This Issue of The Progress is Printed on Cornstalk Paper

For many years cornstalks have been considered waste product, good for nothing but to be destroyed by fire, or plowed under. Science has now found a way of utilizing them in the making of various grades of paper.

Seventy per cent of the material used in making this paper is cornstalk pulp. The paper we are using this week is not ideally adapted for newspaper use. It is too hard and too transparent. Since making this purchase we have been informed that regular quality newsprint is now being made from cornstalks and may in a short itme replace the wood-pulp newsprint which is now universally used.

Utilizing cornstalks for the making of paper has two things to commend it. In the first place it will add to farmers' income through the sale of stalks to paper manufacturers. In the second place, it will aid in fighting the corn borers which harbor over winter in the stalks when left in the fields.

We are mailing several hundred copies of this week's issue as samples to prospective subscribers. We want them to see what cornstalk paper looks like. We trust that they will like the contents of the paper and that we may add some of them to our steadily growing list of subscribers.

REAT in counsel, and mighty in work: for thine eyes Tare open upon all the ways of the sons of men; to give everyone according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings.—Jer. 32-19.

The less there is said of physical culture and laws, and the more there is taught and said about spiritual law, the higher the standard of mortals will be, and the farther they will be removed from the imbecility of mind and body.

We should master fear instead of cultivating it. It was the ignorance of our forefathers, in the departments of knowledge broadcast in the earth, which made them more hardy than our trained physiologists, more honest than our sleek politicians.—Mary Baker Eddy.

SEC'Y. HYDE'S FARM RELIEF PLAN

In the near future we will see the Hoover administration functioning in the matter of farm relief. It was promised the farmer and a special session of Congress is being called to consider it.

Tariff schedules will also be given consideration at that special session. If reports are true the tariff on farm products will be given a substantial raise.

Everybody that knows anything about the farm problem knows that high tariffs do not give the farmers better decides she wants a certain chap to look upon, are not all-import-flake, removing all bones. Fry prices for those crops of which they grow a surplus. The world market decides the price.

So the farmers are going to be given some more of nothing.

The manufacturers are also clamoring for a raise in tariff rates. They will get them. When the tariff rates on really do select their wives, and manufactured goods go up, so do the prices.

It will all resolve itself into this—the farmer will be given some more tariff salve which really means little or course by which the ideal wife children, and unfortunately this ed cheese mixed with cream, nothing to him in better prices. So there you have the solution, farmers. Go to work, work hard, and no matter what prices you may get, you'll get ahead in the world somehow.

To Mr. Hyde's sage advice might be added another angle to the situation which he evidently overlooked and that is: "Always vote the Republican ticket". But as the majority of farmers do that anyway, he evidently thought it useless to stress this matter.

It's too bad that the farmers, Democratic and Republi can, who worked and voted against Herbert Hoover and Republican agricultural policies, will have to suffer the consequences with those who are really responsible therefor.

Secretary Hyde, the Hoover agricultural spokesman says hard work is the farmers salvation. So go and get busy.

During last fall's political campaign we heard much about the matter of "nullification" of the United States Constitution. Smith's stand on the Volstead Act, bitterly assailed the loyal democrats as being eager to "nullify" the constitution.

This condition prevailed in Illinois as elsewhere.

It was some more sanctimonious hypocrisy. It was the bunk, for people of Illinois, and this includes our Republican brethren, proceeded to elect a man to the office of Governor who according to the constitution of this state was not eligible to such election. That is one count in the indictment charging hypocrisy.

The constitution of the State of Illinois provides for representative government. To secure this the state is diyided into senatorial districts. When this division was originally made the population of the districts was as nearly equal as was possible. The constitution provides that when there are increases or changes in population there shall be a reapportionment of these districts. and deny to certain parts of the state that representation to which it is entitled.

Why is this the case?

Chicago through its tremendous growth in the past decade is entitled to more representation in the state legislature. The downstate legislators, fearful that Chicago if given rightful representation in state legislature, would dominate the affairs of the state, have stood pat against reapportionment. Downstate now holds the upper hand at door: by me if any man enter in, Springfield, and nullification or otherwise, the downstate and out and find pasture. 10. Dog Called Unclean by Biblical Writers tendency during the past week

Many people have a decided prejudice against selling dogs. Some go so far as to regard the sale of a dog as positively sinful. One elderly woman, says the Pathfinder Magazine, severely condemned a man engaged in the business of raising shepherd dogs for the market. She branded his business as sinful and protested against her church accepting contributions of his "tainted" money.

The origin of this prejudice is It may be not known for certain. based on the old Hebraic Scriptural teachings. Deuteronomy 23: 18 says in part: "Thou shalt not . . the price of a dog bring into the house of the Lord thy God for any vow." Many commentafor any vow." Many commenta-tors, accepting "dog" here in the literal sense, state that Moses declared dogs unclean and prohibited traffic in them.

Others take a different view of the passage. They say that "dog" here does not refer to the animal, but to the person who has prostituted himself by committing any abominable action. This opinion receives some confirmation from the context, especially the preceding In Palestine the dog was looked upon with loathing and aversion, as filthy and unclean. This animal is mentioned in the Bible more than forty times and, with few exceptions, it is mentioned resent an increase of approxiwith contempt, to remark either its mately 41,500 cases over same voracious instincts, fts fierceness or market and same period week its loathsomeness.

What Dr. Caldwell Learned in 47 Years Practice

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vege-table compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not a habit forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us to that effect.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for hu-man beings to put into their system. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without griping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds. Always have a bottle in the house, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the
