J. H. Smith Injured In Auto Wreck In Indiana Sun.

Contemplated Eastern Tour comes to abrupt end when careless Pennsylvania driver hits the Smith car. Legal action started.

J. H. Smith, prominent Sullivan merchant, was painfully and seriously injured and his son Grover sustained bruises and scratches Sunday afternoon in an automobile accident on Route 10, about 45 miles east of Indianapolis. Mrs. J. H. Smith and Helen daughter of Grover were also in the car but escaped injury.

Mr. Smith's injuries consist of a badly bruised and cut face and strained ligaments and muscles of the shoulders and back. He has been confined to his bed.

The Smith party left here at 6:30 Sunday morning on an automobile trip east. They expected to spend several weeks touring, visiting New York, Washington, Baltimore and other eastern cities.

When 45 miles east of Indianapolis near little town of Strawn, a Pennsylvania car, also going east, passed them at great speed. (Continued on page 5)

RONEY RE-ELECTED HEAD OF MOULTRIE LODGE, I. O. O. F.

At Tuesday night's meeting of the Odd Fellows lodge in this city a long-delayed election of officers was held. H. L. Roney was re-elected Noble Grand, Ira Goodwin vice grand and D. D. Kingrey, recording secretary.

The election was supposed to have been held in June, but due to a consolidation of the Sullivan and Allenville lodges there had been some delay. The consolidation has now been consummated and the vice grand elected Tuesday was member of the Allenville lodge before consolidation.

M. K. Birch, acting for the trustees of the consolidated lodges has sold to Theodore Snyder at Allenville the I. O. O. F. lodge hall in that village. The Snyder store occupies the lower floor of this building. Stoves and some other furnishings were sold by Mr. Birch and a large quantity of chairs, tables, etc., were brought to this city and added to the local lodge equipment.

SULLIVAN VISITORS INJURED ON TRIP FROM CALIF.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Boozie of Oakdale, Calif., who are on a visit to Gays and Sullivan relatives had an accident while coming East. Their automobile skidded in loose gravel and was overturned in Colorado. The car was not damaged, but Mr. Boozie sustained an injury to the left hand that required 28 stitches to close. One finger was amputated. Mrs. Boozie sustained two rib fractures and a scalp wound. Closely behind them when this accident happened was another car, headed for Indiana. The occupants of the latter car, a man and his wife, could drive. The man drove the Boozie car and the woman their car.

At the conclusion of the dinner Mr. and Mrs. Hollonbeck were presented with a purse of $105 in gold by their children and the families.

All had a delightful time and wished the celebrants many more years of happy married life.

Quarter Million In Assessments Added by Board

Review Board Made a Very Thorough Job This Year of Finding Personal Property Missed by the Assessors. Will Add Much to Taxes.

Personal property assessments in Moultrie county this year are $1,710,920. This is $321,858 more than last year when the total was only $1,389,062.

The board of review has nearly completed its work. It has gone over the books turned in by the assessors very thoroughly and has added a very substantial sum to the assessment of each township. The total personal property which had been missed by the assessors and was found and assessed by the board is $250,235. This will add greatly to the amount of taxes which will be paid next year. On a county tax rate of 25c it will add over $6000 to county funds.

The largest amount placed on the tax books by the board in any one township was in Sullivan township. The assessor's books showed $309,670. When the board got done with the job they had added $94,980 to this amount making the total $404,650.

In Lovington township $20,195 was added to the amount the assessor turned in, making the total for that township $225,430.

Jonathan Creek township's assessor figures were increased from $138,235 to $144,500, or a gain of $6,265.

Dora township's increase was $22,170 over the assessor's figure of $106,650. This makes that township's assessment $128,825.

The board added just about 13% of assessed property on which next year's taxes will be spread.

The board members are Fred Harmon, M. E. Foster, Frank Stevens and the secretary of the board is F. W. Wood.

Golf Battle for Championship And Sentel Cup

Several First Flights to be Played; Those Who Survived Second Round This Far Are Frank Eads, O. F. Cochran and F. W. Wood.

The Sentel cup tournament matches on the Sullivan golf course are now the most interesting event in progress there.

Not all of the first flights have been played but it was expected that they would be on Thursday afternoon. Those still to be played are the following:

Don Butler vs. Jim Lehman
A. Nicholson vs. E. B. Ferris
Bill Gardner vs. George Titus
Frank Newbould vs. Carl Wolf.
Results of first flights show that O. F. Cochran eliminated John Pifer; G. R. Fleming won over George A. Sentel; Troy Scott over John Eads; John Hankla over Dr. Johnson; Frank Eads over Dr. Johnson; J. L. McLaughlin over Brandenburg; Dr. Norris over Roy Patterson; Carl Hill over Roy Foster; John Gauger over G. Stock; F. W. Wood over Croso; Lute Hudson over Paul M. Hankla.

In the second flight matches so far played O. F. Cochran was victorious over Gay Fleming; Frank Eads over Joe McLaughlin and Bo Wood over John Gauger. Matched to play are Troy Scott vs. John Hankla.

The cup is at present held by O. F. Cochran who defeated Carl Wolf in the championship play last year.

In the women's beginners' tournament the race has narrowed down to the finals with Mrs. Iva Ashbrook and Mrs. Carmen Patterson opposing each other.

Wednesday afternoon of this week the grade school contestants shot qualifying scores for entry into their cup tournament. James McLaughlin turned in a 52 and Leo Horn had a 54. Indications are that these boys will soon develop form enough to take the Sentel cup if the grownups will give them a chance at it.

BREAK INTO PLANT OF SULLIVAN DAIRY

A party or parties gained entrance early Wednesday morning into the plant of the Sullivan Dairy company and took $10 in cash and about $90 in checks. This was in an unlocked safe. An attempt to open the cash register failed. Several bricks of ice cream and one pound of butter were taken out of the refrigerator but left behind. Plenty of fingerprints were available and it is but a question of time before the culprits will be under arrest and on the way to the penitentiary.

COST $22.25 TO SETTLE BAD CHECK FOR $3.00

POWELL'S JERSEYS WIN AT FAIR; TOP STATE IN CREAM

Jerseys that head the state in production and can then go to the State Fair and cop off a very choice selection of winnings are the kind that Jesse A. Powell of this community raises.

The report of the herd improvement associations for July which appears elsewhere in this issue show Mr. Powell's Jerseys to be well in the lead. He took six head of his herd to the State Fair and the judges awarded him the following:

1st and 3rd on cow 3 years old or over.
2nd on two year old.
2nd on get of sire.
1st on produce of dam.
Third on calf herd.

On the Percheron Stallion colt he exhibited he won 7th place.
A. D. Tipword of near Bethany won 1st in state on 2 year old bull.

Many Jersey breeders who are striving for production pay little attention to type and consequently cannot compete successfully in the show ring. Mr. Powell by his winnings plainly shows that his Jerseys are not only champion producers insofar as the cream pail is concerned, but nothing has been sacrificed in breeding for true show-ring type.

NATIONAL GUARD RETURNED SATURDAY FROM CAMP GRANT

Lieut. D. K. Campbell and the members of the local Hdq. Co., 130th Infantry, National Guard, returned Saturday morning from Camp Grant where they had spent two weeks in training.

Besides Lieut. Campbell and Lieut. Pribble 30 enlisted men attended from here. Captain James Pifer was also at camp. He was ill Friday and was not able to get back to this city until Monday.

There were about 8000 soldiers in training at Camp Grant. The camp was in charge of Major General Koehn. Gen. Carlos Black who is Governor Emmerson's adjutant was there during the entire training period.

Ex-Governor Frank O. Lowden visited the camp August 11th and addressed the men. Governor Emmerson came August 14th and on the next day held a review of the troops. Following this review the air squadron gave battle formation and maneuvers.

A new feature at camp this year was the Black Horse Cavalry troop. Mounted on black horses caparisoned with white trimmings this troop showed lots of class. It acted as escort for all of the nobles who were camp guests.

Lieut. Spot Pribble of the local company acted as official starter at the division field meet held on the morning of August 11th. His services received favorable comment in Chicago and Rockford papers. Last year the starter was Walter Eckersall of football fame.

The local boys apparently all enjoyed the training period. The weather was cool, good eats were plentiful and there was no lack of opportunity to get plenty of exercise.

THIRD BRUCE MAN ARRESTED FOR THEFT

Roy Bundy and Ray Abbott were arrested some time ago by Sheriff Lansen on a charge of having stolen some automobile accessories at Bruce. Friday Clarence Cochran was brought into Judge Edwards court on a similar complaint, sworn out by Lynn Ledbetter of Bruce. Mr. Ledbetter charges Cochran with having stolen tires, tubes, etc., to the amount of $26. The man waived his preliminary hearing and was held to the grand jury in bond of $300. He gave bond with Ray Misenheimer as surety and was released.

Library Board Votes to Buy The Building

R. B. Foster New President and Mrs. Edwards Secretary. Several Changes in Board Membership. To Engage Legal Counsel.

The Sullivan Public Library Board held a meeting in the library club room Monday night. The matter of buying the building in which the library is located was discussed. The owners of this building have submitted a proposition to Dr. Lawson, who has his office in the west room. A plan was agreed upon that looks feasible and may lead to the library owning its own building, so as to save money now paid for rent.

Mayor McFerrin named three library board members at the city council meeting which was also in session Monday night. When informed that these members were to be, the board proceeded to organize for the ensuing year by electing R. B. Foster, president; Mrs. Jessie Tichenor vice president and Mrs. Jessie Edwards secretary. During the past year J. J. Gauger was president and Ed C. Brandenburg finished two years as secretary. Terms of board members Mrs. Edwards, George Titus and Ed C. Brandenburg expired this year. Mrs. Edwards was reappointed and new members are George Roney and Mrs. Tichenor. The holdover members are I. J. Martin, J. J. Gauger, Mrs. Grace Richardson, Mrs. Ada Chapin, R. B. Foster and Mrs. Leone Martin.

Mr. Gauger was instructed to confer with an attorney relative to the proper procedure necessary to acquire title to the library property. Secretary Brandenburg, who has retired from the board, reported before turning over the books to the new secretary that after paying August bills there will be less than $300 in the library fund with which to run that institution until tax money comes in next April.

Public Schools Open Sept. 2; Several Changes

The Misses Mary and Sarah Powers Will Be Missed From the Teaching Staff After a Half Century's Service. Four New Teachers This Year.

Sullivan Public schools open Sept. 2 with but few changes in the teaching faculty. The Powers Sisters who gave some half century of service to the schools of Sullivan will certainly be missed. Not many people can remember a First Day of School in Sullivan without The Powers Sisters having been on hand. Although the sisters will not be active in school work this year we know that their hearts and souls will be for the interest of the boys and girls of the school. May their usefulness extend many years into the future.

Mrs. Gertrude Fortner, who has taught in the Sullivan schools for some 14 years, and who has taught all the grades in the school except the Third, will take Miss Sarah Powers' room.

JENNIE TAYLOR DIED SATURDAY; FUNERAL MONDAY

PETE CHIPPS HEADED FOR CO. CLERK'S OFFICE

While the Republican party's prospective candidates for next spring's primary are still undecided, as to whether they will get a job from Governor Emmerson, or will have to run for office here in an effort to keep on the public payroll at least one Democratic candidate is not letting any grass grow under his feet (politically speaking).

In any discussion pertaining to political matters it is practically conceded that the Democratic nominee for county clerk on the ticket in November 1930 will be Paul Chippis. He does not say that the "people demand that I run" or any such bunk. He is running because he says he wants the office and knows that he can handle it in the interest of the county tax payers. He has no political axe to grind, no one to punish or to reward.

His platform seems to be: "I want the office. Having always been a Democrat, I am asking the Democratic party to nominate me at the primary next April and I want the people, regardless of party affiliation to support me at the general election."

J. B. Martin, the present county clerk will have served 12 years at the expiration of his present term.

AND he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one arose from the dead. Luke 16-31.

The most ignorant of mortals is he who feels that he has wisdom and power enough to regulate by force of law the morals and manners of those who do not think as he thinks, nor act as he acts. When such people constitute a majority in a nation, freedom is menaced and the sheriff's warrant takes the place of educational persuasion.

STATE FAIR WITHOUT EXHIBITS ON OPENING DAY

Saturday we went to the State Fair. It was Opening Day, or at least it was advertised as such.

There wasn't much of anything to be seen however. The buildings in which the displays were to be placed presented just so much vacant stall room and booths in the making.

Carpenters were busy placing a roof on one big building.

From general appearances a person would be justified in reaching the conclusion that many people had just that morning awakened to the fact that there was to be a state fair and they were busily engaged in doing work that ought to have been done several days sooner.

We went from building to building in the morning in the hope that somewhere some exhibitor would keep faith with the public and have his exhibit ready on Opening Day. No luck, however. Even the state's own exhibits were not in place and we were told that they were en route from Kankakee where Len Small's fair closed on Friday. The auto races were doubtless good, but we wanted to see the other exhibits, cattle, farm products, poultry, etc. Before we left in the afternoon we did find some few exhibits, but very few.

We were led to make a few remarks about State Fair that opens without having anything to show on opening day and were met with pained and surprised looks and usually heard the remark: "Why you can't expect to see much on the first day. You must come back about next Wednesday or Thursday. By then the exhibits will all be in place and the Fair will be going along in great shape."

Just a good day practically wasted.

We thought that surely the great state of Illinois would keep faith with its people and live up to what it advertises. If this Fair is usually not ready for the public on day of opening, it is confidence game, when admission fees are charged of those inveigled into the grounds.

The Chicago Tribune stated Sunday that the Fair had opened "with a crowd of 60,000." We are ready to wager a dime against a doughnut that, not counting the help, you could not have found 6000 inside the Fair grounds.

At that we suppose, that the Fair will be all up to expectations when once it gets going, but if this year's management is a fair sample of how this thing is usually run, all we can say is that it needs a new manager.

We did not ask for our money back—we went in on a pass. The time wasted in hunting exhibits we will charge to our exercise and experience account.

WHY NOT A WHEEL TAX?

There are people in this city who cannot pay for oiling the streets which pass their property. Many such folks do not own automobiles. They do not use the streets, themselves. While they do owe it to the city and to themselves to keep their property in best possible condition, yet it seems that there is a better way of handling the street improvement program than by making these people pay for it.

Let the people who use the streets pay for their improvement and upkeep. Part of such funds are available through general taxation, although it is generally known that taxes paid for road and bridge purposes in Sullivan are now being diverted and used in paying maturing water bonds. No additional money can be levied by taxation in that way. The city is levying the limit.

The city can, however, pass a wheel tax ordinance and collect a tax in that way for street improvement purposes.

A wheel tax is a tax levied by the city on automobiles owned in the city. In neighboring cities where a wheel tax is levied it ranges from $2.00 to $10 per car. The larger sum is levied on heavy trucks. Just what would be a practical amount to levy as a wheel tax in Sullivan cannot be determined without further investigation. Figuring on a basis of only 500 cars with an average tax of $4.00 per car, the sum of $2000 would be realized. Spend that much money on a sensible street improvement program in this city each year, plus what can be salvaged out of the street and alley and road and bridge tax funds, and you will start to get somewhere.

There is not an automobile in Sullivan but is damaged $10 or more yearly by being driven over some of the unimproved side streets. Why not apply common sense and pay a wheel tax and save on the wear and tear on your auto?

What do you think about this plan?

SOMETHING WITH A BIG FUTURE

Tuesday will be Farm Bureau 4-H day in Freeland Grove. Very substantial cash premiums will be paid to boys and girls who have the best livestock and clothing on display.

If there is any work that is really worth while in our country districts, it is to give our young folks the right incentive to remain on the farms.

In days gone by, the fathers and mothers—many of them—were all time complaining about the hardships of farm life. As a consequence the children, as soon as they were able, left the farms.

That day is gone by. Today the best and most ambitious boys and girls remain on the farms. They equip themselves with a knowledge of farming along scientific lines. They see in farming a life of independence and usefulness. They realize that farming has its problems, but so has every other line of human endeavor.

The lad who raises a dairy calf, a ton litter of pigs, some fat barrows, a flock of chickens, or is working on an agricultural project such as raising wheat or corn, soybeans or sunflowers, along most modern lines, has something to do that fascinates him. In days gone by the calf that the boy would adopt and raise would later be turned in with the herd and become father's calf. I know. I've had that experience. The boy's pig at market time was father's pig etc.

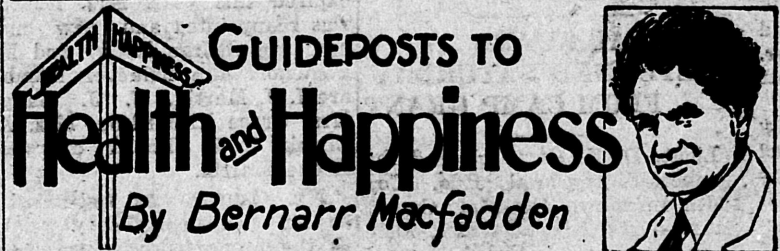

Is it any wonder that the boys got tired of farming. It was all hard work and no play—for it is play for the lad to raise his club calf or pigs.

The same is true with the girls. They are through their 4-H clubs making an interesting art of sewing. They are learning something useful.

But the biggest thing of all this is the friendly competition which ensues when the calves, the pigs, etc., raised by the boys and the clothing made by the girls is entered in shows for substantial prizes. Just to be able to show a calf and say "that's mine" is a great thing for any lad, but to show and see a blue ribbon pinned on it as a winner—well, such a lad would not swap places with Herbert Hoover. And furthermore such a lad will make a good farmer and will remain on the farm.

Farming is our biggest industry. Let us encourage it. Go to the Farm Bureau picnic and 4-H show Tuesday.

Give the kids a hand. Encourage them.

GUIDEPOSTS TO Health and Happiness

By Bernarr Macfadden

WHY YOU NEED YOUR TONSILS

Modern science has accomplished wonders. And in the brain of man marvelous thoughts have been born. But man and science put together will never achieve the miracles that Nature performs daily, as a matter of course. Consider the human body. Neither science nor man has ever succeeded in making a machine that anywhere near approaches it in delicate construction and perfect coordination. True, we cannot always understand why Nature does certain things, nor why she has implanted into the human body certain organs. Tonsils for instance. To us, they appear useless. And yet, isn't it logical that Nature, noted for precision, put them there for a definite purpose? Did you ever know her to work in a haphazard manner?

Whether or not you approve of tonsils, the truth is that they perform a very necessary and thorough job. The tonsillar tissue forms a complete ring around the throat. Practically everything that enters the body through the mouth has to pass this ring, which picks up everything of an infectious nature and destroys it. A marvelous safeguard!

But what has happened when the tonsils are swollen and inflamed—when the doctor says: "They must come out." The explanation is simple. It simply means that the tonsils have encountered a too powerful infection and in order to put forth the greater effort necessary to conquering it, they require a greater supply of blood. They become literally gorged with blood and naturally they swell up and become redder. Sometimes this infection is so severe that the tonsils cannot cope with it and the tonsillar tissue is injured. Pus forms in deep openings called crypts. Then they are called "diseased tonsils" and most likely you will have them out.

Such a procedure is as sensible as taking out of the barrel the few spotted apples on top, without going down to the bottom of the barrel and finding the one spoiled apple that is causing all the trouble. "Diseased tonsils" are the result of some faulty body condition that must be located and treated. They have been overworked in a way that Nature never intended. They are not the "breeding grounds of germs."

So you see, the tonsils, like every other organ of the body, require normal physical condition if they are to function properly. They need healthy blood circulating through them, and healthy blood is produced only by clean living, proper natural foods and sufficient exercise and sleep. Tonsils are traps. And as traps they must trap something. That something is the ordinary poisons that enter the mouth. Introduce any foreign element, such as nicotine, alcohol, drugs, etc., and you will soon have a fine case of chronic tonsil inflammation.

Don't blame the tonsils. You wouldn't expect a mousetrap to catch a bear!

Heart-Heart Talk

By John Joseph Haines M.D.

PERSPECTIVE

It is a marvelous spring morning. I am looking out through the window as I write; the summit of a purple lilac-bush is visible—its blooms in process of formation. The coaxing sunbeams are at work. When I have finished this sketch, I shall hurry outdoors and get all of the wonderful picture; one cannot see much from a window-case.

So much depends on one's vantage point. So much that is essential to really intelligent living. I cannot see all that is for me, unless I hasten to the broad view.

A long time ago, an author wrote, "The West Through a Car Window." He saw a mere ribbon of the west, some fifty miles wide. It was very interesting—what he saw, but meager in scope.

There are big things outdoors; one cannot see them through a car window, much less understand them.

I believe it is the duty of every man and woman to secure the best viewpoint possible; yet there are those who exclaim loudly, while

We have noticed that folks who devote much time in playing golf are usually not much healthier than those who do not.

THE LORD'S PRAYER

Matthew 6:9-13. Our Father which art in heaven. Hallowed be thy name. 10. Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. 11. Give us this day our daily bread. 12. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. 13. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever. Amen.

PRAYER: Father, in all of our petitions, give us the spirit of the living Christ.

HERE'S HOWE

BY E. W. HOWE

Here's Howe THE POOR— NAPOLEON— WOMEN AGAIN—

I often think the poor are like children who have never grown up. It is a common charge against a certain proportion of adults (far too large) that they have children's minds; that the bodies developed after twelve, while their minds did not.

The poor may be likened, also, to a man who has worked at a trade all his life, and never learned it. Life is a trade, with foremen and superintendents of superior skill because of experience or intelligence.

Napoleon never cared much if his wives had lovers. . . . But it makes a common man mighty mad.

For more than a hundred years there have been attempts to explain Napoleon Bonaparte. . . . I can explain him in a half dozen lines: In the dirt of love, passion, life, he picked up at birth marvelous genius as a soldier—as Chas. Dickens picked up marvelous genius as a novelist. As age advanced, both men lost their power; youth was a part of their marvelous combination, and, without it, both said and did things that would have disgraced the commonest fool. . . . I say to you that heredity is the greatest thing in life. If you are not doing well, either you are wrongly placed or are not behaving yourself in the ordinary essentials.

It is frequently said there has not been, in all history, a woman philosopher; one distinguished for correct and candid thinking, as may be said of hundreds of men.

What does this mean? Certainly not that women do not engage deeply in life, and thereby gain sufficient knowledge to become reflective. Does it mean that women, in private and print, refuse to acknowledge the facts of life? I have known less than a dozen really candid women; I have rarely known a man of average intelligence who was not. This difference cannot be accounted for by sex. The brains of men and women must average about the same.

It may be a poor guess, but I believe the difference due to this: Since the dawn of civilization certainly, and possibly somewhat earlier, women have been flattered; that has been man's weapon in soliciting their favors; on the other hand, men have perpetually traveled the war path and known the truth about themselves. Men are actually better than the public estimate of them, for libels told by opposing warriors have come down to us with history, along with the exaggerated compliments for women. There is no page of print, old or new, not overpraising women and criticizing men more than they deserve.

Men are candid, and become philosophers occasionally, because long experience has convinced them of the practical value of truth; women who never become philosophers, still believe truth distorted in the interest of women may be of value to them.

Candid thinking seems to have paid the men: of the things in life said to be great, the men have as great a lead, almost as in philosophy.

Would candid thinking pay the women?

I do not know. It may be that their best plan is the one they have adopted even though there is not philosophy in it.

ON VACATION TOUR

Rev. and Mrs. George V. Herrick left Tuesday morning for northern Minnesota where they will visit two of his brothers. From there they will go to Waterloo, Iowa to visit his parents and other relatives. Before returning to this city they will also visit with relatives at Oregon, Illinois. Rev. Herrick is off duty two Sunday at the M. E. church and will be back sometime the early part of September.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ed Butler and daughters of Buffalo, N. Y., are starting Saturday for this city to visit relatives.

AIRPLANE AGRICULTURE

The airplane is coming to the front as a farm "implement," says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, for dusting cotton and other crops. In 1927 about 500,000 acres of cotton in the United States were dusted by airplane. Most persons think airplane dusting is only for large-scale farmers who can afford to buy a machine, but this is not so. Airplane dusting is sold by contract. The operating company provides the plane, pilots, poison, and everything needed, and the farmer merely contracts for the applications he needs, whether his acreage is 10 or 10,000. The service may be used by small farmers co-operatively. The general price of airplane dusting, says the Department of Agriculture, is no greater than the cost of a farmer's making the application himself with ordinary dusting machinery, and prices will undoubtedly be lower as the industry develops. Airplane dusting can only be done on fairly level land, however. Its greatest advantage is that it can be used regardless of conditions of the soil.

PURE, UNADULTERATED BUNK

It is reported that the Arcola boosters were refused permission to distribute their advertising matter in Sullivan last week by the high hand of the law. Some neighborly spirit that. Sullivan seems to take on the attitude that she doesn't want anything to do with anybody unless you live in the town. Such jealousy reminds us of a lot of gossip old women. Come over to Arthur any of you towns and plaster the place. You are welcome here.—Arthur Graphic Clarion.

FALL CLIPPING BOOSTS YIELD OF RED CLOVER HAY AND SEED A FIFTH

Urbana, Ill., Aug. 20—Tested out for six years, the fall clipping of red clover has led to such marked increases in the yield of hay and seed the following year that the practice can be recommended to Illinois farmers, according to J. J. Pieper, assistant chief in crop production at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

"One caution should be followed, however, and that is that the clipping should not be done late in the season. There is every reason to believe that this will result in a good deal of winter-killing of the red clover. The same applies to pasturing the crop late in the fall.

"During the six years of the tests by the college, fall clipping boosted the yield of hay an average of about 20 per cent and the yield of seed about 30 per cent. Some years the clipped clover yielded as much as 50 per cent more seed than the unclipped. Increased yields of hay as a result of clipping have in some cases been small. In 1927, however, clipping swelled the yield of hay 50 per cent.

"The clipping is done high and in all years except one the clippings were left on the field. There is a strong temptation to make a hay crop from a fine stand of clover, but there is too much danger of winter-killing if this is done.

"Time of clipping has varied from the first to the tenth of September. Up to the present time very little difference has been noticed as a result of time of cutting.

"In general, weeds in the clover hay and seed the second year have been reduced materially by the fall clipping. On the average, there has been about one-third less weeds in the hay where the clover has been cut in the fall.

"Just why fall clipping of red clover increases the yield of hay and seed and whether or not it will do the same thing with alfalfa and sweet clover that it does with red are questions still to be answered."

CLEMENT MURPHY'S AG CLASS GOING STRONG

One of the interesting vocational training exhibits at the state fair this week is the display of Guernsey calves being shown by the agricultural class of the Georgetown High school of which J. C. (Clement) Murphy is instructor.

Mr. Murphy has had a busy summer and the members of his class have entered several state contests in livestock and poultry judging and exhibits and have usually come out on top or somewhere near it.

Wahrheit und Dumheit

A learned college professor says that the most difficult task that confronts a young man is selecting the right kind of a girl for a wife. That again proves that professors are rather impractical for most of the time the young man has but little to do with making the selection.

There were sitting in the porch swing. The moon was just like it has been this week—big, round, full and mellow.

He sighed: "What a wonderful night, a beautiful girl—a delightful combination."

"Heavens" said the flapper "Is that showing too?"

He was standing at the corner light post and tapping on it with his cane, as the cop came along.

"Move on" said the law "what are you trying to do here."

"His, move on y'elf ossifer" said the slightly inebriated youth, "I'm calling on fren's."

"You're drunk," go on home. There are no friends of yours here."

"Yes there are" said the tipsy one pointing at the light atop the post "see they have light upstairs."

"Why do they call those twin sisters 'tonsils'?"

"Because everybody takes them out."—Judge.

"Your boy is a good student but he talks too much" the teacher wrote on his monthly report card.

The father duly signed the card and wrote under the comment: "You should hear his m."

Doctor: "If he faints again, force a wineglass full of brandy into his mouth."

Patient's wife: "While he is unconscious. Oh doctor, that would be such a waste. He'd never forgive me."

"Mandy you sure bake good pie" said the mistress "and how do you get those nice scallops on the edge?"

Mandy: "Oh, I jist use me new false teeth."

Two maiden ladies who were evidently Scotch had but one pair of false teeth between them.

Mary had been to a party. Upon her return home she turned the teeth over to Susan, who asked what had been served for dinner.

"Why we had mutton and potatoes, and beans and slaw" said Mary. Susan had in the meantime been exercising the teeth in her mouth and sucking through them. "Yes and I taste that you had some spaghetti too," she commented.

It is impossible to make people understand their ignorance for it requires knowledge to perceive it; and therefore, he that can perceive hath it not.—Jeremy Taylor.

LET 'EM SAY YOU'RE CRAZY, WHADDA YOU CARE?

"Since 1902" write Dwight C. Rose, "saving banks and insurance companies have in the aggregate probably suffered greater loss through unsuccessful speculation on the trend of interest rates than through any form of investment or speculation." In other words the financial wise-ones were 100 per cent off their trolleys twenty-seven years ago.

Every fifteen years or so some new scientific truth appears and upsets half the accepted scientific truths, which drives the scientists cuckoo and gets their goats besides. And ever so often somebody discovers that for two centuries school-teaching has made less progress than tobacco-chewing, and the schoolmarm goes wild when you remind them of it.

It just seems that everybody's more or less half-cracked, immature, unbalanced, provincial, one-sided, stupid, stolid, humdrum, prosy, flat, and stale, heavy in the head. We all laughed out loud at the old Throne and Simplex typesetting machines, and in turn at the linotype and monotype. We all used to give advertising the ha-ha. (We were so durned smart ourselves). Think of pulling a carriage without a horse—ha-ha! Think of a flying machine—hee-hee!

So when somebody tells us we're still crazy, let's be broad-minded. Let's answer, "Well, you can't hurt our feelings."—Spinal Colymus.

ALFALFA SEEDBED

Many failures of alfalfa stands are due to poorly prepared seedbed. The ideal seedbed is a well settled subsurface with a fine surface that is loose to a depth of two inches. The best plan is to plow in the fall, disk in spring, and harrow occasionally to keep down weeds until sowing time. Where the land has not been plowed in the fall, it should be broken several weeks before sowing, and the soil disked and harrowed frequently to settle the bed. A "cultipacker" is of help in getting the soil into condition. For late-summer or early-fall sowing land that has been in such crops as early potatoes, peas, or sweet corn can be prepared by removing the vines or stalks and harrowing. In general, sod land is not recommended for alfalfa, but where it seems advisable for some reason to put the alfalfa on clover sod, the land should be plowed as soon as the crop is removed and thoroughly disked and harrowed to make a firm, fine seedbed.

ENTERTAINS WESTERN GUESTS LAST WEEK

(Contributed)

George Waggoner, grandson of Gilbert Waggoner and who with his father, Henry S. Waggoner and family left this country thirty five years ago, greatly surprised his relatives by arriving here on Wednesday of last week. He with his wife and only son Claude had driven a distance of 2600 miles, starting from Wyoming more than four weeks ago and coming through Detroit visiting with his sister and family there, then proceeded to visit the land of his childhood, especially the old home place of his grandparents near the Waggoner church and the old Lynn Creek cemetery where they were laid to rest. After calling on relatives in that vicinity, he drove to Sullivan to the home of Mrs. Rasha Tull and her mother. A few enjoyable hours were passed, they then spent the night at the home of Mrs. Sarah Powell's, returning to Mrs. Tull's home Thursday where an enjoyable day was spent with many of the relatives who had gathered there. Friday they visited at the home of G. F. Allison and family and then proceeded on their way to Tennessee where they will visit his sister and then they will return to the "far west."

Last week when things were hot and dry and it looked bad for the crops, Sam Jones, Weigeland township farmer, stopped the editor and said, "The old Canby News has always brought me results on anything I advertised for heretofore and I wonder if it would help if I advertised for rain?" "Sure thing," said the editor, "it never fails." "All right," said Sam, "put in a good strong ad for rain and if it comes this week I'll pay for it."

The ad for rain appeared all right and—so did the rain Saturday. Sam, like the good sport he is, walked into the News office on Saturday afternoon and planked down the price of the ad and said, "Well, it sure pays to advertise in the News—that old paper always did get results, no matter what I advertised for."—Canby (Minn.) News.

J. H. SMITH INJURED IN AUTO WRECK IN INDIANA SUNDAY

The driver of this car, a Franklin, cut in short ahead of the Smith car, failed to make clearance and hooked onto the front fender. Grover Smith who was driving lost control of the car, it swerved off the road through a ditch and through a wire fence into a tomato patch. It then turned toward the road, went through the fence again and landed in the ditch.

J. H. Smith was the only one thrown out of the car. He was unconscious and his feet were still partly in the car. Mrs. Smith and Helen through all of this catastrophe, which had occupied but a fraction of a minute remained quiet, but badly shaken. When Helen saw the blood on her father's face she began screaming. Grover, as soon as the wreck had come to a standstill helped his father to his feet. He was very much dazed, but insisted that he was not hurt much.

Other automobiles had by this time reached the scene to give aid. Mr. Smith and the ladies were taken to a nearby town for first aid.

The man who hit the car failed to stop, but stepped on the gas. Another car right back of it, however, shouted to Grover in passing, "I'll get him" and he did. The man was arrested at the next town and brought back to the scene of the wreck. He gave his name as Hodson and said he was from Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. In the car with him were two men and two women. They disclaimed any knowledge of having hit the Smith car in passing.

They could give no assurance that they had insurance covering the damage done and were reluctant to talk settlement. Mr. Smith offered to waive all personal injury damage and settle for the car damage to the extent of $350. This the man refused to do.

When legal difficulties began to cluster around the incident, telephone communication was established with Sullivan and a request for advice to J. L. McLaughlin, Mr. Smith's attorney. He advised that an attachment be taken on the Hodson car, so as to hold it if damages could be secured in court action. This would give the law something to levy on to secure payment of any judgment. In order to secure such attachment Mr. Smith was told that he would have to give bond to the value of the attached car.

These legal proceedings were instituted at Newcastle and the state police placed the man responsible for the wreck under arrest on a warrant charging "hit and run". In a police court he was being held for reckless driving. He gave $300 cash bond to appear Monday morning.

When the Smith party appeared in court at Newcastle Monday morning, they were overjoyed to find J. L. McLaughlin and Carl Hill right there to give any assistance needed. No settlement could be arranged with Hodson as to damages and the case will be heard later. On the "hit and run" charge he was bound over to the grand jury.

Mr. Smith, Mrs. Smith and Helen returned to this city on Monday evening with Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Hill. Grover Smith remained for another day to see that all details were looked after and returned here Tuesday.

The Pennsylvania driver not only faces a suit for damages to the Smith car, a Hudson, but he also faces the possibility of personal damage suit and he is facing a felony in hitting another car and not stopping to aid his victims.

VOL. II

AUGUST 23, 1929

NO. 27

Published in the interest of the People of Sullivan and the Farms and Farmers of Moultrie County.

TENNIE BOLIN
Editor.

Just think of Henry Ford's wealth being estimated at over a billion dollars! Well, we have our health—but, gosh Henry has his health too.

The first Farmall tractors placed on the market were hard to sell. Today they sell themselves, wherever an opportunity is offered to demonstrate. Ask the fellow who owns one.

'FARM WITH FARMALLS'

John Denton says that the editor is a candidate for sheriff. John's all wet. He must have heard somebody say we were about ready to run from the sheriff. You will remember that when we were almost unanimously elected Squire we declined the office. When an office seeks us, we're not home. We're not running for anything. Sam does the running in this family and he can run a mile in a little better than nothing.

McCORMICK-DEERING

We got two brand new McCormick-Deering 10-20 tractors this week. Ready for delivery. Who wants one.

A doctor must have patience. But when their bills are due and they are slow in paying, He must have patience too.

Edgar McKenzie says: "You can never get much of anything done unless you go ahead and do it before you are ready."

If sleep is abolished, as has been suggested, the younger generation will scarcely notice the innovation.

SOME people marry for love, SOME for money, but a lot of THEM only for a short time.

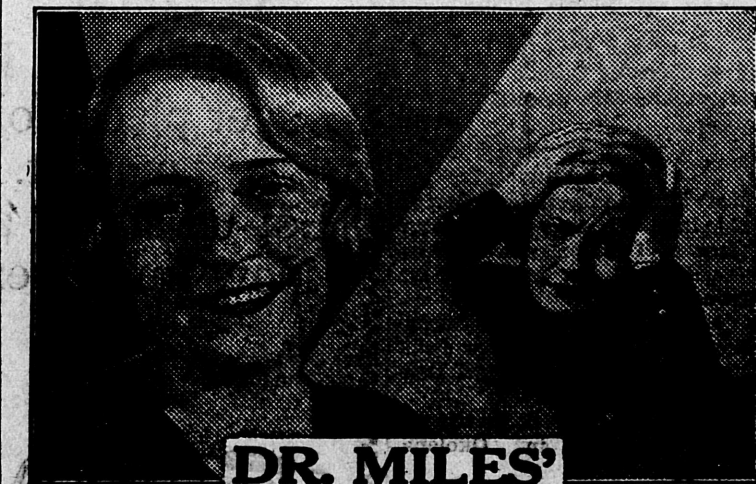

We had a fellow go to Springfield to investigate that matter about proper toilet facilities on airplanes and dirigibles. He got a hunch there that the McCormick-Deering folks are working on a sort of concrete, lighter than air, septic tank arrangement to be attached to passenger aircrafts. When the McC-D folks tackle a problem, it's practically solved.

TWO FORDSONS

We have on the floor two Fordson outfits each consisting of tractor, plow and disc. They are in good working order, ready to drive out and start fall plowing. We will sell them at $150, just about the price of a good plow horse.

A. NICHOLSON'S SISTER
DIED IN PORTLAND, ORE.

Information was received here the latter part of last week of the death in Portland, Oregon on Friday of Mrs. Sarah Wentz, sister of Almond Nicholson. She was about 68 years of age and had undergone an operation on the Monday preceding. Funeral services were held Monday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson visited with the Wentz family in Portland on their western trip last year.

Mrs. Wentz was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Nicholson, who resided near Findlay in the pioneer days. Mr. Nicholson being the first blacksmith in that locality. Her husband was a young man from Pennsylvania and about 22 years ago they went West and settled at Portland, where he followed the trade of fireplace builder.

Besides her husband she is survived by five children and the following brothers and sisters: William Nicholson of Findlay, Almond Nicholson of this city, Margaret Nicholson, Mrs. Cora Silvers and Mayme Nicholson of Fort Myers, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Taylor of Atlanta, Georgia arrived Sunday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Taylor. They are on a three week's vacation and before returning to his duties at Atlanta, he will go to Cincinnati to spend six weeks there in the interest of his firm. He is employed as superintendent of the Capital City Fertilizer Company. Two other sons of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Taylor are down South. Guy and Joseph are living at Montgomery, Alabama and are both employed by the Franzier Ice Cream & Dairy Company. Usually young men from this part of the state go to Northern industrial cities but the Taylor boys have gone South and are doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed C. Brandenburger attended the State Fair at Springfield Saturday. They took three of the boys for the state fair school there, namely Byron Brandenburger, Glen Clark and Charles Lane. The boys are spending the week in that school.

FIFTH INSTALMENT

Close-up of individuals were taken, the most striking types being selected and coached to express crises of feeling: "You go mad and babble, old man, will you? Tear at your throat and let your tongue hang out? . . . You miss, will you fall back in your mother's arms—you be mother, will you, miss, and catch her—you are to die, you know; just roll your eyes back and sigh and sink into a heap. And you, mother, wring your hands and beat your breast and wail. You understand—Oriental staff, eh? . . .

"And I'd like somebody just to look up to heaven and pray for mercy—somebody with big eyes—You, the young lady over there—will you step out? Oh it's Mrs. Woodville, isn't it? I met you this morning. Here's your chance. Do this for me like a good girl, and give yourself to it. Look up to heaven; if the sun brings tears to your eyes all right, but let them come from your soul, dear, if you can. You see, you have seen your people dying like flies about you, from famine and hardship. You look up and say, O God, you don't mean for us to die in this useless torture, do you, dear God? Take my life and let these others live. Won't you, dear God?"

Mem stood throbbing from head to foot with embarrassment and with a strange inrush of alien moods. The fierce eyes of the director burning through his dark glasses, the curious instigation in his voice, the plea to do well for him, quickened her magically.

Folger took her by the arm and murmured:

"Now, dear! Let your heart break! Look round and see your dying people. That's your father over there just gasping his life out. Your mother lies dead back there; you've covered her poor little body with sand to keep the jacks from it. Can you do it? Will you? That's right. Look round now and let yourself go!"

She felt herself bewitched, benumbed, yet mystically alive to a thousand tragedies. Her eyes rolled around the staring throng, and made out Tom Holby gazing down at her from his camel and pouring sympathy from his own soul into hers.

Then she flung her head from side to side in a torment of woe, cast her head back, and heaved her big eyes up into the cruel brazen of the skies, seemed to see God peering down upon the little multitude, and moved her lips in supplication.

She felt the words and the anguish wringing her throat, and the tears came trooping from her eyes, ran shining into her mouth, she swallowed them and found them bitter-sweet with an exultation of agony.

There was such weird reality in her grief that the director's glasses were blurred with his own tears; the camera men were gulping hard.

As her upward stare again encountered Tom Holby's eyes she saw that tears were dripping from his lashes and that his mouth was quivering.

The sight of his tears sent thru her a strange pang of triumphant sympathy, and she broke down sobbing, would have fallen to the sand, if Leva Lemaire had not caught her and drawn her into her arms, kissing her and whispering: "Wonderful! Wonderful!"

She felt a hand on her arm and was drawn from Leva's arms into a man's. Her shoulders were squeezed hard by big hands and she heard a voice that identified her captor as the director. He was saying:

"God bless you! That was the real stuff! You're a good girl! The real thing."

Then she began to laugh and choke, became an utter fool.

This was her first experience of passion of mimicry. She was as ashamed as glorified, as drained yet as exultant, as if a god had seized her and embraced her fiercely for a moment, then left her aching, an ember in the ashes.

The director was already calling the mob to the next task. She could not help glancing toward Tom Holby. His camel was moving off with the crowd, but he was turning back to gaze at her. He was nodding his head in approval and he raised his hand in a salute of profound respect.

Mem's sin had led her to the edge of paradise, and then drawn her back by the hair.

She was doomed to spend a certain time in increasing heaviness, and then to die or to go about thenceforth with a nameless child holding on to her hand and anchoring her to obscurity.

She found a place as maid in the home of a storekeeper at such wages as he could afford. She began the sordid routine of her tasks, but, contrasting them with the glamour of playing tragic roles, she felt herself entombed.

Then the summer heat began and grew so fierce that her employer and his family went to the seashore.

She spent much thought upon the letter home that she had not yet written, that she must write ever she were to go home again. The whole purpose of this long, long journey into loneliness was to be able to write that letter; and it had not yet gone.

Every time she made the beginning her hands flinched from the lying pen. But one night in a frantic fit of histrionic enthusiasm she dashed off her fable, sealed it in an envelope, and dropped it after dark in the mail box.

"Darling Mamma and Papa: 'How can I write the terrible news? I can hardly bear to think of it, let alone write about it. But my darling husband passed away in the desert. I cannot write you the particulars now, for I am too agitated and grief stricken and I do not want to harrow you with details. I know your poor hearts will ache for me, but I beg you not to feel it too deeply, because I am trying to be brave. And I remember what you taught me, that the Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away. * * * I cannot write you more now. I am in no need of money and I will come home when I get a little stronger. All the love in the world from

Your loving Mem.

After she had slipped the letter irrevocably into the mail box she realized that the postmark of Palm Springs would be stamped on the envelope. Her place of concealment would be disclosed.

Still, it would not matter. She was a widow now in the minds of her people and she could go back to them and face the future in calm.

The mountains had a beckoning look always, and on this afternoon, when a clouded sky gave a little shelter from the sun, she set out to obey an impulse to climb as far as her strength would take her.

The exertion of climbing was more than Mem had bargained for. The steeps that looked so inviting from a distance were ragged and forbidding. The burnt almond mountains were hot and sharp-edged gridirons to her feet. The sun came blazing forth and seemed to spill upon her a yellow hot mass of metal that slashed her about the head and rolled over her shoulders in blistering ingots.

A stone rolled under her foot and shook her from her balance. She wavered, clutched at nothing, whirled, struck, bounded from the hard rock, fell and fell, and then—a smashing blow, blackness, silence.

A young Indian girl chasing her stray pony about the sand had seen Mem stumble, then fall; had heard the thump of the body on cushioned sand; had run to the nearest house and told what she had seen. Mem was taken home. The village doctor did all that his skill could do.

Though she had never dared to visit him, he knew of her, and knew her as a widow. When she was strong enough to be talked to he prepared her for bad news: "Am I to be crippled for life?" she cried.

"No," he sighed. "You will bear no marks of your accident. But you will not—but your other hopes and expectations—will not be realized."

She was dazed and he was timid and he had some difficulty in making her understand his bad news; that she would not be a mother.

She bore this blow with a fortitude that surprised him.

And now Mem was weak and woe-begone, at the bottom of the cliff of life. She had never climbed very far, but she had fallen far enough to give both soul and body an almost fatal shock. She was a drudge in a poor family in a scorched settlement abandoned by all that could get away.

The only inferiors she could see were a young widow named Dack and her five-year-old boy, Terry. Mrs. Dack took in washing.

The boy Terry was of the Ariel breed. His fancy girdled the earth in forty minutes. He mimicked birds and animals and often covered his mother with terror and amused chagrin by imitating her clients with uncanny skill.

Once the child caught cold in all that heat—and Mem sat by his bedside thru several smothering nights, while the back-broken mother slept. Mem exercised her skill in making up little dramas to while away the tedium of the long nights and to keep the wakeful child's mind from his couch.

During his illness Mem received a letter from Leva Lemaire, saying that she had just seen in an old paper a paragraph describing "Mrs. Woodville's fall from the mountain and her miraculous escape from death. Leva expressed the utmost sympathy and prayed that her beauty had not been marred. She added:

"But if it has, you can still find something to do in the movies. I've given up trying to be an actress and taken a position in the laboratory projection room, correcting the films. It's cool and dark and interesting. I think I can get you a place, if you'll come up. There's no excuse for a woman of your education and charm wasting your sweetness on the desert air. Do come! I've sent my three children out to their uncle's ranch. You could live here with me and my friends."

The thought of working in the dark and the cool was a hint of Paradise to Mem.

SURPRISE SHOWER TUESDAY NIGHT FOR MISS WAGGONER

A nice surprise shower for Miss Altabell Waggoner, who is soon to become the bride of L. L. Holloway of Fillmore, was carried out at the home of Mrs. Rutha Tull on Tuesday evening.

It was planned by Miss Vera Freeman who invited Miss Waggoner's Sunday school class together with her teacher and a few other friends. Miss Waggoner not knowing of the former's plans decided to entertain her Sunday school class and teacher on Tuesday evening, and invited them to a party in honor of Miss Ruth Mae Bartley, who is leaving for nurse training at Mattoon hospital Sept. 1st and for Miss Fern Garrett who has been employed as a teacher in the schools at DeLavan, Ill.

Miss Waggoner received her invited guests and proceeded to entertain them with games and while the time sped merrily on Misses Freeman and Carlisle Allison slipped away unobserved and arranged the gifts.

Soon some one suggested the game of blindman's buff and Mrs. Kellar declared Altabelle is "it". They proceeded to blindfold her, then led her into another room, while little Charles Freeman dressed as a little cupid and drawing a little wagon heaped with gifts was placed in front of her. Miss Vera in pretense of rearranging the blind fold removed it and Altabelle's surprise was complete. She received many useful and beautiful presents.

Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served after which all departed at a late hour declaring they had a good time at the double party.

Those present were Mrs. Agnes Kellar, Mrs. Hortense Sheeks of Mattoon, Misses Vera Seitz, Fern Garrett, Nina Loveless, Marie Stallworth, Ruth Bartley, Mildred Chaney, Bernita Chaney, Alberta Buser, Bonnie Leavitt, Ruth Tabor, Gladys Sickafus, Olive Dazey, Beulah Elder, Anna Mary Bayne, Vera Freeman, Carlisle Allison, Altabelle Waggoner and Charles Freeman.

PROSPECTS OF AIR DERBY FOR SCOUTS DWINDLE

The movement started by the Community Club, Kiwanis and Legion to promote an air derby and exhibition to be held here on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 8th, seems to have struck a snag.

Application was made to the commandant at Chanute Field, for the planes.

A reply from Lieut. W. G. Smith contains the following information: The War Department prohibits the use of government planes for a Sunday or National Holiday exhibit. Chanute Field has an acute shortage of planes and a great number of its officers are now on leave. It is doubtful whether any planes could be sent on any other day of the week. This condition will probably exist at the Field for the next sixty days.

It has been suggested that if an attractive purse could be offered, it might be possible to get some independent planes here for an exhibition such as had been planned.

NEW BARTHELMESS

PICTURE AT GRAND SOON

The latest picture starring Richard Barthelmess, "Drag" will be seen at the Grand Theatre on Sunday and Monday, August 25 and 26.

"Drag" concerns a young newspaperman who goes to a small town to take over the local paper. He is also ambitious to become a composer of operettas. In the small town he meets a young girl, finds himself engaged and then married to her. But, unwittingly, he also finds himself supporting her entire family. How they keep dragging the young man down, how he struggles against it, how he finds sympathy and encouragement from an unexpected source—these form the framework of the story. The unexpected source by the way, is that charming dark-haired beauty, Lila Lee, while Alice Day, blonde and appealing as ever, plays the wife whose love for her relations is greater than her love for her husband.

On the following Tuesday, Aug. 27 the mammoth production "Ben Hur" will be shown at regular prices.

2nd Tim. 2:15 "Study to show thyself approved unto God."

We can never hope to receive the approval of all men, in fact not very many men will approve of us at any time, because so few of us think alike. Then it is folly for that reason, if for no other to spend our time trying to secure the approbation of man. And we only learn to show ourselves approved unto God, as we study Him and His word and learn to think God's thoughts. If we expect to please a man in our manner of living, then we have to study that man to know what manner of life he approves of and then shape our lives accordingly. Just so in securing the approval of God, we must study our Lord who was made in the image of his father and is our example, and as we place our lives alongside the recorded picture of his life, we find there is much to be supplied. I am fearful that most of us never get past the first grade in our search and study for the wisdom of God and his approval, and do any of us ever graduate?

WANT E. NELSON TO PAY DRAINAGE ASSESSMENT

The commissioners of Union Special Drainage district, which consists of lands located mostly in Coles county, but also takes in some land in East Nelson and Jonathan Creek townships in Moultrie county have filed a mandamus suit in the circuit court to compel the commissioner of East Nelson township to pay an assessment levied against the highways of that county for benefits derived through the drainage district.

If funds are not now available, the court is asked to compel the commissioner to make levy to secure funds through taxation so the assessment can be paid.

This is a matter that has been pending for some time, the first installment of the assessment having been due in October 1923. The amount the commissioner is asked to pay is $126.87, plus interest on delayed payments.

The present commissioner is Shim McDaniel. He inherited this matter from his predecessor in office, Carl Leeds and it may have been pending even before Mr. Leeds' term in office. The highway commissioners contend that the highways of East Nelson township do not benefit any from the drainage improvement. The drainage commissioners contend that if there were any objections to payment of this assessment, that a time and place had been set and hearing held in accordance with the law, before the assessment was levied and objection should have been filed at that time.

The case will be heard in the September term of court. It is understood that the commissioners are also having trouble with highway officials in Coles county relative to this matter.
