Factory Contract Signed; Martin Site is Selected-- To Build Factory This Fall

Prolonged Effort on Part of Sullivan Results in Victory. Payroll of $1,250,000 In Ten Years Assured. Sullivan Celebrated Monday Night.

At about 3 o'clock Monday afternoon a contract was signed in the Master in Chancery's office in the court house by the Brown Shoe Company of St. Louis and the officers of the Sullivan community club and 30 business men.

This contract briefly stated is as follows:

The Brown Shoe Company thereby agrees to build a factory in Sullivan and operate same. It agrees to pay not less than $1,250,000 in wages within a ten year period. It also agrees to start work on this project as soon as is possible.

The city, through its community club and other signers, agrees to meet the following stipulations:

To furnish a site for said factory. To supply said site with proper drainage, water connections and electric power and light wires. To construct, if necessary, pavement and side walks to the factory; to construct switch and side-tracks; to pay to the Brown Shoe Co., the sum of $100,000 in cash, to be used by the company in payment of the work of constructing the building; to pay the water and taxes for a period of ten years. Payment of this $100,000 shall be—$10,000 now and the balance in installments of $10,000 monthly.

The factory building shall be three stories in height. The main building shall be about 45 feet by 250 feet, with extension 65 by 80.

This contract signing culminated four years of effort on the part of this community to secure such a factory.

The Brown Shoe Company was represented in the negotiations here Monday by Vice President E. R. McCarthy. He was accompanied by George Coslow, contact man; Walter P. Ekins, general superintendent, Al Herron, General Engineer, and Ben Farrar of Study and Farrar, a St. Louis firm of architects, who will supervise the erection of the building.

Following the signing of the contract, these men, accompanied by a delegation of Sullivan workers visited sites. The old mill site and the Sam Palmer site were visited first. Then the J. B. Martin-Powers Sisters site was visited on South Hamilton street. This is the site that was selected by the shoe company officials. The local committee had an option on this site and it will be bought and turned over to the company according to the terms of contract. This is considered an ideal location, on hard road and easily accessible.

J. I. Morris of Chicago, Ray Wolf, John Brown and M. B. Davis of Mattoon representing the I. C. Railroad were present and conferred with the shoe company officials relative to the necessary track and switch connections.

While these negotiations were under way The Progress issued an EXTRA which was distributed all over the uptown and carried to the homes by the Review carriers. It told the news of the signing of the contract and invited the people to come uptown for a big celebration that night.

Reports during the day indicated that the drive for pledges was still bringing results and that the emergency pledge which was agreed upon at Friday night's meeting was being signed and nearly a hundred signatures had been attached thereto.

The shoe company officials and those who had signed this pledge were invited to a "Dutch Treat" supper at the National Inn.

Following the supper, the visitors were introduced. Mr. McCarthy again stated that Sullivan was the only city given consideration in deciding on the location of the new factory, although two other cities had been visited.

He stated that following the events of the afternoon, a survey of the chosen site would be made and blue-prints and specifications would be in the hands of all contractors who want to bid on the job within a few days. The letting will be held within a few weeks and ground may be broken in the beginning of building operations by Nov. 10th or not later than November 15th. From then on progress will depend entirely on weather conditions.

In the meantime all of the 400 Brown travelling men will be notified that a new factory will be erected at Sullivan and will be informed as to the kind of shoes which will be made here. He told of the present big demand for shoes and the steady growth of the business of the Brown Co.

He congratulated the city on the task it had accomplished.

He promised to be here for the opening celebration and assured his audience that John Bush the president of the company would also be here at that time.

By this time the parade was getting under way, the bombs and fire works, provided for the occasion, were lighting the air and resounding for miles around and Sullivan go busy to celebrate what is perhaps the most noteworthy achievement in its history.

Thousands gathered in the uptown. The High School band and the Dutch Band furnished the entertainment. The shoe company officials were introduced to the crowd from the bandstand. There were a few short talks, and the tired workers, wended their way homeward, feeling that they had accomplished a task really worth while.

(From Monday's Progress
Special Factory Bulletin.)

The present successful campaign was inaugurated about 3 weeks ago after a committee from the Community Club had called on Mr. McCarthy at St. Louis. At that time he gave assurance that Sullivan was the only city under consideration as a site for their next factory. He told us that if we could raise the necessary funds and meet other contract obligations the factory would come here. Mr. Coslow for the company had been here a week previously at that time and given the city a thorough investigation and went away greatly pleased with the prospect.

Following Mr. McCarthy's assurance the committee returned to Sullivan. Several preliminary meetings were held, culminating in a big mass meeting in the court house. The consensus of opinion was that it was advisable for Sullivan to undertake the huge task of raising $125,000 and get this factory.

Mr. Don Lacey, secretary of the Mattoon Chamber of Commerce came here and advised as to how to organize for the drive. This plan was successfully followed. It enlisted about 200 workers, most of whom were rainin' to go when the actual drive started Wednesday, September 25th.

At a final meeting of the workers Monday night preceding the drive about $35,000 was subscribed. Tuesday was put in coaching the workers and getting as many as possible of them signed up.

Wednesday morning the big drive started. It brought the total up to over $70,000 that day. From then until Saturday night there was no letup and when the headquarters closed Saturday night $100,000 had been subscribed. From then on it was slow picking. The thousands came in slowly. Time began to drag.

Workers began to get discouraged, but knowing of experiences (Continued on page 8)

C. C. Turner of Arthur has sold his Moultrie County Hatchery located on the southeast corner of the square in this city to Charles E. Barclay of Weidon, Illinois.

With the Sullivan boys playing at their best, the Lovington High School football team was unable to score in the game played on Sullivan's new field Friday.

The final score was 35 to 0 in favor of Sullivan.

This Friday Coach Dennis will take his eleven to Tuscola. With two victories already to their credit, the home boys feel confident that they can bring back a victory from the Douglas county capitol.

Notice to Subscribers of Brown Shoe Factory Fund

The First Payment on Your Subscription Note is Now Due

All who can do so are urged to pay their notes in full, as this will save a lot of bookkeeping, and the Committee needs the money to pay for the site, railroad switch, sewers, etc. On all payments made before October 20th. The interest will be waived.

Owing to the large number of subscribers, I have decided to open up an office for the collection of the notes in the Master in Chancery office in the Court House. This office is in the Northwest corner of the Court House on the ground floor, and is the first office to your left when you enter at the West door.

The office will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. and a collector will be in charge. Until October 20th, the office will be open at noon and each night from 7 to 9 p. m.

F. J. Thompson, Treasurer

Do not put this off. Pay now and finish the job.

HALEC LANSDEN ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR SHERIFF'S OFFICE

Halec Lansden who at present is serving as deputy sheriff, this week announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination for that office. The present sheriff is Charles Lansden, his father.

The candidate states: "If endorsed by the party by being nominated and if approved by the people at the election in November of next year, I assure the people that the office will be conducted the same as it is now."

NO SCHOOL FRIDAY; TEACHERS TO CHARLESTON

Moultrie county schools will be dismissed Friday, to give the teachers the opportunity of attending the meeting of the Eastern Illinois Division of the State Teachers Association at Charleston.

LACK OF FUNDS DELAYS COUNTY FARM BUILDING

The board of Supervisors met in an adjourned meeting Tuesday to discuss what can be done to carry out a building program at the county farm.

At the regular September meeting adjournment was taken to investigate this matter. Investigation disclosed that the county has no funds that it can spend for erection of necessary buildings. The only way in which funds can be made available is by the people approving a bond issue for this purpose at the November election in 1930.

It has not been determined at this time, whether or not this matter will be submitted to the voters.

The board Tuesday audited and allowed claims.

Vote Totals Soar as Leaders Line Up for the Final Dash in "Everybody Wins" Campaign

With Honors About Even, Everything Depends on Efforts From Now to the Finish as to Who Will Claim the Big DeSoto Sedan.

The "first period" of the Sullivan Progress' subscription campaign, which closed Saturday night, was a tremendous success. Hundreds of thousands, yes, millions of votes were issued, their voting strength being manifested for the first time in this issue.

It is a strange coincidence, something unusual in an affair of this kind, but each of the leading candidates benefited so equally during the "period" just closed, that, without headline figuring, could today's leader be determined.

It might be interesting to the public to know that this is one of the closest campaigns that the manager has ever conducted. It might be said that we have several leaders this week, and there are but few votes between first and those further down the list.

The competition, therefore, so far as the relative standing of candidates is concerned, is just about where it was prior to Saturday night. Hence the battle for supremacy will be fought out during the "second period" which terminates Saturday night, October 19th, one week from this Saturday night.

Actual Test Now Ahead

Now for a whirlwind finish. Now for sensations and surprises. Present leaders must increase their totals mightily if they wish to "finish in the money". As may be seen by glancing at the vote totals below, all of the leading contenders are entirely too close to be safe, so developments are bound to happen.

Candidates

It is in you to win if you will. This is the final test. These are the days that test your resourcefulness. Here is where your courage upholds you and makes you fight or the lack of it takes the stiffness out of your knees and leaves you trailing in the dust—an "also ran." Sometimes, too, your supreme courage urges you on even when you tire, but that is the games fight of all.

'Tis the coward who quits to misfortune;

'Tis the knave who changes each day.

'Tis the fool who wins half the battle,

Then throws all his chances away.

The time to succeed is when others,

Discouraged show traces of tire;

The battle is fought on the home stretch,

And won—twixt the flag and the wire.

Votes will pile up rapidly during the next nine days; that is, while the "second period" schedule is in effect.

The liveliest part of the competition is now at hand, and, while all the candidates are exactly on the same footing, at the same time, those who want to and WILL, are offered the opportunity of the campaign to forge ahead and corral the winning votes.

"Second Period" Votes Count Big

During the "second period" subscriptions count BIG. In fact, taking into consideration the 50,000 EXTRA votes allowed on "clubs", subscriptions count for almost as many votes now as during the "first period" just closed.

For example: Two (renewal) five year subscriptions counting the 50,000 EXTRA votes allowed

Martha Jane Miller Oldest in Moultrie Died Saturday

Had Spent Seventy-Five Years of a Long and Useful Life in This County. Only One of Nine Children Survives Her.

Martha Jane Miller, the oldest resident of Moultrie county died Saturday at the age of 96 years, 3 months and 15 days. Death came at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Cummins where she had been living for the past ten years.

Mrs. Miller was born near Montgomery Station in Coles county June 21, 1833. Her maiden name was Jeffries. She was twice married. Her first husband died within a year of their marriage. One son was born to this union who died at the age of 18 years.

Her second marriage was with Peter P. Miller. He died August 11, 1879. To this union eight children were born. Four died in infancy and three after reaching maturity. Only one, Mrs. Lone Butler of Boulder, Colorado, survives.

Besides caring for her own children, Mrs. Miller also raised three children that Mr. Miller had at the time of their marriage. The only one of these that survives her is Mrs. William Ellison of Mattoon. She also raised four grandchildren, William Elder, Mrs. Dave Cummins, John Elder

Now For Some Real Speed

Now is the time to double up your fists, grit your teeth, roll up your sleeves and go to it with all the energy at your command. To halt for one moment these last few days would mean defeat for any one of the candidates in The Sullivan Progress' Subscription Campaign.

Names are listed in ALPHABETICAL order.

MRS. THURMAN CAMPBELL, Sullivan	322,350
MRS. HARRY FOSTER, Sullivan	202,900
ANDREW GOUGH, Bethany	262,570
MRS. EARL LOY, Sullivan	604,560
MRS. LOREN MONROE, Sullivan	612,030
MRS. MAE ROSE MONROE, Sullivan	614,410
MRS. ETHEL NEWBOULD, Sullivan	611,210
VINCENT RYAN, Arthur	610,030
WALTER SPAUGH, Allenville	608,750
MISS ERA WEST, Sullivan, Rt. 5	600,190

The totals show the order of standing as to place only, according to their work so far in the campaign, but does not necessarily show the grand total of each candidate as votes may be held in reserve.

If you are not in the lead, put yourself there with this and next week's work. A few long term subscriptions can put you among the leaders. Get them NOW! Get those "promises." A "promise" lost might be the one to lose you the DeSoto Sedan. How will it be—it is up to YOU!

SEE SULLIVAN SUCCEED

WITHHOLD not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it.—Say not to thy neighbor, go and come again, and tomorrow I will give; when thou hast it by thee.—Proverbs 3:27-28

Why should we call ourselves men, unless it be to succeed in everything? Say of nothing "This is beneath me", nor feel that anything is beyond our powers. Nothing is impossible to the man who can will.—Mirabeau.

THE FUTURE OF SULLIVAN

If Sullivan does not progress now—what is the answer?

Through a mighty exertion a drive has been put over and a contract signed that will bring a shoe factory to this city.

The site has been chosen and ground will be broken on the actual construction work within 30 days.

So far so good.

Will we pat ourselves on the back, listen to the plaudits and congratulations of our well wishers and then get back into the old rut?

That is possible, but not probable.

Sullivan now has a future to look forward to.

The small business can build into a big business.

Sullivan's trade territory can be extended. It's sphere of influence and usefulness will push out its present community borders. To ascertain extent that is what the present Progress subscription drive will help materially to do. Each week dozens of new families become Progress readers.

Will Sullivan now live up to its opportunities?

The growth and development of the city will not come on with a rush. It will not be any boom or bonanza town. It is silly to expect that.

We are justified, however, in expecting a steady growth; a renewal of confidence in the future; a gradual development in our business and other institutions.

Looking into the future is all right. Every progressive firm and individual does that. But let us not neglect the immediate present.

There are things this community can do right now that will help the future.

One such thing is to extend our patronage to the business people we have here now. If we spend our dollars here at home, that will tend to make our stores bigger and better. It will show our loyalty to our home town merchants.

We have a bakery here. Tell your grocer to send you Sullivan bread. Insist on it. Get acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Conley. They have come here to build up a business. They are deserving of the patronage of the community.

This is just one case. It applies equally well to all our business people who have been here for a longer time. The home buyer is the community builder. The money spent out of town is money gone. It will never return to build Sullivan.

We can always boast of a clean city, if we exert ourselves a little that way. There is no valid excuse for weed grown lots, especially in the uptown. They are a nuisance and according to law the owner of such lots can be fined, if he fails to clean up. There is no valid excuse for littered alleys.

We can have a good city when the factory gets under way; we can have a prosperous city, if we give our business people a square deal; we can have a clean city if the proper officials insist that it shall be so.

Four years ago we nailed to the masthead of our editorial column the slogan SEE SULLIVAN SUCCEED. It's there again today. It's a good slogan. Let us all rally round that banner and make things hum.

(Monday's Factory Bulletin)

Sullivan did what seemed impossible.

Neighboring cities said it was impossible. They smiled at our efforts.

Now we invite them to rejoice with us.

Sullivan now confidently faces its future—for it is assured of a future.

The years when one day was about like another day—when there was no incentive to improve and be ambitious—have now been relegated to the past.

No one has dumped a fortune into our midst and asked us to help ourselves to it. Far from it.

The business and professional man will still have to work and plan. The wage earner will still have to work for his wages. The coming of the factory has done nothing toward a solution of the farm relief problem.

Let us be reasonable. Let us not expect too much.

Here is what the factory will do for us. It will bring people to this city—business people and working people. When they come there will be a demand for houses. There are not many vacant houses here now. Building operations will begin. Vacant lots will blossom forth, not only in new buildings, but in homes—and homes are what makes a happy community.

The people living in these homes will have employment in the factory, or in other activities of this city. For other industries may come.

As the years go by, the shoe factory will develop. It may in time employ as many as 700 people—and who can tell, the day may come when we will ask the Brown Shoe Company to build an addition.

The building of the factory this winter will give people employment. The money which the people of this community are investing in this project will to a great extent remain here, to be spent in this city.

We have shown the world that Sullivan is far from dead. By a mighty effort we have redeemed ourselves, from a future that looked gloomy and without a ray of promise.

The people have rallied to Sullivan. They have shown their faith in the old town.

And let us close this editorial with one thought, which kindly always bear in mind—If the business people of Sullivan had not backed this proposition, it would have fallen flat. The home-owned business concerns have given it their support. Neighboring cities did but an infinitesimal bit. Remember this when you spend your money. Kindly give the home merchant—the fellow who is 100 per cent for you and your community—every favorable consideration.

They were for you and for Sullivan—now you folks be for them. Do you get the idea?

Heart to Heart Talk

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M. D.

BARBED SHAFTS

"Hokey! You look tough, old man. Say—if you don't go somewhere and do somthin' for yourself, you're goin' to die!"

Another said it—and another. The victim of jaundice became convinced that his condition was grave; look at the testimony. Discriminating people could not all be wrong. The careless remarks, all meant for the best, caused hours of doubt and mental torture for the man who was sick temporarily.

"My! You're a sure enough cripple! You don't seem to get much better, do you?"

This to a poor girl rendered almost helpless below the waist by an accident years ago. Her spine had been "wrenched." Without those heavy iron braces, reaching from her waist to the feet, even standing erect was impossible; to see her walk, shambling, twisting, straining to get along, would arouse sympathy instantly. And the little girl went to and from her work at a desk, smiling, and cherry, enthusiastic over what she could do! She was a doer of the almost impossible—sure that some day she would overcome her terrible disability.

The chance salutation made her wince; the discouraging comment bore its wicked fruit. The little martyr poised on her two crutches—touched her tiny handkerchief to her eyes, and hobbled on.

There are still a few people in this highly-civilized social throng, who are so sensibly stupid as to blurt out the worst possible stuff to the unfortunate ones—words that are truly barbed shafts. It is only the mental cripple who calls attention to defects in the maimed or helpless. I once heard an idiot say to a paralyzed man, "I wouldn't be in your fix for a cool million dollars."

I think most any sort of "fix" is preferable to being a mental clam, who hasn't sense enough to be gently kind and always encouraging to the permanently afflicted.

GUIDEPOSTS TO

Health and Happiness

BY BERNARR MAC FADDEN

WHAT ARE "NERVES"?

Did you ever stop to wonder why it is that only wealthy people can afford nerves? One of the hobbies of a large group of society women is to have a breakdown in the winter and be ordered to Florida, and perhaps another breakdown when hot weather comes around, and then the doctor is almost sure to prescribe a sea voyage.

Poor things! It really isn't their imagination; most of them are literally a "bundle of nerves." But instead of prescribing Florida in the winter and Europe in the summer, their physician (if he dared!) should suggest a few days over a washtub. That would soon cure their jumpy nerves.

Neurasthenia is the result of idleness of body and mind. Jumpy nerves are the result of having nothing to do. It is Nature's law that every living thing must burn up a certain amount of brain and body tissue each day in order to keep normal and healthy. Sleeping late, breakfast in bed, a limousine ride to a smart hotel for lunch, perhaps a matinee in the afternoon, a formal dinner party and an evening of bridge, while sounding like an ambitious program, is utterly worthless as far as physical or mental exercise is concerned.

Did you ever hear of a day laborer or a well trained athlete taking to his bed with a case of nerves? Of course not. It just doesn't happen, because there isn't any reason for it to happen. Improper nourishment can cause a physically active man to collapse but that is beside the point.

It is amazing how much endurance the average healthy person has. Haven't you yourself gone to bed at times with the soles of your feet throbbing and your brain whirling madly around? But doesn't a good night's sleep in a well ventilated room make you feel like a new person next morning?

The long and short of the matter is that "nerves" are due primarily to poisons or toxins as medical men call them. These poisons are generated by the system and the only way to get rid of them is by proper digestion and assimilation, regular elimination and sufficient exercise of brain and body.

CREED OF FUTURE FARMER.

"I believe in the future of farming, with a faith born not of words but of deeds—achievements won by the present and past generations of farmers; in the promise of better days through better ways, even as the better things we now enjoy have come up to us from the struggles of former years.

"I believe that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging; for I know the joys and discomforts of farm life and hold an inborn fondness for those associations which, even in hours of discouragement, I cannot deny.

"I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others. I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly, with such knowledge and skill as I can secure, and in the ability of organized farmers to serve our own and the public interest in marketing the product of our toil. I believe we can safeguard those rights against practices and policies that are unfair.

"I believe in less dependence on begging and more power in bargaining; in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so—for others as well as myself; in less need for charity and more of it when needed; in being happy myself and playing square with those whose happiness depends upon me.

"I believe that rural America can and will hold true to the best traditions in our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task."—Exchange.

HERE'S HOWE

ARE YOU ORTHODOX?

QUEEN VICTORIA

OLD THINGS AND NEW.

As impressive reading as I have ever found in the writing of a first-class man is from George Santayana:

"I have great respect for orthodoxy; not for those orthodoxies which prevail in particular schools or nations, and which vary from age to age, but for a certain shrewd orthodoxy which the sentiment and practice of laymen maintain everywhere. I think that common sense, in a rough, dogged way, is technically sounder than the special schools of philosophy, each of which squints and overlooks half the facts and half the difficulties in its eagerness to find some detail the key to the whole. I am animated by distrust of all high guesses, and by sympathy with the old prejudices and workaday opinions of mankind: they are ill expressed, but they are well grounded."

I also like Santayana because he said: "My system is not mine, nor is it new." I am prejudice! against those persons who show enthusiasm only in presence of something they consider new. Here is a leader in philosophy who has most respect for the old common sense as discovered by laymen in the school of practical experience, where all of us are students, and may become useful teachers:

Harvard college is just a building; outside is the World.

I am orthodox; I accept what the best of my neighbors say; I accept that shrewd orthodoxy which the sentiment and practice of laymen maintain everywhere.

When one encounters a good thing in reading, a pleasurable thrill follows—I never admired Queen Victoria. Possibly it was because her virtues were exploited so much; one soon gets too much of that. But years ago I read that, as a girl, Victoria was compelled to learn housekeeping, and it gave me a pleasurable thrill for I believe in training of that sort. Occasionally I have heard a woman say, boastfully, that she never had her hands in dishwater, and thereafter I think of her as I do of a professional actress, athlete, suffragette, or follower of the "Occult."

A great medical association lately held its annual convention. The best men in the profession were attracted, and one old fellow recognized as without a peer in his line, bluntly told them that with all their investigation, practically nothing of value in prolonging life had been discovered in many years; that old age is the same inexorable thing it has always been. With all our learning, old things finally demonstrate their supremacy over the new.

There is a kind of woman men obey with a good deal of cheerfulness. But she is always a capable boss, and does not ask too much; when too much is demanded, men tighten up, and display a meanness women cannot equal.

Half the people are martyrs to unreasonable kin.

Hints for the Home

by Nancy Hart

RABBIT a la MODE

Joint young rabbit that has been skinned and cleaned; lay meat overnight in pickling liquid composed of 3 water, and 3 vinegar, salt and pepper to taste, cloves, allspice, celery seed and sliced onion. Next day remove meat from liquid, dry, dredge with flour and fry in butter as you would chicken. Thicken gravy with brown flour, (add a little pickling juice, if desired), strain, put meat back in gravy and simmer for half hour before serving.

MIXED VEGETABLE SALAD

On a salad platter arrange crisp lettuce leaves, six sections of cooked cauliflower, 1 cup cooked spinach, 1 cup cooked string beans; quarters of hard-boiled egg. Dress with French dressing in which 1 tbs. chopped pimiento has been added.

APRICOT TARTS

Drain a can of apricots and mash them. Sweeten to taste and add sufficient flour to thicken to proper consistency. Add a teaspoon of butter, line tart pans with puff paste, fill with the apricot filling, criss-cross with ribbons of pastry and bake until light brown. Dredge with confectioner's sugar and cinnamon just before serving.

BROWNS FLOUR QUICKLY

For thickening meat gravies, browned flour is usually best. To prepare a quantity which can be used from time to time, spread one cup flour on a pie tin and set in hot oven. Stir frequently to prevent burning.

RAY JENKINS SUFFERING RESULTS OF ACCIDENT

Friends in this city have been informed that Ray Jenkins, a former resident here, is suffering from paralysis of both hands. In May he suffered a fall in the garage in San Pedro, California and as a result injured his neck. The paralysis followed. There is hope that the effects of the injury will gradually wear off.

High School Life

Commercial Notes

The second annual Home Coming of the Sullivan Township high school will be held Friday, October 25th. Plans are under way already for filling the day completely with Home Coming activities. The members of the Home-Coming supper committee from the Parent-Teachers Association with Miss Delassus as chairman, met Tuesday afternoon at the High School to arrange for the details in connection with the soliciting and menu for the supper which is to be served from 5:30 to 7:30.

The All-School play cast is doing some diligent work in staging the play, "Seven Keys to Baldpate" for the climaxing event of the Home Coming.

Dorothy Mitchell, class of 1929 graduate, is the alumni chairman and is already at work making out invitations to alumni and former students of the Sullivan Township High School. It is hoped by the Home Coming committees that classes of the different years will reserve tables in advance for class reunions.

Bob Sullivan, Student Manager, is busy sending out special invitations to organizations, teachers and districts of all the schools within the High School district to participate in our Home Coming activities.

The teachers are attending the Eastern Division of the Illinois Teachers Association at Charleston on Friday, October 11.

A new cabinet for filing of the student records, letters and account books has been installed as one of the permanent office fixtures. It conforms with the North Central recommendation for preserving permanent records. It has a locking device. It is heat resistant and built in central units so that all records may be centrally located.

The Student Council has approved of a special assembly program to be given before the assembly every month. A nominal fee of ten cents admission will be charged of the students attending. It is hoped that everybody who can will attend these programs.

The program as a whole is as impressive as a regular Chautauqua given each summer. The first number, a musical number by the Alexander Musical Trio will be held at 1:15 Monday afternoon, October 14.

He was born in Ash Grove township, Shelby County, on November 15, 1853 and passed away at his home near Kirksville, Oct. 2, 1929 at the age of 75 years, 10 months and 16 days. He leaves to mourn his departure, his wife Alice Linebaugh, one daughter, Mrs. E. A. Hill of Springfield, Ohio, three sisters Miss Retta Linebaugh, Mrs. C. F. McGarvey and Mrs. G. W. Smith of Windsor, and two granddaughters Dorothy and Marjorie Anne Hill. Funeral services were held at the residence Friday afternoon with interment in Windsor cemetery. Rev. W. H. Mason of the Presbyterian church of which Mr. Linebaugh had been a member for many years, conducted the services. Services at grave were in charge of the Masons.

RICHARD NEIL KESLO WAS BORN FRIDAY, OCT. 4

Wahrheit und Dumheit

Mrs. Jello—Doctor, tell me truly, is there no hope for my husband?

Dr. Killum—No, I don't think your husband can recover, but to make sure I'll call in another physician.

An acquaintance was out rather late the other night. His name is William. When he did get home and turned on the lights in the hallway, he heard his wife's voice from the bedroom: "Is that you John?"

What would you do in a case like that?

"Miss—" said the Judge to his stenographer "Are you one of those girls who is always locking at the clock?"

"Oh dear me, no. I don't do that at all Judge, for I have a wrist watch."

They tell about a local teacher who asked the ag teacher whether a baby Polan China was a little hamlet.

Up in Chicago an Irish policeman was taking an examination preparatory to promotion.

One of the questions was "What are rabies and what do you do to prevent them?"

His answer was: "Rabies is Jewish priests. They tried once upon a time to prevent them by killing all the Jew babies in Egypt. That was no go and ever since nothing has been done to prevent them."

Tommy—"There's a girl at our school, mamma, they call 'Postscript.' Do you know why?" Mamma—"No, dear."

Tommy—"Because her name is Adeline Moore."—Selected.

POOR BURGLAR

"Just think! While I was out with some of the fellows the other night, a burglar broke into our house."

"Did he get anything?"

"I'll say he did—my wife that it was me coming home."

ADMITS IT

Captain to private: "Your name?"

Private: "Jones, sir."

Captain: "Your age?"

Jones: "Twenty-four."

Captain: "Your rank?"

Jones: "I know it."—Exchange.

POOR FELLOW

"My husband has no bad habits whatsoever," boasted a wife. "He never drinks, and he spends all his evenings at home. Why, he doesn't even belong to a club."

"Does he smoke?" inquired a friend.

"Only in moderation. He likes a cigar, after he has had a good dinner, but I don't suppose he smokes two cigars a month."

The human brain is a wonderful organ. It starts working the moment we get up in the morning, and doesn't stop until we get to the office.—Telephone Topics.

Emigration Agent: "Married or single?"

Applicant: "Married."

"Where were you married?"

"I don't know."

"Don't know where you were married?"

"Oh, I though you said 'why.'"

THE EXPLANATION

"Did you get a hair cut?"

"No, I just had my ears moved down half an inch."—Lehigh Burr

"Come, come, my man, you have been looking around a long time without buying. What do you want?"

"Guess I want another floor-walker," said the gentleman addressed. "I'm the owner of this outfit."—Exchange.

HOW TO PICK A QUARREL

Jimson: "What did you and your wife quarrel about?"

Simpson: "Well, she said a certain woman we met was beautiful and I agreed with her.—Ex.

THE COWED BOY

Little Jack Horner stood on a corner,

Watching the girls go by;

He tipped his lid

To a cute little kid,

And she gave him a sock in the eye.

—Kablegram.

"When things go wrong as they sometimes will, when the road you're treading seems all up hill, when the funds are low and the debts are high, and you want to smile but you have to sigh, when care is pressing you down a bit, rest, if you must—but don't you quit."

"Statistics show," declared the bespectacled woman lecturer, "that the modern, common-sense style of woman's dress has reduced accidents on the street cars by 50 per cent."

"Why not do away with accidents altogether?" piped a masculine voice from the rear of the hall.—Life.

VOTE TOTALS SOAR AS THE LEADERS LINE UP FOR THE FINAL DASH IN THE "EVERYBODY WINS" CAMPAIGN

on "clubs", count for 90,000 votes now on out-of-town subscriptions and 80,000 votes on Sullivan subscriptions where formerly 100,000 votes were given on out-of-town subscriptions.

And, should they be (new) five-year subscriptions they would count for 130,000 votes and 110,000 votes respectively as we are allowing DOUBLE votes on NEW subscriptions during the "first" and "second periods" ONLY.

Ten yearly (renewal) subscriptions now mean 70,000 votes on out-of-town subscriptions and 65,000 on Sullivan subscriptions where formerly 80,000 votes were issued on out-of-town subscriptions. And, should they be (new) yearly subscriptions they would count for 90,000 and 80,000 votes respectively—providing, of course, they are turned in before Saturday night, October 19th. REMEMBER, there is another drop in votes before the campaign comes to a close and after Saturday, October 19th, DOUBLE votes on NEW subscriptions will be at an end, so WORK NOW and get BIG VOTES for your work.

Better Be Safe Than Sorry

A few more laps and the race will have been run. Only a short time remains to decide between victory and defeat—success or failure. Don't overlook a single chance to better your condition in the vote totals and improve your chances to win. Avail yourself of the opportunities this "period" affords.

Think and plan constantly for means of success. Figure ways to win, and always remember that your adversaries, as keen and resourceful as yourself, are racking some very acute brains for the same purpose.

It means something to win in a competition of this sort. It is a demonstration of capacity that is extraordinary. It proves the "yellow" in your bogus friends, but it also reveals the true ones and it tests your mettle and measures your strength.

From now until the finish is the time when 100 per cent efficiency counts.

REGARDING "SECOND PAYMENTS"

A number of people who subscribed for only one year during the early part of the Sullivan Progress Subscription Campaign have asked how they might help their favorite candidate to the limit.

In cases where a one-year subscription has already been given and it is desired to extend it for another year, a "second payment" of $1.50 will count 4,000 votes where the subscriber is a renewal and outside of the city of Sullivan and 2,500 votes where the subscriber is a renewal and lives in the city of Sullivan. And, should they be from NEW subscribers (anyone not on the list at start of campaign) they would count for 8,000 and 5,000 votes respectively as we are allowing DOUBLE votes on NEW subscriptions during the "first" and "second period" only.

Or, should it be desired to increase a one-year subscription to 5-years, the limit taken in advance from any one candidate, such an order would count 18,000 votes for renewal out-side the city and for 13,500 for renewal in the city and for 36,000 where the subscriber is NEW out-side the city and for 27,000 where the subscriber is NEW in the city.

For example:—Five extensions from one-year to five years would give 90,000 REGULAR votes where the subscriber is a renewal and lives out-side the city and 67,500 REGULAR votes for renewal subscription in the city of Sullivan. If they are NEW they would count for 180,000 and 135,000 REGULAR votes respectively. And, at the same time it would constitute two complete "clubs" on which 100,000 EXTRA votes would be issued or a grand total of 190,000 votes for renewal, out-of-town subscriptions; 167,500 for renewal in-town subscriptions and 280,000 votes for NEW out-of-town subscriptions and 235,000 votes for NEW in-town subscriptions.

These votes hold good while the "second period" is in effect, or until October 19th.

Here's your opportunity candidates, to swell your vote totals by leaps and bounds.

Rush your orders to the campaign department before the "second period" comes to a close.

—Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Kilton and son Richard visited at the home of his brother S. W. Kilton in Champaign Sunday.

—Mrs. Bert Fultz left Tuesday for Indianapolis, Ind., where she is spending several weeks with her son Keith Fultz.

How to Gain a Half Million Votes

On each 5-year (renewal) subscription where the subscriber lives out-side the city limits of Sullivan, 20,000 REGULAR votes are allowed and on each 5-year (renewal) subscription in the city of Sullivan, 15,000 REGULAR votes are allowed—providing, of course, they are turned in during the "second period", now in effect.

On each 5-year (new) subscription, out-side the city of Sullivan, there are 40,000 REGULAR votes allowed and 30,000 REGULAR votes on 5-year (new) subscriptions in the city of Sullivan as we are allowing DOUBLE votes on NEW subscriptions during the "first and second periods" only.

On each "club" of $15 turned in 50,000 EXTRA votes are allowed.

Twelve (renewal) 5-year subscriptions out-side the city of Sullivan would entitle you to 240,000 REGULAR votes and at the same time would constitute six complete "clubs" of $15 or 300,000 EXTRA votes—making a grand total of 540,000 votes.

Fourteen (renewal) 5-year subscriptions in the city of Sullivan would count 210,000 REGULAR votes and make seven complete "clubs" with 350,000 EXTRA votes or a grand total of 560,000 votes.

Eight (new) 5-year subscriptions out-side the city of Sullivan would entitle you to 320,000 REGULAR and 200,000 EXTRA votes making a grand total of 520,000 votes.

Ten (new) 5-year subscriptions in the city of Sullivan would entitle you to 300,000 REGULAR votes and 250,000 EXTRA votes making a grand total of 550,000 votes.

It would take a few more shorter term subscriptions to get this many votes.

Have't you this many friends who would help you to the extent of a 5-year subscription to The Sullivan Progress (only $7.50) toward winning the DeSoto Sedan, worth $1180?

Try it and See!

Prov. 30:8—"Give me neither poverty, nor riches, feed me with food convenient for me."

Give me the happy medium, not too poor nor too rich. Either one is dangerous. In extreme poverty the devil tempts us to find fault with God, and to imagine injustice on his part in dealing with his people. We sometimes find it very hard to understand the prosperity of the wicked when we may be serving God in more or less poverty, and yet we should realize "a little that a righteous man hath is better than the riches of many wicked." If we know our name is written in heaven how much richer we are than all the unsaved. If we acquire riches, then there is the danger of forgetting God and placing our trust in those riches. God warned Israel of that very thing before they crossed over into Canaan land, and it did happen to them and was their downfall and eventually their ruin. Humanity is the same today. We are happiest and safest when each day we depend on the Lord to supply our needs, and then watch those needs supplied.

TWELFTH INSTALMENT

He was so thwarted and rejected that he sent her home alone. She was grateful for that.

She toiled all the while at her own technic. When she finished the short comedy with Ned Ling she was drawn back to the Bermond studio for the principal role in a big picture. She was not yet to be starred, but she was to be "featured" with a young man, Clive Cleland, who was spoken of as Tom Holby's successor.

Young Cleland fell prey to her growing fascinations, but he was so much her business rival and the professional love scenes were such duels for points, that she could not think of him as an amateur in love. Besides, an unsuspected loyalty to Tom Holby was awakened in her heart by the pretense that this raw youth was Tom's "successor."

Holby was out in the Mojave Desert on location, and his absence pleaded for him like a still, small voice that interfered with the murmurs of nearer lovers.

She was full of impatience of every sort.

She had fallen out of love with herself.

Mannerisms that directors or critics pointed out, or that she discovered for herself, vexed her to distraction. It was a strange thing to recognize in herself a fault that she detested in others and was yet unable to eradicate. Striving to avoid these recurrent tricks she grew self-conscious, and people said that she was getting a swelled head when she was most in a panic. What they took for conceit was the bluff of a rabbit at bay.

And all the while the longing for a home, a single love, a normal average life, alternated with onsets of cynical defiance for the conventions.

She was in a marriage mood and her friends gave her conflicting counsel: Don't marry an actor! Don't marry an author! Don't marry a business man! Don't marry anybody!

Ned Ling was one of Mem's most abject worshippers. He had taught her the mechanics of comedy, and helped her tragedy thereby. Without being able to laugh at himself, he taught her to laugh at herself and at him.

He grew morbid for her. He cast away his fears of love and his horror of marriage and his sense of humor at the same time. He flew into tempests of anger at her unresponsiveness and became a tragic clown at whom she could not help smiling.

He made comic exits from her presence, swearing he would never see her again, and comic returns. But Mem would only flirt with him, and with anyone else who amused her.

Tom Holby came back from the desert browner than ever, less subtle, more undeniable than ever. He fought hard for her in the spirit of the hero he was playing at the time, a man who acted on the theory that the cave man is woman's ideal and that she prefers above all things to be caressed with a club.

But these highly advertised tactics were not to Mem's liking, at least at the moment. When he grew too fierce, she struck him in the mouth with a fist that had stout muscles for a driving bar, and she brought the blood to his nose with a slash of her elbow.

She sailed at his awkward confusion, but thereafter she was out when he called.

Eventually she met him again at the golden wedding anniversary of an old actor and accepted his apologies and his company home.

"How wonderful," she said on the palm-gloomed way, "to be loved by one man for fifty years!"

"I could love you for a hundred," Tom groaned. "Let's get married and quit wasting so much time."

"I wouldn't give up my career for all the happiness in the world!" "I don't suppose any woman ever gave up her career when she got married."

"How do you mean?"

"Most women have been brought up for a career of house-keeping. A father or mother told them what to do, and scolded them when they did something else. They learned how to make dresses and sew and cook, and that was their business. When they married they just moved their shop over to their husband's home and expected him to provide the raw stock and tell them what to do and scold 'em if they didn't do it, or spank 'em."

"But you'd be hugging other girls before the camera—and other men would be hugging me."

"As long as it didn't mean anything."

"But it might come to!" "Well, for the matter of that, a lot of hugging goes on in a lot of homes—and outside of them. No guaranty ever went with marriage that was good for anything, and there's none now. We've got as good a chance as anybody."

"But what if we should fall out? Divorces are so loathsome."

"They're pretty popular, tho. They're more decent than the old way—and divorces are as ancient as the world. Moses brought down from heaven the easiest system."

"Yes, but Christ said—" "Christ said nothing about a woman ever getting a divorce at all. He only allowed a man to get it on one ground."

He took her in his arms, but Mem was not a gambling mood, and withdrew herself. She wanted to ponder a while longer.

When she was under Tom Holby's spell, she was easily convinced that the ideal partnership was an actor and an actress. She had been of a mind that actress and director made the perfect combination. Claymore had left his autograph on her soul.

Then a rich man fell into her orbit and wanted to put "big money" back of her, organize The Remember Steadon Productions, Inc., and make pictures exclusively for her. But he talked so large that he frightened off her love.

This love business was driving Mem frantic. In all the pictures she had played, as in the traditions of her girlhood, love was a thing that came once and never came again. Good women knew their true fate-mates at once and never swerved in their devotion.

Yet here she was, passionately interested in several gentlemen, finding each of them fascinating, just so far, and faithful thereafter. Instead of giving herself meekly to the bliss of matrimony she was debating its advisability, practicability, and profit. She must be at heart a bad woman; one of those adventuresses.

Then came The Pause. Hard times struck the movies so hard that in the studios they became no times at all.

Most of the motion-picture factories disarmed entirely, and the rest of them nearly. The Bermond Studios kept one company at work and it was not Mem's company.

She was stricken with terror as she confronted her problems.

What could she do now—not to perfect her shame, but to make a living? She would be poorer than her father. She would have to discontinue the installments of that "conscience fund" which she had learned to expect from Doctor Bretherick. She could not even pay the installments on numerous vanities she had bought for herself from the shops.

Her lovers were as defutured as herself. Authors, actors, directors—all, instead of marriage they talked of poverty.

No one had talked hard times longer or louder than Bermond. Having heard him croak of disaster so long, Mem assumed her contract would be cancelled. Bermond sent for her and she went prepared for the guillotine. He said:

"I like you, Miss Steadon. You have worked hard. I find that the exhibitors are wiring in: 'Give us more Steadon stuff. Why don't you star her?' What the exhibitors say goes—as far as it can."

"We can't star you now. But I believe in you. I want people to know you. And when the good times come again you must be ready for them. So I'll go on paying you your salary and send you out on a tour of personal appearances."

"Your last picture looks like a knock out. I'm going to take down Clive Cleland's name and features yours alone. I want you to go East—to New York and Boston, Philly, Chi., all the big cities, and let the people see you when they see the picture."

"We'll pay your traveling expenses and so your mother can go along as our guest."

"Of course!" Mem cried. "And it's ever so kind of you."

The abandoned suitors of Mem made a sorry squad at the Santa Fe station. They stared at her with humiliated devotion.

Bermond sent a bushel of flowers and fruit to her drawing-room. He saw to it that there were reporters to give her a good send-off.

HAT'S OFF TO OUR CHAMPION GOLFER

With all due respect to William A. Gardner, the winner of the Sentel cup, the local club has a great champion that qualifies in a somewhat older class. He is William L. Rhodes or "Uncle Billie" as he is familiarly known.

Friday Uncle Billie met Dr. S. W. Johnson and challenged him to a "birthday" tournament. The Doctor is about 14 years younger than Uncle Billie, but that enthusiastic golf addict was ready to concede age and weight and previous experience and servitude.

He and Doc played 9 holes and the score was Rhodes 53, Johnson 52.

Now all of this would not be so remarkable, except for the fact that Friday was "Uncle Billie's" 80th birthday anniversary.

A retired farmer does not as a rule take readily to playing golf, but Uncle Billie takes to it as naturally as a duck does to water and if he was just a few years younger, W. A. Gardner, might have some real competition to hold the honor he now enjoys.

In the 80 year old class Uncle Billie is champion. Who dares deny it?

HUSTON VS. HUSTON

Through her attorneys Cochran, Sentel & Cochran suit for divorce has been filed by Blanche Huston of this city against her husband Homer Huston. The bill sets forth that the couple were married March 3, 1923 and that they parted October 9, 1928. She accuses him of being a habitual drunkard and of committing adultery with a Decatur woman named Babe Wood. The bill sets forth that "it is alleged the reputation of said Wood lady for chastity was bad."

FACTORY CONTRACT SIGNED; MARTIN SITE SELECTED— WILL BUILD THIS FALL

of similar campaigns in neighboring cities, they never gave up hope. They battled valiantly and brought to headquarters the signed pledges.

Just ten days of solicitation. That's what it took to put this factory proposition over. They were ten days of hard and persistent effort, but the success achieved has filled the workers with satisfaction and joy.

In other nearby cities of bigger population it took longer than this to put the factory drive across. In our neighboring cities of Mattoon and Charleston the campaign lasted two to three weeks.

Most of the workers were convinced after the $100,000 mark was passed on Saturday night, September 28th, that in some manner the other $25,000 would be forthcoming. It was a hard battle to get this last $25,000. It came in in small dribs. Holdout business men seeing that the factory drive would succeed, came in with their share.

The cleanup squad of the workers' committees worked hard and their pleas were earnest and eloquent. It took super-salesmanship to sell the idea to some that they should give toward the factory fund.

Thursday the sub-executive committee decided that it had reached a stage in its work, where more decisive measures were needed to put on the finishing touches.

Thursday morning Vice President McCarthy of the Brown Shoe Co., had called J. L. McLaughlin and informed him that the company was anxious to close the local deal and that he and some more of the officials would like to come to Sullivan Monday afternoon to sign the contract with the city and begin work on the factory.

Announcement of this was made in Friday's papers. A statement by the executive committee was attached calling a mass meeting for Friday night in the circuit court room.

The Cleanup Squad
In the meantime the workers had been instructed to visit all who had not as yet signed their full quota and get their pledges for whatever amount they would give.

The business and professional men's committee took the same action relative to some of the business men who had not met their quota. These men were visited and asked what they would give and with a list of such offers Paul M. Hankla and Dr. J. F. Lawson made the rounds and asked those business men who had signed their full quota, what they desired done. The unanimous opinion of these men was "take what you can get."

One or two offers made were so manifestly unfair, however, that they were not accepted by the business men's committee. The percentage of the quota offerred was unjust insofar as others in the same line of business, who had signed their full quota, were concerned.

A Busy Friday

Friday was a busy day. Odds and ends were looked after. Telephones were kept busy. One committee went to Decatur and solicited wholesale houses there that do considerable Sullivan business. Upon their return they reported that their efforts had resulted in a "100 Per Cent result", that is to say the Decatur folks had given them a 100 per cent turn down. There had been the usual good will wishes, etc., but those seen, if they did not stave the matter off in some way, passed the buck to some member of the firm who was out of town, for final consideration. Some support has come from Decatur. One or two wholesalers have made contributions and some former Sullivan residents who now live there have also given liberal support.

A complete tabulation was made Friday of the figures in the drive up to that time. When the meeting opened Friday night, these figures were right up to the minute.

With a rainy, threatening night, a good crowd had gathered in the circuit court room. The high school band had played several selections before Chester Horn, general chairman of the drive, opened the meeting.

The Big Mass Meeting

The first of the workers called on to report was C. R. Patterson. He had handled the solicitation of the out of town property owners and former Sullivan residents. He told of the manner in which he secured these names and the method of solicitation. During the early days of the campaign about 350 pieces of letter mail were sent out of his office daily to those people on his list.

Returns were rather gratifying. From all over the country came letters of encouragement and good will, usually accompanied by signed pledges and in many cases accompanied by checks. Contributions were received from every point of the compass. They were from Oregon, New York, California and Florida; from the southernmost part of Texas and from Colorado and Michigan; from Mississippi and Missouri and from many other states. A complete list of these will be published as soon as compiled.

The total reported by Mr. Patterson was $4,486.

Figures Presented

Secretary Purvis Tabor then made his financial report up to the minute.

Total number of subscribers 826.

Total amount pledged, consisting of full quotas, farmers' contributions and non resident receipts $113,009.80.

Partial quota pledges, not yet accepted $4113.

Grand total $117,122.80.

McLaughlin Speaks

J. L. McLaughlin was the next and main speaker of the evening. He went into detail explaining what had been done in the three weeks since the Brown Shoe Co., told us we could have the factory if we met its financial stipulations. He stated how the 1100 quotas had been arranged for the people. Without a quota, it was Mr. McLaughlin's opinion that not as much as $50,000 could have been pledged.

The quotas were divided into two groups—business and professional men and ward folks. Of the business and professional men all but about 15 signed up for their full quota. A few signed for less and a few isolated ones did not sign at all. He stated how the matter of those who signed reduced quotas had been submitted to the business men who had signed in full and how they had agreed to accept them.

He then got right to the heart of the object for which the meeting had been called.

Vote for Partial Pledges

That was the matter of whether or not the people who had subscribed their full quota wanted to accept the pledges signed by those who for various reasons, had refused to sign the full quota but had signed for some. Mr. McLaughlin held in his hand these partial quota pledges. The amount he stated was $4113. He gave it as his opinion that nothing more could be gotten out of these signers, that the committees had exhausted every effort and every argument. "If you turn these down" said he "I don't know what we can do. We need them, if we want this matter to go over, but the accepting of them is entirely up to you, for this is your proposition."

A motion was made and seconded that the pledges be accepted as signed and by standing vote, it was passed unanimously, there being no votes against it.

This brought the total pledged up to $117,122.80 as per the statement of Secretary Tabor and Treasurer Thompson.

Where Do We Go From Here?

When the matter reached this status, Mr. McLaughlin remarked, "That leaves approximately $6,000 more to raise. Where do we go from here?"

He then stated that a plan had been worked out, whereby this balance could be guaranteed, in a way that would prove satisfactory to the Brown Shoe Company, so as to insure signing of the contract Monday.

Guarantee Agreement

C. R. Patterson read an agreement that had been prepared. This agreement provided that one hundred signers be secured to guarantee the balance necessary to be raised, with the understanding that none so signing would ever be called upon for more than $100 on this guarantee fund. It was explained that such signing would be in addition to the amounts that the individual signers had already pledged. It was also stated that it might not be necessary to call upon these guarantee signers for any part of this $100, but in no case was more than the $100 to be paid.

Mr. McLaughlin asked the meeting what it thought of this plan. Several voiced their approval. "How many here tonight will sign a guarantee?" he asked and 46 arose to signify that they would. They started a march toward the table inside the court railing where the agreement was and in a few minutes 48 signatures were attached to the guarantee.

It was explained that the solicitation committees would not cease on their job, but, despite this guarantee, would continue to seek and solicit additional pledges to the regular fund.

At the conclusion of Friday night's meeting, all assembled sang one verse of "America" and Rev. C. E. Barnett gave thanks for the task accomplished and asked a blessing on the future activities pertaining to this community project.

After adjournment of the meeting many of the workers went to headquarters. The faithful old bell was given a good workout to tell the community the tidings that "The Drive has gone over."

A call was put in for Mr. McCarthy at St. Louis to tell him the good news.
