High School Bd. Votes To Drop Study Of French

Elimination of This Study Makes Possible One Teacher Less on Faculty. President Dick Has Named Standing Committees.

The study of French in the Sullivan township high school will be discontinued after the close of the present school year.

The board of education in a meeting at the High school Monday night made this decision. French now takes up about two-fifths of one teacher's time and the enrollment in the French classes is small and has been growing smaller each year.

Principal R. A. Scheer did not recommend cutting out French, but suggested that if this were done, the school could function with one teacher less. Neither Miss Matthew nor Miss Duncas who have been teaching English the past two years applied for re-appointment. This leaves two vacancies. Mr. Scheer suggested that by eliminating French the teaching periods can be so arranged that one English teacher may suffice. This will throw some of the English teaching load on other teachers, and saving can thus be made by having one teacher less on the faculty for 1931-1932.

Committees Named

President Carl A. Dick named the following standing committees for the coming year:

Building and Grounds—Wood, Brandenburger and Cummins.

Finance—Cummins, Kellar and Hollenbeck.

Purchasing—Poland, Wood and Hollenbeck.

Upon proper motion the board authorized the secretary to pay small miscellaneous bills as they occur between meetings of the board.

No English teacher was employed at Monday night's meeting, but several applicants will be asked to appear before another meeting to be held Friday night.

An excellent program was put on by the Dalton City Young People.

Homer Hoskins, H.S. Future Farmer Won Speaking Contest

Member of Prof. Erwin's Agricultural Class Took First Place in Macon Meeting and Now Enters Division Contest for Higher Honors.

Homer Hoskins of Allenville, a student at the Sullivan Township High school won first place in the public speaking contest in District 10 of the Future Farmers of America Wednesday night. This event was held in the auditorium of the Macon High school under the supervision of William McKown who is one of the state vice-presidents and is in charge of this district.

In District 10 there are 15 schools with Future Farmer clubs. These clubs are an auxiliary to the regular classes in Vocational Agriculture. Only three schools competed in the speaking contest Tuesday.

Homer Hoskins by winning 1st place, was awarded a beautiful medal and will be able to compete in a division contest. The winners in the division contest, of which there will be three in this state, will go to Urbana the third week in June to compete for state honors. The state winner meets in competition the winners from the other 12 states that comprise the North Central group at the National Dairy show in St. Louis in October. There will later be a contest between the group winners to decide the national champion.

The subject Homer chose for his oration was "Co-operative Marketing as a Solution of the Farmers' troubles." The winner of second place, Harold Dawson of Taylorville spoke on "Co-operative Marketing and the Agricultural Depression." Lee Ellis of Macon spoke of "Electricity on the Farm." The judges were Messrs. Baldwin, Robinson and McLaughlin of Decatur.

H. R. Damisch of the U. of I. assistant to J. H. Hill who is in charge of the University's Vocational Agriculture work, was present and made a short talk. Those attending Wednesday night's meeting from this city were students Homer Hoskins, Harmon Baggett, Orris Lane and William McKown, ag instructor H. P. Erwin and Mrs. Erwin and Ed Brandenburger, secretary of the high school board.

The boys were greatly elated at bringing home the honor of winning and Mr. Hoskins deserves great credit for the able way in which he had prepared and presented his subject.

Siron Selected As Fourth City Commissioner

Commission Form Goes into Effect Saturday Night. New Commissioners Decide on Departments and Duties for Each.

Sullivan's aldermanic form of government will end Saturday night. At the same time Mayor McFerrin will issue a proclamation declaring the commission form in full force and effect.

At a special meeting held Friday night of last week the Mayor and Commissioners Fulk, Kingrey and Poland, recently elected took up the matter of selecting a fourth man to act as commissioner. By agreement the names of Alderman Dunscomb, A. P. McCune and H. V. Siron were written on slips of paper and placed in a hat. Two slips were to be taken out and the remaining slip was to have on it the name of the new commissioner. The lot fell on Alderman Siron. Aldermen Dunscomb and McCune, term's of office will automatically expire when the commission form goes into effect.

Various new ordinances are necessary setting forth the duties of the new commissioners and the

SONA'S GREYS WON VICTORY OVER BRUCE

About 400 baseball fans turned out Sunday to see the big game on Ott Kinsel's diamond at Bruce.

The attraction was Henry Sona's Sullivan Greys, famous before the World War and since, who played Kinsel's Bruce Sluggers, the premier ball team of Moultrie county.

The Greys won by a score of 5 to 3. Montie Blue says he did a good bit of the scoring and Montie is a rather youthful "Grey."

Next Sunday Mr. Kinsel will have a free game when Lake City and Bruce will clash. The Lake City boys gave the Sluggers a tough tussel in a recent game.

Sunday, May 17th will be another top-liner. The Colored boys from Decatur will play the Sluggers on that date. Watch for further announcements.

Foster acted as secretary. Announcement of the District meeting to be held in Chicago, May 23rd and 24th was made.

Due to the fact that the grade schools had only a half day session Monday because the circus was in the city, Miss Etha Lindsay campfire guardian and Miss Marie Hoke, past guardian were able to attend. Mrs. H. P. Erwin, Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Earl Clark of El Paso were also guests of the club. Mrs. C. R. Hill announced that a one day meeting of the 19th District board will be held in this

COUNTY GETS ONLY 63% SCHOOL FUND DUE FROM STATE

Mrs. Nettie L. Roughton, county superintendent of schools this week received the state distributive fund for the schools of this county. The amount is 63% of what the county had coming to it under the state distributive law. The amount claimed was $22,407.82 and the amount received was but $14,267. Last year the amount received was but 79% of the amount claimed.

The discrepancy between what the county ought to get and does get is due to the tax muddle in Chicago and Cook county. Through an inefficient handling of tax matters as they pertain to the Illinois metropolis only part of the 1929 taxes have been collected and the 1930 tax are also still unpaid. As part of the state's distributive school fund comes from these Chicago taxes, there is naturally a shortage which cannot be taken care of until Cook County and Chicago catch up with their tax paying.

Carlstrom Says Commission Form Delayed Two Years

Attorney General's Opinions Must Serve as Such and Not as Commissioners' Commission Election 2 Years Hence.

Sullivan has adopted Commission Form of Government. In another story in this issue is told how Mayor McFerrin and the aldermen are proceeding to put commission form into effect on and after May 10th of this year.

The city council is a tax levying body. By appropriation ordinance it designates what amounts of money are to be raised by taxation. In order to have such appropriation ordinance legal, the council whether aldermanic or commission form must be a legally constituted body. All other matters that it passes on are invalid if the council is not legal.

There has been some doubt in the mind of States Attorney R. B. Foster relative to how commission form is to be instituted. There is no dispute about the validity of the election by which the people voted to adopt commission form. The question is when does commission form go into effect and how does it go into effect. Being the legal adviser of the county and consequently charged with seeing that taxing measures such as the city's appropriation ordinance are legally adopted, Mr. Foster wrote to Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom for an opinion on this matter.

Mr. Carlstrom in reply quotes certain parts of the Statutes and then reaches this conclusion: the mayor and aldermen elected in April of this year are to serve as mayor and aldermen, until the expiration of the terms to which they were elected, after which an election is to be held at which a Mayor and Four Commissioners are to be elected. This would mean that the commission form of government for Sullivan would be postponed for at least two years and that the newly elected aldermen and the holdover aldermen would continue to serve as heretofore. Just what provision would be made when the holdover aldermen's terms expire next spring is rather indefinite.

States Attorney Foster and others who are questioning the legality of the council's proposed action are friendly to commission form, but do not want to see the city get into a tangle during the period of transition from aldermanic to commission form.

Truck Driver Is Killed Saturday At-Dunn Crossing

Loren Hahn of Decatur Met Instant Death When Motorcar of I. C. R. R. Struck His Loaded Material Truck. Inquest Held Here Monday.

Loren Hahn, 29, a young Decatur man, met instant death at the I. C. crossing near Dunn Saturday night at the hour of 5:10 when a gravel truck he was driving was struck by the I. C. motorcar train No. 252.

The train struck the truck and hurled it to the south. Hahn went hurtling through the cab window and lit about 50 feet away. The top of his skull was nearly severed. He was dead when other workmen reached him.

Hahn was hauling supplies for the Moore Brothers construction company which is building the hard road between Sullivan and Bethany. The paving machinery was near the crossing at the time of the accident. Hahn and other supply men had crossed the track often that day.

The inquest held in the Robinson funeral home Monday morning disclosed the fact that no

JUDGE JENNINGS TALKED LAW TO KIWANIS FRIDAY

Law and its enforcement was the subject that Judge John E. Jennings chose for his talk before the Kiwanis club Friday of last week. The Judge expounded the theory of law and gave some very practical plans for securing more respect for law. He approved probation for first offenders but was very emphatic against leniency being extended to habitual law-breakers. He stated that more time could profitably be spent in teaching the youth of the day the Ten Commandments.

Many of those who heard the Judge stated that the talk was one of the best heard locally at a Kiwanis luncheon.

This week the Kiwanis will have Ladies Night Friday evening at the National Inn.

Farms Decrease In Values Shown By Census Reports

Agricultural Interests of Illinois Were Worth Only About Half as Much in 1930 as They Had Been in 1920. Many Tenant Farmers.

In 1930 there were 214,596 farms in Illinois. This is a decrease from 1920 when the number was 237,181. The acreage in the 1930 farm was 30,698,425 as compared to the 1920 acreage of 31,974,775.

These figures are taken from the official census report for 1930 which the U. S. Department of Commerce has announced. The value of lands and buildings in 1930 is given as $3,345,109,837. This is a big decrease from 1920 when the figure was $5,997,993,566.

The average value of Illinois farm land is given as $108.97 per acre as compared to $187.59 in 1920.

Real estate dealers say that the 1930 figure has undergone considerable shrinkage since the census was taken last year.

119,862 Illinois farms are operated by owners; 2,166 by managers and 92,568 by tenants. Size of farms ranges from 3 acres to

Sullivan Notified One Rural Mail Route Stopped

Postmaster McPheeters Loses the Fight to Retain Six Routes. Change Will Go Into Effect May 16th; Carriers, Mileage and pay

The Post Office department notified Postmaster C. E. McPheeters Thursday morning that his fight to retain 6 rural mail routes for Sullivan was lost. The department rules that 5 routes will be sufficient to serve the patrons of the local Post Office. The change will go into effect May 16th.

This means that Route 6 will be discontinued and the patrons of that route will be served by the carriers on Routes 1, 2 and 3. All patrons who will be affected by this change will be personally notified. Some will receive indirect service who have been served in front of the house heretofore, and some who have had indirect service will get direct service.

Sullivan loses only one patron to Lovington through the change. The length of Sullivan's five routes, name of carrier and amount paid him are as follows:

- Route One, 30.8 miles, William A. Gardner carrier, salary $2010. Route Two 36.8 miles, W. G. Cochran Jr., carrier, salary $2190. Route Three, 39.95 miles, J. W. Lucas, carrier, salary $22.80. Route Four, 27.6 miles, Loren Monroe carrier, salary $19.20. Route Five, 28.45 miles, Art Ashbrook carrier, salary $19.20.

Besides this salary each carrier gets 4c per mile for equipment and maintenance.

Prior to the change the highest paid salary was $1920. The change gives three carriers increased mileage and increased salary.

Sullivan will not get the auxiliary route for winter service that Postmaster McPheeters asked for. The new change will throw Earl Conard, who has been temporary carrier on Route 2 since Mayhew Rhodes' death, out of a job.

The Post Office department will effect a saving of about $1500 per year by cutting off one of the Sullivan routes. Sullivan has the satisfaction of knowing that what has happened here is not an isolated case but is what is being done all over the country.

KIWANIANS MADE GOOD TIME GOING SOUTH

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Patterson and daughter Jacqueline and Geo. A. Roney who left here Friday morning of last week, spent that night at Corbin, Kentucky. They arrived in Orlando, Florida some time Sunday at the home of William Mouser. From there they proceeded toward Miami and the Kiwanis convention.

SULLIVAN'S CIGARETTE LICENSE IS REPEALED

The Sullivan City Council in regular meeting Monday night passed an ordinance repealing the ordinance which in the past has required sellers of cigarettes to pay a $50 license fee yearly. The ordinance as originally drafted seemed to consider cigarettes as a luxury. Now these tobacco confections are regarded as more or less of a household necessity.

Taylor to Pen, Goldia Johnson Gets Her Liberty

Morrow Sent to Pen Some Time Ago for Burning Johnson House. Taylor Now Joins Him on Plea of Guilty. No Jury Trials Until September.

Charles (Tip) Taylor has entered a plea of guilty to burning Mrs. Goldia Johnson's house some months ago. On this plea he was on Monday sentenced to an indeterminate term in the Southern Illinois penitentiary. He there joins Lon Morrow who entered a plea of guilty to the same crime on the first day of the March term of court.

Mrs. Goldia Johnson, owner of the burned house, and sister of Taylor was set at liberty. The authorities did not have enough evidence to convict her. She was indicted by the March grand jury ann has been at liberty on bond.

The bail of William Runner, held for trying to burglarize the Loveless slaughter house, was reduced from $2,000 to $1000.

No Jury Trials

Because of the supreme court's ruling that women are not eligible to serve on juries in Illinois, no jury trials were held Monday as scheduled. Sheriff Lansden was instructed last week to notify the petit jurors not to appear for duty. All trial cases will doubtless go over to the September term of court. In the meantime it may be necessary to prepare a new jury list as the list now in the box has the names of women on it.

The next day of the present term of court will be on May 14th. At that time the Rowland case of Coles will be heard by the judge. It is a case of domestic trouble.

DELINQUENT TAX SALE POSTPONED UNTIL SEPTEMBER

Under the old law as pertains to publication of delinquent taxes preparatory to getting judgement against the real estate involved, such list would have appeared in The Progress this week.

An emergency measure was passed by the Legislature last week and signed by the governor which postpones such action until the September term of court. The taxes still delinquent on real estate by August 21st will be published at that time. Tax sales will be in September.

The object of the postponement is to give property owners more time to pay taxes without incurring the penalties which accrue after property is sold to satisfy tax judgment. The 1% per month penalty on taxes unpaid after May 1st is, however, in effect and will have to be paid even if taxes are paid before Delinquent Tax list is published.

CONVENTIONS TO SELECT JUDICIAL CANDIDATES SOON

Moultrie county Republicans will have 5 votes in the convention which meets in Urbana May 25th to nominate a candidate for circuit judge to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Boggs. The Democrats have not yet issued a convention call.

Legislator Little, Roy Freeman, Walter Riley and Bonner Leonard of Champaign county are all expected to be candidates for the nomination.

Champaign Democrats mentioned are R. S. Dobbins and Louis Busch. There is a general impression over the judicial district, however, that Lott Herrick of Farmer City, with offices in that city, Clinton and Champaign can have the Democratic nomination if he wants it. Attorney Herrick is one of the best known attorneys in Illinois.

The election will be held in July.

NEW INSURANCE OFFICE

Former county treasurer D. G. Carnine has opened a general insurance office in the I. O. O. F. building in the rooms formerly occupied by the Strickland Hat shop. Mr. Carnine has been writing some insurance for a number of years and expects now to devote his entire time to this line of business.

TIP TAYLOR GOES SOUTH

Charles (Tip) Taylor who entered a plea of guilty to burning Goldia Johnson's house was sentenced to the Southern Illinois penitentiary Monday and taken to that institution Wednesday. Sheriff Hale Lansden took him and was accompanied on the trip by Spot Pribble of Arthur and Ray Isaacs of Sullivan.

WHICH IS YOUR CLASS?

Do you belong to the jawbone class, the class of folks who talk about the many things they'll do, the paths of fame they'll walk?

Who boast about their conquered worlds and deeds right nobly done, while yet their efforts end with words, no task is e'er begun?

Do you belong to the wishbone class, the class of folks who long that wealth and fame might flow to them for just a little song?

Who wish that ease would be their lot and praise their fortune too, while all the while they nod and smile and naught but nothing do?

Do you belong to the backbone class, the class of folks who work from early morn till late at night and never duty shirk?

Who dig right in and fight their way toward the grand success that waits ahead for folks who give and always do their best?

Inefficient Law Making

The Supreme Court of the state of Illinois says that the law permitting women to serve on juries is unconstitutional.

This law came into being through action of the Legislature and a majority vote cast in its favor at the election in November 1930. The Legislature submitted the matter to the voters by ordering it placed on the ballot. The voters approved it.

The Supreme Court says this is all wrong. It bases its conclusions on the theory that the people cannot make laws by voting them, but that law making is the duty of the Legislature.

The court system of Illinois as it pertains to juries has been knocked silly. Judges and states attorneys and other court attaches wonder where they are at. People convicted of crime where women served on juries are doubting the legality of their conviction.

To the average citizen who admits that he knows little about law or legislation the whole thing looks like a blunder that could easily have been avoided.

The Supreme Court is the court of last resort in this state which tells us whether laws are constitutional or not. Why not have this court pass on the constitutionality of laws before they are put into effect? Why wait until the machinery of the law has been set in motion, hundreds of thousands of dollars spent in its enforcement and operation and then have a case appealed to the court so it can render an unfavorable decision?

It all looks like placing the cart before the horse. Would it not be possible to find out first whether a law is constitutional, before an effort is made to pass it?

Who is to blame for the jury mixup?

Howard Doyle of Decatur

Howard Doyle of Decatur is a representative in the Legislature. Mr. Doyle is a rather aggressive legislator. In his very first term, he shocked some of the older heads at Springfield by being rather inquisitive.

One of the things that Mr. Doyle wanted to know was this: Is any interest collected from the banks where the state gas tax funds are deposited during time of collection and prior to their expenditure? If not, why not? If interest is collected, who gets it, for there is no record of any of it being paid into the state treasury?

All of this was rather embarrassing to the Emmerson financiers. The state director of finance was asked to appear before a committee and make reply. Others connected with handling these funds were also summoned. The committee heard what they had to say.

Their reply was that no interest was collected on these millions of dollars. Some of this was deposited in big Chicago banks, and a goodly portion of it reposed in the Springfield bank in which Gov. Emmerson is largely interested.

Though the daily balance of such funds runs into millions of dollars, the banks have the use of it without paying any interest to the state.

The custodians of these funds testified that there was no law requiring that such funds be banked in such way as to yield some interest to the tax-payers of Illinois.

The committee that heard the evidence was satisfied with the explanations. It reported to the legislature that everything was all O. K. The legislature approved that report. The Republican leaders rallied to the support of the administration. Grievances relative to wet and dry matters were forgotten in the efforts to protect any little graft that the banker friends of the administration might profit by.

Mr. Doyle deserves praise from the taxpayers. It takes a new man to pry off the lid once in a while in legislative matters at Springfield and give the people a peek at what goes on in the administration circles. Only a new man can do that.

The older heads in our legislature are not in a position to do much crusading. They get all tied up in vote swaps and political chicanery in the effort to get on the good side of the big boys who run things at Springfield.

We are inclined to think that in the near future interest will be paid on gas tax funds. If that happens, thanks for the money so realized go to Mr. Doyle.

Sullivan-Made And Good

Quality merchandise, backed by intelligent advertising gets business. That has been proven time and time again. Quality merchandise without advertising gets stale on the shelves. Advertised merchandise that lacks quality does not build business.

As an outstanding example of the above let us cite the case of the Sullivan Bakery. It makes the highest standard of baked goods. It advertises persistently. Its trade has grown steadily. Five people find employment in the bakery. It is a 100% home institution.

Out of town bread wagons still come here. There is really no need of it. They will come just so long as Sullivan people are satisfied with buying "bread" instead of specifying "Sullivan bread." Think this over. Let's all help build the Sullivan institutions that are aggressive enough to go after business through advertising backed by quality and service.

Boosting Vs. Wailing

Times will change. There have been so-called depressions in the past. There will be some ever so often in the years to come.

When these depressions come, there are certain people and certain kinds of business, that lay off producing and put in their time wailing. Others keep plugging along. They look to the future. They know this country is immensely wealthy. A depression drives this wealth out of circulation. It undermines confidence. It brings hardship and disaster.

The far-sighted business man keeps plugging along. He works harder. He is looking toward the future and better times that are coming. He keeps his organization intact. He strengthens it.

When better times come he reaps the benefits of them, while the wailing competitor has to make a new start or drop out of the ranks altogether.

The big business firms of this nation are going after business harder today than they have done in many years. They are not curtailing their advertising expenditure. They are fighting for business and they are getting it. Just an example: the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company which for some years has been one of the biggest advertisers in The Progress is expanding its advertising program this year. Les Atchison who sells their tires and tubes here reports that his April tire business was just about five times as big this year as it was last year. The biggest force toward bringing this country back to a normal state of business prosperity is advertising and salesmanship. Teamed up together they can pull this country out of its state of despondency and bring into circulation the wealth that is now being hoarded and useless so far as production is concerned.

THE WAY OF LIFE

BY BRUCE BARTON

WHETHER WE FEEL THAT WAY OR NOT

A friend of mine tells me that he has recently added to his income by working in the evenings as a press agent for an amusement park.

It was his first contact with that great industry which has grown up out of the rather pathetic eagerness of folks to be happy—to have their minds diverted from their work and worries.

He said: "My job has been hard work, but it taught me one thing that is priceless—how to look pleasant whether I feel that way or not."

It reminded me of a conversation I once had with the press agent of a circus. In describing the freaks in the side show, he remarked: "Every so often we have to send them away. They get sucker sore."

"Sucker sore!" I exclaimed. "That's a new one on me. What's the meaning of sucker sore?"

He explained that, in the parlance of the circus, a customer is a sucker. It is not a derogatory term, merely the conventional phrase.

"The freaks sit there on their raised platforms, listening to the comments of the suckers who press around them all day long," he said. "The living skeleton hears the same rude jokes a hundred thousands of times. The fat lady is poked at with umbrellas, and kidded by smart young fellows who imagine that their wise cracks are something absolutely fresh and new.

"Day after day the freaks put up with it, smiling patiently. But every day the strain of their suppressed emotions grows greater, until finally they want to jump down off their platforms and bite the customers. Then we have to send them away for a rest. They are 'sucker sore.'"

Most of us can sympathize with the freaks; we, too, have been sucker sore. There have come days when our tired nerves rebelled against the demands of the customers who give us a living; when we grumbled at the job for which we should have been grateful; when it seemed that all interest had gone from our work, leaving only dull routine.

It is wise on such days to pull down the desk and walk out of the office, and say: "I will not be back until tomorrow."

But even this cure does not always work, or can not always be applied. Soon or late we have to face that fact that life is a fight, not a picnic. And one of the elements of victory, in the words of my friend, is the capacity to "look pleasant, whether we feel that way or not."

BY "OBSERER"

The Kiss

Coming to work the other morning were two office workers. They reached the subway terminal at times Square and rode up on the escalator, which supplants stairs for the fifty-foot climb. Half-way up, the girl, after a little chaffing, leaned down and planted a kiss lightly on the cheek of her blushing partner.

About a dozen or more witnessed the little comedy and, as became sophisticated New Yorkers, grinned and let it go at that.

A Common Deception

Many are not aware that the two big railroad stations here—the Pennsylvania and Grand Central—are favorite resorts for courting couples who have nowhere else to exchange kisses without becoming noticeable. Hovering near the gates leading to the transcontinental expresses they wait for the stir that always accompanies the leaving of the big trains and, while real travelers are kissing their families good-bye, slip across some surreptitious embraces.

"Bless your heart," one veteran guard remarked, when his attention was called to the practice, "that has been going on for years. I'll bet Adam and Eve used to go back to the gate of the Garden of Eden and spoon!"

When Plan Failed

Besides railroad stations spooners often resort to some ocean liner's pier. Waiting until some big boat is due to sail for Europe and when embraces are naturally more clinging than at railroad terminals, some of these lovers assemble and have an hour or so, by moving from place to place on the quarter-mile pier, in which to exchange tokens of affection.

Recently one couple which had retired into the shadow of some huge packing cases on an exceptionally quiet pier was found by a case hardened dock laborer, right in the middle of an ardent embrace.

"Hey, you two," he called out, "what do you think you're doing? Saying good-bye? Well, try some other pier. This boat here only arrived this morning and won't leave for four days."

They had their signals mixed and were on the wrong pier.

Curious City Crowds

People in the country who listen in on party telephone lines have their counterpart in the big crowds that always assemble here when anything unusual occurs. Hundreds line the sidewalks when a new skyscraper is going up, watching everything from the first scoops to the final hoisting jobs that carry the eye almost up to the clouds.

One wonders when city people find time to do their work. Any day one can go into a moving picture theatre during ordinary working hours, and find the place crowded with men.

Rainy days, in particular, find the show houses crowded, the usual number of spectators being augmented by salesmen who always look on a wet day as a poor one in which to approach a prospect, and properly so.

Still, there is no excuse for the loafing one notices on bright days in this city.

Cruelty of a City

One of the most pitiful tragedies uncovered here in a long time occurred the other day when a woman of 68 was freed on a charge of shoplifting, her second offense of like character.

She is the wife of a former stockbroker, a Princeton graduate who lost his all in a crash five years ago, and since then has been living from hand to mouth. The husband testified that until recently, he had been able to eke out enough to enable the couple to live at second-rate hotels, but even this poor support had vanished.

He told how the couple had been forced to spend their nights in hotel lobbies and railroad station waiting rooms. Finally his wife, driven to desperation, stole a $56 coat from a department store.

Moved by his story, two of the three justices who heard the case, voted to give the woman a suspended sentence.

The profitable pig is the one that never stops growing from farrowing time until market. When pigs are about three weeks old, they will begin to eat some shelled corn if placed in a self-feeder in a creep. Also let them have access to a mineral mixture containing lime and phosphorus. When about five or six weeks old, they will need some form of protein to supplement the corn. Shorts or middlings are good sources of protein. Give them separately—not mixed with the corn. Tankage, fish meal, or old-process linseed meal may be substituted for or fed mixed with, the shorts or middlings.

25c FOUND PURCHASER FOR A 4-ROOM HOUSE

Last week A. E. Foster was telling the Progress editor how hard it was to sell real estate. "I have a nice 4-room house" said Mr. Foster, "that I can sell some fellow on easy terms for $400. Do you think I can find a buyer? I can not."

"I'll put a 25c Classified adv. in The Progress and sell that house for you," said the Progress man. "Go to it" said Mr. Foster in a sort of unbelieving tone of voice.

The adv. appeared Friday. The house was sold Saturday to John Stevens. "Did the adv. find a buyer, I'll say it did" said the seller. "I have had several other applications."

You can sell most anything you have for sale, by advertising in The Progress. Why? It reaches the people and is thoroughly read.

OUR VERSATILE G. O. P. FARM RELIEF POLICY

A striking instance of our versatility in government lies in the Federal Farm Board insistence that farmers cut down the size of crops, while another government branch advises over radio how larger crops can be raised on less ground, and still another branch is building huge dams out West to irrigate more land to raise more crops.

Hints for the Home

by Nancy Hart

Cream Souffle

Make a thick cream sauce of two small tablespoons each of butter and flour and one cup of cream. Stir while cooking. Cool, and add two tablespoons of melted butter and the yolks of five eggs beaten with two tablespoons of sugar and flavored with vanilla. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of six eggs, turn into a buttered mould, tie a sheet of buttered paper over the top, and set the mould in a pan of boiling water to reach to three-fourths its height. Simmer slowly for forty-five minutes, turn out on a hot dish, and serve immediately.

Beef Hash

Measure chopped beef and add an equal amount of chopped cold cooked potatoes. Season with salt, pepper and juice from half a small onion. Melt a tablespoon of butter in a frying pan. Add the mixture with water enough to make it soft. Cover the pan and cook slowly until a crust has formed. Turn like an omelet on a platter.

Hot Chocolate Sauce

In a porcelain saucepan boil together one cup of water and a half cup of granulated sugar for five minutes and then stir in slowly five tablespoons of grated chocolate that has been dissolved in a tablespoon of rich milk or cream. Stir until thick and smooth, remove from the fire, add vanilla flavoring to taste, beat thoroughly and serve hot on vanilla ice cream or cottage pudding.

Nut Croquettes

Put one cup of chopped roasted peanuts into a bowl, add two cups mashed potatoes, a quarter of a teaspoon of grated nutmeg, half a teaspoon of white pepper, one teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of onion juice, one tablespoon of chopped parsley and one large beaten egg. Mix and form into neat croquettes. Dip them in flour, then brush over with beaten egg, roll in fine breadcrumbs and fry in smoking-hot fat.

Sally Lunn

Here's a way to make Sally Lunn: Sift together one pint flour, one and one-half teaspoon baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt. Stir in the beaten yolks of two eggs mixed with one-half cup melted butter. Beat hard, add the whites whipped to a stiff froth. Bake in well-greased muffin pans in a hot oven.

Loaf Cakes

When you bake loaf cake, line pan with waxed paper. But grease the pan under the paper, and rub a little grease—whatever kind you use for the purpose—over the waxed paper. The results will be much better than if you put the paper directly next the pan, or the cake directly on the paper. So much baking is necessary for a loaf cake that any helps to keep it from burning are worth taking.

Growing chicks need calcium phosphate as a supplement to the grain ration. Small quantities of steamed bone meal and ground limestone added to the ration will supply this mineral.

A newspaper cannot build a city. It does, however, furnish the medium through which the merchants of that city can reach out after new business and hold their old customers. The merchants who fail to advertise seldom get new customers and often wonders why his old trade goes to other cities to patronize advertising stores. Think it over, you readers, merchants or anybody else who takes time to read this.

"They are in hiding, because they have sinned."

"But Willie what are you doing?"

"I'm the Lord walking in the garden in the cool of the day" replied Willie who had that morning learned the story of Creation in his Sunday school.

Some bright political observer has remarked that what the Democratic party needs to win in 1932 is a plank in its platform, one end of which will rest in the Great Lakes and the other end in the Arizona deserts. How true, and this applies to a very great extent to hospital operations too.

Advance Dope Grand Theatre

There is "No Limit" to the entertainment you can get out of seeing Clara Bow at the Grand Theatre on Thursday or Friday nights of this week. This is Clara's newest and one of her best pictures.

George Bancroft

Saturday night that master heman of the screen, will give you a real drama of rousing thrills. Geo. Bancroft in "The Derelict" gives you the very best drama on the wide and open seas. Jealousy, rivalry, fog, storm, shipwreck and a big gob of romance will hold your attention from start to finish. Bancroft is one of the really big actors of the present day films. He is big in physique and big in ability.

Claudette and Frederic

We like to hear Claudette Colbert and Frederic March teamed up in a good picture. They are both master artists in the art of expression. The picture "Honor Among Lovers" in which they appear at the Grand Sunday and Monday is of a type that will please the theatre-going public. We saw it some weeks ago and thoroughly enjoyed it. Charlie Ruggles, the tipsy friend of the dignified March and Ginger Rogers help to make of this an All-Star production. You'll love Claudette and though for a time you'll not approve of Frederic, you can change your opinion before the picture reaches its climax.

Will Rogers Coming

Without a doubt one of the big men of America today is Will Rogers. That applies not only to his acting, but to most anything he does. He dines with presidents and governors. He lends a hand to the Red Cross and other meritorious organizations. The homely Oklahoma cowboy numbers his admirers by the millions. He puts his stuff over in great style. His pictures have been just as good as anything else he does. In Mark Twain's story "The Connecticut Yankee" Rogers finds a vehicle that carries along in a very pleasurable way his eccentric humor, philosophy and entertainment. If you saw and enjoyed Roger's other pictures, don't fail to see this. It will be here Tuesday and Wednesday nights of next week.

Man of the World

One night only, Thursday May 14th, comes William Powell in "Man of the World." This fellow Powell has a look on his face, most folks don't like, but he can act. And it's nice to see a stage villain once in a while just to make comparisons and see how much better sort you are.

FIRST EXHIBIT BUILDING CHICAGO'S 1933 WORLD'S FAIR OPENS MAY 16TH

Plans for the formal opening Saturday, May 16, of Fort Dearborn, first exhibit building of Chicago's 1933 World's Fair—were announced here yesterday by Century of Progress officials.

The fort—an exact replica of what was almost the sole white man's habitation in Chicago when it was built in 1803—will be dedicated with impressive ceremony. The program is being prepared by a committee headed by Dean Jas. A. James of Northwestern University.

President Rufus C. Dawes of the exposition will act as chairman. A prominent clergyman will pronounce the invocation.

A replica of the flag which floated above the original fort in 1803 and bearing fifteen stars will be raised to the top of the flag pole, in the center of the fort parade ground, while buglers blow to the colors.

Guarding the fort will be cannon which saw service in the War of 1812 and which have been secured through the efforts of the Smithsonian Institute, the Chicago Historical Society and the War Department. A battery brought down from Fort Sheridan will roar out a twenty-one gun salute.

As part of the ceremony the Black Horse Troop, whose uniforms were designed after those worn by the United States army cavalry in 1812, will parade under the command of Captain Chaucey McCormick.

Barre Hill, Chicago member of the Chicago Civic Opera Company will lead the distinguished audience in singing the Star Spangled Banner.

Dean James will retell the story of Fort Dearborn and its burning by the Indians after the massacre in 1812.

Invitations to the opening are being sent to President Hoover and his cabinet. Other guests will include state governors, members of Congress, Mayor Cermak, city and county officials and representatives of business, civic, scientific, historical and patriotic organizations, the army and navy.

TRUCK DRIVER KILLED SATURDAY AT DUNN CROSSING

The coroner's jury consisted of Carl A. Dick, Elmer DeBruiler, Don Goetz, J. L. Brock and M. E. Sconce and Alfred Mayfield. The Illinois Central was represented at the hearing by its attorney and a stenographer. Mrs. Ruth Larsen took down the evidence for Coroner Robinson.

Witnesses heard were Dave Lowery and Sam Alexander, colored men, Bryan D. Cox, foreman, Herbert P. Majors one of the road men, George Jefferson an onlooker, Oscar Campbell, George Schlessinger, Oscar Patient and Floyd Matheny, workers on the road job. The train crew also testified.

The testimony disclosed that Hahn was engaged in hauling road building material from the Moore Brothers yards in Bethany to the scene of paving. He was driving a big truck with a load of about 8000 pounds. The approach to the crossing from the southwest is bad. It has always been a steep grade and much use had made it rough. Hahn was driving only 5 miles an hour in climbing this grade.

George Schlessinger who had just unloaded passed Hahn and waved to him to try and warn him of the approaching train. Hahn evidently misunderstood the signal.

The two colored men saw the tragedy and made good witnesses. They told plainly what they had seen. They saw the train coming and waved toward Hahn, but he did not see them and as Sam Alexander said "the white boy kept comin' right on." They saw the train strike and saw the body of the unfortunate Hahn flying through the air.

Witnesses testified that the train seemed to be going about 50 miles an hour and that it sounded its whistle before it reached the crossing. It was badly damaged in the collision, but travelled about 500 feet before brought to a stop.

The jury after hearing all the evidence found a verdict as follows: "That Loren Hahn came to his death by being struck by train No. 252, motorcar No. 113 at the Illinois Central R. R. and highway crossing one-half mile east of Dunn, Illinois on May 2, 1931 at 5:10 o'clock."

The crossing where the accident occurred has always been considered one of the most dangerous in this county. After the completion of the hard road there will be no more occasion for using this crossing as travel will follow the hard road which runs on the east side of the railroad tracks from this city to Decatur.

Homer Pifer made a business trip to Mattoon Saturday.

city in February. There are 116 members on the board, four of which are Sullivan ladies. They are: First Vice President—Miss Cora Gauger; International Relations, Mrs. R. B. Foter; General Federation—Mrs. Margaret Todd. The president of each Woman's club is also a member of the board hence Mrs. Hill the new F. I. C. president's name is also on the list.

Mrs. Gladys Whitfield became a member of the club at this meeting.

The program opened by Pledge to the flag.

Mrs. C. R. Hill gave a report of the District Meeting held in Clinton April 23-24. Each number on the program was introduced by an original poem, composed by the president, Miss Cora Gauger.

Miss Gauger next gave a summary of the year's work of the club and also expressed thanks to the officers and club for the cooperation given the past club year.

The music was under supervision of Mrs. G. A. Sentel. The first number was an Italian Peasant Song, entitled, "I Sing Because I Love to Sing" by a quartet composed of Mrs. Frank Newbould, Miss Lulu Clark, Miss Ruth Tabor and Mrs. A. E. Turner. All musical numbers were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Sentel.

The next number, a Song for England was "The Lass with the Delicate Air" by Mrs. Frances Acuff and Miss Ruth Tabor.

Next was a toast to France by Mrs. A. E. McCorvie. Dutch song and dance by Eleanor George and Paul Bryant Jr., accompanied by Mrs. Mabel George on the piano was the next number.

Miss Ruth Tabor, in Japanese costume sang a solo, "Japanese Maiden."

Mrs. Frank Newbould read the concluding number a poem written by Mrs. Hunter of Cowden.

The meeting was then turned over to the new president Mrs. C. R. Hill who made a talk and outlined her plans for the year 1931-1932.

Mrs. Sentel consented to again have charge of the music. Not all of the meetings will be held at the library club room but some will be held in the homes. A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Henderson, for the splendid luncheon served and also thanks was expressed to the outgoing officers.

All members present at the luncheon again signed up for next year. The dining room was decorated very nicely, six tables being decorated to represent six foreign countries, the musical numbers corresponding with the countries represented.

The outgoing and in-coming officers and guests were seated at one long table, others were seated at small tables.

Following the new president's talk the meeting was adjourned.

B. C. Monroe of Decatur spent Sunday in this city.

IN LOCAL COURTS OF LAW AND JUSTICE

Homer Moran was arrested on Thursday night of last week by officer Getz for being drunk. He was fined by Judge Lambrecht.

Fred Ruff was held to the grand jury by Judge Lambrecht on a charge of selling mortgaged property. Ruff bought a team of mules from Harry Kearney and gave a chattel mortgage to insure payment. He is charged with having sold the mules. After court action started Kearney got his mules back.

Clarence Burks got mixed up with the law because of failure to pay board bills. The woman who runs a restaurant in the basement of the L. O. O. F. building gave Judge Edwards a $6.00 board bill to collect. The Judge garnisheed the wages of Burks at the shoe factory. Mrs. Gramblin also had a board bill for $4.00. It was found that the garnishee was not legal and the shoe factory check was recovered through Judge Lambrecht and out of it Mrs. Gramblin got her $4.00. Judge Edwards then put Burks under $300 bond to await the action of the September grand jury. The young man is in jail and the county is boarding him because he cannot earn the money to pay what he owes.

Joe Borders of Lovington was accused by Effie Willoughby of attempted burglary. He was released on his own recognizance to appear for a hearing Thursday morning in Lambrecht's court. He appeared but the complaining witness did not, so he was released.

Claude Nihiser who had been held to serve a jail sentence for issuing a bad check was released when he made proof that he could not pay the fine that had been assessed.

An information has been issued in the county court charging Fred Kirkendoll with wife abandonment.

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS BANQUET AT S. T. H. S. TUESDAY NIGHT AT 7:30

The cooking class of the S.T.H. S. served a simple banquet in honor of the girls' mothers, Tuesday night at 7:00 in the cafeteria room of the High school. A dinner of 3-courses was served and eaten by candlelight. Orchid and green were the colors the room was trimmed in. Lilies, tulips, bleeding hearts, red bud, and crabapple blossoms adorned the room and table.

The purpose of this banquet was to give the girls of the cooking class of '31 a chance to work out the dinner idea taken up in our study of cooking. Our work this year has been divided into three groups: breakfasts, luncheons and dinners. We were busy with cafeteria when the time for practicing luncheons came along and we did not get to carry out that experiment, but when we studied dinners we decided that we would like to experiment on our mothers, and from the way the banquet went along, our experiment was successful. We did not try to make this banquet an elaborate affair, because we have learned that it does not take the most expensive articles to make the most delicious dinner. We are ordinary people and we have learned to cook ordinary foods.

The program was as follows:

Welcome—Faye Bieber.

LEGISLATORS PLANNING NEW CONGRESS DISTRICTS

The Legislature in session at Springfield is wrestling with the problem of redistricting the downstate for Congressional representation. Several lineups have been suggested. The latest one takes Coles and Shelby—County away from Moultrie's district and puts them into another district. Moultrie is put into what is to be known as the 21st district. In place of Coles and Shelby, McLean county is placed in this district, and greatly strengthens the Republican lineup. Unless the present depression converts many voters to become Democrats, Moultrie will be about the only Democratic county in this 21st district. All the other counties are rated as being preponderantly Republican. Shelby and Coles are in a district that will be considerably Democratic.

The other counties in the 21st district besides Moultrie are McLean, Dewitt, Champaign, Piatt, Macon and Douglas.

MRS. JOSHUA COPELAND FORMER RESIDENT DIED IN COLORADO

Mrs. Joshua Copeland, who with her husband and family left here 21 years ago for Rocky Ford, Colorado, died at her home there on Thursday of last week.

The remains were shipped to the Robinson funeral home in this city and services were held Sunday afternoon in charge of Rev. Leland Lawrence of the M. E. church. Burial was in Greenhill cemetery. The following acquaintances and friends of the Copeland family served as pall bearers: Thomas Frantz, Farley Young, A. D. Miller, Charles Wood, Sam B. Hall and J. A. Powell.

Mrs. Copeland's maiden name was Frances Elizabeth Southern and she was born near Shelbyville Sept. 25, 1855. She married Joshua Copeland on April 2, 1874. They went to farming in the Wood neighborhood northwest of this city and were noted for their fine dairy cattle. The health of the family made it advisable to move to Colorado.

FARM DECREASE IN VALUES SHOWN BY CENSUS REPORTS

over 1000 acres. There are 190 farms of over 1000 acres in the state.

Of the acreage of farm land 21,222,399 is listed as crop land; 7,524,726 as pasture land. There are about 2,000,000 acres of woodland pasture and 730,513 acres of woodland, not pastured. Land not classified amounts to 1,220,787 A.

In the year 1929 Illinois had a corn acreage of 7,774,195 acres with a crop of 275,854,117 bu.; 3,856,268 acres of oats with a yield of 128,269,650 bushels. The wheat acreage of 1929 was only about half of what it had been ten years before. The 1929 yield was 30,164,109 bushels. In 1919 it was about 71,000,000 bushels.

The report shows that in 1920 there were 1,296,852 horses and 168,274 mules in Illinois. In 1930 this number had been reduced to only 813,602 horses and 132,921 mules. It shows that the decrease in the mule populations has not been as rapid as with horses.

In 1920 Illinois had 2,788,238 head of all cattle. In 1930 this had been reduced to 1,962,684. The biggest decrease was in feeder cattle. There were 917,440 milk cows in 1930 as compared to 957,318 in 1920.

The census takers found only about half as many hogs in 1930 as they did in 1920. The figures are 1920—4,639,182; 1930—2,497,573.

Illinois farms had 25,120,643 chickens in 1920 and just ten years later, in 1920, the number was only 22,123,839.

This report plainly shows the farm depression of 1930. In 1920 production on Illinois farms was near peak record. Everything was booming with after-war inflation. Every available acre of land was being cultivated; all farms were stocked well with working animals, cattle, hogs and chickens. The farm values have decreased with decrease in prices that can be realized for farm products. The hay and oats farmer has lost some of his best customers in the decrease of nearly a half million head in horses and mules. Power farming has displaced these animals and gasoline and oil take the place in the farmers feed bill formerly occupied by oats, hay and corn. Illinois yearly production of hay has not varied much in ten years and is given at about 3,000,000 tons. Only about half as much corn finds its way into the silo as was the case ten years ago, due no doubt to the big increase in the state's cattle.

Another chapter was written Thursday night in the matter of locating Route 132 from its present paved terminus near the Illinois Masonic Home toward Mattoon. The new city council in Mattoon by a vote of 8 to 4 approved the proposed routing through Cooks Mills and past Representative Brewster's farms. Four of the members of the council voted against the action. This is the route that was to have been surveyed and paved this summer, but was side-tracked by the state highway officials when Mattoon and other Coles county residents, ceased to abide by their earlier action to let the state do the locating, and began a strenuous campaign to take the road east through Cooks Mills. Allenville and Coles residents are opposed to such routing and insist that the location of the road follow the shortest route which will be from the Masonic Home south to Allenville and thence to Mattoon along the I. C. tracks. Because of all this controversy it is practically certain that the road will not be built this year and it is gravely doubtful as to whether or not there will even be a survey. The state can find plenty of roads where the location is not in controversy and these are the roads that are being built with the funds available.

HOOVER COMMENDS BETTER HOMES WEEK

The White House this morning gave out the following statement of the President regarding "Better Homes Movement."

"I cordially commend to all the people the observance of Better Homes Week. The Better Homes movement has for several years played a highly important part in encouraging a more beautiful home architecture, improved decoration of house interiors, more practical kitchen arrangement, better planning of gardens and in every way an enhancement of the comfort and attractiveness of home life. Everything that can be done to encourage home ownership and to make home life pleasanter is a distinct contribution not only to social well-being but to the highest spiritual values of life. The Better Homes Movement has done distinguished service in this field and deserves the warmest support of all our people."

BOOK'S PLEA FOR PAROLE IS DENIED

Charleston, Ill., Apr. 30.—Judge Bristow today in the circuit court denied the motion made by Chas. H. Fletcher of Mattoon to quash the indictment returned by the grand jury against Fred H. Book of Mattoon. Book pleaded guilty to burning his own residence property in Mattoon and was sentenced from one to 20 years in prison. He asked that he be paroled. The sentence was reaffirmed and the plea for a parole was denied.

Mr. Fletcher alleged that the law under which Book was indicted is unconstitutional and averred that a man has a right to burn down his own property if he wants to when no claim for insurance is made.

Judge Bristow held that the arson laws of New Jersey and Tennessee, of which the Illinois law is said to be almost, a verbatim copy have been held constitutional and as a result the Illinois law is constitutional also.

DUNN TO BE PROSPEROUS ROAD SIDE VILLAGE

Some people have had the idea that the name of the village of Dunn, between Sullivan and Bethany ought to have been spelled "done" long time ago. They were simply mistaken. That town is not "done" but it is up and coming. Route 132 has put the place on the map. Elam Love, who has been conducting a store there has plenty of plans which he is putting into effect. He will build a filling station and a wayside sale ground for all kinds of truck, eggs, etc.

Miss Ruby Shipman is planning to build a store. Chesny Standerfer is building a filling station and Gaugh Brothers are also figuring on a business of that kind. There is little prospect, however, that the elevator will be put back to work.

SEVENTH INSTALLMENT

The kid's face was bleak and old when he turned from the bed and Nellie's mother kneeling beside it, her arms thrown out and clutching her dead with the tenseness of despair. Nellie was holding herself calm in spite of her horror. The kid saw her in the kitchen, dipping water into the washbasin on the bench beside the back door. But as he went out to wash her father's life blood from his hands, he remembered her words and halted, looking at her strangely.

"What call have you got to think I done it?" he demanded. "He was shot in the back, from some way up the hill. I was awwn the road coming along by the stack. You'll can go look at the haws tracks and see foh yos'f."

"I don't have to. I know what made me say that. Mr.—I know you didn't do it."

"Reeves," said the kid flushing a little. "Bob Reeves is my name, Miss—"

"Murray," said the girl, and put up a hand to smooth her hair. "What shall we do?" She bit her lips, fighting back tears, and the color crept into her cheeks as she met the kid's grave look.

"I'll stay, heah, Miss Murray, while you'll go foh help. I'd go myse'f, but I couldn't do no good. Some nestah would try and shoot me foh a Poole ridah, I reckon. If theah's a hawsse you'll can ride—"

"I could ride Prince, but he's up in the pasture, and he's awful mean to catch."

"I reckon I can get 'im. My hawsse is plumb foolish ovah any ridah but me, or I'd let you'll take 'im."

"No, you'll have to be ready to go before any one gets here. Prince is the sorrel with one white eye. Oh, hurry!"

He rode into the pasture and roped the sorrel with the white eye, found a sidesaddle and put it on with meticulous care.

The girl looked at him, toward the cabin where her mother was weeping in great, heavy, heart-breaking sobs.

"I'm—we're much obliged, Mr. Reeves. You—you always come when I—when we need help. Promise you won't stay till they come back with me."

"I promise to go—but I can't promise I won't come back."

He watched her ride off at a gallop, her gingham skirt whipping out beside the sorrel's flanks, her yellow braid swinging in the breeze.

His glance fell then to the trampled dirt under his feet, and the bleak look returned to his face and he scanned the ridge. Its side was mostly brushy and with a stunted tree growing here and there, but at the top there was a rough outcropping of brown sandstone with rock slabs tilted this way and that.

The kid was sure the killer had waited behind those rocks; just as sure as if he had seen him there. But he didn't go up right then to prove it. He went into the house instead and stood with his hat in his hand, looking down at the dead man and at the woman huddled on the floor beside the bed.

The kid stood looking down at her for a minute.

He took the two tin water buckets and followed a path from the back door to a spring, and brought back fresh water. She looked at him then; looked at him long before she took the glass and drank.

"You're a good boy," she said. "Where's Nellie?" She stared around her.

The kid told her. She did not seem to listen, but returned to her weeping.

The kid wished she would not cry like that; she sounded so much like his mother when Pap lay on the bed under a sheet. Killers oughta be made to sit and listen to the widows of the men they shoot in the back.

The kid turned on the doorstep and leaned his head in at the doorway.

"Good-by, Ma'am," he called softly. "Reckon I'll have to be going now."

"Good-by," se answered brokenly. "Look out them Poole killers don't get you!"

"Shoh will," said the kid. Promised Nellie he'd go. Somehow it made a bond between them which the kid would never break. He was going because Nellie made him promise. And he was going to hunt down the killer because it was Nellie's old pappy he had shot. Insolence leered up at the kid from every boot mark behind the tilted slabs of rock. The killer had not even tried to scuff out his tracks with a side-wise drag of the foot.

The kid's yees went seeking here and there. Killer as careless as this—and as sure of Poole protection—pears like he might leave some sign more than boot tracks. Been smoking up here too.

The kid's thoughts halted as abruptly as his body. Even his heart stopped dead still in his chest; or it least it felt as if it had. The blood froze in his veins so that his face had a pinched, old look. He bent stiffly with a slow reluctance, utterly unlike himself, and picked up something here, over there another something, and he stood up, looking at them in the palm of his hand.

Two pieces of broken match! Two pieces fitting together—match snapped in the fingers and dropped. Babe! Babe, a Poole killer!

Bushwhacking nesters from behind rocks; that's what he was doing. Playing the kid for a sucker. Lay on the bunk, pretending he was reading storybooks all evening and rode unseeingly away from that hellish spot, where he had seen the fair face of friendship blacken and shrink to a grinning death's head before him.

He ought to have known, that first day. He ought to have seen that Babe Garner had fired that rifle shot not to save the kid's life, but because he wanted to make certain Nate Wheeler was dead.

Up on the Bench there the other day, riding over to talk to Jess Markel. Babe lied and the kid knew he lied—and then had to go and swallow what Babe told him about that talk. Babe more'n likely told Jess all about Tiger Eye Reeves, and helped Jess plan how he could get him. Damn fool—let Babe lie him blind. A cold-blooded killer like that!

Kill the kid some of these days, more'n likely.

He remembered the look on Babe's face as he stood outside the Poole mess-house, watching Jess Markel go by with his bandaged hands.

Babe had lighted a cigarette. He snapped the match in two—like these pieces, here in the kid's palm—and looked at the kid and said he'd rather be dead than crippled like that.

The kid's clenched hand rested on the saddle horn and his head was bowed, his cleft chin resting on the soft folds of his silk neckerchief. His eyes were staring. He saw Babe, in a new and terrible guise.

He was seeing Babe standing by the kitchen table, looking down at his shattered knuckles, and he was hearing Babe say, "Put a bullet through my damn brain, Tiger Eye! I'd rather be dead than like this." He was seeing a bullet hole turn bluish in Babe's forehead!

The kid started and looked around like one suddenly awakened from a nightmare. He was on the last slope of the ridge running up to the tiny walled-in oasis where Babe's cabin stood snugly against a split peak.

He gave himself a little shake, snapped back to clear and pitiless thinking. He lifted his head, pursed his stiffened lips and whistled the signal of all Poole riders. Babe pulled open the door and stood there grinning as the kid rode up. The kid grinned back at Babe, but his eyes gave their warning. His blue left eye was squinting and the amber right eye was opened full and had the baleful stare of a tiger stalking his kill.

"Well, yuh made it ahead of the storm," Babe called cheerfully, as the kid swung down at the door. "Fraid yuh might get caught out, Tiger Eye. Goin' to be a rip snorter, when it gets here."

The kid turned and looked where a greenish-black cloud mass came coiling up from the southwest.

He brushed past him and went inside, turning to face Babe.

"What's the matter, Tiger Eye?" "Yes, suh. Right smalt happened, Babe. A nestah got killed."

Babe's cold gray eyes scrutinized the kid. He closed the door against a puff of wind, leaned his back against it, his thumbs hooked inside his cartridge belt. The kid's vivid picture of him revised itself in certain details with pitiless accuracy. Babe would not fall between the stove and table. He would topple over toward the bunk, more'n likely.

"Who was it, d'yuh know? Or maybe yuh ain't tellin'."

"Old Pappy Murray, shot in the back."

"Hunh. Well—" Babe hesitated. "—he's a nestah and a cow thief. He had it comin', Tiger Eye."

"He nevah had it comin' in front of his own doah. The killah cached himse'f behind a ledge up awn the hill. Left his boot tracks theah—and a rifle shell."

"Yeah? Well—"

O. F. DONER HOLDS A SUCCESSFUL OPENING

From the glowing reports of dealer opening days held in all parts of the country, we cannot help but be impressed with the great interest modern, progressive farmers are taking in machinery to reduce the cost of crop production. Just recently an opening day was staged by our hustling dealer O. F. Doner of Sullivan, Illinois, which was reported to us by Salesman J. A. St. John of the Rockford Branch.

Salesman St. John tells us that 268 interested farmers and their wives accepted Dealer Doner's invitation and spent a very enjoyable afternoon and evening as his guests. They enjoyed the various talks, the motion pictures and inspected the machinery he had on display. Many good prospects were developed, and Mr. Doner expects to sell at least three tractors in the near future, these sales developed directly from this program.

One of the outstanding features of the program was the reading of "History of Old Abe." This proved such a success that it was asked for a second time. There were prize drawings and an auction. At the auction a Case corn planter was "knocked down" to Dewey VanGundy. Several nearby dealers and their wives came to town to help the program along.

Dealer Doner has been a Case dealer less than two years. In the year of 1930, his volume of business went well over $30,000. He is a 100 per cent Case dealer. The harder the times are, the harder he works to get more business. He has one of the finest places of business in the entire state of Illinois. Dealer Doner issues a standing invitation to all Case dealers who might be near Sullivan, Illinois to drop in and call upon him at any time. We believe it would be like a spring tonic to anyone to get a bit of his loyal and enthusiastic pep into our system.

—The Case Eagle

Now— You can get CASE Quality

—in a Smaller Combine

THE widely known quality of Case Combines as well as the fast, low-cost, trouble-free harvesting for which they have become famous can now be had in a smaller combine.

The new Case Model "B" Combine comes with an 8, 10 or 12 ft. cutter bar. Except for the size, it has all the advantages found in the larger Case machines, balanced header quickly raised or lowered to cut uneven grain—universal joint in main axle leaving sickle free to get the grain in low spots—correctly distributed weight over large, easy-rolling wheels for light draft and easy, even pulling—high, centrally located platform from where operator has full vision of what's going on—conveniently placed grain bin that empties fast by gravity—and many other features.

If you're looking for ways and means to make more money this year, the way to start is by cutting your harvesting costs. You can do that with this new Case Combine. Come in and let us tell you more about it and other Case farm machines.
