THE SILK CROP.

The proportion of inferior cocoons is much larger this year than in 1859, but, as prices paid for them have been very high, the cost of new silk will be nearly as high as previous crops of better quality. The European harvest is stated to be much more abundant than last year, but the seed has been greatly mixed from an extraordinary variety of sources.

BLUE EYES BEHIND A VEIL.

BY MISS LUCY A. RANDALL.

Mr. Edge was late at breakfast that was not an unusual occurrence—and he was a little disposed to be cross—which was likewise nothing new—so he retired from his newspaper and devoured his eggs and toast without vouchsafing any reply save unsocial monosyllables to the gentle remark of the fresh looking little lady opposite, to-wit: Mrs. Edge. But she was gathering together her forces for the grand final onslaught, and when at length Mr. Edge had got down to the last paragraph and laid aside the reading sheet, it came.

"Dear, didn't you say you were going to leave me a hundred dollars for my furs, to-day?"

"What furs?" (Rather shortly it was spoken.)

"Those new sables, dear; my old affairs are getting shockingly shabby, and I really think—"

"Oh, pshaw! what's the use of being so extravagant? I haven't any money just now to lay out in useless follies. The old furs are good enough for any sensible woman to wear."

Mrs. Edge—good sleek little soul that she was—relapsed into obedient silence, she only sighed a soft, inward sigh, and presently began on a new tack.

"If you go with me to my aunt's to-night?"

"Can't you go alone?"

"Alone! How would it look?" Mrs. Edge's temper—for she had one, tho' it didn't very often parade itself—was fairly roused. "You are so neglectful of those little attentions you use to pay me—you never walk with me, nor pick up my handkerchief, nor notice my dress as you once did."

"Well, a fellow can't be forever waiting upon the women, can he?" growled Mr. Edge.

"You could be polite enough to Miss Wallers last night, when you never thought to ask me if I wanted anything, though you knew perfectly well that I had a headache. I don't believe that you care so much for me as you used to do!"

And Mrs. Edge looked extremely pretty with tears in her blue eyes and a quiver on the round, rosy lips.

"Pshaw!" said the husband peevishly. "Now don't be silly, Maria!"

"And in the stage, yesterday, you never asked me if I was warm enough, or put my shawl around me, while Mr. Brown was so affectionate to his wife! It was mortifying enough, Henry—it was indeed!"

"I didn't know women were such fools," said Mr. Edge sternly, as he drew on his overcoat to escape the tempest which he saw rapidly impending. "Am I the sort of a man to make a mummy of myself, doing the polite to any female creature? Did you ever know me to be conscious whether a woman had a shawl on or a swallow tailed coat?"

Maria eclipsed the blue eyes behind a little pocket handkerchief, and Henry, the savage, banged the door loud enough to give Betty in the kitchen a nervous start.

"Raining again! I do believe we are going to have a second edition to the Deluge," said Mr. Edge to himself that evening as he ensconced his six feet of iniquity in the southwest corner of a car at the City Hall. "Go ahead, conductor, can't you? What are you waiting for? Don't you see we're full, and it's dark already?"

"In one minute, sir," said the conductor, as he helped a little woman with a basket on board. "Now, sir, move up a bit if you please."

Mr. Edge was exceedingly comfortable, didn't want to move up, but the light of the lamp, just ignited, falling full upon the pearly forehead and shining golden hair of the new comer, he altered his mind and did move up.

"What lovely eyes!" quoth he mentally, as he bestowed a single acknowledging smile.

"Real violet blue! the very color I admire most. Bless me! what business has an old married man like me thinking about eyes? What would Maria say, the jealous little minx?"

There she's drawn a confounded veil over her face, and the light is as pale as a tallow dip! But those were pretty eyes!

The fair possessor of the blue eyes averted slightly and drew her mantle closer around her shoulders.

"Are you cold Miss? Pray honor me by wearing my shawl. I don't need it myself."

She did not refuse—she murmured some faint apology for troubling him, but it was not a refusal.

"No trouble—not a bit!" said he with alacrity, arranging it on the taper shoulders, and then, as the young lady handed her fare to the conductor, he said to himself, "what a slender little hand! If there's anything I admire in a woman it is a pretty hand! Wonder what kind of a mouth she's got? It must be delightful if it corresponds with her hair and eyes. Plague take that veil!"

But "plague," whoever that mystical power may be, did not take possession of the provoking veil, so Mr. Edge's curiosity about the mouth of the blue-eyed damsel remained ungratified.

"Have you room enough, Miss? I fear you are crowded. Pray sit a little closer to me."

"Thank you, sir," was the soft reply coming from behind the veil, as Mr. Edge rapturously reflected—like an angel from the gloom of a dark cloud. And his heart gave a loud thump as the pretty shoulder touched his own shaggy overcoat in a nestling sort of way.

"Decidedly this is getting rather romantic," thought he, and then, with an audible whisper, "What would Maria say?"

The rest of that long dark, rainy ride was delicious with that shoulder against his own. How gallantly he jumped up to pull the strap for her—by some favorable freak of fortune it happened to be the very strap where he intended to stop. And under the circumstances we can hardly blame him, when the car stopped so suddenly that she caught instinctively at his hand for support, for the squeeze he gave the plump, snowy palm! Any man in his senses would have done the same—it was such an inviting little lily!

Out into the rain and darkness our two pilgrims sailed, scarcely more than able to steer their course by the glimmering reflection of the street lamps on the streaming pavements.

"Allow me to carry your basket, Miss, as long as our paths lie in the same direction," said Mr. Edge courteously, relieving her of her burden as she spoke. "And—may be you'd just take my arm!"

"Well, wasn't it delightful?" Mr. Edge forgot the wet streets and rainy darkness—he thought he was walking on roses. Only, as he approached his own door, he began to feel a little nervous, and wish that the lovely incognito wouldn't hold on quite so tight. Suppose Maria should be at the window on the look out as she often was, how could she interpret matters? He couldn't make her believe that he only wanted to be polite to a fair traveler. Besides his weeping declarations of the morning—she would be sure to recall them.

As he stopped at the right number and turned around to bid the blue-eyed fairy a regretful adieu, he was astounded to see her run lightly up the steps to enter likewise. Gracious Apollo! he burst into a chilly perspiration at the idea of Maria's horror.

"I think you've made a mistake, Miss, stammered he, "this can't be your house?"

But it was too late—she was already in the brilliantly lighted hall, and turning round threw off her dripping habiliments and made him a low courtesy.

"Very much obliged to you for your politeness, sir."

"Why, it's my wife," gasped Edge. "And happy to see that you haven't forgotten all your gallantry towards the ladies," pursued the mercurial little puss, her blue eyes (they were pretty, all in a dance with suppressed roguery.)

Edge looked from ceiling to floor, in vain looking for a loop hole of retreat; but the search was unavailing.

"Well," said he in the most sheepish of tones, "it's the first time I ever was polite to a woman in the cars, and hang me if it shan't be the last."

"You see, dear," said the ecstatic little puss, "I did not expect to be delayed so long, and had not any idea that I should meet with so much attention in the cars, and from my own husband, too! Goodness gracious, how aunt Presilla will enjoy the joke!"

"If you tell that old harpy," said Edge, "I never will hear the last of it."

"Very probably," said Maria, provokingly.

"Now look here, darling," said Mr. Edge, coaxingly, "you won't say anything, will you? A fellow don't want to be laughed at by the world. I say, Maria, you shall have the prettiest furs in New York if you'll only keep quiet—you shall on my honor."

The terms were satisfactory, and Maria capitulated—who would not?—And that is the way she got those splendid furs that filled the hearts of all her female friends with envy; and perhaps it was what made Mr. Edge such a scrupulous, courteous husband ever after.

Not Alone.

Alone! say not I am alone! Do you not see that little snubnosed dancing so gracefully? It peeps ever and anon over my shoulder and now shrinks back as if blushing to see itself the subject of enticement. Welcome, sunbeam, for thou hast come from a world far brighter than this! 'tis thou who gildest the angel's crown and throwest a halo of light where'er thou dwellest.—The ocean welcomes thee, and ceases for a while its heaving; for to its bosom a sacred guest is clasped. The sea-nymphs woo thy gaze; the untold wealth of the sea thou beholdest, while man cannot give one glance at the mysteries and beauties concealed beneath its profound depth. Thou hast come to bring good tidings to the weary, and thou whisperest, "There is rest in Heaven." And thou hast visited the lonely cell, too, where the criminal is incarcerated in chains; thou wander from so bright a home to cheer the unfortunate—

Here is a striking picture of a miserably wretched man. A tall slender being against the house, a negro at the top, and a hog scratching himself against the bottom. "O way a way dat." You in making mischief.

His Record.

Proves that while the nominee of the Republican party for President, Abraham Lincoln, was a member of Congress, the Wilmot Proviso controversy was in progress, and that he was active, in connection with Wm. H. Seward, Joshua R. Giddings, and other prominent abolition members of Congress, in keeping up the slavery agitation. He voted for the Proviso forty-two times, and against the bill granting one hundred and sixty acres of land to our brave and gallant volunteers.

His Record.

Also proves that while a member of Congress he opposed the Mexican War, declaring it "unconstitutional and wrong," and voted against the bill granting one hundred and sixty acres of land to our brave and gallant volunteers.

His Record.

Also proves that during the Illinois Senatorial campaign, in a speech at Chicago, on the 10th day of July, 1858, he said—"I have always hated slavery; I think as much as any abolitionist. I have been an old line Whig. I have always hated it and I always believe it in course of ultimate extinction."

His Record.

Also proves that in a speech at Galesburg, Illinois Oct. 7, 1858, he said—"I believe that the right of property in a slave is not distinctly and expressly assumed in the Constitution."

His Record.

Also prove that in a speech at Quincy, Ill., Oct. 15th, 1858, he said—"The Republican party think (slavery) wrong—we think it a moral, social, and a political wrong. We think it a wrong not confining itself merely to the persons or the States where it exists, but that it is a wrong in its tendency, to say the least, that extends itself to the existence of the whole nation—because we think it wrong, we propose a course of policy that shall deal with it as wrong—

wrong, in so far as it prevent its growing any larger; and so deal with it that in the run of time there may be some promise of an end to it.

HIS RECORD.

Also proves that in a speech at Springfield Ill., on the 17th June, 1858, he declared—"A house divided against itself cannot stand. I believe this government cannot endure permanently half slave and half free. It will become all one thing or all the other."

It will become all one thing or all the other, either the opponents of slavery will arrest the further spread of it, and place it where the public mind shall rest in the belief that it is in the course of ultimate extinction; or its advocates will push it forward till it shall become alike lawful in all the States, old as well as new—North as well as South. LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE MAIL STEAMSHIP PARANA.

Boston, August 18. The steamship Parana, from Galway, 7th, via St. John's, N. F., arrived this morning. Her mails were forwarded to New York in the 9 a. m. train, via New Haven, due in New York at 4 p. m.

The Dublin Times, of the 7th, contains the following latest intelligence: Marseilles, August 6.—The troops have left for Syria. The Finisterre left for Toulon yesterday, and the Barringer, with half a battalion of chasseurs, left for Marseilles to-day. The fifth regiment of the line has arrived here.

According to advices from Naples, 500 soldiers, who were on the point of joining Garibaldi, had been arrested.

The Minister of War had drawn up the troops from Abruzzi, in order to concentrate the principal part of the army around Naples.

Belgrade, 6th.—Serious disturbances took place yesterday between the Serbian Turks and some Bosman sailors. The garrison remained quiet.

Becky—Palermo, Aug. 4.—Large numbers of volunteers continue to arrive.

Naples, Aug. 6.—All efforts to conclude an armistice with Garibaldi having failed, preparations are being made to repulse any attempt at an invasion. Improvements are being actively introduced in the royal army and navy. Commander Ospeceola has been appointed Director of Marine. The office of Private Secretary to the King has been suppressed.—The King has visited the headquarters of the National Guard.

A Paris letter of August 3d, affirms that the Prussian Ambassador at the Sardinian Court assured Count Cavot that the Cabinet of Berlin would observe the strictest neutrality with regard to Italy.

The Movements of Genoa published an extraordinary edition on Saturday evening, announcing that the 1st and 13th Neapolitan regiments had marched in Calabria to the cry of "Viva Garibaldi!"

Genoa has disembarked with 1,500 volunteers, and met with an enthusiastic reception by the people. Garibaldi was almost hourly expected.—It is reported that the King of Naples had sent 4,200 soldiers to Reggio, opposite Messina, and these troops, it was confidently asserted, intended to join Garibaldi the moment he landed at Naples and Rome. He was waited for with impatience.

London.—In the House of Commons on the 6th, in reply to a query by Mr. Berkeley, the Chancellor of the Exchequer stated that the contract between the government and the Atlantic Telegraph Company had become void, and hereafter the government would exercise great caution in entering into further contracts of similar undertakings.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP GLASGOW. St. John's, N. F., Aug. 18. The steamship Glasgow, from Liverpool 8th, via Queenstown 9th, yessed Cape Race Friday night at 11 o'clock. She was boarded by the news yacht of the Associated Press, and a summary of her news obtained.

The steamship City of Baltimore, from New York, arrived at Queenstown on the 7th.

The news by the Glasgow is unimportant. Naples was tranquil, and there is nothing later of the movements of Garibaldi.

The British House of commons had passed a bill amalgamating the European and native armies in India.

The Liverpool cotton market closed firm on the 7th. Breadstuffs had an advancing tendency, but was quiet. Provisions very dull. Consols closed on the 7th at 85 3/8 for money and account.

The latest news via Queenstown has not yet reached New York.

A Tragedy. Cincinnati, Aug. 18. Last night at 8 o'clock, Chas. R. Brown, United States Commissioner, was slain by George J. Caldwell of the firm of Alfred Wood & Co. For several months past, bad feeling had existed between the parties in regard to the adjustment of a legal claim. Caldwell called at Caldwell's private chamber, when a scuffle ensued, and Caldwell shot Brown through the body. He immediately surrounded himself to the authorities.

New York, Aug. 18. On Friday evening in Georgetown, Md., the daughter of Zachariah Grigg, a respectable farmer, was entranced and taken to death by a mulatto boy eighteen years old. He is arrested. Counterfeit 50 on the Saugertack Bank, Westport, Ct., are in circulation here.

A dispatch to the Herald states that it is announced in Washington that Douglas and Johnson will continue on the stump until the election the former South and West, the latter East as far as Main. Douglas speaks at Norfolk, Va., next Friday.

Democratic.

According to previous notice the Democrats of Sullivan Precinct met at the court house in Sullivan, August 18th 1860. The object of the meeting being for the purpose of appointing delegates to the county convention to be held in Sullivan on Saturday, September the 1st 1860; said delegates to assist in the nomination of one candidate for Circuit Clerk, one for Sheriff, and one for Coroner. The meeting proceeded to business by appointing David Patterson, Chairman, and B B Haydon, Secretary.

On motion there was a committee of seven appointed by the chairman, to select delegates to said convention. The following names compose the committee: E A Lilly, Jno, Rhodes J D Wilson, T H Carter, J B Shepherd, J M DeJarnett, and Frank Standifer.

The committee then made the following report, viz: We, your committee, select the names of Benj. Freeman, Elgin Keedy, Robert Sharp, J. M. DeJarnett, John Rhodes, Henry Simons, James Weeks, Benj. Wallace, E. D. Cleveland, Moses Underwood, David Patterson, George Purvis, John Gunn, Samuel Wright, jr., and David Pifer, as delegates to said convention.

On motion the name of James Weeks was struck out and the name of Joseph Baker inserted.

On motion the report was adopted as amended.

On motion the delegates were instructed to enquire among the Democracy, generally, for their choice of the candidates now in the field.

On motion the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Express.

On motion the meeting adjourned. DAVID PATTERSON, Chair. B. B. HAYDON, Sec'y.

George Washington's Parting Advice to his Countrymen.

In his farewell address Washington speaks as follows to his fellow countrymen:

There are four things which I humbly conceive are essential to the well being—I may even venture to say to the existence—of the United States as an independent power.

1st. An indissoluble union of the States under one Federal head.

2nd. A sacred regard to public justice.

3rd. The adoption of a proper peace establishment, and

4th. The prevalence of that pacific and friendly disposition among the people of the United States, which will induce them to forget their local prejudices and policies; to make those mutual concessions which are requisite to the general prosperity; and, in some instances, to sacrifice their individual advantages to the interest of the community.

He then adds to the foregoing things, the following truthful and emphatic language. Read and take warning, ye ultimate extinctionists!

"These are the pillars on which the glorious fabric of our independency and national character must be supported. Liberty is the basis—and whoever would dare to sap the foundation, or overturn the structure—UNDER WHATEVER SPECIOUS PRETEXT HE MAY ATTEMPT IT—will merit the bitterest execration, and the severest punishment which can be inflicted by his injured country."

VEGETABLES IN POLITICS.—What a part vegetables have in politics and wars! In Jackson's time, hickory boughs and branches were in favor. When Harrison came up, apples went down in the form of cider. Mr. Buchanan's type was a branch from the buckeye. Gen. Pierce started with the laurel, but ran down so fast that men substituted the cypress instead. Mr. Clay made ash boughs popular and pork stalks flourished under Mr. Polk. In England they were more poetical in their selections of emblems.

The white rose was long the flower of the Jacobites, as it had been at a much earlier period the badge of the house of York, the red rose being that of the rival line of Lancaster. Green boughs were worn by William III.'s army at the battle of the Boyne; and they figured in the early days of the French Revolution. We suppose Mr. Lincoln's will must be added to the list of political vegetables, though belonging in strictness to the class of manufactured articles.

This has just market the strawberries without any defoliation or discount.

HOWARD ASSOCIATION. PHILADELPHIA.

A Benevolent Institution established by Special Endowment for the Relief of the Sick and Distressed, afflicted with Virulent and Epidemic Diseases.

The Howard Association, in view of the awful destruction of human life caused by Sexual diseases, and the deceptions practiced upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by quacks, several years ago directed their Consulting Surgeon, as a CHARITABLE ACT worthy of their name, to open a Dispensary for the treatment of this class of diseases, in all their forms, and to give medical advice gratis to all who apply by letter with a description of their condition (age, occupation, habits of life, &c.) and in cases of extreme poverty, to furnish medicine free of charge. It is needless to add that the Association commands the highest Medical skill of the age, and will furnish the most approved modern treatment.

The Directors of the Association in their Annual Report, express the highest satisfaction with the success which has attended the labors of their surgeons in the cure of Spermatorrhoea, Seminal Weakness, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Syphilis, the vice of Onanism, or Self abuse, Disease of the Kidneys and Bladder, &c., and order a continuance of the same plan for the ensuing year.

An admirable Report on Spermatorrhoea, or Seminal Weakness, the vice of Onanism, Masturbation, or Self abuse, and other diseases of the sexual organs, by the Consulting Surgeon, will be sent by mail (in a sealed envelope), free of charge, on receipt of two stamps for postage. Other Reports and Tracts on the nature and treatment of Sexual disease, diet, &c., are constantly being published for gratuitous distribution, and will be sent to the afflicted. Some of the new remedies and methods of treatment discovered during the last year, are of great value.

Address, for Reports or other communications, to Dr. J. SKILLMAN HOOD, Surgeon, Howard Association, 222 North Second Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

By order of the Directors. EZRA D. HEARTWELL, President. GEO. FAIRCHILD, Secretary.

She Works for a Living.

Comment us to a girl of whom it is sneeringly said, "she works for a living." In her we are always sure to find the elements of a true woman—a real lady—true we are not prepared to see a mincing step—a haughty lip—a fashionable dress—or to hear a string of nonsense about balls and young men—the new novels and the next party—no, no; but we are prepared to hear sound words of good sense—language becoming a woman and to witness movements that would not disgrace an angel.

You who are looking for wives and companions, turn from the fashionable, lazy, haughty girls; and select from any of those who work for a living, and never—our word for it—will you repent your choice. You want a substantial friend, and not a doll, a help-mate, and not a help-eat a concellor, and not a simpleton. You may not be able to carry a piano into your house, but you can purchase a spinning wheel or a set of knitting needles.

If you cannot purchase a new novel, you may be able to take some valuable paper. If you cannot buy a ticket to the ball, you can visit some afflicted neighbor. Be careful where you look for your companions, and whom you choose. We know many a foolish man, who, instead of choosing the industrious and prudent woman for his wife, took one from the fashionable walks of life, and is lamenting his folly in dust and ashes. He ran into the fire with his eyes wide open, and who but himself is to blame.

The time was when ladies went a visiting and took their work with them. This is why we have such excellent mothers. How singular would a gay woman look in a fashionable circle darning her father's stockings, or carding wool to spin? And yet just such a woman would be a prize for somebody.

WANT'S TO KNOW.—A "Farmer's Boy" in Kentucky, advertises for a wife. He says:

He wants to know if she can milk, And make his bread and butter, And go to meeting without silk, To make a "show and flutter."

He'd like to know if it would hurt Her heart to take up stitches; Or sew the buttons on his shirt,

POETRY SOBERED DOWN.—I'm thinking of the time, Kate, when sitting by thy side, and shelling beans I gazed on thee, and felt wonderous pride. In silence leaned we o'er the pan, and neither spoke a word, but the rattling of the beans, Kate, was all the sound we heard. Thy auburn curls hung down, Kate, and kissed thy lily cheeks; thy azure eyes, half filled with tears, bespoke a spirit meek. To be so charmed as I was then had re'er before occurred, when the rattling of the beans, Kate, was all the sound I heard. I thought it was not wrong, Kate, so leaning o'er the dish as you snatched up a lot of beans I snatched a kiss. And a sudden shower made my eyes blind, I never saw nor stirred, but the rattling of the beans, Kate, was all the sound I heard.

Charity would lose its name were it influenced by so mean a motive as human praise.

Cultivate true sentiment, and good manners will suggest themselves.

When modesty is once extinguished, it never returns.

Slanders, issuing from red and beautiful lips, are like four spiders crawling from the blushing heart of a rose.

To quell the pride even of the greatest, we should reflect how much more we owe to others than to ourselves.

We are sure to be losers when we quarrel with ourselves; it is a civil war, and in all such contentions triumphs are defeats.

Scandal is fed by as many streams as the Nile, and there is often as much difficulty in tracing it to its source.

To Stop Bleeding.—C. C. Lyon, a dentist of Maspeth, L. I., writes to the Scientific American as follows: "Observing recently a case of death caused by the hemorrhage from the extraction of a tooth, the following should be universally known as an infallible remedy.—Make plaster of Paris into the consistence of soft putty, and fill the cavity. It will soon become a solid plug."

A poet says "Oh she was fair, but sorrow came, and left his traces there." What became of the balance of the harness he can't state.

Young ladies are like arrow, they can't be got off without a bear.

STOVES AND TINWARE.

All those wishing to buy stoves Amazingly Cheap for Cash, would do well to give me a call before buying elsewhere. I have a large lot of the very best stoves in use—Consisting of every variety, such as

- The Charter Oak,
- The Elevated Oven,
- The Pride of the East,
- The Comet Air-tight,
- The Empire State,

and, in short, all kinds of Heating and Parlor stoves. All kinds of Tinware, Japanese ware, plain tinware of all kinds; cast wash-boilers, cast teak-tiles. Extra stove trimmings constantly on hand.

REPAIRING & JOB WORK done on short notice. I will take feathers, and old copper and brass in exchange for tinware.

Patent Medicines. THE GREATEST Medical Discovery

OF THE AGE.

DR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common pastures weeds a remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOR, From the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth. One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst cancer in the stomach.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of erysipelas.

One or two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches on the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corns and running ulcers.

Fifteen to twenty bottles will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of ringworm.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure scald head.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

One to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of dyspepsia. I know from the experience of thousands that it has been caused by cancer in the stomach.

One or two bottles are warranted to cure sick headache.

One to two bottles are warranted to regulate a costive state of the bowels.

One to two bottles will regulate all derangement of the kidneys.

Four to six bottles have cured the worst cases of dropsy.

One to three have cured the worst cases of piles; a relief is always experienced; what a mercy to get relief in such an excruciating disease! A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

No change of diet ever necessary; eat the best you can get and enough of it.

The MEDICAL DISCOVERY is admirably adapted to the western country where FEVER AND AGUE, DYSENTERY, BILIOUS COLIC, BILIOUS FEVER, LIVER DERANGEMENTS, are so prevalent in their respective seasons.

The great cause of the prevalence of these diseases is that many have secreted in their system some

Putrid and Fatal Humor which is the source of all diseases, and many a young man and woman in the

BLOOM OF LIFE are wasting away whose faded cheeks and sunken eyes warn their friends of a speedy dissolution through the effects of some Acrid Humor preying upon the vitals, and many thousands die annually from the effects of these humors, who, if they but purify their blood with a few bottles of Medical Discovery would live to a ripe old age.

Another great cause of diseases is Costiveness;

for this the Discovery is an infallible remedy, its action on the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels is all that you could desire.

For Scrofulous Ulcers you will follow the directions in pamphlet around the bottle.

For Ulcerated Sore Legs you will find full directions in the pamphlet.

Directions For Use.—Adults, one table spoonful per day; children over ten years, two spoonfuls; children from five to ten years, ten spoonfuls. As no directions can be applicable to all constitutions, take sufficient to operate on the bowels twice a day.

BRAGG'S ARCTIC LINIMENT.

Agony or death—Sickness or health—Life or death! These are the questions involved in the adoption or rejection of this specific in the treatment of external diseases and injuries. Having received the endorsement of the distinguished Surgeon General, KANE, and its efficacy tested during two awful Winters in the regions of eternal ice, it is now coming into general use in every section of the civilized globe, and its marvelous cures are everywhere exciting astonishment.

THE AFFLICTED REJOICE.

HUNDREDS and THOUSANDS have tested its virtues, and are rejoicing in freedom from long lingering PAIN and DISEASE, which other remedies had failed to cure. Head-ache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Ear-ache or Tooth-ache—Are you afflicted with Old Sores—Suffering from Bruises, Strains, Corns, Sore Eyes, Piles?

THE ARCTIC LINIMENT

will afford you instant relief. Everybody is liable to

BURNS AND SCALDS.

For these dreadful accidents the ARCTIC LINIMENT should be kept on hand, for it affords sure and immediate relief, often saving from death. Every steamboat and railroad train should keep it. Who that has heard the wailing shrieks of anguish uttered by the mangled and maimed victims of explosions and collisions, does not feel that some means of relieving their torture should always be accessible? Such does exist in this balmy pain controlling agent.

The MOTHER'S COMPANION.

It cures Cakes in the Breast, Sore Nipples, sore Lips, Pimples, &c. Ladies who prize a pure skin, void of pimples, blotches, scurf and all discolored and excruciating, should at least test this preservative of beauty's domain as soon as they appear with the Arctic Liniment. It is excellent for the Hair, giving it a healthy glossy appearance. It is Good for Man and Beast.

It is a sovereign remedy for the various diseases with which horses are afflicted, curing the most alarming cases of Bruises, Sprains, Strains, Hooves, Wounds, Scratches, swellings, spavins, Ring-bone, Big-head, Poll-evil, &c. No farmer, livery stable keeper, or any person owning valuable Horses, should be without this valuable remedy.

For sale by all respectable druggists & dealers. Prices of the Liniment, 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1 a bottle. A one-dollar bottle contains as much Liniment as eight 25 cent bottles.

Extraordinary Announcement.

Every purchaser of a bottle of the ARCTIC LINIMENT receives, at Dr. Bragg's expense, the UNITED STATES JOURNAL, of New York, for one year. The Journal is a large illustrated paper—each number containing sixteen pages, beautifully printed on clear white paper, and filled with original matter from the most brilliant writers of the country. Certificate of subscription and full particulars of the novel and philanthropic enterprise, for which this offer forms a part, will accompany each bottle.

WE DO NOT HESITATE TO ASSERT

WHAT ALL ARE BY RESULTS.

Compelled to Admit,

Viz: That Dr. Mann's Ague Balsam we have a perfectly triumphant remedy for chills fever and ague and all diseases arising from a diseased or inactive condition of the liver. Indeed it will never fail, and the one who fails to use it at once will deeply regret the neglect. Reader you will never again shake or have fever that season if you take it as per directions, and continue until the system is perfectly restored; if this be done there will be no one who will suffer long from chills, fever and ague.

Bucyrus, Ohio, Feb. 2th 186

Dr. MANN & Co., Gallon, Ohio—Gents: We are at a loss to find language sufficient to portray to the public the great esteem in which your Celebrated Ague Balsam is held in this community. The fact is it never fails to cure ague in its worst forms, and we can sell nothing else.

Yours, &c. HOLOMETER & TAYLOR, Druggists, Corinth, Miss., Oct. 20th 187.

Messrs. S. K. MANN & Co., Gents: Having procured a supply of your Ague Balsam, and testing it thoroughly in many severe cases of long standing, where all the popular remedies of the day had failed, I found in all cases your Balsam effected a safe and speedy cure. It is just the medicine we want here in the south.

Respectfully Yours, JOSEPH BUCHANAN, Druggist, Gallon, May 9th 186

Messrs. S. K. MANN & Co., Gentlemen:—I would say for the benefit of those suffering with chills fever and ague, that I can confidently recommend your Ague Balsam to do what it is recommended to do, having used it myself, and in my family also, have known it used in many other cases, where it has universally proved effectual, and in every case soundly cured. I give this for the benefit of all whom it may concern.

Gallon, O., May, 1860. B. F. MATHIAS, Druggist, St. Louis, Sept. 10th 1860.

Messrs. S. K. MANN & Co., Gentlemen:—After using several other preparations for fever and ague, and only getting partial relief, for the disease soon returning again on me, I took two bottles of your Balsam, and I have had neither chill nor fever since. I took first dose. I believe it to be the only thing that will never fail, and hence I recommend it to others.

Yours Truly, J. G. WILSON, Alexandria, Mo., June, 1860.

Messrs. S. K. MANN & Co., Gentlemen:—Please send us a box of your Ague Balsam. It gives the best satisfaction of any ague preparation we have had in our place. The fact is, it never fails when properly taken.

Respectfully Yours, MOOR & SCOTT, S. K. MANN & Co., Proprietors, Gallon, Ohio. O. J. WOOD & Co., St. Louis, Mo., sole wholesale agents for all the western States and Territories, and sold by all good druggists.
