SULLIVAN, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY, JULY 9, 1926.

CELEBRATION MONDAY WAS

Crowd Conservatively Estimated at From 20,000 Up Entertained By An All-day Program. Fireworks Especially Good.

Sullivan Monday was host to thousands who came here to celebrate the 150th anniversary of our nation's birth.

Although rather hot, the day was otherwise an ideal one for a picnic. Early in the morning the cars started arriving. A conservative estimate placed the number here for the night fireworks program at between 5000 and 6000 cars and from 20,000 to 30,000 people. It was by far the biggest crowd that Sullivan has ever had for a similar occasion.

There was no other big celebration within a radius of fifty miles or more and visitors came from a wide territory. A count of cars which crossed the C. & E. I. tracks at the depot from morning until about 8 o'clock at night showed over 2000 coming into Sullivan. It is almost certain that an equal number came from the South, up route 32, while the roads from other While no definite promise directions also brought their quota.

The musical program, featuring the Bethany Concert band, the free pony and dog show, the water sports and in fact all of the program as arranged for the day, with one exception, was carried out. The one exception was the airplane parachute jump. The plane was here but something went wrong wit hthe motor and no flight could be made. Passenger flights building, the bill which brought this were made, however, both Sunday new hond issue into evictore. and Monday, by a plane sent here by the Terre Haute Aviation Company.

The carnival interested thousands. The dancing pavilion was well patronized. All of the refreshment stands did a big business, and many were sold out long before the crowd started diminishing.

Many attended the horse races and were pleased with that exhibition. The ball game drew a big crowd and M. E. Sconce, O. C. Hoskins and I. E. it was a fine exhibitiion until the 7th inning when the visiting team blew up. The main feature and that which drew the biggest crowd, however, was the fireworks on the East shore of the lake at night. Early in the afternoon cars started parking so as to be in a position where the occupants could see the display. The South, West and Northwest shores of the lake were a twenty deep, besides the thousands fat.

who saw the display from their cars. The general opinion was that the Local Business Man Presents Interesting Viewpoint on Cashless Buying. Keep the coin circulating.

"Credit, when properly used, is a fine thing," a local business man remarked the other day, "but used improperly, it is a drag upon the prosperity of our city.

"Let me illustrate my point. Sup-pose each of one hundred families accumulated bills averaging $200 with one of the Sullivan stores. That would be $20,000. $1,500 FOR PLEASURE

Sullivan business and professional men spent approximately $1500 to entertain at a big celebration on July 5th. The money was well spent. The celebration was a credit to Sullivan and its people.

If the Sullivan merchants could get together on a business proposition and spend an equal amount of money in a period covering the next six months, the results would not only be gratifying but most assuredly profitable.

Advertising of drawings and giving of prizes are not permitted in newspapers because of an arbitrary ruling of the postal laws. There are other ways of doing such advertising, however. If the merchants, in proportion to the amount of business they do, would finance a project to give away $1,000 in gold or in trade certificates at the rate of $250 every six weeks, and spend $500 or so in boosting the plan,-would it be a success. How could it be otherwise? So come on, let's go.

We all know Sullivan is the best place on earth to trade, but we'll have to spend a little money to convince the folks who do the spending,

BILLBOARDS

Early Tuesday morning a crew of billboard artists came to this city to paste new decorations on the billboards which grace our uptown vacant lots. A man with a scythe swung at the tops of the high weeds and cut off a few making the lots look just a little more ragged and messy than before.

Our understanding is that the billboard company pays but little, if anything, for the privilege of having these boards here. One of the stipulations is that the lots on which they are located be kept clean. That stipulation is certainly not lived up to.

The billboard situation in this city is an unmitigated nuisance. The fellows that run the outfit ought to be made to pay a good stiff yearly license fee. Furthermore the city need not tolerate the unsightly weed patches. If some of us home folks were responsible for them Officer Getz would soon come around and demand a cleanup. Are these billboard fellows privileged characters?

Make 'em come clean or make 'em get out.

The Wabash Railway Company wants to discontinue the passenger service it has given the towns from Effingham on the South to Bement on the North. It says that the trains do not pay.

Why don't they pay? One reason is that the service and accommodations are so poor that they are more or less of a standing joke. The Wabash does not want this line to pay. It has been framing for years to get this matter in such shape that it can go before the state board which has the matter in charge, and ask to be permitted to discontinue service.

People would travel on the Wabash if they knew when to expect the arrival and departure of trains. The time of trains has been "sometime in the morning and sometime in the afternoon".

There may have been some good reason for the delays and annoyances to which Wabash passengers have been subjected. If the passenger service has not paid it was simply because the people have not "rared" up long time ago and demanded a change for the better.

THE IMPOSSIBLE

One of the six axioms that are not true is, "No one can perform the impossible". We can tell just what strain an iron bar will stand, and we can gauge precisely the force of steam; but when we come to the human being we find a paradox—a creature that does the impossible.

A tender woman, if she be gripped by some strong emotion, fright or eagerness to save her child, may suddenly become strong as a giant. When Stephenson proposed to run a steam car at forty miles an hour the world proved it could not be done; no one could live going so fast through the air. Yet he did the "imposs ible"! Fifty years ago it was impossible for a man to talk in Chicago and have his ordinary voice heard in New York: that is now done every day.

No man gets the ability to do an impossibility before he does it; the power comes with the effort. It is because of this law that moral obligations are binding.

The Bible is full of commands, the doing of which is beyond us. Who can keep the Ten Commandments or the precepts of Jesus? Only those can perform these duties who perform them. Power settles on us as we try.

Jesus told the palsied man to stretch out his hand. He could not; but he did; power entered as he acted. The multitude was fed on a few loaves and fishes; enough provision was not made beforehand, but the supply was increased as it was given.

"Responsibility" said Horace Bushnell, "is not measured by ability". The half of strength is enough.

The thing will be done on a small of confidence. All trading is due to a

The merchant who keeps a Perpetual inventory Knows Exactly Where he stands at all times. He knows the value of his stock; he knows what merchandise to re-order; he knows how much he owes and how much is owed him.

Invariably, such merchants are the most successful in any community.

The perpetual inventory idea is extending itself to the general public. Most Sullivan families know exactly where they "are" at all time --- how much their income will be during a given period, and how much they must pay out.

These are the kind of folks who pay their bills promptly. They are the people who keep the slate clean; who enable our merchants and professional men in turn to pay their bills; who can command unlimited credit whenever need arises.

And these are the kind of folks who make Sullivan the good town that it is. Prosperity reigns and travelers go forth to proclaim the contentment prevailing in Sullivan.

> Let's keep up the record. Let.s clean the slate every week, or every month, whatever the time as agreed upon. Let's make it a regular plan. Let's tell the whole world that SULLIVAN is one place where everyone pays his bills promptly. It's the best kind of advertising for an individual or for a city.

Check up on some of the folks who have died lately. You will find that the greater part of their estate that could be turned into ready money was insurance. Investigate a little further and you'll find that most of that insurance was in MUTUAL companies and that the amount they paid in was but a trifle as compared to the amount paid to their beneficiaries.

It takes a long time to save $1,000 and then you may lose it. Mutual Insurance assures you of an estate when you die.

It permits you to spend as you earn and to enjoy life with your family, in the assurance that should something happen to

If your Progress subscription is paid in advance, and you are between the ages of 10 and 55 you are entitled to a free policy in THE TRIANGLE MUTUAL PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION.

Fill in and return the application blank. Hundreds have done so-why delay?

That is one way to accumulate an estate to leave your wife and children when you die.

It costs little to pay the assessments when levied. It amounts to but a few dollars a year that you'll hardly miss.

Application for Membership

I hereby make application for policy in the TRIANGLE MUTUAL PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION with the understanding that THE SULLIVAN PROGRESS will take care of my $5.00 membership fee for enrollment in said Association. If accepted I will pay my assessments and expense fees as provided in the Constitution and By-laws of this Association:

Before I had married him, I had been more or less of a similar type, for, I, too, had belong- purple sky. ed to the modern school, yet-for love of Curtiss-I had consciously disciplined my desires and, outwardly at least, a complete metamorphosis had taken place. Apparently I had hind. made myself over in a more conservative mould. The result was that he now seemed to take me as a matter of course and bestowed much attention on this frivolous young girl. I tried to reassure myself by remembering Mrs. Wright's philoso-phical wisdom that he was only amusing himself for the moment, while I really furnished his background for the real things of life. At the same time it was hard to become accustomed to his indifference when Letitia was about and I had too much pride to mention the subject to him lest he think I was jealous of the girl. The situation was most difficult and was daily becoming worse. I returned to the porch and Letetia had gone. The fragrance of "Christmas Night" still hovered in the air. Now, I would at least have Curtiss for one nice, quiet evening alone and I sat down beside him prepared for an intimate, little talk. He replied in monosyllables, and while I was relating some of the events of the day, he absentmindedly walked to the edge of the porch and securing the evening paper, opened it, and began to read. It was all done good naturedly and I knew that no offense had been meant, for whatever else he was, Curtiss was never intentionally rude, yet it took a supreme effort for me not to snatch the paper from his Fred Harmon takes the honors away hands. In order to control myself I from Glen as Harold was 21 in May, hands in order to control myself I got up and went inside. When I had finished setting the table he came in and walking over to where I stood, he kissed me affection-ately and pinched my cheek.
