Hallowe'en Festivities Participated In By Many Saturday Night

Merchants Decorated Their Windows And All Other Parts of Program Carried Out as Announced. Judges Awarded Prizes.

A big crowd Saturday night enjoyed the Hallowe'en festivities in this city. Many were present from out of town. The cold weather proved a slight drawback, but those who were here had a great old time.

The parade at 8 o'clock was the biggest feature of the evening. Several hundred were masked and the various styles and designs were, if not all beautiful, at least very interesting. The merry makers ranged in age from about 2 years old to 70. The latter was the age of Mr. Catlin of the Illinois Masonic Home.

The merchants had responded enthusiastically to the request to decorate their windows and many of the windows showed great skill in the art of decoration. Witches glared and black cats were much in evidence. Autumn leaves, corn fodder and pumpkins gave the display an autumnal background. Black and yellow crepe streamers festooned the light standards and were much in evidence in all the decorations.

No couple applied for the $25 offered for a marriage on the platform. There was little or no rowdiness or disturbance and everybody seemed bent on having a good time. The boys who in former years delighted in playing pranks which usually resulted in property damage or inconvenience, spent the evening in the up-town participating in the festivities.

The judges were F. F. Fleming of Arthur, Leonard McMullin of Lovington and C. O. Tohill of Bethany.

They selected the following as best decorated windows: 1st, Frank McPheeters; 2nd, J. H. Pearson and 3rd Dunscomb Dry Goods Company.

Shelbyville plays Sullivan Saturday Morning at 9:30

Biggest and Best Game of Season Expected When These Two Strong Teams Clash. Bement Loser in Last Week's Game; Many Will Go to Urbana.

Saturday morning promises a great treat for local football fans when the Shelbyville and Sullivan T. H. S. teams meet on the local field.

The game will start promptly at 9:30 o'clock. It had been scheduled for the afternoon, but so many local people and Shelbyville folks want to go to Urbana to see the U. of I.-Chicago game that by agreement it was decided to play the local game in the morning.

Shelbyville has promised to bring over a big delegation of rooters who will go to Urbana from here after the game.

The Shelbyville line-up will be much stronger than that which recently went to defeat before the Lovington eleven. Seven of the regular players who were out at the time of the Lovington game, are back in the line-up and going strong.

Sullivan will present its very best. The boys have been keyed up to the point where they will do their very utmost to defeat the visitors from the South. Captain Purvis has recovered sufficiently to be back in the lineup.

On November 14th the local team will go to LeRoy, Illinois, to play the High School eleven at that place. Robert Wilson, a former star on the Sullivan team, is now a student at LeRoy.

BEMENT VS. SULLIVAN

By Lloyd Brown

On a soft field, Friday, October 30 the Sullivan eleven met and defeated the Bement eleven to the tune of 7-0. On account of the soft field the play was very ragged the first, three quarters and until the last quarter neither team scored. Then in a series of six plays C. Purvis and C. Baker took the ball from Sullivan's 20 yard line for a touchdown.

In the second quarter Campbell was substituted for Capt. Purvis, whose nose was broken, and played a very fine game. Campbell is very fast and was the first man "down" the field when Sullivan punted. We think he should have been in the game long ago. C. Baker also played a fast, clean game, gaining as much ground as C. Purvis.

The game by quarters was as follows:

1st Quarter.

Sullivan kicked off. Bement ran the ball back to the 30 yard line. Sullivan held and Bement kicked on the 4th down. Ledbetter ran the ball back to the 50 yard line. Bement was fined five yards for off side. Sullivan was fined 15 yards for using hands on offensive. Sullivan kicked and Curry was downed on his own 28 yard line. Bement kicked on 1st down. Ledbetter ran the ball back to Bement's 40 yard line. Sullivan made 1st down. Sullivan lost ball on downs on Bement's 25 yard line. Bement kicked on 3rd and Ledbetter ran the ball back to Bement's 49 yard line. The quarter ended with the ball on the 49 yard line.

2nd Quarter.

Sullivan kicked and Curry was downed on his own 25 yard line. Bement kicked. The ball struck Ledbetter, bounding back to Bement's 30 yard line where Bement recovered ball. Bement kicked on 2nd down. Ledbetter was downed on his own 35 yard line. Sullivan kicked on second. Curry was downed on his own 35 yard line. Bement punted on 3rd. Ledbetter was downed on his own 25 yard line. Sullivan kicked on 1st and Bement was downed on Sullivan's 42 yard line. Bement made 1st down taking the ball to the 20 yard line. Bement attempted a drop kick which failed. Sullivan's ball on own 20 yd. line. Purvis lost five yards by a fumble. Sullivan kicked and Bement blocked the ball rolling back of goal post. C. Purvis recovered the ball and took it to the five yard line. Sullivan kicked and Bement took the ball on Sullivan's 32 yard line. Bement called time out. Bement lost the ball on downs. C. Purvis made 10 yards

Red Cross Will Start Membership Enrollment Nov. 11

Organization Has Done Great Work During the Past Year. Funds From Membership Enrollments Used to Defray Expenses of Relief Work.

The annual Red Cross membership enrollment drive will start Wednesday, Armistice Day and will continue until Thanksgiving Day.

The Moultrie County Chapter urges the co-operation of all who believe in the meritorious work of the organization to assist in getting a big enrollment this year.

Give this matter due consideration now and when the time comes when you are asked to enroll for the ensuing year, you will be ready to do so.

Whenever and wherever disaster strikes the American Red Cross is ready to render immediate relief. It is the nation's recognized agency of mercy to those who suffer injury and loss in tornado, flood, fire, epidemic and other catastrophe. It provides medical assistance, food, clothing and shelter in the first terrible hours; and then, for weeks, often months, it is devoted to the stupendous task of bringing the disaster victims back to normal living conditions.

A recent demonstration of its promptness and efficiency in meeting catastrophe on a huge scale was following the tornado that swept five middle western states in March, 1925, killing more than 800, injuring more than 3000, and wrecking millions of dollars worth of property.

With more than forty years of experience in this field of service, with a corps of trained workers in more than 3000 Chapters scattered all over the country, with an enrolled reserve of 41,000 nurses, with funds set apart for the purpose, the Red Cross goes into action equipped for any contingency, the instant it knows disaster has struck.

It not only serves the people of its own country but goes to the aid of those in other lands also in great emergencies.

In forty-four years it has expended $46,000,000 of its own and specially contributed funds in 700 disasters.

Your membership in the American Red Cross each year provides the funds to maintain this national and international service of relief.

The American Red Cross has one outstanding purpose—service to humanity in accordance with the International Treaty of Geneva and its own charter from the Congress of the United States.

It operates through its National organization and more than 3000 Chapters in cities and towns.

It continues its obligation to assist the men disabled in the World War, and their families, and to help the men of the regular Army and Navy with their family and individual problems. Since the Armistice it has expended $53,000,000 in this work. It aids more than 100,000 disabled veterans and their families each month. It is serving 249,000 soldiers, sailors and marines now in active service.

For great emergencies it has an enrolled reserve of 41,000 nurses. It has on duty 1000 public health nurses demonstrating the tremendous importance of safe-guarding the health of the community.

During the year 67,281 women, girls and boys received instruction in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick, helping them protect the home from disease.

To reduce unnecessary deaths from drowning and accident, the Red Cross during the year trained 21,000 men, women and youths in water rescue and resuscitation, and 18,000 persons in First Aid to the Injured.

Children have been taught the importance of the proper use of foods and the relation of nutrition to health, through class room instruction to 130,000; 31,000 adults through home visits.

Volunteers have produced 1,317,716 surgical dressings, 176,822 garments and 97,450 pages of Braille for the blind, in addition to many other services rendered.

Enrolled in the Junior Red Cross are 5,596,663 school children. In varied ways they are taught the principle and value of unselfish service to others.

In more than 500 communities where there is no other family welfare agency, the Red Cross is supplying this service.

It leads a helping hand through works of mercy when great disasters strike in foreign lands.

In all of these services YOU can take part through membership. The Annual Roll Call is the Red Cross invitation to the people to join its ranks.

We are authorized to announce that T. C. Fleming is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for County Clerk. The primary election will be April 13th.

No Jury Trials This Week; Judge Passes on Criminal Case Motions

Numerous Cases Disposed of; Criminal Cases Set For Trial Next Week. Reedy Boy Fined and Given Light Jail Sentence; Attorneys Appointed.

When court convened Monday morning it was found that all of the civil cases which have been set for trial this week had been settled.

The criminal cases were docketed for next week, so no jury cases were ready for trial.

A number of the men recently indicted were brought before the judge and in cases where they had no attorneys nor money to hire any the court appointed attorneys.

J. E. Dazey of Findlay appeared as attorney for Herman Reedy, the Kirksville youth accused of having entered the home of Randolph Miller and stealing some money. Motion was made to quash the indictment.

On Tuesday young Reedy entered a plea of guilty and was assessed a fine of $10 and costs and 80 days in jail. On the jail sentence he is to be credited with time already served.

O. F. Cochran appeared as attorney for Bruce, Robert and Kenneth Nihiser of Dalton City, indicted for burglary. These are the boys who caused an explosion when stealing gas from a shed in the rear of the Morrison store. They gave new bond for their appearance for trial next week.

Elliott Billman was named as attorney for Charles Elzy, who was indicted on charges of having assaulted Joe Steele with a deadly weapon.

Roy Foster was named attorney to defend Harvey Sallee, indicted for forgery and passing forged checks.

John Hogan of Decatur appeared as attorney for Sam Grubb, indicted in connection with the Lake City bank robbery. Col. J. E. Jennings was named to defend Fred Richardson, indicted as Grubb's companion in this crime. Motion was made by the attorneys to quash these indictments.

Judge Sentel was anxious to have this case go to trial next week but Attorney Hogan demurred and it was finally agreed that the cases would be tried some time the third week in December if the Judge finds himself able to hold court here at that time.

On Tuesday both Grubb and Richardson were arraigned and entered pleas of "not guilty". Grubb is out on bond, but Richardson has failed to secure bond.

The Loveless Case.

In the old case of Ida Loveless vs. W. J. Loveless, in which the complainant had her former husband cited for contempt of court on account of his failure to pay her alimony, the court ruled that the defendant was in contempt and ordered that he pay the defendant the sum of $2010.00 and sentenced him to 30 days in jail. He is also to pay the costs in the case.

Nichols Divorce Case.

In the divorce case of Mabel Nichols vs. Ray Nichols, Judge Cochran for the complainant, moved that the lengthy answer of the defendant be stricken and destroyed because of its impertinence. This motion was allowed and Judge Sentel himself destroyed the answer and threw it in the waste basket. In this answer Mr. Nichols attacked the reputation of various persons whom he holds responsible for his marital troubles.

The motion of Mrs. Nichols for temporary alimony and solicitors fees was allowed. He was ordered to pay $30 per month and also to pay $40 for her solicitor's fees. Mr. Nichols is acting as his own attorney in this case.

Chancery Cases.

The Judge ruled in various chancery cases and in the case of William H. Ennis vs. Margaret H. Ennis et al, partition he named O. F. Dolan, I. W. McClung and James A. Gregory as commissioners.

In the partition case of Mary Ruth Armantrout vs. Don Armantrout, he named Henry Walker, A. M. Blythe and Charles Wagoner as commissioners.

Gays Bank Robbers.

Roy Foster having recently withdrawn as attorney for Carly Burns, or Clarence Hissong, Ray D. Meeker has been named to represent him. He filed a motion to dismiss the case, but this motion was overruled. A similar motion made by Attorney Real for Monte Crist was also overruled. Both of these men are under indictment in connection with the robbing of the Gays bank, January 19th.

STATE REJECTS ALL BIDS ON LOCAL JOB

All bids submitted for the paving of the Hamilton-Harrison street curve on Route 32 in this city have been rejected by the State Highway Department according to advice which reached this city. L. Harshman was low bidder on the bids recently submitted.

What further action will be taken in the matter has not been learned. While the report from Springfield did not say so, it is presumed that bids submitted were too high. Doubtless new bids will be called for.

GRAND JURY HAD BUSY SESSIONS THIS WEEK

The grand jury is expected to make a report Saturday or Monday. It went into session Monday morning and investigated various propositions which have put some local people in a state of suspense.

On Monday Mrs. S. P. English and daughter Geneva appeared before the jury to tell their story. The girl is said to have accused several young men of this community of contributing to her delinquency.

On Tuesday the officials from DeKalb county were here to tell what they know about the charges against Raymond Bozell and Melvin Davis and confessions made in that county as to the disposal of stolen goods here.

Wednesday was "liquor day" and some local men supposed to be familiar with the source and sale of white mule and other intoxicants were put on the grill.

The public is anxiously awaiting the report of indictments which will be returned as a result of these investigations.

BANK HAD GOOD ADVERTISING WINDOW

One of the Hallowe'en show windows worthy of special mention, was that of the Merchants & Farmers State bank. Cashier J. F. Gibbon assisted by the rest of the bank's employees had a window display that attracted much favorable comment. It was a clever designed advertisement of what services the bank was able to render its patrons.

Because of the fact that it was an "advertising window" it was ruled out of competition and could not share in the prizes awarded.

WILL THIS BRING SORROW TO MOTHER?

If the average American youth would ask himself this question occasionally, what a world of grief it would prevent.

Youth is adventurous, youth is careless, youth is often foolhardy and the restraints of law and the customs of society seem burdensome. Temptation assails them and they fall.

Sometimes this is the result of their youthful environment. Often it is not. Sometimes older men lead the youth astray, but if the youth is of the right caliber to start with, he will not be found associating with men of questionable character.

Society has tried to protect the young men by legal enactment. Saloons and their evil associations have been done away with. The strong drink evil has, however, not been eliminated. The bootlegger now plys his nefarious trade and the cocky youth, always in rebellion at what he regards as restraint, buys the poison and lets it steal his brains and lessen his resistance to evil.

Then finally, sooner or later, comes the day of judgment.

It is the youth that suffers? It is to a certain extent. He may be deprived of his liberty. He may have to pay behind the bars for his crime. But the world is ready to forgive and to forget and when penance is over he may return to society and if the lesson he has learned has been of the right kind, he can easily live down the shame which his sowing of wild oats got him into.

But consider the mothers! They are the ones who bear the brunt of the punishment. They have nurtured the sons and given them all of the love of which a mother only is capable. Their heart strings are entwined around their boys, and their girls too for that matter, and anything dishonorable, anything disreputable that the children will do cannot do otherwise than bring sorrow and grief to the mothers. The same applies also to the fathers, to the brothers and the sisters.

It has always seemed to me and I believe that it is true, that it is the mother on whom the blow falls the hardest. She cannot see her son, her baby, in the light of a law breaker.

She alone knows and cherishes the memories of his babyhood as no other mortal can. She went through the shadows of the Valley of Death to give him life and to her are sacred the days of his babyhood, the prattle of childhood and all the days during which her lad grew toward manhood.

Boys, think of your mother! When temptation assails you, when it seems so easy and so safe to go wrong; when you are ready to take your chance with the law; when social disgrace seems so trifling and when the voice of evil so strongly urges you on, stop just one moment and consider—Will this bring sorrow to Mother? Have I a right to jeopardize my mother's happiness, to break her heart? Boys, she will believe in you when all others turn their backs on you; her mother love will always be yours no matter what you do, so what right have you to wound it; what right have you to wring her heart?

You may be willing in a spirit of adventure to go wrong, taking any chances so far as you are personally concerned—but the greatest barrier that ought to exist between you and wrong doing ought to be that question—Will this bring sorrow to Mother?

NO MORE OBEY. NO, TO ATHEISM. RUSSIA THINKING. BEAR TOOTH NECKLACE.

The Protestant Episcopal Church House of Bishops definitely removes "obey" from the marriage ceremony. Many married ladies had already removed it from the routine of daily life, common sense telling them that if marriage is not an equal partnership, it isn't much.

The old idea about women is dying out not too soon. British husbands no longer are allowed by law to beat their wives with a stick "no thicker than the thumb." The French unwritten law gave fathers authority over their children, according to Westermarck, on the theory that the child was the property of the mother, and the mother was the property of the father.

The Moors, according to the same Westermarck (see "Origin and Development of Moral Ideas"), believed that old men became saints and old women witches.

Breach of promise cases prove that old men become foolish and old women have to be very patient.

In New York City a group of foolish young men seek to charter a corporation to encourage atheism, and "destroy the power of church and clergy".

Quite a programme, but the judge wouldn't let it go through. In Russia, on the other hand, a delegation of orthodox priests and bishop begged the Government "for an equal civil status with citizens of the Soviet State."

The priests asked the right to publish religious literature and have for their children (priests of the Greek church marry) the same education as is given to the children of peasants. The Russian Government said NO.

Russian women also show intelligence fighting an attempt to reduce the marriage age for girls below sixteen, declaring that a girl at sixteen is "only a baby." She is more than that, but it is foolish to let her marry younger than sixteen. The right law would be no marriage under twenty.

The mother gives to the child health, strength, plus moral character and many other good qualities. She should wait until strength and health are fully developed.

A man contributes to the child character and intelligence, if he has any. He should wait until both are fully developed, say until thirty among the mentally poorer sort; fifty—as Plato suggested—among the really intelligent.

At Ezyies, in France, has been found, made of teeth from the cave bear, a necklace 25,000 years old. Passion for adornment is as strong as it ever was. Twenty-five thousand years ago cave women pulled teeth from a dead bear to hang something shiny around their necks. Now pearl divers go "all naked to the hungry sharks" to bring up more expensive necklaces.

An estimable lady, just dead in New York State, leaves a collection of jewelry worth literally millions of dollars. It couldn't make her look a day younger or any more beautiful. But, as with the lady that owned the cave bear teeth necklace, the "urge" was there.

Scientists investigating the alleged transmutation of mercury into gold by a German chemist say the things has not been done.

Gold basis of currency will not be threatened until some genius finds a way to extract gold from the waters of the ocean as they roll through the English Channel, or out of the Bay of Fundy.

Every ton of sea water contains fifty milligrams of gold. Not much, from a ton, but a good deal if you could get it all. There are on earth about one quintillion three hundred and eighty quadrillion tons of sea water, containing about sixty-nine trillion tons of gold. Or one hundred and one thousand two hundred pounds of solid gold for each of the one billion five hundred million men, women and children on earth.

If each of us owned nothing but his share of gold that is in the oceans, he would be worth $48,000,000. However, if any man asks you to invest in a plan to get gold from the ocean, arrest him.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By Edson R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

THAT all the advantages imaginable cannot make a business great unless its owners realize the importance of continuous advertising and use its service in the development of its business.

THAT when a business concern realizes fully the value of advertising, nothing will retard its growth, for quality, continuously advertised, will supply the business needed.

THAT the good-will of the public is the most valuable asset any business can have. Continuous advertising is a builder of good-will.

THAT those who have a desire to give customers satisfaction and to meet their every requirement, prove that fact by continuous advertising.

THAT advertising through the printed page is the most pleasing sales service that can be given the public.

THAT advertising pays in good will and profits. It tells the public the practical and distinctive features of merchandise and service.

Continuous advertising brings business from sections where business has not heretofore been secured.

Advertising keeps busy all the while, building better business for those fortunate concerns who enlist its services.

Advertising is of universal help. It serves everyone everywhere. Copyright 1925

ANOTHER ST. LOUIS SHOE MAN HERE TO LOOK US OVER; SEEMS FAVORABLY IMPRESSED

On Tuesday a representative of one of the biggest St. Louis shoe manufacturing firms was in this city investigating the possibility of locating a new shoe factory here. He was entertained by the shoe factory committee and given all information asked for.

He seemed very favorably impressed with Sullivan and gave the committee the impression that Sullivan stands an excellent chance of landing a factory.

Sullivan now has a $75,000 bonus pledged for this purpose. The company in question will require a $100,000 bonus.

Team Work In Railway Service

The efficient operation of a great railway system is a striking example of productive team work for the service of the public.

Little thought is ordinarily given by the public to the multitude and variety of operations required to insure efficient transportation of passengers and freight. Few industries require such studied and skillful co-ordination of effort as railway transportation. Railway service in this country represents the sum of the efforts of nearly two million employes skilled in many diverse lines of work with all their energies directed toward a common goal, the production of transportation.

Take, for example, the Illinois Central System, including its Central of Georgia railway properties. The lines operated by this system comprise about 8,400 miles of first main track lying in fifteen states, and extending from Omaha, Sioux City and Sioux Falls on the northwest and Chicago on the north to New Orleans and Savannah on the south and southeast. This railway system, with its far-flung network of steel traversing the heart of America, facilitates communication and travel among hundreds of cities, villages and rural communities, gathering up their products for distribution and delivering to them the products of other regions. There are twenty-four operating divisions of this system, each a separate unit, but each an integral part of the whole structure.

Approximately 73,000 persons are employed in producing the transportation service of the Illinois Central System. Only about 12,000 of these employes are engaged in actually running trains. Of the remaining 61,000 employes, 18,000 keep the cars and locomotives in condition, 23,000 maintain the tracks, buildings and other facilities, and 8,000 operate freight and passenger stations, baggage rooms, dining cars and telegraph and telephone service, dispatch trains and do other work connected with the movement of trains. The clerical forces, storekeepers, janitors, watchmen and similar employes number 10,800. There are 700 specialists engaged in engineering, architecture, chemistry and other technical occupations. There are 500 executives, division officers and staff assistants.

The good reputation which the Illinois Central System enjoys is due to the efficient team work shown by its loyal employes and the good will they have earned for it among its patrons. Each of these employes, whether in direct contract with the public or not, is a willing servant of the public, contributing his share toward the production of an unexcelled transportation service. Employes of the Illinois Central System are proud of the reputation they have gained, and the public may rely upon them to maintain the high standards of courtesy and efficiency that characterize Illinois Central System service.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

C. H. MARKHAM
President, Illinois Central System.

GENERAL NEWS

The annual Hallowe'en party was held at the High School, Friday evening, October 30. After being conducted through the dark halls where all sorts of things happened, we at last reached the gymnasium by way of a shute. A grand march was formed and tramps, negroes, cowboys, gypsies and every kind of people passed before the judges who were Mrs. Iftner, Mrs. Dennis and Mr. Roney. Jean Whitfield and Jeanette Loveless, two white-haired negro gentlemen won first prize for best couple. Mr. Sterling and Mr. Dennis (Reuben and Rachel) won second prize. Harold Yarnell, also a negro, won the prize for the individual. Games were played and Collie Baker, Theodore McDonald, Sylvan Baugher, Mr. Sterling and Keith Grigsby did acrobatic stunts. Refreshments consisting of apples, cider, popcorn and doughnuts were served.

We wish to thank Mr. Alumbaugh for the use of his truck while we were preparing for our Hallowe'en party.

Helen Newbould, chairman of yell committee, announced the winners of the yell contest Monday afternoon. Kenneth Lowe won first prize; Ruth Pifer second and Lucia Harshman, third. The following is Kenneth's yell: Beat 'em up, eat 'em up, swallow 'em down, This bunch cheers for the old Home Town.

Edith Thackwell is back in school after a week's absence on account of illness.

Ruth Condon spent the week end with Doris Graven.

The football boys had their pictures taken Friday afternoon.

Delbert Reedy returned to school Monday after a week's absence on account of a broken arm.

LITERARY NEWS

The Aeolian Literary Society met Friday, October 30, and held a very interesting meeting. The meeting was first called to order by the president. The society then voted on the date of the program, which each society gives every year before the assembly. This society will give their program just before Christmas.

Miss Vivian Harsh was elected as the contestant for the numerous reading, which will be given sometime in November.

A suggestion was made by Gloyd Rose that the students who have reading books and who do not use them any longer, should give these books to the school as a Christmas present. This was voted on and carried.

As this was all of the business, the program then followed.

Saxophone trio—William Heacock, William Dedman, Glen Clark.

Reading—Ferne Brown

Vocal Solo—Alice Harris

Current Events—Clyde Coventry.

This program was greatly enjoyed by all. As there was no more time, the meeting adjourned.

SPORT BRIEFS

It was very cold practicing last week and part of the field was covered with snow. Some of the boys wore gloves.

The first team won 7 to 0 from Bement Friday and the second lost 14 to 7 at Arthur, Saturday. Too bad, Seconds, keep on ploughing.

Capt. Purvis had his nose broken early in the first quarter and was taken out of the game.

Collie Baker played a fine game Friday. He featured with long end runs and showed up well on defensive.

Sullivan outplayed Bement in almost every department but it was only until the last quarter that they were able to put over a touchdown.

Yarnell was in the backfield again and did some good line plunging.

Don't forget the Shelbyville game Saturday morning at 9:30.

Jimmie Campbell played a fine game both Friday and Saturday. He was always there on tackles and recovered many fumbles in the Bement game.

Carleton Purvis opened the rally against Bement with an end run, he also did a good job of punting.

"Gump Grigsby is getting to be quite a good kicker. He kicked two goals in the Central game and one at Arthur.

"Red" Hoskins secured Sullivan's only touchdown at Arthur, Saturday on a fumble by Arthur. "Red" by the way played "some game" at end.

Dedman again was effective in Sullivan's line at Arthur and got several good tackles.

Don't forget the Shelbyville game here Saturday morning.

Bement completed several passes Friday, but Sullivan held when the crucial moment came.

Sullivan had a real team on the field the last quarter, Friday. Let's see the team start the Shelby game the way they finished the Bement game.

Ten men will be playing their last football game for Sullivan, Saturday unless another game is yet added.

They are, Capt. Purvis, Grigsby, Tusler, Miller, Campbell, Yarnell, Buxton, Ledbetter, Fleschner and Lowe.

Put everything you have in the last one, boys.

A game has been secured to be played at Leroy, Illinois. This fills the open date in the schedule made by the withdrawal of Findlay High School.

THE PEOPLE WHO INFLUENCED THE BRITONS

Early in the ninth century while Charlemagne was still ruling, a strange race of pirates appeared on the shores of Northern France. They killed many inhabitants and vanished as mysteriously as they had come.

Years later they came again and plundered and burned a part of Paris. After much destruction Harold, the Simple, granted them a tract of land called Normandy. About four centuries earlier a people of the race, called the Anglo-Saxons invaded Britain. For a long while these German invaders quarreled among themselves, but their fear and hatred of a people of the same race, that lived farther North caused them to be united. In the year 737 these dead kinsmen appeared—the Danes.

When Alfred, the Great, came to the throne, all England was united under him against these Danes. Stories are told of Alfred's disguise so that his enemy could not find him. The story of the burnt cakes is one of these.

Later he entirely conquered the Danes. They acknowledged this by the Treaty of Dedmore in 876.

Alfred the Great, was the greatest and best of England's kings. He began the Anglo-Saxon Chronicle and practically established education in Britain. He died in 901. One of his descendants, promised the throne to William, Duke of Norway. When opposed, William made good his claim by war in 1066. Then hordes of his Norman followers swarmed into England. These Normans although they were people of the same race as the Anglo-Saxons and Danes were much more cultured. (And they knew it, too.) For a while they had all the government in their hands and paid no attention to the Britons. In the next hundred years the two races gradually mingled. The literature took renewed life, the language and education, which were in a state of decay, were revived. The marriage of a descendant of Alfred and a lordly Norman broke the last bond. The result was a complete fusion of all these races that for centuries had warred on each other.

JOKES

Miss S. is my teacher, I cannot deny it. She maketh me to sit on the front row by myself; She leadeth me in the paths of knowledge for my name's sake.

Yea, though I study my head off, I can think of no excuse, for she is my teacher.

Her rules and switches comfort me always. She prepareth a problem for me in the presence of my preplexities; She filleth my head with rules, my mind runneth over.

Surely brain fever and trouble will follow me all the days of my life, And I shall dwell in the insane asylum forever.

Ed: "Did you hurt yourself the other night when you stumbled over the piano?"

Jennie (disgustedly): "No, I fell on the soft pedal."

Miss Hobbs: "Why was President Garfield elected?"

Dru: "Because he had the most votes."

Miss Bach: "It is human nature to take the easiest way and avoid as much work as possible."

Loren Kelly (with a sigh): "I'm sure full of human nature."

Miss Delassus: "Name some kind of a food that do not have to be digested."

Freshie: "Soup."

Father: "No, my son, I don't know the Latin word for 'people'."

Son: "Populi."

Mother: "Son! How dare you accuse your father of lying?"

Herwald S.: "Time must hang heavy on your hands."

Maxine L.: "Why?"

Herwald: "Well, you wear a wrist watch."

Ruth Davis: "Louis XIV must have had a very cloudy mind."

Olive Daisy: "How Come?"

Ruth: "Well, he reigned for so many years."

AGRICULTURE NOTES

The Department of Agriculture of the state of Illinois boasts a new department, "The Department of Conservation." The bill authorizing this department was passed by the state legislature early in June. Illinois is not the only state that has taken action to protect the various natural resources of the nation. The agricultural people of the nation are interested in any measure that has for its objective a conservative policy. Secretary Work has recommended a broad conservation policy covering the nations resources.

The Department of Conservation of the state Department of Agriculture, has control of the wild game life and the fish of the state. The department seeks to conserve the game and fish at the same time providing ample recreation and sport for the men who pay for the privileges of hunting and fishing. The hunting season is open and the sound of dog and gun will be heard on every hand. Perhaps at such a season a review of "The Sportman's Creed" would be timely. It follows:

1. Never kill wantonly, or needlessly or brutally.
2. Obey the laws of state and nation, work for better laws, and uphold law enforcing authorities.
3. Never in sport endanger life.
4. Respect the rights of farmers, and property owners, and also their feelings.
5. Always leave the seed birds and game in covers.
6. Never be a fish hog.
7. Discourage the killing of game for commercial purposes by refusing to purchase it.
8. Study and record the natural history of game species in the interest of science.
9. Love nature and its denizens, and be a gentleman.

The students of Agriculture in the S. T. H. S. believe in a conservative policy. Here will be said in regard to some of the views that they hold in regard to conservation of our natural resources.

There are many agencies through which interested people may secure information. A few follows:

United States Department of Agriculture—Washington, D. C.

Illinois State Department of Agriculture—Springfield.

New York Department of Agriculture—Ithaca, New York.

A second suit has been filed to gain possession of a 4 year old daughter Rosemerel Ekiss who is now in the father's custody at the home of his brother Ervil Ekiss. This suit is in the nature of a habeas corpus action returnable in court November 14th. Mrs. Ekiss is a daughter of J. L. Bone of Bethany.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 30, 1925

Mr. C. C. Turner, Farm Adviser, Moultrie County, Sullivan, Illinois.

Dear Mr. Turner:

For your information, I desire to state that all claims against the State of Illinois, due for cattle having been slaughtered because of their having reacted to the tuberculin test, have been paid promptly, after being received by this department.

During the two years prior to July 1, 1925, the State of Illinois paid on State claims for indemnity $785,943.39.

The Federal allotment of money for the payment of Federal share of claims against the Federal Government for indemnity on cattle slaughtered due to their reacting to the tuberculin test in this State, was not sufficient to pay those claims.

The State of Illinois has not only paid all of her claims, but has paid $184,401.44 on Federal share of claims, making a total paid out by the state of Illinois on State and Federal claims of $920,344.83 for T. B. indemnity. The State has also paid approximately $100,000 for operating expenses, which has exhausted all of the available money appropriated for this purpose by the 53rd General Assembly.

Whatever shortage has existed or now exists, is due to the Federal Government failing to take care of its share of the indemnity claims.

There has been considerable misunderstanding regarding the payment of these Federal claims. I, therefore, make this statement that you may understand the exact situation.

Sincerely yours,
S. J. Stanard,
Director.

WHY NOT HAVE A BIG COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE THIS YEAR?

Following the successful community Halloween party Saturday night, merchants have been discussing the matter of having a Community Christmas tree this year. Such a venture would have the hearty co-operation of nearly all of the merchants.

The tree would be put up a few days before Christmas and a suitable program could be arranged for that occasion. It has been suggested that the tree be placed either on the Court House lawn or at the intersection at the Northwest corner of the Square.

There is nothing that would add to the community Christmas spirit and cheer more than a Community Christmas tree.

To really make a success of the matter, plans must soon be made and arrangements started to carry out this project.

DEMOCRATS WON IN

The Democratic candidate for Mayor of New York City was swept in by an overwhelming majority of more than 400,000 votes at Tuesday's election. His name is James Walker and he is a protege of Gov. Al Smith. The victory is regarded as another evidence of the overwhelming popularity of New York's efficient governor.

In New Jersey where the Coolidge ticket got a 370,000 majority in the 1924 election, the tables were turned Tuesday when a man named Moore, running on the Democratic ticket was swept into the office of governor with a 40,000 majority.

In most other elections where the issue was clear-cut between Democrats and Republicans, the former showed great gains.

OSCAR ROSE

Oscar Rose died early Saturday night, Oct. 24, 1925, at St. Luke's hospital in St. Louis. His brother, Herbert of Windsor was with him when the end came, he having gone to St. Louis on Thursday night. The body was brought to Windsor by Herbert Rose Monday afternoon, and it was taken to the home of the mother, Mrs. Alexander Rose of Sand Creek. Elder J. V. Brady conducted the funeral services at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rose Tuesday afternoon. Burial was in Sand Creek cemetery.

Oscar Rose was a son of Alexander and Yuthanasia Rose, and was born at Windsor February 9, 1864, being the youngest of four children, and being 61 years, 8 months, 15 days old at time of death. He grew to young manhood in Moultrie and Shelby counties, and at the age of 19 went into the drug business at Sullivan. He became a registered pharmacist of ability, and after leaving Sullivan was in business in Hot Springs, Ark., Springfield, Mo., and St. Louis, making his home in St. Louis since 1901. Mr. Rose married Miss Orpha Patterson of Sullivan in 1886. In 1910 he married Mrs. Susie Boas, who died in 1916. His father died in 1906, his half sister, Miss Alta Rose, died Aug. 1 and his brother Walter died Sept. 16, both of this year. He leaves his mother, aged 85 years; one brother Herbert; one sister Dora; and many other relatives and friends to mourn his departure.

Mr. Rose's health failed him a few years ago. He submitted to a serious operation in a St. Louis hospital last May. For a time he seemed to have some relief, but about two weeks ago he suddenly grew worse and submitted to another operation on Oct. 16, from which he never fully rallied. His brother was with him at that time also.—Windsor Gazette.

TOO EMBARRASSED

"Every room with a bath," says the prospectus of a new and huge hotel just started here.

Which reminds us of the story of a countryman, unfamiliar with such luxuries, who passed the night at a modern hotel.

"Well, did you have a good night's rest?" the clerk asked him next morning.

"No, I didn't," was the reply. "The room was all right and the bed was pretty good, but I couldn't sleep very much, for I was afraid some one would want to take a bath, and the only door to it was through my room"—Boston Transcript.

HEALTH GRAMS

With excessive cloudiness this fall thousands of children are likely to suffer from rickets for lack of sunshine. Even with a well balanced diet some children develop this disease whenever sunlight deficiency is not offset by cod liver oil or artificial ultra violet-ray treatment.

Growth involves enlargement, duplication specialization and cooperation. Enlargement alone is like a wind bag that promptly shrinks when the air escapes. Enlargement plus duplication describes cancerous conditions, a disease. Enlargement plus duplication plus specialization results in dangerous monopoly without cooperation. Healthy growth demands all four factors and when applied to the human body healthy growth demands a balanced diet, naturally conditioned air, sunshine, exercise and sleep. Shaving down on one of these requirements merely results in a lopsided product.

Closing the doors and windows will not shut pneumonia out but opening them to a reasonable extent goes a long way toward letting health in. Pneumonia germs will not tolerate hot, dry air so in order to avoid it they descend into the lungs where warmth and moisture are happily mixed.

Weight is the barometer of the body. When the avoirdupois runs up to 20 per cent or more above normal, the barometric pressure reading indicates stormy health conditions ahead. Sometimes the forecast doesn't pan out immediately but that fact never saved the ship that put out to sea in spite of unfavorable weather reports.

BIDS FOR WATERWORKS TO BE OPENED SATURDAY MORNING BY COUNCIL

The time for submitting bids for the construction of the proposed water supply system for the city of Sullivan will expire Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

At that time the Council will meet and open bids submitted. The bids will be taken under consideration before contract is let.

City officials report that indications are that there will be plenty of bids submitted. All plans and specifications have been in the hands of contractors and several contractors applied for such plans too late to secure copies of them.

The contractor to whom the bid is awarded will guarantee two wells that must produce 500 gallons each per minute. The contract will be for these two wells, for a 10 inch pipe line to bring the water to the city; for a power transmission line which will carry city "juice" to the wells; complete equipment of the wells; a reserve tank with a capacity of 100,000 gallons and all other things necessary to give this city real water service.

The contract will not provide for a new distribution system within the city. That will be a separate improvement project.

The contractor will be paid with water certificates, which shall be paid when due out of funds in a special "water fund" which the city will establish. The city distribution system will be paid by assessments against the property benefitted.

POTATOES VERY SCARCE; PRICE BEGINS SOARING

There is a shortage in the potato crop this year, due to bad growing conditions, early frosts, etc. The price has kept mounting steadily until now potatoes, usually regarded as a cheap food, are classed among the luxuries.

Retail prices for potatoes in this city this week ranged from 75c to 80c per peck. Wholesalers prices to retailers keep going higher. While there seems to have been a fair crop in the Northern and Western states, the crop failure in the mid-western states such as Illinois has sent even the farmers into the market for their winter's supply.

There is a tariff of 50c per hundred pounds on potatoes shipped in from Canada, but Canadian growers are taking advantage of the big shortage here and many carloads of potatoes are said to be crossing the border daily. Canadians can afford to pay this tariff in order to get the big prices offered here.

PULLETS AND HENS PAY BETTER IF KEPT APART

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 4. In flocks of 300 or more hens, maximum profits from the sale of eggs, either from the old laying flock or from the pullets, cannot be realized if the hens and pullets are managed alike and run together, according to D. C. Henderson, of the poultry division, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. If both the hens and pullets must be kept in one house it is advisable to separate them by means of a partition.

"Further separation to get the early hatched pullets away from the late hatched ones is advisable if the very best results are to be obtained from the flock. This plan is not possible on all farms, but it will repay the poultryman when he is able to do it. The pullets that are hatched early should mature earlier and carry a greater surplus of fat than the late hatched birds. These late hatched, growing pullets should be fed liberally on grain and growing mash until they are ready for the laying quarters.

"In order to lay the maximum number of eggs during the winter, pullets that are ready to lay must be well fed during the fall and winter months. They should be well developed and carry a surplus of fat before they are placed in winter quarters. Since these birds are ready for egg production, they should be given feed that will enable them to lay eggs during this season of high prices. Allowing pullets free range to a good laying mash will bring them into production and make them return a profit during the winter.

"After they stop laying in the fall, there is a natural tendency for hens in the old laying flock to eat much less mash than they have been eating. It therefore is a good plan to increase the grain allowance in order to keep them in good flesh. The hens which are to be used as breeders next spring should be given a vacation this winter so that the hatching eggs they lay will produce strong, healthy chicks."

WOMAN SURPRISES FRIENDS

"After a spell of Typhoid Fever 7 years ago I began to suffer from indigestion and gas in my stomach and colic attacks. This gradually became so bad that my doctor advised an operation for gall stones. A friend advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy which I did with splendid results. My friends were astonished at my rapid improvement. I have no more bloating and can eat anything I wish." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Mid-week prayer meeting at Mission 7:30 Thursday evening.

We have had a good deal to say from time to time with reference to prayer. I think the importance of this was brought out so plainly in last Sunday's lesson. Paul tells us we are in a warfare, gives us a list of the armour provided, a description of the foe, and his powers, and tells us where our resources are. "Heaven". Prayer being our supply train, which ascends to heaven and brings back the necessary supplies, such as grace, strength, wisdom, love, etc. It has always been a great trick of the enemy in natural warfare to cut off the supplies, it is just as true concerning our spiritual enemy. Don't you remember how he intercepted Daniel's supply train, delaying it some twenty-one days.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Last week we felt the autumn winds and the wintery frosts, but the clouds pass and the sun smiles down upon us in light and warmth giving rays. The splendor of the autumn days not yet ceased, and the harvest of golden corn has not yet been gathered. So we are yet in the harvest time of life. The laborers may be few, but if faithful the work will go on, and golden grain brought into the treasure house of God. Humble efforts do not go for naught. God places a true value upon all service.

HARMON SHORTHORNS HAD GOOD WINNINGS AT FAIRS

Ed Harmon is back home with his herd of Scotch-Shorthorns, after a very successful showing in a series of county fairs throughout this section of the state. He went as far south as Carmi.

The Harmon herd consisted of thirteen head and were exhibited in the fairs at Robinson, Carmi, Martinsville, Greenup, Taylorville, Shelbyville, Paris and Tuscola.

At Martinsville the Shorthorns won first in beef herd in competition with all breeds. The Harmon cattle got inside the money every place they were exhibited and most of the time were in the lead. The competition was heavy, being from three to five herds at most every place they were exhibited. Mr. Harmon also had first beef herd at the Shelbyville fair, and won grand champion bull and aged cow at the Greenup, Martinsville, Paris and Shelbyville fairs.

During the course of the fairs Mr. Harmon disposed of five head of cattle to buyers who attended the fairs and were attracted to his herd by their excellent showing.—Lovington Reporter.

FARM BUREAU MEMBERS MUST RESERVE PLACES AT THE A. F. B. F. MEETING

Special arrangements are being made by the American Farm Bureau Federation to provide "hearing and seeing" space for every farm bureau member who attends its seventh annual meeting at the Sherman Hotel, Chicago, when President Coolidge speaks on December 7, according to a report from the Illinois Agricultural Association to the Moultrie County Farm Bureau.

Members of Moultrie County Farm Bureau wishing to attend, should make reservations through the Moultrie County Farm Bureau either by phone, personal call or letter.

Seats are being allotted to each state in proportion to the number of members it has in the national organization. This entitles the Illinois Agricultural Association to approximately 300, which does not include Farm Advisers, there being a special section reserved for them.

With 92 presidents of county farm bureaus invited by the Illinois Agricultural Association to attend a state-wide prexy conference during the national convention, seats are available to slightly over 200 Illinois farm bureau members.

Special railroad rates are effective for those attending the meeting. The fare amounts to one and one-half for round trip. Tickets should be purchased to Chicago the regular way, but a certificate of purchase must be obtained from the local station agent. Through the transportation department of the American Farm Bureau Federation, the certificate will be properly validated so a return ticket can be purchased for one-half fare.

There will be no reduced fares to those who forget their certificates.

Space for farm bureau members is being reserved for 2800 seats in the main hall and 1000 of the most advantageously located seats in adjoining lobbies. WLS and KYW will broadcast.

START ACTION TO SETTLE MONTAGUE'S ESTATE

Seth Montague of Arcola, this week filed in the County Court the last will of his mother Mrs. Eura Montague, who died at her home near Coles last week. A petition was also filed asking that he be named executor. A hearing will be had on November 30th.

Mrs. Montague in her will leaves 20 acres on which the family resided to her husband for his lifetime and after his death to the son. It also leaves $50 each to the children of her granddaughter Mrs. Homer South of Hammond; $100 each to her grandchildren Newel D. Montague and Cuba Noel South and $200 to her son Seth. The balance is left to the husband. Mr. Montague died about two weeks before his wife did. Her will was made when he was still among the living.

Most people who live to look back over 80 years or more are like Joe Cannon in this particular—they are spare built and wiry. Fat folks spend too much time negotiating with chefs and waiters to enjoy the privileges reserved for the members of centenary clubs.

WINTERING OF BEES

October is the time for the beekeeper to put the storm windows on his beehives and replenish the fuel supply of each colony of bees. A colony of bees survives periods of cold weather by forming a compact cluster inside of which heat is created by muscular activity, the source of this energy being good white honey or sugar syrup, provided by the beekeepers. The New Year in Beekeeping started about August 15th, when each colony should have been provided with a young laying queen to insure the colony with a large force of young worker bees. Assuming that has been done, the colonies should be provided in October or early November with winter protection, to conserve the energy of these young bees for the important spring brood period. They should be provided with plenty of good stores to tide them through the long winter period.

Each colony of bees should have at least 30 pounds of stores in the hive to insure safe wintering. Further stores will be required in the spring. The winter stores may consist of frames of good white honey or sugar syrup. Where there is a flow of honey from late fall flowers, each colony should be fed one or two, ten pound pails of syrup regardless of the amount of stores in the hive. This honey will be stored next to the winter cluster where it will be the first to be consumed by the bees, thus reducing the danger of winter losses due to dysentery. The syrup should be made of two parts of sugar and water, determine the amount of stores that your colonies will need. Place as many pounds of sugar in your heating tank or boiler and level the surface of the sugar. Then fill with water to this same level and the result will be a two to one sugar syrup. Heat the mixture to the boiling point with constant stirring to prevent the sugar from burning. Then add one tablespoonful of tartaric acid to each 20 pounds of sugar, first dissolving the acid in a little water. Allow the syrup to cool and then place in five or ten pound friction top pails. Punch a few holes in the center of the lids from the inside out, using a shingle nail. Invert a pail over the hole in the inner cover of the bee hive or place it directly over the frames if without inner covers, adding an empty super in either case with the cover above to prevent the loss of heat. Feed each colony as many pounds of sugar as it needs stores, or fifty percent more of sugar syrup. Each ten pound pail of syrup will give approximately six and one half pounds of stores when the bees have stored it in the combs.

Each colony of bees should be protected from cold temperatures to help conserve the energy of the bees, and reduce the consumption of the stores of honey. Sheltered locations are desirable when the cold winds from the north and northwest cannot strike the hives or blow in at the entrances. Tight fitting covers and bottom boards aid considerably. Reduced entrances are important, with the hives facing toward the east, south or southeast. All these factors help, but the wise beekeeper will provide further protection. This may be in the form of a regular packing case composed of lumber which will provide room for four to six hives of some packing material as planer shavings, dry leaves, clover chaff or wheat straw. To construct a temporary case, build a skeleton framework about the hive, which will extend four inches beyond on all sides, and eight to ten inches above. On the inside of this form, tack single-ply tarred paper, using pieces of lath to hold the paper in place. Construct a tunnel as wide as the hive and one inch deep, from the entrance of the hive to the outside wall, and cut an opening in the paper at this point. If the colony is on a hive stand, pack leaves under it or else raise it about four inches off the ground, and place packing under it. With the tunnel in place, fill in the remainder of the case, packing the material firmly at the corners and somewhat more loosely between. Then construct a telescope top using heavy roofing paper for the outer cover or fasten a sheet of the paper in place by using wires running over the top and fasten to nails in the framework. About December first, the size of the entrance should be reduced to an opening 3/4 in. by 1 1/2 inches and again enlarge somewhat in the spring, about April first, when general flight weather prevails. If desirable two colonies may be packed side by side in the same case, thus reducing the total expense. The cost of this added winter protection will be returned to the beekeepers by a greatly increased honey crop.

OMAR MILLER FREED OF FORGERY CHARGE

When the case of Omar Miller who was charged with having forged a check in Mattoon recently, came up for a hearing in Justice Abel's court in Mattoon, Saturday, it was dismissed.

Mr. Miller and his friends had little difficulty in convincing the court that the charge was based on mistaken identity and that there never had been any real grounds for getting Mr. Miller into this trouble.

Last year pneumonia caused 5867 deaths in Illinois. One third of these fatalities, or 1912, were among children less than 5 years of age. The others were pretty well distributed among all other age groups.

Pneumonia usually trails along pretty close to a falling temperature. When the weather is coldest, pneumonia is most prevalent, suggesting a close relation between the two. Recent researches indicate that poor ventilation, smoky, dirty air and too congested living quarters are important factors in paving the way for pneumonia. Any unusually severe exposure, especially to those unaccustomed to physical hardships, is apt to bring on pneumonia and particularly so during cold weather.

October witnessed the arrival of 11500 new babies in Illinois. Those who enjoy breast feeding during the next 8 months will have a distinct advantage against the many hazards which make the first year of life by all odds the most difficult to survive.

Oversized heads, bow legs, knock knees, flabby muscles, irritableness and anemic complexion are some of the symptoms of rickets. Youngsters look better without any of these manifestations and the right diet coupled with sunshine will keep them away. From now until Spring sunshine will be at a premium, making it desirable for children to take full advantage of what does come.

I. A. A. DIRECTOR SAYS FARMERS' ELEVATORS HAVE BEEN DENIED RIGHTFUL INCOME EXEMPTION

Not one of the farmers' cooperative grain elevators in Illinois have been able to obtain exemption from the payment of income tax or filing of annual returns, despite the intentions of Congress at the time the revenue act was passed, according to a report of the Illinois Agricultural Association to the Moultrie County Farm Bureau.

"Illinois farmers' elevators have been denied the exemptions intended to be granted by Congress and the present provisions of our national internal revenue act are detrimental to the promotion of more efficiency in the production and marketing of our nation's crop," declares George R. Wicker, director of the cooperative auditing department of the Illinois Agricultural Association, who has just returned from appearing before the congressional ways and means committee, Secretary of Agriculture Jardine and President Coolidge, relative to drafting and promoting an amendment to the revenue act which will give definite exemption to farmers' cooperative organizations and associations.

While in Washington, Mr. Wicker cited four tests cases, regarding cooperative exemptions, brought before the treasury department which met with denials because of minor technicalities. As representative of the leaders of agricultural cooperation in this country, he asked that specific legislation granting relief for cooperatives be included in the new revenue amendment.

"The provisions of the existing law, as well as previous revenue acts, are restrictive to members only and therefore do not accommodate the general practice of cooperative associations of dealing with both members and non-members," states Mr. Wicker, "The proposed amendment broadens the basis for exemption and in addition provides for the distribution of net incomes common to such associations which are conducted upon the actual cost of service and assessment plan."

Director Wicker, who is also the chairman of the committee representing agricultural cooperatives in sponsoring the revenue amendment, states that if the new amendment is included in the new revenue act, it will save the individual farmers' elevator companies of Illinois an average of from $400 to $500 annually.

ILLINOIS REAL ESTATE NOW PAYS 85 PER CENT OF STATE TAX REVENUE

Illinois real estate constitutes less than 40 per cent of the wealth of the state but is paying 85 per cent of the taxes, according to a report received by the Moultrie County Farm Bureau from the Illinois Agricultural Association.

"People of Illinois realize very keenly the breakdown of the present revenue laws," stated J. C. Watson, director of the department of taxation and statistics of the State Farm Bureau, in discussing the proposed revenue amendment to the State Constitution which will be voted on by the people of Illinois during the general election of November 1926.

"Farmers of Illinois realize also that unless the General Assembly is given much broader powers than it now possesses, it cannot do much to remedy the present condition. As a result of the present Illinois tax system, people are becoming more and more unwilling to own their own homes, and farm ownership has become very undesirable.

"The Constitution of Illinois was adopted in 1870 when practically all property in the state was tangible and could be assessed and taxed in the same manner. This is no longer the case. Under the proposed tax amendment to the Illinois Constitution, the members of the two legislative bodies of our state will be permitted to adopt methods of taxation, free from limitations in the present Constitution, adopted fifty five years ago, which now prevent an equitable adjustment of our tax burdens. The proposed amendment will impose no new taxes or affect any existing exemptions from taxation."

Moultrie County Farm Bureau and the Illinois Agricultural Association have been cooperating for more than three years in the work of bringing about more equitable adjustments in the taxes of this county and state. Both organizations, represented by Director Watson, were active in drafting the proposed revenue amendment which was submitted to and approved by the General Assembly of this state last March.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Let me live out my years in heat of blood!
Let me lie drunken with the dreamer's wine!
Let me not see this soul-house built of mud
Go toppling to the dust—a vacant shrine.
Let me go quickly, like a candle light
Snuffed just at the heyday of its glow.
Give me high noon—let it then be night!
Thus would I go.
And grant that when I face the grisly thing,
My song may trumpet down the gray perhaps.
Let me be a tune-swept fiddlestring
That feels the Master Melody—and snaps!

EMPLOYEES OF I. C. RAILROAD NUMBER 73,000; 8400 MILES MAIN TRACK

Nearly twice as many employees of the Illinois Central System, including the Central of Georgia Railway, are engaged in the maintenance of tracks, buildings and other facilities as are engaged in actually running the trains. There are half again as many keeping the cars and locomotives in condition as are traveling over the road. President C. H. Markham brings out this comparison in his November 2 letter to the public illustrating how important team work is in railway service.

The total number of employees is approximately 73,000. The figures for employees in maintenance of way, in maintenance of equipment and in train service are respectively 23,000, 18,000 and 12,000. In addition, 10,800 are clerks, storekeepers, janitors, watchmen and the like; 8,000 operate freight and passenger stations, baggage rooms, dining cars and telegraph and telephone service, dispatch trains and do other work connected with the movement of trains; 700 are specialists in engineering, architecture, chemistry and the like, and 500 are executives, division officers and staff assistants.

The Illinois Central System operates 8,400 miles of first main track in fifteen states of the Mississippi and Missouri valleys and the Southeast. It has twenty-four operating divisions.

"Few industries require such studied and skilled co-ordination of effort as railway transportation," President Markham writes. "Railway service in this country represents the sum of the efforts of nearly two million employees skilled in many diverse lines of work with all their energies directed toward a common goal, the production of transportation."

OWNERSHIP DOUBTFUL

Traffic Cop: "Hey, you! Is that your car?"

"Well, officer, since you ask me considering the fact that I still have 50 payments to make, owe three repair bills and haven't settled for the new tire, I really don't think it is."

SERIOUS ERROR

"Did you ever make a serious mistake in a prescription?" asked the customer.

"Only once," replied the drug store clerk. "I gave a fellow a quart when his prescription only called for a half pint."

TOP YEARLING STEERS AT CHICAGO FROM MOUTRIE CO.

Henry Hortenstine of Gays, made the high sale of yearling steers at the Chicago market October 29 when he received $15.50 per hundredweight for a fine shipment of his own feeding. The 63 head averaged 992 pounds and for number and quality it was one of the best consignments in some days. The cattle were Texas bred Herefords which has been bought last December at around $40.00 per head, at that time averaging 317 pounds. They sold at $145.75 per head, nearly five times their cost. The yearlings were fattened on a ration of corn, linseed meal and hay. They sold on a market with 13,000 cattle reported on sale, including numerous choice lots of light stock in the run. SUPREME COURT RULES ATTORNEY ED DAZEY MUST PAY DUNCAN

A suit of more than ordinary interest was decided in the Supreme Court this week when that tribunal ruled that Attorney Ed Dazey, the Findlay banker, must pay to Martin K. Duncan the sum of $8,400 with interest which brings the whole amount up to $19,000.

Many years ago Mr. Duncan deeded over his farm to Mr. Dazey. He at that time was leaving Shelby county on account of some legal troubles. When he later returned he demanded the farm he deeded back to him as he had never received payment for same. Mr. Dazey refused to accede to the request. Litigation started. In the lower courts Mr. Duncan won out and Mr. Dazey appealed to the higher courts. This appeal resulted in affirming the verdict against Mr. Dazey in the above amount.

A SPECIAL MESSAGE FOR ILLINOIS DAY

From the Illinois Christian Missionary Society.

1. The Illinois Christian Missionary Society was organized seventy-five years ago. It goes back to within forty-two years of the Declaration and address by Thomas Campbell. Our State Society is older than any general missionary agency we have, except the American Christian Missionary Society.
2. When the State Society was organized we had 104 churches in Illinois and probably not more than 1200 congregations throughout the world. At that time our aggregate membership was 6,539 in Illinois and about 75,000 throughout the world. Today we have 700 churches in Illinois and 9,000 throughout the world. These have a membership of 130,000 in Illinois and 1,500,000 throughout the world.
3. We are not claiming that the Illinois Christian Missionary Society is responsible for this growth and development throughout Illinois and the world but we know enough of the history of our society to claim that it has been a remarkable factor in our development. If the roll were called fully one-half of our Illinois churches would be compelled to respond, "We owe our existence to our state work".
4. The one day in the year in which we appear to have the right of way is the first Sunday in November.

This is recognized as Illinois Day. If the churches will properly observe it this year we will be able to meet the demands upon us in a satisfactory and successful manner. Of course, there are various ways of observing this day but the minimum would be the presentation of these facts and an offering for the work.

5. We are not compelled to recite history to prove our claims upon your affections and your purses. During the past year we have held thirty-six evangelistic meetings with a thousand additions; two-thirds of these have been by obedience. Our workers have preached 1250 gospel sermons and have visited one-third of all the churches in our fair state. This work includes the organization of four new churches and the re-organization of fourteen.

6. There is another item to which we would call attention to day. More than 5,000 conferences and church meetings were attended during the past missionary year. We actually mailed out 26,500 communications to the churches, including circular letters and cards. Our literature has been abundant, and we have tried to make it worth while. Twenty-six money-raising and building campaigns by State workers show $300,000 assembled.

7. The Illinois Mission leaves, our

State paper, is a monthly magazine of twenty-four pages and the subscription price is twenty-five cents a year. In other words, you get 300 pages of literature for a quarter. Send in your subscription direct or hand it to your pastor.

8. The young people's society of Christian Endeavor has accepted a Living Link Mission, the Second Christian church of Rock Island. It is urged that the local C. E. organization send in their offering.

H. H. Peters, State Secretary.
