77TH YEAR NO. 25

Judge McDavid In Court Here Mon., June 26

Few Matters Brought to Attention of New Judge. Receiver Wary About Approving Compromise With Former Bank President.

Judge Horace W. McDavid made his debut on the local bench Monday morning for a short session of the circuit court.

Mrs. Waverly Ashbrook was named official court reporter for Moultrie county.

The matter of the Schable estate cases came up and was continued until September term by agreement of parties involved.

Hearing on motion for new trial in the case of Decatur Monument Company vs. Mrs. Susie Ray was set for July 10th.

Adjournment was then taken until 8 o'clock Tuesday night at which time some consideration was to have been given to the cases involving suits of Receiver Gregory vs. J. A. Webb. One matter that was to have been taken up was the proposed compromise by which Mr. Webb is to settle any claims the Receiver may have against him for $9000.

Receiver Gregory was unable to be present so this matter was delayed until July 10th. Wirt Herrick, brother of Lott Herrick, former bank attorney, was here to represent the bank in the proceedings.

The recent judicial election will effect some changes in this bank litigation. Lott Herrick, the bank's attorney, is out of the picture as he was elected to the Supreme Court. J. L. McLaughlin, attorney for Mr. Webb was elected a circuit judge.

To Satisfy Depositors
All of this may tend to delay decisions in the bank matter. Mr. Gregory says that he wants to be sure that the depositors will be satisfied with the proposed compromise, before he approves it. One feature of the compromise on which he wants unqualified assurance is that the amount offered is positively all that Mr. Webb can pay; the other is, that in no way, shape or form, shall acceptance of the compromise be regarded as a promise or an obstacle to any criminal prosecutions that may be started by any grand jury that further investigates the matter. Mr. Gregory states that he wants no flare-back in this case and that a compromise which is satisfactory now, must stand the test of time and be satisfactory at any future time.

Carson vs. Carson
The only matter on which Judge McDavid ruled when he appeared here Tuesday night was a divorce action started by Carroll Carson against his wife, nee Bernice Davis. The couple was married at Shelbyville March 29, 1931 and she left him June 12, 1932. He charges desertion. The Judge gave the defendant until July 9th to file an answer.

The next day of court will be July 10th.

Lieut. Roy D. Gregory
West Point Graduate

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gregory and family attended the graduation exercises in West Point Military Academy June 13th. Their son Roy D. Gregory was one of the graduates.

Lieut. Gregory returned to Lovington with his parents Monday for a furlough that will last until September at which time he is to report to Randolph Field, Texas. There is a prospect that Lieut. Gregory and others of this year's graduating class will be assigned to command the young men who constitute the nation's Forest Army.

Class of 1909 Held Reunion Here Friday

Supper in Park, Followed by Entertainment at Home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hill. Class Proud of Members' Success.

The graduating class of 1909 of the Sullivan High School had a reunion in Wyman park Friday night. Ten members of the class, and their families, were present.

The class of 1909 had 26 members. It was the biggest class of graduates for the local school up to that date. Many of the graduates have gone to other parts of the country.

The members present at the reunion were Paul L. Chippis, Fred F. Ledbetter, Clarence Miller, Guy Pifer, George Titus, Mrs. Cora Fleming, Mrs. Eva Hill, Carl Hill, Mrs. Leone Miller and Mrs. Elizabeth Gifford.

A picnic supper was served in the park after which the reunion accepted an invitation to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hill where a pleasant evening was spent.

The class is rather proud of the fact that its members have all won for themselves places of usefulness in community affairs. One local member, Guy S. Little, was unable to attend. The reunion was planned and executed in such short order that there was no time to notify the out of town members. It was voted that the reunion be an annual affair. George Titus, president of the class at time of graduation, continues in that official capacity.

The other members of the class besides those mentioned are listed as follows in the Retrospect, the school's year book: Blanche Carter, Snyder, Okla.; Elma Long; Decatur; Neely Martin, Decatur; Bernice Peador, California; Stanley Pogue, Decatur; Roy Silver.

Bert Lane Wants to Be County Treasurer

Bert Lane of East Nelson township is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for county treasurer. The primary will be held in April of 1934 and the election the following November.

Mr. Lane, who is supervisor of his township, chairman of the county board and also chairman of the board of review, has had this matter under consideration for some time.

Wednesday he made formal announcement of his candidacy. He has taken an active interest in county affairs for some years and is serving his second term as supervisor. In the conduct of the affairs of the board he has become familiar with duties of county officers and will put forth his best endeavors to secure nomination and election to the office to which he aspires.

Under the law, Treasurer Orman Newbould, now holding this office, is ineligible to re-election. No other candidates have, as yet, announced for this nomination.

BUILDING AND LOAN HAD PROSPEROUS YEAR

The Sullivan Building & Loan association held its annual meeting and election of officers on Tuesday night.

Report of secretary C. R. Hill showed that the resources of the Association increased $15,000 during the past year and that conditions generally are very favorable for continued successful operation.

It was voted to make a new series of stock available at once.

Officers who were re-elected: C. E. McFerrin, president; W. Tichenor, vice president; R. Hill, secretary; Frank Peters, treasurer.

3 Fishermen In Jail; Warden To Enforce Laws

Fish Traps in River Being Destroyed and Seining Discouraged by Heavy Fines. Okaw is a Fish Preserve; Use Hook and Line Only.

The conservation laws pertaining to illegal fishing in Moultrie county will be enforced. Game warden Virgil Brooks, Sheriff Lansden and other officials insist that the law that makes of the Okaw a fish preserve must be upheld.

Seining in that stream or taking fish with traps, or in any other way except with hook and line is contrary to law.

Three young Mattoon men are now in the county jail serving out fines of $52.50 each, imposed by Judge Lambrecht. The men were arrested Friday by Warden Brooks in the act of seining in the river between the Spough and Winter bridges. They entered pleas of guilty. They had no money to pay the fines and consequently had to go to jail.

Monday the officials swooped down on the Roy Bundy fish trap, located about a half mile south of the Youngs bridge in the Okaw. Bundy was not taken into custody but his trap was destroyed. His arrest may follow.

For a number of years there has been a feeling against prosecuting illicit fishermen in this county. As the Okaw has practically been despoiled of fish and none but a very few have profited thereby, there has apparently been a change of sentiment and laws against illegal fishing will doubtless be as strictly enforced as any other laws.

Fishermen generally, who fish for sport, approve of the efforts being made to rid the Okaw of "fish hogs."

Orla Kimbrough Clerk of Moultrie Board of Review

Orla Kimbrough, residing in the south part of East Nelson township has been selected clerk of the board of review. This selection was made at a meeting of board held Saturday.

The board voted to adopt the 1932 rules of procedure and instructed the clerk to have such rules published in the newspapers next week. The board then adjourned until July 10th at which time it will meet to start its task of reviewing the work of the assessors.

The board this year consists of C. A. Lane, chairman, Sam Dick of Arthur and Homer Freeland of Bethany.

Ninety-Eight Quilts On Display at Show

The Belle Hopper Missionary quilt show at the Masonic Hall on Monday attracted a large display and a good attendance. Ninety-eight quilts of many designs and vintage were on display.

The oldest quilt was one made by Mrs. L. W. McMullin's grandmother in 1807. It was entered in the contest by Miss Etha Lindsay on behalf of Mrs. Riley Dixon of Lovington, the present owner. It won first prize in its class.

Other winners were: Best quilting, Mrs. M. B. Whitman; best pieced quilt, Mrs. C. E. Barnett; best appliqued, Mrs. O. J. Gauger.

Pierson Shows to Be Here July 4th

What couple wants to be married on July 4th? A license will be furnished free by County Clerk Chippis. Judge Ledbetter will perform the ceremony and merchants will be asked to help with donations of furnishings, etc. The Progress will give a year's subscription to start the newlyweds off right.

The condition attached is that the couple be married as part of the day's program and according to plans which the Legion may formulate.

Arrangements for the big 4th of July celebration are proceeding. The Pierson Carnival has agreed to come here for the week beginning July 3rd. A big fireworks program for showing on the lake shores at night has been bought.

All indications point to a big day—a big night. Plan now to join the thousands who annually spend the 4th here.

Deciding to take advantage of this opportunity, Joe returned home Thursday without completing the examination and does not expect to return East until the latter part of July.

City Brings Suit Against Man Who Sold Team

Black Mares Are Not What They Were Talked Up to Be. City Wants Its $300 Refunded and Seller to Take Mares Away.

An old time case involving buying and selling of horses will be heard in Judge Lambrecht's court here Friday.

Some months ago the city of Sullivan bought from Doc Grabb of Bethany a team of black mares. The council members who handled the matter of making the purchase say that they were assured by the seller that the mares were sound in every particular.

It was a fine looking team. $300 was paid for them and the city was proud of its purchase.

Then along came hot weather. One of the mares stood the higher temperature well, the other did not. She not only could not work, but she puffed like an over-heated steam engine and refused to eat. She is useless insofar as work is concerned.

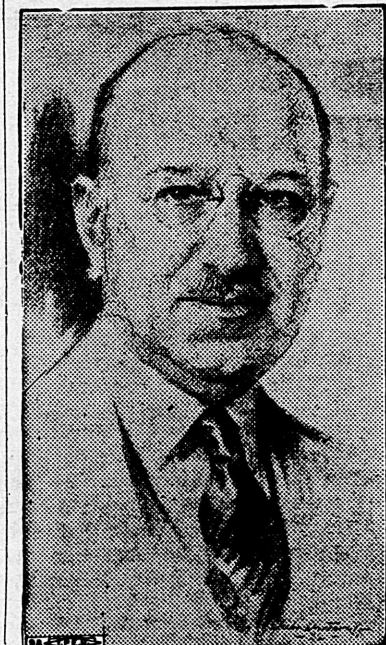

City officials called Doc Grabb and told him, in substance: "Get your guaranteed mares. They're no good. Bring back our $300." The seller was not interested in any such reverse procedure. He had the money. The city had the horses. Of course he claimed that his guarantee, orally made, did not cover the defect complained of.

With this, the status of affairs, the city of Sullivan was, of course, not satisfied. It has started action for debt against Dr. Grabb. City officials feel that Doc Grabb owes the city of Sullivan $300; also they want him to take charge of and remove from our midst, the two black mares. What he does with them is immaterial.

The case has been started to get a showdown; also to show that Sullivan's city officials cannot be imposed on by a horse trader. The outcome of the case will be awaited with much interest. It is rumored that several men representing bologna sausage factories will be here to await developments.

Governor Wins In Cement War

The State of Illinois agrees to pay $1.44 per barrel for cement and now road work can proceed. The cement companies had asked $1.68 per barrel on the 3,300,000 barrels that the state needs in its road building program this year.

GOV. HENRY HORNER

Gov. Horner refused to pay that much. Steps had been taken to start condemnation proceedings to get the cement. The manufacturers and the Governor then got together and the compromise price is $1.44. This means that Gov. Horner has saved Illinois $220,000 on each million barrels of cement that the state will buy this year.

MARRIED BY LAMBRECHT

Harold Aldridge and Mrs. Blanche Miller were united in marriage by Judge Lambrecht Monday.

REAL ESTATE SALE

Chevrolet And Bus In Collision Here Thursday

Pearl Loy Injured; Much Damage Done. Many Patrons Without Electric Current for About Five Hours; Progress Delayed.

A bus belonging to the Terre Haute and Decatur Bus company and a Chevrolet driven by Pearl Loy of this city had a collision at the intersection of Hamilton and Harrison streets Thursday morning. Both cars were badly damaged.

Hubert Waterman was driver of the bus. He had three passengers. None were injured and proceeded on their way. Mr. Loy sustained bruises and was taken home from the scene of the accident.

Both drivers seemed to think they had the right of way. There was no stop sign as both were leaving state routes. The bus was coming east on Harrison street and the Loy car was going north on Hamilton.

At the impact Mr. Waterman ran his car partly off the paved street, hit and broke off a light pole and damaged a water hydrant. The radiator of his car was stove in. Glass in several windows was shattered and the car was otherwise wrecked. The Loy car headed south after the impact and ran into a porch standard in front of the Grote garage. It was pretty badly bunged up.

Reports Thursday afternoon were that Mr. Loy's condition was not altogether satisfactory. Besides a gash on his back, he seems to have sustained injuries about the head and spine. He was at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Loy.

Power Interference

The wrecking of an important power and light pole, necessitated the shutting off of power from a big part of the city. The Progress, without power, was delayed about 4 hours in publication. The creamery, meat markets, beauty shops, confectionery and others using power for refrigeration, were seriously handicapped. Immediately upon being notified of the wreck, Supt. Cunningham put a number of men to work to assist him in repairing the damage. New pole had to be set and wires and power lines re-strung.

Remains of Mrs. Hill Sent Here For Burial

Mrs. T. J. Hill, aged 89, died in Dayton, Ohio. The remains were shipped here for burial in family lot in Greenhill.

The Hill family was prominent here during their residence. They left about 25 years ago and lived for a time in Decatur. After the death of her husband, Mrs. Hill lived at the Masonic Home a short time and then went to Ohio. She leaves one foster daughter Mrs. Lillian Hill Meyer.

T. J. Hill while in Sullivan was in the music business selling organs, pianos, etc. Later, in connection with Capt. A. T. Jenkins, he formed a partnership and bought out the Miley Implement store on the southeast corner of the square. After selling this, the family moved to Decatur.

Taylorville Too Good for Browns; Score Is 8 - 7

Sam Bolin's Hard Luck Boys Have Everything Champions are Made of, but Somehow They Fail to Win Ball Games.

(By Jim Scott)

Ill-fortune, jinxes, and a flock of associate hoodoos seem to plague the trail of Bolin's naive and somewhat listless Browns who reverted to form last Sunday after 1-game winning streak, succumbing to Taylorville by an 8 to 7 count. Despite this sour, shabby exhibition of baseball, which Sammy termed "lousy", the Browns are no longer alone in the conference cellar as Elwin bowed twice to Macon Sunday to join the locals in their lowly receptacle with a like record of 4 set-backs and a lone success.

Such a miserable display deserves only mentioning but goodness knows the Browns are a much better outfit with the potential power to crush any of the league's entries. This tussle, like the others should never have been lost but the Browns were so persistent in their floundering that the worm could not possibly have headed

They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.—Isaiah 40:31.

Though I hear folks complaining
With scowls upon their faces,
I always think this old world is
The jolliest of places.

Because I sing a little song,
As on my way I'm going
In spite of any sorrowing,
My heartache is not showing.

Whatever fate may deign to give,
I smile the while I take it,
For I have learned this old world is Just what you choose to make it.

We Hope the Governor Signs.

Both the Senate and House at Springfield have passed a bill which will mean much to cities of the size of Sullivan. The bill now awaits the Governor's signature.

This bill provides that the money which reaches the state treasury from the taxation of gasoline be split three ways. The tax is 3c per gallon. Of this amount the state is to get one third; the counties one third and the cities one third.

In the past the state has taken two-thirds and given the county the other one-third. The money so realized was used for highway building and improvement. It created a condition which left the city tax-payer neglected so far as any aid in improving his streets was concerned.

The Progress editorially called attention to this inequality and injustice in a widely reprinted editorial, "The Forgotten Taxpayers' Streets." It was pointed out that the city dweller, not fortunate enough to live on a paved street, was entirely overlooked in the spending of his tax money for street and highway improvement. He was taxed on the gas he bought; he was taxed for road and bridge improvements by the township and city; he paid a road oil tax and quite generally the street past his place was neglected and impassable during many days of the soggy, wet winter days. During the hot summer days clouds of dust hung like a pall of gloom over his home. He paid and paid and paid taxes for road improvement in various ways but, unless he had the opportunity to use the expensive state highways, he derived no direct benefit from what he paid.

Under this new law, if the governor signs it, the cities will get a substantial slice of the state gas tax refunds. It will enable the cities to do needed improvement work on their streets. It will recognize the rights of the taxpayer who has been living on forgotten streets.

We hope the Governor signs the bill. If he does, the humble dwellers on unimproved streets, especially the dust-plagued housewives, will rise in great numbers to call him blessed.

A Little Journey Away From Home.

If you are ever near Louisiana, Missouri, see the Mississippi river from its cemetery hill. We were there Sunday morning. Editor Bryson, after showing us a well-equipped newspaper plant, suggested that we might be interested in having a good look at "The Father of Waters" from the high bluff on which the city buries its dead.

It was a wonderful view. The cemetery road winds up the hill. At the very peak is a tall marble shaft which marks the resting place of a Mrs. Stark of the illustrious Stark family whose nurseries have made Louisiana famous the world over.

From this point you can see the Mississippi. For miles to the north it comes wending its way down between banks of green, around islands of respectable size. Motorboats were skimming across it, on pleasure bent. To the south, in the foreground, is the magnificent Champ Clark bridge and a railroad bridge. The flat Illinois shores are visible in the distance while Missouri's green crowned hills, with an occasional rocky ledge protruding, make the Missouri side ever so much more attractive. This cemetery hill furnishes a vantage point from which to view the grand old river, any view of which is an inspiration, as it "goes a-rollin' along."

We prairie dwellers like to look at hills. Seldom do we have the opportunity of mountain travel, though the Ozarks are but a few hours away and in a day or two we can go either eastward into the Alleghenies or westward into the Rockies.

We like Mississippi River scenery. Saturday evening, we were ferried across the Illinois river at Kampville. There the paved road ended. We then found ourselves in the narrow peninsula which lies between the Illinois and Mississippi. Through a rolling top of border bluff-land we drove over a winding road to Mozier, a small and scattered town and thence northwardly. To the right were the bluffs, rocky, bold and picturesque; to the left were bottom farm-lands with excellent crop prospects. The farmhouses are all on the bluff side of the road, well-kept and sightly. The background is a vista of lovely green hills, out of which an occasional narrow roadway winds down to the bottoms.

Sunday we saw the limestone bluffs that beautify the Mississippi river north of Alton on the Illinois side. Driving through a territory of fertile farmlands on the Missouri side we saw miles and miles of these white bluffs, famous in song and story since the early explorers first saw them in their venturesome cruises down the Mississippi.

There is much of beautiful scenery in this midwest country. The crops on our flat and fertile Illinois prairies are always beautiful to see, but we like to head the car away from here once in a while, to pierce the horizon and see what is beyond—to know how others live and see how God fashioned other parts of this universe.

To write about travel these days is unpopular, unless you've been to remote parts of the earth. This has a tendency to belittle or to overlook the wonderful things that we have so near home. Cities, worlds fairs, and all of the handiwork of man may be marvelous, but it is small, puny, frail and futile, for the time shall take its toll and it shall pass away. But the mighty rivers, the magnificent bluffs, the broad and fertile prairies are as enduring as the blue sky above for they are the choicest works of Mother Nature, God's manifestations of good will toward men.

Enforce the Conservation Laws.

Game Warden Virgil Brooks and the officers who assisted him in wrecking fish traps in the Okaw this week and arresting those who were violating game laws, deserve the hearty commendation and approval of this community.

We hope that all these officials will stay on the job to eliminate from our streams the fish hogs and from our fields of sport all and sundry game hogs. We hope and trust that the violators will be prosecuted to the very limit.

We have no patience with those who seek to commercialize the products of our fields and streams, which are the heritage of all. The "hogs" are never content with taking for their own needs, but they must take more, all they can get. Illinois streams are bereft of fish, by those who take them in traps and seines. The law says this shall not be done. We want that law enforced to the limit.

Sunday, in traveling a few hundred miles, we crossed many streams. At all of these families were encamped. Away from the hot cities, they were picnicking in shaded groves alongside flowing waters. They were fishing. Thousands, perhaps many thousands, of Illinois people sought recreation and rest in that way.

Shall these pleasures be denied them, in order that a few fish hogs may operate their river traps and take the fish out in such an unsportsmanlike manner, sell them, and flaunt the law in the faces of those who are seeking to conserve the fish and game resources of the state for the benefit of the many?

Instead of condoning the violation of the state conservation laws, help the officials to enforce them. If you know of a violation report it. Clean out and destroy the fish traps and stop other illegal ways of taking fish out of the streams and in a few years the barefoot boy with his one line and can of worms can enjoy that communing with nature which is rightfully his own and the tired farm or city dweller can spend a pleasant Sunday loafing and angling on the banks of the creeks and "by thy Rivers, gently flowing, Illinois, Illinois!"

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Utz of Illiopolis have moved into the Dunscomb property. Mr. Utz recently purchased the Siron blacksmith shop.

—Andrew Beck and Dick Barclay drove to Chicago with a load of poultry Monday evening.

—Mrs. Ellis Sunday school class of boys held a picnic supper at Wyman park Thursday evening.

—Sullivan vocational agriculture students crashed the gates of the state contest Friday to win judging honors. Lawrence Filson, a high school Sophomore, brought home the championship title in dairy cattle judging for high school students in Illinois. Lawrence judged eight rings of dairy cattle: two rings of Jerseys, two of Holsteins, two of Guernseys and two of Brown Swiss, scoring a total of 355 points out of a possible 400. Lawrence's score was the second nearest perfect made in the contest, the most perfect score being made by Ivan Caskey of Paris in the judging of grain. Lawrence's reward was a gold medal, two books, a blue ribbon, and his school gets a large silver cup to keep for a year. The cup, however is to be sent later due to the fact that it burned last year in a building and a new one has not yet been obtained.

Roy Millsap, also a Sophomore, won 9th place in the judging of grain, with a total score of 738 out of a possible 800 points. Roy judged two rings of soybeans, two of wheat, two of clover seed, and identified a ring of ten samples of crop seed and a ring of ten samples of weed seeds.

The Sullivan grain team composed of Roy Millsap and Everett Bundy ranked 10th in the contest with a total score of 1392 points out of a possible 1600. Atwood won first place with a team score of 1181 points.

Plenty of Competition

Considering the fact that 185 schools were represented in the contest with 1755 boys participating Filson, Millsap and Bundy are to be congratulated for doing an excellent bit of work for themselves and their school. 1755 of the best judges of crops and livestock having been chosen from the 7,976 vocational agriculture students in Illinois makes competition keen and is assurance that a winner is superior in ability and knowledge of what he is doing.

Lovington Wins Honors

Eight of the sixteen schools comprising Section XI to which Sullivan belongs ranked among the state winners this year. Lovington won first in dairy judging, Lewis Taylor and Ernest Winnings winning 5th and 9th places respectively as individuals. Atwood won 1st in grain, Bement 9th in fatstock, 8th in corn, and 2nd all-around. Cerro Gordo won 4th in corn, Moweaqua 6th in poultry and 8th all-around. Mac Settle of Moweaqua also was first as individual poultry judge. Tower Hill's poultry team won 1st place and Monticello corn team 9th.

Sullivan's Entries

Sullivan team members and their scores were as follows:

Fat stock team, Cecil Shasteen, freshman, 315 points; Junior Horn, freshman, 281 points; Forest McDaniel, freshman, 242 points, making a total team score of 838 points of a possible 1200.

Dairy team—Lawrence Filson, sophomore 355 points, Robert McKinney, sophomore 283 points; John Baker, sophomore, 206, making a team total of 844 out of possible 1200 points.

Poultry—Woodrow Spough senior, 220 points; Leo Jenne, junior 170 points, possible team score of 800.

Grain team—Roy Millsap, sophomore 738 points; Everett Bundy, senior, 654, total team score 1392 of a possible 1600 points.

Corn team, Robert Bolin, junior 720; Frank Horn, junior, 642, total team score 1362 of a possible 1600.

Total points for the school are calculated by dividing the corn and grain team scores in two to put them on the same perfect score basis as the other teams. Thus Sullivan's total team scores equal 3529. The total points made by Dixon, all around winner of the contest was 3953, Bement 3667, Olney 3667, Aliles 3663, Girard 3663, Walnut 3658, Fairmont 3657, Mt. Carmel 3652, Moweaqua 3634, and Martinsville 3621 for 10th place.

Alternates Present

Sullivan team alternates who also attended the state contest were: grain, Marion Biesecker; fat stock Glen Shirey; and dairy, Cecil Campbell. The contest was held at the University of Illinois at Urbana Friday and Saturday June 16 and 17. The teams were taken to Urbana in cars driven by C. E. Dennis, Frank Horn and H. P. Erwin.

There is pleasure in being a winner but the object of the contest and the real values to be derived are contacts with the boys and with the University and the splendid opportunities it has to offer to the boy who wants to prepare himself for service to his country. Real service is usually rewarded with honor, respect and with wealth. As Prof. Kammlade said to the group of team winners Saturday, agriculture offers few opportunities for fame such as Col. Charles A. Lindbergh won in crossing the ocean, but there are plenty of opportunities for service in the ranks of good rural citizenship. It is here that the well trained individual may build for himself a good name, enjoy the respect of his neighbors and friends, make a living and lay away something for old age. In spite of the loud cry about the economic depression there are thousands more farmers who have made a living and money besides than there are Lindberghs in this country of ours. Just as the winners of the state judging contest won because of their hard work, knowledge, and application of principles, so will the contest for success in any endeavor after school be won. Knowledge, good judgment, and industry are requisites to win a state judging contest and the same tools are needed to make a good citizen.

The Old Maple Tree

By H. S. Butler

The old maple tree
That stood in our yard,
Like an old suit of clothes,
We had to discard;
That tree was so old
Had been there so long,
To have it removed
Did almost seem wrong.

But its limbs remained bare
And all thru the spring,
When foliage was forming
No leaves did it bring;
So the ax and the saw
Got their work in,
And the grass now grows
Where the old tree had been.

When my mind goes back
To the shade this tree made,
As I think of the children
That under it played,
I feel that this tree
Has done its work well,
And had a good right
To rest for a spell.

Like many a man
Who's spent his whole life,
Working for others
Enduring the strife;
And when the times comes
He is weary and old,
Forgotten by all
He's put out in the cold.

When I think of this tree
I think of man, too,
He's welcome on earth
While things he can do,
But when he gets old,
He's just like the tree
The good he HAS done,
Few people can see.

WE ALL DO IT

In a "liar's contest" at Collinsville, Ill., a newspaper woman, Miss Ernestine C. Smith, won first prize of $20 hands down. Miss Smith's prize entry was a statement that in all the years she had written obituaries and wedding announcements, she had always told the whole truth and nothing but the truth. Barcelona Man Asks Sam Hall For Help

Sam B. Hall, local druggist, does not know whether to feel flattered or peeved at a letter which recently reached him from Barcelona, Spain.

In one way, it is rather flattering to know that you name is known in Barcelona, but in another way it always irks a person to know that his name is on a "sucker list" or that somebody is playing him for an easy mark.

The letter purports to be from a man in prison. He is there because of debt. He was once rich. Now he is in bankruptcy but out of his riches he saved two checks for $235,000, which are safely hidden. Now if Mr. Hall, will be kind enough to forward about $4,000 so this Barcelonian can get out of the pen, he will share with his benefactor by giving him an even split on these two checks, or $117,500.

The man is very anxious to impress on Mr. Hall the honesty of the entire transaction and urges that greatest discretion be used in handling the affair. He signs only his initials and gives a cable address. He says the warden or his brother is friendly and in the plot, so the cabled money will reach him promptly.

Mr. Hall, strange to say, does not seem the least interested and the Barcelonian will doubtless have to remain in debtor's prison, unless he finds some other man with a great big heart and no brains. So far as Mr. Hall is aware he has no friends in far-away Barcelona.

A COMPANY THIRTY YEARS OLD

Last Friday the Ford Motor Company completed 30 years of automobile making.

It is also my fortieth year at the same job. I made my first engine in 1893, and it still runs. This is the engine that won the Selden Patent Suit—which took the motor car out of the exclusive class, and opened the automobile industry to hundreds of manufacturers who started during the last 30 years.

Some of the men who began with me that June day in 1903, are working here yet. All of the principles we laid down then, are still operative; we find that they have great survival value for the future. To date they have produced and sold over 21,000,000 Ford cars.

Although we created the automobile market we have never thought it was good for anyone to monopolize it. We have always believed that before business could be good for one, it must be good for all. Our discoveries and improvements have always been open to other manufacturers without patent restrictions.

Of course, there is one thing we cannot share—everyone must get it for himself—and that is experience. Money could duplicate our buildings and machines, but it cannot duplicate 40 years of experience. And it is experience that makes a motor car.

But the past does not especially concern me; it has all been a preparation for the future. For myself, I feel that I have just been gathering the tools to do something worth while, and that my real task is still ahead.

Great changes are upon the world. False ideas of every kind are vanishing in the general upheaval. Those who built truly on principle will survive—their service will carry over. Business integrity and commodity honor will be fully justified. And newer and better ways of living will appear.

That is the outlook for this young thirty-year old Company of ours.

AWAKENED WOMAN

"Do you know, dear, I haven't had a ride with you in a dog's age. I think I'll cut out the golf today and go with you. Take me on, will you?" Neil spoke with smiling carelessness but the look in his eyes gave him away.

"Of course, what time will you get here?" she spoke casually. Neil would never guess the turmoil of unhappiness under that calm. Did men ever divine things the way women did? One man perhaps. . . Robert? as the name stabled her she turned away quickly, scarcely hearing Neil's answer, "I'll come home to lunch, I think. Then we'll have the whole afternoon together."

Even in her pain Joyce heard the change in Neil's voice. That last word was spoken with so touchingly confident and happy a note.

"All right, I'll be ready. Good-bye," and she ran upstairs and shut herself in her room. There she sat down on the edge of the couch-bed and clenched her hands, staring dry-eyed out of the big window to the distant mountains.

Joyce was wrapped in a mood of warm compassion for Neil. She felt she could not add another unkindness to the many that Frills had inflicted upon him. His eyes haunted her, and she felt more utterly miserable than she had at any time since she had awakened to find herself occupying another woman's shoes. She could not contemplate failing Neil and his mother that way.

Riding off with Joyce that afternoon, Neil was in high spirits, with an elation in his manner that filled Joyce with shame. She rode in silence, hardly answering his questions, and not looking at him.

Neil soon fell in with her mood as they rode along and no longer bothered her with conversation. Gradually then she began to feel remorse, and wished she could be less surly with Neil. He tried so hard to please her in everything, to adapt himself to her moods. It struck Joyce suddenly how much of that sort of thing he must have been doing in his married life.

"Sam says McBready has a new lot of horses in," remarked Joyce, "did he tell you there's a man from Salinas who would like to buy Fire Queen?"

"Yeah," replied Neil eyeing her sideways, perhaps to see if her general expression matched the friendly casualness of her voice. "I said I'd like to get rid of her myself but I'd have to consult you about the matter. I hate the sight of the damn' brute after what she nearly did to you, dear."

A flash of amusement curled the corners of Joyce's mouth for a moment as she remarked, "You needn't consult me. 'I'm quite satisfied with Rosita, thank you.'"

"Really? Gosh, that's great. Sure relieves my mind."

A little later they dismounted and sat down on a slope overlooking the valley to eat the package of sandwiches and fruit Joyce had brought. To her relief Neil talked about Manzanita topics; his mother's condition. Paul's departure, Sam's progress in the correspondence course, plans for the new subdivision north of Manzanita, and so on.

He finally stretched out on the ground and put his head in her lap. Joyce had just stroked back a lock of hair from his forehead, thinking absently that Neil ought to be doing something about the increasing thinness of his hair, when the thud of a horse's hoofs in the distance caught her ear. She stiffened and glanced up with an apprehensive fear clutching at her heart and stopping its beat for a moment.

There, in an opening between clumps of oak trees about sixty yards away on the trail they had just left, rode Robert Ainsworth! He did not see her at first. Then his idly roving glance turned to the couple on the ground. His eyes met Joyce's and a quick smile of recognition spread over his face. Then his look dropped to the figure of Neil lying with his head in her lap. A quizzical shade passed over his face.

"Hello, Joyce!" he shouted. His horse leaped forward under the spur of his heel, and they galloped up the slope. Before Neil could stumble to his feet Ainsworth was drawing rein nearly upon them.

"This precise situation," he said easily, "demands a galloping retreat on my part, but I'm too inquisitive to be so gallant. I prefer to advance and see what happens instead."

Joyce's self-possession left her entirely. She stared numbly at the two men, miserably aware that they were both looking to her for explanation, and even more miserably aware that she knew not how to begin.

Neil was the first to come to Joyce's rescue. "I beg your pardon," he said, courteously, "you seem to know my wife?"

The quizzical smile deepened on Robert's face. "No, I seem rather to have made a mistake—" he began. A new, almost insolent note in his voice whipped Joyce into anger. All at once she knew what her course must be. It mattered little to her what the outcome of this meeting was; she was determined not to be led into further deceptions.

"No mistake at all," she said quietly. "Neil, he's lying if he says he doesn't know me."

WHO VOTED FOR ROOSEVELT ASKS LOVINGTON MAYOR

In Lovington they sell beer. The city council recently had the matter of Sunday selling and other restrictions up. The vote on whether or not have restrictions was 3 to 3. The mayor voted "wet." In explanation of his action he ran the following notice in the Lovington Reporter:

To the Public!
I, as mayor of the village of Lovington, have done more than any man in Lovington to try to control the Liquor Traffic. Hoover tried to control it and failed. Roosevelt has turned beer loose. How do the people expect me to do something the President of the United States could not do. Who voted for Roosevelt?

When Fritz Poland, along with Byron Gramblin, started for Detroit Monday night in search of work the Brownies lost a second sacker who had all the earmarks of a real corner. Friendly and likeable both on and off the diamond, Poland was continually chirping bits of encouragement to his mates while "pouring it into" the opposing batters. To say that the colorful little peppercorn will be missed is putting it lightly.

Dalton Beats Off Mattoon Challenge Sun.

(By Jim Scott)

Dalton City—The near 300 patrons who braved a scorching June sun to witness the clash between the league leaders were treated to a gilded pitching duel in which Dalton's cherubic-faced Harold "Dopey" Clark bested Duncan, Mattoon's tall, husky, right hander, to present his mates a third consecutive triumph. The score was 4 to 2. The first place berth, supposedly at stake proved otherwise as Macon played off their postponed game with Elwin in the form of a twin-bill, annexing both ends to move into the league lead with a record of 4 wins against 1 loss. Dalton's only black mark was sustained at Taylorville—the first loop tilt—when they were forced to war without the services of 5 regulars.

Mattoon was billed to play a double header here but being without another hurler and possessed with only mediocre catching material they refused point-blank to go through with the nightcap engagement. Pilot Hale then entered a forfeit protest to president McWard. Manager Patterson of Mattoon stated in that the contest was postponed from their city then that place should be the site of the playoff. However his claim is absurd as the two clubs do not meet again in the first half of the split season. A ruling from the Taylorville president is expected before Sunday.

Getting back to the fracas let us add that it was just another link in the long line of successful slinging enterprises on the part of the blond, curly-thatched Clark. Scattering six hits over the .316 batting mark he rendered the opposition nil in the pinches by bringing into play his high-invisible fast ball and a curve ball, which proved a real trickster. Duncan, the opposing slabman, was no slouch, exercising a dazzling side arm serve which kept the Grays in order in all save the third. Clark had a big edge in strikeouts adding an even dozen to his already imposing total while Duncan was fooling just half that number.

Dunc's supporting infield cast proved a veritable thorn in the big boy's ribs with 6 errors which contributed to his downfall while Clark was accorded only a mild betrayal. Finch succumbed to a pair of misplays on the first ball driven his way in the inaugural frame but after that the Halcoms steadied providing splendid support up until the closing canto when brother Fred put Dopey's toes in hot water by mugging a lazy fly.

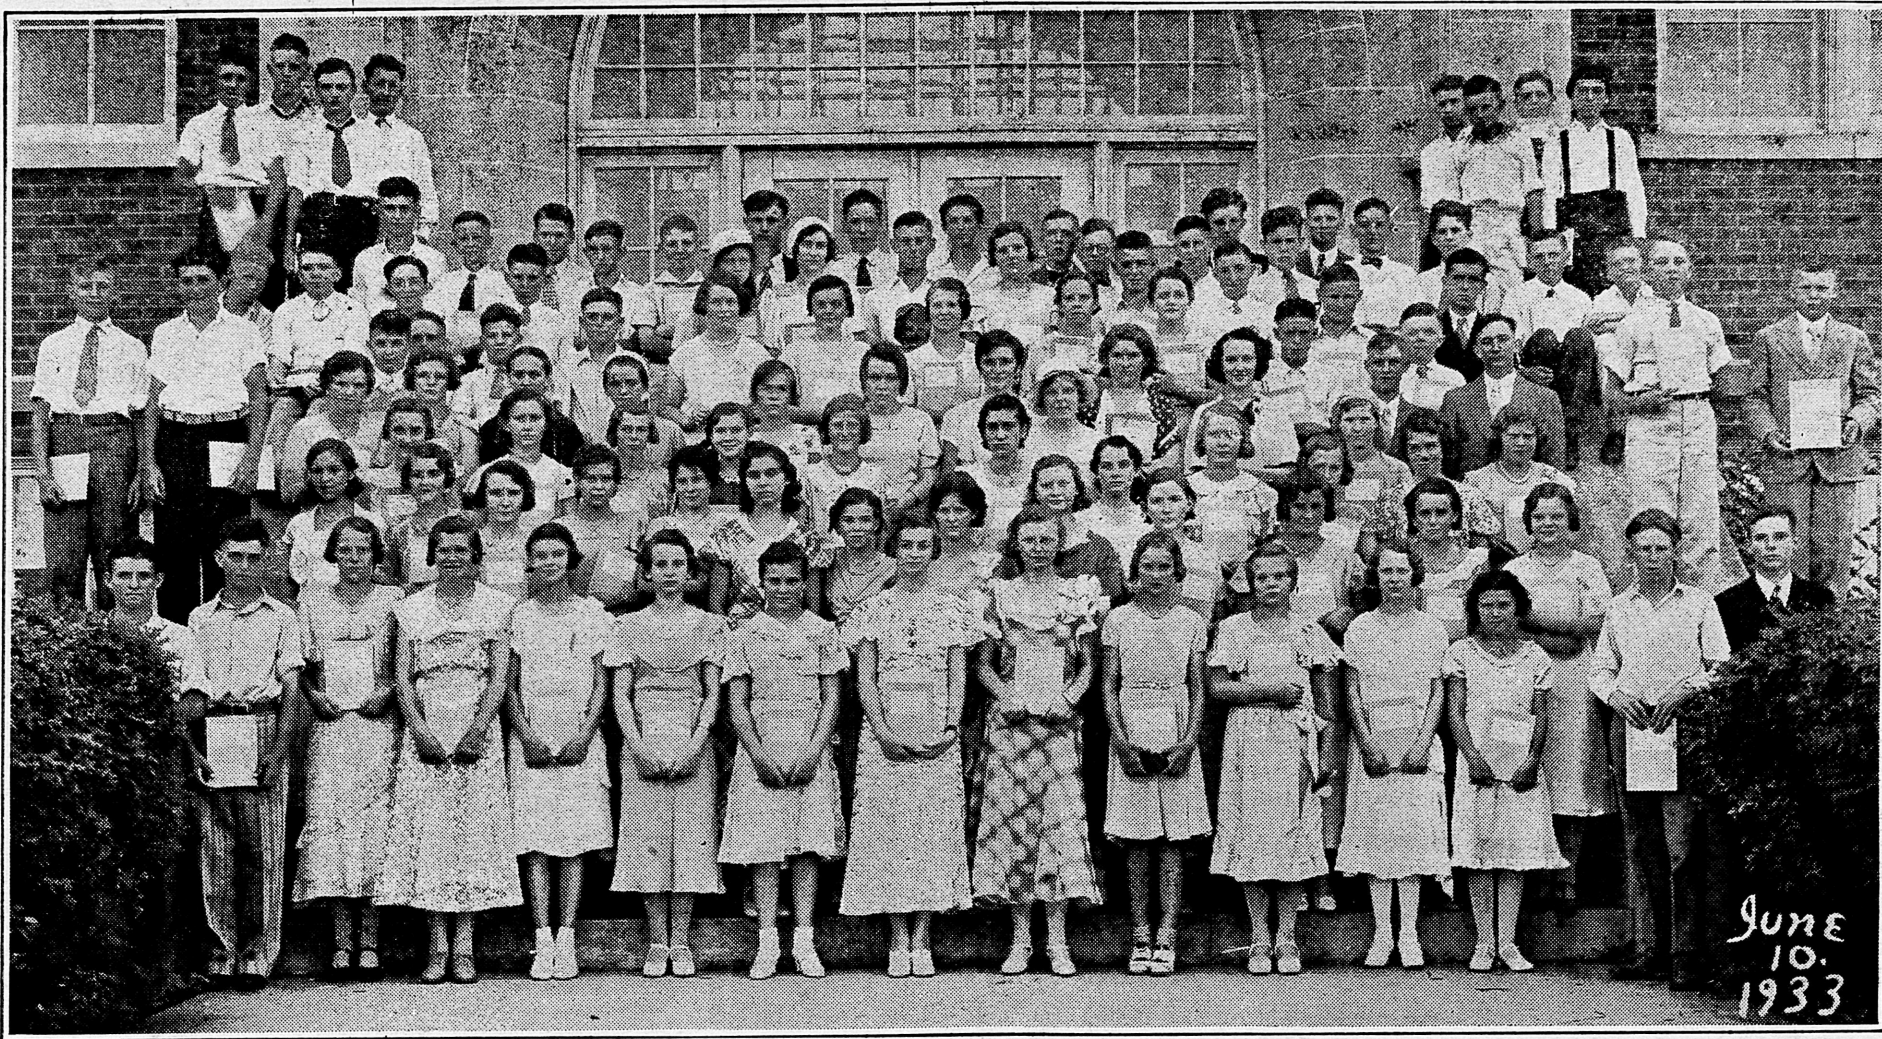

Clark, like his contemporary Lonnie Warneke, has a habit of spotting his opponents with a run or so in the first which usually turns out to be about the sum total of damage reaped from his deliveries. The first inning of this particular scuffle proved no exception. The diminutive Hennings, an old timer at the semi-pro game, started the early insurrection with a bouncer to deep short which he beat out for a hit. The error maddened then caught up with Finch, a catcher by trade. His beneficiary or "cousin" if you like, was Kelly the rival short fielder who drew a life at first when Finch fumbled his easy roller and then beat it down to second after the Decatur citizen had finally recovered the pellet and thrown it several feet over the first sacker's head. Hennings moved to third on the play and after pausing for Boyle to strike out came home as Finch was pegging out Carrington at first.

In the following three innings only 9 men faced Clark and over half of this number went down swinging. To reciprocate for the home-town's set about to provide Clark with a working margin. Teitze, hero of the previous Sunday, led off the second with a liner to left. Dearman was safe when L. Bales' throw pulled the first basemen off the sack. Dopey Clark hoisted a high fly out over short and it fell for a hit when shortstop Kelly and the left fielder pulled the Alphonse-Gaston act. With the bags jammed and nobody out catcher Patterson missed the ball and Teitze romped in from third with the tying marker.

This was enough for the Mattoon manager who had been doing such a miserable hit of backstopping and he removed himself in favor of D. Toole who withdrew the following inning with an injured paw. With the replacement of Patterson the Dalton offense stalled, Welch fanning, Goodwin forcing Dearman at home, and F. Clark grounding weakly to short.

However Shorty's fighting youngsters came right back in the next round to push over 3 tallies to complete their scoring for the matinee. Nig Pasley, the club's ranking swatter and paint dober on the side, got production under way by splashing a single to right. Finch asked forgiveness for his fielding faux pas in the form of a resounding double to center which brought in Pasley and he himself scored a moment later when D. Bales dropped Joe Toth's high offering. Toth took second on the throw in, third on a past ball, and then carried home the final Dalton run on "Kroger" Trulock's fly to right. Trulock had relieved Teitze who retired after the second with an assortment of tummy pains. Dearman and H. Clark supplied the final outs.

The Mattooners never quit trying and in the 5th added another run which provoked more speed from Dopey which quelled them from then on out. L. Bales pushed off the inning by beating out an infield hit and was promptly hurried on to second by a sacrifice bunt off the bat of K. Toole, a former U. of Ill. pitcher. Gossen, a half-pint third basemen who had taken over the hot corner duties when Bales was pressed into the backstopping post, cracked a two baser over third, scoring L. Bales. Gossen was tagged out as he attempted to pilfer third. Duncan was hit by a pitched ball but Hennings terminated the rally with a harmless fly.

The Grays seemed content to coast in on their accrued margin despite Leroy Trulock's slugging efforts. In the fifth after Toth had walked, the grocer-man pounded out a single which went for naught and again in the seventh his single advanced Pasley into scoring positions but again his mates could not capitalize on the opportunity.

The vanquished missed scoring in the sixth by about the length of Pasley's fingernails. Boyle was on second base by virtue of a double with two out when D. Bales poled a liner into right field. Pasley paused a little too long and then came in with a headlong rush and the ball bounced off his protecting glove. Luckily the slender clouter is an adept juggler and after fumbling it for a few seconds he finally gained control before it could drop to the high grass.

Clark retired three men via strike-outs in the seventh and the side went down 1-2-3 in the 8th. As the ninth got under way the visitors, wholly unable to fathom Clark's fire balls, gathered along the third base line in vain attempt to bring out the Dalton boy's fiery temperament. Carrington, first up, lived when Fred Clark dropped his fly. D. Bales then shot a single through the box, Carrington halting at second. With two on, nobody out, and the winning run at bat Clark looked disdainfully at the howling Mattoon aspirants and with much gusto proceeded to whiff L. Bales for the first out. The game went on record a second later when Never-miss Trulock gobbled in K. Toole's speedy ground ball, flipped it to Toth who relayed it to first to complete the twin killing.

The prize boner of the afternoon was executed by a Dalton player who was coaching at first base in the sixth. With Welch on first, Goodwin struck out and when the catcher dropped the ball he set out for the initial sack. Seeing two of his playmates on base the coach rushed Welch down to second where he was tagged out by a good many yards. In case the reader is unfamiliar with the rule let it be said that when with none or one out and a runner on first

Speaking of Sports

(By Jim Scott)

Shorty Hale, Dalton's corpulent little manager, is sparing no expense in his club's drive for a first half pennant and next Sunday may find Jay Dickson and Dutch Seybert in his ensemble. Dickson, along with Dean Hoover, is to be remembered as the "pony" forward combination which played so much havoc with the other Okaw quintets while performing with Lovington, back in the early days of the organization. Jay's home is in Lake City and he has been playing with a Lovington nine this spring. Seybert, an Assumption boy and one of the best slabmen ever turned out at State Normal, has been twirling for a northern Illinois semi-pro team.

Yes a first-half banner is a highly coveted possession but it is the event that goes with it that attracts Hale's attention, which by the way, is not an easy thing to attract. Gene Wiley, ex-Threel head, has told him that should he snare one of the two split-season championships then Fans Field is at his disposal for the play-off. The stormy Dalton petrel reasons that a series in Decatur would more than balance his ledger which is now of a bright cherry hue.

A decade or two ago semi-pro baseball flourished as a grandiose pastime with a sock on the nose as common as a blow to left field. Victory at any cost was their slogan.

Every alumnus of the old diamond game has his favorite tale—if yours is one packed with mingled drama, pathos, color, etc., will you send it in to the Progress? Today we repeat John Weidner's version of an old Sullivan-Dalton struggle.

A group of chronic Bethany loafers perched on a long pipe rail were wiling in a hot summer's sun when up drove Mr. Weidner in his gas-buggy.

"Come on fellows" called John, "let's go to the Dalton-Sullivan game."

"Hell, Man" drawled one of the idlers," Sullivan'll beat the ears off those Dalton birds.

Now John, knowing that Happy Jack Kotzelnick was to pitch for Dalton, offered each and every one of the boys a wager which was promptly accepted and off they roared for Sullivan.

The Sullivan roster at that time was favored with such redoubtable as Bill Bishop, Sr., Fritz Poland, the Chippys boys, etc. Yes, Shorty Hale was in charge of the Dalton troupe. Strategy was the vogue with the home run system still in the embryo.

In short Sullivan succeeded in putting over a run and went into the ninth with a 1 to 0 edge. The clique of Sullivanites began to chide the much-abused Hale who suddenly spun around on his heel. "See here" he cried as he drew a five-spot from his pocket and waved it at the fans; "5 bucks says you yahoos lose this game." The closest home boy called his bet and the bills were deposited under a brick. (Nobody was to be trusted).

Two Dalton batters had failed when Tohill poled a double to center and the cheering subsided as his brother ripped off a safety to send him home with the tying run. Kotzelnick was the next hitter and after walloping out two long ones which the umpire adjudged fouls, he turned to the arbir. Spake Happy Jack, "If I send one into those trees in center, will it be a fair ball?" It would.

Jack caught hold of the next offering driving it into the designated spot for a triple which provided the winning margin.

"Would Mr. Kotzelnick care to drink on Mr. Hale and Mr. Weidner?"

One of the press associations pulled a codentous boner last week end confusing the colored-comet, Jesse Owens with the Maplewood Missouri's Jimmy Owens, the sensation of last year's national prep-meet. . . Great people these Owens! . . . Natators of all corners of Moultrie county flocked to Wyman lake last Sunday with the terrific heat serving as the driving force. . .

"C'n-e-i" Vavrek, Witt cage pride noted for his single-handed push shots, is catching for the town's baseball club. . . "Windy" Warren of Tuscola, a member of the famed Rickets-Ruhnow-Warren triumvirate, graduated from the other way. Briefly the defeat may be attributed to rotten luck, poor base running, and some incompetent work on the part of a pair of outfielders.

Going into the final inning trailing by but a single run the losers released an assault, consisting of a single, a walk, and a triple, which would have won any orthodox game but in their case it failed even to produce the tying marker. Tabor was given a base on balls to start the round. Tanner Abbott then came through with a single but a perfect throw from the outfielder caught Purvy as he came into third. Abbott, after pausing to sum up the situation, then made a rush for second but Simbley pegged to DeRoche who put the ball on him as he slid into the sack. Kinsel, off whom the winning and unearned run had just been tallied, smote out a triple but died on third as Misenheimer went down swinging.

Misenheimer worked 6 innings allowing 7 hits while Kinsel completed the job and was damaged by only one bingle. Johnny Gensler was solved for 7 safeties in 5 innings while Pare finished up and was touched for four hits. Kinsel was the batting star of the afternoon in addition to his triple slugging out a circuit blow in the sixth. Renshaw lifted the pill over the fence in the fifth, scoring behind Grote and Trago who were on base at that time.

The Renshaw to Poland combination mowed down 4 runners as they attempted to steal second.

Taylorville has by far the best park in the loop with a playing field which is the equal of many minor league grounds.

Sullivan Indee Nine Trims Coles 7 to 4

The youthful Sullivan Indees administered a 7 to 4 spanking to Coles here Sunday when Clark Dennis, borrowed from the Browns, had a shade the edge over Bartlett in a nifty pitchers' battle.

The Coles boys chose the most untimely moments for the release of their 3 errors, all coming in the second inning which, with the aid of a solitary hit provided the Eldermen with their victory margin.

Both chuckers were slow in rounding into form and the bulk of each club's total was chased over in the two opening episodes. Coles picked up two runs at the onset on Dale Elder's error and singles by the Martin brothers. Sullivan, however, bounced right back in their half of the canto squaring the count on Morrison's pass, Stearns' triple and the first of Cowell's three-hit series.

After taking a one run lead in the first half of the second, Coles grew kind of heart donating the locals 3 markers when they came to bat the same inning. Ritter, and the two Martin boys, who apparently go in for run-making regardless of recipient, were the donors. Their fumbles combined with Freeman's drive to right insured a Sullivan triumph.

Cowell, Sullivan's ranking swatsman, capped off the scoring with a home run drive in the 7th with the runways barren.

Dennis accumulated 8 strike outs and walked 1 while Bartlett whiffed 11 and passed 3.

At the THEATRE

Manager Hays says he has a fine new fan of some sort or other in the theatre. It is the latest thing in cooling and ventilating during the hot summer weather—making the theatre the coolest most comfortable and most entertaining spot in central Illinois.

Hot Stuff

$200,000 missing from an express car—the bandit free and the wrong man accused. That would make a peach of an assignment for a newspaper story but in this case it is the plot of the main play in which Ken Maynard stars Friday and Saturday. The name of the piece is "Dynamite Ranch" and Ken uses his wonder horse, Tarzan. Plot, players and action are typically Western.

There is another installment of the new serial, a comedy and a Fables cartoon. (Mr. and Mrs. Harold Aldridge are invited to spend one night of their honeymoon as guests of The Progress and see a show at The Grand)

Delirium

This describes the new dippy Wheeler & Woolsey picture which shows here Sunday and Monday. If you have any relative who does not laugh, bring him to this show and bring him in. If he's a preacher don't bring him, he might not approve. There are lots of pretty girls, lots of fun and frolic and action from the word "Go" until the "End." If you've never seen Wheeler and Woolsey see this show. After that you may never want to see them again, or you may want to see all of their productions. These nuts affect people that way. There are plenty of other good things on the program. (Mr. and Mrs. Burney McDavid are invited to be Progress guests at one of The Grand Theatre shows advertised this week).

Tuesday Nite —Dime Nite

This is the night when most everybody goes to The Grand. There'll be a good show this week, "The Barbarian", starring Ramon Novarro and Myrna Loy. Romance fun, gullible tourists and a rogue who takes their coin and makes them like it. There are a whole lot of good entertaining short features on this program. Follow the

Much Exploited

"International House" which appears here Wednesday and Thursday nights is much advertised. It has what might be called a 50% all star cast. We don't mean to say that about half of the actors are stars but all of them rate about 50% in the film firmament.

This is a plot with plenty of kick, plenty of action and it will hold your undivided attention while you hold your partner's hand. Among those present will be Gracie Allen, that talkative female who tells about "my brother." Then there is Peggy Joyce, Stuart Erwin, W. C. Fields, Geo. Burns, Cab Calloway and his orchestra and others more or less famous or infamous. You'll like this show. You'll also like the Travel talk, sport reel, screen oddity and other good things that will be presented for your approval and edification, also education. (Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Holzmueller are invited to see one of the shows advertised this week, as guests of The Progress.)

GOSPEL MISSION

Over the Post Office

Time of services the same. Heb. 13:5—"for He hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee."

Our dearest friends can only go so far with us in our troubles and sorrows. If you remember when Jesus went into the garden of Gethsemane three fourths of those men who had been his closest friends were left outside the garden, three, going on with him into the garden, but they could only go part of the way. They went the human distance toward helping and comforting another, Jesus went on all the way, which is the divine distance. Jesus having gone all the way into his Gethsemane, is able to go all the way with you into yours, when humanity fails, you can still be assured of his divine presence. This should be very comforting to a Christian in these present days, when we see world conditions breaking up and changing, and material things becoming very uncertain. We have some friends who have lost their life-time savings, others who have lost their jobs, and still others who have lost their health, yet Jesus has promised that he will never leave thee nor forsake thee, and really other things do not matter so much if we have Him.

LISTENING IN ON 1909

(Marie W. Pifer)

Well—here we are... There come Hills... It says not to park on the drive... We're not on the drive, but if the Judge parks there we are O. K... Here's the Fleming family... I wonder if the Judge will run away home like he used to... Well, he ran pretty good this last time. Wasn't he always bashful?... I'm empty clear to my toes... Is Paul coming? My land, and now our kids are graduating... Oh, there's the Judge... We thought maybe you'd stay home like you used to... I'm sure famished... Who was our last president?... Does anyone know, is Paul coming?... Last president? Wasn't it George Titus?... Let's put supper on the table, maybe he'll get here... We will have to be very good with the Judge here. Is Paul coming, do you know?... I guess about everyone here voted for the judge.

No, Paul says he'll try to get out later... And he's sat here all this time and didn't tell us... Let's eat... There's sure a lot of chicken. Isn't this the best supper? You remember that English teacher, what was her name?... Oh, what was her name?... And Silas Marner?... And that Latin—Gallia est divisa in partes tres... Raising a family makes you gray-headed... Wasn't our music teacher awful?... What did she sing, anyway?... Say, we sure got off easy. Blew up $30 worth of equipments, and its only cost the two of us 80c apiece... Oh, anything that would explode... There's four of us right over here in Decatur... Yes, we ought to have sent 'em a card... Had a class meeting every day and a party every night... There's the ice cream... Aren't those new peas? Well, when you get to necks and backs you can't be choicy... Or some'n... Who has the baldest head?... Yes, Bernice was married four or five years before any of us knew it... My girlish figure went years ago... Just think twenty-four years... Any more chicken in that dish?... Here, comes Chippis... Just in time for the benediction... No, I've eaten... No, no. I'll eat ice cream, I made it and I know its good... Who cut the tail off of Dr. Davidson's parrot?... Yes, who stole the ice cream at Fin Pifer's?... Yeah, and those beans... I've been accused of lots of things but I couldn't mutilate a parrot... We might roller skate... If you had asked me twenty-four years ago we might. Oh, are you forty-four?... I'm forty-two... Mine is September thirty... We didn't have to ask you then... I can't find the book you marry them out of.

Looks like this class has done pretty well, politically... Yeah, right now we have County Judge, County Clerk, County Supt. of Highways and Township Commissioner... Why don't some of us get the Post Office?... Just one of us has died... That's pretty good, don't you think for a class of twenty-seven twenty-four years ago... Yes, we'll be using canes in another twenty-four years... Yeah, if we're here at all. George can you still play 'Tinkled to Death'?... Member how Cora used to play 'Cheyenne'?... That football game at Arthur?... An didn't we have a grand team?... Yes, but Clarence got his leg broke at Arthur... Say our kids have left, haven't they? Wouldn't it be awful if they'd hear all this?... Remember when you boys all got suspended for breaking up the chairs to throw at the Junior colors?... George you and Clark were good pals weren't you?... When I taught I kept a day ahead of my pupils in botany... It sure hustled me to keep up when I had to teach algebra... What would our kids think if them'd hear all this?... No, I never taught... And we had to apologize, but we weren't sorry... She was always combing her hair... I couldn't keep my rat covered... And skating out to Pifer's.

Let's go down home and have George play 'Tinkled to Death'... I'll go by and pick up a few pieces. Ride with me, George?... Where did Cora go?... Where's Elizabeth?... Here I am. I took my things home and brought some old pictures... Say, I'll climb up and get mine down... Come on in... You men will enjoy these pictures. Look at that hair... Remember when we waited at the bridge?... Those hats would be swell to dress up in now... That expression... Cora makes a lovely bride... Rose Eden looks just like she did when she was little, doesn't she?... Here's pana and me... Some collar... Didn't Neely take a good picture?... Ruth, look at the ears on your dad... Shirley, take a look at your dad too... Weren't those pictures awful... Wasn't

If you were to pay 50% more, you could obtain no finer product... and if you pay less, you are gambling with the life and soundness of your refrigeration investment.

There is only one Westinghouse quality... the best that can be built. You can get this quality in eleven different models, one of which will exactly suit your needs. Come in and let us explain how little it now costs to own a refrigerator you can be truly proud to show your friends.
