

ATTENDED EDITORS MEETING IN BENTON; VIEW ORIENT MINE

Mr. and Mrs. Ed C. Brandenburger and son Byron motored to Benton Friday where they attended the sessions of the Southern Illinois Editorial Association.

The depth of the shaft is between 500 and 600 feet and the layer of coal being mined is about 9 feet.

The hoist works at the rate of 3 loads per minute and each load hoisted averages better than 14 ton, which means about 45 ton per minute for every minute of working time.

Besides seeing some of the lower workings of the mine, the newspaper folks were shown thru upper workings and saw how coal is handled from the time it leaves the hoist until it reaches the railroad coal cars.

The repair house where extra parts of all machinery are kept; the wash house; the sand rooms where sand is screened to a proper texture for use on rails; the boiler rooms where water is heated for the wash house; the light department where each miner is furnished with an electric light and battery daily;

The party of which the Sullivan folks were a part did not take the extended trip to the face of the underground workings, about 3 miles from the elevator shaft, as they were limited in time.

The immense amount of power that is used to run the hundreds of motors for this establishment is furnished by the C. I. P. S. Company which stands very high in the estimation of southern Illinois industries.

Saturday afternoon in company with Benton folks, the Sullivan party visited relatives in Marion. The Southern Illinois Editorial association is a wide-awake organization, second only to the state association in membership and influence.

Much of the success of the success of the meeting was due to Editor Page of the Benton Evening News, who was in charge of the arrangements. Among the speakers were Hon. Walter Williams and Circuit Judge Miller of Benton.

The hospitality of the Benton folks, the excellence of the program and the entertainment furnished.

ROADSIDE ADVERTISING INTERFERES WITH STANDARD ROAD SIGNS

In a canvass of advertising signs on the highways, the Bureau of Public Roads of United States Department of Agriculture found that the automobile industry and those industries which serve it are the worst offenders. Their signs carry advertisements for cars, tires, oils and other accessories. Hotels and restaurants, the bureau says, probably rank second in the amount of advertising done along the highways.

Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the bureau, in a recent statement declared: "There is little of fairness to the public in the fact that the industries which depend upon the highways for their whole business should be the worst offenders in erecting and maintaining thousands of glaring, disfiguring signs along our streets and roadways." He also pointed out that many of the producers of the best products do not advertise in this way and that certain oil companies have withdrawn from this practice.

"These signs," says Mr. MacDonald, "are concentrated on the main traveled highways and are habitually placed at turns in the road where the motorists should be giving most careful attention to driving. In many instances they cut off the view of approaching cars at curves and at road intersections. Some even cut off the sight of approaching trains at unprotected grade crossings. Those which carry the word 'stop,' and other words ordinarily employed on the legitimate warning signs weaken the force of the properly placed cautionary signals."

The bureau found that signs tend to multiply on poor or inferior real estate or other property along the road; that frequently abandoned sheds or barns near the roadside are covered with unsightly advertising; and that lowlands along small streams over which highways run are popular positions for large billboards.

The unsightliness of the tin signs hung on wire fences or attached to tree trunks was very noticeable to the investigators. Many such signs have been completely washed out by the weather, yet remain to disfigure the landscape.

The effectiveness of standard numerical signs and directions and danger signals on the principal transcontinental highways, which have contributed immeasurably to the convenience and safety of travel, is hindered in many instances, says the bureau, by advertising signs which are so placed as to obscure them or withdraw attention from them. In many cases such advertisements are a positive hindrance and menace to the traveling public, especially when they contain misleading information about distances and the condition of the road ahead, which is belied in less obtrusive fashion by the public signs.

In his last annual report Mr. MacDonald stated: "In practically all cases these roadside advertisements merely repeat in the same form appeals that are made quite properly and insistently through other agencies. They are unneeded by the public and are of doubtful value to the advertisers. It is hoped that means may be found by suitable legislation to effect their complete elimination upon all roads constructed in part with money appropriated by the National Government."

METHODIST CHURCH
G. V. Herrick, pastor.

Too much cannot be said about the great importance of church attendance. In these days it is a simple and easy matter to ignore this grave responsibility. When Daniel Webster was asked what was the most serious question that ever occupied his mind he replied: "My solemn accountability to God." This is the most important matter that any one can ever consider. We generally overlook the fact of our individual responsibility so far as church work is concerned. A new day would dawn for America and for the world if all citizens of our great Christian nation would bear in mind that "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord."

Large Refinery Makes New Oil

According to John Davis of the Davis oil company of this city, motorists in this vicinity are now able to secure an entirely new type of lubricant which is built specially to withstand the terrific heat created by the modern high speed, high compression, fast running automotive motor.

The new product, DIAMOND 760 Motor Oil, derives its name from a new and exacting laboratory test to which lubricants are subjected to determine their adaptability to the lubrication requirements of modern motors. Under the test, the oil is heated to the extreme temperature of 760 degrees Fahrenheit, and notation made of the loss sustained by evaporation up to and at this heat.

Repeated tests by this method of DIAMOND 760 Motor Oil have proved it to be practically non-volatile as the evaporation losses are negligible, even in the lightest grades. It is, therefore, claimed that this lubricant is 100% heat resisting, which provides an added margin of safety for the fast moving parts of the motor and decided economies in the amount of oil consumed.

DIAMOND 760 is the first lubricant possessing this heat resisting quality to be placed on the market and its production in commercial quantities necessitated the expenditure of a huge sum of money in new refinery equipment. As was its predecessor, DIAMOND Motor Oil, the new Diamond 760 is refined from selected 100% pure paraffin base crudes and is offered in six weights or bodies, each being graded in accordance with recommendations of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Motorists who have tried Diamond 760 are most enthusiastic in their praises of its performance. More than 4,500 DIAMOND Stations and dealers throughout the Middle West now have it available.

New Floor Coverings Are Important

Spring time is house cleaning time. Usually the entire house undergoes a renovation. Paints and varnishes and lacquers are applied to the walls, the ceilings, the woodwork and the furniture.

But if your floor covering is not in harmony with all of this beautification, you are overlooking the most important feature.

Good carpets are an investment in home comfort and beauty. They add that touch of home-likeness and good taste which every good housewife always strives for.

We have a very nice assortment of rugs from which to select. If, however, you desire some quality or design that we do not have in stock, we will get it for you.

Linoleums
Our Linoleum assortment was never more attractive. Treat the kitchen floor to a new dress this spring. New Linoleum will serve to brighten up any kitchen; a badly worn floor covering spoils the looks of a kitchen that may be ever so well furnished otherwise.

A WHITFIELD RUMOR
From some unexplained source a rumor started the rounds in this city early this week that Z. B. Whitfield was here at the National Inn. The rumor as elaborated was to the effect that Mr. Whitfield was being transferred from some California institution to an Illinois institution. The party was said to be staying at the National Inn and a telephone call was received there asking for Mr. Whitfield. So far as can be learned there was no basis of fact to any part of the rumor.

Mr. Whitfield will be remembered as the former cashier of the Merchants & Farmers State bank, who, after serving a penitentiary term, went to California to live.

MRS. ALVIRA HILLIARD DIED AT KIRKSVILLE

Mrs. Alvira Hilliard, widow of John Hilliard died at her home at Kirksville Thursday morning at age of 75 years, 2 months and 11 days. Her husband died July 26, 1928.

Mrs. Hilliard was thrice married and leaves several children. Funeral services will be held at the U. B. church in Kirksville on Friday at 2 p. m. and burial will be in Hampton cemetery.

GEESE AT KIRKSVILLE

From the quiet neighboring community of Kirksville come a story of geese. So uncertain are the facts on which this story is based that instead of calling it a story, it is best to call it a rumor. Rumor says that a man was caught stealing his neighbor's geese. The neighbor got his shotgun and taking aim, planted a number of lead pellets in that part of the thief's body, which he sits on when he sits down. Rumor further states that the thief went to Shelbyville and there had extracted the leaden pellets which had taken lodgment in him.
