72ND. YEAR. NO. 11

Hospital is Offered Sullivan On Very Reasonable Terms

Investigation Now Being Made by Community Club Committee. $500 And Years Rental Asked by Mrs. Cutler of Moweaqua Who Proposes To Open Much-Needed Institution in This City. Committee Went to Moweaqua to Investigate.

No proposition of more general interest has been presented to Sullivan for some time than that of the proposed hospital.

Everybody is interested. Since the matter was first given publicity it has been discussed at all meetings and everywhere has had a very favorable response.

The proposition was presented to the Community Club Monday night and is as follows:

Mrs. Cutler of Moweaqua, now connected with the Sparling hospital in that city proposes to come to Sullivan and establish a hospital here, along lines similar to those which brought the Moweaqua hospital into being several years ago.

Some big house here available would be rented for hospital purposes. Mrs. Cutler and a trained nurse would take charge. Rooms would be furnished and maternity cases invited to make use of the hospital. An operating room would be equipped and gradually all of the necessary equipment for a modern hospital would be installed to handle any hospital case.

Starting in a small way would not require a big outlay of money and after the proposition gets under way it may prove self-supporting and if not, it is deemed certain that people who see the value of the institution will come to its support.

Sullivan is asked to give $500 to help buy the equipment and to guarantee payment of the rent for one year.

This proposition was very favorably received at the Community Club meeting and a committee consisting of Dr. J. F. Lawson, J. H. Smith and Chester Horn was named to go to Moweaqua to investigate. They did so on Wednesday, but have not yet reported back to the Community Club officials.

There seems but little doubt that if Mrs. Cutler can take care of her end of the deal, Sullivan will take care of what is required of it.

A hospital is something that strikes very close home to every family for nobody knows when loved ones may need the care and attention that only a hospital can give.

Among the houses which would be suitable for the proposed hospital are the Steele residence at the end of East Harrison Street and the Shuman property in the southeast part of the city.

EGG SHOW MARCH 24th WILL BE AT ARMORY AND NOT FARM BUREAU

It has been decided to have the egg show which will be staged here in connection with the C & E I Better Poultry day at the Armory and not at the Farm Bureau office as was advertised last week. It was decided that there would not be sufficient room at the Farm Bureau for this purpose, as last year hundreds of people attended this show. Many more are expected this year, as a nice line of cash premiums are being offered.

Sullivan Eliminated In Second Round of Dist. Tournament

Arthur Lost to Latham in Final Game. Bethany Lost to Sullivan and Clinton Defeated the Home Boys Friday.

Latham won the district tournament in Decatur Saturday night in a hard battle with Arthur, which had won its place in the finals after defeating Blue Mound and Decatur.

The score which decided the championship was 31 to 28. Latham is but a small school, North of Decatur. It has an enrollment of but 45 and 20 of these are boys. Out of these 20 came the team that fought its way to the district championship.

For a time Sullivan folks were elated and thought that the local boys would be in the playing on the home stretch.

On Thursday afternoon, the first day of the tournament, Sullivan and Bethany met in the fourth game of the afternoon and Bethany was eliminated as a tournament contender by the score of

In one of the most interesting primary elections that the Republicans have ever held in Sullivan township, L. A. Crockett won the nomination for highway commissioner Saturday.

Another contest which attracted much attention was that for the nomination for supervisor. A. E. McKenzie announced his candidacy some weeks ago and it was generally considered he could have the nomination for the asking. The week before the primary, however, J. A. Powell, who had been urged to do so, decided to become a candidate and made an active canvass for support with the result that he defeated Mr. McKenzie 296 to 172.

Polls were at Kirkville and at the Armory. Judges and clerks at the Armory were Harry Fulk, (Continued on page 8)

Ten Sullivan children, nine of whom attend the North Side school have been bitten by a dog which had rabies. This happened on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

The dog was killed Wednesday and the head was taken to the U. of I. at Urbana for an examination.

Report received by city health officer Dr. S. W. Johnson Thursday morning read as follows: "Dog head positive to Rabies. Advise Prophylactic treatment of all persons exposed."

The parents of the children have been informed of this finding and advised to have the children treated. Several have already applied for treatment and a quantity of serum has been ordered. The cost of the serum and administering of same will be about $25 a case. A series of either 14 or 21 treatment can be given. Treatments are given with a hypodermic.

The dog, a little brown cur, made his home with the Tarter family in the North part of the city. He was a stray and nobody claims his ownership.

Several children of the Tarter family were snapped at and sustained flesh wounds Tuesday, but not much attention was paid to the matter. Wednesday morning the dog appeared on the North side school grounds and before school started snapped at and bit four children. Officer Getz was called and went to the Tarter home after the dog. He tried to take him alive so as to keep him under observation, but failing to do this he shot him. The head was removed and Mrs. Edna Welch, daughter of Officer Getz took it to Urbana for examination. She could not wait until the examination had been completed but brought back a very unfavorable report, which was confirmed by the letter received by Dr. Johnson Thursday morning.

Those children who have been reported bitten are: Harry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nottingham; Willie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Rice; Junior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Reed; Johnny, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Poland; Lorene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Kingrey; Leslie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Myers; a little Roley girl who does not attend school; Hughes, Clinton and A. W. Tarter, children of Mrs. Mollie Tarter. Mrs. Tarter is employed in an up-town restaurant. All of the school children are attending school as usual and no bad effects are anticipated if the treatments can be given them without delay.

This deplorable situation has called forth a declaration of war on dogs, many of whom may have been exposed to the mad cur. Mayor Patterson and Dr. Johnson have issued the following proclamation. No stray curs will be tolerated on the streets and people who want to keep their dogs must positively abide by the conditions set forth in the proclamation:

TO CITIZENS OF SULLIVAN:—On Wednesday seven children were bitten by a dog which was seriously affected with rabies. This same dog is said to have bitten several other dogs, and in all probability, they too, will develop the disease.

Therefore all persons who own dogs are requested to keep them confined in their own premises for at least four weeks in such a manner that they cannot come in contact with other dogs or with people. If you know that your dog has been bitten by the one which was mad, you should have it killed at once.

All dogs found running at large will be killed, as it is absolutely imperative that every precaution be taken to preserve human life. Dated this 15th day of March, A. D. 1928.

S. W. JOHNSON, Health Officer. C. R. PATTERSON, Mayor.

After issuing the proclamation it was learned that it will be necessary to keep the dogs off the streets for at least 100 days from time of exposure as rabies may develop up to that time.

All people whose children have been bitten are urged to report to the health officer without delay. Where people cannot afford to pay for treatment arrangements will be made to take care of the expense.

THAT NEW HOSPITAL

Sullivan has the opportunity of getting a hospital. The aid asked for establishing it is small—very reasonable, indeed.

All that it takes is $500 in cash, to assist in the purchase of equipment and in addition to this a guarantee of the rental for a suitable building for a period of one year. After this it is planned to make the hospital self-supporting.

Could anything be more reasonable?

There are people in this community that could easily meet these requirements and the community would owe them a great debt of gratitude.

Let us have this hospital. If no one individual will bear the burden, let us all do our small share and put it over. Why quibble and delay to investigate a proposition which in its every aspect is so meritorious?

Sullivan is fortunate that this proposition has come its way.

THE SPIRIT OF SPRING

Robins are back on our lawns; cardinals and blackbirds, bluebirds and other early harbingers of Spring are singing the prologue to the season of earth's awakening.

Little things now seem important. The man who will later plant 100 acres of corn and hardly think it worth while mentioning to his neighbor, is now boasting about the 4 by 10 lettuce bed that he has sown. The farmer feels an itch in his palms for the plow handle; the smell of newly turned earth feels good to his nostrils; every blade of grass that turns green, the early spring flowers which cautiously show their crown of green, all bear witness to a resurrection, to a flood of life that animates growing things that during the Winter have been dormant.

True, cold squalls, perhaps some more snow and ice may still confront us, but 'twill be only for a short time. The warm rays of the sun will not brook much more nonsense from Winter's capricious antics.

And springtime, in the great outdoors, cannot be otherwise than springtime in the human heart—a period of rejoicing that Mother Earth will put on her coat of green and in due time gaily bedeck it with flowers, which bear the promise of the fruit and the harvest.

We're glad Spring is here; how about you?

FALSE VALUES

When Governor Len Small comes to town, everybody puts out flags and a big commotion ensues. All of which is all right, let's honor the office, even if we can't honor the man.

Friday another state official visited Sullivan. He, more than any other man, has aided in building Illinois' great educational system. He was Hon. Francis Blair, state superintendent of public instruction. He has no good roads to give or to promise. He came not on a political errand to flatter and cajole the people into voting for him. He came here on a business trip—to help our school directors and officials to more efficiently discharge their duties.

Did the community show any interest? Here was a greater man by far than Gov. Small. He was an educator, not a politician.

Well—to tell the whole story, one flag fluttered in Friday's breeze and that one was in front of The Progress office. The lack of a community reception did not hurt Mr. Blair any. He was not looking for any rousing reception or celebration, but it would have spoken well for Sullivan's civic pride had it shown a little more interest. It would have honored itself in honoring Mr. Blair.

IT IS TO LAUGH

Will Hays, church deacon, reformer and czar of the movies has been caught deliberately lying about the matter of who paid the deficit in the 1920 Republican campaign expenses. If he and his associates were not ashamed of Harry Sinclair's big donations why have they kept so quiet about it? Furthermore, why have the records been destroyed, just like the records of Len Small's Kankakee bank?

A LOT OF HUMBUG

Len Small and his clique and Lou Emmerson and his clique are telling on each other. They are making a grand spectacle of themselves. Each is accusing the other of being crooked and spending the people's money in building up political machines. They are at it hammer and tongs and giving each other plain hell.

As between the two, The Progress has previously stated and repeats that L. L. Emmerson's record seems to be by far the better.

But we have seen campaigns like this before. You'd think the Republicans were hopelessly divided and that truth and justice might eventually emerge from out of the labor and travail of their campaign agony.

But will it? Don't be too hopeful. After the primary salve will be smeared into the wounds and before election time all will again be lovely and harmonious. All of the ugly exposures of treasury looting, political bribe and other crimes and misdemeanors will be forgotten and all that the "regulars" will remember is that the primary victor is a Republican and a representative of the Grand Old Party.

The morals of the G. O. P. and the Anti-Saloon League are very much alike, with all due respect to the honest and sincere Republicans who would like to see their party purged of the iniquity of its leaders. If he's dry, the Anti-Saloon League will support a candidate, though he may be a scoundrel unchanged; if he gets the Republican nomination, Republican voters will vote for their party candidate although they know that he'd steal the state house, if he thought he could get away with it.

Just so long as that class of political morals prevail the majority gets exactly what it is entitled to and the minority suffers with it.

A FORTUNATE TOWNSHIP

Sullivan township Republicans nominated a good ticket Saturday. The Democrats set them a good example by doing the same thing a week previous. There was no chance that either party could go wrong, for all men seeking the nominations were able and competent to fill the offices, to the nominations for which they aspired.

The battle is now on. The names of Democracy's choice appear at the head of this column. May the best men win!

ETERNAL CHILDREN

By Dr. Frank Crane

Somebody said that a man has four ambitions: to plant a tree, to write a book, to build a house and to beget a son.

There is something peculiarly satisfying to a man when he has a son. It may be a survival of the old feeling that one must have an heir to inherit his estate.

In China they sometimes drown the girl babies because they do not want so many girls around, and prefer boys.

The affection between a man and his son is peculiarly tender. It is not the same kind of feeling that he has for his wife or for his daughter.

Somehow the son seems to carry on his own personality and when he looks at him he feels that his life has not been in vain.

A man at a banquet the other day got up and said:

"I am lonely. Nearly every man here tonight has his son with him. I have only the memory of mine."

Then he disclosed the fact that his son was somewhere in France either in an unmarked grave or lying unidentified near some wire fence or in a ditch.

The father wanted to go, but he was too old; they wanted young men. The son never came back.

It may be a faint consolation, but this boy has one advantage in that he will always be a boy.

We lose our children in two ways. They either die or grow up. In either case the yseparate from us.

The eternal children are the ones who die. They always linger in our memory as children. We expect to see them in the next world as children. They will always be children.

But those who grow up and develop their own personality and individuality swing away from us.

Perhaps after all the loneliest person is the one who has seen his loved ones grow away from him, rather than the one who has lost them by death.

The latter has them always with him in his memory, but to the former that memory is clouded by the reality.

FARMER'S WIFE MAKES CAKE ALL CRIME, BAD DIET CRIME AS A BUSINESS WIRELESS FLIGHT, PERHAPS

This will interest farmers' wives Mrs. James Hamilton, of Pawhuska, Okla., not satisfied with thirty cents a dozen for fresh eggs, developed this idea. She knew how to make a cake that sells for a dollar. Cost of other ingredients amount to little. Mrs. Hamilton put her eggs in angel cake and got nearly one dollar a dozen.

* * * *

Many farm wives, however, far from any angel cake market, can sympathize with an Irish farmer asked by an efficiency man, "Do you know what the ducks swimming in that mudhole would be worth in London?" "I do," replied the farmer, "and have you any idea what the puddle of water would be worth in hell if I had it there?" The market is the problem.

Steffansson, Arctic explorer, tests in a hospital, under medical supervision, a diet consisting exclusively of fresh meat and water. Thousands within the Arctic Circle live on such a diet for months at a time, some of them eating as much as twenty pounds of fresh meat in a day.

But it is not a good diet. Men were put on the earth to cultivate it and should eat all of its products, the spices and the oranges of the South, and the red meat of the West. But if compelled to choose between all meat and all vegetables, choose the meat.

You probably will not live as long, but you will think more. A vegetable diet is not good for thinking.

As regards crime, the city of Cleveland excels in police efficiency. The percentage is 83, against 63 in Baltimore, 36 in Kansas City, 16 in St. Louis. The National Crime Commission publishes Dr. Louis N. Robinson's statement that police inefficiency and leniency in courts have made crime almost the safest business in the United States. The percentage of failure is lower than in the retail grocery business, for instance.

In Chicago insurance companies notify the citizens that they will insure against bombing of buildings by various branches of crime, bootleggers, competing labor organizations, etc. If you can't discourage crime, the next best is to insure against it—although it doesn't help much if you happen to be at home for the bombing.

A new flying machine idea based on "free energy" or magnetic power interests Lindbergh and others. It burns no fuel, is expected to fly for 2,000 hours, and Lester J. Hendershot, the inventor is full of hope. It is only hope as yet, although the working model performs well. Eventually no doubt, as Tesla and others believe, flying machines will pick up "wireless power" from the earth, borrowing from Niagara, the Colorado River and other sources as they fly around the world. That will solve power problems, and 1,000 miles an hour speed will annihilate distance.

A French flier surpasses the American "loop record" by turning eleven hundred and eleven aerial somersaults with a monoplane in four hours and fifty-six minutes. That is exactly as unimportant as the number of back somersaults turned by circus actor. It is thinking and inventing that count, not "stunts."

Moscow statistics for 1927 show four divorces for every five marriages. Divorces may equal marriages. Some young Russians, according to report, are divorced five and six times in one year.

Russian authorities say this is a proof of good morals, proving that young people insist on retaining the marriage status, even if they change every month, and that they will not sink to promiscuity. This must stir emulation in our young "trial" and "companionate" marriage enthusiasts.

INCREASED YIELDS OF CORN RESULT FROM TREATMENT WITH CHEMICAL DUST

For 5 cents an acre, farmers in the central portion of the Corn Belt can treat their seed corn with a chemical dust that will largely prevent losses caused by seed-borne seedling blight organisms, according to A. G. Johnson, cereal pathologist of the United States Department of Agriculture. In tests conducted by Dr. J. R. Holbert of the department in cooperation with Doctor Koehler of the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station and Doctor Reddy of the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station seed-corn treatment has resulted in increased yields of from 1 to 12 bushels an acre.

The treatment consists in mixing the dust disinfectant with the dry, shelled seed at the rate of 2 ounces to the bushel. Doctor Johnson estimates the total cost of treating a bushel of seed, or enough for 8 acres, will not exceed 40 cents, or 5 cents an acre. The dust is applied with a mixing machine of the type used in treating wheat with copper carbonate dust for smut. A mixer can be made at home if others are not available. An ordinary barrel or oil drum mounted on an axis will serve as a mixer, or a barrel churn may be used. The dust should be thoroughly applied so that every kernel is covered with a thin coating. The seed can be treated any time before planting, but should be stored in a safe place because the dust is poisonous.

Although numerous dust disinfectants have been tested, only three are commercially available at the present time. They are described in Circular 34-C.

"Chemical-Dust Seed Treatments for Dent Corn," just issued by the department and are known as Bayer dust, Improved Semesan Jr., and Merko. Names and addresses of the firms manufacturing these dusts are given in the circular.

The recent tests show that treatment with these chemical dusts benefits diseased seed and does not injure good seed. While treatment may not increase yields from good, healthy, clean seed, such treatment will kill certain seed-borne organisms and prevent losses which their presence might otherwise cause. Even many high-yielding commercial strains of corn throughout the Corn Belt, thought to be healthy, frequently carry an appreciable amount of infection with certain fungus parasites. Such seed may result in a poor stand, in blighted plants, or in plants that fail to grow and yield normally.

At the Illinois station, seed that was known to be diseased gave a yield of 47.5 bushels per acre when untreated, and when treated gave a yield of 59.5 bushels, or an increase of 12 bushels to the acre. At the same station, seed that was pronounced good made a yield of 63.2 bushels without treatment, but when treated yielded 65.1 bushels or an increase of 1.9 bu. per acre.

The fact that corn from diseased seed was benefited most by seed treatment should not be taken as an argument in favor of inferior seed, says the department. Rather, it shows the importance of treating inferior seed when such seed has to be used, in order to secure as high yields as possible.

The low cost, says Doctor Johnson, and the ease of application should make seed treatment appeal to all corn growers in the central portion of the Corn Belt, where its beneficial effects have been proved.

A copy of Circular 34-C may be obtained by writing to the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C.

A clergyman gave out the hymn "I Love to Steal Awhile Away," and the deacon, who lead the singing, began: "I love to steal—" but found he had pitched the note too high.

Again he began, "I love to steal" but this time it was too low. Once more he tried: "I love to steal—" and again got the pitch wrong.

After the third failure the minister said: "Observing our brother's propensities, let us pray."

¶ Ice is often an unsuspected source of errors in farm scales. In alternately thawing and freezing weather users of scales should be on guard. Small amounts of ice may seem important but when located on certain vital points of the scale mechanism they may influence the weights. Some times under these conditions a scale will give fairly accurate weights at light loads, but not at heavy loads.

BOYS ENROLLED FOR CITIZENS MILITARY TR. CAMPS NEXT SUMMER

Approximately four thousand five hundred young men of Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin will be given an opportunity to enroll in the Citizens' Military Training Camps during July and August this summer.

Training camps affected by this announcement and the numbers of C. M. T. C. students to be enrolled at each are: Fort Sheridan, Ill., 1950; Camp Custer, Mich. 800; Fort Brady, Mich. 250; Camp McCoy (Sparta), Wis. 225; Jefferson Barracks, Mo. 1450 of which 950 will come from Sixth Corps Area; and Fort Snelling, Minn. 1800, of which 350 will come from the Sixth Corps Area.

These camps are provided for under Section 47d of the National Defense Act of 1920 and have been growing each year. During the past seven years there have been more than Two Hundred Thousand enrollments, and so popular have the camps become that forty of them will be established by the government this season. Although active enrollment does not start until April 1st, more than 1100 applications have been received and it is fair to assume that the quota for this Corps Area will be filled at an early date.

The camp at Jefferson Barracks Missouri will open July 9; the camps at Camp Custer, Michigan, Fort Brady, Michigan and Camp McCoy, Wisconsin will open July 26; Fort Sheridan, Illinois camp opens July 27 and the camp at Fort Snelling, Minnesota opens August 1. All of them are for thirty days. Days of training and recreation—for the policy of devoting practically all of the afternoon to various forms of athletics and recreation is now well established.

Transportation to and from the camp, wholesome food, as well as uniforms, athletic equipment, laundry service and camp facilities are furnished free by the government. An item that all parents are most concerned about is the great care and precaution taken to safeguard the students' health while in camp.

There will be four courses this year, as have been in the past—Basic, Red, White and Blue. First year men will be given elementary drills and instruction. Most of their work is that which builds up bodily strength by outdoor sports. The advanced classes—Red, White and Blue—offer instruction in Infantry, Cavalry and Field Artillery.

The object of the camps is to bring together young men of high type from all sections of the country (of wealthy and poor parents alike) in the same uniform and on a common basis of equality, under the most favorable conditions of outdoor life; to stimulate and promote citizenship, patriotism and Americanism and, through expert physical direction, athletic coaching and military training, to benefit the young men individually and lead them to a better realization of their obligations of their country.

The enrollment organization for the C. M. T. camps has now been perfected, so that practically every county within the three states of Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, a chairman has been appointed, who is directly in charge of enrollment of students from his county. A young man must reach his 17th birthday during 1928 in order to be eligible for enrollment.

If further information is desired see Lieut. D. K. Campbell, in charge of Headquarters Co. in Sullivan.

ARE YOU PROTECTED BY THE PROPER FARM LEASE?

The following are important questions concerning any farm lease: (1) Is it in writing? (2) Do you understand it before you sign? (3) Is it written so the meaning will be clear at any later time? (4) Is it fair to you—and to the other party? (5) Does it give the tenant a reasonable opportunity to make a living and get ahead? (6) Does it require proper and conservative care of the leased premises? (7) If there are reservations are they in writing? (8) Does the lease state what each party is to do and to contribute? (9) Does it define clearly the rights and privileges of each party? (10) Does it provide for a settlement of differences of opinions? (11) Does it provide for procedure when the tenancy is ended? (12) Does it contain the following essentials of a legally complete lease? (a) the date; (b) signatures of both parties; (c) definition of the term; (d) description of the property; and (e) an agreement as to the amount of rent to be paid; the time when and the place where it is to be paid. A good lease should permit an affirmative reply to each of these questions.

Good printed farm lease blanks are on sale at The Progress office 2 for 10c or $1 for 24.

Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Hugh Murray, Superintendent. In spite of the rain, the attendance last Sunday was good; it should be better yet. Next Sunday is another opportunity to begin the practice of regular attendance at one of the most important services of the church.

Morning worship at 10:45 a. m. The pastor will preach. Theme, "How He Did It."

The subject for the Go-to-Church Club will be "The Multiplying Slate." This is a slate which multiplies whatever is placed upon it in a mystifying and instructive manner. The real slate will be shown and it will show how to make our resources count for the most. The young folks like slight-of-hand and this is one of the best tricks.

Evening worship at 7:30 p. m. Subject, "The Forward Look."
Epworth League devotional service at 6:30 p. m.
Prayer meeting every Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

The heart should rejoice with the coming days of spring. We hear the song of the birds, feel the balmy air, and see the green blade of grass spring from the grey of the earth. The tulip too, shoots forth with bud and blossom fair to smile upon us. Sleeping nature awakes and rises with new manifestations of better and brighter days. Should not man a part of nature, the higher part, and crowned with nature's glory rise to the higher universe of thought, and of being, and manifest the same in greater activity and more beneficent service. If one has been rather dormant during the sleeping months of nature, is it not time to awaken, and with greater enthusiasm enter into the activities of our community life.

We invite your thought to service, and the worship of Him, who is not only the giver of life, but of every good and perfect gift that we enjoy.

Service at the usual hour next Sunday, subject, Religion and Service". Subject for the evening "Creative Power of Thought."

Sunday school at ten o'clock. Kindly remember the study period and bring your children. We want the boys and girls and hope to see the men and women present to inspire and help those who are younger.

Christian Endeavor at 6:30. All young people invited.

7:30 p. m. Evangelistic services.
7:30 p. m. Thursday prayer meeting.

Using the same verse of scripture as we used last week Daniel 8:13. Those who love the Lord speak often one to another of such things and the saints speak of it in the glory world as they watch us who are on the earth. Daniel's conversion was in Heaven and not in Babylon. So it is today with those who truly believe in Jesus. Their conversion is not in Sullivan they are not a part of Sullivan, they are a part of God's body. We can see it more clearly in regard to Daniel if Daniel had believed in Babylon he would never have seen the vision neither any more would we understand it if we were a part of Sullivan. Men are perplexed when we say that. To them there is a ring of unreality in it all, is there not? To most people there is, but to some there is not. "Transgression of desolation". We know the meaning of desolation. It is a place where nothing grows, no grass, no trees, just a desert.

The image spoken of in God's word will be life destroying, it will make desolate. The image is a substitute for life, it is that which will take the place of life. It is a substitute for God's creation; an imitation.
The Rev. Mr. Murray will speak for us Sunday evening and you would enjoy hearing Mr. McGinnis and his little daughter sing.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

C. E. Barnett, Pastor
The response to the call, the Sunday school at church last Sunday was splendid. The count registered an attendance of 97.73 percent at church. There was also an increase of 5% in the attendance of the church membership. These facts are encouraging. Our slogan in church attendance should be "No Let Down, or Let Up." Now for a continued advance in every church endeavor.

Next Sunday is Inter-Visitation Day at church. Every member is urged to make much of this visitation, and to prove its value by church attendance, of both time visitors and those visited. Prepare for Visitation Evangelistic Day, March 25, Church Affiliation Day, April 1, and the pre-Easter meeting April 1-7. Then the climax, Easter Sunday.

The S. School will be privileged to hear a four minute talk by one of its young people next Sunday, preparatory to decision day, Easter Sunday. One of these talks will be given each Sunday until Easter. Come to Sunday school at 9:30 a. m.

"The Real Values of Church Membership" will be the topic under discussion at the Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. Four of our young men attended the older boys' conference in Decatur last Sunday. All young people are invited to this service.

Sermon subjects will be, Sunday morning, 10:45 a. m. "What Does Your Name Stand for in Sullivan?" Evening, 7:30 o'clock, "The Flaming Sword." Church attendance is a spiritual tonic. Come you are welcome.

SCIENCE HAS NO "MIRACLE" METHOD OF CHICK BROODING

Urbana, Ill., March 13—Some 5,000 or more chicks are brooded and reared to market age every year on the farm of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, but no new and miraculous way of solving the many baby chick problems has been discovered here or elsewhere in the country, it is pointed out by the college poultry division.

A detailed plan of brooding and rearing that will guarantee satisfactory results in all cases can not be worked out because conditions are different on every farm, it was explained by H. H. Alp, poultry extension specialist. What may prove to be satisfactory brooding methods for one flock owner may have to be qualified and changed to suit conditions on another farm he said.

"The responsibility of working out a detailed method therefore must rest with the individual owner. General principles should be studied and then applied. To be sure, one should benefit by the advice of more experienced poultrymen, but it should always be remembered that local conditions will help in deciding much of the detail.

"The importance of cleanliness in the brooder house and on the ground where the chicks are to be reared has been repeatedly stressed. Failure to observe such a precaution will surely mean loss and trouble.

"In regulating the temperature in the brooder house it should be remembered that a hot, stuffy room is just as undesirable for chicks as it would be for the attendant. A hover temperature of 98 to 100 degrees generally will insure enough warmth. However, the room temperature should be watched also. It would be well for the inexperienced person to use a wall thermometer as an aid in keeping the room temperature between 60 and 80 degrees.

"Alfalfa, oat and wheat straw, clover leaves and commercial litter are among the materials which may be used for litter. Regardless of what is used it should be inspected carefully for must and mold. Either condition will be injurious to the chicks."

SULLIVAN ELIMINATED IN SECOND ROUND OF DISTRICT TOURNAMENT

Snow, g	1	0	2
Scott, g	1	0	2
Totals	13	4	30

This victory for Sullivan was not on the dope sheet as Bethany was considered one of the strongest contenders for the championship. On the same afternoon Clinton tucked away Stonington 35 to 20 and according to the schedule, qualified as Sullivan's opponent in Friday afternoon's third game.

Displaying the same quality of fight that won over Bethany on Thursday, the Sullivan lads battled Clinton to a standstill for the first three quarters, and went to bat, full of pep and confidence in the final quarter with the score a tie. One of Clinton's players caged one and Nedden for Sullivan followed suit. Clinton put over another one, gaining them a two-point lead and then they began stalling for time. Out of this stalling came another basket for Clinton, followed by a free throw and the game was sewed up for Sullivan's opponents with a five point lead, making the score 27 to 22. Decatur sports writers classed this as the best game of the day.

Clinton was doped a strong prospect for championship honors but went down before Latham by a 11 to 13 score and the best they got out of the fray was winning the consolation by playing their seconds against the Beason seconds and winning 17 to 11.

The official score of the Clinton-Sullivan game was as follows:

Clinton	FG	FT	TP
Henson, f	3	2	8
Day, f	3	0	6
Galbraith, f	0	0	0
Wood, c	3	2	8
Karr, g	1	3	5

Sullivan	FG	FT	TP
J. Smith, f	1	2	4
W. Smith, f	2	1	5
Lundy, g	2	2	4
Nedden, g	3	3	9

Officials placed but one of Sullivan's players on the two all-star teams—Nedden as guard on the second team.

BUSINESS MEN MET TO DISCUSS FACTORY PROSPECTS AND EAT

park this year and not permitted to mature into a hay crop. He urged that if the city council be asked to do something relative to the park that the grass matter be incorporated in the request.

Dr. Lawson of the park board stated that the reason why the tennis courts were permitted to get into a state of disrepair was that nobody used them. He agreed with Mr. McLaughlin as to the necessity of keeping the grass cut and stated that he was in favor of buying a tractor and necessary equipment to mow the grass in all parts of the park. He stated that all improvements at the park depended on the board having sufficient funds to proceed with. The board consists of Dr. Lawson, W. H. Birch and C. E. Hankley.

President Sentel named a Public Improvements and Community Needs committee to look after this matter. The members of that committee are J. H. Smith, A. E. McCorvie, O. J. Gauger, C. R. Hill, S. T. Bolin and C. E. McPeeters. Secretary Billman then read a letter from Dean Thompson of the U. of I. college of commerce in which an invitation was extended to members of the club to attend a meeting of officers and members of the smaller Illinois chambers of commerce, to be held in Bloomington April 25th. About 15 of those present volunteered to attend this meeting.

McLaughlin Reports

J. L. McLaughlin, chairman of the old Industrial committee then reported on work done by that committee during the past year. He stated that the matter of securing a corn stalk factory for Sullivan was still pending and that negotiations had been turned over to Mayor Patterson the new chairman of that committee.

Overall Factory

Mayor Patterson reported that since taking up his new chairmanship duties several projects had come to his attention. One was that of an overall factory which now has plants at Veedburg, Ind., and Danville, Illinois. The Danville plant is shut down because of labor troubles and a new location is being sought. He stated that his committee would thoroughly investigate the project.

Cheese Factory

He stated that he had written to a packing firm relative to starting a cheese factory here. He stated that the firm was interested but would require a census of cattle and possibly milk supply before taking any action. He stated that it may be necessary to make a house to house census in this matter in the country within a radius of 15 miles of this city. At the proper time arrangements will be made for taking this census.

Athletes Banquet

It was reported that the High and grade school athletes are planning a banquet in the near future and the community club members are asked to participate. The matter was endorsed and referred to the arrangements committee.

Aldermanic Candidates

The committee on city election then recommended for endorsement the following aldermanic candidates: First Ward—E. O. Dunscomb; Second ward, Wade Robertson; third ward, Garrett Wolf. The recommendations of the committee were concurred in. Mrs. Cutler of Moweaqua then spoke on her hospital project which is more fully explained on Page 1.

Newcomers Presented

Judge Sentel then presented the new business and professional men present as follows: Harry Nevite, the new ag instructor at the STHS; Supt. Brumfield of the Sullivan grade schools, a new member of the club; Harry Barkley the grain man; Messrs. Kruse and Dobbins the new bakers; Mr. Reeder the new C & E I agent and A. E. Crowder the manager of the A & P. grocery. Mr. Cutler of Taylorville who accompanied his sister-in-law made a short talk in which he told of Taylorville's loss when a $750,000 mine payroll ceased last summer.

The New Theatre

It was reported that the work on the new theatre began Monday when Mayor Patterson turned the first shovel of dirt. The old Industrial Committee was asked to get busy and collect the subscriptions to pay for the site.

Dr. Don Butler reported on the finances of the opening of the National Inn on February 17th; also that those parties who bought season banquet tickets last year have one meal coming to them at the next banquet of the club.

As this was the night of the annual meeting many of the members paid their dues to Secretary Billman.

J. H. Smith showed the right community spirit by closing the meeting with a plea that the community extend its patronage to the new bakers and "try Sullivan baked bread."

—Dr. and Mrs. D. D. Grier of Gays visited at the home of their daughter, Mrs. J. F. Lawson Sunday and Monday.

WOOD & LITTLE

O. F. DONER, AUCT.

DEATH CALLS ONE OF MOULTRIE CO.'S OLDEST RESIDENTS

His entire life was spent in the community in which he was born. He grew to manhood under all of the circumstances and attendant hardships of pioneer life. His mother departed this life when he was a small boy, leaving him and a number of brothers and sisters to grow up without the care and help of a mother. His early schooling was meager; but he was a man of strong intellect and one who in later years became a broad reader and keen student of men and affairs. Added to this was a desire for travel which led him even as a young man, to take a trip to Europe and which later led him over a great part of our own country.

A man of strong common sense, his reading and his travel made him a man of broad views and a wide understanding. To his friends he was always a man of simple tastes, sterling character and high ideals. He had a strong devotion for his family, his church, his community and his friends. He was always helpful and liberal to those in need. He never proffered advice but always gave freely his best advice and counsel to those who sought it.

On February 28th 1869 he was united in marriage to Miss Pauline Phillips who with the following children survive: Mrs. Lora Pierce and Victor of Sullivan, Francis of Decatur, Ralph of Lilbourne, Mo., Claude and Paul of Sullivan. Ten grandchildren and five great grandchildren also survive. Besides these he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Mary Smith of Arkansas and Mrs. Martha Murphy of Windsor, and two brothers Henry Wiley of Larne, Ohio and T. L. Wiley of Cameron, Mo.

In 1894 he was converted, baptized and united with the Mt. Zion Baptist church. Here his membership has remained.

In his passing this church has lost a faithful member and a true Christian; this community a good citizen and a kind and helpful neighbor.

He died March 8th 1923, his death due to complication of old age.

The funeral services were held at the Mt. Zion Baptist church, Sunday, March 11th at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. Roy Blackburn, pastor of the church officiating.

The pall bearers were Charles and Albert Phillips, Melvin Wiley, Orville Powell, John and Leo Murphy. The flower girls were: Mrs. Guy Bolin, Mrs. Orville Powell, Mrs. Melvin Wiley and Mrs. Bert Lane.

The services were largely attended by relatives, friends and neighbors.

BLOW CRACKED JAW OF GREEN DAVIS

Arguments leading to blows Friday of last week resulted in Green Davis receiving a cracked jawbone and O. E. Lowe who struck the blow paid a fine of $8.50 and costs in Judge Lambrecht's court this week.

The set-to occurred in the Tabor garage where Mr. Lowe had gone on business. Mr. Davis came in later and resumed the argument that the men had gotten into when they came to the city in the Lowe car earlier in the day. Hostilities ensued.

MRS. GREEN HOME

Mrs. Cash W. Green who spent several weeks in St. Mary's hospital in Decatur, following a serious operation, has sufficiently recovered to be strong enough for a return trip to Sullivan. Mr. Green and C. R. Patterson went to Decatur Sunday and brought her home. She is getting along very nicely and is now at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. R. Patterson.

Sullivan Telephone Business Sold to Chicago Corporation

There May Be No Change in Local Management Although Mr. Cheadle Is No Longer Connected With the Company.

On Monday of this week a controlling interest in the Illinois Central Telephone Company and the National Telephone & Electric Co. was sold to Maurice F. Lennon of Joliet, Illinois, who later transferred his holdings to the Community Telephone Company of Chicago, Illinois, which company owns and operates a system of telephones throughout Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, and other states. Mr. Cheadle and his associates who have developed the properties of these Companies have retired from their management and control after many years devoted to their growth and development. The Companies operate 25 exchanges, the principal ones of which are Clinton, Chillicothe, Washington, Abingdon, Virden, Girard, Gillespie, Carlinville, and Sullivan, having in all about 15,000 subscribers' stations. It is understood that the price at which the control was transferred was something more than $1,500,000. Mr. Matteson, the Assistant General Manager, will probably continue with the Community Telephone Company. The local employees, it is expected, will be retained in their present positions.

In commenting upon the sale of the properties, Mr. Cheadle said:

"It is with a great deal of reluctance and regret that I have severed my connections with these telephone companies. This is especially true because of the real affection that has grown up between the management and its staff of employees. The success of the business has been due in a very large part to the loyalty and fidelity and devotion to duty of the local employees. To F. Witts and his operating force must be given the credit for the high class of service, courtesy, and efficiency that has marked the administration of the local exchange."

"On behalf of all of the directors and officers who have just retired from the Company, I want to express my deepest appreciation to the public at large for the patronage, patience, and courtesy they have always shown to the Company."

It is not expected that any radical changes will be made in the carrying on of the business of the Company. The active management and conduct of the Company's affairs will probably remain in charge of Mr. Matteson.

MR. AND MRS. CROWDER SAW A & P ROBBERS

Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Crowder drove to Effingham and while there visited the sheriff who took them to the jail to identify the two men held there on charges of robbing an oil filling station. One of these men confessed having robbed the A & P Grocery here on a Saturday night some weeks ago. They were certain as to the identification and one of the men, the one who held the gun on Mr. Crowder, cheerfully admitted his participation in the holdup. The other, who is a man with a number of aliases was "hard-boiled" and admits nothing. They also saw the woman, Mrs. Wooley who is being held as a participant in the Montrose Filling station robbery. She says she was not mixed up in the Sullivan deal and has been with the men only about three weeks during which time they have dragged her into a lot of trouble. The trio was in Sullivan on the Sunday night following the A & P robbery.

SUPT. BLAIR SPOKE TO PUPILS, OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS FRIDAY

qualified teacher. "No matter what your other equipment may consist of you positively cannot have a good school without a good teacher" said the Superintendent.

A poor teacher is an injustice to the pupils for a poor start in school work is hard to overcome. Some teachers merely bungle through the school hours and keep the children in school. They lack the knack to impart any knowledge to the pupils.

He stated that an erroneous opinion was being broadcast relative to Chicago's schools. The facts are that Chicago has an exceptionally good school system and teachers are given a thorough training before they can teach there. They must have at least two years training after leaving high school before they are permitted to teach.

The teacher that has the hardest job is the one-room country school teacher. She must fight her battles alone. Such is not the case in the cities where the principal or superintendent can be appealed to in time of trouble.

Mr. Blair then started talking school law. He said that the object of Illinois school laws was to guarantee to each boy and girl an education. "They can never say that Illinois has shut to them the door of opportunity."

He explained a new law that makes it possible for the board of directors to transfer any grade to some other school by furnishing transportation for the pupils of that grade and paying their tuition. He said this is often done where there are only one or two pupils in the 7th or 8th grade. In such case the teacher would naturally devote much time to these advanced pupils in order to prepare them for graduation and as a consequence the smaller pupils would be neglected. Near Robinson, Illinois the rural schools are sending their 7th and 8th grade pupils to the Robinson schools in order to give the teachers more time for the other grades.

Another good law is that which permits school directors to hire dentists to do dental work for pupils at the expense of the district. He declared that children with aching teeth are naturally not good pupils and where the parents have not the means to remedy the trouble the school boards ought to act.

A new law provides for a raise in non-high school tax to provide sufficient funds so that non-high districts can pay for sending their pupils to the high schools. Under the old law, there were often more pupils than the funds of the non-high district could pay for.

In 1913 the school safety and sanitation law was passed and Supt. Blair stated that so far as he knew this law had been fully complied with in Moultrie schools.

He spoke of the certifying law and stated that it was very easy to get a certificate to teach as compared to getting a license for other professional work.

School taxes in most districts of this county are comparatively low and but few districts are levying the limit.

Homer Freeland, one of the directors of the Scheer district, north of Bethany was present and asked for advice relative to conditions in that district. Their school house burned last year and there are but six pupils in the district now and there may be only four next year. Mr. Blair stated that so small a number of pupils did not constitute a good school as all elements of rivalry and competition would be absent. He recommended that the district for the present send the pupils to a nearby school and pay tuition.

He stated that in order to build a school house an election was always necessary and two questions are to be voted on "To Build" and "To Issue Bonds." If the people vote to build and vote down the bond proposition, then the officers of the district can proceed to levy the full amount of taxation allowed by law and put the surplus into the building fund. When such fund is large enough building can be started. He stated that this course was adopted by Hoopstown some years ago and has resulted in the erection of a fine new building. When the people found that there was enough money in the schools funds to erect one building they had another election and decided to build two buildings, voting a bond issue to take care of the second one.

Orla Kimbrough asked about text books for pupils who cannot furnish their own. Mr. Blair stated that this could be done out of the regular education funds of the district.

A question was raised as to buying a musical instrument for a school. Mr. Blair stated this was permissible as such instrument was part of the school equipment.

Mrs. Roughton closed the meeting after which many of those present asked Mr. Blair for advice relative to problems in their respective districts.

From here Mr. Blair went to Arthur where he addressed a Parent-Teachers meeting at night.

BOOSTERS FOR BETTER COWS HAD MEETING HERE SATURDAY

reau offices where dinner was served by the Domestic Science Club.

Following the dinner C. O. Patterson, retiring president of the Dairy Improvement Association called the meeting to order for transaction of various matters of business.

Medals were given to V. I. Winings of Lake City and E. F. Bayne of Sullivan for having cows in the 500 pound butterfat class. Several other members of the association received medals like this last year, and although they placed this year, they were not entitled to medals as they are given only to those making the grade the first time.

Seventeen members of the association have herd averages of more than 300 pounds per cow, in herds of five or more. The National Dairy Association presented these with diplomas, which showed the herd average as follows: C. O. Patterson, 470.9; R. C. Emel 446; J. A. Powell 423; E. F. Bayne 396; Roy B. Martin 382; Lewis Wheeler 380; Wilbur Redfern 377.7; V. I. Winings 376; Rush Weeks, 374.4; Charles Prettyman 365; J. H. Sharp 360.9; Frank Bolin 340.9; J. E. Cotner 337.8; John B. Craig, Jr. 310; V. E. Storm 310.4; L. D. Seass 309.3 and A. D. Tipsword 308.

The Moultrie association has had more 300 lb. herds during the past year than any other association in the state. Three new members who have been signed for the coming year are Oral Bundy, Frank Emel and Glen Nichols.

Upon motion it was decided that the records of the association be so kept that they are available to any member of the association that may want to see them.

The matter of figuring herd average was then discussed and it was agreed to adopt the new rules which the U. of I. is formulating for the coming year. Under these rules herd average will not be figured where the owner buys or sells more than one fourth of the herd on test during the year.

Brice Martin, who as farm editor of the Decatur Herald has given the association much valuable publicity then made a talk and various parting suggestions, as he is leaving this field for Vandalia. The Association extended a vote of thanks to the press for its help in the work of better dairying.

Five boys of the Sullivan STHS Ag. class and the instructor Harry Neville were present and the boys gave an exhibition in cattle judging, using a Jersey heifer that had been provided for that purpose. They were scored according to the way in which they presented their subject: Hugh Righter, first; Granville Cochran, second; Vern Righter third; Dalsen Esry, fourth and William Elder, fifth.

The matter of having the purchasing committee of the Jersey Association go to Ohio to buy a carload of breeding stock was discussed. It was decided to have all those interested in the calf club work meet here Saturday of this week at which time it will be seen whether or not there is enough demand for additional calves to make a shipment necessary. The members of the purchasing committee are Harve Sharp of Bethany; V. I. Winings of Lake City and Ralph Emel of Sullivan.

There was some discussion as to placing some of the cows of the improvement association on the U. of I. register of merit test. Ralph Emel has followed that system during the past year.

The members of the Dairy Improvement Association for the coming year are as follows:

J. F. Fleming, A. B. Hall, C. O. Patterson, Paul H. Wilson, E. F. Bayne, J. A. Powell, Roy B. Martin, L. D. Seass, Glen Nichols, Frank Emel, and O. E. Bundy, all of Sullivan; V. I. Winings, Lake City; A. Hollonbeck, Allenville; Charles W. Prettyman, Arthur; T. B. Walton, Bethany; L. A. Wheeler, Bethany; J. E. Cotner, Bethany; Henry Francis, Lovington; Felix Lavery, Lovington; A. D. Tipsword, Bethany; J. H. Sharp, Bethany; H. P. Bicknell, Lovington; Fred Farrell, Lake City; A. L. Orr, Bethany; Claude Pankey, Arthur; Wilbur Redfern, Lovington, Rush Weeks, Lake City.

CHAPTER V.

Back ashore, where the moment of Palmyra Tree's abduction had found her face so afraid of wounding the girl that he could not raise a rifle in her defense, every passing circumstance was carrying forward the revelation of two characters.

Van, as he saw his betrothed thus torn from him, stood, staring after the schooner, his face convulsed. He had been thrust back into a despair tenfold that whence the Pigeon of Noah had first raised him.

Not so, however, John Thurston. As well as Van he knew nothing could be done. But he would not accede. Burke's crime had thrown him into a frenzy.

He ran across to Captain Pedersen. "Captain," he demanded, "what can we do? At once?"

The deposed sailing master looked back at him haggardly. "Nothing."

"But, but we must. I tell you we must. Man, we've got to get to sea. Today—now!"

Pedersen groaned. "I wish to God we could, Mr. Thurston. I'm as broke up as you. But there just ain't no use. Looks now, if we're ever to get off, we'll have to knock together some sort of craft from the wreck."

Thurston cried out in protest. "Weeks, months. No! You, with all your sea experience, you must know some way. I, I demand." But Pedersen shook his head. Nothing whatever could be done. Suddenly Thurston's face lighted. He stood in thought, his features taking on a more definite tinge of elation. "I've got it!" he cried, and whirled away.

The sailing canoes in which the Polynesian navigators of a bygone day covered the Pacific were catamarans. The explorers built two hulls, so narrow that neither, by itself, would float. But when the two were fixed perhaps ten feet apart, by timbers lashed athwart their gunwales amidships, the double canoe became staunch enough—though boasting in all its parts no nail, or bolt or rivet, its joints held by nothing stronger than breadfruit gum and twists of cord, its sails no more substantial than plaited leaf—to traffic all away and across the broad Pacific.

It was Thurston's idea now that placing his four separately worthless boats in tandem, two on each side, he could lash them under a framework of the lighter spars into a machine which would carry a considerable spread of sail.

"If those old catamarans could hold together for a thousand miles he explained, 'ours ought to make the next island.'"

Work had been going on perhaps an hour when he appeared for the first time to become aware of Van Buren Rutger's drooping figure. John had completely forgotten the other man. Convicted, he ran over to him.

But Thurston attempted no explanation. He saw that the best, the only way out, was to sketch the plan of action, seem to consult the other's judgment. He spoke briefly. "What do you think, Van?" he concluded. "Isn't that as well as we can hope to do?"

Van was silent for a long time; then, unexpectedly, laughed. "As good as any," he said. "Go on your raft, and down, stay, and starve. What's the difference? As regards her—" he caught his breath in a broken exhalation—"she's gone."

Thurston gazed at him somberly. "You, you mean you won't raise a hand for her?"

"I won't," Van answered wearily, "and neither will you. We can't."

Thurston's face was resolute. "Perhaps you're right," he acknowledged. "Very likely so. But for me, I prefer to die—trying."

He would have hurried away but the other detained him. "I'm not your kind of an ass," Van said. "You fool, you know there's no hope. Yet, by this silly work, you can kid yourself into a sort of relief. Me! . . . It was as if he looked upon the girl lying dead. But he tore himself from this vision, became defiant. "You you still think I'm yellow. Very well, then, I'll show you. I'll help now; and when you sail, I, too, shall go."

Thurston urged the men to work as the first color of the dawn touched the eastern sky the last of the stores and gear was lashed into place. Thurston stopped over Van, who had fallen in the sleep of exhaustion, and waked him. "Say the word," he announced. "We're ready."

Van roused but slowly; then turned upon the stronger man in a futile rage at circumstance. "Damn you!" he cried, "I'd rather stay here and die like a gentleman—clean and dry. But a moment later he sprang up with his old laugh. "After all, it's got to be the fish or the birds. I'm a braver man than you, you optimistic ass, because I know. . . ." He did not finish his thought. "Come on. Let's get it over."

Twenty minutes later they were at sea. Twenty hours later the catamaran was drifting, dismayed.

And Van Buren Rutger's the fault. He had been given the steering oar. But, sunk in dejection, he had, in a moment of inattention, allowed the too-heavy boom to gybe, carrying away the improvised tackle, and snatch the mast overboard. As a result Burke's rotten boat had fetched free of its lashings and the raft floated a wreck.

Doomed never to rescue Palmyra from the villain Burke, John Thurston had yet gladly staked life itself upon a thousandth chance.

The Pigeon of Noah was flying into the unknown.

The face of the man Burke was a thing to wonder at. Under the exaltation of a master idea it had grown strange, compelling. His eyes gleamed, his tongue stumbled in its eagerness. For the first time in life he was to voice that which long had hidden in his evil mind. What had been only a vision of power was now to become an actuality. And so much, so very much, depended on kindling that wild spark he felt to glow within the soul of this girl he had seized for his own—his woman. "Tanna!" he cried. "Tanna! Ever hear tell o' that island, Palm?" He laughed excitedly. "Indeed and I've took good care t'make y' acquainted."

"'Tis for Tanna we'll be laying a course, you and me," he went on with exuberant gesture acquired from the natives. "Tanna where we'll lord it like born king and queen."

"What a people! What a people t'work with!" His fingers opened and closed anticipatorily, with a cat-like zestfulness. "What can't we do t'them Papuan wild-men," he cried, "and what can't we make 'em do for us. That's the ticket, Palm; what we can make 'em do for us!"

"Why, kid," he was expostulating a moment later, "this here big idea ain't something that popped into m'head just recent. Gosh, no. Had it in mind for years. But. . . He hesitated, diffident; a thing so foreign to his usual brazen assurance as to seem histrionic. "But the fact is I was a-waiting for, for you!"

She was once more aware how very real his infatuation.

"I just had t'have a dame for this stunt," he went on passionately. "A real dame, a sure enough queen. And then I meets you. The very first watch I sees y'got the shape for it. And when y'lets out about pirate blood, I knows y'got the heart for it. 'Cause yer talk's on the square; more on the square than you yer-self realizes."

The girl was increasingly understanding how irrevocably, on the Rainbow, he had been misled by her caprice. Listening at first in a pleased surprise, he had been eagerly self-deceived. Sure that the lawless strain, persisting through environment, had at last roused, he was now convinced she was already in love with the life he typified—though she herself did not as yet perceive the fact—and that, in the glamour this life cast upon himself, she would in time willingly come to be his own.

"And, girl," Ponape Burke was shouting, "there never, never was no King had such a Queen as you. Yer hair!" He exulted in the wonder of it. "That's how y'beat 'em all. For, didn't I tell y' the Tannamen saw red?—grabbed a red calico, smeared their faces bright and gay, rouged up the dead warrior gaudy t'meet his maker, wound their own heads all over with red vine t'cover the wool?"

"Don't y'understand? That's what I was waiting on. The queen o' my devil's own mission had t' have red hair. And, Palm, them Tannamen'll go plumb crazy with yer locks a'lighting up, as the sun hits 'em, like a stove full o'coals busting into flame. Hair, I tell you, same as that o' some o' the big buck gods o' Melanesia themselves. Yes, I say it, girl—heathen hair!"

"Why, Palm, I wish t'the Lord y'could see yerself. I wish y'could understand yerself. Y'was plain born for the life. When I've waked y'up, you'll be eager for Tanna; for Tanna, where a man can be a man; where there's never a law but the law o' the cockpit and the sun and the wind—and the will o'you and me."

Ponape Burke did a jig step or two across the deck.

"Say, Palm, girl," he explained; "say—you and yer heathen hair! I was going t'make y'a real sure-enough queen!"

It was Burke's continuing delight in her every show of angry spirit, his self-restraining sense of competence to bring the comedy to an end any moment he chose, that most intimidated Palmyra.

"Wait 'till I've tamed you," he would laugh. "Then we'll get along fine. And you'll sure like Tanna when y'get the taste o' power in yer pretty mouth."

Only once had he laid a hand on her. That was when, in a fury, she had flown at him, clawing his face. He had held her away, loudly hilarious. "I'd steal a kiss," he cried, "if 'twasn't for my sore arm. But no. . . I can wait till y'come free, poking out yer lips and begging me t'take a smack. 'Twon't be long."

Nor was her situation made easier by Burke's evil sense of humor. Possibly to hasten her surrender, more probably in a mere cruel amusement, it played upon her fears.

There was, for instance, the occasion when Olive, for the first time abroad the Pigeon of Noah, spoke to her.

Had it not been for those brown-shot eyes, always so stealthily upon her, she would sometimes have thought of this savage as a machine. There was a sort of unhuman precision about him.

And now, in this wise, the moment Burke had gone below, the brown man materialized himself at her side. She was never prepared for the exceeding change from his statuesque silences into the gesticular animation of his speech. He had opened his mouth apparently forgetting as on the Rainbow that they knew no word in common. Then, realizing, he stopped at a loss.

The girl shrank back; fled in panic at the very nearness of him, toward the companionway. But there she recollected that Burke was at the foot of the ladder, and stood helpless.

Then the white man came climbing up. "Y' little vixen," he warned in a malicious enjoyment of the situation, "push me overboard." He interrupted himself with a burst of laughter. "Gad," he cried, "but I'd hate t' give y'the chance! Push me overboard, and I'm gone. But—Olive's left. Remember that. I'm what stands between you. I ain't a-saying as how he'd love a red-headed goddess all his own. Oh, no! But I do see he's got his eye on y'like a wolf following a nice fat little lamb off into the timber."

The girl shuddered. Burke or Olive? White savage or brown? A cry of despair rose to her lips but she fought it back. Her hand stole up toward the opening of her dress, lingered, fell again to her side.

Since that event—it was now her third day aboard the Lupe-a-Noa—she had been wondering whether Ponape Burke really did stand between her and his man. She had not forgotten Burke's saying that Olive, if he knew his power, could snap his master's back across one of those big brown knees like a piece of kindling. And she suspected at times that Olive might knowthis quite well.

The day, with the disconcerting suddenness of the Equator, had faded and darkness would soon have been upon them. Burke had waved a hand toward the cabin with kingly gesture. "The royal chamber awaits, Queenie," he had said. "Hot as hell down there and you'll soon be squawking for a hammock on deck. But tonight . . . There's a lock."

The girl had sprung, trembling, panting, for the companion, had slammed it shut and shot home the bolts. Then she had stumbled down the steps and thrown herself, sobbing, upon the bunk. She had borne up bravely so long as the sun remained, but on the closing in of night, with all its sinister implications, she had given way.

Sleep impossible, the night dragged on. Above decks there had been, as it seemed for hours, only the heavy breathing of slumber. At last, like a trapped animal herself, she had begun a futile prying. And then without warning in that silence, there came, quite close at hand, a sound. The girl, crouched, tense. Again it came, hidden, menacing.

DEMOCRATS HAVE NO CANDIDATES IN RACE AGAINST CHAS. ADKINS

The Democratic party in the 19th congressional district this year has no one actively seeking the nomination for congress.

At a meeting in Decatur some weeks ago it was unanimously agreed that Judge W. W. Reeves of Tuscola be the candidate. This seemed to suit everybody but Judge Reeves. He does not "choose to run." As a consequence this place on the ticket on April 10th will be vacant and the man who will have his name written on the ticket most often in that primary will be the candidate.

The action of the Democrats is not in the nature of a compliment to Congressman Adkins, but it seems that men of money and ability do not care to spend their time in bucking the top-heavy Republican majority which exists in the 19th district.

There is no dissatisfaction among the farmers with Mr. Adkins' congressional record. He has always favored farm legislation, but his party does not, so anything he may do does not amount to very much. A strong capable Democrat could far better represent the 19th district at Washington.

PROF. SPAUGH DEVELOPS ATHLETIC ABILITIES OF CALIFORNIA STUDENTS

The Olive grammar school basketball quintet coached by R. L. Spaug was undisputed champion of Orange county, having swept through the season with ten consecutive victories to its credit.

The Gateway troupe cinched the county laurels by thumping the Orange Intermediate school five, 10 to 6, in a game replete with thrills at the Orange high school pavilion.

Surging into an early lead, Spaug's chargers were never headed, leading 4 to 0 at the quarter, 6 to 2 at half-time and 8 to 4 at the close of the third quarter.

A large crowd witnessed the contest, which was fast and cleanly fought throughout. The victory gave Olive the undisputed championship of Orange county in grammar school circles.

The Gateway aggregation had previously copped the northern Orange county title, while Orange had captured the southern division crown.

The Olive girls and boys, both undefeated in the northern division, captured the silver loving cup offered the winner by Victor Walker, Santa Ana sportsman.

Spaug announced that yesterday's game wound up the season's cage activities for his team. The Olive school will now turn its attention to track.

Only two men, Johnson and Dollard will be lost from the squad from graduation and Coach Spaug has fine prospects for another winning quintet next season.

"CULLEY" MAY HAVE RICH OIL LANDS

B. C. (Culley) Monroe of Sullivan and a former well known Tuscola resident, is now down in Arizona looking after some land holdings which he purchased a few years ago. He was accompanied by G. L. England, of the real estate firm of England & Hancock, and the two Illinois men are now busily engaged in looking after the granting of some oil leases which are being made by capitalists throughout that section of Arizona.

Mr. Monroe's land is right in the heart of one of the richest oil sections of the southwest and during the past year a number of extra well paying wells have been sunk in that vicinity, many of which are within a very short distance of the Monroe land.

Culley has every reason to feel that he is on the verge of striking something really worth while, as there is every indication that his land is rich with oil and his many Tuscola friends are all hoping and wishing for him the best of luck.—Tuscola Review.

Mission Folks Get Interesting Letter From H. H. Smith

Former C & E I Agent, Now at Marion, Writes Words of Encouragement and Good Advice to His Friends Here.

H. H. Smith who recently moved with his family to Marion, still takes a great interest in his friends with whom he was associated in a religious way while here.

He has written a very interesting letter to Grandma and Thomas Campbell and at their request and to comply with the wishes of their friends, we have the privilege of producing that letter which is as follows:

"Marion, Ill.

"March 6th, 1928.

"Dear Grandmother and Uncle Tom.

"Tomorrow is my birthday and I thought I would celebrate tonight by writing to you. I expect you could read it more easily if I would write at depot where I could use the typewriter but sometimes I am too busy to write there and I have a great deal more time at home than I did at Sullivan. Don't have so many services to go to and none to prepare for so in that way I have much more time.

I go to prayer meeting on Wednesday night to Baptist church and to Sunday School and morning preaching service on Sunday. I have not been going on Sunday evening. I stay at home and let Herwald go. We do not leave Mrs. Smith alone of nights much as she is kind of afraid.

"People go to church better down here than they did at Sullivan. Sometimes in fact most of the time about 200 out for prayer meeting and about 500 in Sunday school and about the same number to church.

"Well Grandma is Tom taking you to church pretty regularly. You make him do it for you when the weather is nice and you feel like going. I do hope you will continue to attend the Mission. They need you up there and you need them so keep going every time you can.

We are praying for you both that the Lord may keep you spotless and pure and ready for Him when he calls for you and He is going to call one of these days. You and Tom are both getting old. No doubt Grandma you are getting very near the Sunset of Life and if you have missed Heaven you miss all. I am praying when I get to Heaven I will meet you there Grandma and you Uncle Tom and up there you will have two good eyes and the Light will not hurt them there. Won't that be fine. We want to go to Heaven don't we.

"Any time you want to talk to any one or something you want to ask about you go to Sister Ola, or Sister Thompson or Brother Thompson. Any of them will be only too glad to help you.

"We are as well as common. Mrs. Smith feeling very well for her. We like it down here just fine but we miss our friends very much and that includes you both. I used to see Tom about every day I want to come back some time soon and speak at the Mission and I surely want to see you both there.

"If you happen to see Mrs. Flesher tell her I will write her again soon. How is she? She was pretty sick when I left there.

"I see by the paper the Wrights have gone to the wall. Can't always tell by the way one spreads it on, can you?

"Well I guess I had better cease for this time. You tell me if you can't read this and next time I will try and write it on the typewriter.

"This has been a wonderful day so nice and warm. We have not had any cold weather since I came.

"Well goodbye and just lots of love to you both and remember to pray for us. You can do that can't you. Mrs. Smith sends her love also.

Rour Bro. in Jesus,

"Mr. Smith."

TO CONSOLIDATE ROUTES

It is quite likely that the post office department will close one of Windsor's four mail routes about April 1, or shortly thereafter. An inspector has been here two or three times studying the field. As now proposed Route No. 1 will absorb about 10 miles of the south end of Route 4, and Route 3 and the remainder of Route 4 will comprise one route. Such an arrangement will be for eight months a year. During four months of winter weather another carrier will be put on.

The department is experimenting along this line in various parts of the country.—Windsor Gazette.

—Mrs. W. T. Bennett will leave Saturday for Indianapolis for a week's visit with relatives.

Town Clerk—Oral Dolan.
School trustee—Howard Robinson.

Dora Township

Dora's Republican candidates are the following:
For supervisor—John A. Albright.

For Assessor—E. H. Huey.

Dick Lee started the independent ticket business in Dora when four years ago he ran as highway commissioner as an independent when the Republicans refused him the nomination. Just what offices will be sought by independents has not been disclosed.

Lowe Township

Tom Salee, the Arthur auctioneer will make the race for highway commissioner on the Republican ticket. E. L. Howell is candidate for assessor and Shelby Gibson for town clerk.

to make the race. Mr. Stevens served on the board some years ago and regardless of politics was regarded as one of the most able and efficient men who has served on that board in recent years. Despite the fact that he was a Republican, the democratic majority elected him chairman. As F. F. Fleming who is seeking re-election is also popular among his home folks, a real battle for ballots is in prospect this year in Lowe township.

ARGUMENT FAILED BUT SONG GETS RECOGNITION

The Dalton City ladies who wrote and sang songs dedicated to Len Small at the recent road hearing have received official thanks from the Governor. It seems that the songs made a dent in the hearts of the highway officials. If the road is secured through these efforts the song writers ought to be honored with a suitable group of statuary, erected somewhere along Route 132 and an inscription "They reached Len's heart with a song."
