn according to law, proceeded to hold an election, the result of which was, that there were fifty ballots "For incorporation, and one "Against incorporation." From what we have since learned, we might say the votes cast were unanimous in favor of incorporation; for the man that voted "Against incorporation," says he put in that ballot "just phoo phoo."

Notice is hereby given to the voters of the Town of Sullivan, Ill., that an election will be held at the Court House, in and Town of Sullivan, on Wednesday the third day of March, 1858, for the purpose of electing a board of Town Trustees, to incorporate the Town of Sullivan.

Belief Turn Out

On last Wednesday we were favored with a call from P. L. Shurt, editor of the "Banner" at Shelbyville, Ill. Mr. Shurt is a smart looking young man, and we should judge from his conversation that he is a good practical printer, and an editor of small notoriety.

The friends of Temperance will hold a meeting at the Christian church this evening at 7 o'clock P. M. The meeting will be addressed by P. B. Knight, Esq., of Hillsboro, Ill., and Capt. A. B. Lee, of the Mexican Army.

Temperance

Editors of Express: Having just returned from a visit to the flourishing Village of Lovington in this county, which by the way, is one of the pleasantest localities in this rich and beautiful state, I feel just like giving you an outline of the "time" we had with the citizens of that place. It is well known by all that a high state of excitement has for some time existed in and around Lovington, growing out of intemperance and debauchery on one hand, and a firm determination on the part of the good, sober, order-loving portion of the community on the other hand, to suppress this rapidly growing evil, which, at one time, threatened to blast the fair prospects and good name of the place.

For the purpose, therefore, of being present and assisting in the institution of a division of Sons of Temperance in Lovington, some twenty-three sons accompanied by a number of Ladies, who by the way are always happy to participate in enterprises of benevolence and humanity, left Sullivan about 2 o'clock P. M. and arrived, all in good order in Lovington before night.

Upon our arrival, we found the hospitable mansion of our generous friends, Brady, Thayer, Maddox, Martin, Wingate and others comfortably warmed and open to receive us. After partaking of sumptuous supper already prepared for us by the excellent ladies of the above named gentlemen, we repaired to the Hall, which is occupied by the Masonic fraternity, as also by the Sons. The Hall was soon densely crowded—not by the idle and inquisitive—but by a number of old and reliable citizens, who know what they are undertaking, and are determined to discharge the responsible duties incumbent upon them as Sons of Temperance. The prospects of Lovington Division are certainly flattering. The reputation of the members for honesty and firmness, their age and character, is sufficient guarantee of their success.

Washington, Feb. 17. House—Mr. Lecher, from the committee on Ways and Means reported a bill for the purpose of amending the act in relation to the election cases of Mr. Brooks, containing the report of H. W. Davis.

Death & Co.

Death & Co., Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Brandy and Malt Liqueur, are offering the opportunity of improving their friends that they continue making Drunkards, Bankrupts, Beggars, and Maniacs on the most reasonable terms, at the shortest notice.

The subscribers return their sincere thanks to numerous customers, and to all the tipping part of the community, for the extensive patronage they have received, and they hope that the many more that are yet to be found of their success in the above line of business, will secure to them the increased support of Drunkards and little drop-drinkers, as well as for even temperate drinkers of total abstinence societies, those bitter enemies of their long established and popular trade.

Death & Co., bring to the public, that the articles in which they deal are the best and most pleasant poisons in the world; and they will warrant them in every case where the individual sufferers in the use of them.

Death & Co., bring to the public obligations to send more persons to the poorhouse, the prison, the gallows, and the grave-yard, than any other firm; and they will also do it with the greatest possible dispatch; to accomplish these desirable ends, it is only necessary for the individual to take a glass occasionally, till he feels that quantity insufficient to gratify that craving appetite, which he will soon create and when this rum, gin, whisky, brandy, &c. is taken, the porter, appetite is formed; the poisons are then prepared to brave temporal and eternal misery, for the sake of another glass.

Death & Co. will spare no pains or expense to bring the wives and children of their customers to misery temporal and eternal, and drive to defilement and death as many as the public good may require. They are constantly receiving new supplies of the poisonous liquors, which they will sell by the glass, the bottle, the barrel or the hoghead.

For the accommodation of their numerous customers, and for the despatch of their increasing business, Death & Co. have appointed a sufficient number of active agents, who are stationed at convenient distances, in splendid palaces, beer shops, and public houses, these palaces, beer shops and public houses and groggeries may be known by the sign, filth, and obscenity of the customers who congregate around them, as well as by the odors of the poison continually polluting the air around.

Satisfactory references can be given to country jails, houses of correction, lunatic asylums, hospitals, work houses, insolvent debtors, courts, the Court of Bankruptcy, or the Wives and families of those who have had the happiness to make drunkards.

N. B.—Death & Co., beg leave to caution all Whippers and Whippersnappers from giving any aid to their wives, children or friends, or any advocates of total abstinence societies as these parties are enemies to the soul and body destroying business.

Death & Co. are open at all hours, by day and by night, Sundays not excepted.

Death & Co. Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Brandy and Malt Liqueur, are offering the opportunity of improving their friends that they continue making Drunkards, Bankrupts, Beggars, and Maniacs on the most reasonable terms, at the shortest notice.

The subscribers return their sincere thanks to numerous customers, and to all the tipping part of the community, for the extensive patronage they have received, and they hope that the many more that are yet to be found of their success in the above line of business, will secure to them the increased support of Drunkards and little drop-drinkers, as well as for even temperate drinkers of total abstinence societies, those bitter enemies of their long established and popular trade.

Death & Co., bring to the public, that the articles in which they deal are the best and most pleasant poisons in the world; and they will warrant them in every case where the individual sufferers in the use of them.

Death & Co., bring to the public obligations to send more persons to the poorhouse, the prison, the gallows, and the grave-yard, than any other firm; and they will also do it with the greatest possible dispatch; to accomplish these desirable ends, it is only necessary for the individual to take a glass occasionally, till he feels that quantity insufficient to gratify that craving appetite, which he will soon create and when this rum, gin, whisky, brandy, &c. is taken, the porter, appetite is formed; the poisons are then prepared to brave temporal and eternal misery, for the sake of another glass.

Death & Co. will spare no pains or expense to bring the wives and children of their customers to misery temporal and eternal, and drive to defilement and death as many as the public good may require. They are constantly receiving new supplies of the poisonous liquors, which they will sell by the glass, the bottle, the barrel or the hoghead.

For the accommodation of their numerous customers, and for the despatch of their increasing business, Death & Co. have appointed a sufficient number of active agents, who are stationed at convenient distances, in splendid palaces, beer shops, and public houses, these palaces, beer shops and public houses and groggeries may be known by the sign, filth, and obscenity of the customers who congregate around them, as well as by the odors of the poison continually polluting the air around.

Satisfactory references can be given to country jails, houses of correction, lunatic asylums, hospitals, work houses, insolvent debtors, courts, the Court of Bankruptcy, or the Wives and families of those who have had the happiness to make drunkards.

N. B.—Death & Co., beg leave to caution all Whippers and Whippersnappers from giving any aid to their wives, children or friends, or any advocates of total abstinence societies as these parties are enemies to the soul and body destroying business.

Death & Co. are open at all hours, by day and by night, Sundays not excepted.

Death & Co. are open at all hours, by day and by night, Sundays not excepted.

Death & Co. Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Brandy and Malt Liqueur, are offering the opportunity of improving their friends that they continue making Drunkards, Bankrupts, Beggars, and Maniacs on the most reasonable terms, at the shortest notice.

The subscribers return their sincere thanks to numerous customers, and to all the tipping part of the community, for the extensive patronage they have received, and they hope that the many more that are yet to be found of their success in the above line of business, will secure to them the increased support of Drunkards and little drop-drinkers, as well as for even temperate drinkers of total abstinence societies, those bitter enemies of their long established and popular trade.

Death & Co., bring to the public, that the articles in which they deal are the best and most pleasant poisons in the world; and they will warrant them in every case where the individual sufferers in the use of them.

Death & Co., bring to the public obligations to send more persons to the poorhouse, the prison, the gallows, and the grave-yard, than any other firm; and they will also do it with the greatest possible dispatch; to accomplish these desirable ends, it is only necessary for the individual to take a glass occasionally, till he feels that quantity insufficient to gratify that craving appetite, which he will soon create and when this rum, gin, whisky, brandy, &c. is taken, the porter, appetite is formed; the poisons are then prepared to brave temporal and eternal misery, for the sake of another glass.

Death & Co. will spare no pains or expense to bring the wives and children of their customers to misery temporal and eternal, and drive to defilement and death as many as the public good may require. They are constantly receiving new supplies of the poisonous liquors, which they will sell by the glass, the bottle, the barrel or the hoghead.

For the accommodation of their numerous customers, and for the despatch of their increasing business, Death & Co. have appointed a sufficient number of active agents, who are stationed at convenient distances, in splendid palaces, beer shops, and public houses, these palaces, beer shops and public houses and groggeries may be known by the sign, filth, and obscenity of the customers who congregate around them, as well as by the odors of the poison continually polluting the air around.

Satisfactory references can be given to country jails, houses of correction, lunatic asylums, hospitals, work houses, insolvent debtors, courts, the Court of Bankruptcy, or the Wives and families of those who have had the happiness to make drunkards.

N. B.—Death & Co., beg leave to caution all Whippers and Whippersnappers from giving any aid to their wives, children or friends, or any advocates of total abstinence societies as these parties are enemies to the soul and body destroying business.

Death & Co. are open at all hours, by day and by night, Sundays not excepted.

Death & Co. are open at all hours, by day and by night, Sundays not excepted.

