75TH YEAR NO. 28

No Chautauqua For Sullivan This Summer

Hard Times and Lack of Advance Ticket Sales Makes Annual Entertainment Program Inadvisable.

Sullivan will have no Chautauqua, according to present indications.

J. Oscar Hall, manager of the Loar Chautauqua Company of Bloomington, which has in past years furnished the talent for the local Chautauqua, was here some weeks ago conferring with Mrs. Webb Tichenor, president and other officials elected to the Chautauqua board last summer.

After reviewing the local situation Mr. Hall stated that he would let the Sullivan folks know in the near future whether it would be possible to have a Chautauqua here. He has not been heard from.

The advance ticket sale last summer was about 200 tickets short of requirement. Business conditions make it inadvisable to start another advance selling campaign. The Loar Company has for many years always stated that Sullivan's Chautauqua to them was a losing proposition.

Interest in the local Chautauqua has been dwindling from year to year. This is the condition of Chautauquas in most cities. Shelbyville, long famous for its wonderful Chautauqua program, could no longer make a success of it and will have no session this summer.

BASEBALL

Ott Kinsel's Bruce Sluggers won a game and lost a game in Independence week celebrations. Saturday they defeated Walter Lane's Shell Nine on the city diamond 14 to 3.

On Sunday a Pierson Nine invaded Bruce and blanked the Sluggers while they garnered 12 runs for themselves. Pierson had 16 hits to 4 for Bruce. Misenheimer, pitching for Bruce fanned 10 Pierson batters, but the visitors had a combination play that killed many a Bruce batsman ere he reached first base. There was quite a bit of dissatisfaction with the Pierson umpire, but manager Kinsel kept his boys batting right along.

Tuesday night of this week a Brown Shoe Factory team went to Bruce. Ott had three of his regular players and filled in with six pickups. The shoe makers took a 3 to 2 victory.

Next Sunday Lake City's team will be a welcome visitor on the Kinsel diamond. These boys are prime favorites with Bruce people. They play a snappy game of ball. Twice this season Bruce has beaten them, but the games were always high class. Lake City manager has notified Manager Kinsel that they are coming loaded Sunday. They have gone back into early baseball history and induced Pete Chippis and Fritz Poland to join their team for the day and Dennis, mighty Dennis, will do the pitching. A pitching battle between Dennis and Misenheimer is looming on the horizon. It will be a ball game worth seeing.

On Sunday, July 19th the long expected clash between the Bruce and Gays teams will take place. Gays has a peppy team and while Bruce is not admitting defeat, nevertheless they know they will have to slug some to give the Gays boys the short end of the score.

FISHING IN MICHIGAN

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Roney and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Patterson left Saturday evening for Foster City, Michigan where they are spending the week fishing. They expect to return home Sunday, passing through Chicago where they will pick up the Patterson's daughter, Miss Jacqueline, who is going there this week end with her grandmother Mrs. Cash Green for a visit with relatives. Mrs. Green will remain in Chicago for a while visiting with her son Charles and family and her daughter Miss Emma Green.

GOT GROCERIES

On July 4th while Mr. and Mrs. Walter Delana were absent from their home south of Allenville a thief visited the place and stole a 100-pound sack of sugar and two hams.

HARRY BATHE ILL

Harry Bathe, one of the Wadley Company drivers has been ill at his home for the past two weeks. The Doctor has pronounced his ailment as typhoid.

TWO WERE FINED FOR BEING DRUNK

Sheriff Lamsden Sunday arrested John Riggins and Toots Turner of the Kingman neighborhood, south of here, on charges of being drunk and disorderly. The men had been fishing and absorbed much of the fluid that cheers. After their arrest they were locked up until Monday morning when they appeared in Judge Lambrecht's court, entered pleas of guilty and each paid a fine and costs amounting to $8.40.

169 YOUNG PEOPLE HAD PICNIC HERE MONDAY NIGHT

The Shelby-Moultrie Young People's Association held its July meeting Monday night in Wyman park in this city. A feature of the meeting was a big picnic supper.

In the afternoon the boys played baseball on the City Athletic field. The girls also played a "soft-ball" game.

The entertainment in the evening consisted of a short program in the studio of the Y. P. A. where the announcer introduced Jimmie Reynolds who played a few numbers. Francis Witts gave a talk on "Don't Use Big Words."

The next meeting will be held in Lovington on the first Monday night in September.

The attendance Monday night, totalled 169, the following churches being represented: Sullivan 34, Shelbyville 32, Lovington 26, Bethany 23, Windsor 12, Dalton City 9, Gays 8, Smyser 7, Ash Grove 5, Cowden 5, Jonathan Creek 4, Decatur 4.

CHURCH OF GOD TO HAVE VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

Daily Vacation Bible School will open Monday morning July 27 at 9:00 at the Church of God, corner Route 32 and Adams St. Any children between the ages of 4 and 12 are welcome to attend. There will be no fees charged but a free will offering will be taken. Children please bring pencil, crayolas and scissors and testament if convenient to do so. Sessions will be held each day from Monday to Friday inclusive: for two weeks, hours 9 to 11:30.

MISSIONARY CIRCLE AT JONATHAN CREEK CHURCH

The young people of Jonathan Creek church met Sunday evening and organized a Missionary circle. Mrs. Hopper will be their leader with Mrs. N. R. Powell to assist her. The Circle will meet the first Thursday night in each month.

Officers elected are: Hugh Righter, President. Lola Slover, Vice President. Merle Powell, Secretary. Lena Milam, Asst. Secretary. Loyde Davis, Treasurer. Reta Powell, Pianist.

SULLIVAN GOLFERS VISITED CHARLESTON

Charleston, Ill., July 7th (Special to the Progress) The Charleston golf course was honored today when William A. Gardner and James Lehman of Sullivan and Lute Hudson of Bethany played here. These three men, especially Mr. Gardner, are among the best known golfers of Central Illinois. The visit was supposed to be secret as the players were on a scouting expedition to get the lay of the land for the tournament which Sullivan will play here in the near future.

SULLIVAN MARKETS

Wheat price for No. 2 grain on Thursday was down to 39c per bushel. Last year at this time it was 74c per bushel. Several carloads have already been shipped. The grain is fairly good and yields reported range from 25 to 35 bushels per acre. Crop reports from Kansas indicate a bumper crop and this has slumped the market. Canada and the northwest where the wheat harvest comes later has had unfavorable weather and will have a short crop. Illinois and other midwestern states have big crops. It is hard to predict how low the price may go. This year's crop is being added to a big surplus that has for some years demoralized the market.

Elevators are offering to buy new oats at 18c per bushel. The oats was hurt some by the extremely hot weather which hastened the harvest. White corn is 49c and yellow is 47c. This is a drop of about 3c a bushel from last week's price.

Old hens are 9c to 13c if called for; 1c higher if brought to the plant here in town; springs are 12c to 20c and the 1c additional also applies. Eggs are 12c flat; butter-fat is 19c.

ARREST TWO ON CHARGE OF BURNING LOVELESS BARN

Clyde Kirkendoll and Homer Moran are in the county jail charged with having burned the Loveless barn several weeks ago. They were arrested Saturday morning and taken before Judge Lambrecht who placed them under $1500 bond to appear for a preliminary hearing Friday morning.

The boys have been doing a lot of talking to relatives and it appears that they went to the barn and slaughter house, which is located southeast of this city, to steal hides. They were unable to get into the slaughter house and then went into the barn. They found nothing there of value so they developed a pique and started a fire which destroyed the barn and an adjoining shed.

Since being taken into custody they have been accusing each other. Moran seems unable to keep out of trouble. He has been in the reform school and penal farm and has many jail days on his record. Kirkendoll has for some time been suspected of being implicated in small thefts and pilfering that has been going on.

MATTOON MASONS HERE FOR JULY 4TH

About 150 members of the Mattoon Masonic Lodge last week notified C. F. McClure local secretary that they and their families expected to be here for July 4th and wanted arrangements made so that they could have a picnic supper in Wyman Park. Because of the big celebration and carnival this was impossible but arrangements were made so they could spread their supper on the High School grounds and they were told to "come on". They did and had a most enjoyable time. Local Masons were hosts to the visitors.

NORMAN JONES WINS JUDICIAL NOMINATION

Judge Norman Jones of Greene County was nominated for Judge of the Supreme Court by the Democrats of the 2nd district in convention at Vandalia this week. There were four candidates and 78 ballots were required before a winner emerged from the deadlock. The strongest contender next to Judge Jones was Judge F. R. Dove of Shelbyville. The election of a judge in this district is necessary to fill the unexpired term of Judge Farmer who resigned. Judge Jones was the Democratic candidate for governor some years ago.

—Mrs. Mae Ekiss, daughter Adeline, and Miss Ada Swisher are spending several weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Corbin.

—Mrs. Orville McGuire who is in the St. John's sanatorium near Springfield is improving. Mr. McGuire spent the Fourth with her.

—Mrs. Pearl Loy returned from the Memorial hospital in Mattoon last Thursday. She is not able to be up and around yet.

CHRISTIAN CHURCHES ANNUAL MEETING JULY 19

President S. H. Curry of the Association of Christian churches of Moultrie county has announced that the annual all-day meeting and services will be held this year in the Lovington City Park on Sunday, July 19th. The meetings heretofore have been in Freeland Grove auditorium, but this year there was no open Sunday date in July so the meeting will be held in Lovington.

START POURING CONCRETE RT. 133, MONDAY, JULY 20

Contractor Feutz who is building the Lovington to Arthur road expects to start pouring concrete a week from Monday. Russell Harshman is busily engaged in building bridges and culverts. The right of way is being cleared and graded. Hedge rows are being pulled. Pipe line is being laid to get water from a drainage ditch and the industrial railway is also being laid. Material headquarters have been established on the David Beachy place adjoining the C & E I R. R. tracks.

MANY FUNCTIONS IN HONOR OF GUESTS FROM CALIFORNIA

Mrs. Eleanor Palmer Jenkins and daughter Grace of San Pedro, California arrived here Wednesday night of last week for a visit with relatives and friends.

Saturday and Sunday there was a family reunion at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Palmer. All the immediate relatives were present except Art Elder and family of Redwing, Minnesota and Mrs. Joe Bell of California. Out of town folks present were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Miller and family of Terre Haute, Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Harsh and family and Harry Palmer of Chicago and Homer Palmer of Springfield. On Saturday there were 29 at the Palmer home and on Sunday there were 26.

—Mrs. J. H. Smith entertained at the Carr tea room in Decatur on Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Jenkins. Those present were Mrs. Sam Palmer, Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. Pearl Harsh, Mrs. A. W. Davis, Mrs. Mayme Palmer and Mrs. J. H. Smith.

—Mrs. Cora Gauger entertained Mrs. Jenkins and the following guests Wednesday: Mrs. Reta Harsh, Mrs. Mayme Palmer, Miss Vina Elder, Mrs. Will Eden and daughter Jean and friend of St. Louis.

On Thursday of next week Mrs. A. W. Davis will entertain three tables at bridge at her home in Decatur in honor of her sister, Mrs. Jenkins.

—Mrs. William McCaig and son William of South Easton, Massachusetts arrived here Friday afternoon and are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ab Womack. Mr. McCaig expects to arrive here next week.

CAPITOL CHEVROLET SALES BUYS GROTE GARAGE BUILDING

A deal has been closed whereby the Capitol Chevrolet Sales has bought the garage building now occupied by the Grote Garage. This is one of the biggest and best buildings of this kind in this part of the state.

The new owner expects to move into it about November 1st when the lease expires on the Todd building where Capitol Chevrolet has been located since opening for business here.

FRIENDS OF LEONARD VISIT MOULTRIE COUNTY WEDNESDAY, JULY 8

A caravan in the interests of Frank B. Leonard's candidacy for Circuit Judge was conducted in Moultrie county Wednesday, July 8th. Representatives of both counties participated. In the party from Champaign county were Ashton Campbell, Chairman; L. F. Wingard, Edward Collard and Edward Lyons. The Moultrie county lawyers were Judge George A. Sentel, Judge Oscar F. Cochran, Hon. A. A. Brown, Hon. Francis W. Purvis. The itinerary included Sullivan, Bethany, Dalton City, Lake City, Lovington, Arthur, Gays and Kirksville.

INSURANCE MAN WON IN JUNE CONTEST

Clyde F. Cusick, general manager for Moultrie county for the Country Life Insurance Company this week received a $45 15-jewel Waltham ladies wrist watch. This was awarded him as a prize by the company for writing 22 policies in June which totalled $44,000.

The Country Life Insurance company is the Farm Bureau company, sponsored by the I. A. A. The company headquarters are in Chicago. Few county managers in the state secured these desirable prizes.

HOMER DYER IN JAIL FOR SELLING TRUCK

Homer Dyer of Lovington was arrested last week charged with having sold a mortgaged truck. He bought the truck from a man named Gilmore at Atwood and then traded it to G. W. Bryant. Mr. Bryant sold it to another party. Since Mr. Gilmore filed his complaint, the truck has been recovered by Mr. Bryant and placed in custody of a constable. A hearing in the matter will be held in Lovington Friday morning. Mr. Dyer has been in jail since his arrest.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McLaughlin, and Frank Newbould motored to Indianapolis, Ind., Sunday. Mrs. Newbould accompanied by her son Gerald and William Heacock motored to that city the latter part of last week where she visited her daughter, Mrs. Leland Glasgow and family.

—The Belle Hopper Missionary society will meet Monday night with Mrs. Inez Kelso.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR FATHER AND DAUGHTER

A birthday surprise dinner for Acel Bragg and his daughter Martha was given in Wyman Park Sunday. Both the birthday anniversaries were July 3rd. Those present at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. William Kirkwood and son, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sporleder and children, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Hudson and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Bragg and family, Lloyd Leeds, Acel Bragg and family, Mrs. Jane Swank and Miss Vava Bragg.

LUTHERAN CHURCH TO HOLD SERVICES IN SULLIVAN

Encouraged by the results of a church census of the city of Sullivan, the Lutheran church has arranged for services to be held at Freeland Grove pavilion, beginning next Sunday evening, July 12, at eight o'clock, and regularly thereafter. The Lutheran Missouri Synod is sponsoring these services and Rev. Stuebe, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church of Strasburg is actively in charge. As announced in their advertisement on another page of this paper, a vacation Bible school is planned for the three weeks from July 13 to 31. No tuition will be charged, and all children of elementary school age may enroll.

REV. STUEBE

The Lutheran church is one of the largest Protestant church bodies, and is represented in every state of the Union, as well as in Canada and in foreign countries. Churches of this faith nearby are located in Charleston, Mattoon, Tuscola, Stewardson, Shelbyville, Pana, and two at Strasburg. The Lutheran church accepts the Bible as the only rule of life and faith and stresses the vicarious atonement as the chief doctrine of Scripture.

BOARD OF REVIEW BUSILY AT WORK

The Moultrie County Board of Review is busily at work on the assessor's books. The first session of the board was on Monday of this week. The board had a pleasant surprise on the first day when a taxpayer walked in and filled out a personal property schedule for $7000.

The members of the board are U. G. Dazey, Homer Freeland and J. N. Foster. Geo. A. Daugherty is secretary.

NEW LABOR LAW DELAYS ROAD CONTRACT LETTING

The bill recently passed by the Legislature and signed by Governor Emmerson providing that all labor on state road contracts be on an 8-hour basis has thrown a monkey wrench in contractors plans. This law applies to all contracts let after July 1st.

There was to have been a big letting July 15th. In order to give contractors more time to figure on the new basis this letting has been indefinitely postponed.

TAME CROW

A tame crow made its appearance in this city Thursday morning. It visited for a while with people in front of the Breissler tire shop. It was fed and watered. It seemed entirely unafraid of human beings.

Thousands Here For Celebration On 4th Of July

Big Annual Celebration Well Attended. Fireworks Program at Night Met with Hearty Approval.

Sullivan's 4th of July celebration was a big success, in number of those attending. Some estimate the night crowd as the biggest ever seen here for a similar occasion. The American Legion was in charge.

The weather was ideal. During the day the carnival attracted many and in the afternoon the baseball game and the swimming contests were among the major features of entertainment.

Early in the evening people started parking themselves in desirable places on the north, west and south banks of Wyman Lake to view the fireworks. The band entertained the waiting celebrators.

The fireworks display had been built on the east dam of the lake. A Chicago company furnished it this year and the general opinion seems to be that it was the biggest and best display ever shown here.

A number of state highway officers were here to help handle the traffic. There were no accidents—no arrests. Those running refreshment and concession stands did a big business. Hundreds played miniature golf on Freeland Fairways.

WHAT'S ALL THIS T. B. CHECKING UP ABOUT?

Some livestock owners are getting rather puzzled about what all this T. B. check up work is about. Doc Drum has been testing cattle in this county for some years. Then along comes Doc Lewis and does some testing and checking up. That's not all, but some portly gent who claims to also be checking up is now going the rounds. What is all this costing and who is paying the bill? One farmer remarked Wednesday: "I believe this cattle T. B. testing was a great thing when it started. Now it seems it's just an excuse to keep a lot of fellows on the payroll checking up and then having others check up on the first checker up etc., etc."

MRS. PEADRO'S MOTHER FOUND DEAD IN BED

Mrs. S. E. Fischer, mother of Mrs. Irtys Peadro of this community, was found dead in bed at her home in Ina, Illinois Saturday morning. She was past 63 years of age. Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon.

She leaves her husband, one son, Harold Fisher of East Alton; three daughters, Mrs. Peadro of this city, Mrs. Vada Hays of Benton and Mrs. Effie Shock of Covington, Kentucky.

The Peadro family and Mrs. James Pifer of this city went to Ina to attend the funeral services.

TWO FIRE ALARMS

The fire department was called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sams above the bakery on the south side of the square Tuesday morning. An oil stove had started blazing. The room was badly smoked up and some of the paper was burned off the walls.

Wednesday morning a false alarm sent the department into the west end of the city. There was no fire.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Harold DeHart 25, Bertha Abbott, 16, both of Bruce. Because of the age of the bride, her mother, Mrs. B. F. Abbott accompanied the couple and gave her consent to issuing the license. Judge Lambrecht performed the marriage ceremony on the 4th of July.

A license was issued Friday to Everett V. Webb 25 of Gays and Dorothy Alice Martin 32 of Coles.

TEACHERS EXAMINATION

An examination for teachers certificates will be held by county superintendent of schools, Mrs. Nettie L. Roughton at her office in the court house Thursday and Friday, July 23rd and 24th.

COVERED DISH LUNCHEON

The ladies of the Country Club will have a covered dish luncheon and social program at the club house Tuesday afternoon.

FOR JUDGE OF THE CIRCUIT COURT
SIXTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT☒ Francis E. Williamson

Election Monday, July 20th.

Editorial

Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways and be wise;

Which having no guide, overseer, or ruler,
Provideth her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in the harvest.

How long wilt thou sleep, O sluggard? When wilt thou arise out of thy sleep,

Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep:

So shalt thy poverty come as one who travelleth, and thy want as an armed man. —Proverbs VI 6:11.

BUILDERS OF MEN

It's wonderful for men to build,
With hammer, drill and forge,
A bridge to span the cataract
That rushes thro' the gorge,
It's wonderful to build a town
With massive buildings tower,
Where giant engines pull and puff
And motors spin with power.It's wonderful to write a book,
To paint an amber sky,
To give the world those deathless things
That never fade or die;
But still more wonderful to build
The women and the men,
Who build the cities, span the floods
Or wield the brush and pen.More wonderful to build a soul,
To have a teacher's part
In moulding dreams and hopes that stir
The adolescent heart;
And when they win, thro' stress and strain,
More wonderful to be
The faithful teacher who can say:
"They went to school to me."

Len Small -- Will He Run?

What's Len Small got in mind? That's a question that is bothering Illinois Republican politicians considerably right now.

Oscar Carlstrom and a fellow from Chicago by the name of Malone are announced candidates for the Republican nomination for governor next spring. The combined appeal of the army of pay-rollers is expected to put Governor Emmerson back in the running for a second term. A few ambitious Chicago politicians are eyeing the situation and some of them may flop into the primary swim.

It is quite generally conceded that if Len Small and the ex-payrollers have kept warm in the faith of a comeback, the man from Kankakee would stand a good chance to beat a field of four or more entries.

All of this is rather interesting to a certain point. That point is the decision of the Republican voters on primary day. The man they select will do battle with a strong Democratic candidate. All indications point to Democratic success.

The party label Republican is tied up too closely with 40c wheat, 17c oats and 10c per dozen eggs, to have much of an appeal to the average voter in Illinois. The party that always claimed credit for prosperity cannot very well evade the blame for panic times which have blossomed forth and borne a fruit of bitterness and woe after many years of Republican state and national administration.

Len Small was lucky to get out of office at the time he was so emphatically retired. He went to Kankakee and sat down and has had a refreshing rest. If he gets back into the race, you'll find the old political machinery grinding along along in great style and the grist will be votes. Len Small as governor inspired a lot of hate and abuse, but his lieutenants have stuck close as glue to their chieftain, in days of defeat even as in days of victory. This Napoleon of Illinois politics is ready for his return from Elba. If he does get back the Democrats will send him to his St. Helena.

At that, we can't but admire a man who never knows when he's licked.

How About It, Democrats?

The Republicans are making a determined drive for votes to elect their candidate, the Honorable Frank B. Leonard to the office of Circuit Judge of this district on Monday, July 20th. Every Republican office holder in the counties that comprise the district is busy rounding up voters.

Now the big idea back of this activity is not that they particularly love Frank Leonard, but rather, they want a victory for the effect it will have on the rank and file of the party.

If Mr. Leonard is elected Judge, the victory will be celebrated as an endorsement of all that Governor Emmerson and President Hoover have done since taking office. Monday, July 20th will be a test of sentiment of the voters.

Those who will go to the polls on that day to cast Leonard votes may be classed as follows: Republican office holders and those on the government payroll and their families; Republican voters who consistently vote that ticket regardless of any argument that may be presented; Republicans who don't know what it's all about but are always willing to heed the call of the leaders; personal friends of the candidate.

Republicans who will stay away from the polls are those who are disgusted with their party leadership; those who have been awakened to the fact that Republicanism in this nation does not necessarily mean prosperity; those who have no particular interest in this election and are too busy to bother about going to the polls; those who know neither Mr. Leonard nor his Democratic opponent Judge Francis E. Williamson and can't get interested enough to spend the time necessary to go to the polls to register their choice.

Indications are that a light vote will be cast. It is hard to awaken enthusiasm for Republican party candidates under present conditions, though Mr. Leonard may not be in any way to blame. He bears the party label and by that label he must be judged.

Among Democrats too there is a feeling of I-don't-much care. Opportunity is knocking at the doors of Democracy. They have no administration record to be ashamed of. They have a future of promise facing them. A victory at this time is important. A victory in this strongly Republican district will point the way toward victory in 1932. True, there are no payrollers to march to the front and gather the faithful into the polls. The rank and file must do the job.

Democracy's candidate is a man fully qualified for the office he seeks. He has in years past been a Democratic representative of this district in the Legislature and his record made then and since then in private life is clean and efficient.

From the standpoint as outlined above this election is important. By electing Francis E. Williamson circuit judge the voters can register an emphatic protest against the Hoover panic and the party responsible; by being indifferent and permitting the election of Frank Leonard, the Republican candidate, the voters admit that present-day conditions are satisfactory and meet with their approval.

The election is Monday, July 20th. All polls will be open from 7 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the evening. All voters can express their preference. There are but two candidates, one a Republican and one a Democrat. If the Democrats and independent voters rally to Mr. Williamson's support, he will be elected.

Dissatisfaction Precedes Change

A man interprets the times according to the effect they may have on his well-being.

If he has plenty to eat, good clothes to wear, and money in his pockets to satisfy his reasonable desires, he feels times are good.

If, however, the contrary is true, he looks around him for something or somebody to blame for the conditions which thus adversely affect him.

That's what people are doing today.

For many years they have been told that a high protective tariff has made American producers and workingmen prosperous. Why not now?

They have been told a Republican administration at Washington means business confidence and stability. Why not now?

The whole world has gone topsy-turvy. Even those who are well-to-do and as well off as they ever were, have joined the brigade of calamity howlers.

The American economic structure is all out of joint. Our boasted prosperity has no stable foundation. It is all one big experiment just like our system of government.

A period of crazy inflation, wild speculation and general business hysteria has come to grief. Many innocent victims are the ones to suffer. All business needs a readjustment. It needs a new valuation basis.

Just so with government, the hand maiden of business. It is travelling along at the same goofy, crazy speed that business was. Property owners are taxed higher and ever higher to meet the payrolls of those elected and appointed to office. Is it unreasonable to predict that the people will revolt against such exploitation? Government is a business conducted with taxpayers funds, and it yields no dividends.

When the burden gets too big, readjustment will be bound to come. In the meantime, however, the small business man and small property owner will be crushed beneath the burdens heaped upon him.

America is fundamentally sound. It is emerging from the exploitation of speculators and big money grabbers. And when it has convalesced for a time, it will turn its attention to its governmental problems and deflate its public payrolls and demand that half of the office holders be discharged.

Main Street Looks at Broadway

City Fright

Everybody who visits New York is seized at some time or other with a sense of panic at its immensity, no matter how well travel seasoned they have become. Practically every noted foreigner, from Dr. Albert Einstein to the youngest British flapper, yields at some time or other to this feeling.

People in country towns who may have kept away from the city because of their innate fear of the town ought to conquer this feeling and spend some time here. It is more than a liberal education.

No Real Danger

Life here is as safe as in any spot on earth, in spite of the monsters that roar in the subways, clatter on the elevated railroads and screech on the streets. That noise is what saves lives, probably. At the same time it is nerve-shaking to the stranger, from its potential menace.

Being lost in this enormous city is no great shakes. All one has to do is step up to some one of its 19,000 policeman and let him straighten out your mental tangle. Years ago they earned the name of "The Finest" and there is no reason to think of them as otherwise, even in these days of newspaper exposes.

Auto Tourists

Hardly an hour passes, day or night, that one cannot see an automobile carrying a load of farm folks out to see the sights of a great city, bowling along through the heart of Longacre Square—the focus of all this country's theatrical activities. Nothing is missing on most of these autos; the tent strapped on the running board; camp paraphernalia piled in, rusty old baggage, and dad up front in his shirt sleeves calmly moseying along past the friendly traffic cops; and mother in calico getting an eyeful while soothing her unruly brood.

Everybody they stop to ask for directions takes pleasure in helping them along and, even if they don't stay long in the city but hike right out to some tourist camp, they get to see the greatest show on earth at a minimum of expense and effort. It's a good stunt for anybody in the country who is wondering where to go for a vacation.

Transportation

No city in the whole world has as complex a system of street cars. It takes weeks before one learns just where they all go to, the problem being intensified by the subways, where one loses all sense of direction and can rely only upon the verbal directions given by the guards on the station platforms. And a lot of those fellows don't know any too much about the city.

On the Second Avenue Elevated Road the difficulties are added to by the type of trainmen employed. Most of them appear to have left Ireland only a few weeks before and their brogue is often too rich for an ordinary American to understand what they are trying to tell you. The man who hires for that road must be a full-fledged Irishman with an intense love for the Ould Sod.

A Busy Spot

Perhaps the busiest spot in the whole world, judging by the number of people who pass by it, is Greeley Square at Thirty-fourth street and Broadway. No fewer than seven double lines of rails cross the intersection. And they run on five different levels, three being underground, three on the street level and one on the elevated track and besides them are many buses.

Within a block of the corner one may ride in the elevators of the Empire State Building for 102 floors above the street, besides going some six floors below, if one can get by the janitor. To those with a spark of adventure left, this city offers several weeks of gorgeous exploration possibilities and will form an unforgettable experience.

Latching Always Out

New York has an unwritten law to treat all visitors well. Local drivers are hauled off to court for any infraction of the law and dealt with summarily. But let your license plate bear a North Carolina, Ohio or Iowa license and all you get, unless you kill a pedestrian, is a smiling order from the cop to "watch what you are doing."

We know one man who moved here from Michigan three years ago who still carries an up-to-date Detroit license—just to get that extra touch of courtesy paid to visitors.

¶ Egypt's greatest fruit crop in its history, started moving to northern markets on June 24 when the initial shipment of apples, comprising ten carloads, left Johnson and Saline county packing sheds.

1930 CENSUS REPORTS FARM ACREAGE AND VALUES IN ILLINOIS

According to a bulletin recently issued by the Bureau of the Census, there are 214,497 farms in the State of Illinois having a total acreage of 30,695,339, and a total value, including land, buildings, and implements and machinery, of $3,496,461,905. These figures are given in detail for each county and each minor civil division within the State. This is the first Federal census report to show these figures by minor civil divisions.

Of the total farm acreage 61.8 per cent, or 18,958,337 acres, was crop land on which crops were harvested in 1929; 4.8 per cent or 1,480,423 acres was crop land which lay idle or fallow; and 2.3 per cent or 701,147 acres was land on which the crops failed to mature or were not harvested for any cause. Pasture land with a total of 7,607,035 acres representing 24.8 per cent of the total farm acreage of the state, included 4,091,718 acres of plowable land, 2,009,820 acres of woodland, and 1,505,497 acres of other land. In addition to the land cropped and pastured, the total land in farms included 731,936 acres of woodland not used for pasture and 1,216,461 acres not in forest, pasture, or crops, including the land occupied by house yards, barnyards, feed lots, lanes, roads, etc.

The total value of farm land and buildings was $3,336,049,028, of which $780,949,079 represented the value of farm buildings, $386,687,848 the value of the farmers' dwellings. The value of farm implements and machinery, including farmers' automobiles, was $160,412,877.

WHAT DOES IT MATTER?

Last summer there was a water shortage in a town where I was visiting.

I happened to be chatting with my host, who is a noted man, while he was shaving, and I noticed how careful he was to use very little water.

"It seems sort of silly for you to be so conscientious," I remarked. "After all, the few drops that you conserve won't make any difference."

"They don't make any difference in the final result," he said, "but they make a lot of difference to me."

When he saw from my expression that I did not quite get his meaning, he proceeded to give me his philosophy of life.

He said that when he graduated from college, a quarter of a century ago, there was a great deal of popular emphasis upon so-called "social service."

Science had begun to introduce wonderful new inventions for increasing human happiness. Men were stirred by the hope of a quick millennium. Young people graduated with the notion that a few years of earnest effort would transform the world.

My friend was one of the most eager of the reformers. He organized, and voted, and agitated, and did all the things that he should. But nothing happened. The good candidates for whom he cast his vote were defeated. The good causes made slow progress. Human nature showed a discouraging unwillingness to change.

"I went through a period of deep disillusionment," he said. "I thought to myself, what's the use of doing anything when one's single effort seems so futile?"

"One day while I was in this mood I discovered these words of Socrates:

"I, therefore, . . . consider how I may exhibit my soul before the judge in a healthy condition. Wherefore, disregarding the honors that most men value, and looking to the truth, I shall endeavor in reality to live as virtuously as I can; and when I die, to die so. And I invite all other men, to the utmost of my power; . . . to this contest, which I affirm, surpasses all contests here."

"That flashed across my mind like a bolt of lightning," my friend continued. "It clarified everything. 'I realized that I am not responsible for the success or failure of any good cause. All I am responsible for is my own best effort in that cause. Whether my vote be effective or not; whether the amount of water I can save will make any difference—these are not the questions."

"The only question is: Am I doing my best?"

"That discovery gave me great comfort," he concluded. "Maybe you could use it in one of your editorials?"

"Many thanks," I answered. "I can."

¶ The coldest section in a refrigerator is directly underneath the ice compartment and the warmest place is the top shelf if the ice is kept on one side. Be sure to keep a piece of waxed paper over the cut surface of a melon or cantaloupe to prevent the odor from spoiling food. Bananas should not be kept in the refrigerator for it makes them dark and transmits a banana flavor to other foods nearby.

Wahrheit Und Dumheit

The old lady opened her purse and began taking out some money. "Now madam," said the dentist in whose office she was "You need not pay me, before I give you gas and perform the operation."

"Huh, pay you?" she snorted. "I'm just counting my money, before I let you make me unconscious."

An exchange says that a hypocrite is a hen-pecked man who goes home in the evening with a smile on his face.—Maybe he's just a glutton for punishment.

Sullivan habits: Getting everything ready for a big 4th of July celebration and then leaving town to visit relatives while the thing is being pulled off.

What's "Worth a Million Dollars and it doesn't cost a cent?"

Why a Smile! So smile doggone you and look like a millionaire, even if you don't feel that way.

A Weekly newspaper is like a business invitation that's mailed out. But lots of merchants forget to put their name, kind of business etc., in that invitation and folks don't know for sure if their trade is wanted or not.

There's a whole lot about Dora in the paper this week. Naw, we don't mean a scandal about some woman. What we mean is the assessment list for Dora township that we're publishing.

"I smell punk" said the sweet young girl, sitting on the shore of Wyman Lake, waiting for the July 4th fireworks program.

Her boy friend looked at her sadly as he remarked: "I know you do honey. I've noticed it all day, but I've been just too polite to mention it."

A Sullivan man out west on vacation sent home a mountain picture to his friendly competitor. On the card he had written: "Great Scenery. They say if you push a man off this cliff, you'll never even find his remains. Sure wish you were here. Best regards, etc."

The little fellow was saying his prayers. "Please speak a little louder, darling," said his Mamma. "Lay off this," he replied. "I'm not talking to you, I'm talking to God."

It takes a chemist or a genius to make a girl blush nowadays. Wonder what the old boys used to whisper to the girls years ago to make 'em get so red in the face!

Local gossip: "I just heard an awful story about your husband." Her friend: "Tell me quickly. Leave out no details. I need a new dress."

"They're rivals in dress, those two girls, aren't they?" said an old lady.

"Yes," said the second old lady. "Each tries to outstrip the other." —I. C. Magazine.

Johnny, what makes you act like a pig?" asked Daddy. "Do you know what a pig is?"

"Yes Daddy, a pig is a child of a hog."—Bell Telephone Magazine

"Now Mary, you can take the dog out for air," said the Sullivan woman who has both a maid and a dog.

"Please Mum," said Mary "where will I find the nearest service station?"

"That a new one me!" said the monkey as he scratched his back.—Widow.

"Do you know the stuff you're drinking is slow poison?" said the bootlegger who was trying to get a new customer.

"Aw, that's all right," said the Old Soak. "I'm in no hurry."

Al Capone has been charged with many crimes of commission but the government finally got him on a crime of omission. He failed to pay his income tax—he did not give Uncle Sam his share of the loot.

She: "Honey what are you thinking about."

He: "Same thing you are."

She: "Why you nasty beast. Leave me at once."

Waiter: "These are the best eggs we've had for years." Diner: "Well take 'em away and bring me some you've not had quite that long."—Tid Bits.

"Did that patent medicine you bought cure your aunt?" "Cure her! She read the description of symptoms on the label and now she's got two more diseases."

Sullivan fishermen are not telling any stories this week about fish—they state emphatically that at least 75,000 people were here for the Fourth of July celebration.

Advance Dope Grand Theatre

Ex-Reverend J. Edward Davis, one time pastor of the Sullivan Christian church appears in the picture "Madonna of the Streets" at the Grand theatre Thursday and Friday nights of this week. He's not the star, but he does have a prominent part.

"Dude Ranch"

Business at Stuart Erwin's "Dude Ranch" was falling off. Easterners came west to see cowboys, Indians and things wild and woolly and were disappointed.

Along comes a travelling one-horse show, consisting of Jack Oakie, Eugene Pallette, Mitzi Green and Cecil Watson. Erwin hires the outfit and they proceed to impress the unsuspecting tenderfoot. It's a great comedy idea put across in a regular laugh riot. See it at the Grand Saturday night. There will also be a Gang Comedy with Jackie Cooper and a "Flip the Frog" cartoon.

"Young Sinners"

Most old folks think that the younger generation is sinful but that does not necessarily make it so. A fellow by the name of Blystone recently directed a play that was given the fanciful and suggestive title of "Young Sinners." Thomas Meighan who had a two-year vacation from screen work is starring in this production and a newcomer by the name of Hardie Albright, fresh from New York stage successes is second in importance. That 98 pounds of charm which goes by the name of Dorothy Jordan is the heroine and Celia Loftus and James Kirkwood help put the story over in interesting style. Plenty of millionaire stuff, romance, selfishness, laziness and then at the climax, a kiss seals the happy ending. When this picture is shown on Sunday and Monday nights you'll also see a Slim Summerville comedy, News and Mickey Mouse cartoon.

Laugh and Get Rich

This is the title of the rollicking romance and captivating comedy that's coming to the Grand Tuesday and Wednesday nights. It's your story, my story—and human story told in brimming laughs and heart tugs. Edna May Oliver who set the world laughing in Cimarron, Dorothy Lee and Hugh Herbert, famous comedians of the Wheeler-Woolsey farces give you a sparkling human entertainment, gay as the springtime. Judging by the advance dope we have looked over we are inclined to think this picture will be very good.

I Take This Woman

Here's a Mary Roberts Rinehart best-seller novel, staged with Gary Cooper and Carole Lombard as stars. It's a whirlwind romance. The brains of a Rinehart, the acting of a Cooper and Lombard—why of course you'll want to see it. It will be here Thursday and Friday nights of next week; also Paramount News and short subjects.

Let's cut through this welter of words

WHEN you set out to buy tires, don't you really want the most miles and the utmost in safety at the lowest possible price.

That being your objective, which tire should you buy?

If the experience of 20,000,000 motorists means anything, you should certainly buy Goodyears.

But if you try to puzzle through the welter of statistics on thicknesses, weights and diameters you lose the main issue and are as much at sea as ever.

The one and only reliable guide for you to follow is the seasoned preference of the public.

And that preference is overwhelmingly for Goodyear.

This fact expressed year after year by Goodyear's great leadership is concretely told again in the findings of an impartial investigation made by an unbiased dependable institution that asked 205,000 car owners this simple question:

QUESTION: "Regardless of price, convenience, etc., what make of tire do you consider the BEST tire made?"

HOW CAR OWNERS VOTED ON THE QUESTION "WHAT TIRE IS BEST?"

CHARLESTON EASY VICTIM THURSDAY LOCAL GOLF COURSE

Sullivan's premier golfers easily defeated a dozen Charleston players Thursday afternoon of last week. The course was in fine shape and Bo Wood and Carl Wolf of the home boys each turned in a 76. Bill Gardner of this city and Lute Hudson came in with 77s and Doc Norris, the prospective Sentel Cup champion, came in with a 78. Doc has been doing better than this but had a sort of off day Thursday.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Eads, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eads, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Crosno, Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Norris and family and Jim and Roger Cross, Chicago, Wm. Ray Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Stock and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh P. Rigney and sons, Hugh, Richard and Harold Duane.—Arthur Graphic Clairion.

WHOZEES, WHATZIS WHEREZIS

(With Apologies to "Dollars & Sense")

Five people were seated at the table. Along with their food they enjoyed the comments of each other. They were talking about pleasure; the fact that people are not always enjoying themselves as they could. That's how it started, THE WHOZEES CLUB. The Whozees club, organized then and there (X marks the spot) for the purpose of promoting Wim, Wigor, and Wytality. And then—Swimming party at Lytle park Sunday evening. MARRIAGE STATISTICS

Marriage statistics for Illinois show that the business of marrying and giving in marriage has taken a decided slump. In the year 1929 there were 84,092 marriages in Illinois and in 1930 there were only 75,951.

Moultrie county had 120 marriages in 1929 but in 1930 it slumped down to only 94. Divorces increased from 12 in 1929 to 16 in 1930. County Clerk Paul L. Chippis is working on plans to make Sullivan a popular place for couples who prefer to slip away from the rattle and bang of big cities and come to some nice quiet county seat town to be married in a dignified and unostentatious manner.

A. R. SCOTT 86 YEARS OLD

Mr. A. R. Scott one of Bethany's oldest business men was eighty-six years old Saturday. He received many birthday cards and bouquets of flowers.

He spent the day quietly in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Etha Wilkinson, in Bement where he has been staying for several months. Mr. Scott has not been very strong for the past six months having to be in bed part of the time.—Bethany Echo.

Big game hunters shot 4,352 elk in the national forests last year yet under game management by the U. S. Forest service and protection by State laws the herds in these forests increased from 82,672 to 88,214 head.

The output of manufacturing plants in Tennessee increased from $372,000,000 in 1921 to $706,000,000 in 1929, a gain of 89.8 per cent, compared with a gain in the United States as a whole of 60.7 per cent.

Trade with Mexico through the port of New Orleans was valued at $28,000,000 in 1929.

The present revival of cottons reminds us of the tremendous vogue for cottons that took place following the French revolution in France. Many of the new long, slender evening dresses are distinctly reminiscent of those days.

Today we have a far wider variety of fine cotton materials from which to choose.

Today's sketch suggests how to make a white or colored cotton dress. The flounce on the skirt measures about 14 inches in depth and the pleats are about an inch and a half in width. You can easily lay them yourself, then baste down and press carefully. The frill on the bodice is made from a three inch piece of material laid in pleats about an inch wide. Instead of extending the frilling around the back it is best to let it terminate at the shoulder seam.

HONEY IS ONE OF THE OLDEST FOODS OF MAN

Honey is one of the oldest foods of man, the United States Department of Agriculture says. There is little doubt that our early ancestors discovered the honey of the wild bee long before they learned to make bread.

The honey of antiquity was likely as good as that of today except that different flowers at that time gave it a flavor different from that of our modern product.

Honey is unique in that it is the only unmanufactured sweet available in commercial quantities. It contains simple sugars, easily absorbed by the human system. Honey contains in limited quantities practically all the elements of a perfect food except the vitamins. There is no honey other than that made by bees, and the Federal pure food law prohibits the sale of any product as honey which is made by artificial means. Honey is a safe food to use because it is clean and pure.

Hints for the Home

by Nancy Hart

Spinach Salad
Chop cooked spinach. Add chopped boiled egg and a little chopped cold tongue or ham. One egg to 2 cups of the spinach should be allowed and for the same amount a half cup of chopped meat. Add a half cup of toasted bread crumbs. Pack in small cups or molds and chill. When ready to serve turn out on beds of lettuce leaves and dress with mayonnaise.

For Frying

Next time you have any fish or croquettes to fry—anything that needs to be rolled in fine crumbs or flour—try putting the crumbs or flour on a good-sized piece of clean kitchen paper instead of on a platter or molding board. This will give you a larger flat surface than is possible with a platter and will spare you the rather troublesome task of cleaning the molding board and it is an especially good thing when there is fish to fry.

Cheese on Salad

Did you ever try grated cheese on salad? Use yellow cheese dry enough to be grated and then after you have added a little mayonnaise to the salad sprinkle cheese lightly on top, or pass in a little dish with the mayonnaise. It is especially good with a salad made from cold cauliflower.

For luncheon some time try a salad with cooked rice that has been set to cool in small individual molds on each bed of lettuce, and serve with mayonnaise or home-made boiled salad dressing with grated cheese sprinkled on top.

Good Dressings

Sauce Tartare: To one cup of mayonnaise add a tablespoon each of finely minced olives, sweet pickles and chives or onions.

Thousand Island Dressing: To 1 cup of mayonnaise add two tablespoons of chili sauce, one tablespoon of chopped onion and one tablespoon of chopped pepper.

Manhattan Dressing: To one cup of mayonnaise add a finely chopped hard-boiled egg, one tablespoon of finely chopped sweet pickle.

California Dressing: To one cup of mayonnaise add a quarter cup of minced ripe olives and the same amount of minced green olives.

Savory Fish

Cut into strips one pound of smoked fish of any kind; put over fire in cold water, let come slowly to a boil, and boil for ten minutes. In another saucepan heat one cup of stock with one-fourth a cup, each, of tomato sauce and vinegar, a tablespoon of made mustard, and a few grains of cayenne. Drain the fish, saute on hot pan in one-fourth a cup of butter or fat, then add to the hot stock; thicken the butter in the pan with two tablespoons of flour; stir this into the saucepan containing the fish and seasoned stock, cover and simmer for five minutes. Serve on a hot platter, surrounded with strips of toast.

Spinach Jelly Salad

Mix together a half cup of chopped drained spinach in a cup of soup stock. Heat thoroughly and add to it a tablespoon of granulated gelatine that has been dissolved in a quarter cup of cold water. Stir until dissolved, season with pepper and salt and a few drops of onion juice if desired, put into small molds and set away to cool. When they are formed place one mold on each bed of lettuce leaves; add mayonnaise before serving.

Grapefruit

Take special pains in preparing grapefruit for the breakfast table. To begin with, take care in selecting the fruit, which to be good, should be heavy, firm and thin skinned. Dark spots on the surface are said to denote a superior fruit. To make it especially tempting, serve with clean, finely chopped ice. Partly fill with the ice one of the long stemmed grapefruit glasses, or if you do not possess these glasses, any dainty glass bowl will do. Then place on this bed of ice a glass cup filled with grapefruit pulp. If you choose to serve the grapefruit sweetened, prepare it several hours before serving to give the sugar and fruit time to mingle. The most discriminating taste prefers grapefruit unflavored

SKIMPING ON FEED DELAYS PROFIT ON GROWING POULTRY

Urbana, Ill., July 8—Many poultry flock owners who short-ration their growing flocks during the summer can not use feed prices as an excuse this year, says H. H. Alp, poultry extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. Suitable home-mixed rations can be mixed in many cases for as low as $1.50 a hundred pounds this year, he said. Being stingy with feed slows up growth of young stock. Cockerels fed all they would eat weighed 5.73 pounds at 24 weeks of age, while cockerels fed only 18 per cent of all they would eat weighed but 1.02 pounds at 24 weeks.

Although chickens may be grown to maturity on an all-mash ration, this may not be practical under farm conditions. The all-mash ration has served its most useful purpose by the time the chicks are eight weeks old and it may well be supplemented with grain from that time on. Grain feeding may be started as soon as the chicks are big enough to eat wheat. Shelled corn may be included in the grain mixture as soon as the chicks are old enough to eat it.

The best proportions of grain and mash for rapid and economical growth at different ages are: 6 weeks, 5 per cent grain; 95 per cent mash; 8 weeks—10 per cent grain, 90 per cent mash; 10 weeks—20 per cent grain, 80 per cent mash; 12 weeks—30 per cent grain, 70 per cent mash; 14 weeks—40 per cent grain, 60 per cent mash; 16 weeks—50 per cent grain, 50 per cent mash; 18 weeks—60 per cent grain, 40 per cent mash, and 20 weeks—70 per cent grain, 30 per cent mash, and 22 weeks and older, 75 per cent grain and 25 per cent mash.

FOURTH INSTALLMENT

They were bound to be ever so many pleasant, cool, shadowy shortcuts between St. Louis and Kansas City.

On the way between St. Louis and Kansas City, Peter asked about short-cuts at no end of filling stations and garages as they went west, but no one seemed very well informed about by-roads and for the most part every one advised against attempting any such thing.

It was well on toward noon when Peter found a man in a garage who thought there really was a short cut just as Peter wanted. He wasn't altogether sure it was a direct route to Kansas City, but at least it did not lead back toward St. Louis.

They had driven about twenty miles along this rambling lane, which at times seemed to turn uncertainly toward Kansas City and then made a dead run for the Nebraska line, when they saw a stalled car in the road before them. The driver lay stretched out on the bank with his hat over his face. Peter slowed up.

Rowena leaned forward and rapped sharply on the glass. "Never ask advice of a broken-down driver," she warned him darkly. "If he knew what he was doing, he wouldn't be broken down."

But Peter for once had struck the right party. The man knew every road in the state. Peter thanked him for his careful directions and returned to the car. He was too much of a gentleman to leer triumphantly back at Rowena under the awning umbrella in the rumble seat. He just got in behind the wheel and started the motor.

He had driven fully twenty miles over the worst possible sort of country road when he found that a bridge was out, and there was no detour, and the only possible way to go on in the direction of Kansas City was to go back to the main road and start over. Very meekly he turned around to pay homage to her better judgment, but stopped short, staring open-mouthed. Bobby, who always looked where others did, turned too and her amazement surpassed his own.

The rumble seat was empty. Rowena was not there. Peter slowly returned over the roads to where the self-styled expert had given him his directions. Twenty miles!

Bobby closed her eyes. Peter hoped she was praying. He would have prayed himself except that the hard driving over the bad road required his complete attention. But he did keep breathing over and over in his heart the one word "God! God! God!" and trusted the Infinite would understand it for appeal.

Instinctively his foot lifted from the accelerator and at a noiseless crawl the car rolled up to the shadowy bank under the willow tree where the stranger with the stalled motor had mapped out the futile short-cut.

"Oh!" whispered Bobby weakly. "Look—look! Rowena!"

Rowena indeed, lying motionless beside the road where the afternoon sun slanted behind the trees to throw protecting shadows over her slender figure. Peter was out of the car long before it had come to a stop and was up the bank and kneeling beside her. He lifted one limp limb and it was stained red. "Rowena!" he whispered.

Rowena opened her eyes. "Oh, hello," she said cheerfully. "Gash, you were a long time coming back. Are—are you—hurt?" stammered Peter.

"Hurt? Why no! What do you mean, hurt?" She licked a bit of red raspberry juice from her finger as she spoke.

"Did you fall out, darling?" asked Bobby in fatuously affectionate tones.

"Fall out?" repeated Rowena. "Certainly not." She stood up, lifted her arms, stretching her slender figure comfortably to its utmost height. "Had a grand nap," she said. "And wrote out just what I think of Missouri. Poor dears, you must be dreadfully hot and tired. Come and sit down—a nature's feast to feed you. Berries and cold spring water. I knew you would be famished so I picked heaps."

"You darling," said Bobby, and greedily feel to. "But will you please tell us," she mumbled with a full mouth, for she was very hungry, "how you feel—how you got—out of the rumble seat?"

"I climbed out," said Rowena cheerfully. "It's the only way you can get out of a rumble seat."

"But when—"

"But how—"

"We didn't see you!"

"When Peter and the broken-down gent were dusting off Missouri in the middle of the road I noticed the wild berries up on the bank among the rocks. I must have got myself out of sight of the car without knowing it, for the first thing I knew, I heard the usual racing of the engine with which dear Peter gets under way, so I ran down and there you were—tearing off among the ruts in a cloud of metaphorical glory. So I picked some more berries, and the broken down gent and I shot craps until the man from the garage came and towed him in. He invited me to go with them, but I knew you would be back for me when you got around to it.

"There was a bridge out on the short-cut," explained Peter quickly. "I know. The broken-down gent remembered it about ten minutes after you had gone. But of course it was too late then."

"You're very game about it, Rowena. Very sporting. I wouldn't blame you if you didn't speak to me again from here to the coast."

"Oh, nonsense!" said Rowena, pleasantly. "This was just an accident. Accidents never make me mad. 'It's just,' she added meaningfully, "just—certain—people."

In Kansas City, Bobby found thirty one telegrams from Carter, each increasingly immoderate in its commands for her to give over this outrageous conduct and return home at once.

Rowena had the usual fat one addressed in the boyish scrawl, and surely she had read no further than the first paragraph when she began counting out her money. Peter had a comforting telegram from Mr. Rack with a friendly postscript by Mr. Ruff, advising that the red-haired siege was lifted and that they had been honored with a sort of an apology, but warning them to be careful of their future conduct.

Mr. Rack also said they were extremely pleased with the character of the work that had been turned out, and enclosed check for next week's expenses. Peter was extremely grateful for the check, for Bobby had spent the last cent of her week's allowance by Wednesday after which time he and Rowena had been obliged to carry her between them.

"Chaperons come high, don't counted out nickels and dimes to make up her portion of Bobby's last manicure."

It was a genuine hardship to them to be obliged to contribute so extensively to the maintenance of luxury-loving Bobby. On the other hand, her presence was so essential to the all-important tour that they were in no position to quarrel very seriously even with her extravagances.

"For my part, I'd rather pay her bills than read Carter's telegrams," said Peter moodily.

"I wouldn't," disagreed Rowena promptly. "I've learned to read with one eye and listen with one ear, and that way I get through with only half the mental strain."

"Yes," but you've got a rumble to retire to."

"So I have. But I have to sleep with her."

One thing was certain. Her presence was essential, and Carter and his telegrams, she and her extravagances were alike to be endured.

At Topeka she was startled to find but one telegram awaiting her—a ten word, straight day message.

"Are you taking first train home or are you not?"

Bobby's fright was so genuine, her disappointment so real, that Rowena and Peter tried to console her.

Peter took them out to a movie, and Rowena—with her own money—bought her a cunning little Kansas souvenir, a flask carved out of a corn-cob—and she seemed slightly more resigned.

She was very quiet as they crossed Kansas, and when they complained of the notoriously hot winds, she smiled patiently and said she didn't mind. She ate very little, and had fifteen cents of her allowance left at the end of the week.

When they reached Denver they hurried at once, as they always did, to get their mail, and there was nothing at all for Bobby, not a letter, not a telegram, not so much as a souvenir postcard. She said nothing but turned pale and a little sad smile froze the dimples in the soft face.

When Rowena went down to dinner she made excuses not to go—said she was very tired, said she wanted a hot bath and a good sleep said she would just read a magazine she had picked out at the news-stand.

They went up to the room immediately after dinner with all good intentions, and Rowena knocked. When there was no answer she opened the door and they went in. The room had a deserted appearance. Bobby's handsome articles of toilet were gone from the dressing table. Her beautiful dressing gown was gone from the foot of the bed, her satin mules from beneath it. Her imported traveling bag no longer stood beside Rowena's shabby suitcase on the baggage rack.

Peter and Rowena looked at each other in wide-eyed consternation.

There was a note, written on hotel paper in Bobby's round childish hand. It was pinned to Rowena's pillow.

"Darlings, I'm going home. I have to. If I don't I'll never get him back. I'll send Peter the money I borrowed as soon as I get my allowance. I'm going on the seven o'clock train and I have already wired him to meet me. You're both just sweet and I love you. But I do wish you didn't quarrel so. I'm so glad Carter and I get along better."

"And that," said Rowena flatly, "is that."

"It's all of that," added Peter gloomily.

"Nothing," declared Rowena drearily, "could be more irretrievably fatal than this."

"It was great sport while it lasted," said Peter. "You have been pretty game all the way through, Rowena."

"It was corking good business, too," said Rowena. "And taking it all in all, you are not half bad to breeze around with, Peter."

"Well, it's all over now," said Peter.

"You don't suppose we could pick one up here, do you?—By advertising. The way we got Bobby in the first place."

But they both knew it was pretty hopeless. They said good night with something vaguely suggestive of affectionate regard, for this killing, kindred disappointment gave them a cordial meeting-ground for almost the first time.

Rowena sat alone at her window, little and high up, for she had frugally changed from a double to a single room immediately after the desertion of Bobby.

She was not one to give up without a struggle—nor to give up at all, for that matter.

It was nearly midnight when she shook off her final hesitation, with a mind made up. An idea had come to her, terrifying and tremendous, hours before. She had toyed with it, weighed it in the balance and, finding it wanting, pushed it resolutely away; but had permitted it to work its way back, insidiously sure. At twelve o'clock she called Peter on the telephone and that was an end of her hesitation.

"Listen, Peter. You meet me downstairs in the lobby right away, will you? I have an idea."

"But I'm in bed!"

—which shows that New Iso-Vis will not thin out from dilution"

"I LEARNED a lot by watching this Ball and Bottle Test. Before, motor oil had been just motor oil. Now I know there is a wide difference."

Fill up with New Iso-Vis today. When you are ready to drain, go back to the Standard Oil Service Station or dealer and ask that the oil from your own car be used to make the test. It will convince you.

RESULTS of Indianapolis Speedway Tests, Certified by A. A. A.

1 Iso-Vis Motor Oil did not thin out from dilution.

2 During the entire test of 9,000 miles, the engines and chassis of all cars were lubricated effectively.

3 Oil Added: only 63/100 of a quart—average for all cars—of Iso-Vis 50 (Heavy) in 1,000 mile test at 30 miles per hour.

Republican Candidate For Circuit Judge Has Interesting Career

CHARACTER SKETCH OF NOMINEE TO BE VOTED FOR ON JULY 20.

From sawmill worker to Republican candidate for Circuit Judge—that epitomizes the career of Frank B. Leonard, who will be voted for on July 20, as the successor to the late Circuit Judge, Franklin H. Boggs.

Like the reverend jurist whom he aspires to succeed, Frank B. Leonard won his spurs by hard physical labor combined with intense study and diligent mental application.

Born June 14, 1891 in North Manchester, Indiana, he is forty years of age. Money earned working in a sawmill at Brookport, Illinois, helped to pay for his education at the University of Illinois in Law. There he won high honors and a place on the Varsity Debating team.

He married in Champaign in 1912, and taught for two years in the Champaign High School.

He was admitted to the bar in 1916 and began to practice at Metropolis, Illinois, as a member of the firm of Mulkey and Leonard. He soon won recognition by his able presentation of the Union Bridge and Construction Company vs. Industrial Commission before the Supreme Court of the State.

In 1919 Mr. Leonard became associated with the Dobbins & Dobbins law firm of Champaign. In 1920 he was honored by appointment to teach courses on Evidence and Torts in the College of Law at the University of Illinois.

In 1925 he formed a partnership with H. B. Boyer of Champaign, as Boyer & Leonard.

For more than ten years he has tried jury cases before Judge Boggs and other judges. Many of these cases have been appealed to higher courts and argued orally there by Mr. Leonard.

An able debater, a conscientious student of the Law, Mr. Leonard is determined, if elected, to carry on the office of Circuit Judge in the same spirit of devotion that characterized his distinguished predecessor. Mr. Leonard is intensely democratic in manners. He enjoys meeting people and climbed a three story building on a ladder at the University to ask for the vote of a bricklayer. He won it too.

Mr. Leonard has one eight year old son, is a member of the Presbyterian church and has held the office of Deacon and Trustee in that organization. He is also Past Exalted Ruler of the Elks Lodge of Champaign and a Trustee of that and various other organizations.

Welcome to all services!

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

A. E. Turner, Minister

9:30 a. m. Church school.
10:45 a. m. Morning worship.
6:45 p. m. Young People's meeting.

No evening service.

The morning subject will be "That Man Ezra," which is the first in a list of "Repeated by Request" sermons, to be delivered during the month of July. Some may recall it as an analysis of the character of one of the most prominent minor prophets and its repetition is asked for by a prominent business man. In the "Who's Who" of the Old Testament, Ezra's biography is compassed in only two words.

The Gideon Quartet will sing again Robert's "God of Our Fathers Whose Almighty Hand" which was so enthusiastically received last Sunday. The hymn will be accompanied by the trumpet, Mr. Leon Reeder, piano, Miss Helen Cummins and organ, Miss Eleanor Cummins.

GOSPEL MISSION

Time of services the same.
Brother Fischer gave us a good message Sunday evening.
Brother Barnes of Decatur will be with us for the evening service Sunday.

You are welcome.
Luke 14:33—whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple.

The word forsake is akin to that of abandon, which word perhaps gives a clearer meaning of the truth that the Lord is trying to impart to us. When we come to the place in our reasoning where we can see clearly, that material things are vain, they perish and are no more, that natural things are not eternal, it is then that our affections turn toward those things which are spiritual, and we are brought face to face with a decision. If we decide aright, we can, and will, forsake all, we will abandon all natural things, so far as our affections being centered on them is concerned, and cling to those things which are spiritual.

Too often we stumble over a passage of scripture because we do not dig into it deeply. One might reason, surely the Lord would not have me forsake my mother, yes He will, to the extent that she holds not first place in your affections. If mother would stand between you and your duty to the Lord, then mother would need be abandoned to that extent you were able to fulfill your obligations to Him.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

C. E. BARNETT, Pastor

At the Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday evening, at 6:30, the subject will be "How Far Can We Follow Jesus?" Is the Jesus way of living for all ages, or do circumstances so change that principles change also? Young People studying these, and other equally important questions, will become familiar with the Christian traffic guides of Jesus: "I am the way, the truth and the life." William Seitz will lead the meeting Sunday evening.

"I will Arise and Go to My Father" will be sung by the Young People's choir at the evening service at 7:30 o'clock. The pastor's sermon subject will be: "The Wonderful Father." Beginning promptly at 7:30 and closing at 8:30 this one service is for all to whom it may appeal. Come into the Father's house at the close of His day. "A Visible Faith" will be the subject of the sermon at the morning worship. The service begins at 10:40 a. m. with the communion. We are bettering our promise of a one hour service by dismissing at 11:30. Come to church before going elsewhere for the day. Stand by each Sunday.

Daniel Webster was once asked, "What is the most important thought you ever entertained?" He replied, "The most important thought I ever had was my individual responsibility to God."

One's responsibility to God is better understood by a better knowledge of His will. Such knowledge gained by the study of His word. The Sunday school is the opportunity for such study, directed by competent teachers. Session meets at 9:30 a. m. A class for you, and a class for a few.

THE WEATHER

It's been nice and hot and it has been nice and cool during this past week. The weather is a little more agreeable than a few weeks ago when this part of Illinois was just about the hottest place this side of Gehenna. There have been showers of rain, but not near enough.

Corn is doing fine where not too many chinch bugs are munching on its stems. Wheat is being combined and threshing will soon begin. Oats are nearly all in shock. Soybeans are growing nicely. Clover sowed this spring is not doing very well, due to the hot dry spell. Early potatoes are about all ripe. Dry weather shortened the crop considerably. The raspberry season is about over. All gardens need a few weeks of soaking rains.

The 4th of July has come and gone. Reports say that about 500 lost their lives celebrating. Many others lost eyes or were otherwise crippled. It most surely was a Glorious Fourth. There was a lot of beautiful noise—in other words the usual hellish racket. The Legislature passed 493 bills, but failed to put the one across that would have prohibited the selling of dangerous explosives to little kids.

The railroads of Illinois as well as all other states are asking permission to increase freight rates 15 per cent.

There are in Illinois 299,551 widows and but 127,762 widowers. What makes the sturdy men drop off so young?

A London census gives that city and suburbs a population of 8,202,818. New York City has 6,981,917. Doesn't it look foolish for people to bunch up in big cities when there is so much nice country they could be spread over?

Townships must from here on care for their own paupers. Herebefore the funds for this purpose were taken out of the county treasury. You see plenty of fellows loafing around here this summer, not trying to get work, who will have to be fed and clothed next fall. We contend that every able-bodied man ought to give a dollar's worth of work for every dollar given him by the township.

There are some families that have been paupers, generation after generation. And each generation gets bigger. Not only do hard-working people have to buy bread and clothes for such people, but they are the ones who get into trouble, are fed in the county jails and are a burden on the backs of upright citizens. The only excuse for many of these folks is that they are short on brains and there is no way to supply the shortage.

Most of us self-supporting people haven't got too much brain matter either.

The shoe factory had a 5-day payroll this week. There was no work July 4th. The sum was in excess of $4,800. Quite a number of additional workers were added this week. And still now and then you hear of people kicking about the sum of money Sullivan raised to get the factory! The fellows who did not donate are doing the kicking.

And how's this for an alibi: Republicans are beginning to razz Herbert Hoover. They say "He always was more of a Democrat than Republican anyway." Nevertheless they voted for him. They'll do it again in 1932. When Franklin D. Roosevelt is president and Owen Young is secretary of the treasury—Oh, haste the day!

MASHES BUG ON HER LEG; BLOODPOISONING FATAL
Effingham, Ill., July 7.—Death came to little Agnes Korte, 10 of near Dieterich Sunday morning, as a result of bloodpoisoning contracted from mashing a bug on her leg last Thursday.

Shortly afterwards signs of bloodpoisoning showed up. The infections spread all over the child's left leg.

Agnes was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Korte of near Dieterich and one of a family of 10 children.

The bug the child mashed on her leg was thought to have been one of the striped variety of potato beetles, which are numerous this year, or some other form of poisonous beetle.

Thoughtful

It was a very long play, and nearly midnight when the curtain was rung up on the fourth act, disclosing an actor sitting at a table. Somehow his appearance, instead of occasioning applause, created an undertone of sympathy.

One of the members of the audience ventured to express the sentiments of the house. "I hope we're not keeping you up, sir," he suggested, kindly.—Tit-Bits.

There are two kinds of men who never amount to anything: one, who cannot do as they are told; and the other who can do nothing else.

One of the earliest known records of Illinois exports is for the year 1745 when under French rule, 4,000 sacks of flour were sent to New Orleans for market.

Nearly 20 million pounds of grapes are commercially grown in Illinois annually.

SOME REAL SERVICE

I was a passenger in that old Zahradka band bus to Sullivan and return last Monday night, when the band gave a concert at the Masonic home up there. The engine of the old boat went kerflummax before we arrived at Tower Hill and then three times additional. Just as the bus arrived at the eastern city limits of Sullivan she broke down and wouldn't move a move. There we were—one mile and a half from the Masonic Home. A scout car had been sent out from the home to look us up and see if we were really on the way or in trouble. Then came to our relief Charles H. Jenne, a Sullivan grain man, with a big truck and towed us out to the Masonic Home, where there was an enormous crowd in waiting. Jenne remained right with the old bus and the band boys and after their concert towed the bus back to Sullivan to Victor Grote's garage. Vic was closed but a phone call brought him and his mechanic instantly, when he learned that the Pana band boys were in trouble. The mechanic—and he knew his onions—worked two hours on that old Reo engine to shape it so we could manage to get home and we came at a thirty-mile an hour clip all the way and not an engine trouble of the slightest. Vic Grote formerly resided in Pana and told me he still has "a hankerin' for the old town." His charge to the Zahradkas was mere time for the mechanic. That was minimum. But, about that fellow, Jenne. Why, folks, Mr. Jenne remained right in front of the Vic Grote garage with his truck and the band boys until 5 minutes after midnight and he said, "Now, fellers, if Vic can't get that bus fixed up so you can get home, I'll load as many of you in my truck as possible and I'll get you in Pana in time for work in the morning, and there won't be a dime charge to you." As for me, I'm for Charles Jenne, Vic Grote, Superintendent McCorvie of the Masonic Home, Editor Brandenburger and all of the good folks of Sullivan. They are real people up in old Moultrie.—Editor Will Jordan in Pana Palladium.

IF INTERESTED IN ATWATER KENT RADIO AUDITION SEE MRS. SENTEL

Mrs. Geo. A. Sentel of Sullivan has been appointed County chairman of the Fifth National Radio Audition by the Atwater Kent Foundation of Philadelphia. She and the local chairmen are now inaugurating a campaign in Moultrie county to find some local singer who may qualify to participate in the division of $25,000 in cash and then musical scholarships that will go to the national finalists.

Contests will be held in the individual cities and towns throughout this state for the selection of local winners—one boy and one girl. From these local winners, the state's contenders for territorial and national honors (one young man and one young woman) will be selected.

Practically all winners of the four previous Radio Auditions are now well along the road to success by virtue of concert engagements, professional broadcasting and, more recently, the sound movies, for which young singers who screen well are in demand.

For particulars see Mrs. Geo. A. Sentel.
