IN THE CARS.

BY HELEN FOREST GRAVES.

The last beams of a chilly Autumnal sunset were mingling themselves with the gray, uncertain twilight, thus contriving to produce such an uncomfortable semi-darkness that Mr. Sylvester Ryder shut his window blinds, drew the curtains, and lighted the brilliant jet of gas, without waiting until the lamp-lighters and the almanacs should proclaim the hour of evening to be arrived.

Mr. Ryder was packing his trunks for a little journey; and very systematically he did it, too. How carefully he laid in the embroidered shirts and the rolled-up stockings—how particular he was not to forget the gorgeous cashmere dressing-gown and the velvet slippers, without which it was a moral impossibility for him to breakfast—how neatly he wedged in the silver dressing-case that contained unctuous pomades, odoriferous perfumes, combs, brushes, and three or four mysterious little bottles containing creams, and washes, and amber liquids, whose contents carefully applied, made all the difference between the dashing and fascinating Mr. Ryder and a decaying dandy. Oh, he understood trunk-packing to a charm!

"A gentleman wishes to see you, sir!" ejaculated one of the hotel servants, thrusting his head abruptly into the room.

"A gentleman, James?—what kind of a gentleman?"

"Comes to see you very often, sir; eyeglass and red whiskers. Shall I say you're in, sir?"

Mr. Ryder's countenance fell.

"Oh! confound him—show him up!" and the next moment he came smiling forward to greet his friend—"My dear Jack, you can't think how much obliged I am to you for this visit!"

"On the wing, eh?" said the gentleman of the red mustaches, looking suspiciously at Mr. Ryder's scattered possessions. "Look here, I can't have this!"

"Only for a few days, you understand—" began Mr. Ryder, but his friend interrupted him rather sharply. "I don't understand anything of the sort! But I do understand that you won't leave this city until this little account is settled; so unless you are ready to hand over, you may as well unpack again."

"Now, Jack, what's the use of being so ungentlemanly. Do you suppose I'd cheat you?"

The red-whiskered creditor made no verbal reply, but screwed up his mouth and shook his head in a manner which implied that he was not so certain about that.

Mr. Ryder took up a closely written letter in a feminine hand, indited on violet-colored tissue paper, and smelling strongly of douquet de Caroline, which lay open on his dressing-bureau.

"Look here, Jack; this is from my sister in New York. She's going to have a friend at her house next week—an heiress, Jack, from the country, very unsophisticated, and ready to fall in love with the first good-looking fellow that presents himself. Now, you see, I happen to be visiting there, by the merest accident in the world, and—if I'm not much mistaken, you'll all be paid off in short meter!"

"Paid off?"

"Yes, with my wife's funds!"

And Mr. Ryder coughed complacently, glanced at the mirror opposite, and whistled a bar or two of a popular tune. His friend grinned approvingly. "How long will it take?"

"Oh, not long—perhaps three or four weeks."

"Well, be sure you don't stay away any longer than that, for I shall keep my eye on you, and so will the others."

"No danger," said Mr. Ryder, exultingly, as he covered his portfolio with a strata of pocket-handkerchiefs, and shut down the trunk lid with a snap.

"When do you start?"

"By the evening train, to-night!"

And the two friends chuckled gleefully together over 'the unsophisticated heiress.'

The huge iron monster, with lungs of fire and gleaming crimson eye, stood trembling and quivering and pouring forth volumes of dense white smoke, ready to start on its midnight journey—the depot was a scene of glaring gas-light, piled up baggage, and hurrying crowds, which Mr. Sylvester Ryder, comfortably ensconced in the best seat he could find, contemplated with the calm eye of a philosopher. What did he care for the hurry and perturbation of other people as long as he was snug and well off?

Just as he was hugging himself with this agreeable consciousness, a hand was laid on his arm, and turning suddenly he recognized an old gentleman with whom he was slightly acquainted, and a lady wrapped in shawl and veil.

"Good evening, Mr. Ryder; I am so glad you happened to be on the train to-night, else I should have been obliged to place my young friend under the care of the conductor. I may confide her to your gallantry?"

Sylvester's face grew long. Of all things he abominated the "charge of a lady" traveling. Grim visions of trunks to be looked after, parcels to be held, band-boxes to be stowed away, rose up before his eye—he would have given five hundred dollars to have had the moral courage to respond to his querist, "I'll see you hanged first!"

However, he hadn't the courage, so he muttered some very ungracious response or other, and edged a little way to make room. The lady hesitated for a moment, apparently unwilling to accept the escort of such a grudging knighterrant, but the conductor uttered a warning shriek, the fire-lunged locomotive shot up a column of snowy vapor, and an eldritch screech at one and the same instant, and she sat down much against her will.

The old gentleman had just time to whisper in Ryder's ear, "I'm sure you'll pay her every attention.—Here are the checks and tickets. She's very unfortunate; her uncle failed, unfortunately," when the cars began to move, and he rushed to the door, and sprang hurriedly off.

Mr. Ryder felt excessively cross—most selfish people do, when they are requested to accommodate themselves for others without any "value received" in the perspective. Of course—it was always his luck to be caught so. It she had been a fashionable belle, or a wealthy beauty, he wouldn't have cared; but an "unfortunate young lady," whose uncle had failed—a plague on the whole concern! And he thrust the checks and tickets into his pocket with a very discontented grunt, and resolved not to be a bit more polite than he could possibly help.

"I am very sorry to trouble you, sir," said the lady, in a soft, little canary-bird sort of voice. "I had intended to go on the day train, but—"

"Ladies shouldn't travel in the night; it isn't respectable!" snarled Mr. Ryder.

The lady turned an indignant crimson through her veils.

"But, sir, it was impossible for—"

"I wish folks wouldn't talk so much; I'd like to be able to catch half a second of sleep sometime in the course of the night!" growled Sylvester, pretending not to notice that she had spoken.

She was silent, but the pretty lips glowed scarlet, and the eyes were full of tremulous fire, sparkling through a sort of tearful dew. Sylvester scrutinized her plain traveling dress and sober little bonnet through his half-closed lids, and thought "dowdy" in his secret mind. The lady took a sidelong peep at Sylvester's rusty whiskers and faded complexion—like the sun, he didn't shine by night—and thought him excessively rude and disagreeable. It was a sweet little face behind the two veils, round and full of melting dimples, with beautiful dark blue eyes, and cheeks—now that their angry glow had faded—as pink as the under side of a newly-blossomed wild rose. What a pity Mr. Sylvester couldn't have seen behind those eclipsing veils!

That gentleman, however, was snugly disposing himself for sleep, in the course of which disposition, he coolly turned his back upon his fair companion, and by a sudden movement bro't his heels inadvertently upon one of the lady's band-boxes, and through its frail top into a fairy French bonnet! Now the damsel had entirely made up her mind not to speak to him again, but woman's bonnet-instinct proved too strong for her resolves.

"Oh, take care!" she shrieked, rescuing the mutilated bandbox. "Please give me the other, sir."

"Oh, dear me!" groaned Ryder.—"What do women travel with so many bandboxes for? Can't a man shut his eyes without being waked up by some of their trumpery? There—take the old thing!" and he gave bandbox No. 2 no very gentle push with his foot.

The little owner of the goods and chattels rose up very quiet and very wrathful.

"Will you give me the checks and tickets?"

Sylvester fumbled in his pockets and produced the articles in question, and the lady went to the other end of the car, where she told her griefs to the conductor a chivalrous young Yankee, who declared "it was a shame," and re-adjusted the bandboxes safely around their owner, in the cosiest seat that could be imagined. And when he came round after the tickets he gave the slumbering Sylvester such a vicious poke under the ribs that that gentleman dreamed that he was being impaled on a sharpened stake by a hostile tribe of Indians!

The next morning Mr. Ryder sauntered up to his sister's door in New York, at about half past eleven, after a nice hotel breakfast, his hair and whiskers black and shining, and his complexion exceedingly fresh. Mrs. Hart gave him a sisterly kiss and hug, which were rather dangerous to both.

"My dear Sylvester, the sweet little heiress is here already—came on a week sooner than she had expected—isn't it delightful? Do come up and see her!"

Mr. Ryder bowed himself gracefully into a room where a lovely young lady was sitting over a bit of fancy embroidery. She started and dashed as he entered; he did not recognize the unfortunate girl' whose 'uncle had failed' to meet her at Boston the night before—had she not worn two veils?—but she recognized her ungracious escort, in spite of the glossy whiskers and the blooming skin.

She never said a word about it, however, for she remembered that the gentleman was Mrs. Hart's brother, and so she contented herself with an icy coolness and frigidity of demeanor enough to freeze up anybody but such a determined fortune-hunter as Mr. Sylvester Ryder. He was not so easily repulsed.

For four weeks this veteran moth buzzed steadily around the haughty candle, and on the thirtieth day, determined to leave no stone unturned, he proffered himself, complexion and all; in short, asked the heiress to have him!

"No sir!" was the curt reply; "I neither love nor respect you! A man who—"

But here the lady stopped and closed her little scarlet lips resolutely, mindful of Mrs. Hart's feelings, and further than this the disconcerted suit-or never heard.

"I don't see what the trouble is," pondered Mr. Ryder, scratching his head with a puzzled air, as he walked homeward. "Why wouldn't she have me?"

In his abstraction he stumbled over the same identical old gentleman who had recognized him in the cars, one month ago.

"Hallo, Ryder, where are you going so carelessly?"

"Oh, is it you, Mr. French?"

"To be sure it is. I'm going up to see Miss Wilford. By the way, I must thank you for your kind care of her that night."

"What night?"

"Why the night you came on, to be sure!"

"Was—that lady—Miss Wilford?" stammered Ryder.

"Why, didn't I introduce you? Of course it was!"

"Oh!" said Ryder, biting his white lip until the blood sprang. The mystery was out now—and Ryder made within himself a solemn vow—now, alas, too late—to be polite to everybody in future. But unfortunately the vow didn't content his creditors.

Young Man Attach Yourself to the Democracy.

It is important for every young man to stand right in politics as well as other matters. Those who join the Democracy connect themselves with a permanent organization. The party is co-existent with the foundation of our Republican institutions and three quarters of the century has so entwined it in the institutions of our country that its existence is fixed and irrevocably so long as our government exists. It has been opposed by various parties in their turn, some of which have had temporary triumphs, but they ultimately fell under the conquering march of the invincible Democracy. The wars of fanaticism have beaten against, and have sometimes almost seemed to engulf it, but animated by the central principle of justice to all classes and conditions of men, it has ever risen in majesty among the raging billows. It has been opposed by the eloquence of Clay and Webster, and others of less note, but it has withstood the assaults of all, and the very last acts of these statesmen was to confess their error and commend the Democracy.

We may be easily out-numbered for a time, but triumph will soon follow. We have shapen the institutions of our country from its foundation, and point with pride to our handiwork, and it is the destiny of the party to guard, protect and uphold the nation until the last line of liberty has been written upon the record of time.

The following gives a historical view of the opposing parties of the country, from the earliest period to the present time. The opposition to the Democracy since the organization of the government have passed the following laws:

The "Allen Law," in 1798, giving the President—John Adams—the power to order from the country any unnaturalized foreigner he might deem a suspicious person.

The "Sedition Law," passed in 1798, by which any person who wrote or published anything against the President or members of Congress, was liable to be heavily fined and imprisoned, on conviction in the United States Courts.

An act passed in 1798, extending the term of naturalization of foreigners from four to fourteen years.

They passed the General Bankrupt Law in 1841, which enabled such persons who desired to do so, to repudiate all their old debts.

They favored the high tariff of 1842, taxed the farmers, mechanics, and laboring men, and those engaged in commerce, heavily—for the benefit of a few manufacturers in New England.

These are all the important laws the Opposition ever passed. Every one of them was repealed in less than four years after its passage.

The Opposition to Democracy was never continued in power by the people more than one term.

They never elected but four Presidents, viz:

John Adams in 1796.
John Quincy Adams in 1824.
William Henry Harrison in 1840.
Zachary Taylor in 1848.

The following Presidents were elected by the Democracy against the efforts of the Opposition:

Thomas Jefferson in 1800.
James Madison in 1808.
James Monroe in 1816.
Andrew Jackson in 1828.
Martin Van Buren in 1836.
James K. Polk in 1844.
Franklin Pierce in 1852.
James Buchanan in 1856.

At the end of Mr. Buchanan's term in 1861, the Democracy will have had the Presidency forty-eight years to the Opposition sixteen. The Democrats have had a majority in Congress at least fifty-four years to the Opposition ten years.

The Opposition have opposed vainly and ineffectively the following Democratic measures:

The purchase of the Louisiana Territory in 1802

They opposed the war with England in 1812.

They were willing that the British should search our vessels on the high seas, and take from them, by force, the American seamen.

They opposed the purchase of Florida in 1819.

They opposed the putting down of that dangerous and corrupt institution to the liberties of our country, a mammoth National Bank.

They opposed the adoption of the independent Treasury Law of 1840.

They opposed the Mexican War in 1846, and sided with the enemies of their country throughout the struggle.

They opposed the purchase of California, New Mexico and Utah, declaring that those countries were not worth anything, and that we had Territories enough.

They opposed the purchase of Arizona in 1854.

They never admitted a State. They never organized a Territory. They were always against their country in the time of war.

Such are the main exploits of the Opposition to the Democracy.

WORTH RECOLLECTING.—J. STRAWN, the "giant farmer" of Illinois, says that he came to this State twenty-eight years ago; that he became satisfied that wheat was not the crop for farmers of Central Illinois; that he went into the cultivation of grasses and corn, and we all know with what results. Mr. Strawn is the richest farmer in Illinois.

If an acorn be suspended by a piece of thread within half an inch of the surface of some water contained in a glass and so permitted to remain without being disturbed, it will in a few months burst and throw a root down into the water and shoot upward its tapering stem with beautiful little green leaves. A young oak tree, growing in this way on the mantle shelf of a room, is a very interesting object.

FOR PRESIDENT IN 1860, HON. STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS.

TO OUR READERS. We Club, only, with such publications as we can recommend. The EXPRESS and GODBY'S LADY'S BOOK can be had for $3.25.

Religious. Rev. Joel Knight will preach on the first and third Sabbath in each month at the Presbyterian Church, at 11 o'clock A. M.

We are authorized to announce the name of Col. J. W. R. Morgan as a candidate for the office of Treasurer and Assessor, at the ensuing November election.

Sullivan Academy. The Fall Session of this school will commence on Monday, the 12th of the present month.

The Atlantic Monthly, for this month, is on our table; and as full of solid reading matter as ever.

See the communication in another column, under the signature of "Moultrie," on the subject of the Chinese sugar cane, its manufacture, &c. It is truly an interesting article.

The Negroes and the Republican Party.

At the late National Convention of negroes in Boston, the following, among other resolutions, were adopted.

Resolved, That, in view of the fact that in several States of the Union where the republican party is in the ascendant, the elective franchise of colored citizens is denied or its privileges abridged, we would earnestly call upon the party to take a manly position upon this and correlative questions.

Resolved, That this Convention would recommend colored voters to press these claims upon the republican party, that, if defeated, it may not be any fault of theirs.

The negroes are determined that the republicans shall face the music on this question, and give the black absolute equality with the whites.

RAISING OUR OWN CORKS.—The Patent Office having obtained seeds of the cork tree from Europe, sent several packages last year to California, which possesses a climate similar to France and Spain, where it flourishes.

See Donty Patterson's new advertisement in another column.

The Republican Finger-Board.

After Mr. Dennison, the republican candidate for governor, had publicly declared his sympathy with the Oberlin saints in their pious afflictions, brought about by violating the fugitive slave law, we supposed that he had made up his mind to go the Ethiopian clear through.

The Telegraph says that Mr. Dennison, while at Middletown, during the encampment of the Guthrie Grays, in conversation with an old Democrat of Butler county, thus expressed himself in regard to the rendition of fugitives: "If I am elected governor of Ohio, and I expect to be—I will not let any fugitive be returned to Kentucky, or any other slave state; and if I cannot prevent it any other way, as commander-in-chief of the military of the state I will employ the bayonet, so help me God!"

We think Giddings, who counsels assassination to prevent the enforcement of the fugitive law, will compromise on Dennison's plan.—Ch. Eng.

SEWARD AND THE ENGLISH ABOLITIONISTS.—Wm. H. Seward is now in England. He is received with distinguished consideration by the Abolitionists, and the London Daily News, the organ of the Exeter Hall Abolitionists, has actually gone so far as to nominate him for President of the United States.

Wisconsin. Hon. Harrison C. Hobart, of Calumet, was, on the 25th, nominated by the Democrats of Wisconsin, at their State convention in Madison, as their candidate for governor.

The Middle Ages.—A History of Progress in Great Britain, just published, gives some curious information. The early inhabitants of the isles made but two meals a day. Wood, earthen-ware, or osier, supplied the dishes, and horns or shells the dinking vessels.

The Frozen Well in Vermont. Professor Hitchcock, of Amherst, read a paper before the Scientific Association, on the 4th instant, upon the frozen well at Brandon, Vt.

The Circus that exhibited here last Monday we consider rather small potatoes. However, it left about as much money as it took away.

The Lift of a Printer.

PRINTERS, it is said, die at an early age. This is doubtless caused by the noxious effluvia rising from the types, want of exercise, constant employment, and the late hours to which their work is prolonged.

Then we hear mechanics cry out against oppression, and demanding certain hours of labor and for rest, we cannot but reflect upon this situation of our own craft, how every moment of their lives is forced into service to earn a bare subsistence.

POPULAR.—The black republican doctrine of intervention by Congress in the affairs of the Territories is exceedingly popular among the opposition at the South.

The Frozen Well in Vermont. Professor Hitchcock, of Amherst, read a paper before the Scientific Association, on the 4th instant, upon the frozen well at Brandon, Vt.

The Italian Dukedom.—Advices from Italy indicate serious trouble in the dukedom. Secret emissaries of the fugitive princes were fomenting discord.

The Los Angeles Star says that on the 21st ult. two hundred Mojave Indians attacked a party of whites at Beale's crossing, and carried off a number of mules and a large quantity of provisions.

SHERIFF'S SALE. By virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered by the clerk of the circuit court of Moultrie county, in the state of Illinois, in favor of George Hetherington & Henry C. Shepherd, and against John E. Maddux, I have levied upon the following described land to wit: Sec. 2 of sec 24 T. 5 N. R. 5 E. say the property of the said John E. Maddux, which I shall offer at public sale at the court house door in Sullivan, in said state, on the 24th day September A. distant, had a temperature of forty-five."

In stating the various theories in regard to this interesting matter, Professor Hitchcock said:

Upon the whole, though it is possible that the Brandon deposit is a remnant of a glacial period, he looked with more favor upon the supposition that it was the result of operations now going on, produced by currents of air through the porous deposit.

An interesting discussion followed—more to elucidate facts than to refute the theories presented.

Professor Dawson, of Montreal, stated that he had met with similar phenomena in Nova Scotia, and accepted the views presented by Prof. Hitchcock.

Mr. Hagar, of Proctorsville, Vermont, said that from the first he considered it as owing to present canes. He had visited some abandoned iron mines in Essex, and had found ice in summer at the depth of 125 feet.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMERS INDIAN AND CITY OF WASHINGTON.

Farther Point, Aug. 28—midnight. The steamer Indian, from Liverpool Wednesday the 17th inst., has passed this point on her way to Quebec.

The steamers Borussia and North Britain had arrived at Liverpool.

At Zurich, on the 17th inst., a conference between the Austrian and French representatives took place, lasting two hours.

A second Austrian plenipotentiary, M. Miesenberg, had not left Zurich for Vienna as reported.

The plenipotentiaries held no formal sitting on the 15th and 16th, but were engaged in festivities.

FRANCE.—The military fete at Paris on the entry of Napoleon proved to be a very grand affair. The troops were headed by the Emperor, and the display was most imposing.

The Emperor has granted full amnesty to all political offenders.

A Te Deum took place in Paris on the 15th in honor of the fete Napoleon. All the plenipotentiaries and members of the federal council were present.

The triumphant entry into Paris of the army of Italy on the 14th, passed off with great eclat. The streets were crowded to excess.

The Emperor is said to have been coldly received in the more democratic quarters of Paris.

COMMUNICATION.

Ridge Farm, Vermilion co. Ill. Aug. 27th, 1859.

Mr. J. H. Waggoner, Dear Sir:

While I am staying here in a state of semi-idleness, where black Republicans are as numerous as were the frogs in Egypt at one time, I meet with many items of local, and some of general interest.

The Sorghum is now but just in bloom,—much of it,—yet, it yields enough good molasses to establish it as one of the most profitable crops of this latitude.

The foregoing facts go to show, at least, that the raising of the cane is profitable, and its manufacture practicable. I have no doubt that the experiments of this fall will show its manufacture really profitable.

I think there is little doubt but that this will yet become a staple production of the Middle and Western States.

Those who lead off in the manufacture deserve the thanks as well as the patronage of their fellow-citizens.

DONTY PATTERSON'S MOLASSES MANUFACTORY

Fellow-citizens, I would say to you that I will have the best of machinery put up and in running order, by the 18th of this month, for the manufacture of the Chinese sugar cane into Molasses and Syrups.

I will manufacture the cane up into molasses for half, or for 25 cents per gallon if the cane is delivered at the mill in good order for pressing.

I am gratified to inform the public that I shall be able to manufacture from 200 to 300 gallons every 24 hours, and this being the case, I can work up over 100 acres this season.

As soon as the cane is in the dough, strip off all the blades, then cut close to the ground, throw it into your wagons and bring it to the mill immediately.

My mill is located 3/4 of a mile south-east of Sullivan, Moultrie Co., Ill.

J. PATTERSON.

Boarding.—I will be prepared to accommodate almost any number of boarders during our county Fair, this fall, with as good as the country affords, and more reasonable than can be had other places—besides I live within a few steps of the Fair ground.

Sept. 2d 1859. no 48 Im.

A. B. LEE, ATTORNEY AT LAW, AND AGENT FOR THE Illinois Mutual Fire Insurance Co., Sullivan—Illinois.

Will practice in the courts of Moultrie, Cole, Shelby, and Macon counties. Prompt and diligent attention given to the collection of debts, paying taxes, redeeming lands sold for taxes, &c.

Office in the north-west corner of the Court House, where he may be consulted at all times, when not otherwise professionally engaged.

AMBROTYPES!

Only One Dollar!

E. H. HAWLEY, Artist, at the Car, (South side of the Public Square), would respectfully announce to the inhabitants of Sullivan and vicinity, that he will remain in town for a short time, and would be pleased to exhibit his specimens and stock to all who will favor him with a call.

Double plate Ambrotypes invariably put up. Also Melanotypes, and pictures on leather.

A large assortment of cases, all sizes and qualities, kept constantly on hand.

I would call attention to the fact, that all my pictures are taken by a large combined side and sky light.

Children taken in three seconds. Pictures taken as well in cloudy as clear weather. Dress.—Dark clothes are preferable.

"Blest be the art that can immortalize! The art that baffles Time's tyrannic claim To quench it."

Full instructions given in the art on the most reasonable terms.

Probate Notice. Estate of John B. Henderson, dec'd.

The undersigned having been appointed administrator of the estate of John B. Henderson, late of the county of Moultrie, and State of Illinois, deceased, hereby gives notice that he will appear before the county court of Moultrie county, at the court house in Sullivan, at the regular term, on the third Monday in October next, at which time all persons having claims against said estate are notified and requested to attend, for the purpose of having them adjusted.

All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment to the undersigned.

JOSHUA BOWEN, Administrator. Dated this 16th day of August, A. D. 1859.—vol2no46w6tyft.

SPECIAL NOTICE—Beware! Notice is hereby given that the subscriber gave his note, for the amount of one hundred and twenty-five dollars, to Warren Farrow, on or about the 24th of March last, and due about the 1st of September, for which I have not got value received.

The object of this notice is to caution all persons not to buy said note, as I will not pay it.

JOHN N. CARRINGTON. August 19th 1859.—no46w3

New York Weekly.
A Handsome Quarto Publication,
BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED.
It is now Universally Acknowledged to be
THE BEST STORY PAPER
IN THE WORLD.

REGULAR CONTRIBUTORS will be found the names of some of
THE BEST MALE AND FEMALE WRITERS
IN THE UNITED STATES!

Such writers as
JUSTIN JON S. (HARRY HAZEL),
AUGUSTINE J. H. DUGANNE,
WILLIAM EARLE BINDER,

HELEN FOREST GRAVES,
MARY C. VAUGHAN,
MARGARET VERNE, ANNA RAYMOND,
EDA MAYVILLE.

Write for it regularly, while a score of others well-known writers occasionally contribute to its columns.
THE NEW YORK WEEKLY
has now engaged a force of talent that cannot be rivaled by any establishment
in the world!

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.
Never before has any new candidate for public favor in the Literary World received such flattering notices from the Press. From all quarters, our editorial brethren have cheered us on by speaking of our enterprise in a manner to stimulate our vanity, and to excite the envy of our rivals.

GENERAL CHARACTER OF THE NEW YORK WEEKLY.

The WEEKLY is designed more especially as a FIRST-CLASS STORY PAPER,
in which we intend to give our readers a succession of the BEST STORIES EVER PUBLISHED IN THE UNITED STATES! The aim and object of these productions will be to inculcate useful knowledge under the pleasing guise of fiction, or to teach great moral lessons through the same means. We shall never publish a word or line, the tendency of which is to injure the morals or taste of the reader. Every issue of the NEW YORK WEEKLY will contain short Sketches of Life and Manners, Notations of Travel and Adventure, Short Stories, General Summary of Events, Humorous Gleanings,
Poetry, Editorials, &c., &c.

As specimens of our serials, we would point to
GARIBOLDI,
THE HERO OF ITALY!
HARRY HAZEL'S
EXCITING INDIAN ROMANCE,
THE MUTE SPY!
FRANCIS S. SMITH'S

INTENSE INTERESTING DOMESTIC STORY,
MAGGIE,
THE CHILD OF CHARITY!
While, as specimens of our standing departments, we point with pride to OUR BALLADS OF THE BIBLE,
admitted by all to be the most chastely written and beautiful scriptural poems ever produced.
OUR KNOWLEDGE BOX,
in which is weekly contained a number of paragraphs of the greatest importance to housekeepers and others.

OUR PLEASANT PARAGRAPHS
an interesting miscellany, ranging from grave to gay, from lively to severe.

OUR LADIES' COLUMN,
prepared especially for the ladies by one of the most brilliant lady writers of the present day.
OUR MIRTHFUL MORSELS,
OUR ITEMS OF INTEREST,
ect., ect., ect., ect.

In a word, its Editors will use their best endeavors to get up just such a paper as will eventually find its way to every fireside in the land—that shall be a welcome visitor wherever it goes—equally popular in the workshop and the office—at the fireside of the farmer, or in the counting-room of the merchant—a paper that parents can, with safety, place in the hands of their children without note or comment, feeling certain that its influence will be to stimulate their minds to the pursuit of knowledge, or lead them to abhor vice and wrong.

CIRCULATION & PROSPECTS.
The New York Weekly has gone up to a circulation which places it second in point of circulation in the list of publications of the day. There is but one weekly publication in the world having a larger circulation than the Weekly. The indications are, at present, that the circulation of the Weekly will soon reach half a million.
Where the newsmen were taking tens,
they are now taking hundreds of copies.
This is the general effect among the five thousand News Agents, who are now regularly selling the New York
Weekly, while from nearly every Post Office in the country, we are daily getting subscriptions and orders for specimens.

How and Where to Get the "Weekly."

Wherever there is a News Agent, get the paper from him. By so doing you do not run the risk of losing your money through the Post Office, or having to pay for what you will never get.
If the paper you are buying from the Agent stops, you do not lose advance subscriptions, sent to a place where you have no means of looking after it.
We trust the day is not far distant when every town, large enough to sus-tain a Post Office, will have its News Agency.

OUR TERMS:
The price of the NEW YORK
WEEKLY is four cents, but where Agents have to pay extra freight or postage, a higher price is necessarily charged. When sent by mail, the price will invariably be $2.00 a year, in advance. Subscriptions taken for three months, two copies will be sent for one year for $3, four copies for $6, eight copies for $12. Postmasters and others who get up clubs of ten, and send us $15 at one time, will be entitled to an extra copy for their trouble. The bills of all solvent banks taken at par for subscriptions.

Canada subscribers must send twenty-five cents extra with every subscription, to prepay the American postage.
All letters and communications, in relation to the Editorial or Business Departments of the New York Weekly must be addressed to

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY
OF THE AGE.
DR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOR, From the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple.
Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth. One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.
Two or three bottles will clear the system of bile.
Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the stomach.
Three to five bottles are warranted to cure
the worst kind of erysipelas.
One or two bottles are warranted to cure all humors in the eyes.
Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.
Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.
Fifteen to twenty bottles will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.
Two or three bottles are warranted to cure
the worst kind of ringworm.
Two or three bottles are warranted to cure
the most severe case of rheumatism.
Three to four bottles are warranted to cure sore throat.
Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.
One to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of dyspepsia. I know from the experience of thousands that it has been caused by canker in the stomach.
One or two bottles are warranted to cure sick headache.
One to two bottles are warranted to regulate a costive state of the bowels.
One to two bottles will regulate all derangement of the kidneys.
Four to six bottles have cured the worst cases of dropsy.
One to three have cured the worst cases of piles: a relief is always experienced; what a mercy to get relief in such an excruciating disease! A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.
No change of diet or exercise necessary: eat the best you can get and enough of it.
The MEDICAL DISCOVERY is admirably adapted to the western country where FEVER AND AGUE, DYSPEPSIA,
BILIOUS COLIC,
BILIOUS FEVER,
LIVER DERANGEMENTS,
are so prevalent in their respective seasons.
The great cause of the prevalence of these diseases is that many have secreted in their system some Putrid and Foul Humor which is the source of all diseases, and many a young man and woman in the BLOOM OF LIFE
are wasting away whose faded cheeks and sunken eyes warn their friends of a speedy dissolution through the effects of some Acrid Humor
preying upon the vitals, and many thousand die annually from the effects of these humors, who, if they but purify their blood with a few bottles of Medical Discovery would live to a ripe old age.
Another great cause of diseases is Costiveness;
for this the Discovery is an infallible remedy, its action on the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels is all that you could desire.
For Scrofulous Ulcers
you will follow the directions in pamphlet around the bottle.
For Ulcerated Sore Legs
you will find full directions in the pamphlet.
Directions for Use—Adults, one table spoonful
p. m.; children from five to eight years, tea spoonful; children from five to eight years, tea spoonful. As no directions can be applicable to all constitutions, take sufficient to operate on the bowels twice a day.

Patent Medicines.
THE ARCTIC LINIMENT.
VICTORIOUS OVER PAIN.
BROGG'S ARCTIC LINIMENT.
Agony or ease?—Sickness or health?—Life or death? These are the questions involved in the adoption or rejection of this specific for the martyr to external diseases and injuries.
Having received the endorsement of the distinguished states, the late Dr. KANE, and its efficacy tested during two awful winters in the regions of eternal ice, it is now coming into general use in every section of the civilized globe, and its marvelous cures are everywhere exciting astonishment.
THE AFFLICTED REJOICE.
HUNDREDS and THOUSANDS have tested its virtues, and are rejoicing in freedom from long lingering PAIN and DISEASE, which other remedies had failed to cure. Have you Bronchitis, N. uralgia, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Ear-ache or Tooth-ache—Are you afflicted with Old Sores—Suffering from Bruises, Strains, Corns, Sore Eris, Piles?
THE ARCTIC LINIMENT
Everybody is liable to
BURNS AND SCALDS.
For these dreadful accidents the ARCTIC LINIMENT should be kept on hand, for it affords sure and immediate relief, often saving from death. Every steamboat and railroad train should keep it. Who that has heard the shrieks of anguish uttered by the sea and maimed victims of explosions and collisions, does not feel that some means of relieving their torment should always be accessible? Such does exist in this balm, controlling agent
It is
The MOTHER'S COMPANION.
It cures Cakes in the Breast, Sore Nipples, sore Lips, Pimples, &c. Ladies who prize a pure skin, void of pimples, blotches, sun-f and all discolorations and excrescences, should attack these trespassers on beauty's domain as soon as they appear with the Arctic Liniment.
It is excellent for the Hair, giving it a healthy glossy appearance. It is Good for Man and Beast.
It is a sovereign remedy for the various diseases with which horses are afflicted, curing the most alarming cases of Bruises, Sprains Stringhalt, Wounds, Scratches, swellings, spavin, Ring-bone, Lice-head, Poll-evil, &c. No farmer, lively stable keeper, or any person owning valuable Horses, should be without this valuable remedy.
For sale by all respectable druggists & dealers.
Prices of the Liniment, 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1 a bottle. A one-dollar bottle contains as much Liniment as eight 25 cent bottles.

Extraordinary Announcement.
Every purchaser of a dollar bottle of the ARCTIC LINIMENT receives, at Dr. Brogg's expense, the UNITED STATES JOURNAL, of New York, for one year. The Journal is a large illustrated paper—each number containing sixteen pages, beautifully printed on clear white paper, and filled with original matter from the most brilliant writers of the country.
Certificate of subscription and full particulars of the novel and philanthropic enterprise, of which this offer forms a part, will accompany each bottle.

WE DO NOT HESITATE TO ASSERT
WHAT ALL ARE BY RESULTS, Compelled to Admit,

Viz: That in Dr. Mann's Ague Balm we have a perfectly triumphant remedy for chills fever and ague and all diseases arising from a diseased or imactive condition of the liver.
Indeed it will never fail, and the one who fails to use it at once will deeply regret the neglect. Reader you will never again shake or have fever that season if you take it as per directions, and continue until the system is perfectly restored; if this be done there will be no one who will suffer long from chills, fever and ague.

Dr. MANN & Co., Gallon, Ohio—Gents: We are at a loss to find language sufficient to portray to you the fact the great esteem in which your Celebrated Ague Balm is held in this community. The fact is it never fails to cure ague in its worst forms, and we can seal no thing else.

Messrs. S. K. MANN & Co., Gents: Having procured a supply of your Ague Balm, and testing it thoroughly in many severe cases of long standing where all the popular remedies of the day had failed, I found in all cases your Balm effected a safe and speedy cure. It is just the medicine we want here in the south.
Respectfully Yours,
JOSEPH BUCHANAN, Druggist,
Gallon, May 9th 1858.

Messrs. S. K. MANN & Co.
Gentlemen:—I would say for the benefit of those suffering with chills fever and ague, that I can confidently recommend your Ague Balm to do what it is recommended to do, having used it myself, and in my family also; have known it used in many other cases, where it has universally proved effectual; leaving the patient soundly cured. I give this for the benefit of all whom it may concern.

Messrs. S. K. Mann & Co.
Gents:—After using several other preparations for fever and ague, and only getting partial relief, for the disease soon returned again on me, I took two bottles of your Ague Balm, and I have had neither chill nor fever since I took first dose. I believe it to be the only thing that will never fail, and hence I recommend it to others.
Yours Truly,

WIT AND WISDOM.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

BY P. M. WAGGONER.

"Come here Katy, love. Now tell me, what does b-e-l-l spell?"

"Don't know, marm."

"How stupid! What is put round your waist every day? Come now, speak out. What are you looking so sheepish about. What does it spell, my dear?"

"Bob Sampson's arm, but he never kissed me but twice."

"Come here, my dear; I want you to tell me all about your sister. Now tell me truly, has she got a bean?"

"No, it's the jaundice she's got—the doctor says so."

"Do you love me, Jonathan?"

"Do I love you! Ax the sun if it loves the flowers—ax sister Sal if she loves ingerns—ax a sick kitten if it loves a warm brick. Love you, Lucy! Show me the man what says I don't, and I'll cave his head in with a cistern pole, I will."

"To dream gloriously, you must act gloriously while you are awake; and to bring angels down to converse with you in your sleep, you must labor in the cause of virtue during the day."

"Mother," said a little boy, "I'm tired of this pug nose; it's growing pugger and pugger every day."

A disconsolate Benedict, who has achieved a blank in the connubial lottery, horrifies us with the following libelous effort; Why is matrimony like a maiden? Because (emphatically) it's a DAM-SEL!

Early on a very cold morning, a travelling profile cutter called at the house of a wag, and inquired if he wanted a profile taken? 'Yes,' was the reply, 'I want yours taken from my door.'

Dobbs says that the difference between old batchelors and murderers is rather imaginary than real. In his opinion, the guilt of keeping people out of the world is just as great a crime as thrusting them out after they have got in. Sinners will please take notice.

Three spoonful of brandy make one cocktail—three cocktails one go—three goes one spree—three sprees a muss with a night police—three muses with the night police one visit to the penitentiary. Cut this out and paste it in your hat?

"Philura, dear," said a loving husband to his loyal spouse, who was several years his junior, "what do you say to moving to the west?" "O, I'm delighted with the idea: You recollect when Morgan moved out there, he was as poor as we are, and he died in three years, worth a hundred thousand dollars"

A boy was lately asked, "Who killed Abel?" He promptly replied, "General Jackson."—[Ex.]

This equals the catechetical examination of a lad living in the wildest regions of the Green Mountains.

"Into what state did the fall bring mankind?" asked the teacher. With a most rueful expression of countenance, the urchin brawled out, "Vermont."

Don't be discouraged boys, Gen. Jackson's father was an Irishman; the first employment he had in Charleston, South Carolina, where he landed, was to carry the hod. The mother of Col. Fremont was a washer-woman.

The public debt of the U. S., on July 1st, was $65,264,000.

The once powerful tribe of Pequod Indians now numbers only thirty-one persons.

An Irishman being at church where the collection apparatus resembled election boxes, on its being handed to him whispered in the carrier's ear that he was not naturalized, and could not vote.

DON'T GO HOME WITHOUT Goods,

Come to town, at any time, without coming to see me before you home, for I am sure I can make it profitable to you, by selling you goods at just what they cost me in the city, by wholesale. You may think that I just say this to induce you to trade with me, but such is not the case. If you wish to be convinced, try me when you come, and I will be sure to send you with more goods for less money, than you can buy anywhere else—city stores not excepted.

GO

WITHOUT

detaining you longer, I would say, that the reason I sell so cheap, is, because I want to close out my entire stock, and settle up, and get money to buy another stock of which I shall sell strictly for cash, or saleable produce. I have determined to sell no more goods on credit!

Goods,
