OKAW IS AGAIN

MADE FISH PRESERVE
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 1.—On the petition of the Illinois Sportsmen's League, the Kaskaskia (Okaw) river and its tributaries have been designated as fish preserve by the state director of conservation, Ralph F. Bradford.

Under the terms of Director Bradford's proclamation, only pole and line fishing will be permitted in the river. Game wardens have been instructed to warn net fishermen that the river and its branches have been closed to them.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON

AT GAUGER HOME
Mrs. John Gauger and Cora Gauger Saturday entertained sixty guests at bridge luncheon at the home of the former.

The out of town guests were Mrs. Kivelan of Chicago, Mrs. Juliet of Lincoln, Mrs. Bell of Terre Haute, Mrs. Rickman of St. Louis, Mrs. Shumacher of Kansas City, Mrs. Fox and Mrs. Tollman of Decatur, Mrs. Firebaugh, Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Garvin of Windsor, Miss Krug of Rockford and Mrs. Cook of Shelbyville.

MRS. GLENN WRIGHT

IN ST. MARY'S HOSPITAL
Mrs. Glenn Wright was taken to St. Mary's hospital in Decatur Friday evening where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. Latest reports say that she is recovering rapidly from her illness. She is Helen, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Newbould.

—BOYS SPORT HOSE, ALL COLORS AND SIZES, AN EXTRA-SPECIAL BUY AT 39c PER PAIR AT THE COY'S CENTRAL SHOE STORE.

NEWBOLD-BARTLEY AND BARTLEY-ASKINS WEDDINGS SATURDAY

Mrs. Ethel Newbould and Harley Bartley of this city were united in marriage Saturday night at the M.E. Parsonage in Tuscola. They were one couple in a double ceremony, the other couple being Mr. Bartley's daughter Miss Ruby Bartley of Mattoon and Harold Askins of that city.

Mrs. Bartley is the widow of the late Sam Newbould and has been engaged in business as manager for a cream buying station in Sullivan for several years. Mr. Bartley is a former Windsor resident who has lived here several years and is now employed at the shoe factory.

Mrs. Askins is a graduate of the Windsor High school and later took a course in nurses training in the Memorial hospital in Mattoon, graduating last Spring. Mr. Askins is an employ of the Parrish Dry cleaners in Mattoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartley will reside in Sullivan.

Mr. and Mrs. Askins will reside in Mattoon.

ASSUMPTION LOSES TO SULLIVAN IN SEASON'S FIRST GAME

Sullivan Township High School's football eleven started the season off auspiciously Saturday when it went to Assumption and inflicted a 13 to 0 defeat on the team of that place.

Sullivan showed speed in taking advantage of holes in the opposition line. Freeman, Sullivan half-back scored both touchdowns. The first came on a 12 yard end run in the second quarter and the second on a short line plunge in the third period. Hoskins drop-kicked for the extra point.

This victory in the first real test is rather encouraging and Sullivan feels that its school will give a good account of itself in its gridiron contests this fall.

The first home game the team will have will be with Villa Grove on October 10th. This will be the Home-Coming game.

The score of Saturday's game was as follows:

Sullivan (13)	Assumption (0)
Grote, le	re, Stewart
L. French, lt	rt, Small
Shirey, lg	rg, Storey
T. French, c	c, Johnson
Brumfield, rg	lg, Zucco
W. Ashbrook, rt	lt, Clark
McLaughlin, re	le, Tolley
Dunscomb, qb	qb, Branion
McDavid, lb	rh, Burgener
Freeman, rh	lh, Snow
Hoskins, fb	fb, Donovan
Sullivan	0 6 7 0—13
Assumption	0 0 0 0—0
Referee—Schultz (Illinois)

This Friday the local eleven will play Lovington at that place. The game had been scheduled for Saturday, but that is Boy Scout day at the U. of I. and many of the Lovington boys expect to attend. Arcola last Saturday defeated Lovington 33 to 0. On Friday Hammond held Bethany deadlocked 6-6.

FOOTBALL SEASON TICKETS NOW ON SALE

Football season tickets were placed on sale at the high school this week. Not in a long time has such a bargain ticket been offered not only to the student body but to the general public. Adult season tickets are being offered at the price of a dollar and twenty-five cents, while any student of the school has the privilege of purchasing one of the tickets for fifty cents. These tickets are good for all home games of the season, including the Homecoming battle with Villa Grove. Advance sales have been good and indicate a desire on the part of the public to take advantage of this bargain offer. Buy a season ticket early and save money.

SULLIVAN COMMUNITY HOUSEHOLD SCIENCE CLUB

The S. C. H. S. club will meet Tuesday, October 7th at 2 o'clock with Mrs. Anna McKenzie, Mrs. Fannie Patterson, Mrs. McCune and Mrs. Hazel Yarnell as hostesses. The leader of the program is: Mrs. Maude Garrett. The subject of the meeting is "Stretching the Dollar." The program:

Piano Solo—Mrs. Merle Martin.

Paper, "What our Parents Did Not Have to Buy"—Mrs. Elizabeth Ryan.

Song—Trio.
Talk, "How I Stretch a Dollar"—Mrs. Maude Garrett.
Roll Call—"How I Save in Buying."

HIGH SCHOOL BUSY WITH ARRANGEMENTS FOR HOME-COMING

The Committee composed of Miss Ruth Emel, Alumni Chairman, William McKown, student manager, and Prof. G. M. Kilby, ticket manager has forwarded invitations to all individuals, schools and organizations of the community to join in the annual high school homecoming, Friday, Oct. 10th.

The events of the day are sufficiently varied to suit the fancies of the most discriminating.

At 11 a. m. the Pep meeting in the High School Assembly opens the celebration. This will be followed by the terrapin marathon on the high school campus at 11:30.

The Big Parade will start from the H. S. Campus at 1:30 p. m. followed by the football game, Villa Grove vs. Sullivan at Victory field. The Community supper at 5:30 to 7:30 and "Sonny-Jane" the All-School play at 8:00 p. m.

It is rumored that the Stadium Organization will be revived and set to work upon its objective, during a prearranged evening session of the committee.

The committees from the P. T. A., Friends in Council and Home Economics club met Wednesday to plan the menu and organize for soliciting and gathering up food by High School girls of the Home Economics department. It is the hope of these committees that the patrons will respond to solicitation as generously and congenially as they have done in previous years.

The Homecoming committee desires to thank the merchants in their response to decorate windows and displays in Home coming colors. Sullivan—Red and Black. Villa Grove—Old gold and Navy blue.

COMMUNITY CLUB TO MEET MONDAY, OCT. 13

The first meeting in many months of the Sullivan Community Club will be held Monday night, October 13th. Plans are under way for a big meeting and an out of town speaker to discuss the proposed "Tax" amendment to the state constitution which will be voted on at the fall election.

MOTHER IS ILL

Clyde Cusick, Moultrie county Farm Bureau insurance man left Wednesday for Allendale, in Wash county, where he was called to the bedside of his mother who is seriously ill with the flu. He expects to spend the rest of the week with home folks.

MORGAN MEN ROASTED

The men of the Morgan Community club south of this city entertained their wives and families at a wienie roast Tuesday night at the O. C. Weger home.

JIM DEDMAN QUILTS OIL BUSINESS; TO ENGAGE IN FARMING

Jim Dedman who for a number of years has been local manager for the Standard Oil Company has resigned and Lynn Ledbetter is looking after the job.

Mr. Dedman does not know just what he will do in the immediate future, although he has definitely decided to engage in farming next spring. He has rented the Bean farm northeast of this city where the Walter Bean family now lives.

JOHN MURPHY AND CHARLESTON TEACHER WED LAST WEEK

John Murphy who lives near Windsor and Miss Mary Pendergast of Charleston were united in marriage in Charleston, Wednesday of last week.

The Murphy and Pendergast families have long been friends. The grandparents of the bride and groom emigrated to this country from Ireland in the same party.

A friendship since childhood ripened into love and the marriage was the result.

The bride is a teacher by profession and is now engaged as an instructor in the Teachers Printing Trades College at Cincinnati. Prior to going to Cincinnati she taught at Joliet, Urbana and Little Rock, Arkansas. After the ceremony she returned to Cincinnati where she will continue teaching until January 1st.

The groom is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy who resided north of this city. For a number of years he has been farming on the Murphy farm northwest of Windsor and since the death of his mother he has been "batching." He is well and favorably known in this community.

After January 1st Mr. and Mrs. Murphy will go to housekeeping on the bride's farm north of Charleston. This is a well improved place, with modern buildings and is located only a short distance off a paved road.

The Progress joins with the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Murphy in wishing them a long, prosperous and happy married life.

GUESTS FROM ITALY AT THE SENTEL HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Civita and son Vittorio of Milan, Italy, who have been visiting with friends in New York the past three weeks will arrive Saturday for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Sentel and Mrs. Louise Titus. Mrs. Civita is a daughter of the teacher of Mrs. Sentel, who studied voice in Italy several years ago.

The W. F. M. S. of the M. E. church will meet at the parsonage Wednesday, October 8th. Mrs. E. O. Dunscomb's division will be in charge.

KIWANIS ENTERTAIN TEACHERS OF HIGH AND GRADE SCHOOLS

The Sullivan Kiwanis club this week entertained the ladies of the club members and the teachers of the high and grade schools, their husbands and wives.

The meeting was held in the Masonic Dining room Thursday night and the banquet was served by the ladies of the Presbyterian church.

The speaker of the evening was Mrs. Cora Ryman of Decatur, county superintendent of schools of Macon county. Her subject was "The relation of the community to the schools."

GAYS BALL TEAM WHIPPED THE DECATUR (COLORED) WHITE SWANS

Gays did Sunday what Ot Kinsel's Bruce Sluggers had failed to do a week previous. The Gays aggregation of ball players, supplemented by the best that Sullivan and Mattoon has to offer, whipped the gentlemen of color to the tune of 13 to 12. The crowd was even bigger than the one that saw the Bruce contest.

At Bruce Sunday morning the Sullivan boys defeated the Sluggers 19 to 17.

It is rumored that Ot Kinsel is trying to get the St. Louis Cardinals to play a series with his Sluggers after they win the world series. It is doubtful whether or not the St. Louis boys will run the risk of getting defeated by a small town team.

Colored Team Sunday

Decatur has two good colored baseball teams. Manager Ot Kinsel of the Bruce Sluggers has booked the Decatur Colored Boys team for a game next Sunday. These boys are said to be as good as the White Swans who recently beat Bruce. The game starts promptly at 2 o'clock and the price of admission for men is only 25c. Ladies are free.

MRS. McCORMICK TO VISIT HERE MONDAY

Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican candidate for United States Senator, will appear in this city in the interest of her campaign Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The meeting will be in the Grand theatre and, of course, everybody is invited to attend.

HEAT OCTOBER 1ST

Janitor Yeakel started the court house heating system Wednesday morning, October 1st. From here on the court house tenants will complain about too much or too little heat. Such, however, is the life of a janitor.

REBEKAH OFFICIALS

The Rebekah officers of the 19th district organization will meet with the local lodge at the I. O. O. F. hall Friday night, October 10th at 7:30 o'clock.

FOUR MEN JOIN KIWANIS CLUB; MERRELL SPEAKS

The Sullivan Kiwanis club at its noonday luncheon Friday at the National Inn welcomed four new members into fellowship. These are the first members who have joined since the club was granted its charter in 1928. They are Dr. Donald M. Butler, Rev. Leland L. Lawrence, Rev. Archie E. Turner and Albert Walker. President McLaughlin announced that two more new members would be introduced at an early date.

The speaker of the day was Rev. M. W. Merrell of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society. He told of the good work that the Society is doing in caring for Illinois children from broken homes. The aim of the Society is to place such children in other home-like environments as soon as is possible. He told of cases handled for Moultrie county.

A. E. McCorvie, one of the local delegates to the Springfield convention made a report of the activities of that convention. Allen Hawley who attended on the last day of the convention supplemented Mr. McCorvie's report.

MEN FROM SEVENTEEN CHURCHES MET ON MONDAY IN ARTHUR

The Men's S. S. Association of the Christian churches of this part of the state held their first meeting of the fall season Monday night at Arthur. One hundred and thirty-one men attended.

The number from the various churches was as follows: Arthur, 29, Bethany 3, Dalton City 2, Lovington 17, Union Prairie 1, Sullivan 19, Shelbyville 9; Windsor 4, Smyser 6, Tuscola 4, Jonathan Creek 2, Chicago 1, Champaign 1, Carlinville 1, 7th Street church Decatur 8, First Church, Decatur 9, Central Church, Decatur 13.

It was decided that the Association secure an attendance banner to be given to the church having the largest attendance at a meeting, the banner to remain the property of that church for a month, or until some other church wins it.

It was also decided to resume the 5-minute discussion of Sunday school lessons for the month following the meeting. For the October meeting President Walker of the Association assigned these lessons as follows:

- 1st Sunday—Arthur class.
- 2nd Sunday—Bethany Class.
- 3rd Sunday—Lovington class.
- 4th Sunday—Windsor class.

The teacher of each class is to select the speaker for the 5 minute lesson discourse.

Rev. Ward of Shelbyville announced that the young people of his church will have a banquet on Friday night, October 10th and invited the young people of other churches to make reservations and attend.

Upon invitation extended by Herschel Reedy, the October meeting of the Association will be held in Bethany.

Following the business meeting the Arthur class presented an excellent program of musical numbers. Rev. Orahoad of Tuscola was the speaker of the evening.

At the conclusion of the program all adjourned to the basement where refreshments were served by the ladies of the Arthur church.

PLANNING SULLIVAN'S HALLOWE'EN FESTIVAL

For a number of years Sullivan has had very successful Halloween celebrations and plans are now under way for the biggest and best ever.

The following have been appointed on the committee that is to solicit funds: Arlo Chapin, J. F. Gibbon, Ivan Wood, Raymond Getz, Gerald Elder, A. K. Palmer, Homer Hawkins, F. W. Wood, J. L. David, J. R. Pifer, George L. Todd, Francis Purvis, Levi Dickerson, Purvis Tabor, George Roney and Ed Brandenburg.

MARRIED BY BARNETT

Wayne Brightman and Miss Edna Green, both of Lovington were united in marriage Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock by Rev. C. E. Barnett at the Christian church parsonage. The couple will live on a farm near Lovington.

$225 PER ACRE

The farm of John W. Craig, on the county line south of Arthur has been sold to Jonas L. Mast, an Amishman at $225 per acre. This farm is of exceptionally good quality land.

Twelve Indicted by Grand Jury; Eight Divorces Granted

Busy Day in Circuit Court Friday.
Five of Those Indicted Are Accused of Stealing Chickens. Two "not true" bills.

Twelve men were indicted and "not true" bills were returned in two other cases by the grand jury when it made its report to Judge Wamsley in the circuit court here Friday.

Those indicted are all out on bond, or are in custody.

Fred Codgal, Carl Blue and George Harchous, all of this city were indicted for burglary and larceny, growing out of the theft of some chickens in Whitley township. The three are out on bonds of $1000 each.

Grant Riggs, Decatur printer, who forged a check and passed it here was indicted for forgery, bond $1000. He is now in some penal institution, where he was taken for breaking his parole.

Benjamin Tuttle was indicted for burglary and larceny, bond $2500 and was again jointly indicted with Homer Tuttle, same bond. The two men who are in jail in Decatur are charged with burglarizing the Morrison store in Dalton City.

Robert Neeves and Jim Farlow were jointly indicted on a grand larceny charge, growing out of a burglary at the L. T. Hagerman & Co., store.

Robert Neeves was also indicted on an assault to murder charge, growing out of his pointing a gun at Deputy Sheriff Halac Lansden when he went to arrest him following a disturbance. Both Neeves and Farlow are at liberty on bonds.

Boyd Chase and Bayless Horn, two Windsor youths who have been in jail here several months for stealing chickens were indicted on a burglary and larceny charge.

Robert Neeves was indicted on an assault to injure charge. This case was certified to the county court. The same action was taken relative to the indictment of R. E. Beavers for drawing a check to defraud. Beavers was taken before Judge Grider Saturday and fined $15 and costs and remanded to jail until this is paid.

A "not true" bill was returned against John Beiler for disturbing the peace and against Ben Nichols and Raymond Robinson, who were arrested on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Other Cases

The case of Dale Booker against Everett and Joe Fitzjarrold of Arthur growing out of an auto accident was reported settled and dismissed at complainants cost.

The report of the Master in Chancery in the case of Martha L. Tolley vs. Jim Cummins' New Douglas County Mutual Insurance Ass'n. was approved and a decree entered as prayed for.

The Missouri State Life Insurance Company's foreclosure case against Claude J. Whitfield and others was reported settled and the suit was dismissed. The Whitfields gave a deed to the insurance company.

Divorce Actions

Alice Courtwright was granted a divorce from Velva Courtwright and given custody of the couple's children.

Cecil McCullar was granted a decree "pro confesso" in her suit against William McCullar.

Similar action was taken in the divorce suit of J. Roy Bolin vs. his wife Cecil Bolin.

Jennie Woolen got her decree of divorce from Wallace Woolen. She gets the children and the question of alimony is left open to future consideration.

Beatrice Booher was divorced from Thad S. Booher and he was ordered to pay her $100 within 30 days. She also gets custody of the couple's child.

A "pro confesso" decree was entered in the divorce action of Maude Martin vs. Guy Martin. This is the action usually taken by the judge where the defendant defaults. Later court action makes the decree absolute.

A similar court order was entered in the Lois Wild vs. Arthur Wild divorce suit.

Samuel E. Creech was granted a divorce from his wife Emma B. Creech.

The next day of court will be October 15th.

Editorial

And God said, let us make man in our image, after our likeness; and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth.

So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created He him; and male and female created He them.

And God saw everything that He had made, and behold, it was very good.—Genesis 1:26-31.

I once knew a man who would figure and plan

The deeds he intended to do;
But when the time came to get into the game
He never put anything through.

He would dream with a smile of the after-awhile,
And the deeds he would do pretty soon;
He was all right at heart, but he never would start,
He never could get quite in tune.

If he would have done half the things he'd begun,
He'd be listed among those of fame,
But he didn't produce, so he was of no use—
Good intentions do not win the game.

It is easy to dream and to plan and to scheme,
And let them drop out of sight;
But the men that put through what their dreams bring to view
Are the men who win out in the fight.

—Edgar L. Jones

THE MORON MENACE THE COOLIDGE PANIC SENATOR NYE'S COMMITTEE SPEAKS

This nation is much concerned with immigration. We seek to admit none but the best class of citizens to this country.

Right here in this country, however, people of inferior mentality, morons and imbeciles, if you please, are permitted to marry and in great numbers reproduce their kind.

This is a problem not often discussed in your family newspapers. Medical and scientific journals discuss it, but it is never brought home to the average reader.

What is our pauper problem? What is our crime problem?

To a very great extent it is taking care of the children of feeble-minded, of the criminally inclined, of morons and those unfit by every standard to be parents of normal human beings.

Anything said in this article does not in any way apply to large families of the better type of citizens, people who can raise their children intelligently and make of them that kind of Americans that this nation needs. In many families there are today but one or two children.

There are, however, in every community, throughout this country, families with many children, born to parents who are not healthy, mentally, morally or physically. Morons and imbeciles meet and wed. Children come regularly. The brood increases rapidly. The parents cannot care properly for the children. The tax-payers, through pauper relief, must come to the rescue.

Children brought forth by parents of this type have no chance in life. Men and women, mentally unbalanced, physical weaklings, perhaps themselves the children of like parents, are permitted to bring into being their progeny which will live in misery and squalor and want.

We have cases like that here in Sullivan. You find them in every community. Boys of that kind of parentage become potential criminals. They haven't the right mental balance and usually, despite anything that the charitably inclined may do for them, they find their way into the reformatories and later into the penitentiaries. Girls, sired by that class of parentage, walk the streets in shame and become the prey of other morons and spread diseases and depravity through their loose living.

This class of people is on the increase. There is no birth-control in a moron's family life. The percentage of children from such homes bulks large in the average small city's offspring and how much worse it must be in the crowded city tenements!

State institutions are filled to overflowing with these human derelicts, this flotsam and jetsam that does not fit in with the present-day ideals of civilization. The crop of children of the mentally incompetent is on the increase. More jails and poorhouses are needed. To care for this deplorable condition, taxes increase and the heavy burden of caring for these people is yearly larger and larger.

Will the mentally incompetent eventually inherit the earth? Through their very numbers they may be able to gain control of world affairs and the race will deteriorate. Who, giving this matter any investigation at all, but must feel alarmed at this situation?

What is the answer? We do not profess to know.

Medical science may step forth with a solution; why not?

That the problem exists none can well deny. That it is being ignored by those who should lead in seeking a solution, is all too apparent.

Perhaps you do not like to have your attention called to this menace. Ignoring an evil never cures it or removes it.

Ever since we have taken an interest in politics, there has never been a campaign but what our Republican friends have resurrected and thrown into the face of us Democrats, the low prices prevailing during one of the Cleveland administrations.

In answer to arguments why Democrats should be elected to office, they would tell of the price of hogs and of grain while Cleveland was president.

To be real candid about the matter Grover Cleveland had simply inherited the results of many years of misrule of his Republican predecessors. They reached their fruition during his administration, the same as the Coolidge-Harding policies have ripened into panic and depression during the administration of President Hoover.

So we Democrats, calling a spade a spade, speak of the present conditions as a Hoover panic. We speak of the unemployment, low grain prices, etc., as results of Hoover misadministration of public affairs.

Our Republican friends do not like that. They disclaim all responsibility for present day conditions. Were conditions reversed and did prosperity instead of panic prevail, they would claim credit to themselves and shout from the house-tops the glories of Republican rule.

Up in Iowa Jacob Dickinson, who is seeking a senate seat told the voters the other day that Democrats were entirely to blame for present-day conditions. He went on to explain that the Democrats were talking panic so much that the country was becoming saturated and obsessed of the panic idea. He further moaned that the Democrats were out to "rule or ruin" this nation.

Now all of this is mere poppy-cock. The Republicans control most of the big newspapers. Here and there some small town weekly like the Progress is keeping the banner of Democracy floating on the breeze. The big G. O. P. organs, aided and abetted by the syndicate press agents of the Republican party, such as Mark Sullivan and his ilk, have been denying the panic and bolstering up the administration in power. This has been done on editorial pages while on the front pages of the same papers there were stories of stock market crashes, further drops in the price of grain and closed banks.

We Democrats are not jubilant at conditions as they are. They have hit us just as hard as the Republican brethren. A panic and business depression makes all men kin. We deplore the conditions as they exist. We call attention to them only in an effort to awaken people to the need that some drastic measures in governmental policy are needed to effect a remedy.

We do consider it our right and our privilege to call attention to the fact that the conditions as they now are have followed a ten year rule of the Republican party, during which time that party has been in complete control of the government.

We do consider it our right to repay to the Republican brethren the "Cleveland" arguments, with compound interest.

We do know that the Republican farmers are disgusted. We do know that the laborer out of work is dissatisfied. We know that the bankers, who have lost their banks and their employment are not very friendly to conditions as they exist. They have lost their love for their political idols and they are seeking new ideals.

The explanations that the Republican bosses have handed out do not explain. They are mere alibis, as for instance the Russian wheat scare, etc. There is something radically wrong. President Hoover had the opportunity to break away from the policies of his predecessors in office. He failed to do so. Consequently he is as deserving of blame as are Coolidge and the late lamented Warren Gamaliel Harding.

Is it time for a change?

The most interesting personage in Illinois right now from a democratic editorial standpoint is Ruth Hanna McCormick. Kindly excuse our referring to this lady so often in these columns.

Mrs. McCormick has charged all sorts of crimes and misdemeanors against Senator Nye and his Senatorial committee which was sent to Illinois to investigate her large expenditures in the April primary.

Among other things she says that they tapped her telephone wires, broke into her office and stole some of her correspondence and in other ways acted unbecomingly United States senators. Two of the leading members of this committee are Senator Nye and Senator Dale, both good Republicans.

They have finally grown tired of the abuse that has been heaped upon them and in a statement signed by four members of the committee, they seek to set themselves aright before a world in which Mrs. McCormick has taken pains to publish and broadcast her accusations.

The committee statement follows:

"Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick continues to make false and libelous charges that members of the Senate investigating committee put detectives at work to break into her private premises, to ransack her personal correspondence, to pilfer her files and records, and to tap her telephone wires.

"Newspapers have been induced by Mrs. McCormick's well organized publicity to misrepresent the activities of the committee, digest the news of its proceedings and to repeatedly print false statements from the tongue and pen of Mrs. McCormick in apparent disregard of libel laws. This has been carried to such a point that there are publishers today who seem never to have seen denials of these charges issued to the press in times past.

"We have said and we repeat that these charges are totally and utterly false. No member of this committee whose name is affixed hereto has been in any way responsible for such acts as have been committed. We have not at any time spied upon Mrs. McCormick. We have not tapped her wires. We have not read her correspondence either private or official. We did not rifle her files at Byron or elsewhere nor have we or any one of us or any agent for the committee directed, approved or had knowledge of any such acts.

"We dislike honoring these charges by repeating our denials but Mrs. McCormick has the effrontery to continue to make statements which are not only false in fact but which she herself must know to be false. The newspapers which have been induced to print Mrs. McCormick's libels are now expressly notified that any future repetition of them will be regarded as wilful and malicious libel for the publication of which they have no justification but must assume individual responsibility and this notification is given without waiving any right of the committee or any individual member of it or any employee of it to bring action for what has already been said and published of a libelous or slanderous nature."

Main Street Looks at Broadway

By Ernest Camp Jr.

Among the Boys Back Home the idea prevails that every gay in New York is a Broadway Playboy.

At fall of night he is supposed to make a bee-line for the Great White Way. From then until the foggy hours he skips high, wide, and tipsy thru leg shows, night clubs, speakeasies. A very devil of a fellow—

Result: when Gus and Steve descend upon New York for a combined business and pleasure trip (you know the combined business and pleasure trips?), they are primed for a terrific pace.

Here is what happens (it happened to me recently, as it had a dozen times before):

Two skylarking friends from the South breeze into town, after motoring 800 miles in two days, and not a whit worn by the journey announce that they are here to "do" New York.

They climb the Statue of Liberty and see Manhattan briefly during the afternoon. When night arrives they must see the speakeasies.

I show them several, where I gargle a stein of beer while they tank to the tonsils on gin and scotch and rye. After that, weakening, I propose that we go home—and to bed.

But no. They have set their hearts upon visiting Hoboken saloons. So we drink our way up and down the New Jersey water front. (I, as is my habit, drank nothing stronger than raspberry soda of which I am excessively fond—)

At this point my festive friends, ignoring my sleepy protests—take it into their heads to prowl down to a steamship pier. Here they are disuaded, with great difficulty, from jumping into the harbor to swim after a departing ocean liner.

By this time our New Yorker is groggy on the ropes. He finds it increasingly difficult to dodge the fire plugs. And lamp posts have a way of revolving—most disconcertingly.

So finally, we return to Manhattan. The other merry-makers are as fresh and dapper as you please. In the chill grey dawn I proceed to take leave of them.

That was Saturday morning. "Well," I yawn, "I'm glad to see you boys. I hope you'll go to your hotel now and sleep all day tomorrow."

"Not on your life," they brightly reply. "We're just before leaving for home. Gotta be at work at 8 o'clock Monday morning. G'bye. And they talk about gay New York!"

This is being written in my new pea-green apartment into which I moved this afternoon. You might blame this week's column on the color scheme. Or something—

We have one of the new pill-box apartments with circulating rent bills, disappearing maid service, and hot and cold mortgages. You can't beat that.

You should have seen me moving in this afternoon. With a piano in one hand and a floor lamp in the other, rounding the corner with coat-tails flying—A picture really.

That was a dirty look I got from the neighbors when they saw this typewriter coming in. Funny how the typewriter keeps them awake, but what I write puts them all to sleep—Somebody ought to invent a talkie typewriter.

In case you're just dying to know, there's a Dog and Cat beauty Parlor on 50th street.

Overheard on the Morning After (in the next apartment): Mother: "Oh, dear, I'm sorry—too late now to go to church."

Seven year old Ethel: "Church? Ha, Ha! You'd look funny in church—drunk!"

News item: "Six husbands were jailed yesterday on charges of using respectively, but forcefully, a crowbar, a branding iron, a razor blade, a dinner plate, a straight razor, and a carving knife on their respective wives over the week end."

Goodness, but you husbands do play rough!

Sign on cleaning establishment: "Let Us Smarten Up Your Clothes."

That's it. What I need is a general smartening up, topped off by robin's egg blue necktie.

Ten Years Ago In Sullivan

(From Progress Files)

Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Drew had gone to Slater, Mo., to attend the funeral of his father, James Wilson Drew.

Gertrude Millizen and John Taylor were married Sept. 30th.

Henry Sona and Theo Fields were married Sept. 27th.

Circuit court was in session with Judge Sentel presiding.

At the Child Welfare booth at the Livestock show, Francis Daum was awarded first prize and June Luke second.

The Lovington coal mine was doing a big business selling to the wagon trade. Wagons were in line all night awaiting their turn to get loaded.

—R. B. Denton the Progress foreman was on vacation and Newton D. Conn was filling the vacancy.

Herbert Moore bought out the interest of his partner Les Atchison in the tire and battery business. Les planned to go to Mattoon.

Cold winter weather had arrived.

Ferne Goodwin had a party in honor of her 8th birthday anniversary.

"Leave me at once" said the aged Maiden Lady when she awoke up and found a burglar in her bedroom.

"Calm yourself, my dear lady, I had no intention of taking you!"

The Prof: "Your son was not in school today. Can you tell me why?"

The Mother: "Well you see Jimmy is 14 and me and pa decided he had schoolin' enough."

The Prof: "Nonsense woman, why I never finished my education until I was past 21."

The mother: "Well that may be, but then you see our Jimmy's got brains."

In Chicago Court—Judge "Prisoner at the bar, you are accused of having shot and killed your brother. Do you plead guilty?"

The prisoner: "I do not, your honor. A great mistake has been made. The fellow I killed was not my brother. In fact I hardly knew him."

The Judge:—"You're discharged. Officer, please be careful to get your facts straight next time."

"I'm hungry, bring me something to eat" said the patient.

The nurse brought him a spoonful of tapioca. He ate it.

"Now I feel like reading" said he "bring me a postage stamp."

Wife—"Golf, golf, golf: if you would stay home one Sunday afternoon I think I should die."

Hubby—"No use dearie, you can't bribe me."

Broker: I put a friend of mine on his feet three times in the last three years.

Jones: That's nothing! I put a friend of mine on his feet 14 times last night.

Kitty: "Jack says he can read me like a book."

Phyllis: "You musn't take Jack too literally, dear. He probably means that you are a very plain type."

Wahrheit und Dumheit

"Father" said the Irishman, as he addressed his priest, "I know what is the meaning of Pentecost Monday of Ash Wednesday and of Good Friday, but will you please tell me, what the heck is the meaning of Nut Sundae."

When you're not sure you're right, the chances are you're wrong.

CAN'T BE NATURAL
Hostess: "Why Mr. Goof that piece you played was delightful. Where did you get your wonderful musical gift?"

Mr. Good: "Well, my dear lady, you know I was born in A Flat."

Lee R. at barber shop: "I do want to go to Arkansas but somehow I can't get started. What would you fellows do if you were in my shoes?"

Monte Blue: "Why I'd get them shined."

The Judge: "Mr. McKenzie the allegation says that you parked your car wrong on the square. What have you to say?"

Mr. McK: "Well by gollied Judge, all I have to say is that the allegation is wrong and the allegation made a mistake."

"How did Rockefeller make all his money?"

"Heaven knows!"

"In that case, it's no wonder the old man is trying to live forever."

Sullivan dad: When he got his college son's expense account: "Tuxedo $75. Dearn that kid. That's too much money for tobacco. He'll have to smoke Bull Durham from here on."

Did you ever stop to think—everybody drives a used car.

Bill Gardner: (playing golf) "Say Doc Johnson, I ain't been feeling so well, you won't charge me anything if I ask you a few questions will you?"

Dr. Johnson: "Not one cent Bill, not one cent. Just go ahead and ask. The answer, however, will cost you $5.00."

The seven largest cities in the world rank as follows: London, 7,742,212; New York, 6,017,500; Berlin 4,013,588; Chicago 3,157,400; Paris 2,238,416; Osaka, Japan 2,233,800; Tokio, Japan 2,218,400.

Folks who take their religion in such a luke-warm way here on earth, may have trouble standing the heat in the hereafter.

Choir Director: "Young fellow, are you the man with the falsetto voice?"

Gerald E. "Who me? No sir. I only got a false set o' teeth."

Some folks are wise. Others simply keep their mouths shut and look that way.

The purpose of law is two-fold. It serves to protect society. It's loopholes and delays serve to keep the crooks at liberty. The practice of law covers these two fields—to protect society, or to protect the crooks. The latter activity is the best paid of the profession.

A young professional man emerged from behind his disguise this week. He gave up the attempt to raise a mustache.

An old friend of ours (of the male sex) told us this week that he is glad the short-skirted, bare-legged season for the girls is about over. He is having trouble with one of his eyes. Thinks it needs a rest.

The new public drinking fountains could never classify as a work of art, but they'll answer a useful purpose just as well. And after all, it is perhaps better to be practical and useful than to be artistic.

Clyde O. Patterson says that "better pastures did not cut down the price of butterfat. The buyers have gotten their heads together to fix prices. Lack of competition is what affects prices more than greener pastures and bigger supply." At that Clyde may be right. He's a student of economic conditions.

The best joke that has reached our desk this week comes from Louis Warner of Chenoa, Illinois. Louis is a candidate for United States Senator from the great state of Illinois. Louis wants his platform of principles brought to the attention of the voters. He has no money, so he says. He makes this proposition to the newspapers: "Print my platform and if I'm elected I'll pay you $25 for the service." We're not printing it, but if we were a betting man we'd wager 5000 to 1 that he won't be elected. Consequently you'll not read Louie's platform in The Progress.

VIC McLAGLEN'S LIFE STORY READS LIKE MOVIE THRILLER

Victor McLaglen's life story is even more romantic and thrilling and, at the same time, more colorful than any fiction character he has played in pictures. The hero of "On the Level," Fox Movietone all talking comedy drama, which opens at the Grand Theatre for two days starting Sunday, October 5th, was born in London.

A six footer at 14, weighing close to 200 pounds, he ran away from home to enlist in the Boer War. After three years of fighting, he went to Canada, later joining the gold rush to the Cobalt silver mines, where he became the camp's champion boxer and wrestler.

When the town burned, he returned to Canada and, piloted by "Biddy" Bishop, won the heavy-weight championship of Eastern Canada. The high spot of his ring career was reached when he fought Champion Jack Johnson a six-round draw in Vancouver, B. C. McLaglen also toured Canada and the United States with a carnival company, meeting all comers, after which he made a vaudeville tour.

When this tour ended, he went to Australia and arrived just in time to join the Kalgoorlie gold rush, almost dying of thirst on the desert. Then he toured Ceylon, India and Africa. Arriving in Capetown, he learned of the World War. Hastening home to England, he enlisted with four of his seven brothers.

At the end of the war, McLaglen returned to London where a motion picture producer induced him to embark on his present career. He played his first role in "The Call of the Road" and followed this by portraying the leading male role in the "Glorious Adventure" opposite Lady Diana Manners. J. Stuart Blackton in the United States, invited him to play the lead in "The Beloved Brute." It was a sensation. Fox Films then signed him to play the lead in "The Hunted Woman." His next role was in "Beau Geste." Then came his crowning achievement in "What Price Glory."

His recent pictures include such immense hits as "The Black Watch," "The Cock Eyed World" and "Hot For Paris." Lilyan Tashman and William Harrigan portray the other featured roles in "On the Level" directed by Irving Cummings.

—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Blackwell and Fred Blackwell of Arcola were guests Thursday of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Garrett.

—Miss Fern Garrett, a teacher in the Delavan schools spent the week end with home folks.

—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cummings moved part of their household goods to Greenup, Illinois this week. He is at present working in Mattoon. He was formerly connected with I. C. in this city.

—A son was born Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Booker. This is the sixth child in the family.

CITY OF SULLIVAN PROFITS WITH DIESELS

The City of Sullivan, Illinois has the reputation of having one of the best equipped electric light and power plants in central Illinois since its change from steam equipment June 13, 1927. In that year two Fairbanks-Morse Diesel engine generating sets of 180 and 240 hp. were installed to replace two old steam engines.

With the improvement in service which resulted from this change the load increased steadily until October 10, 1928, it was necessary to install yet an additional unit to take care of the increased demand. This last unit has a capacity of 360 hp. giving the station a total capacity of 780 hp. or 582 kw.

The division of the total station capacity in these three different sizes permits the operator to follow the load very closely at all times with from 75 per cent to full load on each unit in service. Operating in this manner the economy in fuel oil consumption is practically constant and always at a minimum. The 360 hp unit takes care of the usual peaks and also operates mornings on Mondays and Tuesdays as well as during the corn shelling season as they are two grain elevators in the community which considerably augment the peak when they are operating. Ordinarily the 240 hp. unit takes care of the afternoon load and the 360 hp goes on again in the evening. When the evening peak begins to drop off the 180 hp. unit is then put on the line to carry the night load.

Immediately the change from steam to Diesel engines was made the savings on fuel, labor and repairs amounted to something in the neighborhood of $750 a month which has proved sufficient to pay for the engines in a remarkably short time. For the fiscal year ending May 10, 1930, the gross receipts of the plant amount to $33,506.51 while the total paid out, including fuel and lubricating oil, labor, maintenance as well as payments on the engine amounted to $36,187.16 leaving a net surplus payable to the general fund of $2319.35. The fuel oil item for this period was $3900.48 and the lubricating oil $695.27 which, even with the vastly increased load is considerably less than the fuel costs for the years during which steam equipment was used.

The result has been that the city has been able to not only keep up their schedule on payment of the engines but has retired some of the certificates considerably in advance of their due date which has, of course, resulted in further savings by the elimination of interest charges.

The Light Department furnishes current for the street and alley lights to the extent of about $800 per month cheaper than they could be obtained from any other source. In addition the Department furnishes all the lights for the local park free of cost. The rates obtaining in Sullivan are comparable with those in any other town of similar size in the state and are as follows:

Domestic Light—
First 25 kw. 14 cents
All over 25 kw. 8 cents
Power—
First 100 kw. 8 cents
Next 300 kw. 7 cents
All over 300 kw. 5 cents
Heat—
First 50 kw. 5 cents
All over 50 kw. 4 cents

This plant is particularly neat in appearance and much credit is due the operating personnel for the excellent condition in which the plant has been maintained although it must be admitted that the job is now much easier than it formerly was when there was a lot of coal dust with which to contend.—F. LAD IN PEN DELIGHTS IN WRITING POETRY

Howard Wilkey, who is No. 9288 at the Southern Illinois penitentiary gets quite a kick out of writing religious poetry. In letters accompanying his poetical effusions he tells of having reformed and having resolved to get started on the right road when he gets his liberty.

His latest contribution is as follows:

THE TRIP TO HEAVEN
When the days are long and lonesome.
And you feel sad and blue
Remember that up in heaven
There's a mansion waiting for you
A crown is waiting for you
And a saviour's holy love
Yes, there will be sunshine
When we reach that home above.

When you get down at the station
Get the train that's heaven bound
Then you'll be happy and contented
When the conductor comes around

He won't ask for any ticket
For Jesus paid your fare.
He will stop right at the station
And place you in His care.

You will walk the streets of Heaven,
In a robe of spotless white
You will learn of his dear children
Of his love, his truth and light.

But to get down at the station,
You must do your level best
Then when you board that special train,
He alone will do the rest.

ALL SCHOOL PLAY

"SONNY-JANE" OCT. 10 The All-School play, "Sonny-Jane" will be supplemented by the following features:

Bill Heacock's "Harmony Five" Lewie David, Lloyd Brown, Ellis Ray, Bob Roney, and Bill Heacock all former students of the Sullivan Township High School are planning to be with us and delight the audience with their famous musical thrills.

A feature toe dance, "The Painted Doll" will be presented by Betty Foster.

Specialties in popular hot-shot will be furnished by "Gerd" Newbould and "Bill" Heacock.

Don't miss the All-School play. The play presents some wonders of the world.

Pansy Prosser (Cathryn Hughes) is the slowest hired girl in the world. Anyone who is dissatisfied with her hired girl, Pansy Prosser will force you to be proud of any girl who can hold her eyes open.

Joe Martin (John Pence), who is in love with Pansy can't help getting disgusted when Pansy falls asleep getting ready to go to the picture show with him. You certainly can't hold your face straight when Joe says "You make me ill."

Joe is also a prominent man in town. Don't miss the romance of the slowest hired girl in the world and the most prominent man in town.

Mrs. Spitzendorf (Beachy Hill) will amuse you looking for her fourth husband. She has a lot of nerve and Sam Streck (Bill McKown) receives the results of her insanity.

Lucille Brander (Helen Cummings), a young girl watching the good looking men come into the hotel finally succeeds in finding her man.

Sonny-Jane (Helen Gauger) in disguise puts over the largest and best newspaper in town. Her worst enemy Charles Mitchell (Francis Witts) falls in love with her and to make the story complete she falls in love with him.

Larry Randolph (Floyd Finley) spends all of his time falling in and out of love. His love interferes too much with business.

Freddie Beadle (Edmund Scheer) falls in love with Sonny Jane, but is sadly disappointed. Nancy Wade (Bernice Fultz) brings news to Sonny-Jane which complicates the story. Then Ruby Wade (Ruth Floyd) comes and makes matters worse for Sonny-Jane.

All of this excitement takes place in the hotel of Peggy Foster (Alberta Harsh).

Be sure to come and see how fate plays into Sonny-Jane's hand and what becomes of the rest of the characters.

VERN HAWBAKER AND WIFE IN AUTO WRECK

The auto in which Mr. and Mrs. Vern Hawbaker were crossing the Big Four tracks at Windsor Saturday morning was struck by a westbound freight and the occupants badly injured. Mrs. Hawbaker received several broken ribs, bruises, and cuts, especially in her face.

Mr. Hawbaker was also badly bruised and had several cuts on his body that necessitated surgical attention. The couple was taken to the home of his brother Everett Hawbaker in Windsor.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawbaker have been in the restaurant business in Sullivan and Windsor within recent months. They have sold their Windsor business and at the time of the accident were en route to Newton where they expect to make their home and engage in business.

TURTLE RACE BIG FEATURE AT STHS HOMECOMING

Who said that turtles couldn't run? You have heard that a turtle once outran a rabbit, haven't you? You may not have believed that story, but if you want to be convinced of their ability to run, come to the Sullivan Township High and see the race on Homecoming day.

Several turtles have been chased into a sack with the aid of salt, ropes, and dogs, and are being trained in competitive running under the supervision of competent overseers. They promise to give all witnesses a lot of kick and fun.

They make quite a spectacle in their tryouts. With first their indecision, then later their determination to be the first under the tape, they stick out their heads, feet and tails and make a run for the goal. With encouragement from the side lines, the smaller ones in the rear strive to get past those ahead, and those ahead endeavor to keep the lead they have gained. Some give up and some fall asleep on the way, but others show true racing blood. As yet, they don't know that they should run in a straight line. Some of the larger ones think it better to watch the others than to take part themselves. It may be they have a self-consciousness that must be overcome, an inferiority complex or a stage fright. However the trainers say they are good stock, and promise a race.

Students with turtles should see that they are carefully groomed and properly fed to get the best results. Speed rations have been determined and given with pleasing results. Those that the writer has seen look very promising, and he feels certain that people on the side-lines, when the race has been finished, will go away feeling

FORMER MOULTRIE RESIDENT DIED IN OKLAHOMA

Mrs. Stella Ellis of this city was in Gage, Oklahoma the latter part of last week attending the funeral services of her mother in law, Mrs. William A. Ellis. The Ellis family resided in Moultrie county many years before going to Oklahoma. Mrs. Ellis has made many visits here and formed new acquaintances and met old friends at the home of Mrs. Stella Ellis and her son Noble.

The following obituary notice appeared in last week's Woodward, Oklahoma newspapers:

Mary C. Goddard was born in Indiana in 1850. On May 6, 1886 she was married to Charles Miller. To this union were born three children, George, John and Charles who all died when quite young. On January 21, 1870 the husband also died.

July 4, 1873 she was again married to William A. Ellis and this home was blessed with 5 children, Edward, who died in 1905; Bertie (Mrs. Harley Brewer) of Arkansas City, Kansas; Dollie of Woodward, Okla.; Ollie of Oklahoma City and Grace (Mrs. Charles Killgore) of Branson, Colorado.

The family moved from Illinois in 1901 to Gage, Okla. In 1905 death again entered her home and claimed the husband.

For the last few years she has made her home with Mrs. Metta Ellis of Woodward and in whose home the death angel came on Sept. 24 and carried her spirit home.

Besides her children she leaves eight grandchildren: Juanita, Dick and Keith Killgore; Velma, Veldi and Ben Brewer; Areta Ellis and Noble E. Ellis.

She had been a Christian since her early girlhood and was a member of the Rebekah lodge in Gage, Okla. To know her was to love her and all that loving hands could do for her comfort was done.

Another of God's children has been called home.

COLORADO TO NEW YORK IN A 1911 MODEL FORD

George Ruggles and Ralph Woods of Fort Collins, Colorado came to this city Saturday and stopped off here for a visit until Monday noon with Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Womack. Mr. Ruggles has been working for Mr. Womack's son-in-law in Fort Collins and attending veterinary college at night. Both he and Mr. Woods are en route to Ithaca, New York where they will enter Cornell U. to complete their studies.

They are making the trip in a 1911 model Ford, which attracted a great deal of attention while in this city. It was of the touring type and their luggage and a water spaniel pup occupied the rear seat. The brass fixtures for which the early Fords were noted were all shined up and the kerosene lamps were in good working order. The boys had come as far as Sullivan, 1,000 miles without a puncture or any car trouble. Saturday they travelled 350 miles between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m.

E. C. EMPLOYEES ARE BIG CONSUMING UNIT

Employees of the Illinois Central System and their families spend in the neighborhood of $50,000,000 annually for food and other goods manufactured from farm products. So points out L. A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central System who uses that fact to illustrate, in his October letter to the public, how the railroads help every farmer.

The principal farm aids given by the railroads are summarized by President Downs as follows: The railroads carry farm products to market. They make large investments in special facilities to handle these products. They increase farm markets by employing directly and indirectly, millions of consumers. They engage directly in agricultural development work. They pay taxes which build highways and rural schools and lighten farm taxes.

"The farmer may well regard the railroads as his railroads. They serve him constantly and effectively," concludes President Downs.

LOVINGTON WOMAN WAS 93 ON SEPTEMBER 1ST

Aunt Ann Million, Lovington monogenerian, got her picture and a write-up in the Decatur Herald Sunday. The aged woman is 93 years of age and lives by herself. She has difficulty in getting around. Her husband who died 3 years ago was 93 years old at time of death.

Mrs. Million is the mother of 12 children, nine of whom are living. She has 24 grandchildren, 9 great grandchildren and 11 great great grandchildren.

Am I Fat?—Not Me

Yes! A year ago I had twenty-two more pounds of fat than I needed—I was fat—and very sensitive about it—but now I say it is foolish for anyone to be overweight.

What did I do? Nothing very hard, I can assure you—I cut out pies—candy and all sweets—ate moderately and every morning before breakfast I took one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water—Never missed a morning.

I lost fat—gained in energy—vigor—charm—and vivaciousness—and have a shapely figure. I am proud of—anyone can do the same.

PORK CHOPS MADE SIX WEEKS SOONER WITH MODERN PLAN

Urbana, Ill., Sept. 30—Modern methods of growing and fattening hogs, as demonstrated this past summer by 458 Illinois farmers, have taken more than six weeks off the time required to get pigs up to a marketable weight of 200 pounds each, according to E. T. Robbins, livestock extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. Farmers using the better methods can thus get their hogs on an earlier market which usually is higher and more profitable than those of later months, he explained.

The 458 farmers are those enrolled in the college's statewide extension project on balancing corn for hogs. As advocated in the project, the cooperators practiced swine sanitation and in addition fed their brood sows, pigs, and fattening hogs such combinations of corn and other grain with such a selection of legume pasture, rape pasture, alfalfa hay, skim-milk, soybeans, tankage, linseed oil meal, limestone, bone meal and salt as was calculated to give maximum profit under their individual conditions.

Many of the 458 farmers had fattened and sold their spring pigs by the middle of September. They reported that sanitation cut about six weeks off the time required to raise a pig to the 200-pound mark and that suitable feeding made a further reduction in the time required. It took them about six months or less to get an average weight of 200 pounds on their pigs when they followed the college's recommendations.

Some county tours which had been planned for September to show other farmers the merits of the plan could not be held because so many of the March and April pigs already had been sold. In Iroquois county, where a tour was held anyway, Mark Sweeney had sold his spring pigs, averaging 201 pounds at five and a half months of age, and Perry Parish has sold his averaging 176 pounds at five months of age. Last year when he followed the same plan, he made 18½ pounds of pork from each bushel of corn and the five pounds of protein feed given with it.

CHRISTIAN CHURCHES CLOSE STATE MEETING AT GALESBURG, ILL.

With a total registration of 455 out of the city delegates the Eightieth Illinois convention of Christian or Disciples of Christ church adjourned Thursday noon after three days session in Galesburg.

The Rev. Chas. R. Oakley of Chicago, in his opening president's address declared, in his discussion of "after Pentecost What?" that a new order, society, fellowship, brotherhood, church came into being, after Pentecost.

"As we study these facts, we are led to believe that some such experience of infilling of the Spirit of God must happen in the life of every believer today and that every believer must completely identify himself with Christ and His course before the church can duplicate the results that they obtained."

Marion Stevenson, of St. Louis, discussing "The Kingdom of Heaven" in a series of morning devotional studies took the position that the kingdom of heaven of the New Testament was an outgrowth of the kingdom idea of the Old, and that the ideal of the kingdom today should be that of the New.

The Rev. C. C. Carpenter, of Peoria, advocated a chain of churches instead of ONE great church for a city, if the church is to meet present day city conditions in city wide evangelism.

Discussion of the missionary, benevolent, and educational activities of the various national societies of the church was had under the direction of officers of the United Christian Missionary society of Indianapolis, the Illinois Christian Missionary society, and the Illinois Christian Woman's Missionary society. Resolutions enthusiastically adopted "urged such registration of profound and significant resentment and protest at the polls this fall as will wrest control of our Illinois political parties from the hand of gangsters."

The Rev. J. T. Shreve of Mt. Carmel was elected president of next year's convention which will be held in the First Christian church of Decatur.

INJURED BY FALL

Mrs. D. E. Freeland was pretty badly injured by a fall at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Bushart on Route 32, north of Windsor, Sunday morning. As she was walking about a pet dog ran against her, knocking her down. She fell in such a manner that her back struck the sharp edge of an iron complanter wheel, lying on the ground as a foot scraper. It is feared that a vertebra is injured.

Mrs. Freeland was brought to the home of her daughter Mrs. H. E. Myers, where a physician attended to her injuries. She teaches school near Bethany but was unable to go to her school Monday, so Mrs. Myers acted as substitute teacher. Mrs. Freeland is able to be up part of the time.—Windsor Gazette.

MRS. C. GINGERICH

Mrs. Anna Gingerich, wife of Chris Gingerich, died at her home a mile south of Arthur Friday morning, following an operation for appendicitis. She was 41 years of age and leaves her husband and 7 children, also two brothers, Eli and Menno Brennemann.

Funeral services were conducted Monday and burial was in the Otto cemetery.

—Carl Crowder, Bethany postmaster and Republican leader was a Sullivan visitor Monday. Carl says that the road building has brought a measure of prosperity to his town.

—Judge W. K. Whitfield of Orlando, Florida was a business visitor for a short time here Monday morning.

—E. A. Crowder spent Sunday in St. Louis where he attended a business meeting.

VITAMINS IN SWEETPOTATOES

Sweetpotatoes are a good source of vitamins, say chemists of the United States Department of Agriculture. This vegetable contains as much vitamin A (the antiphthalmic vitamin) as the leafy vegetables. It contains more vitamin B (the antineuritic vitamin) than many other root crops. As a source of vitamin C sweet potato juice has an antiscorbutic value equal to about one-third that of orange juice and one-half that of peach or pineapple juice.

—Members of the Loyal Daughters class of the Christian church and their families enjoyed a wiener roast at Pifer's park Monday evening. Owing to the men's meeting held at Arthur the same evening this was not as largely attended as usual, about forty-five being present. After the roast a number of folks played miniature golf.

SIXTH INSTALLMENT

In the morning he rang her up. Bim Lennox answered.

"Julie? Oh, I'm sorry—she's not up yet. Who is it?"

"Lawrence Schofield. She told me I might ring."

"Oh—well—if you will wait a moment. May I give her a message?"

"I want her to lunch with me if she will."

"I will tell her."

It seemed an eternity till Bim returned.

"Julia will be delighted. Will you call for her at half past one?"

"I shall be delighted also."

So that was that!

Schofield felt a boy as he turned away from the telephone. Nearly fifty! Nonsense! He was a young man, and in love for the first time.

He might have been less elated had he heard Julie's comment when his message was conveyed to her.

"Schofield! who on earth—don't know the man."

Julie was half asleep still; her head was splitting, and there was a queer dread in her heart.

"He was here last night. He brought you home," Bim said patiently. "He wants you to lunch with him. He is waiting on the phone."

"Oh—well, say what you like—anything."

Bim went away without answering and when she returned Julie was still sitting up in bed, her hands clasped round her knees, a little frown of pain between the eyes.

"What did you say?"

"I said you would be delighted to lunch with him and he is calling for you at half-past one."

Julie scowled.

"I told you to send him away."

"You didn't. You told me to say what I liked so I said you would be delighted. I like that man."

"Go with him yourself then."

"I would have done so if he had asked me."

Julie lay back on her pillows.

"Where's the tea?"

"Just coming. Is your head very bad?"

"The very devil," Julie followed Bim to the door with envious eyes. "How on earth do you manage to look so fresh at this ungodly hour?" she grumbled.

Bim turned round with a faint smile.

"I don't drink too much for one thing," she said lightly.

Schofield came for Julie in a big car.

"It's awfully good of you to come," he said nervously.

"It's awfully good of you to ask me," Julie said. She looked at him and was touched by the genuine pleasure in his eyes.

"Are you living in town?" she asked.

"I am only staying in a hotel at the moment," Schofield answered, and then added: "I think I told you last night."

Julie had forgotten everything about last night except those little cameos of pain in which Giles Chittenden had featured.

"Of course you did," she said hurriedly, and racked her brains to remember what else he had told her.

They lunched at Claridge's.

"It was perfect waste," so Julie told Bim afterwards. "Sinful waste taking me to such a place. I had no appetite—the sight of food almost unnerved me. However, I managed to make some sort of a show, but I'm afraid he was disappointed."

But in spite of no appetite and a headache, Julie quite enjoyed herself. There was something about Schofield which it was impossible not to like. He was so anxious to please, so attentive and kind.

"Are you a married man?" Julie asked impulsively, and he flushed and shook his head.

"No—my wife died—not long ago."

She drummed her slim fingers on the table, conscious of Schofield's eyes upon them.

"You—you are not married?" he asked.

"Good Lord no!" Julie laughed. "No thank you," she said again loudly.

"Why do you say that?"

She flushed and looked away.

"Why? Oh, I don't know. I prefer independence, I suppose."

"But if you met some man who—who thought the world of you—some man who would be kind and

—and devoted."

"Are there any such men?" she asked cynically.

"There is one here," Schofield said.

She turned her head slowly and looked at him in blank amazement.

"I beg your pardon," she said at last.

Schofield's honest eyes met hers unflinchingly.

"I said there was one here," he repeated. "I suppose you are surprised. I have not forgotten that we met last night for the first time but directly I saw you everything was changed for me. I have never—never felt for any woman what I felt for you last night. I daresay you think it presumption on my part to have said as much as I have done, but some day if there is no other man you care for—"

Julie gasped.

"You're not—you're not asking me to marry you?"

"Some day I want to ask you if you will."

Julie felt as if she were dreaming. She broke out desperately:

"But you know nothing about me—nothing!"

"I know you are the woman with whom I could be perfectly happy."

She laughed derisively.

That is a bold statement. If I were to tell you—"

He just touched her hand with his.

"Nothing would make any difference."

She felt her eyes wet with sudden tears.

"Are you—just—joking?" she asked.

"No."

She looked at him for a long moment in silence; she felt as if she saw him now for the first time. He was not young, as he had told her, and he was not good-looking, but there was something in his face—a steadfastness and sincerity which was like balm poured into her aching heart.

"I don't want you to say anything now," he was telling her. "If you will just let me see you—often! and be your friend."

"I don't know why you are so kind to me."

"I am being kind to myself."

She looked away, winking the tears from her lashes.

He was so simple and sincere. He was like a breath from her old peaceful life. Lately she had seen so little of simple honesty and sincerity. Some times she thought she had left all those things behind her on the snow-capped mountain tops.

"Where have you been hiding all these years?" she asked impulsively.

He told her quite frankly.

"I've lived in a country town—I've just been a nobody, a junior partner in a highly respectable firm of solicitors. My wife died—she was never very strong, and then a distant relation died too and left me some money—quite a lot of money."

"Lucky you!" Julie said.

"Yes," he answered, "I think I was very lucky," and his eyes were on her face. "I hope my luck will continue to hold," he added.

"I think you deserve that it should," Julie said. You are the kind of man who would spoil a woman terribly," Julie said.

"It would give me great happiness if I had the right to spoil you. She laughed rather sadly.

"It's such early days. Soon—perhaps quite soon—you will know me better, and then you will wonder why you ever thought me nice at all. I've got all sorts of vices."

"I don't believe you."

They spoke of the others who had been at the Faun.

"I tell you who I did like,"

Schofield said. "That tall fellow—what was his name—Chittenden?"

Julie caught her breath.

"Oh, yes—I forgot that you met him."

"I liked him," Schofield said again meditatively. "I believe I've met him before somewhere, but I can't quite remember. If I were a woman, he is the kind of man who would attract me."

"He detests all women."

"Nonsense! a man like that—"

Julie broke in excitedly:

"I tell you he does—ask any one who knows him! he's a woman hater."

"Then there must be a good reason for it."

"Conceit, I should think!" Julie said flippantly. "He imagines that all women are running after him."

Schofield looked surprised at her vehemence.

"It sounds rather as if you dislike him."

Julie shrugged her shoulders. There was a little hard look in her pretty eyes.

"I don't dislike him," she said, "I'm just quite indifferent."

Since his introduction to Doris at the Faun, Giles saw a good deal more of her than he wished to see.

At first he had accepted her invitations in the hope that perhaps Julie might also be included, but he had always been disappointed.

Once when he had mentioned her name to Doris she frowned.

"Oh, Julie! I think I've shown her at last that her room is preferable to her company. She's really too impossible. You know who she is running about with now?"

"No."

"Lawrence Schofield."

"I don't know him."

"You do. You were introduced at the Faun one night. He's a harmless sort of man with heaps of money, but his wife has only been dead about a month, and it's a bit soon, don't you think?"

"Soon for what?"

"To get married again."

There was a little silence, then Chittenden asked quietly:

"Is he to marry Miss Farrow then?"

"So people say. He's years too old for her, of course, but he seems absolutely devoted, and she says it's only his money she wants and as it's what we all want, I suppose you can't blame her."

"I suppose not! though I understand Miss Farrow to say that she never intended to marry."

Doris laughed.

It was the next day his mother telephoned him. He could not go with her.

Giles wondered as he hung up the receiver, what his mother would have said had he told her that his engagement was to meet the other Julie Farrow whom his brother had loved.

The invitation had come about in quite a casual way.

Only the night before Lombard had called in at the hotel where he was staying.

"Will you come along and have some dinner with me this evening? Quite a small party," he had said.

"Ladies?"

"Two—one of them Julie Farrow—the real Julie this time," he added rather maliciously.

Giles frowned.

"Did you tell her I was coming?"

"I said I should ask you if I could find you."

"And she made no objection?"

"None. I think she was entertained at the thought of meeting you."

There was a little silence which Chittenden broke.

"There's one point I can't get quite clear," he said. "This Julie—the famous one—isn't she a married woman?"

"She was. There was a divorce."

"I see, and she still calls herself Farrow?"

"It was her maiden name. She went back to it when the case was over."

Giles laughed shortly.

"It seems to be the fashion," he said, and he remembered that Sadie had done the same thing after he and she had agreed to each go their separate ways.

"Well, I'll be there at eight," he said.

"And—Chittenden—"

"Yes."

"What about—do you ever run across the other Julie?"

"I have met her once or twice."

Lombard looked relieved.

"I'm glad to hear that. I thought—well—you seemed so upset when we were in Lausanne—"

"What the devil are you driving at?"

"Oh, nothing, nothing—only you cut up rough with me if you remember. You cut up rough over that mistake I made. And it was quite pardonable on my part. You shall see for yourself tonight. They're very much alike—especially if you don't know them very well."

It was quite true. Giles found himself unable to keep his eyes off the "other Julie" when they met at dinner that night.

INHERITANCE TAX CASES IN LOCAL COURT

A hearing was held in the county court the past week to determine the inheritance tax due from two estates.

In the estate of Mrs. Ella E. Dyer it was found that only one heir, James T. Clevenger need pay a tax, and he paid $52.04.

In the estate of Mrs. Eliza Goetz of Bethany there were four heirs and all had to pay a tax. A. T. Goetz and E. P. Goetz, stepsons of the deceased inherited $200 each and were each assessed a y10 tax. Ida Martin and Carrie E. Gedywick, nieces, each inherited $2529.90 and each had to pay $122.39 in tax. Tax in these cases was comparatively large as the heirs were not close relatives.

Auditorium
4:10-5:10—Vesper Concert, the Imperial Male Quartet.

Evening Session
7:30-7:40—Community singing.
7:40-8:00—Imperial Quartet.
8:00-8:15—Report of Committees.

8:15-9:00—Address, "Mussolini and the Black Shirts"—Tom Skeighill.

Dr. L. D. Coffman is a former Illinois educator who is at present the President of the University of Minnesota. He is a leader in the field of education.

Cameron Beck's work lies in the field of education, for he is the director of the training school for employees of the New York Exchange, and is a lecturer in that school. The Committee heard him speak at the state meeting in Springfield and was unanimous in wishing to bring him to this meeting.

Mr. C. E. Germane is professor of education in the University of Missouri. He has made a reputation in the field of Character education, and is the author of a text in that subject.

I. G. Wilson is head of English department of the Kansas State Normal school at Pittsburg, Kansas. He appears on the program of several Illinois counties this fall, and has been asked by a Kansas superintendent to give the lecture on "The Bad Boy and His Teacher" for five successive years.

Miss Nelle Haley is assistant superintendent of schools in Saginaw, Michigan. She is a leader in the field of Primary Education. Miss Haley is well known to the educators of this part of Illinois having taught in Central Illinois before accepting her present position.

McPHEETERS FAILS; REPUBLICANS AGAIN COP PROGRESS CUP

"Jovial Jim" Lehman, groundskeeper of the Sullivan Country Club has also joined the ranks of the champions. He did this Sunday afternoon when he defeated Frank McPheeters for the 1929 men's handicap cup. The contest Sunday was to play off a tie in this match, 18 holes previously having resulted in no decision.

Mr. McPheeters had been generally picked as champion because of the way in which he had crashed to victory in his preliminary matches. He's now Bobby Jones, however, and in the final test he found the little white ball elusive and on his bad behaviour.

Roy Foster recently won the 1930 handicap tournament. Paul Hankla has won the club championship for men and Mrs. Hankla for women. Mrs. Allen Hawley won the women's handicap tournament.

Republicans Win
Ah, woe is me! I am undone. About two years ago a lonesome idea succeeded in permeating into the brain-box of this editor. He bought a trophy to be played for in a political tournament—Democrats vs Republicans. It looked like a set up. He looked over the stalwart conglomeration of Democratic golfers and victory seemed certain.

But alas, the Republicans won the trophy and then proceeded to elect Hoover and defeat Al Smith. In the Republican village of Bethany that trophy has reposed for two years.

The Democrats decided that they could lift it easily this year. They looked at their array of champions and near champions. There was Hankla and Lehman and Foster. There was Newbould and Wolf and Doc Johnson and others including Doc Norris. They called for a show-down. The tournament was played last Thursday and I'll be gosh-swiggled if the Republicans did not win again. The margin was a small three points, but it was enough. The only alibi the Democrats have to offer is that the Republican dub players did not show up and only the best that the G. O. P. had to offer put in its appearance. We don't like alibis. The Republicans beat us. If they used brains, that simply showed good generalship.

And so for another two years The Progress trophy remains in the hands of the friendly enemy.

MISS OLIVE ELDER TO BE BRIDE OF REV. McCALL

Mrs. Walter Crane gave a miscellaneous shower for her niece, Miss Olive Elder at the Crane home Saturday afternoon. She was assisted with the entertaining by Mrs. Stella Drew and Mrs. Lottie Hauffman.

A reading was given by Mrs. Lonnie Ellison and vocal and instrumental music by Mrs. Clarence Parks.

Color scheme was carried out in pink and white. Ada Caroline Crane, impersonating Dan Cupid announced the coming wedding of Olive Elder to Rev. Duncan McCall on or after October 14. Cupid also presented the bride-to-be with many gifts brought by Miss Elder's friends.

CENTER SCHOOL REPORT
The following were neither absent nor tardy during September: Mary Milam, Alice Doty, Eloise Piper, Marcellyn Fanelli, William Flannigan, Esther Farmwald, Wilma Flannigan, Lara Flannigan, Levi Farmwald.

The average attendance was 18.9.

O. W. Powell, teacher.

—The Pythian Sisters will meet Monday night in the Household Science rooms. Every member is urged to be present.

—J. B. Craig and Mr. and Mrs. George Ritchey of Arthur were Sunday guests of George, Laban and Miss Mary Daugherty.

Morning subject: "Giving the Church a Chance."
Evening subject: "The Village and the Prince."

Music by Junior choir and the quartet. This is our Rally day and Mrs. McFerrin will direct a special program for the Bible school. Each family is asked to bring its full memberships and invite one other.

New elders and deacons will be ordained at the morning service.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Lord's day Bible study at 10 o'clock. Worship at eleven. We are interested in heavenly things. Have we a soul? And if so what is it worth? Have we made preparation to meet our God? Are we sure our preparations are in harmony with the Gospel of Christ? If not our preparations are useless. Have we obeyed the Gospel with a whole heart and thereby become a member of the church Christ died to establish? And are we trying to live in such a way as to meet the approval of God by keeping his commandments? Come and meet with us and let us study his word together.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

C. E. Barnett, Pastor
"The Giving God" and "The Home-coming of the Ransomed" will be the sermon subjects at the First Christian church next Sunday morning and evening respectively.

Do you need a tonic? Then get out into the sunshine and invigorating air of these splendid autumn days. Inhale deeply of the life giving atmosphere, a tonic for body and mind. Happiness is a tonic, one of the best. "A merry heart doeth good like a medicine." Cheerful surroundings, relief of mind, and spiritual comforts tend toward happiness. Everybody wants to be happy. Happiness and the Go-to-Church habit go together. If you attend church it will help you to find and keep this happiness. Go to church Sunday.

At the Sunday school session, scholars will be promoted to advanced classes according to ages and grades. New faces in new places will be the order of the day among the younger folk. Why not a large number of new faces in all classes. If not already enlisted bring your face to Sunday school.

Byron Brandenburger will lead the Christian Endeavor meeting. The subject is "How May We Help Folks in our Community?" This will also be consecration meeting. Every member present with verse and offering and an active part in the meeting. Others invited and welcome.

Hours of service Sunday are: Sunday school, 9:30 a. m. Morning worship and communion 10:40 a. m. Evening service 7:30. Christian Endeavor 6:30.

After looking at the earth all week, look up Sunday and get your bearing.

METHODIST CHURCH

L. L. Lawrence, pastor
Church school—9:30 a. m. Morning worship at 10:45. Epworth League—6:30 p. m. Evening worship at 7:30.

Communion Service will be held this Sunday morning for all members and friends of the church. There will be only a very brief sermon of 10 minutes to end this service. We urge all our members to make an especial effort to be present at this service.

"Inadequate Views" is the sermon subject for Sunday evening. Street corner philosophers with their solutions of the teachings and miracles of the young Jew of Nazareth.

Mr. Sabin will give two more lessons in his course, "How We Got Our Bible," at the Epworth League service. Those attending witness to the value of this course.

Mid-week Sabbath is now being held at the church each Wednesday evening. This is the moment inspirational that carries you through from one Sabbath to the next. Songs, praise moments, meditation and a brief lesson by the pastor. Every one is invited, young and older.

Prof. Moore and Miss Vivian Clark meet with the orchestra and choir Wednesday evening at 6:45. Here is the opportunity for fine, free instruction, sociability, and service to the church. We urge all our young people to take advantage of this choice opportunity.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will meet next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the parsonage. All members are urged to be present.

GOSPEL MISSION

9:30 a. m. Sunday school.
6:30 p. m. Young People's service.
7:30 p. m.—Evangelistic services.

7:30 p. m. Prayer meeting on Thursday.

Brother Martin will have a Gospel message for you Sunday evening.

Jer. 1:10—"See, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, to root out, and pull down, and destroy, and to throw down, to build and to plant."

The order of Jeremiah's Commission is very significant. There was first to be a destruction before there was to be a construction. The life of the unregenerated man or the backslider is much like Israel was at the time Jeremiah was commissioned to be a prophet to them, filled with a lot of decorations of the world that are not becoming in a house to be occupied by the Holy Spirit. These must be pulled down and destroyed to make a place for the new christian decorations. The garden of our heart which has been overgrown with the weeds of pride, selfishness, envy, strife and such like, and there are a various lot of spiritual weeds must be rooted out not cut off at the surface to sprout again, to make room for the tender plants of faith, hope and love, and the weeding is a continual process, regardless of the faithfulness in the care of our garden the fowls of the air (the devil—Luke 8:12) will scatter the evil seeds, which we are unaware of until the plant appears above the surface.

NEW DOMESTIC SCIENCE CLUB IS ORGANIZED

The Jonathan Creek Domestic Science club met and organized, Tuesday, Sept. 30 at the Town Hall. The following officers were elected.

President—Mrs. Dorothy Watkins.
V. President—Mrs. W. K. Bolin
Secretary—Mrs. Guy Bolin.
Treasurer—Mrs. J. J. Ryan.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Watkins, Thursday, Oct. 9 at 2 p. m. A flower program will be given as follows.

Music—Mrs. O. W. Powell.
Roll Call—Favorite house plant Paper, "Diseases and Remedies of House Plants"—Mrs. Guy Bolin
Demonstration: Arrangement of Flowers.

Round Table Discussion.
Exchange of Bulbs, Seeds or Slips.

M. E. LADIES FED HUSBANDS ON CHICKEN

The ladies of the Southwest Division of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church gave and served a chicken supper to their husbands at the church Monday night. Nearly all of the husbands of this division were present and are anxious to have the performance repeated. Following the supper all gathered around the table for a game of "Up Jenkins," with O. F. Cochran and Almond Nicholson competitive captains. It is probable that the other three divisions of the Aid will do something similar for their husbands.

GUARDIANS NAMED

In the county court this week Lora VanGundy was named guardian of Erastus S. and Robert E. Neaves, minor heirs of the late Robert T. Neaves.

Emma Fabert was named guardian of Margaret Evelyn, Walter Max and Ada Elizabeth, minor heirs of the late Walter F. Fabert. She qualified in bond of $32,000.

HILLS ARE OUT

Officials here received word this week that Durgin Hill and his brother Ed Hill have completed their time of penal servitude at the Vandalia farm and have been discharged.

THE WEATHER

The weather this week has been fair and cooler. Furnaces have been started. The girls have gotten out their fur coats and shaken the moth balls out of them. Extra quilts feel good at night.

Empty coal bins look accusingly at their owners. Neglected heating systems are clamoring for attention. Bare arms and bare legs of the fair sex are gradually getting under cover. It's a shame to devote so much time and attention to getting a nice tan and then have cold weather and goose-pimples come along and spoil the pleasure of displaying it.

No frost has been reported as yet, although the temperature has at times been very low. The old poem about the "frost on the pumpkin and the fodder in the shock" sounds good but let us advise you that if you want to store any of the pumpkins for winter use, better gather them before the frost settles on them. This fruit of the vine may have a tough skin but it is very sensitive to the cold, nevertheless, notwithstanding.

We look for cool weather in Sullivan Monday. Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick is going to be here. At the Grand theatre she will discuss political questions and will doubtless elaborate on her retort to Senator Nye's committee "What are you going to do about it?" Judging by the enthusiasm that the Emmerson-Small Republicans are showing over the prospect of having Mrs. McCormick here, we'll wear our biggest and warmest overcoat and gloves and brave the meeting, even though it may be a sad freeze-out. May we plead with you—attend this meeting. Give Mrs. McCormick a hearing. The local Republican newspaper has not said one word in her favor. We have said many unfavorable things. We do want to see who is going to stage-manage Monday's show. It is safe to say that Democracy will be well represented at the meeting. They want to see the candidate that James Hamilton Lewis will defeat November 4th.

The shoe factory is working; Moultrie hard roads are being built; the corn and bean harvest are under way; candidates are campaigning; wienies are sizzling over hot bonfires; sorghum in new shiny buckets is for sale; houses are being decorated with bright red bitter sweet berries; apples are plentiful; the fall of the year has brought a bountiful harvest to Moultrie. Eat, drink and be merry for election day comes on November 4th.

GAYS SCHOOL ADDITION TO BE DEDICATED TODAY

The new addition to the Gays public school has been completed and dedication services will be held this (Friday) evening. J. L. McLaughlin, Albert Walker and Mrs. Roughton, county superintendent of schools will be among the dedication speakers. The principal of the school is Prof. Joseph Lucas of this city.

FELL, INJURED ARM

Rev. W. B. Hopper, of Sullivan, pastor of the Vine Street Christian church in this city, was nursing a sore right arm when here on Sunday, caused by a heavy fall while in the town of Ramsey a few days previous. The hurt did not interfere with his preaching in any way, but did hinder in the hand-shaking part of the program which is one of the minister's front door pleasures.—Arthur Graphic Clarion.

—Mr. and Mrs. Homer Pennington of Rock Island came last Wednesday and were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McKenzie until Sunday.

—Hewell McFerrin left Saturday for Angola, Ind., where he is taking a Chemical Engineering Course at the Tri-State College.

SULLIVAN MARKETS

New corn and new soybeans are reaching the elevators. The first new corn that reached the Sullivan Grain Co., was brought in by Grover Garrett of Whitley township. It was early white and graded No. 4. The price Thursday was 64c.

The first new soybeans brought to this elevator were by Claude Wiley. Soybeans are of good quality and an average yield of 20 bu. per acre is reported. The price is $1.10 per bushel.

Wheat is 67c and oats 31c. Produce markets were paying 35c per lb. for butterfat and 22c per dozen for eggs. Old hens 11c to 18c; springs 13c to 19c; old roosters 8c; old ducks 8c, young ducks 10c.
