How the money was obtained to build our Illinois Central Railroad, and what the final result of that matter will probably be, but few perhaps have given themselves the trouble to enquire. New York Weekly.

We have just received number 21 of volume 14 of the New YORK WEEKLY, a No. 1 literary paper, published in New York City by Mr. A. J. Williamson. It is, in our opinion equal-if nothing more-to the New York Ledger. A new story commences with this number entitled "ONE-EVED SAUL: or the Tory LEAGUE OF SEVEN," a tale of South Carolina, during the Revolutionary struggle for liberty. It is of thrilling interest, portraying in vivid colors, the trials, hardships, and sufferings endured by good old Whigs of '76 .-Let everybody in this part of the country subscribe for the WEEKLY at once, for we say again that it is one of the best papers of its character west of any place. A HORRIBLE CRIME.-The Wabash (Ind.) Intelligencer says that a man named Wm. Joy was last Saturday convicted at that place of burning his own child to death, and sentenced to eighteen years confinement in the pen itentiary. The principle witness against him was his own little daughter. Her story to the jury is thus given by the Intelligencer. Such a case of coldblooded butchery seldom stains even

Her little brother John, a child a bout four months old, was quite un well, and had been so for some days. and was constantly fretful, and had cried considerably during the night, and had disturbed her father. Early in the morning her father called to her to get up and make a fire. She did so-made the fire principly of brush, because there was no other wood prepared. After the fire began to burn the child continued to cry and fret; her father became enraged and snatched the child from its mother's arms, tore every particle of clotoing off it, and then took it by one arm and one leg. and held it over the fire until it was burnt in sever al places to a blister. He then struck the little sufferer two blows with his hand, leaving upon its body the marks of his fingers, and then threw it into the cradle or bed. His wife and daughter struggled to get the child away from, but were unof the Company, buy it subject to able to do so; and when Mr. Joy found that he was going to burn the child to death, ske ran out of the house to prevent seeing the sight, and to get out of hearing of the child's screams. it at her, compelled her to come in .-He then left the house and did not return, we understand for a day or two. Improvement in Frinting. A newly altered bill of the $10 de Major Beniowski, a foreign gentleman who has been long well known in the metropolis from his system of artificial memory and improvements in printing is again attracting public. We yesterday had the satisfaction of meeting Win. H. Branham, who left the Cherry Creek gold mines on the 26th of March. He went to that nomination, changed from 2s on the man who has been long well known in printing is again attracting public attention to the latter. On Saturday gings on the 2d of September. He evening Major Beniowski delivered a lecture at Willis's Rooms, Saint James's, London, on the usual method of printing, and on the imgrovements introduced by himself, by which, as he alleges, any person may after a few weeks' practice, set up writing in type, three, four, or even five times quicker than a compositor on the present system.

The lecture was a very interesting one, an I at its close the lecturer called forward a number of boys who had learned to compose on his plan, each boy stating the rate at which he composed, varying from 5,500 to 8,-300 letters, per hour. The major stated that ordinary compositors could set up from 1,000 letters to 2,500 per hour, but that was rare skill. If compositors, with all the advantages of long training, would cast aside their prejudices and apply themselves to his plan, he fully believed that they would be able to compose at least 10,000 per hour. Copies of an even ing paper were then handed to the major, who selected in the "latest news" and set two of his boys to "set it up"in types, marking the time with a three-minute glass, and calling on our table. It is really a beautiful the audience to keep a check upon the lady readers. The fashion plates. counting the seconds hand. At the end of three minutes he stopped the boys, and handed the "stick" in a gentleman among the audience that stated that he was a practical printer. Having been examined by that gentleman and several other printers, has seen the mines, and as much of evidently indisposed to favour the major and his plans, the work was declared to be properly composed and justified, and but one mistake was pointed out.

> Proof impressions were then taken from the portion set up by the boy, and copies having been distributed, the number of letters was found to be 270, which having been composed in three minutes, was equal to 5,400 per

Mr. B. will return to the mines as soon as he considers the season sufficiently advanced to admit of comfortable travaling and advantageous mining. He went out from Kansas City by way of Bem's Fort, and was one of the first who went out to mine .--He returned to Omaha by way of Fort Kearney. Mr. James Campbell, of Holt connty, recently wrote an unfavorable report to the Forest City Monitor, re

GOD'S PROTECTION OF YOUNG DEER. -An old Canadian hunter declares the reason why the wild deer are not all killed when young, (as they breed once a year, and are always surrounded by other animals which prey upon them, as dogs, wolves, bears, panthers etc.,) is that "no dog or other animal con smell the track of a doe or fawa while the latter is too young to take are of itself." He stated that he had often seen it demonstrated. He had taken his dogs over the ground when he had just before seen them pass, and thoy would take no notice of the track and coeld not be induced follow when instantly discover the tra deer not having young ones. all the lands that they were to get from the State, to secure the redemption of those bonds; and upon the faith of those bonds and mortgages, the Company borrowed the money from English capitalists to build the road. Aud those capitalists, to day, hold a mortgage on every tract of land sold by the Illinois Legislature to the I. C. R. R. Co.; and you men, who buy lands those mortgages.

If the Company redeem their bonds. your titles are good; if they do not, then your titles are worthless. And what are their prospects for redeeming them ? The road has been in success ful operation some five years, their lands have been in market about as long, and vast quantities of it have the whole amount-and instead of liquidating their debt, and canceling their bonds, their origignal debt has yearly augmented. Their road does not pay ranning expenses; and should they continue on in the same way a few years longer, their lands will be gone, their bonds uncanceled, and the private coffers of the members of the Company filled. Then will come the English bond-holders, and to you who are living on lands purchased from the Company, he will exhibit his mortgage, and tell you to get up and leave ; or, the next term of the circuit court, you will be visited by the sheriff, with a notice that there is a suit of ejectment entered against you; and the consequence will be, that you must either pay for your lands again, or "git." We see other bonnets having Joy took down his gun, and pointing the front and curtain of black silk, an open-work tulle crown, and guipure barb on the front, and decorated with red chrysanthemums with jet hearts. The inside trimming is of white blond bordered with black; on the left side there is a single flower. UNPARALLELLED FEMALE HEROISM. We have been informed that one of our citizens saw two girls, about tweety years of age, in Providence, in this county, on Jaturday, bound for Pike's Peak. They had already come some distance with an ox team, and are de-termined that if there is such a thing as getting there, they will do it. Pretty good for the bold female adventurrs.-Bureau Co. Democrat.

... Those two individuals who were melted to tears the other day, have since been seen running together.

"Speaking of shaving," said a pretty girl to an abdurate old bachelor, "I should think a pair of handsome eyes would be the best mirror to shave by." "Yes, many a poor fellow has been shaved by them," he replied.

Dogs Poisoned.

We understand that our friesd Nathan Womack, who resides in the south part of this county, had, on Monday last, a couple of valuable dogs killed by poison administered to them by some unknown evil-doer.

Drs. Waggoner and Van-Fleet are now analyzing the contents of the dogs' stomachs, and promise to publish the result of their investigations în our next issue.

To Those who have bought Il-linois Central Railroad Lands --- Titles Worthless!

How the money was obtained to build our Illinois Central Railroad, and what the final result of that matter will probably be, but few perhaps have given themselves the trouble to enquire. We are all proud of our railroad on account of the enviable position in which it has placed our State I would, however, beg leave to submit a few suggestions to those who have purchased, and who contemplate purchasing, land of the I. C. R. R. Co .-When the contract was made between our Legislature and the said Company to build the road, that Company were far from being able to build the road the records of crime: in and of themselves. The Company however, in their contract, got every alternate section of vacant land within a certain distance of the line of the proposed road; and in order to get money to construct the road the Comin England, and gave a mortgage on all the lands that they were to get from the State, to secure the redemption of those bonds; and upon the faith of those bonds and mortgages, the Company borrowed the money from English capitalists to build the road. Aud those capitalists, to day, hold a mortgage on every tract of land sold by the Illinois Legislature to the I. C. R. R. Co.; and you men, who buy lands those mortgages. If the Company redeem their bonds, your titles are good; if they do not, then your titles are worthless. And what are their prospects for redeeming them ? The road has been in success ful operation some five years, their lands have been in market about as long, and vast quantities of it have the whole amount-and instead of liquidating their debt, and canceling their bonds, their origignal debt has yearly augmented. Their road does not pay years longer, their lands will be gone. their bonds uncanceled, and the priare living on lands purchased from the Company, he will exhibit his mortgage, the next term of the circuit court, you will be visited by the sheriff, with a notice that there is a suit of ejectment entered against you; and the consepay for your lands again, or "git." at is watter.

New York Weekly.

We have just received number 21 of volume 14 of the NEW YORK WEEKLY, a No. 1 literary paper, published in New York City by Mr. A. J. Williamson. It is, in our opinion. equal-if nothing more-to the New York Ledger. A new story commences with this number entitled "ONE-EVED SAUL: OF the TORY LEAGUE OF SEVEN," a tale of South Carolina, during the Revolutionary struggle for liberty. It is of thrilling interest, portraying in vivid colors, the trials, hardships, and sufferings endured by good old Whigs of '76.-Let everybody in this part of the country subscribe for the WEEKLY at once, for we say again that it is one of the best papers of its character west of any place.

A HORRIBLE CRIME.-The Wabash (Ind.) Intelligencer says that a man named Wm. Joy was last Saturday convicted at that place of burning his own child to death, and sentenced to eighteen years confinement in the pen itentiary. The principle witness against him was his own little daughter. Her story to the jury is thus given by the Intelligencer. Such a case of coldblooded butchery seldom stains even

Her little brother John, a child a bout four months old, was quite un well, and had been so for some days. and was constantly fretful, and had cried considerably during the night, and had disturbed her father. Early in the morning her father called to her to get up and make a fire. She did so-made there was no other wood prepared. After the fire began to burn the child continued to cry and fret; her father became enraged and snatched the child from its mother's arms, tore every particle of clotoing off it, and then took it by one arm and one leg. and held it over the fire until it was burnt in sever al places to a blister. He then struck the little sufferer two blows with his hand, leaving upon its body the marks of his fingers, and then threw it into the cradle or bed. His wife and daughter struggled to get the child away from, but were unable to do so; and when Mr. Joy found that he was going to burn the child to death, ske ran out of the house to prevent seeing the sight, and to get out of hearing of the child's screams. Joy took down his gan, and pointing it at her, compelled her to come in .-He then left the house and did not return, we understand for a day or two. Four days afer this terrible scene the little suffering child died and was bur ied. None but Joy and his wife and two young daughters knew anything about the cause of the death. The neighboring women, who came to lay out the child, found it so mortified and decayed that that they could not wash it, or even take off the clothing upon Joy told his wife and daughters that if they ever said a word about it. her would kill them, and they believ ed him, and so kept the horrible secret. He evening Major Beniowski delivered a lecture at Willis's Rooms, Saint James's, London, on the usual methnd of printing, and on the imgrovements introduced by himself, by which, as he alleges, any person may day. He stated to us that he had no after a few weeks' practice, set up doubt but that miners, with suitable writing in type, three, four, or even five times quicker than a compositor on the present system.

The lecture was a very interesting one, an 1 at its close the lecturer called forward a number of boys who had learned to compose on his plan, each boy stating the rate at which he composed, varying from 5,500 to 8,-300 letters, per hour. The major stated that ordinary compositors could set up from 1,000 letters to 2,500 per hour, but that was rare skill. If compositors, with all the advantages of ning. THE REVIVAL IN ENGLAND .--- We have before chronicled tor our readmeetings in Scarborough, England. We have now thrilling news of the progress of the movement of the Divine Spirit, rising higher and higher. The daily prayer meetings, both at noon and at night, appear, from the report in the London Patriot, to be inultiplied and crowded, filling the several places of worship in the town, daily and nightly. The exercises, in form and spirit, appear to be dentical with those of our own meetings.d All sectarian distinctions are lost and forgotten, and special prayers, in view of special requests, are thoroughout, from house to house, under the direction of a Union of the pastors and prominent laymen of the several denominations. All the ordinary week day services of the different congregations have been sus ended.and It is impossible to say when these united services will terminate, as the interest seems daily deepening .- New York Examiner.

THE ARKANSAS TRAVELER. --man looking as gray as a deacon and wearing a face as long and a solemn looking as our Loda triend will after the election, came aboard of the passenger train going west last Saturday morning, at a station west of Toledo. He had a violin in his hands, and seating himself in the fore part of the car, commenced or the "Arkansas Traveler." The far famed traveler had not yet arrived a the cross-roads, through the instru mentality of the fiddler, before every passenger, the sleepy ones included were on the qui vive. Some werd keeping time with their feet, and others laughing immoderately, and all enjoying the scene. Presently in M Conductor RHODES made his appearance, and comprehending the nature of the case in a moment, he went to the old gentleman and invited him to follow, which he done.
