SPEAKING OF SPORTS

(By Jim Scott)

Preliminaries over, Clark Dennis' current grid edition journeyed to Arcola last Friday for opening skirmishes in defense of their Okaw Valley title. It was a highly successful conference debut as final tabulations credit the Reds with a rousing 50 to 0 verdict. Quarterback Elmer Dunscomb lost no time in turning on the heat and the Red riveters, headed by their illusive phantom, "Bostonian Bill" Dwyer, responded by resuming their '31 antics of constantly trekking to the enemy uprights in a manner fashioned to the famed Notre Dame juggernaut.

In accumulating their half century of points the Redskins relied almost entirely on sweeping end runs and off-tackle smashes. Dwyer and McDavid in particular, found the sector between tackle and end a particularly productive field for their operations and reeled off numerous gains through this sieve-like department of the host's forward wall. The center of the Arcola line was the one bright spot in an otherwise drab team—once with the ball on their 4 yard line they successfully withstood 3 Red assaults but yielded on the final plunge as "Dunk" crossed over from the 1 foot line. The boys from the broom corn center never seriously threatened the Sullivan goal line, only once did they cross the equator into hostile territory.

To put one's fingers on the star local performers is a precarious

Registration Next Tuesday; Absent Votes

All Voters Who Expect to go to the Polls on November 8th Must be Registered or Else Sworn in on Election Day.

Registration days for voters in Moultrie county this year will be on Tuesday, October 18th and on Tuesday, November 1st.

On these days election judges will be at their respective polls to make up the registration lists. On the first day lists will be made, copies of which will hang outside the poll so the voter can check up and see if his name appears thereon. On the second registration day the judges will make corrections and add any names that may have been omitted on the first day.

In Moultrie county it has been customary for many years that the precinct committeemen assist in this work by seeing that all voters in their precincts who are entitled to vote have their names enrolled on the registration books.

Any voters who have not registered here in former years, can get in touch with the political headquarters and precinct committeemen and see that this matter is taken care of.

A voter who appears at the polls on election day, entitled to vote, whose name does not appear on the register can be sworn in and then cast his or her vote. This takes time and is not near as convenient as seeing that they are properly registered. Sullivan will have many new voters this year, due to the city's growth. These

H. Sumner Shot In Head By Drunkard

Elmer Blackwell is in the county jail charged with the shooting. The Sheriff's force and several railroad officers were busy Thursday morning trying to find three companions who were with Blackwell.

Blackwell came to the depot about 11:30, out of a car in which were three other men. He asked Mr. Sumner when he could get a train west. The information was given him. He walked out. Special officer McCarty who was in the depot at the time grew suspicious of Blackwell and followed him out. He feared a depot stickup. He started questioning Blackwell and was met with "none-of-your-d-m business" cursing. The officer knocked the man down and kicked him off the depot platform. Blackwell is said to have been very much under the influence of liquor.

The car left with the four men but Blackwell returned and asked

Park Lake Drained. Will Be Cleaned

State Taking Care of the Fish. Lake Bottom Covered with Smelly Accumulation of Filth. Community Club Sponsors Job.

The only bathtub in Sullivan that had not been emptied and cleaned in 17 years is now undergoing such process.

Wyman Lake is being drained. An eight inch tile which has its opening in the east end of the lake was opened Tuesday morning. The lake waters rushed down Asa Creek and by Wednesday noon the lake level was down to a stage where work of salvaging the fish was started. This work was under the direction of State Game Warden Roy Dixon of Lovington, assisted by a number of other men from the department of conservation.

The first drag of the seine netted some big carp and a lot of smaller fish. Two of the carp tipped the scales at 27 pounds each. Not many bass were seined. The second drag brought in another lot of fish. The carp were taken up-town to the Loveless meat market where they were dressed and then turned over to Mrs. Clyde Harris, county welfare officer for distribution among the city's needy.

The game fish were taken to the Masonic Home lake and to the lake in Pifer's park. Work of salvaging the fish will continue for a few days. The drain will not let the water out of the deeper parts of the lake. It is expected that thousands more fish will be netted before the work ceases.

Cleaning Badly Needed

The draining has disclosed that the bottom of the lake is covered with an ill-smelling black muck. Tree tops in the lake are draped with green moss. There is not very much rubbish in the lake, however, as city officials have never permitted any trash being dumped in to it.

As the lake waters lowered a gun butt was seen sticking out of the water. James McLaughlin swam out and got it. It was turned

RESULTS AND ROSES

The man who wants a garden fair,
Or small or very big,
With flowers growing here and there
Must bend his back and dig.

The things are mighty few on earth
That wishes can attain.
Whate'er we want of any worth
We've got to work to gain.

It matters not what goal you seek,
Its secret here reposes:
You've got to dig from week to week
To get Results or Roses.

Vote "YES on BOND ISSUE

The war cry of the voters of Illinois is "Vote YES on the Emergency Relief Bond Issue."

As a consequence folks are asking, "What is this bond issue that we should vote it in these hard times?"

That's a good question. It opens up the subject.

Last winter the General Assembly provided funds for unemployment relief in 39 Illinois counties by authorizing the borrowing of $18,750,000 upon state anticipation tax notes. To make these notes salable, a state tax of $25,000,000 on property, in addition to the usual state levies, was provided for their payment.

Taxes in Illinois are already too high. Voters are interested in keeping them down. How then can this be done, and this immense obligation met without any tax increase? Vote for the Bond Issue.

Why?

The General Assembly has provided that this $20,000,000 authorized by the Bond Issue shall be used to pay these state anticipation tax bonds and interest.

Where will the money come from?

From the counties that were given the relief.

How can these counties pay it?

Every county in the state is given a refund out of the gasoline tax that the state collects. This refund is to be used for highway purposes. Highways are not as important as relief at the present time. If the bond issue carries, the state will withhold from the counties that have secured this special relief enough gas tax money to pay back to the state the relief funds extended.

If the people vote FOR the $20,000,000 bond issue, there will be no additional taxes to take care of the Relief Funds. If they do not vote for the Bond Issue, the money will have to be raised by taxation. If raised by taxation, all counties will have to contribute their share, for the state tax rate must be uniform.

Moultrie county ought to vote unanimously for the Bond Issue. This proposition will be on a small ballot that will be handed the voters on November 8th. Not to vote is a vote against it. Moultrie county has received no Relief Funds. It has nothing to pay back. Nothing will be deducted from its gasoline tax refunds. If the Bond Issue carries, it means that not one cent of its payment will be levied in Moultrie county. If it does not carry, our state tax rate will be increased at least 40 per cent.

Let every voter in Moultrie take this matter to heart and work and vote for the Bond Issue. Vote "YES".

Insulls Too Big For Regulation

We people are great law-makers in regulating the little fellows. When, however, a man becomes immensely wealthy we act as if we were afraid of him.

Sam Insull and his gang fleeced many hardworking people out of their savings. Anything with the name "Insull" on it was considered gilt-edged and the regulating commissions and similar governmental institutions did not dare investigate the validity or worth of Insull securities and stocks offered for sale.

Now the bubble has burst. The Insulls are fleeing from the wrath of the people they betrayed. The immense Insull wealth was just merely a hoax that could not stand up under hard times.

Officials who should have done some investigating of the "Insull Empire" some years ago are now sputtering and fussing to bring the magnates back to this country. If they do get them back, they'll slap them on the wrist, make them pay a few lawyers some big fees, incur hundreds of thousands of dollars in court costs that the people have to pay, and, well, that's just about all.

The world has seen so many of these farces that it expects little. The damage it done. Anything that the law might do to the perpetrators would not help the duped investors. Even if they would tear the members of the Insull family limb to limb and cook the remains in oil—what would that avail? The Insulls got by. The law permitted them to. The investors thought the law was protecting them. It was not.

The Insulls were so big and powerful financially that officials never had the nerve to question their financial buccaneering.

Moral—Any time something gets to be bigger than the government itself—it is dangerous.

One Big Meeting We Missed

The Progress editor is sorry, indeed, that he was unable to attend the Republican rally in this city Friday night. A mere matter of political courtesy would have dictated such attendance.

There was, however, an important Democratic meeting in Springfield that we were called upon to attend. We did.

We understand that the main speaker, the big gun, as it were, of the Republican slate of speakers, advertised to speak here, did not show up. He was the Hon. Wayland Brooks, Republican candidate for State treasurer, a man of oratorical ability and pleasing personality. Mr. Brooks was told to pass up the Sullivan meeting and go to Danville instead, by the Republican State Speakers Bureau.

We told Col. Hopper and some of the other Republican workers Friday morning that if their speakers failed to show up, we would charge a confidence game. It is not nice to invite people to a meeting to hear some big man like Brooks and then make them listen to Frank Insull Smith, a man named Wood from Springfield and a lame-duck Congressman, Ozark evangelist named Dewey Short.

But you never can tell about speakers—maybe we Democrats will have bad luck some time too. We are sure that Col. Hopper and his assistants did not wilfully mislead.

Many Democrats went to the Armory meeting Friday night. It was really a good meeting in point of attendance. Everybody had a good time. The Democrats say that tears came to their eyes when Mr. Short eulogized President Hoover and made them see what a really wonderful man he is. Of course, after the spell of the oratory wore off, they back-slid into the ranks of Democracy.

Mr. Short is reported to have made some very unkind comparisons. He stated that the proud and rampant emblem of Democracy — our beloved donkey — which is no numerously displayed on automobile windows these days is naught but an ordinary jackass. He said it well represented the Democrats—braying at the front end and kicking at the rear end.

We repeat that such a remark was unkind and uncalled for for it may make many first voters—those who will vote Democratic the FIRST time this year—look rather askance at the crowd with which they are about to congregate. We have heard many Democratic speeches this fall, but really haven't heard anybody say anything mean about the lowly pachyderm—the red elephant — the militant emblem of our friends the enemy.

As long as we live—whenever we have nothing better to do—we will vainly regret that we did not have the opportunity to attend that Armory meeting.

For this is a campaign where it is good for brethren to meet in harmony and reason together.

Ten Years Ago

(October 13, 1922)

Mrs. Dan Milliken entertained with a farewell party Friday in honor of her sister Mrs. O. L. Hancock who was leaving for California.

Mrs. Maggie Strupe of Richmond, Va., came Monday to visit relatives.

Dr. Bateman and family were preparing to move to the West on account of his health.

A daughter was born Oct. 7th to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Batman. Clark Magill was announcing his marriage of 3 years ago.

Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Johnson returned Monday from a ten days trip to Kentucky.

The Leeds family reunion was held Sunday in Freeland Grove.

DR. JOHNSON REBUKES LEN SMALL'S BOOSTER

The other day Dr. S. W. Johnson received a letter and some printed matter from a newspaperman by the name of H. J. Blazer of Aledo, Illinois. The Doctor read the stuff and its unfairness made him indignant. He replied to Mr. Blazer as follows:

"October 7, 1932.

"H. J. Blazer,

"Aledo, Illinois

"In Re letter and Editorial

"Dear Sir:—May I ask, when did Len Small become a downstate candidate? I presumed a governor was to be governor of the whole state. If Small should be elected would he govern down state and Bill Thompson Chicago? With Small's associates and active henchmen—Bill Thompson, Fred Lundin, Frank Smith et al, a person may reasonably infer such might be the case.

"And further, may I ask, who was the author and instigator of Chicago's condition if it wasn't Big Bill? And when did Mercer County get to be downstate territory?

"It appears you would throw Chicago out of the state; I would almost be willing to do that if by so doing we could be rid of Bill Thompson, but as he is already a dead mackerel politically, it does not matter.

"Yes, this is a time when patriotism should rise above politics but in your communications I discover the same old brand of politics. If Cook county is the only part of the state bankrupt why such urgent calls by the so-called downstate for help from the R. F. C. to feed the hungry?

"Respectfully,

"Stonewall Johnson, M. D."

MYSELF

I have to live with myself and so I want to be fit for myself to know I want to be able as the days go by

Always to look myself straight in the eye.

I don't want to stand with the setting sun
And hate myself for the things I have done.

I don't want to keep on a closet shelf
A lot of secrets about myself
And fool myself as I come and go
Into thinking nobody else will know

The kind of a man I really am
I don't want to dress up myself in sham.

I want to go out with my head erect

I want to deserve all men's respect
But here in this struggle for fame and pelf

I want to be able to like myself.
I don't want to look at myself and know

That I'm a blundering bluff and an empty show.

I can never hide myself from me
I see what others may never see
I know what others may never know

I can never fool myself and so
Whatever may happen I want to be Self respecting and conscious free.

"Yes, sir, I believe that big wars often are caused by the smallest matters," ruminated Old Man Jones. "Why, just the other night my wife was working a cross-word puzzle, and she looked up at me and said, 'What is a female sheep?' And I replied, 'Ewe.' And there was another big war on."

—Saturday Evening Post.

If the whole country feels like Maine does, the Roosevelt-Garner ticket will have about 10,000,000 majority November 8th.

There are more bootblacks on the streets of New York than ever before. These men anticipate what they will receive for a shine by the quality of the men's socks. The usual charge for a shine is a nickel, but more frequently a dime is paid.

Pres's Column

The farmer's predicament under Republican administration can best be explained by a few figures. As Governor Roosevelt pointed out, the farmer at the present time as compared with 1913, pays 9% more for what he buys and gets 43% less for what he sells. In other words, in 1913 he had $100.00 worth of farm produce to buy $100.00 worth of goods. Now he has $57.00 worth of farm produce to buy $109.00 worth of goods. What he buys has gone up and what he sells has gone down. No wonder he wants a change.

Len Small, in a recent speech, said that the farmers of Illinois are not rubes or hicks and would not fall for political claptrap. Wonder what he calls the stuff he and Bill Thompson put out on the showboat?

If the strong Republican counties in the Northern part of the State are going as strongly Democratic as the Rockford Register straw vote indicates, the Republicans will be buried in November. The latest figures there show Roosevelt leading Hoover 1731 to 1215. Judge Horner has 1722 votes to Small's 1161. The Rock Island Argus poll shows Roosevelt getting 69% of the vote in that region and Horner getting 66%.

Practical vs. Theoretical

Judge Henry Horner is an honest man. He does not claim to know all there is to know about farming. But he said that when elected he will call in practical farmers, not theoretical ones, sit down with them and make an earnest study of their problems in order that the State government may aid them. This is in contrast with his opponent, who promises everything but the kitchen stove.

Otis Glenn, the Yes man for Hoover and Mellon, now traveling with Small, must feel qualms of conscience considering the things he said about Len when he was in the State Senate. In a speech, as quoted by the Illinois State Journal on April 1, 1928 Glenn said concerning Small: "By all means give him another term. But we may disagree as to where he shall serve it."

Insull and Larceny

Now that the Insull brothers are under indictment for embezzlement and larceny, it must cause Small's campaign manager, Frank Smith, some grief. Everybody will remember that in 1926 it was the Insulls who contributed so heavily to his campaign fund and caused the United States Senate twice to reject him as a member of that body.

Two things which are bringing Judge Horner support from downstate are his stand on reapportionment, in which he advocates perpetual control of one house of the legislature by downstate; and his urging of all voters to support the bond issue referendum, which will make each county pay for its own unemployment relief, already received.

Propaganda is being circulated that John N. Garner, candidate for vice president, blocked the Rainey Farm Relief Bill in the closing days of Congress. Congressman Rainey himself, who sponsored the bill, declares that it was Herbert Hoover and Republican administration who blocked the bill, not Speaker Garner. Congressman Rainey states that every Republican member of the rules committee was against it and that Hoover sent his personal secretary Walter Newton, down to the floor of the house to lobby against it, eventually causing its defeat. Just another instance of the Republicans trying to evade responsibility for not helping the farmer.

Big Bill's Bill

The Republicans are setting up an awful howl about the financial condition that exists in Chicago, but they fail to tell you that this condition was brought about by the extravagance of Big Bill Thompson. No Democrat had anything to do with it. The Chicago Daily News in a recent editorial lays the blame on Big Bill, and compliments Mayor Cermak on the wonderful progress that he has made since taking over the reins of government of that city. Millions of dollars of indebtedness have already been wiped out by Mr. Cermak's economy program.

We Need Efficiency

Efficiency is one thing that should count in public office, and no place is it needed more than in the office of State Auditor. The Democratic candidate, Edward J. Barrett has made a record for efficiency in the office of State Treasurer. Confronted by bank failures on every hand, in the midst of the worst depression this country has ever known, the records show that the State has not lost one cent through the management of the office of State Treasurer. That should be sufficient evidence of efficiency to recommend

THOSE FEATHERED FRIENDS OF OURS

(By Zella Wigent)

ROSE BREASTED GROSBEAKS

Grosbeaks belong to the sparrow family. They are among our loveliest and most valuable birds.

The rose-breasted grosbeak is called the "potato bug bird" because so large a percentage of its food consists of potato bugs. The plum curculio, which causes such great loss to the plum trees in many sections, is also eaten in great numbers. It seems to be especially fond of any large beetles.

Other insects on its list are Gypsy moths, tent caterpillars, army worms, canker worms, chinch bugs and the Rocky Mountain locust. One peculiar thing about its food habits is that it does not like grasshoppers. Insects make up 52 per cent of its food.

The greatest damage charged to grosbeaks is that to budding trees. All grosbeaks eat buds of trees to a certain extent, but little harm is done except occasionally in the case of an isolated tree in the garden or orchard.

The song of the grosbeak is as charming as the bird's appearance is striking. The grosbeak is a tireless singer and can be heard even at noon on the hottest days and sometimes even at night. It nests in the orchard or in the border of the woods. Four eggs, pale green, speckled with brown, are laid.

When Jimmy Walker quit being mayor of New York City, the job fell to a Scotchman named McKee. This new mayor reduced salaries, including his own. He cut expenses all down the line. The people were happy. They approved of all that McKee was doing and when they held a convention to nominate a candidate for mayor they bestowed the nomination — on McKee? Naw, should say not! — on O'Brien.

The depression has hit the business of going to New York. Nearly 6,000,000 fewer persons visited New York during the past 12 months than during the previous year.

The easiest way to make money is to take it away from people who are looking for the easiest way to make money.

Will Hicks submits the following copy of a Scotch telegram. Old Sandy McDougal was saving money. Read it aloud. If you can't catch the meaning of it, see solution at bottom of this column:

"Bruises hurt erased afford erected Analysis hurt too infectious dead."

Congressman Short who spoke at a G. O. P. meeting here Friday night says his mother's name was Long. Judging by his performance he inherited his brains from his father and his wind from his mother.

Herbert Hoover says Republican policies are "Sound" — yeah, we know, mostly sound.

How can prosperity be around a corner when the world is round and has no corners?

Prof. Scheer: "Is there a word in the English language that contains all the vowels?"

Bright student: "Unquestionably."

Prof. S. "What is it?"

Student: "Why I just told you."

The son (writing home from the city) "Dear parents—I've lost my job and wife and I and the kids will be down to visit you."

The Father: "We've never realized how bad the depression is, until now it comes home to us."

And if the Democrats should happen to elect a governor in Illinois what's going to become of the contractors who have been making a living all these years repairing the Capitol?

Two boys discussing a girl: "If that cutie were half as hot as she thinks she is, her mamma ought to lock 'er in the ice box."

We just simply can't keep politics out of this column. Some of the best jokes of the present day are political. Consider for instance, the folks who used to cuss and fuss at Len Small. Today they'd have you believe old Len is sprouting wings. "Tis said that Senator Glenn remarked when Len wanted another term of governor some years ago: "I'm in favor of giving him a term, but not in the State House." As the Senator is now campaigning with Mr. Small, he must have had a great change of heart. And have you noticed some fellows wearing small buttons? Just a few short years ago they'd have knocked you down and stomped you into the mud had you even tried to pin such an emblem on them. It may all be explained by the fellow who said "Small may be guilty of everything he's charged with. He's a smart man and there never was a Republican born so mean, that he was not better than the very best Democrat."

Against such ignorance and prejudice the very gods themselves contend in vain.

WHEN THE WORKS ALL DONE THIS FALL

Twelve years have passed since Wilson sat in the White House chair; The people all were happy when he was sitting there; of cash they had plenty, of worries none at all; but we'll return to normal, when the work's all done this fall.

They quickly raised our taxes, upon the old home farm, they mortgaged us to Wall Street and sold the Tea Pot Dome. They soon filled up the White House with birds like Albert Fall, but there'll be a real house cleaning when the work's done this fall.

Along came Calvin Coolidge; they called the silent one. The only thing he ever said was "I do not choose to run." We'll have to give him credit for he didn't take it all; but we'll also audit Calvin's books, when the work's all done this fall.

Who, who, who is Hoover and where does he come in? He's the rich old daddy, of a million traveling men; they are ragged, worn and hungry and in vain to him they call; but they'll not get an answer till the work's all done this fall.

We'll vote for Franklin Roosevelt and old John Garner too; we'll save a place upon the bench, for William McAdoo. We'll vote for Henry Horner put the skids to old Len Small; his Grant Park Bank will still be closed when the work's all done this fall.

The Illinois officers will be Democrats; and when the votes are counted, songs of freedom echo back the long lost call, Democracy will reign again, when the work's all done this fall.

—Frank Bensley in the Charleston Daily News.

At the THEATRE

See the program on page 8 for announcement of Thursday and Friday night's show. We haven't time to tell you about it for we want to tell you about "Largo, the Musical Clown."

He's Here Saturday

As a special added attraction on Saturday Manager Hays has booked Largo to appear here in person. He is one of the most famous clowns in existence and has scampered around the Hippodrome of many circuses, including Wallace-Hagenbeck, Gentry Brothers and Pattersons Shows. Largo means lots of good clean fun for everybody.

The picture is "Cornered" featuring Tim McCoy, Shirley Grey, Noah Beery, Raymond Hatton and others. This is a pretty good array of talent for a Western. There are strong friendships, desperate and hopeless love, murder, guilt, conviction and just a doggone mess of trouble that finally works out all hunkered.

The trimmings on Saturday's program are a comedy and Aesop's Fables.

Look This Over

Charles Farrell, Joan Bennett, Ralph Bellamy, Eugene Pallette, Irving Pichel, Minna Gombell—looks like a star reunion, but it isn't. It presents the headlines in the cast "Wild Girl" which is the grand attraction at the Grand on Sunday and Monday. Here's a fast moving outdoor drama, with a touch of the open spaces of the wild west. It's not a pony opera, but it is based on Bret Harte's story "Salome Jane's Kiss." Get a glimpse of the redwoods of California with the snow-capped mountains in the distance. Honestly, you'll like this picture. It's good stuff from beginning to end—an interesting story, well portrayed. Also there will be a Mack Sennett comedy featuring Donald Novis, radio star. There will be a cartoon and News.

"The Age of Consent"

This picture title is one of those bright ideas of producers. The story is "The Fraternity House" and it tells of the troubles of the young folks when they leave home and launch out in life to get an education. Looking the cast over we find there in the name of Richard Cromwell, a fairly good young actor. The rest of the bunch are second raters, but occasionally they surprise you with a good show. The troubles and love affairs of these college kids will interest you.

On these same Tuesday and Wednesday nights you'll see Charles Chaplin in his famous comedy "The Cure" with synchronized music. You'll like the Screen Novelty "Big Game of the Sea."

Chandu the Magician
Here is another play in which

ROUGH to your finger

means . . . ROUGH IN YOUR STOMACH

It's easy to say they're all alike—and easy to prove they are NOT. Dissolve a genuine Bayer Aspirin tablet in water, pour it off, feel the fine powder that coats the glass. Do this with some other tablet; see what coarse particles are left! They feel as sharp as sand, even to your finger. How must they affect those delicate membranes which line your throat—your stomach? For immediate relief from headaches, colds, sore throat, neuralgia or neuritis, lumbago, rheumatism, there's nothing like Bayer Aspirin. It cannot depress the heart.

Edmund Lowe stars. It's a mystery and magic feature. This is one of those entertainment features that has been butchered over the radio. If perchance you have been getting some of the radio dope, you'll enjoy seeing the real presentation in an excellent manner by a star cast. With Edmund Lowe you'll find Irene Ware, Bela Lugosi—(Bela is a man who made the hit of his life in "Dracula") and Henry B. Walthall. Henry is one of the real old timers. Do you remember him in "The Birth of a Nation"—that was some picture in its day. We'd like to see it again, just to see whether there's a thrill left in it.

On Thursday and Friday nights when Chandu is shown here there will also be "Neighbor Troubles", Hollywood on Parade and News. News is always good.

Theatre Special
"The Grand Hotel" will be shown at the Grand Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, October 23-24-25. It's a wonderful show and the talk of the picture world. It's all-star cast includes most of the famous actors and actresses of the day.

4-H CLUB NEWS

State Health Campaign
Health projects carried on by 4-H club members have aroused an interest in child welfare in rural sections which has long been sought by leaders in thought on human improvement. It has been a trite saying that while farm people did everything to improve their livestock they gave little or no thought to the improvement of their own bodies and health.

Now there are many signs that rural communities are awakening to the opportunities for making life better through the practice of proper habits of health and nutrition. Rural women's clubs have of late been giving this subject attention. The greatest opportunity for getting results in this line is in the children during their growing years. Organized programs are now under consideration in many communities to carry on child improvement.

Harrison county, Iowa, is about to undertake such a program, and it is the first one of its kind on a county scale in the state, although the 4-H health program and demonstrations, also the state aid for mothers, has done a great work to show Iowa people the way to better living.

The Harrison county campaign was launched recently at a meeting in which details of the plan were explained. Mrs. Arlene Van Cleave, county superintendent of schools, is in charge, since the work will be carried on in connection with rural schools.

Studies of health and growth of rural children in the state by county doctors, nurses and other specialists, show that for a small effort on the part of the individual, and little expense, marked improvements can be effected in the human machine. Proper attention to teeth may save the loss of the use of natural teeth early in life, and actually ward off diseases which are believed to originate in unsound teeth. Defects in hearing, sight and other functioning are usually subject to correction in children.

FARMER'S RIGHTS ON ADJOINING HIGHWAY

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 3.—In a courtesy opinion made to James Benvenuti of Peru, Assistant Attorney General G. E. Nelson advised that a farmer may prohibit the gathering of nuts in a roadway adjacent to his land.

Judge Nelson said: "I wish to state that a farmer has the right to keep a person from picking nuts on a public highway adjoining his land."

"The reason for this stated in language free from technical terms is that fact that the farmer owns the land to the center of the road and the public is entitled only to use the land for highway purposes. Every other use, including fruit, crops, etc., which might grow upon the land belongs to the farmer."

"There is no right in the public to gather nuts on a roadway adjoining a farmer's land, without permission of the owner of the land."

Editors Of Democracy Had Meeting

Called to Springfield for Banquet and to Hear Leaders Discuss Progress of the Campaign. All Indications Point to Success on Nov. 8.

Democratic editors from all over the state of Illinois met in St. Nicholas Hotel in Springfield Friday night to hear reports on the progress of the campaign.

S. P. Preston of Gillespie, editor of the "Pres" column that appears weekly in The Progress preceded, following a banquet. Preceding the banquet the newspaper men met and mingled with the men in charge of the work at the downtown Democratic headquarters in the St. Nicholas.

The first speaker of the evening was the Hon. Vin Dallman editor of the State-Register. He spoke on "Why I am for Roosevelt." He told of an acquaintance with the candidate over a period of many years during which the New Yorker steadily grew in his esteem. He told of conventions he had attended—Democratic and Republican—and some of the interesting things that had transpired there. He paid his respects to Robert Kern of Belleville and other delegates to the Chicago convention who stood steadfastly for Roosevelt-for-President, until they saw their favorite victorious.

SCOTT LUCAS

The next speaker was Hon. Scott Lucas, in charge of the speakers' bureau for the campaign. In his magnificent oratorical way Mr. Lucas held his audience spellbound for the duration of his impassioned address.

Stelle Talks Business
Then came a speaker who in a businesslike manner imparted to the assembled editors, some things they wanted to know. He was John Stelle, in charge of down state organization work and first lieutenant to campaign manager Bruce A. Campbell.

Mr. Stelle told of the progress of the campaign and the perfecting of an organization that will assure Democratic victory. Two years ago when James Hamilton Lewis swept to Democratic victory with a majority of over 750,000, it was done despite the fact that 1000 downstate voting districts lacked Democratic organization. This year, by election time, every district in the state will be thoroughly organized and ready to do its utmost on November 8th.

Straw ballots are being taken throughout the state in an endeavor to find where strenuous work is most necessary. The ballots are revealing an amazing drift toward the Democratic party. They indicate that Governor Roosevelt will sweep the state and the entire Democratic state ticket will ride to victory with him.

87-Year-Old Veteran
The last speaker was "Uncle Joe" Page of Jerseyville one of the best known country newspapermen that the world ever produced. A veteran of the War of the Rebellion, Mr. Page is now past 87 years of age. He still does active newspaper work and keeps himself thoroughly informed as to world affairs. He denounced the recent Hoover-Canadian treaty for a St. Lawrence waterway, stating that Canada was poking fun at the United States at the great coup it had achieved. He said that the United States was doing the paying and Canada would reap the benefits. This he stated, was one reason why President Hoover was unwilling to confer with Governor Roosevelt before the signing of the treaty. Furthermore, he stated that if the treaty were placed into effect the Illinois waterway would be but a dream and the expensive channel that has been built would be a dry course, for the treaty does not permit of taking enough water out of Lake Michigan to make the waterway a success.

"I am past 87" said Mr. Page. "My health is not so good, so I'm taking this opportunity of talking to you boys. It may be the last time."

T. B. Shoaff
Another veteran of newspaperdom and a grand old Democratic war-horse is Thomas Benton Shoaff of the Shelby County Leader. Past 86, he is on the job every day, issuing one of the country's best weekly newspapers in Shelbyville. Mr. Shoaff is a staunch Democrat who has battled for the principles of Jefferson through many long years. He and Mr. Page were lauded to the assembled men by Mr. Dallman.

It is doubtful whether any other state in the union or any other political party in any state can boast of two such fine young oldsters as are Mr. Page and Mr. Shoaff.

Democrats left their meeting on Friday night, to return to the battle lines in their home communities and work their brains, and typewriters, and get their presses to spash ink in commendable quantities to help along the cause of Democratic victory November 8th.

From Sullivan there were present at the meeting, Hon. O. C. Worsham and The Progress editor. Mr. Worsham was greatly impressed with the good looks, intelligence and enthusiasm of the men of the Fourth Estate.

Soybeans Have Wide Range Of Usefulness

Government Investigation Discloses Many Products Can Be Made from One of Moultrie's Leading Crops.

The soybean promises to become America's most versatile crop—highly valuable both industrially and agriculturally. The U. S. Department of Agriculture has recently completed a collection of nearly 400 soybean products from the Orient as well as America.

The collection shows that a wide variety of products are made from the soybean in America. It is divided into four groups of flour, bean, meal, and oil products. In the flour group are bread, cakes, macaroni, vermicelli, noodles, spaghetti, infant foods, diabetic foods, and beverages such as malted milks. From the bean proper are soy sauce, sprouts, bean milk in fresh, powdered and canned forms, bean cheese, flour, soybean butter, and meat substitutes. The meal provides animal food such as poultry, hog, cattle, and dog feed, glue, fertilizers, and flour. The oil has proved a fertile field for development and from it are made soaps, ink oils, salad oil, shortening, core oil used in foundries, rubber substitutes, disinfectants, paints, varnish, chocolate candy, and lecithin, a phosphatic tonic compound.

Soybean products in the Orient differ somewhat from those in America. For instance, from roasted beans the orientals make candies, cakes, confections, and beverages similar to coffee. They make a bean paste which is fermented and used in soups, in preserving foods, and in making soy sauce. Orientals also use soybeans widely as a green vegetable, much as Americans use lima beans. Besides the oil uses adopted in America, the orientals use it to make candles and waterproof goods. Another significant product is a fuel oil made by the Japanese from soybean oil. Although this is not commercially profitable now, it indicates a possible future development.

One evening last week Fire Chief Crockett was accosted by a well dressed young man who called at the city hall where the Crockett family lives upstairs.

"Where can I find a place to sleep?" he asked. Mr. Crockett started referring him to hotels but he interrupted with, "The city marshal said I could find a place at the city hall."

Still thinking that the dapper young man was looking for a place for some hobo friend, Mr. Crockett showed him the place where the poor bunk. "Now that's fine" said stranger as he walked out toward a classy new car parked nearby. Out of the car he took two big comfortable blankets and carried them into the city jail to arrange his bed. "Say you," he demanded of Crockett "do you think my car will be safe, parked here tonight?" Assured that it would the stranger went peacefully to sleep among the less fortunate brethren of the road.

One evening last week Fire Chief Crockett was accosted by a well dressed young man who called at the city hall where the Crockett family lives upstairs.

"Where can I find a place to sleep?" he asked. Mr. Crockett started referring him to hotels but he interrupted with, "The city marshal said I could find a place at the city hall."

Still thinking that the dapper young man was looking for a place for some hobo friend, Mr. Crockett showed him the place where the poor bunk. "Now that's fine" said stranger as he walked out toward a classy new car parked nearby. Out of the car he took two big comfortable blankets and carried them into the city jail to arrange his bed. "Say you," he demanded of Crockett "do you think my car will be safe, parked here tonight?" Assured that it would the stranger went peacefully to sleep among the less fortunate brethren of the road.

Synopsis of the All School play, "Merely Mary Ann," by Israel Zangwill produced by special arrangement with Samuel French.

Mrs. Ledbetter, a poor, widowed lodging house keeper, has one daughter Rosie who is the idol of her mother's heart. It has befallen Mrs. Ledbetter's lot to take a mere orphan girl, Mary Ann to rear along with her own much loved daughter Rosie. Mary Ann becomes the target for all the household drudgery, abuse and sarcastic remarks made by the lodgers. Among the so-called lodgers is a financially disabled musician named Lancelot who is aspiring to compose a praiseworthy selection for publication. Due to the help of a very influential friend he is able to accomplish this motive and in this way wins a favorable place for himself in London society.

During the intervening years in which Mr. Lancelot has been absent from Mrs. Ledbetter's lodging he has developed a deep affection for the orphan of Mrs. Ledbetter's household, however, many difficulties arise to prevent either from meaning anything to the other. Fate usually finds a way for the solution of all major problems in life and this we find to be true of the many attending circumstances in the drama "Merely Mary Ann."

Due to the Student Council's decision that only High School Students should be permitted to participate in the play the cast is announced as follows:

Lancelot (a composer)—Dean Harshman.

Peter (in business)—Woodrow Spough.

Herr Bralemson (a publisher)—Bill Fleming.

Rev. Samuel Smedge (a vicar)—Loyle Davis.

O'Gorman (a journalist)—Ebby Scheer.

Lord Valentine—Joseph Purvis.

Mrs. Ledbetter (a lodging house keeper)—Helen McCarthy.

Rosie (her daughter)—Marge Lou Scheer.

Kitty (music ball dancer)—Genevieve Wheeler.

Polly (same)—Dorothy Brumfield.

Lady Chelmer (a poor Peeress)—Beatrice Hill.

Mary Ann (merely)—Mary E. Clark.

Coffee will be served at the camp. Bring your cup and spoon. Pep will be served a-la-testimonium.

of Findlay. He is charged with arson (burning a building) on the Gene Bland farm near Findlay. This crime is supposed to have taken place about 8 years ago.

Several weeks ago a man named Black appeared in this city and appealed to the officials. He said that he was afraid of Icel Reedy and told this story: On the night when the house burned on the Bland place where Reedy was tenant, Reedy brought a lot of his household goods to the home of Mr. Black, who was a neighbor. He told him he'd kill him if the matter was ever reported. Reedy was not suspected at the time and is alleged to have collected insurance on all of his household goods, even that part saved. Since then Black has been afraid of Reedy. He was permitted to tell his story to the grand jury and Reedy's indictment followed. Reedy was arrested and lodged in jail here. He says that the whole case is a frame up against him to help some other Findlay men who are facing trouble with the State Fire Marshall's office.

In the Schable estate cases, the matter of sufficient bond for appellant was argued and taken under consideration by the judge.

Demurrer in the Pickle vs. Cadwell alienation case was sustained and the complainant Pickle, was given leave to amend his bill. Attorney Black of Decatur and C. R. Patterson of this city represented Mr. Cadwell. The demurrer states that nowhere in the declaration is it set forth that Mr. and Mrs. Pickle were ever legally married or that Mr. Pickle ever had the affection of his wife. He seeks $10,000 on alienation charges. Mr. Cadwell is a prominent farmer, while Mr. and Mrs. Pickle have from time to time been in conflict with the law.

Judge Wamsley also ruled in several chancery cases, rendering judgment decrees and referring some cases to the Master in Chancery.

Court adjourned to October 25.

SWINE SANITATION

Application of the sanitation system developed by the United States Department of Agriculture and which is in common use in the Middle West, is resulting in the production of more and better pigs in the Southern States, according to reports reaching the department.

One grower in Tennessee raised six litters of pigs on clean pasture where no other pigs had been allowed to run since the pasture crop was planted. At the age of 3 months the pigs were uniform and thrifty, averaging about 80 lbs.

Three other litters raised on ground previously used by hogs averaged less than 30 pounds per pig at the same age, the pigs being unthrifty and rough coated. Heavy losses at farrowing time and on pasture also commonly occur when pigs are raised with no attention to sanitation.

Mrs. Rose McCarthy and daughter Helen entertained the following relatives to a pot luck dinner at their home Sunday: Mrs. Lena Forrest, Misses Kate and Anna McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. John McCarthy and daughter.

Forum

Editor Progress:—

Mr. Leon M. Abbott, Sovereign Grand Commander of Masons, says there is an attempt being made to "Destroy those sacred ideals upon which our nation is founded. Those who are alert and wide awake realize that in our country today there are corrupting, inborn and destructive influences at work, deliberately engaged in the attempt to destroy these sacred ideals. These same enemies in various guises and disguises in numerous and subtle ways are spreading the seeds of unrest and revolution, and it is the stern duty of every member of the Masonic fraternity to put on his whole armor and to use the last measure of his strength and influence in combating these enemies."

Strong words these and doubtless more truth than poetry in what he says. Mr. Abbott's statements should appeal to all good citizens, and brothers and sisters, this ought to mean you and me. "Arouse, fellow-men, our country yet remains," but if we go ahead, listless and asleep, it will not long be our country, but one of those where "Wealth accumulates, crime increases and men decay," one where the "Home of the brave and land of the free," is a misnomer; it will not be the country Jefferson had in mind when he penned the immortal phrase, "Among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Nor Lincoln's "Shall not perish from off the face of the earth."

Yes, let's arouse and begin at home. A rich man was lecturing his hostler about drinking "Don't you take your dram?" said the hostler. "Yes, but see your circumstances and mine." "Can you tell me how the streets of Jerusalem were kept so clean?" "I don't know." "It was because every man kept his own part clean." A good lesson for use all. Let us "Cast out the beam out of our own eye" first.

It might be well to revive some of the old English customs of dividing or zoning our country. Ten Anglo-Saxon families made a tithing, and by a system or pledge, each became bail for the good conduct of the other nine; Each kinsman was his kinsman's keeper, bound to protect him from wrong, to hinder him from wrong doing and to suffer with him and pay for him, when wrongs were done. Let our zones be, say in towns and cities, the block in residential portions and school districts in the country. Let there be a showdown as to whether one's deeds will bear the light of the day, or whether their deeds are evil, and if they savor strongly of the latter, use some strong brand of moral suasion, accompanied by the Big Stick if necessary.

Our high taxes are still interesting subjects. Like Banquo's ghost, they just won't down.

It might be of interest to some Progress readers to know about Coles county taxing rates. East Nelson township lies directly west of Okaw township in Coles Co., only an imaginary line between them and their taxing troubles and depression worries should not be very different. Here are some of our rates: State tax 39c, State aid 13c, County 22c, Mother's pension 3c, Town 13c, Road & Bridge 33c, Oil Roads 33c, Drainage 7c, School Dist. 97, and Non-High School 50. The foregoing rates mean so many cents on the One Hundred Dollars.

A quarter section (160 acres) of fair black soil, valued at $74.25 in Okaw township is taxed $210.87 and the following table shows the amount given each taxing unit:

|----------------------|---------|
| State, 39c           | $28.96 |
| State Aid, 13c       | 9.65    |
| County, 22c          | 16.34   |
| Mothers, 3c          | 2.20    |
| Town, 13c            | 9.65    |
| Road & Bridge, 33c   | 24.50   |
| Oil Roads, 33c       | 24.50   |
| Drainage, 7c         | 5.20    |
| Hard Road Bonds, 27c | 20.05   |
| Dist. School 44c     | 32.67   |
| Non-Hi School 50c    | 37.12   |

These amounts and rates are the figures for the year 1931.

Also as a matter of comparison the assessed valuation of Coles Co. for year 1931 was $27,214,363.3 for Okaw township $1,572,814.

For Wade Dist. 97, $117,904.

Our County Clerk Mr. Elston says if a law was passed that mortgages had to be listed yearly with the taxing officials—said mortgages to be null, void and non collectable if it bears not the official stamp showing its yearly listing. If such were done, says Mr. Elston the real estate tax would be reduced nearly one half.

We asked Mr. J. F. Brewster, our representative, how about such a law. He replied, two such bills were introduced in the last general session, and both of them died aborning — were quietly smothered to death by the committee, i. e. were not reported out. Note, the above is said of Coles county. May be Moultrie county mortgagees, rush up, crowd up, tumble up, any way to get up to list their mortgages. If they don't a law like this, and they would. What's the matter with us little fellows who have given mortgages but own none, having such a law passed. Before we vote for the next General Assembly officials, let's look at their tongues and feel their pulse on this subject and give them a general diagnosing for various other bills that might prove beneficial and uplifting for down-trodden humanity and for the under dog in the fight.

—J. J. Martin.

GUINEAS STEAL YOUNG FROM BARNYARD HENS

How one species objects to its young being foster-mothered and raised by some other species is demonstrated by a story from St. Clair county. Mrs. John Mauer (sister of The Progress editor) raises guineas. Last spring she gathered the eggs and set them under hens. When the little ones came she left them with the hens to raise. Soon she noticed that the little guineas were disappearing. Rats were suspected, but a watch at the pens disclosed the fact that several old guineas that had not hatched, nor even been broody, were stealing the little guineas from the hens. They coaxed them out of the pens and then wandered afield with them. They mothered them carefully. Not until the pens were closed tightly so as to prevent the little ones from getting out did the thefts cease. The older guineas seemed to object to the young of their species being mothered by just ordinary barnyard hens.

business as each player seemed to have well executed his respective duties. As usual first honors must go to the All-Central Ill., half-Bad Bill, if you please. Bill's open field running was a sight to behold. He employed a sharp twist at the hips and high knee action for devastating results. On several occasions, Bill, after running into a reception of enemy tacklers would free himself by pirouetting sharply by his own momentum. Captain Pete McDavid also came through with a well played game, exhibiting a world of power and drive in his off-tackle smashes. Dunscomb restricted himself to little ball lugging but his clear staccato signal calling and field generalship deserves mentioning. The fourth member of the backfield quartet, Howard Poland served notice that he is developing into a line plunger of no mean ability. From a defensive angle we'll pass the honors to Hugh Grote and let it go at that. All the linemen played well but Grote made a major portion of the tackles and frequently shot through the Arcola wall to smear the aspiring ball totter in his tracks.

Sullivan won the toss and McDavid chose to receive. Arcola kicked off to Dunscomb who returned to his 30 yard line on the first play from scrimmage Poland gained 15 yards on a thrust at center. He attempted a duplicate but fumbled for no gain. A roar went up from the Sullivan side as Dwyer took the ball for the first time and stormed off left tackle, racing to the sidelines for an 18 yard gain. Again "Dunk" handed the ball to Dwyer but after negotiating right end for 20 yards the ball was called back and Sullivan suffered a penalty for illegal use of the hands. A bad pass from center sailed behind the Redskin backs but Dwyer pounced on it as it hit the 35 yard marker. The Arcola safety received Sullivan's punt and was toppled pronto on his 28 yard line. On second down, Pullen hoisted a wobbly punt to midfield. Poland, Dwyer, and McDavid alternated plunges for a first down on the Arcola 35 yard line. Bad Bill received the ball from center, skipped off to the right then acknowledging a yawning gap in the tackle berth, he found himself in the open and by skipping back and forth through Arcola secondary he was soon across the goal line with the opening-red tally. McDavid's place kick for point failed.

The Scarlet kicked-off to an Arcola guard who was toppled with such gusto that he lost all affluence with the pigskin. Dunscomb's accelerated dive gained the local's possession. Dwyer fresh from his touchdown sally scooted off right tackle for 8 yards before dropped by a cluster of the Purple-Jerseyed secondary. Poland smacked the pivot post for a first down. Another first down was attained by McDavid's 6 yard romp between guard and tackle and "Dunk's" spinner through the same locality. With the ball on the 32 yard line, McDavid skirted wide around his right flank and then sprinted down the side line for the second counter. Poland's attempt plunge for point fell short.

Bilbrey received Sullivan's offering and was stopped on his own 33 yard line. Pullen, Arcola's lone semblance of a threat, hit center for 4 yards. Grote nailed McLane for a loss. On fourth down Pullen hoisted to midfield where a Sullivan man touched the ball and in the melee that followed an Arcolan seemed to have concession on the pigskin and his claim was upheld by the officials. At this juncture the Purple supporters awoke from their doldrum to issue distinct cheers in regard to a potential touchdown. Following their lead, Pullen caught the victory spirit and fitted backwards in a manner becoming to the eminent forward pass artist, Chris Cagle, and let go a long pass whose terminus was no where near a Purple receiver. This demure but somewhat frantic gesture did much to silence the well-wishers and a moment later Grote broke through again to prostrate Mr. Bilbrey and the remaining din subsided. The Purple then relinquished possession with a punt to the locals 36 yard line. On fifth down, Dwyer reciprocated with a lofty spiral to the Arcola 35 yard marker. Following a series of unsuccessful maneuvers, center-back Edgar pulled a "merkle"—of what he probably thought was a daring bit of strategy. On fourth down 3 to go and the ball on his own 33 yard line he called for a line plunge. This mental faux pas cost possession of the pigskin and was also his instrumental in the third Red counter. Dwyer glided off to the right and again darted off through right tackle where two enemy women crouched in readiness. Bill stormed between them and let his way for a 15 yard gain. He told Dwyer and Poland concentrated plunges on the back most to luc the ball to the goal line. At this point the pivot man and his two co-mates caught like a triumvirate of Trojans to thwart the Red advances of which we have already told you. They relented, however, on the fourth down and Dunscomb caromed across the coveted chalk mark. McDavid's dropkick was spoiled.

The half ended as the Purple were hammering vainly at the Red line after receiving the kick-off.

Second Half

Sullivan kicked-off and the ball went into play on the host's 35 yard line. On fourth down Pullen punted to Dwyer who received on his own 40 yard line. He paused abruptly to permit an end to dive past him and then playing tag with the oncoming enemy, he scampered past midfield, waltzing down the right sideline, then sighting an opening, he streaked back to his left towards the Arcola goal line and would have easily attained his destination had not he slipped on the 8 yard line, as though waylaid by a banana peel. On the first hippy-hop, "Dunk" handed the ball to McDavid who circled wide around right end for a touchdown. McDavid's dropkick was blocked.

Sullivan kicked off to Bilbrey who on discerning two Red tacklers looming before him turned, executing a right-about-face. It was shades of Roy Reigels (the S. Calif. center who ran the wrong way) as he ran directly towards his own goal. As he turned to the orthodox direction he was completely smeared by a host of Redskins on his 6 yard line. On the fourth and 4 Pullen kicked out to 28 yard line. On the first play Dwyer fissured through tackle for a first down. On the ensuing formation Dunk started wide around left end but the play culminated in his lateral toss to Dwyer who sped on to the 1 yard line where McDavid took it over on a cut-in of an end run. Dwyer circled left end for point.

31-0

The Reds kicked to Arcola and the ball went into play on their 31 yard line on the first play Edgar fumbled and Sullivan recovered on the 28 yard marker. Poland rammed through center for 4 yards. McDavid sliced off left tackle for 4 yards but on the following play he lost the same yardage due to a bad pass from center. Dwyer then battered his way off right tackle and after gaining 10 yards he was apparently tackled by a quartet of Purple guardsmen but by whirling like a grasshopper on live coals and by shaking and stamping like a wounded bull he succeeded in releasing himself from their frantic clutches and traversed the remaining 14 yards to the goal line. Bill's plunge was good for point.

38-0

The Sullivan kick-off went into play on the Arcola 25 yard line. A long lateral pass and a 15 yard penalty advanced the ball to midfield. The quarter ended. Once again Arcola resorted to aerial maneuvers, Pullen hurling a long pass down the field which was intercepted by Dunscomb who raced to the sideline where he was unknowingly run out by Ballinger. A bal pass from center which sailed over Dunk's head was recaptured on the 32 yard line. Dwyer slid off right tackle to the 40 yard line. Another lateral, Dunscomb to Dwyer gained nothing. McDavid sprinted around right end for a 7 yard gain. Dwyer's punt was downed on the Arcola 18 yard line. Wiley threw Bilbrey for a 3 yard loss. On the following play H. Poland converted an Arcola fumble into a touchdown. On try for point Sullivan sustained a 15 yard penalty for holding but at that Dwyer barely missed extra point by a long end run which was only a few feet short.

44-0

The Reds kicked to the Arcola 46 yard line where a nice new sub was annointed with turf. Twice the locals suffered off-side penalties, then Ballinger intercepted a pass on his 37 yard line. On the first Red play the Arcola boys were deprived of a rare treat—that of throwing Bad Bill for a loss—by a penalty. The fact, that one of the Arcola boys continued to push him back after the whistle had sounded, irritated Bill, so on the following play he swept wide for the left side line, then cutting in he charged straight down the gridiron leaving an array of would be tacklers in his wake. As Bill crossed the ten yard line he turned to wave the pigskin in defiant gestures at his pursuers, and a second later his cleats splashed the chalk line with his fourth and final Sullivan tally. Bill was run out of bounds as he attempted to sweep left end for extra point.

Final—Sullivan 50; Arcola 0

| Bement      | 0 | 0 | .000  |
| Newman      | 0 | 0 | .000  |

This afternoon Nick Carter's dime novelists from Tuscola invade Victory field to battle with Clark Dennis' champion Reds. This game will be the locals opening home engagement and a large turnout is anticipated. To date both teams have played one conference game and each chalked up a victory. Last year Tuscola finished only a notch behind the Reds but this fall they are without the services of Junior Galbreath and Melroy Ross, two Okaw Valley all stars. This year's team has been built around the two returning veterans captain Charles Ehrhardt center, and Carl Senters, an end.

School children galore from all corners of the state traveled to memorial stadium Saturday to watch Bob Zuppke's Illini down the Bradley Indians 20 to 0. The crowd numbering around 45,000 was the largest to witness a game in the twin cities since the Illini Championship era.

A peculiar play occurred on the opening kick-off. Bradley received with a strong wind at their backs. The ball went to Crowell who waited until the Ill. tacklers were almost upon him then punted deep into Illini territory.

Many fans refuse to take much stock in the Illini as, Iowa who trimmed Bradley by a greater score than did Illinois fell before Wisconsin by a 34 to 0 count. Such comparisons are the pure unadulterated bunk. It is not Zup's policy to run up a large score. The Bradley game was merely a test for his aspirants. The Illini know nothing of the Bradley formations spending the entire week before the game drilling with the Freshmen who presented a category of Northwestern plays. Ginny Gayo, a Mattoon boy imitated George Potter while Junior Galbreath attempted to emulate Ollee Olson.

One thing is certain—the Fighting Illini spirit has once more returned to the campus and the players believe they have an even chance of toppling the Purple in the big homecoming battle Saturday. One is last year's indifference. Sophomores have fought their way to the front ousting the veterans. Young Forrest Cravens of Hindsboro seems to have won a half back post. Jack, as he is called, worked hard as a plebe and has now ironed out his faults and can use his speed to a great advantage. Most of the fellows can block and tackle efficiently in the open—which is something last year's squad was woefully weak at.

Last week campus fraternities had begun to assemble gigantic wood piles in their front lawn which consisted of articles ranging from match boxes to telephone poles. Tonight these synthetic combustibles will be assembled on a field just north of the stadium for a huge bonfire which is to touch off a rousing pep meeting. During the conflagration short talks are to be made by eminent Illini including the one and only galloping ghost, Red Grange.

Smartering the Michigan setback the Wildcats will be out there fighting to crush the Illini under an avalanche of touchdowns.

WYMAN LAKE DRAINED; WILL BE CLEANED

over to Sheriff Lansden and has been identified as the gun the sheriff of Douglas county loaned to an oil filling station last February. Later the station was robbed and the gun taken.

Why the Draining

The lake has been going bad for a number of years. Recently some of the fishermen and others suggested that it be drained and cleaned. Those who use the lake for bathing were heartily in favor of this being done.

President C. R. Patterson of the Community club called a meeting for Monday night of this week to discuss this matter. City council members attended. About sixty men were present.

It was quite generally agreed that the lake needed cleaning. The city has no funds for that purpose but promises to gravel the bathing beaches and to build a new bathing pier.

Contractor Loeb was present and estimated that the cost of removing the scum from the lake bottom would cost approximately $650. Sullivan men will be employed on the job, if it is undertaken. The finances must be raised through community efforts.

Names Committee

Mr. Patterson was authorized to name a committee to work out a plan of finance solicitation. General chairman of this committee is F. W. (Bo) Wood. The members are A. C. Hawley, George Roney, Mervin Reed, D. K. Campbell, Lewie David, Ed Brandenburger, Levy Dickerson, George Henderson and A. R. Poland. Mr. Wood will call this committee together within the next few days and plans for a finance campaign will be outlined and discussed.

A Big Attraction

Wyman Lake has been one of Sullivan's biggest assets. It drew people from many neighboring towns during the hot summer months. Within recent years people have stayed away due to the dirty condition of the lake. Big carp and catfish muddled the waters and preyed on the smaller fish. During the past summer many fish died.

Immense quantities of moss filled the lake this summer and the scum made it very disagreeable for the swimmers. Late in the fall this moss rotted and sank to the bottom to further pollute the waters of the lake.

After the lake has been drained—the water not running out will be pumped out—the city will make its improvements and the lake bottom will be given a thorough cleaning. The drains will then be shut off and the lake will fill during the winter months. The state will restock it with blue-gills, goggle-eye and bass, and by next summer Sullivan lake will be in better shape than ever before.

The matter of raising the necessary funds is a community project and worthy of assistance by all. No large amounts will be solicited from anybody but everybody will be given an opportunity to assist.

Mammoth Telescope May Find New Stellar Plan

San Francisco.—Belief that a new stellar system, millions of light-years away from the earth, may be discovered with the new 200-inch telescope to be erected at Mount Wilson, was advanced here recently by Willem de Sitter, astronomer at the University of Leyden, Holland. "Recent findings," he said, "lead us to a conception of the universe free from finite limits hitherto imposed upon it by astronomers. The universe is greater than we ever imagined. It may be infinite.

"I doubt if anything resembling human life will be found on any other planet, but I think it probable that man, in the future, may be able to travel from the earth to other planets."

The proposed Mount Wilson telescope, twice as powerful as the largest telescope in use at present, will be eventually superseded by instruments twice as large again, Doctor de Sitter predicted.

Democratic Landslide Is State Outlook

Judge Horner Strength Grows Steadily. Roosevelt Will Sweep State in Record-Breaking Victory.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 12—With Judge Henry Horner, Democratic candidate for governor, entering on the final lap of his speaking campaign downstate, increasing evidence is coming to the Democratic campaign managers of an unprecedented swing of Republican voters to the support of Judge Horner and the rest of the Democratic candidates, from Governor Roosevelt down.

In the opinion of the leaders at Democratic headquarters here, the speeches Judge Horner has been making through central and southern Illinois in the past two weeks, in which he has offered the downstate area a "square deal" legislative reapportionment plan that prevents complete Chicago domination in the state legislature, have dealt a death blow to the opposition. His earnest pleas for support of the $20,000,000 relief bond issue, passage of which will exempt the downstate counties which did not make use of the unemployment relief fund created by the legislature, from any part of the cost, also played a large part in swinging political sentiment his way, his managers claim.

"Evidences are multiplying daily," says Bruce Campbell, Democratic State Campaign Manager, in a statement, "that hundreds of thousands of voters classified normally as Republican will vote Democratic this year in Illinois. Many of these voters already have announced their intention, and more are preparing to do so. The results of straw ballots taken in territory traditionally rock-ribbed Republican, is unmistakable evidence of the trend among Republicans this year.

"The poll conducted by the Republican Rockford Star in the ten Republican counties of Northern Illinois is significant. Both Roosevelt and Horner are leading by a fifty percent margin, and are steadily increasing their lead as the count goes on. One remarkable fact is that Judge Horner's Republican opponent made an intensive campaign tour through these counties a week or so ago, and the effect was to increase the judge's lead instead of diminishing it.

"An independent, unbiased poll taken in Vermilion county, adjoining Kankakee County, the home of the Republican candidate, and regarded as part of his personal bailiwick, gives Horner 2229 votes to his opponent's 1817. This same poll gives Governor Roosevelt an even greater lead over President Hoover, the vote being 3117 to 1050.

SOME MILLIONS PAID ON STATE ROAD BONDS

When William Lodge of Monticello spoke here recently he made the statement that nothing had been paid toward retirement of the $60,000,000 and $100,000,000 road bond issues. Guy S. Little, Moultrie highway superintendent heard this remark. He wrote to Mr. Sheets office at Springfield relative to the matter. He received the following in reply:

"I find that there has been $14,000,000 of the $60,000,000 bonds retired and $500,000 of the $100,000,000 bonds retired to date."

IS THIS A REPUBLICAN SPEAK EASY ?????

In the Western Catholic Union, published at Quincy, Illinois appears the following exposure of a scheme to disrupt the Democratic ranks:

"Let us express our loyalty and faith in Alfred E. Smith by writing his name at the head of our ballot for President, on November 8th. Vote for him.

"Ask your friends to vote for him. Write to 3 friends and ask them to write to three of their friends. Let's keep this chain going; watch the results!

"Smith for President Club."

"Use postal cards."

The Quincy paper remarks as follows:

"The above card was sent to the office of The Western Catholic by a 'Smith for President Club' of St. Louis. We believe it is not an organization in the interest of Al Smith but is out to endeavor to split the Democratic party at the coming election."

Fighting with their backs to the wall, the discredited G. O. P. leadership will evidently try anything.

A Word or Two About the City's Best Booster

You Need Not Read This If You Don't Want To; We Doubt Whether It Will Interest You; You May Not Even Agree With It.

When a baby is born, do you get out a circular letter and mail it to friends in government printed envelopes? No you don't; you tell the newspaper and it tells the world.

When you get married, do you broadcast the news over the radio or plaster it in big sheets on the bill boards? No you don't; you tell it to the newspaper.

When some dear member of the family dies, do you get out a lot of handbills and broadcast them over town? No you don't; you expect the newspaper to print a nice obituary, which it gladly does.

If you were to enlarge your store, would you tell the world on some hotel menu, or on some cheap advertising that a syster, fly-by-night solicitor might be peddling? No you wouldn't; you'd call in your newspaper man and tell him all about it. He'd give you a nice news story and you'd give him an adv.

Lots of you merchants take your home town paper for granted. You want it to boost like hell for yourself and the old home town, but you act as if you begrudged every cent that you paid it. You don't realize that it is the most direct and effective means of contact between your store and the folks you want to do business with.

You may live without banks And the old-time saloons, You may live without grocers, And eat mail-order prunes, You may live without churches, And head straight toward hell, You may live with garages, And be living quite well; But a town would be dead From its head to its shoes Without a good paper That prints all the news.

So while circular letters may be O. K.; while hand bills may be necessary; while radio noise must be put up with; while bill boards still offend the eye and spoil the scenery; while ads may look good but be ineffective on the fancy kinds of menus, programs and cards—it's in your home town paper that bring the buyers to the about your neighbors and friends and it is the ads in that same paper, that brings the buyers to the stores. If you want to help the town help its best booster—the newspaper with regular weekly ads and you merchants will be surprised to find how much you are helping yourself. You folks who read the ads tell your merchants that you saw them in The Progress, the favorite home-town paper of 1700 homes.

FARMERS SET PRICE FOR CORN HUSKING

The price of corn husking in this part of Illinois this fall will be 1c per bushel and board or 1 1/2c per bushel without board.

This price was decided on Saturday night at a meeting in Arthur attended by about 500 farmers from Moultrie, Coles, Douglas, Champaign and Shelby counties.

Some years ago the price was as high as 7c per bushel, but the low price offered for new corn necessitates a very low shucking price and then there is nothing in it for the farmers.

FIRST LOVES

BY FELIX RIESENBERG

Almon Strauss, cabling from Paris, urged John Breen to continue the work of Colfax:

You have never met me, but I know and have confidence in you. We must not despair, no matter how dark the night. We must go forward wherever we see our way or where we feel our way. Planning must continue so that later on we will know what to do.

John Breen didn't know what to do. The pay he was getting was necessary. If only the insatiable city would calm down. How it tossed and squeezed and misused its people.

When the youth, Mitchel, was overwhelmed by the myth, Hylan, when the shaky city was being pounded hourly by rumors, in that cellar from a German dye man, under suspicion and therefore subject to forced sale, appeared in pictures in the Sunday papers. It was very a elaborate place and became the scene of the famous Allied Fair, the great open charity fete under the management of the notorious Fulgence Torpillier, the Society Ace. Seventy-five percent of the money taken was clear profit, for Torpillier. But Josephine, in very becoming frocks, things with the new military effect, dawn gray, and sky blue, carried on her flirtations with an ever widening effect. She felt no fidelity among admirers; she never made the fatal mistake of being bound up in any one man. Poor Rantoul, chanting his little private ditty, at times casting lecherous eyes at bold telephone tarts, girls who looked upon time when shipping and men and dollars mingled in red carnival, Josephine Rantoul splurged in a splendid orgy of waste. She even made money, and she demonstrated her ability to spend it.

The war carried Gerrit Rantoul into financial whirlpools where he navigated with much skill. Munitions speculations sent his star to dizzy altitudes, shot up upward on a rise of values. Rantoul, at last, was many times a millionaire.

Rantoul, at a dollar a year, also served his country while his New York office, in Pine Street, burned with activity. At the very beginning of the wild time, a Russian Commission, headed by a Grand Duke and carrying an unlimited credit, fell to the wiles of Josephine. A neoteric cul to which she subscribed included several Russians, who, in return for lavish entertainment, inducted the Grand Duke and his advisers to the genial atmosphere of St. Botolph and the tender mercies of the great St. James. Rantoul after this killing, in which Josephine felt she held a charter interest, fell into the expanding schemes of George St. James.

Almost without trying, and because of Josephine "Clever, you know," he found himself on the inside in Shell Case Consolidated, a fifty million dollar combination of enterprises previously defunct. Tri-Nitro-Bullion also began the erection of vast explosive works in New Jersey, manufacturing an unstable compound with great rapidity as its chemists learned the business, in quantity production tests. Rantoul, who took on a strange fictitious importance was made Chairman of the Board. Tri-Nitro soared to dizzy heights with the booking of further Russian orders, Josephine did much to reconcile Gerrit Rantoul for her many annoying traits. Tri-Bull, as it was called on the curb, led Rantoul into the puerile acid pool, a sweet bit of business engineered by St. James.

St. James, swinging Rantoul with him at the head of a group of the more daring newer men, bought a fleet of lake steamers and founded the world trading corporation of Jason, Fillmore, and Jones, with pretentious offices on Broadway. This firm was named after three likable chaps in his office. The issue was listed on the Stock Exchange and skyrocketed from the start. The world was hungry for genius, it lapped up stocks and produced profits, and fought for the privilege of giving away its money.

But St. James' greatest achievement was Safety Submarine, selling on the curb at ten, with few buyers, while jobbers washed the stock in petty larceny against a few lucky simpletons who bought before the upward trend of war. With the advent of St. James and Rantoul, and the influx of following money, came a classic upward dash. Safety—the name itself gave security—began to soar and touched a point where the stock could not be bought at any price. Five hundred dollars a share was offered but few were wise enough to sell.

Rantoul's new place at South Hampton bought lock, stock, and him as a prosperous sugar papa, to employ terse terms of the time, nursed a burning jealousy. The sad part of his predicament was his real love for Josephine, based upon nothing but futility.

The splurge she made, the bills she ran, the countless worthless followers who rode in his cars, drank his liquor, ate his food began to tell on him. Men hung on her elbow, bent over her, pursued her with the intensity of wild infatuation. Then things began to get a little out of hand. St. James, in the process of squeezing bag holders, nipped Gerrit Rantoul for a million; it was a start. Josephine had jilted St. James. Then Tri-Bull was condemned by the Government as unsafe. The Army would have none of it. The Navy refused even to use it in depth bombs. It was reported as an unstable explosive. Gerrit Rantoul lost heavily in Tri-Bull, finding himself possessed of most of St. James' holdings, exchanged for value before the bad news seeped through that the stuff was worthless. It was one of the little forgotten tragedies among the big men, well behind the front.

The expensive apartment at the St. Botolph had been succeeded by a more lavish suite covering two floors of the new DuBarry. A super-flat with private elevators and exclusive service, an expensive nest bordering on the eastern edge of Central Park. Poor Rantoul fairly groaned when he began to realize the drain of this establishment. He was worn down by his excitement, irritable through his worries, and Josephine spending his money and banking her own, rode on the necks of her admirers. What a flaming time of lurid patriotism it was! In the great hotels, foremost in the vast entertainment for charity Josephine lived on high. It was at this time that Cloissey evolved his famous scent, Parfum Josephine!

Judge Marvin Kelly, white, ruddy of face, still the solid substantial figure of unshakable integrity, read the lists of casualties in the club, the same club where he had so often sat with his friend Gilbert Van Horn. The old avenue had seen many stirring marches, and the day when the great Liberty Loan Parade swept up the Avenue he had marched. But his eyes looked down the columns of killings, down the lists of the lost, the lists of the wounded, and then he found it.

John Breen, Major, 11th Engineers. Wounded at Argonne Forest.

"Poor Gilbert, I can almost feel him here, looking at this, but no, he would have been across too."

John Breen had departed for the war. He had no particular desire to fight or to live. His utter carelessness, as is often the case was set down as transcendent courage. He was decorated with the Croix de Guerre. A month later he forgot it somewhere, and never mentioned it. He concentrated on engineering.

"John has been wounded," Marvin Kelly met Josephine in the St. Botolph. The war was on its last legs. John had survived. "He'll probably never get back to the

THREE PROMINENT PEOPLE HAVE ARRIVED

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Drew, Friday, Oct. 7th, a daughter. The new arrival has been given the name of Marie Louise. This makes Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Drew grandparents for the first time.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Shanks a son Saturday, October 8th. The child has been named Robert Horton.

—Mrs. H. G. Moore and Miss Anna McCarthy spent Saturday in Decatur.

—Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hays were business visitors in St. Louis Tuesday.

front." A look of great concern came into Josephine's eyes. "And they've pinned a few medals on him, the Croix de Guerre," he added.

That night Josephine dressed in sombre black, her blond hair gleaming. Collar and cuffs of fine white lace gave her the severe air of a very high class domestic; a simple gown, close-fitting and expensive.

"Gerrit, I'm going across, I feel it my duty."

Then the armistice uproar swept the greater city, the floodgates of relief deluged the avenues and cross streets with flying ticker tape and scraps of paper. The town was wild, crazy. Josephine, in a becoming uniform of olive drab, with a shiny Sam Browne belt, sailed from the scene of her triumphs leaving a trail of bills and an army of domestic servants to the tender disposal of her aged spouse.

Judge Marvin Kelly, as trustee of her private fortune, smiled at the complete and thorough manner in which this very capable and practical woman had built up the resources of the fortune of Van Horn.

Mrs. Wentworth left for Kentucky. "Thank heaven, for a rest," she said.

"When you see John give him my regards," Judge Kelly had approved certain arrangements as to real estate.

"Dear Marvin, how lovely of you to think of him." She kissed the solid old sachen, and was gone.

Gerrit Rantoul, always the gentleman, to all outward appearances, took her to the steamer and then turned back to the city to survey the wreck. That cur St. James, was a rotter. Jason, Fillmore, and Jones, a paper company was on the edge of complete disintegration. Gerrit Rantoul struggled like a Christian to unload his stock on others before the inevitable crash.

The Southampton place went at a sacrifice. The luxurious apartment in the Du Barry followed. Rantoul could hardly keep ten feet ahead of the wolves.

"Old Rantoul's on the run." The word was on the street. His credit evaporated. By the most desperate effort he saved a few thousands, here and there, and by moving back to his fraternity club a rather stuffy place, with college trimmings, he managed to hold his own in the city. One thing he did not do. He never cried for help. He might be a coward, a quitter, a rotter, and all of the things people thought of him, but he never shouted for assistance from his rich wife.

"Damn her!" Gerrit Rantoul hated Josephine. Hated her so he could not find words to express his aversion. Yet, when at last a letter came from her, he trembled, as he tore it open and cursed her.

Dear G. I have just seen John. The dear boy looks so splendid in his uniform. He is so fit and brown and has completely recovered from his wound. He is in Paris with a commission, an engineering expert. He says that great man, Almon Strauss, had them send for him—Think of it, Almon Strauss, the man you once almost got interested in those Peruvian mines. John is a hero, and he has the Croix de Guerre and such lovely ribbons.

The Very Latest

By Mary Marshall

Here is a winter coat which typifies every style line for the new season in cloth coat with fur. The collar and sleeves are of course the feature which dramatiz-es the style, creating that "top-heavy" silhouette which stylists started out to create.

Please note that the wide lapels can be buttoned up, thus accentuating the high neckline effect that is achieved singly and alone by the fur. If the wearer wishes lapels back, as shown in the illustration, the high neck line is still achieved.

The model shown is in one of the newer winter fabrics, trimmed with Persian. The waistline is correct and the slightly flared skirt is the proper length. The sleeves with their above elbow puff carry out a capeline effect which is very much to be desired this season.

How Modern Women Lose Pounds of Fat Swiftly---Safely

Gain Physical Vigor — Youthfulness With Clear Skin and Vivacious Eyes That Sparkle With Glorious Health

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast — cut down on pastry and fatty meats — go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—in 4 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts—the cost is trifling and it lasts 4 weeks. If even this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat—if you don't feel a superb improvement in health—so vigorously energetic — vigorously alive—your money gladly returned.

But be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at Sam B. Hall's or any drugstore in the world. Adv.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

C. E. Barnett, pastor

The morning church service will begin at 10:30 o'clock. Please note this is ten minutes earlier than heretofore, and will result in dismissal at a correspondingly earlier hour. The Sunday school will open at 9:30 a. m., which is the same time as usual. The use of minutes used as intermission between Sunday school and the church service make possible the earlier opening of the church hour. We hope to find a hearty response to this change and all "old timers on time."

The evening hour remains the same, 7:30 o'clock. The pastor will preach both morning and evening. The Christian Endeavor will meet at 6:30 p. m. with Norma Jean Clark leading. The second of four questions on the liquor problem will be discussed. The question is: "What Does Alcohol do to People and Society?"

GOSPEL MISSION

Over the Post Office

Time of services the same. Bro. Martin preached a good sermon Sunday evening.

1st Kings 20:40—"And as thy servant was busy here and there, he was gone."

These are busy days in which we live. I wonder if we are not too busy with the material things. It is only the spiritual things that will pass through the judgment. Martha was not alone busy, but she was troubled about many things. It seems the cares of life have become more numerous, requiring more and more of our time to handle them. God never intended that we should be too busy to pray and praise Him. Then it must be the work of the devil in trying to keep us so busy, therefore we need to be very careful or else while we are busy here and there, we lose Christ. We have heard people say, and have said so ourself, that we can pray while we work, this is true, and we ought to do so, but we have also found in our own life, that kind of a prayer life is not enough to keep us well balanced, we need time to be alone with God. God wants to go with you into your business and he will if you take him, and he also wants you to come out of your business and be alone with Him at times. We need that quiet fellowship of the Lord that comes only when we steal away from the cares of life and enter into his sanctuary of "Blessed quietness."

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. G. M. Garber, Minister

Human beings are so made that they must have some standard by which to judge their actions and make their decisions. Every person consciously or unconsciously chooses the standards by which his life is formed. Religion seeks to find and apply the will of God as the only fit standard by which men should live their lives. None will achieve ultimate peace and certainty until he has made available for himself the resources of religion for the ordering of his life. The churches of your community are the exponents of religion. Their one purpose is to help you to find and apply the resources of religion to your life. You are invited to worship at the First Presbyterian church.

Loyalty week is October 23 through Oct. 29. This will be the week for members of the Methodist church to show their loyalty to the Church of Christ Universal through the local church.

Children need the worship sense cultivated in their lives. Parents and Church school teachers are here the greatest influence in the child's life. At each Sunday morning service Rev. Lawrence gives a very brief Children's sermon. Many children are attending worship service to hear these sermons. Come next Sunday and join with your children at the worship service. You will be on your way home at 11:30.

The Sullivan churches want to direct and lead you in your spiritual life through the medium of worship services. Everyone in the community is cordially invited to attend Church services. ### REGISTRATION NEXT TUES., ABSENT VOTES voters can get any information pertaining to where to vote, etc., at the political headquarters.

Quite a number of absentee voters have already made application for ballots. The procedure necessary to get an absentee ballot, is to apply to the county clerk for an application blank which must be properly filled in and signed before a notary. Upon receipt of such application at the county clerk's office ballot will be sent by County Clerk Chipp with necessary instructions on how it can be legally voted. Any voter absent from his district on election day, can vote by absentee ballot, up to within 3 days of November 8th at the office of the County Clerk. If his application is made by mail, it must reach the County Clerk not less than five days preceding the election. The ballots may come in any time before the close of the polls on election day and shall, by the clerk, be delivered to the polling place in which the absentee voter is registered. A voter not registered cannot vote by absentee ballot.

From present indications there will not be nearly as many absentee votes this fall as in former years. Many Sullivan voters, away from here in past years, have returned home and will vote in person this year.

HARRY SUMNER SHOT IN HEAD BY DRUNKARD

where McCarty was, stating that he was "going to kill" him. Mr. Sumner argued with the irate young man and told him to go home. When he became too boisterous Mr. Sumner lost his temper and knocked him down. Blackwell then told Sumner to take off his glasses and he'd show him something. Sumner accommodated, handed the glasses to an engineer who had happened in and knocked Blackwell down twice more. Blackwell went out. Sumner went to the phone to call an officer. While at the phone a shotgun roared and the charge came into the building. Only the top of Mr. Sumner's head was in line with it and it got ten of the leaden pellets.

Shortly after this the Sheriff appeared on the scene. From a description he suspected Blackwell and went to his home. He found him in bed. He was badly beaten up and very much drunk. The old shot gun with an empty shell still in it was found in the Blackwell home. Search was then started for the other three men who had been with him. Blackwell declared that he was alone and no one else was implicated but the officers want the three men who sat in the car when Blackwell first entered the office.

Mr. Sumner's wounds are painful but no serious complications are expected, as they are all scalp wounds.

Later—Sheriff Lansden gathered in Frank Jones, Floyd Panches and Charles Henry Thursday morning. They admitted having been with Blackwell on the trip to the depot. They said Henry wanted to go to Decatur and Blackwell volunteered to go into the depot to find out about a train. They said later they took Blackwell home and were not anywhere near at the time of the shooting.

"Harry did you save some of those shot the doctor picked out of your head" the sheriff asked the wounded man. "No I didn't. I picked out 14. If you want any, I guess he can find some more for you" remarked Mr. Sumner whose jovial manner has not left him despite his narrow escape from getting his head blown off.
