TAKE A LITTLE WALK AROUND YOURSELF.

When you're criticizing others And are finding here and there, A fault or two to speak of, Or a weakness you can tear; When you're blaming someone's weakness, Or accusing some of pelf-It's time that you went out To take a walk around yourself.

There are lots of human failures In the average of us all; And lots of brave shortcomings In the short ones and the tall; But, when we think of evil Men should lay upon the shelves-It's time we all went out To take a walk around ourselves.

We need so often in this life This balancing of scales; This seeing how much in us wins, And how much in us fails; But before you judge another Just to lay him on the shelf-It would be a splendid plan To take a walk around yourself.

Good Words For The Old Home Town.

Last year at this time the community felt discouraged. The Merchants & Farmers State bank had closed its doors. It is now preparing to pay a 10% dividend. More will follow, but it will be in slow process of liquidation.

The community weathered the disaster. The payrolls of the shoe factory have been a great help.

Sullivan has a young attorney who is cultivating the judicial temperament. He is very reluctant to give a decision in any matter without knowing all of the evidence. The other day he and another fellow were driving along a country road. In passing a pasture the other fellow remarked "Francis, that's a fine looking black polled cow, isn't it?" The attorney looked carefully and then remarked, "Well, I'll admit she is black on the side that is exposed to our view.'

We read about preachers the other day. Alexander Proctor was a great Missouri preacher of an early day. He lived what he considered a life of righteousness, though other brethren often were shocked by the simplicity of things that he did. One Sunday afternoon Mr. Proctor was contentedly hoeing in his flower garden. Another preacher walked by. He strongly disapproved of what Mr. Proctor was doing and said "Brother Proctor, do you think you'll ever get to heaven, when you do things like this on the Lord's Day?" Calmly and with kindly patience he answered "Why, I'm in heaven now."

The Ever-lasting Farm Problem.

Let the farmer alone. This is the demand of many who feel that all the efforts to get justice for agriculture through legislation, have been farcical and ineffective.

the country's food.

Through legislative favors and privileges voted to "Big Business" the farmer has become a victim of capitalistic greed.

You can "Let the Farmer alone" only when you restrain ten. others from grafting off him; when you lift from him the burdens which have been saddled on him, often by those who pose as his friends.

Farm legislation is of two kinds but it has only one main objective-to protect the farmer agains other legisla tion that will exploit him for the benefit of others.

Get the grafters and looters off the farmer's neck and these leeches who are sucking the farmers' resources and crop is over 80 years old. strength are in his own ranks, posing as helpers, and well paid through taxation.

For the coming year let our prayer for the farmer be: "God protect him from blundering and dishonest friends."

Bethany's Live Editor.

The Progress is not in the habit of throwing bouquets at living editors. They do not expect anything like that.

But we do like to tell the truth about some of these folks occasionally.

When Bill McIlwain died in Bethany in 1930 his son Elmer inherited The Bethany Echo. Elmer was a garage mechanic-and supposedly a fairly good one. He was no newspaper man.

But he found himself with a weekly paper on his hands. He followed the advice of friends and gave up garage work to become an editor.

He brought to The Echo new ideas and new initiative. He also had plenty of what is known in polite knowledge as "intestinal fortitude." He had a backbone and knew its use. He has given Bethany a good weekly newspaper.

We have watched with interest Editor McIlwain striking out for moral and economic righteousness. He is not and son visited with relatives at afraid to speak out. He has aroused the ire of some and they Greenview over the week end. have lambasted him, but he seems to be holding his own in visited with relatives in Arthur on great shape. STRONG DEMAND FOR SMALL-SIZE FARMS

Though farming may not be a profitable business, there are many people today seeking to rent small MANUFACTURE SHOES farms. Many of these are people raised on farms who went to the city years ago, but are now out of employment and want to get back to the farm.

With few exceptions farmers have plenty of food. What they lack is ready cash, as grain and livestock is very low in price. Guy Little, Prudential receiver and farm manager states that he is quite certain he could rent 1000 farms before March 1st in that ritory were such farms available. The "Closing-Out" sales which

Thanks for the Old and Best Wishes for the New

Last Spring we moved to our new building. We are here prepared to give a more complete service-to serve more people and to serve them better.

The response has been very gratifying. Our patronage has greatly increased. We appreciate this and at the close of the year express to you our sincere thanks.

For the year 1933 we wish you all of the good things that you would like to have—in full measure, plus.

We will endeavor to so develop and improve our business as to give you an enlarged service. On the basis of 100 per cent satisfaction, we solicit a continuance of your patronage.

Our New Year's wishes to you are that in Health, Happiness and Prosperity, 1933 will bring you all that you now hope for-and much more besides.

Shasteen Meat Market

They've Never Tasted a Tonic!

THESE are not patent medicine children. Their appetite needs no coaxing. Their tongues are never coated, cheeks never pale. And their bowels move just like clockwork, because they have never heen given a habit-forming laxative.

You can have children like thisand be as healthy yourself—if you follow the advice of a famous family physician. Stimulate the vital organs. The strongest of them need help at times. If they dcn't get it, they grow sluggish. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin is a mild, safe stimulant.

When a youngster doesn't do well at school, it may be the liver that's lazy. Often the bowels hold enough poisonous waste to dull the senses! A spoonful of delicious syrup pepsin once or twice a week will avoid all this. It contains fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin, and does a world of good to any system —young or old. You can always get this fine prescriptional preparation at any drug store. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

Get some syrup pepsin today, and protect your family from those bilious days, frequent sick spells and colds. Keep a bottle in the medicine chest instead of cathartics that so often bring on chronic constipation. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin can always be employed to give clogged bowels a thorough cleansing, with none of that painful griping, or burning feeling after-ward. It isn't expensive.
