

WEATHER

January weather has been an encouragement to the nudists. This Thursday afternoon, it is getting a little chilly for the unclothed dears. A nudist naturally cannot carry a dinky little cigarette lighter so where does he scratch his matches? Where does he carry his cigarette case? If we had a little more time we'd go and interview some of the nudists in the raw. There's so many things about them that would be interesting.

Monday we had a thunder shower. The thunder rolled, the lightning flashed and the rains pattered down. There was also a lively sprinkle of hail. Central Illinois needs many such showers. Lakes and ponds are low and the subsoil is lacking in moisture. Wells are still giving only part time service, even though lots of men have taken to drinking beer instead of water.

Signs of spring are all around us. A fellow told us he heard a robin the other day. Tulips and early spring flowers are timidly pushing through the topsoil. The rain Monday stopped January plowing at which many farmers were engaged.

Kiddies are roller-skating and many of them are nudist from the top of their rolled socks up to a point near the beltline. The early marble players are getting in trim.

"I believe," said a friend recently "that you are more opposed to smoking than to drinking." We protest. We are not opposed to either, in moderation. The drinker, however, usually keeps his vice to himself more or less. The smoker pollutes good clean air and in a public meeting, sends the ladies (note we say ladies) and the non-smoking men forth gasping and choking. We have known of more men dying from too much smoking than too much drinking. Put that in your pipe, you nicotine fiends, and smoke it. Have you no chivalry or don't you think the ladies are any longer entitled to any consideration?

City Decides To Change Parking Laws

At the request of a delegation of merchants which appeared at the Council meeting Monday night the council instructed City Attorney R. D. Meeker to draw up a new ordinance regulating parking in the uptown.

The present ordinance permits double parking at the inside curb. This results in cars being "bottled up" and the people so inconvenienced, who must often wait hours before they can get out, have registered complaints. The new ordinance will do away with double parking.

Nothing further was done relative to the CWA project for widening the uptown streets.

78TH YEAR NO. 4

$4.50 Is Rate Of Taxation For Sullivan

Taxes will be 59c Per $100 Less Than Last Year, Despite Decrease in Assessments. Railroad Values Lower.

The railroad valuations for Moultrie county for the purpose of taxation have been received by the county clerk.

These valuations are $254,481 lower than last year and total $2,317,406.

Taxes will be materially lower this year due to decreased assessments and to the fact that there will be no state tax rate.

For taxpayers in the city of Sullivan the rate will be $4.50 on the $100 of assessed valuation. Last year it was $5.09.

This Sullivan rate is made up of the following: county 85c; town 23c; road and bridge 22c; special oil 33c; high school 80c; general city 67c; park 10c; library 12c; fire department 20c; library 10c; grade schools $1.38; total $4.50. Among the rates that show a decided increase is that for the high school which is 19c lower than last year.

Rates on other townships have not been completed due to the fact that some of the high school districts extend across the line into other counties and those counties must be heard from before a rate can be established.

The Sullivan city grade school district will, through the decrease in assessment, face further financial difficulties. The legal limit of $1.38 is being levied, but this falls far short of being sufficient to meet the school expenses and also retire the bonds due on the North Side building and the interest on the outstanding bonds. The board is trying to meet the situation by economizing in every possible way.

Less Workers And Less Hours On CWA

CWA work has been partially checked. The government is running out of funds appropriated for this purpose.

On instructions received here last week the number of workers for Moultrie was reduced by 40 and working hours were reduced from 30 to 15 per week.

The government will buy no material to be used in the projects and those which have been under consideration where material has not been bought are thus tied up. It is hoped that this curtailment may be but temporary. President Roosevelt is going to ask Congress to appropriate another $850,000,000 to carry on this work. If this money is not made available all CWA work and CCC (forestry) work will cease about May 1st. In the meantime what remains of the $400,000,000 will be spread out thin so as to give work and relief to as many as possible.

Burglars Visit O. J. Gauger & Co.

The weekly robbery report this week tells about what happened at the O. J. Gauger & Co., office Saturday night.

Some time before midnight, the front door was forced open. The burglars then entered the office and started working on the safe. The outer knob was broken off and the combination driven in. The inner doors were also jimmied and the crooks then forced open three compartments of the safe and took the boxes with them.

In these boxes were insurance papers and other valuable documents, none of any value to the burglars, however. The burglary netted a little over $4.00 in actual cash.

The burglars took the boxes to the west part of the city and after examining the contents, they threw them on the street north of the concrete house where the Trinkle family lives. They were found there and returned to Mr. Gauger.

These burglaries have been of weekly occurrence. No arrests have been made.

Carl Hill Home Was Burglarized Wed.

One or more men who were burglarizing the Carl R. Hill home Wednesday night, were evidently frightened away by the return of Mr. and Mrs. Hill who had been at a church meeting.

When they arrived home shortly after 10 o'clock, they thought they heard a door slam as they drove toward their garage. Upon entering the house they found that they had had unwelcome visitors who gained entry through a rear window and left by the east door.

A suit belonging to Mr. Hill was missing as were most of his selection of neckties. Some jewelry and a few other belongings had been taken of a total value of about $75.

The burglars had eaten a pie which was in the refrigerator and helped themselves to a dish of home-made peanut brittle. All indications were that they expected to make a thorough job of the burglary but were frightened away before they had gotten very far in their search. They found no money.

President's Ball At Armory Here Tues. Jan. 30th

Sullivan Will Join With Entire Nation in Raising Funds for Institution for Crippled Children.

Sullivan will have a President's Birthday ball Tuesday night in the Armory, beginning at 8 o'clock.

While a little late in getting started in arranging for this event, it is expected that there will be a big attendance.

In thousands of cities all over the country similar balls will be held on that night. The object is two-fold—to honor the President and to secure funds for the Warm Springs Foundation. This is the institution in which children crippled by infantile paralysis are given treatment. President Roosevelt was so stricken in the prime of his manhood and at Warm Springs, Georgia succeeded in overcoming partially the ravages of the disease. That is why it is very fitting that his birthday be honored by raising funds for a cause so near and dear to his heart.

The Presidential ball is non-political. Everybody is taking an interest in this matter. Millions will attend all over the nation.

Locally the Armory is being donated for the purpose. Expenses the net proceeds will be sent to Washington as a donation to the Warm Springs Foundation. Tickets for Sullivan's ball will be 50c. There will be dancing and cards.

Captain James R. Pifer is general chairman. The members of the ticket committee are D. K. Campbell, C. W. Babbs, John Whitchurch McLaughlin, Paul Marshall Hankla, Roy A. Smith, George Hoke, Lindley Lee Roughton and George Andrew Roney of this city; Lieut. J. S. Pribble and Hugh P. Rigney of Arthur and Elmer McLain of Bethany. Mr. Roughton is also chairman of the Music committee.

The committee on arrangements consists of Mrs. J. L. McLaughlin, Mrs. D. K. Campbell and Mrs. George A. Roney.

Everybody is urged to co-operate with these committees. People are invited even if they do not dance or play cards.

How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity? and the scorners delight in their scorning, and fools hate knowledge?—Proverbs.

Our bravest and best lessons are not learned through success, but through misadventure.—Alcott

The eyes of other people are what ruin us. If all but myself were blind, I should want neither fine clothes, fine horses, nor fine furniture.—Franklin.

Friendship

If nobody smiled and nobody cheered,
And nobody helped us along;
If each, every minute, looked after himself,
And the good things all went to the strong;
If nobody cared just a little for you,
And nobody thought about me;
And we stood all alone in the battle of life,
What a dreary old world it would be.
Life is sweet just because of the friends we have made,
And the things which in common we share;
We want to live on, not because of ourselves,
But because of the people who care;
It's giving and doing for somebody else—
On that all life's splendor depends.
And the joy of the world, when it's all added up,
Is found in the making of friends.

Monday Is Election Day.

The 6th Judicial Circuit will elect a judge Monday. All voters in Moultrie county have the privilege of voting for C. Y. Miller, Democrat or William E. Redmon, Republican. Both of these men live in Decatur. Both are well-known attorneys and qualified for the office they seek.

The political organizations and friends of the candidates have made a short and strenuous campaign. Each side is hopeful that the other side will not be able to get its voters out. Each side counts on the indifference and apathy of the other side to bring it victory.

In a general election in presidential years a campaign roars to its climax on election day when the people go to the polls to vote.

Though a judicial election is of the utmost importance to the people of the district, it is difficult at all times to arouse that partisan enthusiasm which will bring out a big vote.

Voting is at all times a patriotic duty. Go to the polls Monday and help decide whether it shall be Judge Miller or Judge Redmon. Your party organization, facing a difficult job in getting out the vote, will be very thankful to you if you vote early.

Who Will Lead The G. O. P.

Looking into the political future of their party, Republicans are not very hopeful of their prospects for victory in Illinois.

There is no leadership and at the same time too much leadership.

The old crowd is still sick. Former Governor Emmerson, aged and broken in health, is doing his best to meet his financial obligations incurred through ownership of too much bank stock. Len Small, the fighting old warrior of Kankakee seems to be out of the picture, definitely and permanently; Charles Deneen, never too popular, is not seeking to lead; Bill Stratton would rather have an office than be G. O. P. boss of Illinois; Edward Brundage committed suicide in Chicago this week. Frank O. Lowden, denied a Republican presidential nomination, holds aloof and does not mingle with the rank and file. Age sets heavily upon him.

There is a new crowd which seeks control. Its leader is Newton Jenkins an aspiring Chicago politician. Mr. Jenkins has made several unsuccessful races for Republican nominations. He is persistent. He now sees the opportunity of controlling the biggest faction of his party in the state. In his ranks are the younger voters and he makes a special appeal to the veterans organizations. In the entire lineup, as we see it, Jenkins is the only man driving determinedly toward leadership. That means that he will wreck others who oppose. He may not become dictator of Republican politics in a year or two, but like Herr Hitler in Germany, he has a definite goal in view and unless something happens to sidetrack him he'll eventually smash the old guard Hindenburg line and control the rehabilitation of the Illinois G. O. P.

In the meantime our Republican friends are more or less unorganized and the only crumbs of comfort which come their way are the appointments and friendly gestures from the Democratic Horner administration.

The Crossroads Sale Billboard.

Is that good old midwest farm institution — the Public Sale gradually going out of existence?

Some of its features have already changed considerably. Some are no more.

A few short years ago during the inflationary period when farmlands sold up to $500 an acre and every farmer thought he was sitting atop the world, farm sales were plentiful. At this time of year there was one every day in each community and sometimes several. Auctioneers were busy people.

Our weekly newspapers were full of sale ads. Presses were busy printing sale bills. Farmers were busy getting implements ready for sale and were using the shears to trim off the long hair on the ridge-poles of the old Jersey cows and were giving the mules a haircut and washing and currying the accumulated dirt from the shanks of the livestock in general.

Farmers' notes were circulating around everywhere. Not much cash was seen at sales in those days. At the close of a sale the clerk would figure up the buyer's total and he'd give a 30, 60 or 90 day note for it and quite frequently these notes turned up later to haunt him and to drive him into bankruptcy and a clean-out.

But it is not of sales, but of the cross-roads sale-board that we would write. We have not seen any for some years. Are these historic old relics all gone or can some highway commissioner find one to preserve as a relic of days gone by?

In the good old days of horse-drawn road travel, before the automobiles became so pestiferous and prevalent, every crossroads had an improvised billboard which served mainly as a posting place for farm sales and late in the spring for posting stud horse bills.

These crossroads boards were of most any size and dimension. Sometime they were of pine and needed replacing every few years. Often, however, they were of oak or other hard wood that seasoned and grew hoary and grim with age, studded with innumerable big-headed tacks. After a year or so of service, there were always enough old tacks to be salvaged from the board so that the new bill poster did not have to carry a supply with him.

It was a common sight in those days to see a farm wagon stopping at the crossroads while the farmer was closely scanning the message of the bill on the board. A farmer would walk to the crossroads to see what "Bill Jones" was going to sell and when he'd meet up with his neighbors at church or at the grocery, or maybe the saloon, the sale bills would be discussed and the merits of the span of mules or the white-faced bull were leading topics of conversation.

Printers in those days did not get much for sale bills — in fact they did not get much for anything. The farmer wanted bills on cardboard and often insisted that some of the bills be printed on cloth, so they would "weather" well for they might be on duty for as long as a month, tacked on the crossroads board where the sun and rain would do their best to obliterate the printing while the wind tried its utmost to tear them to shreds and playfully to scatter them alongside the roads and scurry them across the fields.

Then came the automobile and that gradually spelled the doom of the crossroads bill board, so far as farm sales are concerned. Few, if any, farmers, will stop their automobiles to read a sale bill or to learn of the merits of a Percheron or Clydesdale in breeding season.

Auctioneers sensing the change in this feature of the sales business advised farmers to "put your sale in the weekly paper and that'll give the farmer a chance to read it at home, when he's got plenty of time."

And so, the passing of the historic and picturesque crossroads bill board ought to be pleasing to the minions of the ink barrel.

In this hurry-up and rush, in this sudden change of many time-honored institutions which served so faithfully, perhaps for centuries, we pause to pay this tribute to the old sale-bill signboard, its tack-studded surface, and its sturdy service to any and all who used it.

We hope and trust that some good specimens will find their way into the museums of the country for their passing, as much as any one thing in the rural districts, signals the change which retired the horse in favor of the automobile as a means of transportation.

HAPPINESS

H. S. Butler

If everybody understood
How happiness to find
Then all of us would cultivate
A peaceful state of mind.

It's not in getting more things
In owning this or that,
That really makes one happy
Keeps life from being flat.

But it is in doing things
Working toward a goal,
Having interest in your work
And good thoughts in your soul.

It's pursuit, not possession
That makes a happy life,
With useless thoughts omitted
Thoughts that smack of strife.

The main parts of our worries
Are not external ills,
But are imaginations
Allowed by our own wills.

Time is a wondrous healer
No better do I know,
So let's forget our troubles
And see how soon they go.

This may require some practice
To control what's in your mind,
But still I say it can be done
If you'll just try, you'll find.

The writer is not saying,
All troubles are unreal,
But try to see the bright side
Much better, you will feel.

$125.00 PER ACRE

An 80-acre farm belonging to Jeff Kauffman and located just north of Fairbanks grain station in Lowe township was sold last week to Joe J. Yoder. The consideration was $10,000, or $125 per acre. The farm contains a set of good Amish buildings, is well tiled, well fenced and in high state of cultivation.

MOMENTUM

Moments are coming,
Minutes are going.
Fast flies the hours
With their duties o'er flowing.

Soft motors running,
Fast wheels are flying,
Mocking the minutes
Whose moments are going.

Heart beats are pounding
Keeping time to the turning
Of wheels that are spinning,
While life's doom is sounding.

Patrol bells are dinging,
Church bells are ringing,
Can you tell which is which
In the alarm that is stinging?

O, what are we seeking,
In this mad world that is rushing.
Is man challenging Fate,
With the speed of his living?

Or is he but striving
With frenzy that's driving
To flee, from a conscience,
That's ever ever pursuing?
—Carolyn Caldwell Fanning.

Sunday School Lesson

by Rev. Charles E. Dunn

Standards of the Kingdom
Lesson for January 28th. Matt. 5:1-48.

Golden Text: Matt. 5:8.

The familiar, beautiful Beatitudes may be regarded in several ways. They are a consecutive history of the Christian pilgrimage. They are the law of the new covenant, just as the Ten Commandments are the law of the old. They form a golden chain of imperishable worth. Moreover we read in them a clear, incisive autobiography of the Master. He surely lived to the full every one of these great sayings. For He was a gentleman to the core. Then, too, these Beatitudes are a revelation of the real sources of happiness, "what all the world's a-seeking."

In the first Beatitude, "Blessed are the poor in spirit," Jesus does not praise the poor-spirited, but rather those who are lowly in their own eyes, and therefore cherish a sense of need. Implicit here is a condemnation of the complacent, shallow, self-centered folk, so unmindful of their obvious lack of eternal support.

The second Beatitude might be restated, "Blessed are the people who are having a hard time." The world at large does not think so. It is fashionable to condemn the mourners. But Jesus, as usual, is right. Trouble is life's greatest teacher.

The third Beatitude is again directly contrary to the accepted policy of mankind. The world applauds the aggressive man who blows his own trumpet. The aggressive nation is likewise acclaimed. But once more the Master strikes the right note. He does not here approve compliance with wrong. Not at all! The spirit of the gospel is always a militant call to battle against evil. What He advocates is that self-forgetfulness, that innate courtesy at the opposite pole from swag and impudence.

The other Beatitudes are also an affront to the typical worldling. To hunger for the right, to cultivate compassion, to nourish purity, to follow the path of peace, to endure persecution, is to walk in a road carefully shunned by the majority. But great is the reward of those citizens of the new kingdom who cherish this other worldly idea!

Brandy Sauce

Some people get sarcastic about the CWA, NRA, AAA and other initial forms of government of the Roosevelt era. We know that if folks in the past had transacted more of their business PDQ and COD they'd be much better off than they are now.

In a magazine we read where a doctor says that men are the most cowardly sex and the medical profession is thankful to God that he made it so women have the babies instead of men having them.

Plain talk—People who buy something without ever expecting to pay for it are plain crooks.

A San Francisco paper says there are two kinds of people—suckers and those who have not seen the right bait yet.

We used to work hard trying to sell newspaper advertising to business men in a big city. Some of them always treated us as if we were trying to put something over on them. They were smart guys. No kid could sell them anything so uncertain as advertising. And then along came some out-of-town slicker and sold these smart guys about $250,000 worth of stock in an oil field that never existed. Sucker bait always hooks the smart ones.

We believe in this country remaining debt conscious—that is to say, we ought never forget that the French and other foreign dead-beats owe us. We propose a new National anthem something like this:

"My money lies over the ocean
My money lies over the sea
My money buys guns for Frenchmen
Oh, give back my money to me!

In an exchange we not the adv.:
"Wanted, Attractive young salesman. Must have good character, until after Easter."

"Eddie" said the Lovington girl, "I know just what you have in mind. I know why you keep calling on me so I can't go out with other nice boys. I know why you buy me candy and flowers. I know why you look so sheepish and embarrassed. I know why you keep hanging around and eat your meals here. You want to marry me, don't you? He: Why, I— I do." She: "Very well. I will."

Keep on advertising. The rooster makes as much noise when his hen lays eggs at 10c a dozen as he does when eggs are 50c. Drakes says nothing when ducks lay eggs—that's why nobody pays much attention to duck eggs. People like an advertised product.

Playing football may bring some kinds a lot of glory but it never yet added ore iota to the progress of civilization. 'Tis too bad when mere kids reach the climax of glory—for from then on the rest of life will be an awfully stale grind.

Proud Auntie: "So this is the new baby! I used to look like her at that age. Now, what's she crying about?"

Little Nephew: "Oh, Aunt Clarabel, she heard what you said!"
Christian Science Monitor

Two little girls, dressed alike in blue with bonnets of the same color, were coming out of the yard. "Hello," said a passer-by. "You are twins, aren't you?"

"No," came the unexpected reply. "Why, you are the same size and you are dressed just alike. Weren't you born the same day?"

"Yes."
"Then, of course you must be twins."
"No, we isn't twins. We's what's left of triplets."—Zion's Herald.

A friend who knows the eternal destination of editors brought us the following story. It's not exactly new, but doubtless true:

An old Indian came into a newspaper office to pay for his paper. The Indian insisted upon a receipt, and after making it out the editor asked the Indian why he wanted a receipt. The Indian replied:

"Me die some time. Go to big gate and St. Peter ask if I have been good Indian. I say yes. He say, Did you pay editor for paper? I say yes. He say show me receipt. I no have it. Then I have to run all over hell to find editor and get receipt."

"Who is that noisy fellow shouting in the sitting room where grandpa is reading?"

"That's no fellow. It's the radio. Grandpa is old fashioned and does not like noise when he's reading, but the rest of us don't mind so he's just got to get used to it."

At the THEATRE

The other day we saw Everett Hays, the Grand theatre manager somewhat worried. "I see" said he "that they are now playing a film at The Chicago theatre that I will not get to show here until week after next." He seemed much concerned to think that the people of Chicago could see a big feature picture in Chicago's most popular theatre a full week before he could show it here.

We are sure you folks will forgive him. Think of it! A big super feature film (we'll not tell you which one just now) will be shown here only a few days after its first showing in one of the other big midwest theatres. We have always contended that The Grand is right up to the minute in finishing high class entertainment and this proves it.

The rumor current in the city this week that the entire cost of "Henry's Wedding" had been invited to Hollywood to stage that famous production for the films is untrue. Allen Hawley is expecting a screen test and every long distance call that comes in at the local telephone exchange (of which Allen is manager) sets his heart aflutter. Berniece, Evelyn and June are also living in hope and suspense.

"Meet the Baron"
You folks who like long-nosed Jimmy Durante and old-maidish Edna Mae Oliver have a treat coming. In this same picture is Jack Pearl the "Baron Munchausen" of the air, also Zasu Pitts, Ted Healy and others. It's a snappy comedy, with Jimmy Durante at his best. You know Jimmy used to be a barber in his younger days and did entertaining on the side, a la George Roncy, Heinz Sona, Bally Baugher, et al.

Jimmy was a rotten barber—his nose always got in the way of the razor, so he quit barbering and started getting paid for being funny. He had a friend, a funny-faced little Jewish kid, with a peculiar set of eyes. That kid was a bum waiter in a second rate hash house. His name today is Eddie Cantor. So you just can't help wondering what Monte Blue and some of our local waiters will be when they grow up.

Oh yes. Friday will be the last race night. The short stuff is good—always good.

"Fiddlin' Buckaroo"
That is the title of Saturday night's disturbance with Ken Maynard and his white horse playing the leading roles. We see Fred Kohler is also in the cast and we predict that he is the big bad villain. The sex lure is supplied by one, Gloria Shea by name. The whole show is typically western. Now take that word "western" you know it used to represent direction or locality. It has lost that definition and we predict that in Webster's big book you'll soon find a definition something like this: "Western—Noun, a moving picture of an imaginary locality, presumably in the United States in its early days." What, you doubt this? Well, what's a camel? Yeah, it usta be the name of an animal, but now it's a cigarette. As the girls who suck 'em.

"Christopher Bean"
Here is a picture for the whole family. It's high class. You'll like it. Not only is the story and dialog fine but look who plays in it! You've never seen a better cast since "Uncle Henry's Wedding." First and foremost is that lovable actress, Marie Dressler and then there is Lionel Barrymore, who has few if any superiors in his chosen art. H. B. Warner, that grand old man who played in "The Birth of a Nation" and Jean Hersholt, Beulah Blondi, Helen M. Mack are able assistants. This show will be here Sunday and Monday. Now let's tell you a word of advice. If you like only the pictures where the girls display a lotta white meat—you'll not like this one. But if you like a good clean story with good acting, you just simply can't afford to miss it.

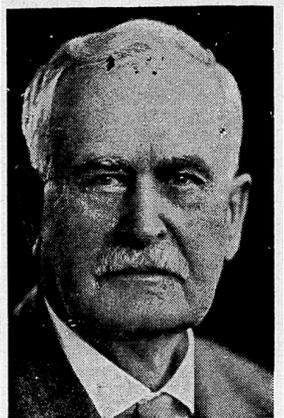

Warner Baxter
This glamorous lad is today a top-notch on the screen. He's so romantic and handsome and women rave about him, while men scoff. Baxter stars in "As Husbands Go", Tuesday night's feature production. With him are Helen Vinson, Warner Oland and Catharine Doucet. We don't know much about Catharine, but she's in good company. This picture has gotten some swell reviews, written by folks who know about excellence in pictures.

Slim Summerville
We know a merchant in a neighboring town who looks like this man Summerville but he don't get paid for it like Slim does. Who is he? All the kings horses and all the kings men couldn't get us to tell. Slim usta play in short comedies. The folks luffed themselves sick so the producers said: "Ah, ha, if that's the way the laffs come, we'll work Slim harder and get a full length picture outa him." Several such pictures have been released recently. Wednesday and Thursday night of next week Manager Hays shows Mr. Summerville and Andy Devine, together with Lelia Hyams in "Horse Play" and it is guaranteed to please. In this play there is a pretty miss, Lucille Lund. She won a contest for the "All-American Girl", conducted by a college paper in collaboration with Universal films. Get an eyeful. You'll find her easy to look at. You aspiring debbies, see what a classy American girl ought to look like.

We haven't paid much attention to the shorts on the programs this week. You'll doubtless find that, as usual, they are all O. K.

Special Judge Election Monday, January 29

WILLIAM E. REDMON

William E. Redmon, the Republican candidate for Circuit Judge at the special election to be held in this district on MONDAY, JANUARY 29, 1934, to fill the vacancy made by the death of Judge Horace W. McDavid, was born on a farm and grew to manhood in Jasper county of this state. He attended country schools and finished in the Carbondale Normal at Carbondale, Illinois. He taught school in what is called "Egypt", and studied law between times. He moved to Decatur in 1892 and commenced the practice of law there, and from that time to the present he has devoted his entire time and energy to his practice. He is married and has seven children and eight grandchildren so that he has experienced the whole gamut of human life as ordained by nature. One of his sons, a physician, served twenty-three months in France in the World War before the armistice was signed. The greater portion of that time he was at the front. The other son served four years in the United States Navy, and upon application for voluntary enlistment in the World War he was rejected because of physical infirmity incurred during his naval service, and is now engaged with his father in the general practice of law. Three of his daughters live in Decatur, and two outside of the State. He has been endorsed by the Progressive Ex-service Men's club of Decatur.

In 1900 he was elected State's Attorney of Macon County and served in that capacity until 1912, and his public record in that office was a brilliant one and commendable in every degree. In this public office he early sought means for the purpose of redeeming those unfortunate who had been sent to the penitentiaries and reform schools. Since a great part of the work of a Circuit Judge has to deal with criminal offenders and delinquent people and the application of the benefits of the laws of this State to their needs, this experience of Mr. Redmon will be of incalculable value when elected Circuit Judge.

After relinquishing the office in 1912, Mr. Redmon engaged in the general practice of law, and in that practice which has been steadily growing through the years, he has experienced in actual trial, both before court and jury, almost every conceivable kind of litigation, including criminal, law, equitable and probate proceedings. He has been uniformly successful, and is now regarded as one of the most able lawyers in Central Illinois. His clientele is drawn from all groups of citizens, principally from individuals and private organizations, and very little, if at all, from corporations.

He is well known for his absolute fairness and high sense of justice, which inspires the universal confidence of all who know him. He is devoted to his family, and to its welfare. His character and personal habits of life have never been called in question. It is indeed fortunate that this district has an opportunity to elect such a man. The Decatur Herald and Review in an editorial last summer said:

"Our greatest enthusiasm is for W. E. Redmon, whose qualifications for Judge are so high it is extraordinary that he should have been nominated." Adv.

High School News

Margy Lou Scheer

Well, a new semester has begun and there are only eighteen more weeks of school. Among other things worth mentioning are the new pupils enrolled for this semester's work. Bill Richardson and John McDonald can't seem to say goodbye to STHS and are out here again. Frank Shack from Ina has enrolled. We hope the boys can "stick" for these last 18 weeks.

The school building was almost turned into a motion picture theatre Monday. "Legend of Sleepy Hollow" starring Will Rogers was the "feature" picture. At 12:30, the Homecoming pictures were given with an admission price of five cents. The profits went toward the payment of the cost for the film and development of the film. The Homecoming picture was almost a "talkie". Every person in the assembly gave a little shriek of delight when his or her picture was flashed on the screen. You can't blame us though, because who doesn't like to think that some day they will be a movie star. At least we've had some practice.

We are preparing for the Okaw Valley and the Moultrie County Declamation contests which will be given this spring. The pupils who want to try their speaking ability reported to Miss Dueringer this week. She will give out humorous and dramatic readings and the winners in our preliminary contests will compete in the other contests just mentioned.

Mr. Scheer announced in the assembly the other day that a certain Sophomore boy wished that the Freshman who borrowed his English book the first semester would kindly return it. He's not the only sophomore who loaned his book the first semester and then forgot the name of the borrower.

Oh—Ouch—The report cards were handed out Wednesday. I think you know what I mean.

At last Mrs. Roney has picked out the operetta but the cast will not be posted until Friday. The name of the operetta is "Crocodile Island" and the music is certainly pretty. The story takes place on an island where the people worship crocodiles. The villain is an interpreter of the oracles and he has designs on the throne, so he announces that he has received a revelation from the oracle, demanding the death of the king. At this time, a group of American tourists come to visit the island and after a merry mix up, the villain is out-guessed and everything ends as it should.

A boy in the Senior class has a new girl. No fooling. He likes her so well he sits with her in English IV class. He shouldn't show his affections so publicly or the other girls will get jealous.

Not bad—a little cool but—not bad. I should say not. That basketball team of ours sure showed Arthur where to head in. Frank Shack, our new star, was high point man with only about 30 points. If he keeps on playing like this all season, our rivals will have something to worry about. It's just our luck though, he's "off" girls for good." Some of his female admirers will have to see what they can do about that.

Reds Whale Arthur, 54 To 18; Shack Scores 30 Points

Shack Supplies Sullivan Reds With Stupendous Offensive Power

(By Jim Scott)

Little Egypt has thrown a life-saver to Sullivan high's floundering cage forces in the person of Frank Shack, slender 5-foot 11-inch forward from Ina. Making his debut before the local fandom here Tuesday night this wiry will-o'-the-wisp flooded in a total of 30 points to pace his new-found mates to an easy 54 to 18 Okaw victory over Arthur. This momentous triumph elevated the Reds' conference stock to two wins against three defeats and now, with their prized offensive legacy, they should go far in the Okaw tourney which opens on next Thursday.

When Kingpins Clash

Slippery as mercury on a banana peel, Shack eluded his guards to flick in an exact dozen baskets and a half-dozen free tosses, which ties Doc Grabb's all-time high. Now Grabb has long been recognized as this sector's scoring king and it is coincidental that he is scheduled to appear on the local court tonight, for his first and only meeting with his sensational challenger. The clash will settle once and for all who shall wear the crown—don't crowd boys there's plenty of room in the balcony!

Shack's paradoxical scoring feat, which alone was sufficient to repulse the Coatsmen, overshadowed all other events of the evening. "Why," yelled Johnny English as he peeled off his jersey, "he's already ahead of me in scoring and I've played in every game this season."

A majority of Shack's fielders were pushups scored as he vaulted up under the rim. He drove in like a young whirlwind and then spun the ball in with either hand. But his featured offering was an arching one-handed push shot which he can render on either paw. It was not necessary for Shack to put his deadly long shot on display. His reaction is instantaneous and he is forever watchful of any scoring opportunity.

Both quintets employed a man-to-man defense with towsy-headed Turner assigned to guard Shack. For the first period Arthur kept pace but in the following quarter their defense became lax with devastating results. Once behind, the entire Arthur team blazed away leaving an unprotected goal. At the three-quarters mark the game had developed into a local cake-walk and sickened by it all Coats rushed in a quartet of subs who at least, could do no worse. One of them, Sandy Robinson, fired away from far out as the Red machine continued to sweep up and down the court with Shack twisting 'em thru.

Pifer Injured

Shack opened the scoring sinking one of two gratis tosses. Pifer's fielder thumped in from the side and Shack hit another free throw. Arthur then rallied to cut the Reds' margin down to 6 to 5 at the quarter but the rest of the fracas was such a lop-sided affair that we shall not even bore you with a play-by-play.

Finley Pifer was subject to a "charley-horse" early in the second stanza and was unable to continue play. He was replaced by Ebby Scheer who gave a 22-carat exhibition of rebounding. It seemed that Shack was a muchly needed tonic for the Warriors, who perhaps fearful of losing their employment, were at the acme of their form. Their floor game was excellent and they cooperated with the newcomer to perfection and seemed to gloat in his accomplishments which they made possible.

Arthur Completely Throttled
Handsome Dick Dixon, Arthur's center and captain, was held pointlessly by Leo Horn, who handles the same offices on the Red side. Sullivan's entire starting lineup broke into the scoring with Horn and Scheer having seven tallies apiece. The rebound work of Paul (Pink-Elephant) Taylor was effectively broken up.

Production in the Reds' foul-ing department reverted to normal with Referee Anderson, who lost about 10 pounds in perspiration during his workout, punishing them on 14 occasions. Arthur converted eight of their 16 attempts while the locals salvaged a like number out of but 12 shots, thanks to Shack, who sank six out of 8.

Ho Hum, Seconds Lose Again
In the prelude Coach Dennis' experimental second stringers took a 21 to 13 milling from the Arthur Seconds, whose lineup showed 3 former regulars in Robinson, Bradford and Vandever. Dennis byed on a victory bid and used the contest as a test tube for his inexperienced squadmen—freshmen Wayne Elder and Grasshopper Whitfield and Hubert Vandever, a junior, who only recently satisfied his instructors' scholastic requirements.

Mattoon DeMolays Defeated by Red Birds

Sam Bolin

Shutting out the Mattoon DeMolays without a single basket in the first half, the Red Birds won just as they should 68 to 11. McDonald, Hennigh and Lantz made 7 baskets a piece.

7:45—Red Birds vs. Muellers.
8:45—Index vs. 20 Grands.

The Mueller A. C. comes here next Wednesday, Jan. 31st. This team represents the Mueller Manufacturing Co. and is on a par with Industrial league teams of Decatur.

City League

Armory downed the Twenty Grands 36 to 30. Hancock and McDonald led the Guardsmen while Buich of Atwood led the inhalers.

The Collegians defeated the Index Five 34 to 20. Richardson led the Collegians with 8 baskets while Poland was high for the losers.

Getting Ready For Grade Tournament

Seven grade schools have accepted the invitation to attend an invitational basketball tournament here February 9th and 10th.

These schools are Lovington, Windsor, Findlay, Stewardson, Sullivan, Bethany and Hammond. One more is expected to balance the schedule. The tournament will start Friday night and continue to its finals Saturday. Freddy Cogdal and Jim Ward will be the officials.

During the past week the grade basketeers have had two scraps at Lovington.

Friday night here the 1st team beat Lovington 15 to 10 and the seconds dragged in a 15 to 10 victory. It was rather odd that the figures in both games were the same. Tuesday night at Lovington Sullivan first won 24 to 14 and the Seconds came in with 22 to 15.

Coach Whitchurch has the following boys on his squad: Billie Shasteen, Jack Whitfield, Nelson Jeffers, Jack Lewis, Lynn White, Jack Sona, Harold England, Cecil Selby, James Albert Walker, Oscar Holzmueller, Gene Utz, Omar Condo, Eugene Risley, Carl Misenhimer, Roy Powell, Junior Siron, Russell Sims and Johnnie Poland. In the Lovington games a number of the second-string players were given a warming up.

—Mrs. Irvin Himmel of Chicago entertained Misses Sally Botomus, Betty Hodge, Marian Taimer and Jeanette Loveless of this city to dinner and Grand Opera on Wednesday evening. The affair was in honor of Miss Loveless' birthday.

—Eleanor George was confined to her home by an attack of tonsillitis this week.

—Mrs. F. A. Brown who has been confined to her home on account of illness is able to be out.

GEORGE MONROE DIED IN BLOOMINGTON THURS.

George Monroe, a former Sullivan resident, died suddenly at his home in Bloomington Thursday of last week. He had been ill only about 24 hours.

He leaves his wife, one son and three daughters. Also his brothers, M. T. Monroe of this city and John Monroe who is in the west.

He was born in this community, a son of Henry J. and Sarah (Timmons) Monroe. About thirty years ago he went to Bloomington to live and engage in business but retained some farm interests in this county. He would have been 73 years of age had he lived until March 10th.

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Monroe and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hamblin of this city went to Bloomington for the funeral. The following Masons also attended, he having been a member of the local lodge; L. W. McMullin, C. F. McClure, Charles W. Womack, Claude Anderson, Elmer Leeds, W. A. Gardner, E. A. McKenzie and Dr. Johnson. From Decatur Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hamblin and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Monroe attended.

—Grand theatre invitation for Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bragg.

Villa Grove Deals Reds Third Conference Defeat 26 to 12

Poland Checks Rogers But Mates Fail to Hit.

Villa Grove—Last Friday the Sullivan Redskins motored over to Villa Grove to oppose the only Okaw Valley school ever to have won a state cage championship. Like Caesar the Dennismen came and saw but, unlike Julius, they failed to conquer, for the strapping Blue Devils, coached by Oris Hall and co-favored with Shelby in the conference race, carried too much bulk and after pushing the Reds all over the court, finally deposited them a 26 to 12 victim. It was Sullivan's third Okaw defeat in four starts while the Grovers' record is just the reverse.

It was a revamped Red cast which often filtered through Villa Grove's tight shifting zone defense only to blow the basket attempt. Sickness had clamped Ebby Scheer between the sheets while Johnny English was replaced by Bus Hollonbeck early in the encounter.

Wanted: A Referee

Clark Dennis is now up in arms over the type of cage officials turned out by the University of Illinois Athletic Coaching school. This time it was Master McCall who proved his proteges undoing, for, although the scruffles was a classic for roughness, he called but 10 personal fouls. Now our favorite brakeman is one who sounds his whistle as infrequently as possible but McCall ran his quiescence to extremes. This conviction is born out by the fact that Sullivan was assessed with but three personals, a number far below their established par.

Pifer Slumps

A man-to-man defense is preferable to a zone on a fair-sized court and the Reds, exponents of this formation, were executing just as ably as the Grovers. But where the host were banging in baskets the losers were missing with embarrassing regularity. Finley Pifer, the dreadnaught of the attack all season, was ineffective for the first time. On several occasions Fin wiggled loose under the goal, but Dame Fortune was anywhere but with him on his setups. Brick Poland was the only light in the Reds' dark, drab evening of basketballing. He was called upon to look after Biz Rogers, the V. G. scoring artist who had run up over 20 points on his last time out. Rogers, characteristically bit his lower lip throughout the fray and gave all he had but the game closed with the record books showing him without a single field goal or a free throw. And only one foul was charged against George in his skilled performance and he also flipped in a pair of baskets to lead his team's scoring.

Victors Forge Ahead
Poland opened the scoring as he tossed one in from the circle but Patton, a 6-foot 2 inch center caged a sleeper and Clementz a charity toss to put Villa Grove ahead, 3 to 2 at the quarter.

Miller counted from below the hoop but Hollonbeck retaliated as he swung in under the basket. Marrooned under the basket, Patton took a pass from Miller and pumped it in. Horn sank one of two gratis throws. Poland brought Sullivan along side the blue-clad bruisers as he swung the netting from side-center. Kendall's long range basket and free throw provided Villa Grove a 10 to 7 advantage at the intermission.

Blue Widens Breach
Clementz's long goal and Kendall's bank shot lengthened the host's lead to 14 to 7. After a Sullivan time out Pifer unloaded his only fielder which was tossed from close quarters. Patton flicked the pill in from the circle, and Miller sank a setup on a pass from Rogers to make it 18 to 9 at the three quarters post.

Horn registered a sleeper. English replaced Hollonbeck and Pifer converted on Clementz's third infringement. Miller slapped the ball in from below and Patton followed with a sleeper. Hollonbeck was rushed back in for English. Miller southpawed a fielder in from the circle and then Patton, alone under the goal, consummated the scoring as he made good his pushup.

A Fair Trial for the New Deal

C. Y. MILLER

THE PRESIDENT DESERVES A VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Too often in the past we have all of us regarded a judicial election as just another election. This year, however, it is startlingly different.

It is the first election in Illinois since the President's Recovery Program has really gotten under way.

Down in Washington the night of the election he will be waiting, listening for an expression from the people in Illinois. Do we believe in him?

What would be the effect on his spirit if the news came that we had voted his party out of office? How else could he interpret the vote?

THE UNITED STATES NEVER YET HAS QUIT IN BATTLE

In this struggle against the last four years of depression, it happens that the Democratic party has been entrusted with the cares of leadership. To continue this leadership of this party in this community it is necessary to elect C. Y. Miller, Democrat.

Mr. Miller is amply experienced after 19 years with the law firm of LeForsge, Samuels and Miller, where he is now a partner. He has handled the court work for his firm for the past seven or eight years, and in this connection, has tried more important cases than any other lawyer in Macon county. During the past five years Mr. Miller has taken some of the more important cases to the Supreme and Appellate Courts. He has won 80% of these cases; a remarkable record. His age (41 years) is not so great as to make him out of sympathy with the "New Deal" theories of economic reform and improved conditions for labor and the farmer which our President is sponsoring.

Mr. Miller served his country in active war service with the 307th, 327th and 23rd Infantry Regiments and took part in the battle engagements of St. Mihiel and the Meuse-Argonne offensives.

He has always been a resident of Macon or DeWitt counties but those of us who know him well feel that his greatest recommendation for this responsible trust is his unquestioned sincerity.

OUR COUNTRY ABOVE PARTY POLITICS

This election has a deeper meaning than a difference between parties of politicians. The President's party is now the people's party and it is up to the people, almost entirely, to maintain it.

OUR PRESIDENT WILL ASK, "HOW DID CENTRAL ILLINOIS VOTE?"

The ordinary man has little opportunity to thank a President or to express to him his feelings—except by voting.

We can take the trouble to vote on January 29th, and to elect a man of the President's party who is thoroughly inspired with the President's ideals and entirely equipped to fill this important office of trust.

The printing and distribution of this message was paid for by Democratic and Republican friends of the New Deal and of C. Y. Miller.

Mrs. Chal Newbould Hostess To F. I. C.

The F. I. C. club met at the home of Mrs. Chalmer Newbould, Monday afternoon. Despite the inclement weather, there was a good attendance out. The program opened with a song, by the assembly, "America, The Beautiful" followed by the Pledge to the Flag. There was some discussion in regard to having a Junior College, in addition to the STHS. It was stated that this might be done in connection with a CWA project. No action was taken in this regard. Mrs. Chalmer Newbould was in charge of the musical part of the program. She gave a sketch of the life of Stephen C. Foster, who is the author of several songs of the South. Mrs. Frank Newbould sang a southern song entitled "Sing Me a Song of the South."

Gwendolyn Newbould gave two recitations. Song by Assembly, "Swanee River"; a paper, "Southern Highlanders" was read by Mrs. Roy Smith; Mrs. A. D. Miller read a paper on the "Ozarks and Berea College". The program closed with a song by the assembly, "My Old Kentucky Home". There were several articles on display made by students of Berea College. The next meeting will take place with Mrs. A. E. McCorvie at the Masonic Home. The Lovington and Bethany clubs will be invited to this meeting.

The meeting was especially honored in having here Supreme Court Justice Lott Herrick of Farmer City. They are to be redeemed out of church funds as soon as available and the annual budget will provide for $200 or more to be used for that purpose. These certificates will not bear interest, unless it should happen that there are some still outstanding after three years. The official board was authorized to proceed with this item of finance. Rev. Barnett's report showed that the church had a net increase of 30 for the past year. Resident membership at this time is 382, non resident 174—total, 556.
