Only Big Celebration in This Part of the State. Weather Permitting Sullivan Will Entertain Biggest Crowd in Its History.

(By Elliott Billman)
For the past three or four weeks the Legion has been taking you into its confidence and reporting to you each step as its extensive program for a great patriotic celebration for July 5th was built up. It has taken a lot of work and time to gather a part of the program here an apart there. Decatur sends its airplane, quartet and swimmers, Danville its fireworks, Kentucky its carnival, Michigan its trained animals, Iowa its advertising and Indiana its parachute jumper—all of Illinois and her neighboring states are concentrating their talent in Sullivan on next Monday so that we and our guests may have our annual grand and glorious celebration. Whatever time and work were necessary, have been given; the Legion is now able to report to you that the plans for the day are complete, even down to arranging to assist you in parking your car and providing you with good cool drinking water whenever you get thirsty.

Full Credit Due Merchants
The Legion has had full charge of the plans this year as in past years, but here and now every member of the local post wants to give credit where credit is due, so that if the day is a success and you are well entertained and have a good time, you may know you are entitled to your thanks and appreciation. In every celebration which is entirely free, the problem of financing it is the most difficult to solve and overcome. Given the money, anybody can arrange and execute the plans for a celebration as the Legion is now doing. Alone, the Legion would be helpless and unable to procure the money necessary for

UNION SERVICES AT THE PARK AUDITORIUM BEGIN NEXT SUNDAY

During July and August union services will be held every Sunday evening at the Park Auditorium and a special invitation is given to every one to feel free to come and help in the same.
These services have been held for the past number of years during these two months of the summer time, and have proved a blessing in bringing the people together in one great congregation. We trust that this season may be greater in the way of a rich blessing to the whole community, than any previous one.

You can do much to help make these community services a great success. Feel that they are your services, and that you are going to do what you can by being interested yourself, and interesting your neighbor. It cannot hurt you to spend an hour thus. It may do you untold good.
Your presence there may be an inspiration to some one there who would never think of attending such a meeting if you did not lend your influence. No one can stand alone. We all need the help of some one.

Next Sunday night, July 4th the subject will be "Your Country and Mine". Come and invite your friends.
The minister and the Sunday they will have charge of the services is as follows. Any change in date will be made known:
July 4th—Rev. D. A. MacLeod.
July 11—Rev. C. D. Robertson.
July 18—Rev. D. A. MacLeod.
July 25—Rev. Robertson.
Aug. 1—Rev. Robertson.

COLORED GIANTS FAILED TO DEFEAT SONA'S GREYS

A big crowd turned out Sunday to see the Colored Giants do battle on the base ball diamond against the Sullivan Greys. The game was rather evenly played as the score indicates. The conclusion of the game the Greys showed 14 to 12 in favor of Sullivan.

Coming Sunday, July 4th the Blues will play the local team Monday afternoon, beginning 7 o'clock the Decatur Woodmen here for their third game. On the first, Sullivan won the and Monday's result will depend on the two teams is the bet. Preparations are being made to care of a record breaking crowd it is expected that the Decatur will be accompanied by hundreds of rosters.

SEVEN DEER IN PARK
Some of the first attractions to arrive for the 4th of July celebration are two fawns which were born Monday night. This increases park custodian Si Schoonover's zoo to seven. The deer pen is always a great attraction for park visitors.

APPLICATIONS FOR INSURANCE KEEP COMING

Liberal Offer Made to Paid in Advance Progress Subscribers Induces Many to Enroll in Triangle Mutual to Secure Home Protection.

When people stop to consider the desirability of mutual home protection as embodied in the idea back of the Triangle Mutual Protective Association, they do not hesitate to fill out an application blank, for enrollment.

Especially is this true since The Progress has arrangements whereby it takes care of the enrollment fee. In companies of this kind the fee is usually $3.00 to $5.00. You pay that much to get in. The by-laws of the Triangle Mutual provide for this $5 fee, but if your subscription to The Progress is paid in advance you need not fill in the application blank and if your health and age requirements are O. K. a certificate will be issued to you by the secretary of the company.

If you have no policy in a mutual company, this offer of The Progress means more to you than you may realize. It means a saving of $5.00 to start with. It means the assurance that should you die suddenly your loved ones will not be left without ready cash.

As soon as we enroll 1000 members the policy will be worth $1000 upon death of the insured, provided all assessments and expense fees are paid. You do not get something for nothing. Your subscription to The Progress must be paid in advance before you are entitled to FREE enrollment in the company. Should a member die you pay your assessments and you pay the yearly expense fees of the association. That is $1000 of insurance on as reasonable a basis as any sane person could expect to get it.

The big thing we want you to bear in mind is that The Progress gives the policies FREE to its paid-in-advance subscribers. Hundreds are taking advantage of this offer. Everybody can use another $1000 of insurance under this most reasonable offer. It applies not only to the head of the house but to all the members of the family between the ages of 10 and 55.

If you have a number of folks in your family who want in on this proposition do not wait until you get papers to clip enough applications. Call us or drop a card and we will mail you the blank applications for you to fill in.

The Triangle Mutual is going big. It's a meritorious move. You will never regret having joined it.

The big thing to bear in mind is that The Progress takes care of your enrollment fee and thereby saves you $5.00 which most companies of this kind, charge you to join.

Do you fully understand mutual insurance? If you do not, let us explain it to you, or ask J. B. Tabor the president of the Triangle; J. L. McLaughlin, the vice president; Homer W. Wright the secretary; Guy S. Little the treasurer; or J. H. Pearson, R. C. Miller, W. R. Robinson, Dr. J. F. Lawson, R. B. Foster the directors. Read carefully the explanation as it appears in last week's issue of The Progress.

This company is not a strictly local affair. Newspapers in other nearby cities are making an offer similar to that made by The Progress. Every mail adds new enrollments to the big Triangle family.
Let's have yours!

Mrs. Nichols Granted Divorce on Grounds Of Extreme Cruelty

Judge Baldwin Heard Evidence in Case Friday. Mother given Custody of Daughter Whom Father Must Help Support.

Mrs. Mabel Nichols was granted a divorce from Raymond Nichols by Judge James Baldwin in the Circuit Court Friday afternoon.

The Judge heard the case, both complainant and defendant having waived a trial by jury.

This case has been pending for nearly a year and has been the basis for minor court actions. A jury in the Circuit Court last fall found the defendant not guilty of the charges of cruelty made against him and Judge Sentel who presided refused to grant the divorce.

Mrs. Nichols was the main witness for the complainant in the case Friday. Judge W. G. Cochran was her attorney. She related numerous incidents to back her charges of extreme and repeated cruelty. Two of these instances were corroborated by other witnesses. The defendant entered a denial.

One interesting feature of this case has been the fact that the defendant, a disciple of Pastor Russel, pleaded his own case. In several justice court cases growing out of the animosity engendered by the divorce case, he contended successfully against Judge Cochran, States Attorney Brown and City Attorney J. E. Jennings. He also successfully defended his case before a jury in the Circuit Court last Fall.

On a plea for change of venue, Judge Sentel transferred the case to Judge Baldwin. That jurist very patiently put up with a lot of the capers cut by the defendant in presenting his case.

At the conclusion of taking of testimony Friday, Judge Baldwin reviewed the case in detail and then granted the divorce to Mrs. Nichols. He also granted her custody of the couple's little four year old daughter Catherine. The father was granted the right to the custody of Catherine between the hours of 1 to 7 on Sundays. These hours are changed to 1 to 6 after November 1st. He pleaded for half time custody but the Judge ruled that he would not have time to properly look after his work if given any week-day custody, although Mrs. Nichols also was not pleased with the Sunday arrangement.

The Judge ruled that Mr. Nichols pay $2.50 per week toward the support of the child for the present, subject to change later.

Judge Baldwin ruled that the complainant pay $100 solicitor's fee for Mrs. Nichols. $40 of this has already been paid.

A motion by Nichols for a new trial was over-ruled. An appeal was then prayed and allowed. Defendant was given 90 days in which to file his certificate of evidence, upon giving bond in the sum of $500.

Furniture was awarded to complainant, subject to certain stipulations and chattel mortgages.

On Monday morning Mr. Nichols called up The Progress office from Decatur and stated that Judge Baldwin had agreed to reconsider his plea for a new trial. The plea was to be made Thursday morning of this week in Decatur.

BLDG. AND LOAN RE-ELECTS

At the annual meeting of the Sullivan Building & Loan Association held Saturday night C. E. McFerrin, Matt Sedman and M. L. Lowe were re-elected directors. C. E. McFerrin was chosen president, C. R. Sullivan Golfers at Effingham Thursday; Moweaqua Victor Tournaments Create Great Interest Among Boys Who Get Their Exercise Swatting and Chasing Golf Balls.

Sullivan golf players have the tournament fever. Thursday a big delegation of them went to Effingham to play the club of that city. Upon special invitation extended by Mrs. A. French, wife of the secretary of the Effingham club, a delegation of ladies accompanied the players and will play bridge while the men swat the pill.

To determine what players shall compete in the Effingham tournament an elimination contest was held on the local course.

The twelve lowest scores during this elimination contest decided the team of twelve to go to Effingham.

These scores were as follows: Troy Scott 81; Elliott Billman 81; Lute Hudson 83, William Gardner 84, Forrest (Bo) Wood 84, Carl R. Hill 85, J. H. Pearson 86, John J. Gauger 87, Bert McCune 87, John W. Pifer 87, L. P. Dickerson 88 and G. R. Fleming 89. The following five have qualified as alternates: J. F. Gibbon 90, Paul Hankla 94, George A. Sentel 94, Frank McPheeters 94, and R. B. Foster 94.

Sunday's game at Moweaqua resulted in an easy victory for the club of that city. Jim Starr the pro has been coaching the Mowky boys and their drives of 300 yards and better were the admiration and envy of the Sullivan visitors.

No elimination was had as to players to meet the Mowky boys and as a consequence some slipped into the game who ought to have stayed home.

Eighteen from here were in the game. Jack Pearson made low score with an 80. Other Sullivan scores were J. J. Gauger 97, Paul Hankla 88, Levi P. Dickerson 87, G. L. Todd 96, J. W. Finley 106, William A. Gardner 84, John W. Pifer 90, F. W. Wood 90, George A. Roney 94, Bert McCune 93, Frank Eads 100, Keith Grigsby 100, Brandenburg 116, Frank McPheeters 96, Frank Newbold 107, A. C. Dearth 83, John Eads 100. Moweaqua's points up were 82 to 10 for Sullivan.

A return game will be played on the Sullivan course on Sunday afternoon, July 11th.

Sullivan felt sure of beating Effingham when the crowd left here Thursday afternoon. They also feel that on the home course with all of the really good players in the game, they can make things more than interesting for the Mowky boys on July 11th.

ALEY SMITH SUCCUMBS AFTER A LONG ILLNESS; FUNERAL WEDNESDAY

Aley Smith died at his home in the Western part of this city Tuesday afternoon about 3 o'clock following a long illness. He had been confined to his bed for many weeks. His health failed about nine months ago and every effort was made to recuperate but to no avail.

He was born in Sullivan township, August 22, 1862 and at the time of his death was 65 years, 10 months and 6 days old.

He grew to manhood in this county and on March 31, 1886 was united in marriage with Miss Hulda Mathias. One son, Claude, was born to this union. He and Mrs. Smith survive.

The Smith family farmed in Jonathan Creek township until about eleven years ago when they moved to this city. Here Mr. Smith worked as a ditcher, and also did concrete work and contracting on a small scale. For some years, before the Jefferson theatre burned, he was employed as a janitor of that building.

Funeral services were held at the family home Wednesday afternoon and were conducted by Rev. D. A. MacLeod of the Presbyterian church. The remains were taken to the Jonathan Creek cemetery for burial. The pall bearers were Verne Ashbrook, Albert Fetters, Sam Oliver, James Foley, Henry Webb and Luther Garrett.

CURLY BURNS GAVE BOND AND WAS RELEASED FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Curly Burns, or Clarence Hissong, as his real name is said to be, walked out of the circuit court room without being in the custody of officers Friday afternoon. This was something new for Curly for he has been in continuous custody for more than a year and a half. His release was effected by giving bond in the sum of $10,000. This bond was signed by a man named John E. Connell, a relative of Burns; Roy Kirkendoll of Mattoon and John O. Smith of this city.

Burns was arrested shortly after the robbery of the Gays bank in January, 1925. He made several confessions and later repudiated them. He was indicted, tried and convicted but the conviction was on a technical error found faulty by the State Supreme Court. Before Burns could be released he was again indicted by the March grand jury on the bank robbery charge and brought here from Chester. He has been in jail here for some weeks. Attorney Real of Mattoon who is his attorney, was able to find bondsmen for him and as a consequence Curly is now at liberty, at least until the September term of court when he must appear for trial on the new indictment.

Eddie Ray Munson of Mattoon, who was indicted with Burns and found guilty by a jury was also released by the Supreme Court action. He was re-indicted but has made his get-away and his present whereabouts is unknown. Latest report said he was doing evangelistic work in Indiana.

SULLIVAN TO HAVE ITS BAND CONCERTS

Indications are good that Sullivan will have its Thursday night band concerts, beginning some time about the middle of July.

Joe McCabe was soliciting subscriptions to pay for these concerts this week and his methods met with a good deal of encouragement and success.

The business men seem to feel that it would be a bad thing for the city if this feature of Summer entertainment were omitted.

The High School band supplemented by some of the older musicians of the community constitute a good organization to put on these concerts.

Definite announcement as to the time of the first concert will be available by time The Progress goes to press next week.

A. M. BLYTHE AND WIFE DIED LAST FRIDAY

Well Known Gays Banker Called Suddenly at 3 o'clock a. m. Illness and Shock Fatal For Wife Who Died 11:45 That Night.

A. M. Blythe died suddenly at his home in Gays early Thursday morning as a result of an attack of acute indigestion.

Mrs. A. M. Blythe who had been in ill-health for some months succumbed to her illness and the sudden shock of her husband's death Friday night.

The loss of Mr. and Mrs. Blythe has been a sad blow to the Gays community where they had resided for many years.

Mr. Blythe was well known throughout Moultrie county as he was serving his third term on the Board of Supervisors where he was a progressive and influential member. Friends asked him to be a candidate for chairman of the board this Spring, but on account of the ill-health of his wife and other business matters, he declined. He was chairman of the important finance committee and the committee on officers' reports. His last visit in Sullivan was on Wednesday when he met with the other members of the committee on building and grounds relative to the court house painting job.

On Thursday Mr. Blythe attended to business as usual, ate his supper, spent the evening with his family and retired at his regular bedtime. Shortly after midnight he was taken ill. Dr. Hardinger called and gave medical attention. About 3 o'clock Friday morning Mrs. Blythe went to the bedside of her husband and found him dead.

A. M. Blythe was born in Ash Grove township, Shelby county, November 27, 1859 and at the time of his death was 66 years, 6 months and 28 days of age. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blythe, a pioneer family.

For many years he was in the grain business, the firm being Blythe and Treat. Upon organization of the People's State Bank he assumed leadership of it and retained that position.

How About Cutting The Weeds Before July 4?

On July 4th Sullivan expects thousands of visitors. All of these will at some time or other pass through our uptown.

It is but fitting that we should show these guests the honor of a clean city.

Right in the uptown, less than a block from the square, are sights now that are a disgrace to any enterprising city. There are lots overgrown with weeds and on these lots are big piles of ashes. The alleys are littered with rubbish. It is unfortunate that the two vacant spaces around the Square should present such an eyesore to the visitors, but there is no excuse for horse-high weeds and ash piles.

For your own sake and for the sake of Sullivan let's clean up before next Monday.

ADDING TO THE SURPLUS

The farmers' factories are running over-time these days.

They are making wheat and corn and oats. They are turning out live-stock, dairy products, fruits, vegetables, poultry and eggs, etc., etc.

In most of these lines there is a surplus in existence now. If farms were run like big factories are, production now would be at a standstill. That would keep the prices up. Some might even be shipped to foreign countries and there disposed of. That too, would tend to stabilize prices.

If these farmers had the influence that manufacturers have an exorbitant tariff could be put on farm products imported from foreign countries. That would put the farmer in a position to say what the buyer of his wheat and corn and other things he raises would have to pay. The farmer, well organized, and with limited production behind his demand could fix his own prices.

All of this is an idealistic condition. We know that the farmers will not do so. The farmer raises big crops. He may not get much for them. He curses a blue streak and deplores his hard lot in life and then proceeds to raise more crops to add to the surplus already existing.

Now when he buys its a different story. He buys from well organized industry. He pays the price that is asked or does without what he needs. There is never a surplus to hammer down prices. If organized industry has a surplus, it stops producing. It ships the surplus abroad and takes a loss on it rather than reduce prices at home. A high protective tariff shuts out competition. These United States are the private preserves of the big tariff protected industries. You either pay their price or you do without.

Whenever the farmers have had some plan whereby they too could dispose of their surplus, the big interests have squelched them. Lots of farm products mean cheap food for the labor that big industry employs. That is one reason why Cal Coolidge and Andy Mellon and others who represent the manufacturing East oppose any relief for the mid-west farmers.

Relief is much desired. The measures introduced in the late lamented Congress were designed to give the farmers some of the measure of protection that manufacture has. These measures lost. Democrats voted for them although they were part and parcel of the high protection tariff system. They would, however, have been a temporary aid.

The farmers have been the bulwark of the Eastern protectionists. They have swallowed the bunk and delivered the votes for years. They thought they too were protected. Now their eyes are open. So far as the farmer is concerned he would be far better off under a free trade plan. Take off the tariff on farm products. Take off the tariff on manufactures. The American farmer with his improved machinery can produce food cheaper than any country in the world. He can feed the world, provided the world has the money to pay for it.

Give him a world market to sell in and let him buy what he needs in a world market without any robber tariff charges and the American farmer will come into his own. He may not get much more for his stuff but his dollar will have a greater buying value.

The Republican plan is to protect the man who sells to the farmer and to permit him to gouge him and rob him to his heart's content. It's not the small town retailer who does this but the manufacturer who produces the goods. When the farmer wants some of the same kind of protection, why horrors, no! That would be class legislation.

Cut out all this d—d hypocrisy. The high protective tariff is the rankest kind of class legislation. It is special privilege. It makes robbers of the few and victims of the many.

Tariff protected industry would not spend millions to elect its minions to seats in Congress and the Senate if it did not know that having them there was a paying investment.

Will the people ever wake up?

ALLEN MOORE GAVE $50,000

Senator Caraway of Arkansas says that about $2,000,000 was spent by Frank L. Smith's friends to get him the Republican senatorial nomination. Allen F. Moore who managed that campaign says that Caraway is talking silly. He also says that he gave a measly $50,000 and not $500,000 as is charged.

The term of a United States senator is 6 years. The pay is $10,000 per year, or a total of $60,000 for ten years. What Mr. Moore spent was but a trifle in the political debauchery which resulted in Col. Smith's nomination. Col. Smith is head of a commission that has lots to say about rates utilities may charge in Illinois. As a consequence is is alleged the utility corporations were given a good shaking down. The Colonel still hangs on to that job and uses it as a club over those who are under his commission's jurisdiction, in the interest of his campaign for election next November.

Talk about highwaymen! The political hijackers head that profession.

But why should it be worth $50,000 to Allen F. Moore to have Frank L. Smith nominated for senator? What does the Monticello statesman expect to get out of it? He's not playing the game for friendship's sake, as William B. McKinley is well qualified to testify. If Col. Frank L. Smith fails to make good to Mr. Moore, it is but logical to expect that he will be given a dose of pepsin syrup and made to walk the political gang-plant even as McKinley did.

Are the people ready to turn things over to the coterie of scheming and grafting millionaires and billionaires who now constitute the royal line of succession within the Republican party?

A. M. BLYTHE

Moultrie County lost a big man the other day, when Supervisor A. M. Blythe of Gays, died. He was an ideal citizen.

He was a bitter foe of intolerance of every kind and character. The better-than-thou class of reformers and buttinskys he despised and never hesitated to say so.

He was the type of man who stood out in the open. You never found him a trimmer or fraud. He was on the square with his friends and his acquaintances. To public questions he gave careful thought and study and a wholesome application of common sense and then followed the course of action which his conscience dictated.

His Creator called him. His soul passed to the Beyond and there, before its journey was completed, it paused for a moment to be joined by the soul of his wife, who so closely followed him in death and together they now tread the Great Unknown.

Perhaps this was even as they might have wished, had they ever given that matter any thought.

Alfred Blythe left a place in the Gays community, which will be hard to fill, for it was a place which he had achieved only through a life spent in worthy endeavor.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Okla.

Professor R. L. Jones, Superintendent of the schools of Memphis and formerly state superintendent of public instruction of Tennessee, made the following statement relative to the status of the youth of today compared to the youth of the preceding generation:

Changes wrought by inventions that have changed the economic conditions of the people and modified their social life cannot help but have its influence on the young. The youth of former days lived on the farm and had plenty of work to do. Today the majority of them live in the city with little to do outside of attending school. Work and early responsibility had a steady influence on the youth of the preceding generation.

However, the youth of today is as sound at heart, possesses more wisdom, is better advanced in book learning, though less skilled in manual work, than the preceding generation.

If there is any falling down in our social organization, it is due to the breaking down of the home and not to the school, for the discipline in the schools of the country today is better than at any period in the history of the past. The chief conduct problems that the schools meet with grow out of the broken home, where father and mother either live together in constant disagreement or they have separated and left the children robbed of the paternal training and care, which every child is due.

The children of the present generation, in my opinion, taken as a whole, are the most promising bunch of youngsters that have ever lived on the earth.

YOUR RICH UNCLE.
WHAT MOTHERS DON'T KNOW.

A dozen king penguins may be seen standing up straight in New York's Zoological Garden. First to come here alive from their cold home in the Antarctic, it is doubtful that they will survive the hot Summer. Pay them a visit if you can.

They stand three feet high, looking like soldiers or clergymen, very solemn. And their breeding habits make you thoughtful. The hen penguin lays only one white egg. If she laid it on the ground in her home climate it would freeze in half a minute. She puts her feet together, the egg on top of her feet, lets down over it a roll of feather covered fat from her stomach, and the heat of the fat keeps the egg and her feet warm.

When she can't stand it any longer, the father penguin slides up and the egg is swiftly switched to his feet and he lowers a roll of fat.

The Reverend Dr. Slaten expects the human race to change greatly in sixty years. "Our grandchildren will make nature their teacher, rather than theology or philosophy." He also says our grandchildren will believe in internationalism, which will replace the patriotism of today.

Things don't happen so rapidly. Patriotism, which means holding together and keeping what your ancestors have accomplished, will be necessary for many generations. As for making nature your teacher, without the help of theology or philosophy nature can teach little unless the light of philosophy helps you to understand and the light of inspiration makes it worth while. Primitive men had nature for teacher, and she only taught them to murder each other, and invent superstitions to justify it.

Uncle Sam is certainly a rich old gentleman. His receipts yesterday amounted to more than five hundred million dollars, just a small part of his income. In Tom Reed's day, people called it dreadful for one Congress to spend a billion. Half a Congress could spend that now in half a year, and ask for more. No wonder Wall Street and the big men are happy. The real money and real values are here.

Senator Reed, of Missouri, earnest and energetic, attacks the bill to extend Federal maternity aid to the States for another year. Mr. Reed objects to what he calls "a bunch of unmarried women going about the country trying to tell REAL mothers how to raise their babies."

The good Senator calls it "interference with American motherhood."

If Senator Reed went to a well managed lying-in hospital he would find many unmarried women trained nurses, helping mothers to have their babies. And he wouldn't find the mothers dying like flies, as they do throughout the country, tens of thousands of mothers dying in childbirth every year, because they lack knowledge and intelligent care. Merely HAVING a baby doesn't make a mother know how to take care of a baby.

This Government spends millions teaching farmers to take care of newborn pigs, calves and other animals. It ought to spend a little money also to help human mothers with their children. And when Senator Reed thinks it over he will agree with that.

Financial newspapers worry about any effort to help the farmers, fearing it may be a "tax on food."

That is convincing, when your sympathies happen to be on that side. What about heavy duties, taxes that one hundred and fifteen millions of people pay, to protect a few dozen or hundred of manufacturers? Is it all right to tax all the people to protect the "right sort of people," but all wrong to tax anybody to protect thirty-five million people working on the farms? No!

The Railway Organization

Although railway transportation is commonly thought of in terms of machinery, the human organization behind it is far more important than the mechanical instruments required in the production of service. The three human factors fundamental to railway service are patron, owner and employe. The first-named demands service, and the second and third produce it. Each puts something essential into railroading, and each gets—or should get—something of equal value out of it.

The patron puts in his money by the payment of rates, and he deserves to receive in return the satisfactory transportation he must have in order to carry on existence under our modern civilization. The owner supplies the investment required to build and equip the railroad, and he deserves to receive in return dividends comparable to those which investments in other fields would yield him. The employe puts in the labor necessary to make the machinery provided by the owner produce transportation, and he deserves to receive in return fair wages and reasonable conditions under which to work.

The close interdependence of these factors is evident from the fact that the rates paid by the patron reward both the owner and the employe, the plant provided by the owner gives both service to the patron and the opportunity for employment to the employe, and the labor of the employe gives a going value to the plant of the owner and likewise renders service to the patron. All three factors are indispensable not only to the continuation of the service but likewise to the success of one another.

The link joining these three interests and actually operating the railroad—originally representative of the owners, but increasingly responsible to the patrons and the employes—is the railway management. With the government as final authority, it is the duty of the management to provide efficient service under proper working conditions, pay all operating expenses, taxes, rentals and interest on bonded indebtedness and still have something left for dividends and for investment in the property in order to expand for future needs.

Such conflict as has arisen among the three human factors interested in railway service has concerned itself mainly with the monetary items of rates, wages and dividends. There has been much less discussion of the things the money has paid for—the amount and quality of transportation, the adequacy and efficiency of equipment and the skill and willingness of labor—which is a good sign that the foundation of railway service is secure. In connection with the monetary items, it should be well to remember that the test at any time of what is high or low or what is reasonable or unreasonable in rates, wages and dividends is not necessarily a comparison among these items themselves or a comparison of each with what has been paid before; the real test is the relationship these items bear to the current costs of other services and of commodities, to dividends in other lines of investment and to wages in other lines of work. A money payment is high or low only by such a test of contemporary comparison.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

BIG CIRCUS WILL BE

AT DECATUR JULY 9TH

Brilliant and highly colored circus posters throughout the city and surrounding countryside proclaim the coming of the Carl Hagenbeck-Great Wallace circus to Decatur for afternoon and night performances on July 9th. Hagenbeck-Wallace is known universally as the "Highest Class Circus on Earth."

During the past week advance representatives have been in this community heralding the appearance of the big circus in Decatur for two exhibitions. Additional billposters and lithographers are headed in this direction as Hagenbeck-Wallace bills all towns and villages within a fifty mile radius of their exhibition stand.

Advance men state that Hagenbeck-Wallace circus this year has more novelties and features than ever before, and the exhibition will mark an epoch in trained animal feats and equestrian acts. A menagerie containing practically a specimen of every living animal today is being carried, while the performance is said to be the last word in gorgeous costumes, pretty ladies and beautiful horses.

During the winter months especial attention was paid to the wild animal portion of the program. A corps of trainers, including Clyde Beatty, the youthful American, and Bob McPherson, noted European sub-jugator, worked extra hours at the Peru, Indiana, winter quarters instilling new tricks, feats and stunts into the savage jungle beasts.

In the rings and on the stage, as well as the hippodrome track there will be features of international reputation, including the Orrin Davenport family of equestrians and the Ward-Kimball Troupe of daring aerialists. Noted clowns, such as the Art Borella Trio, the Three Harding Brothers, Joe Coyle, Earl Shipley, Mickey McDonald and others will produce new pantomime stunts assured to bring laughter from all.

Vern Weaver, a former resident of this city, is now manager of an A. & P. store in Litchfield.

FIRST DAILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL ENDS SUCCESSFUL SESSION
A big crowd was in attendance at the Christian church Sunday night. The Daily Vacation Bible school teachers and pupils were in charge of the services. Many remarks were heard that it was the best children's program seen in Sullivan in many a day.

The Vacation Bible School came to a close Friday, after a three week's session. It proved a much greater success than had been anticipated as it was the first attempt at a school of this kind in this city.

Friday afternoon a display was made at the church of the many useful and pretty things which had been made during the time of school. Among these were the work of the sewing and manual training departments. Many called at the church to see the display.

The total enrollment was 137 and the average attendance was over 100. The school was for the entire community and was not denominational.

The Bible School of the Christian church initiated the movement and stood back of the venture financially. Mrs. Hattie Pifer was superintendent and had the hearty cooperation of a big staff of teachers, all of whom contributed to the good work done.

While many entertainment features were embodied in the work of the school the main one was never lost sight of and that was—Christian education. It is practically assured that this work will again be taken up next Summer.

TO FIGHT WABASH RY. PROPOSAL TO DISCONTINUE TWO PASSENGER TRAINS
The Wabash Railway Company has filed notice with the state commerce commission for permission to discontinue its morning and evening passenger train on the Effingham to Bement division, which passes through this city.

All towns located along this line are up in arms about this proposal. Several meetings have already been held and Judge Wright of Effingham has been elected to direct the legal fight in the matter. The community clubs of the towns affected have each put $25 into a war chest. It is contended that these trains are very essential and that if they do not pay, the fault really lies with the railway company as the time schedules for both trains are so uncertain as to cause much annoyance and cut down the passenger traffic.

Sullivan was represented at a meeting held in Windsor Friday by W. R. Robinson, Homer W. Wright, Carl R. Hill and Fred Wiedner. Another meeting will be held in the school house at Windsor this Friday (tonight) and it is expected that a big delegation of Sullivan people will attend.

The idea is to make a protest and showing so strong that the commerce commission will deny the railway company's request.

EMPLOY COUNTY AUDITOR
The board of supervisors has employed the firm of Bacchus & Wilson of Springfield to make an audit of the county's books and records this fall. The consideration is $600.

A. M. BLYTHE AND WIFE DIED LAST FRIDAY

sition up to the time of his death. His son-in-law L. A. Slater, who was cashier of the bank for some years, died last Fall. This bereavement was a hard blow for Mr. and Mrs. Blythe and greatly increased his business cares.

His wife, who so closely followed him to the Beyond, was before their marriage May 4, 1881, Miss Telva Kelso. Five children were born to this union, two sons and three daughters survive. They are Arlie L. Blythe of Birmingham, Mich.; Hazel, wife of E. W. Smith of Argyle, Ill.; Bessie, widow of L. A. Slater and Miss Ruth Blythe. There also survive a brother W. T. Blythe of Indianapolis, and two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Curry of Gays and Mrs. Sarah Small of Decatur and ten grandchildren.

In fraternal matters Mr. Blythe was a Mason, an Odd Fellow and a member of the Modern Woodmen. He took an active part in all affairs with which he identified himself.

Mrs. Telva Blythe. Mrs. Blythe collapsed upon finding her husband dead and was in a serious condition from the time of his death up until death claimed her. She had suffered from the effects of an attack of influenza last fall and was in a weakened physical condition for many months. She died at 11:45 o'clock Friday night.

Her maiden name was Telva Kelso and she was born January 8, 1859 in Wayne county, Indiana and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kelso. The family later moved to Arcola and there on May 4, 1881 she became the wife of A. M. Blythe.

MAUD—1926

Maud Muller on a winter's morn Behind the barn was distilling corn. Singing, she brewed, in a copper can; A drink that would K. O. many a man.

But, as she glanced to the far off town, Where fair Maud's corn was in great renown,

The sweet song died, and a vague unrest And apprehension filled her breast.

The sheriff rode slowly down the lane Sniffing suspiciously as he came. "Ah, ha!" quoth he, "what smell I here? Is it light wine or only beer?"

"Fair sir," said Maude, "you think me ill;" Just then the sheriff spied the still.

The court was packed from near and far. When they hailed fair Maude before the bar.

In picture hat and low cut gown, And flashing ankles, silken brown.

In defendant's box Maud then did pose Like a poster advertising hose.

In vain did the prosecutor plead; The verdict came—fair Maud was freed.

And now behind the barn each morn The jury helps Maude with her corn. —W. P. Rowley.

BEE NEW HAZARD

FOR AUTO DRIVER

With the clover in full bloom and flowers abounding everywhere it seems unreasonable that the humble and industrious bee should not be contented to devote its time to the industry in which it is supposed to be engaged and let folks alone when they are out tending to their own business, but we have read of several accidents the past few weeks which have been caused by bees sitting down on automobile drivers and pushing. Mrs. Eliza Crail age 69 suffered severe injuries a few days ago when the car she was riding in was wrecked all because the bee stung the driver.

Recently seven people went to the hospital over in Pana neighborhood because a bee pushed too hard when he set down on the driver. A $10,000 damage suit has also resulted from this accident. It looks as though we will have to pass a law to muzzle the bees or forbid them to go outside of their own yards.—Arcola Record-Herald.

TIME ALMOST HERE TO SPRAY APPLES TO PROTECT FROM CODLING MOTHS

Codling moth adults started emerging from the over-wintering larvae much later than usual this season. Due largely to the warm weather during the last third of May when uniformly high temperatures occurred over the entire south two-thirds of the state, the development of the insect at this date is about that of a normal year.

From observations and records, worms of the second brood codling moth will be hatching here on about July 8.

Spray or dust for second brood codling moth should be on the trees by the above date.

Owing to the fact that the codling moth is extremely abundant in many localities this season, it is strongly recommended that another spray for this brood of worms be applied two to three weeks after the first spray. The worms of this brood will continue to hatch from the above date until the middle or latter part of August, and that it is highly important to keep all fall and winter varieties well protected during July.

FORD DISPLAY SHOWS MANY DIFFERENT USES OF COMMERCIAL BODIES

Ford and then some Fords. That was what was presented to the eyes of the people of Sullivan Saturday morning when the St. Louis Ford truck caravan arrived in this city.

The caravan which was making its trip for advertising purposes consisted of 30 Ford chassis, each one being equipped with a different type trunk body. The bodies were presented by the St. Louis and local territorial truck manufacturers.

The schedule of the caravan calls for a visit of 197 towns on this tour in Southern Illinois and Missouri. More than 2000 miles will be thus covered.

One feature of the caravan was the Ford truck which was especially equipped with a new Brunswick Panatrop, a purely electrical reproducing instrument. A musical program was given on the square and attracted the attention of many of the crowd which had gathered to see the Fords. R. N. McCormick, representing the manufacturer was in charge of this musical truck.

The caravan was in charge of Frank H. Merritt. It is expected that the trip will be concluded in St. Louis about July 15th.

 June the month of brides is almost gone, and while Jesus has not returned to claim His bride, we know the reason to be that the bride has not yet completely adorned herself for His coming. Still as we look out over the world today, steeped in sin as it is, we see the bride 'the invisible church' disentangling herself more and more from the things of this world, and adorning herself with His robe of righteousness, which He purchased for her on Calvary. Such a wonderful wedding garment, pure and white and it must be kept without spot or wrinkle awaiting His coming.
 It might be well to mention here, that the writer believes our Lord's bride will be made up of the blood-washed saints out of every denomination that accept Jesus as the Son of God, and who are looking for His appearing. "To those who are looking for Him will He appear the second time."

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Next Sunday is our 'National Birthday'. It is the glorious Fourth and should bring glorious recollections to every true American citizen. It should also bring fond hopes to the youths of our land, as well as to those who are older grown, for brighter and better days. But the past can only be recalled, while the future lies within the imagination. The present belongs to us. We cherish the memory of those who have wrought for us, and have given to us so rich a heritage, and we have great hopes of what that heritage will be to future generations but it is for us of today to seek to make this our day more grand and glorious than any in past history. We can thus do by being loyal and true to the great institutions, to law, and government, lending our support to every right and just cause, not using our liberty as license, but rather as an aid to righteousness, justice and mercy.
 Sunday morning regular service. We trust you can be present to give thanks to the God of our fathers and our God, the God of Nations.
 Subject will be, "Lest We Forget".
 Good music and special service.
 Next Sunday evening union services will be held at the Park Auditorium. This will be in the nature of a patriotic service. We look for good music and a great service, and trust that every one may feel that this is their service, and not any one's special service. The thought in this service will be in keeping with the day. The subject for the evening will be, "Your Country and Mine."

 These services will be held at the Park during July and August. They are in the interest of the community. Now we are surely all interested in the same and will lend our aid by our presence, and what we can do to in anyway to make them a success. We are glad to note the interest that has been taken in the past years and trust that this season may be crowned with greater blessing than any past season. You can lend your aid by your presence, your word of encouragement and the gift of song and prayer.
 These services will begin at 7:30 p. m. Every body welcome. Come and help in this work for the betterment of the community.

BERKELEY PUBLISHER INVITES N. E. A. EDITORS

Charles E. Dunscomb, publisher of the Berkeley (Cal.) Daily Gazette, sends this message through The United States Publisher to delegates to the National Editorial Association convention who will visit Berkeley en tour after the convention:
 "We of California are looking forward to the visit of the N. E. A. and will do all we can to make them have a good time. The latch string of the Gazette office is outside for them."
 Mr. Dunscomb has been in the newspaper business for more than 40 years and has been a member of the California Press Association for 25 years. Governor Friend W. Richardson of California and Mr. Dunscomb were partners in the newspaper business in California for more than 20 years, until the latter bought an interest in the Berkeley Daily Gazette, in 1915, which he has owned ever since.

When Mr. Dunscomb took over the Gazette it had a small plant and one linotype. The publisher now operates 12 type casting machines and a 20-page tublar press in a part one-and part two-story building with basement 100 by 136 feet. The publisher characterizes his paper as "a clean newspaper which runs nothing but clean news and clean advertising."

Mr. Dunscomb's father, J. H. Dunscomb, was publisher of the Sullivan (Ill.) News in the 80's, and was a member of the Illinois Press Association.—United States Publisher.

FARMER BITTEN BY RABID DOG, FRIDAY

Elgin Seaman, a farmer living eight miles northeast of Sullivan, was bitten on the hand and forearm by a rabid dog at his home last Friday morning and is now being treated with Pasteur serum to ward off hydrophobia. Mrs. Seaman also was attacked by the dog, but only the heels of her shoes were bitten, the fangs of the dog not touching her flesh.

Friday morning at breakfast the Seamans were attracted by a pig squealing. Mr. Seaman rushed out to find that his dog was biting the pig. When he attempted to beat the dog off it turned and flew at his throat. Seaman threw up his forearm. The dog bit his arm and hand in several places. As Mr. Seaman ran toward the house the dog, which followed him, encountered Mrs. Seaman and attacked her. Meantime Mr. Seaman secured his gun and killed the dog.

A physician was called and the wounds were treated, while the dog's head was sent to the state laboratory at Springfield. Saturday a telegram was received from Springfield stating the analysis showed the dog to have had a bad case of rabies. The pig which was bitten by the dog was not killed, but is isolated in a pen for observation and study by the state authorities.

CONVERSATION WHEN THE WEATHER GETS HOT

"I tell you that fellow Horton may know something about the game but he's altogether wrong on his mashie dope." "Now I don't know about that, you can't tell until you've tried it out." "Well I know a pro who says 'keep your arms stiff and don't use your wrists and I believe that's the right way to putt 'em'." "This stuff of putting past the hole is piffle. Roll the ball along as though it were a silver dollar. Give it a little back spin to start. To do that you must give it a kind of down stroke." "Now there's where you're wrong again altogether. Give the ball an upstroke with the putter and it'll roll along straight as a string." "Well how about the stance I read some fellow's dope and he says putt 'em off your left heel. Some more bunk, now I know a better way. Horton says," etc, etc. ad infinitum. And what's it all about. It sounds like mystery to the uninitiated and in explanation we'll say that the above resembles a conversation between most any group of Sullivan business men these days when they get together to talk business, swap cigarettes and beg matches.

Even when Levy Dickerson catches a 4-pound bass in Wyman lake and a few days later duplicates the stunt with one that weighs 2 pounds 3 ounces, the feat gets but little notice. But let Levy start telling how and why he's playing close to a 40 consistently and standing room round about him is at par.

When you hear the fellows talk about "timing" that has nothing to do with a Ford. It's a 1, start back swing — 2, slight pause at extreme of swing — 3, hit the ball and see 'er fly.

THERE'S MONEY IN NAMES

Real estate agents started it by calling themselves "realtors" and raising their commissions. Soon afterward undertakers became "morticians" and rates went up. Ditto the beauty parlor operators who adopted the name "beauticians." Foot doctors changed to "pedicures," plumbers to "sanitary engineers," barbers became "chirotonors." Now a street sweepers' organization is considering "asphaltician" for its profession. But "cropologists" got no response. What's the matter with the farmers, anyway?—Capper's Weekly.

A Charleston girl who was arrested in her own city a few nights ago charged with disorderly conduct, was permitted to give a fictitious name. The name she chose at random giving her address at Mattoon but the name chosen proved to be that of a prominent Mattoon young woman and there have been things popping since that time and explanations have been coming thick and fast—Arcola Record Herald.
