The factory is busy as a beehive. Instructors and foremen are the busiest of all. The new employes are willing and eager to become proficient in the work that has been assigned them.

From the cutting departments to the shipping department everybody is busy. This week's payroll, which was paid Wednesday, was $1231.08.

Supt. Kohlhauff and the foremen are very much pleased with the type of help that the factory is getting.

July 4th or July 5th, but will reopen Monday morning with a steadily increasing force of emery, if in stock in St. Louis, can be secured in a week's time. If sent from Boston, it takes all of two weeks, before its arrival after order is placed.

With the machines pounding and buzzing, the racks of shoes passing from one operation to another, the factory is fulfilling the hopes and gladdening the hearts of those who worked so long and faithfully to get it for this city.

SEE SULLIVAN SUCCEED

And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit on all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions.—28th verse, Joel Chap. 2.

In this day of miracles, it would be a hardy spirit that would say that anything is impossible. The time is not far distant when men will harness the tides, get motive power and much of their food from the air and from the tropic seas, talk to anyone, anywhere and see them while they talk. These and a thousand more inventions even more wonderful are in the air. Why shouldn't you be the one to start some of them?

You don't need to be an engineer. You don't need to be an inventor. Pasteur was not a doctor, yet he did more for medical science than any doctor. Whitney was not a cotton planter. Not even a Southerner. He was a Connecticut school teacher. Yet he invented the cotton gin! Bell was a professor of elocution, and he once said that he invented the telephone because he knew nothing of electricity. He didn't even know it couldn't be done! Morse, of telegraphic fame, was a portrait painter-not an electrician. Dunlop (maker of tires) was a veterinary surgeon. Gillette was a travelling salesman. Eastman was a bank clerk. Ingersoll was a mechanic. Harriman was a broker. Gary was a lawyer. In fact, most of the great inventors and pioneers have been outsiders. Why? They don't know the things that can't be done,—so they go ahead and do them.—Collier.

WE ARE PROUD OF OLD MOULTRIE COUNTY A FEW MORE REMARKS ABOUT OUR BIG NEIGHBOR WHAT HAS NOISE TO DO WITH PATRIOTISM?

One thing that justifies the existence of the country weekly in these days of daily papers of wide distribution, is that these small town papers can herald to the world, all of the good things that the smaller cities have to boast of. Big city papers in a sort of magnanimous, patronizing way, give us a flash once in a while, but naturally they don't care very much about us, for the cities where they are published are the first consideration. They are always eager to benefit the big cities at the expense of the smaller ones.

There is just a tendency that the small city weeklies, such as The Progress, may overdo the boasting once in a while. To this charge, should anybody be inclined to make it, we can reply-if we don't boost for Sullivan and Moultrie county, pray tell us who will?

We have told you about our shoe factory. We have printed columns of news and comment about it. We expect to print much more as this factory develops.

We have told you about our Jersey cattle-perhaps not as much as some of the breeders think that we should, but we believe in doing everything in moderation. Especially is this true when the boosting is just plain advertising for a certain group, which in time will enable them to profit thereby. Nevertheless, any group that develops an industry such as the Jersey breeders have done, may consider themselves entitled to some free publicity. We hope that they prosper and that they will be able to sell all their surplus stock at prices higher than their fondest hopes may set for their goal. -

We take pride in telling and telling again the story of Wyman park and the dandy picnic spot that it is during the summer months.

We believe that people expect this of The Progress. They want to hear about what we have here in Sullivan that is really worth while. Our Masonic Home and its efficient management is of nation-wide interest.

But though much we may boost for these things already enumerated, we've always got to come back to earth. And by that we mean that the best thing we have to boast about is the black dirt which surrounds his city-the fine farms on which such excellent crops are now growing and maturing. That is really the backbone of Moultrie county. During the dry days of May and June when vegetation was all other states engaged in the parching and shrivelling to nothing on farms further south, Moultrie farm crops stood up well, and now after the heavy rains, these crops are making a miraculous growth. Corn and soybeans never looked better. Wheat and oats, now in reau of animal industry at Wash- ords by more than ten percent, ac- them will be taken to the State office or from Charles Shuman, harvest, is much better than had been expected. Everything is growing and everything looks well.

A businessman from Texas stopping off here the other day said that the crops surrounding this community were the best he had seen since leaving his state. Folks who have toured north and south and east and west, tell us that crops in Moultrie county this year look better than any they have seep anywhere else.

We are proud of old Moultrie county. If it sprouts a few more factories, builds a few more hard roads and develops generally along the lines that the present day trend makes practical, there'll never be a better spot in the mid-bad. But Moultrie county is not to blame for this. We'll just raise that much more per acre and beat the depression after

We consider it a privilege to boast about Moultrie county.

Chicago today is the center of the universe. There's where they do big things and establish records. The Hunter boys from Sparta, which is in Randolph county, in the south part of this state, are hanging up a new aviation endurance record. They may still be soaring through the air tell you about it. when you read this. They may be down. Wherever they are, for the present they are champions in their class.

But this is not all. Chicago also has a dance marathon Tuesday morning, as we scan the papers, five couples were entering their 11th week in a dance marathon conducted in a northside ballroom. They too have shattered all records.

That's two "big" things that Chicago is doing.

Plans for the big world's fair are also progressing nicely and the great midwest metropolis is already making its bid for free publicity for this great attraction. Country newspapers are being given regular releases of advertising which they are asked to insert as news. This big fair will pay millions of dollars for everything else that it may need to insure success, but its publicity will be mooched as much as is possible.

And then there is the "Lingle case" and the Chicago newspapers. This case has gone through various stages of development. Jake Lingle a Tribune reporter was shot down in cold blood. A howl of typographical rage went up from the title pages of the newspapers. Mr. Lingle was pictured as a painstaking reporter, slain in the pursuit of his duty and in the earning of his daily wage. Many thousands of dollars were offered as a reward for the apprehension of his slayer. Then some one started investigating this Jake Lingle. These investigations have disclosed that as a reporter he was not so much, but as a gangster and racketeer he was almost up in the Capone class. That has taken some of the breeze out of the sails of the avenging newspapers. It appears that the Chicago Tribune, either knowingly or unknowingly kept on its payroll a super-type of bandit, who tipped it off on stories that he thought ought to reach publication. Perhaps he was just a press agent, or propagandist for the racketeers. Anyway Jake Lingle is dead. He was given a grand and glorious funeral. The Chicago newspapers have sworn to be avenged on his slayers. Days drift by, weeks drift by but still the slayer or slayers of Lingle izations. They are always wanting mingle with the public. They have not captured Lingle's slayer. They are putting up big bluff. Poor old Chicago! It's because, for some reason or othfooling nobody but itself if it thinks that the world is tak- er, they all seemed to be cracked ing seriously its cries of vengeance. Lingle played a dangerous game and got bumped off. If the man who pulled the by me talked about the Great trigger that planted the lead in Lingle were really arrested, Mysteries of Life and the Terrible dirt. he might squeal and tell lots of things that higher-ups in the Awful Penalties they incur. It Chicago newspaperdom would not like to hear.

While inclined to give them the benefit of the doubt, we cannot but be inclined to think that before the metropolitan press can be a successful prosecutor, it must needs clean house itself. It must come into court with clean hands. It must take the racketeers off its payrolls.

Chicago is a great city. It can prove it by regaining control of its government-by re-establishing its self-respect—by terminating the unholy alliance between the un derworld and the upperworld. Until it does this it will continue to merit the pity and sympathy from well governed municipalities such as Sullivan, Herrin and others.

This week we celebrate the 4th of July. There will be a tremendous amount of noise. Millions of dollars of fireworks will be set off, thousands will sustain injuries and then we'll all sit back with a gasp of exhaustion and feel on the highways than any other dard and son Elmer were: Mr. that we have done due honor to our national birthday.

As a matter of fact, very few will ever stop to give a doing its part to help keep them thought as to why all this din and noise. CLAIM HARRY I. BALL

IS A CATTLE GRAFTER States Attorney R. B. Foster received a letter the latter part of last week from a states attorney at Fairfield. Iowa.

The letter states that quite a number of men living in and near that city have been indicted for "conspiracy to cheat and defraud." Among the men's names is Harry I. Ball and Clemie Ruggles who at various times during the past years have advertised cattle in The Progress. The inference given in the ads was that the men had large numbers of Iowa cattle of various descriptions. Among the folks who at some time or other have been lured to Fairfield were J. B. Tabor, and A. E. McCorvie, superintendent of the Illinois Masonic Home and board members Mc-Creedy and Dolan. In no case did the men buy. It now develops that the cattle which were usually offered for sale were poor Western range stuff bought very cheap. Complaints from parties who have been "stung" resulted in officials taking action. Among the evidence to be presented will be the ads which appeared in The Progress. These ads always looked like legitimate GOVERNMENT PRESENTS business transactions and were in-THE INS AND OUTS serted in good faith and usually paid for, cash in advance.

"In 1922 the birth rate dropped to 22.5 and has gradually become smaller each year since almost without exception, reaching 19.7 in 1928. It is safe to predict a continuing decrease in the first-grade enrollment as far ahead as 1935.

Chicago, for example, which is growing at the rate of 56,000 per year, had a healthy increase in the total enrollment in the first six grades to and including 1924. Since that time these enrollments have been falling off. During a greater part of this same period the parochial schools report a reduction in enrollment.'

Be Certain and Be Safe

Summer finds more motorists on the highways than any other season of the year. In summer, therefore, there is an increased need for attention in the avoidance of crossing accidents.

Our railroad is sensitive to its share of responsibility for safety at crossings. A campaign to avoid crossing accidents is under way the year round. In addition, we are conducting this year, as in previous years, a special summer safety campaign. Our enginemen, trainmen and yardmen are pledged to use every effort to avoid crossing accidents.

The major responsibility for safety at crossings, however, rests upon the individual motorist. That is common sense. To bring trains to a stop at every highway crossing is plainly out of the question. The efficient accommodation of the nation's travel and commerce will not permit that. On the other hand, every motorist can assure his own absolute safety at crossings by being cautious.

Such caution requires at the most only a few seconds' delay, and motorists owe it to themselves and their families, to the community and to good citizenship to make this short investment of time in the interest of safety.

Human life and happiness are too precious to be thrown away by carelessness at crossings. Humanity, duty and self-interest unite in opposition to such fatal gambling. Be certain and be safe!

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

The bride's queenly beauty was enhanced by a chiffon gown in pastel colors, with accessories to match. The bridesmaid wore a gown of light coral organdy, also with accessories to match.

Immediately after congratulations had been showered upon the happy couple, a delicious threecourse wedding breakfast was served.
