There are some very worthy cases where men need shoes, sizes 9 and 10. How about it, you bigfooted men? Are you big hearted

We are sure that in Sullivan there is enough old clothing, which will never be used by the owners again, and which if brought to Mrs. Harris' office would be made good use of. Please don't be selfish. This is not a case of giving until it hurts, but more a case of getting rid of what you'll never use again. It's good riddance for you and it's a godsend for those who need it.

We know you'll respond liberally; all you need is a reminder. Many thanks in advance for your liberality.

ling, member of the Federal Farm Board. Mr. Schilling comments on an editorial which recently appeared in The Prog-

Mr. Schilling is not the only one who did not agree with what we said in that editorial. In his letter he dwells upon the assumption that we are opposed to co-operative marketing. We are not. We plainly stated at that time relative to the activities of the Federal Farm Board that, "It encouraged co-operative marketing. This part of the plan is very meritorious. But the crude way in which it was entered into immediately wrecked the existing markets for nobody knew what antics the Federal Farm Board would engage in from day to day."

came into being and much of it was very successfully done. ization. It seems to have covered the country in its search ter, was well-established and a success before any Farm gave $1,000,000; that Senator Couzens contributed with Board was proposed as a solution of farmers' problems.

We do not object to co-operatives. We do object to the Federal Farm Board. We furthermore object to any man on as low as $4,000. the public payroll, be he a Farm Board member or what-not, insinuating that the "privately-owned system of marketing" as represented by grain and produce buyers of this community is dishonest and not working to best of its ability to the best interest of the people that it serves. An amusing feature of Mr. Schilling's letter is his conclusion that "your elevator or produce men must have gotten to you between issues." Does he want to brand a poor and humble newspaper man as being dishonest and for sale?

We object to government in business. We object to the government using public funds to benefit some to the detriment of others. We object to the government in the printing business, printing stamped envelopes at beggar prices and then asking the general public, including the printers, to make up the deficit in some way. We object to the government going into the banking business, relative to co-operatives or in any other way where properly conducted national and state banks could handle the transaction as well. We object to the government spending millions of dollars of the people's money to help any particular class or trade or profession. We object to the protective tariff as an iniquity through which some industry has been enabled to levy tribute on the American farmer and all other consumers of tariff-protected products.

We believe in giving a fair deal to all of America-to the individual who engages in business and to the individuals who join themselves together as a co-operative to engage in business. We believe in equal rights and object to group special privilege of any kind and character.

The function of government is to govern and not to engage in business, unless it be to protect the natural resources of the nation and help in their development.

If the Federal Farm Board had confined its operations to encouraging the organization of co-operatives, there could be no great objection to its activities, even though it usurped the privilege of established banks to finance such projects, but when it entered into business competition in the buying of grain and cotton and claimed for itself powers to monkey around with all transactions leading to the sale and re-sale of farm products, it got into the quicksands of disaster and unless something heroic is done soon, this ill-fated board is apt to be sucked down into the nethermost depths of depression and despair.

In our editorial, to which Mr. Schilling refers, we stated, Dear Mr. Brandenburger: and the statement is not challenged, that the Federal Farm Board was not what the farmers of this country wanted. It was what eastern politicians and capitalists gave them.

The object of the board was to stabilize prices, encourage cooperative marketing and expend $500,000,000 or such parts thereof as it saw fit to carry out its work of bringing forty years of work as a farmer any money on grain or not but 1 a good vaudeville contract all signrelief to the farmers.

It experiments and the tax-payers pay the bill.

Co-operation will solve the farmers' problems. There is little doubt of that. Such development will come gradually. It will slowly and surely replace the older system of marketing of farm products. You can't do it in a day nor a year, perhaps not in a generation. And until it does come the privately owned elevators and buying agencies answer a useful and important part in the economic structure of agriculture. Build through education and not through abuse. It is an outrage to throw a half-billion dollar burden of experimentation on an already over-burdened public.

Make haste slowly and see that you have a worthy and substantial foundation on which you build. The individual, collectively, is what makes this country great. The govern- Hankla was getting ready for busiment is the creation of the indivdual and the individual is not the creation of the government. When a government undermines the integrity of its citizens and uses unfair subsidies and tactics to pull down some to the benefit of others—the building foundation is not sound, it will not be lasting and the task of rebuilding is but a question of time.

Abolish the Federal Farm Board. Encourage co-operatives that can stand on their own bottom.

When the Wealthy "Dig Deep"

Is this "digging deep into the pockets of the rich?"

In 1929—the last year for which figures can be hadthere were 504 persons in the United States with net incomes of $1,000,000 or more, each. Yet the United Press could find only 44 persons worth mentioning as "generous sition" said the attorney to the givers." But the best efforts of a news gathering organization could find only enough striking gifts to total $4,824,000; or less than onehalf of 1 per cent of those profits.

As a matter of fact, any person with a net income of $100,000 a year or more is entitled to be called rich. There were 14,701 such persons in 1929, and their total clear gains that year were $4,314,292,000. # Regulate in Public Interest

People are asking how regulation can be equalized between the railroads and other forms of transportation.

One way would be to impose upon other forms of transportation all the regulation which now applies to the railroads.

Another would be to remove from the railroads all the regulation which does not now apply to other forms of transportation.

Still another way would be to consider each item of regulation separately and to determine whether or not that item serves the publis interest. If it does, apply such regulation to all forms of transportation; if it does not, remove such regulation from all forms of transportation.

The latter method is earnestly recommended. After all, the only sound reason for regulating any form of transportation is to serve the public interest.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are in-

In the paragraphs above, it is seen that 21 Ford scout cars averaged less than 2 1/3 cents a mile and 300 Ford cars in all branches of Detroit police work averaged 2.9 cents a mile!

Day and night, twenty-four hours a day, these Ford cars are in operation. Few branches of transportation demand such grueling service. The records show that low fuel and oil consumption is but one of the Ford's many economies. Ford materials, simplicity of design and accuracy in manufacturing provide unusual strength, stamina and freedom from replacements and repairs.

The individual car buyer as well as the purchasing department of a city or a business cannot afford to ignore the proved economy of the Ford car.

All local details necessary for taking advantage of the Illinois Warehouse Act were completed early this week and work has been started on a list of early applicants. The sealer is licensed by the and works under the direction of a Allenville over the week end. local board. The board was appointed by Director of Agriculture Pierson and for Moultrie county is as follows: H. S. Reedy, Bethany, president; J. E. Righter, Sullivan, vice president; Charles B.

Shuman, Sullivan, secretary. Farmers desiring loans on their corn will make application to the local board or at the Farm Bureau office in Sullivan. This application is turned over to the sealer who inspects the corn, and if in satisfactory condition, measures the crib and gives the owner a receipt on the grain contained therein. This receipt is good as collateral Corporation on a basis of 20c per

All notes are due July 15, 1932, Olive Risley, Betty Sams, Cecil but can be paid at any prior date. Selby, Leilabel Taylor, Jack Whit- The members of the local board receive no pay and the sealer only a nominal fee. This warehouse movement has the backing of the Illinois Agricultural Association and the sealing of cribs is actual ly underway in about 60 of the chief corn raising counties of the state. It makes it possible for many farmers, who could not otherwise afford to do so, to hold their corn off the market. Voluntary agreements or the closing of the elevators cannot be effective when the farmer needs money so badly.

A CHRISTMAS GIFT that only you can give a photograph of yourself, children or the family

A photograph is the most personal gift in the world. It's not expensive but carries a wealth of sentiment. Your friends can buy anything you give them-except your photograph—and they will appreciate your thoughtfulness in making such a gift.

Christmas is not far off-give us time to finish your pictures right-have them taken just as soon as you can-today, if possible. Do not wait for a bright day, we are equipped to take good pictures day or night.

GRADES WIN TWO BASKETBALL GAMES FROM LOVINGTON

On Wednesday night, Nov. 25th the Sullivan Lightweights of the Grade School defeated the Lovington team by a score of 10 to 7. This was the second game for the locals and their playing ability showed a marked improvement. With lots of practice the new players, Richard Foster, Robert Whitfield, Junior Shasteen and Richard Dunscomb are going to aid wonderfully in making this team a good one.

At the forward positions were Junior Shasteen and L. Blackwell with R. Foster as sub; at center, J. McLaughlin; at guard positions: W. Elder and R. Whitfield with R. Dunscomb as sub.

In the Heavyweight contest Sullivan was victor by a score of 8 to 6. Lovington was playing her first game and was good on defense but poor at basket shooting. There was less fumbling, better passing and shooting among the locals. Gregg was the star player for Lovington. The Sullivan team composed of R. Freemon and Jesse Bathe, forwards; Loren Dixon censubstitute guard. Freemon was sandwiches, pickles, Sullivan's high scorer with

THE SULLIVAN PROGRESS

Here's a new feature for the readers of church announcements. Illinois with relatives. We need your assistance to make it a success. Will you help? In order to get it started, we'll ask Rev. Barnett to help next week, then Rev. Lawrence, then Rev. Turner, etc. We ask that the explanation be not lengthy, but concise and to the point.

What is your favorite verse of religious song and why? For example, I like the following verse. It is full of inspiration, thrills and imagination and has something in its make-up that appeals to me:

| Ville spent the last of the week with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. O. E. Foster.

Sweet hour of prayer; sweet hour of prayer! May I thy consolation share, Till, from Mount Pisgah's lofty height, I view my home and take my flight; This robe of flesh, I'll drop and rise To seize the every-lasting prize; And shout, while passing through the air, Farewell, farewell, sweet hour of prayer!

This was written by William W. Walford and is the third verse of a song which will be found in most church hymnals. Pisgah is a mountain referred to three times in the old testament. It was from its of town. summit that Moses saw the promised land.

Look up your favorite verse of song and send it in. The interest that this feature will have for church people, depends entirely upon their co-operation.

SUNDAY MORNING'S SHOOTING WAS COMEDY

Sunday morning about 1 o'clock (Notch) Walker in the southwest part of the city. He thought the young man was intoxicated and took him in charge. Walker's face was bloody and there was some blood on his coat. He told the officer "Harold Lee shot me." Officer Freemon started to bring the man uptown.

Walker seemed to be in great distress and hardly able to walk. At the C. E. Winchester home, Freemon went inside to call the Sheriff and report the shooting. When he came out, his prisoner had disappeared. Sheriff Lansden and his father arrived and joined in the search. They thought the wounded man might have dragged himself away to die.

Finally Sheriff Lansden went to the John Trailor home where Walker rooms. The young man was in his rooms. He was still rather bloody but sobered up when he saw the officers. He said nothing about being shot. On his right hand he had a flesh wound that had bled freely and he must have smeared the blood all over his face to have the Thanksgiving holidays with ushered in by snow, we have had some fun with the officer.
