> Following the war, industry was due for a big inflation and development and agriculture was due for a deflation and hard times. Prohibition has little to do with this matter. These things were bound to come under the policies of government as promulgated and legislated under the administrations of Harding, Coolidge and Hoover.

> To place the blame or the credit on prohibition is absolutely silly. People of common sense will think twice before swallowing this claim.

> Sugar prices will doubtless remain the same for the coming year that they have been heretofore. Shoe prices will not be subject to any raise.

These are matters that have recently been threshed out in Congress. The House of Representatives voted in both cases to increase the tariff on importations of sugar and hides. In fact hides have been on the free list. The Senate voted against the increase in the tariff on sugar and rejected a tariff on hides.

If the proposed increase in tariff on sugar had become Law enforcement is a cumbersome affair. Instead of law, it would have cost this country about $53,000,000 more per year for its sugar. The effect which a tariff on hides would have had would be to raise the price of shoes about 10 per cent.

Jews as Fighting Race It's a singular thing that people in general should hold so strongly to the idea that the Jew is one who practices the virtue, if it is a virtue, of nonresistance. There is nothing in history to justify such a view, and, indeed, everything to prove that he was no more meek than that turbulent, rebel lious figure, Moses. That in the Middle ages and, later, in Russia, he was massacred cruelly and completely and did not hit back was due to the fact that, having no weapons, he could be crushed by armed mobs and licensed soldiery.

Long before Napoleon placed Jews among his marshals the fighting quality of the race was known and praised. From the days of the Maccabees on there was no insurgent so much dreaded by the Romans as the people of that narrow littoral that lies between Syria and the Egyptian outposts.

The story of the World war is full of the names of Jews in all the armies, and very certainly the British are not soon going to forget the gallant soldier from the Anzac forces who repeatedly swam ashore at Gallipoli and lighted flares on the beach to guide the incoming boat.-Louisville Herald to Count Above Three One writer says crows cannot count in Kent and another says they can in Staffordshire. Many years ago an old farmer in Queensland told me that they could count up to three.

The crows ate his maize but kept away if he hid among it, so he tried going with a friend, who presently went back. The result was that the crows kept away. He tried going with two friends, who both went back. Result the same. But when he himself went back the crows at once returned to the

After many trials he concluded that they could only count up to three. If four or more men went into the maize and three came out again the crows went to the maize, and though many were shot the others never learned to count be yond three. I suppose crows are like men, some of whom never learn how many beans make five.— London Times.

Three Forms of Honey

Honey may be had in three forms in the comb, extracted and granulated, but only occasionally in the latter form. Before the passage of the pure food and drugs act much adulterated honey was offered for sale. When uninformed persons saw crystallized honey they often jumped to the conclusion that the presence of cane sugar was the cause of the granulation. To honey heat it to about 145 degrees Fahrenheit and seal it in jars while heated, which greatly retards and in many cases prevents granula-

It Didn't Work

A cable customer who wanted to send his message at a saving in cost resorted to the following words:

"Asktosee th atletterit explains."
This, in his home-made code.
What he intended to convey to the recipient was: "Ask to see that letter, it explains." The camou-flaged message, had it not been de-tected in time by our eagle-eyed counter clerk, would have gone through at a cost of 60 cents; in plain, unadulterated language the seven words would have amounted of 80 cents was not effected.—International System News.

X-Ray in Criminology

That a man is a carpenter may be revealed under the X-ray by the shape of the bones of his fingers. This is one of the novel conclusions of a recent investigation that recalls the fictional detective feats of Sherlock Holmes.

Experts found that peculiarities in the shape of a workman's fingers revealed that they had long used a plane or similar wood-working tools. It is hoped eventually to gather sufficient data to detect any man's occupation by his physical characteristics.

Possible to Float for Days in This Garment

A suit of clothes in which It would be a positive pleasure to be shipwrecked has been perfected. Except for the face the costume covers the entire body like an overall. Fitted to the head is a hood like that of the conventional monk's gown, but larger and thicker.

In the material of this hood and also between the outer layer and the lining of the rest of the costume spaces are provided which can be inflated with air or stuffed with light material like spongy pa-

The outer layer of the garment is waterproofed and arrangements Marmalades-Mrs. Henry Francis. are provided to keep water from seeping inside the suit at the wrists and neck. Thus the wearer is encased completely in a floating garment which serves both as life preserver and as protection for many hours against the cold. The large, thick hood floats high-

"Friendship" Carried to Extremes in This Case

Billy Muldoon-before he gained fame as a champion wrestler and trainer of John L. Sullivan for his April 8th. epic fight with Jake Kilrain-was once a New York city policeman. And thereby hangs this tale, told by Edward Van Every in his book about "The Solid Man of Sport:"

Muldoon was patrolling his beat one day when several excited citizens reported to him that murder was being done in a nearby house. Hurrying to the scene Muldoon heard groans emanating from a room, the door of which was locked.

Forcing an entrance he found on the floor in a welter of blood, a young negress, to all appearance fatally wounded. Muldoon bent down and asked: "Can you tell me who did this?"

Color's Great Influence

Man has apparently become careless about one of the most important items in his environmentcolor. As soon as he realizes fully the inhibitive and repressive influence of drab, uninteresting color surroundings, the vista about him will be immediately transformed.

Man has always conquered or changed conditions unfavorable to his best development. There is no reason to believe that he will not rise to the present situation and reinstate into his life the color which is so important to his wellbeing.

Bottle Gas

Bottled gas is refined and compressed from the vapor that rises from oil wells that are in production and even from wells that have been pumped dry. It is "bottled" under the form of a low-pressure liquid which on being released resumes its gaseous form and burns in a gas jet. This casing head gas, as it is known among oil men, is a rich natural gas. It is compressed, refined and the liquid stored in steel bottles or drums which are strong enough to withstand the low pressure of the semiliquid gas.

RECEIVE INSURANCE

H. H. Dobbs, clerk of the local Modern Woodman camp, on Friday received two drafts totalling $3,000 and covering the insurance carried by the late J. E. Landers. Each draft was for $1500, one being payable to the deceased's daughter, Mrs. Ione Thomas, and the other to his grandson, Jimmy Landers.

DE SOTO Straight Eight

This Is The New Straight 8 That Startled The Industry

Weeks ago, leading newspapers were informed of a mysterious new eightcylinder car which was performing almost incredible feats on the great natural proving ground in the steep mountains of Pennsylvania.

Out of curiosity, and sensing a news story, automobile editors hurried to the mountains to investigate. There they joined in actual driving tests under conditions of their own selection. They saw and experienced feats of performance that set them writing columns of praise about a new motor car whose very name was still a secret.

Now is revealed the name of that mysterious car—the car they proclaimed a sensation. It is the new Chrysler-built De Soto Straight Eight—the lowestpriced Eight in the world—a car that comes before the public on the wings of a nationwide chorus of expert approval and commendation.

The Lowest-Priced Eight in the World

AND UP, F. O. B. DETROIT

"Never such excellent performance by an automobile in its price class . . .' "The only car that stood up with it was one that sold for approximately $1500 more . . ." These are typical quotations from what prominent automobile editors have been writing under their own signatures.

On the basis of overwhelming dollar value, the new DeSoto Straight Eight is as outstanding in the eight-cylinder field as its famous companion car, the DeSoto Six, is outstanding in the field of sixes. Every comparison unalterably verifies this fact.

That old harness-bring it in now and let us get busy repairing it. You know you'll want it repaired when you need it for spring work.

Clyde Lehman says, "Eventually there will be a machine for almost everything except to put out the cat.

REPAIR MONTH

February is a good month to make repairs. Especially is it a good month for harness repairs You've got time to check over the old harness and see what it needs to put it in good shape for spring work. Bring it here and let us do the work for you.

"Is my husband there" is an inquiry that we get over the phone most every day. Some-times we get the idea that the dear ladies think this is a loafing place. It is not. Farmers and others who congregate here talk business and give their view on how important world matters ought to be settled. There are, however, loafing places in this city. This is not one of them.

February is also a good month for all other kinds of repairs. Machinery that is not like broken bones. It will not mend with time. Why not have it looked after now? Tell us what you need and we'll order the parts.

And you are definitely middle-aged if you have begun to think regular exercise would make you feel like a new man.

Lest you forget, we say it yet—Bring us your harness that needs repairing.
