

WEATHER

The call of the soil is abroad in the land. The soil seems to send its message to the husbandman—"Come let us labor together to produce the food with which man and beast may be fed."

The March winds have dried the fall-plowed fields and the spaded gardens and made the soil, loose and friable. This Thursday afternoon some gardening was being done. Doubtless plenty of oats will be sown before the end of the week unless snow or rain will prevent.

March is living up to its reputation—blustering, uncertain, inconsistent. One day we may have a snow flurry and next day balmy spring breezes blow. There has been plenty of wind—doubtless due in part to the campaigns for office, which are so prevalent.

Blue birds are here. Robins are here. Robins are getting common. Sparrows are hurriedly getting their spring homes ready, like honeymooners, anxious to start housekeeping and raising families. And still we need more rain.

Fishermen are warming up to their sport. Tobe Rhodes says calling him a "piker" does not buffalo him one bit—so he goes and catches a buffalo (fish of course). Tobe is a sort of "wormy" fisher. Joe Waggoner says he likes classier bait that is not quite so wiggly.

The greeting of the day in Sullivan is: "Good morning, have you heard of any new stores opening today?" It keeps a fellow stepping to keep up with the parade. We hear a new attorney is coming to town from Danville. People come to The Progress office with a plea—"Can't you find us a house to live in?" We can't. The town is full up. We still need those 50 new houses.

Our good friend Harry Potter who prints a newspaper at Marshall, Illinois each week has a list of names he calls "Friends of the Week?" Who are they? Why they are the folks who have paid their subscriptions. We could list quite a few this week—for, Believe Me, they ARE friends.

The springtime tells again the story of resurrection. That which long months ago apparently ceased to live in root and tuber, in tree and shrub, will come to life with the warmer days of spring—first the bud, then the leaf, then the flower and later, in due season, the fruit. That commonplace, rough coated bulb that you buried in the tulip bed last fall will soon flower in the perfection of its beauty.

It is good to be alive when warmer days herald the coming of Spring, even though most of us are emerging from the winter, overfed, under-exercised and with sluggish bodies filled with aches and pains. It is really surprising—considering the way average human beings live—that the winter season does not kill off more than it does.

Though folks may be smart in some ways, they have never really learned how to take care of the bodies in which they live.

We expect many of you to qualify as "Friends of the Week" before we write again.

Relief Plans After CWA Ends March 31

The Civil Works program, as such, will be discontinued in Moultrie County on March 31, according to Frank C. Newbould, chairman of the Moultrie County Emergency Relief Committee.

Mr. Newbould made this announcement upon his return from Chicago, where he attended a conference of chairmen and social service directors of county emergency relief committees held Monday, March 12th.

At this conference, R. J. Dunham, chairman of the State Relief Commission, explained the present Federal Relief program, which provides for the discontinuance of the CWA at the end of this month and for the use of work relief, wherever possible, in providing aid to the unemployed.

"Naturally, we hope that many of the workers employed on CWA will have saved enough to tide themselves for a time, and that the expected revival of private industry will enable many workers to find regular and permanent employment," said Mr. Newbould.

"After March 31, necessary care will be provided to those eligible to receive unemployment relief, and will be administered by the Moultrie County Emergency Relief Committee as agent for the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission. In accordance with the wishes of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, work relief will supplant direct relief as far as possible. Wherever possible relief clients will be given the opportunity to earn the amount of their relief needs by productive work at prevailing wage rates.

"This program, while it will permit the continuation of the type of work carried on under the CWA, is a relief program, and, as a consequence, need will be a factor in the making of assignments. Because of this, all CWA workers who were not on relief rolls at the time of their assignments will be discharged, and those who may be continued on these projects will be employed on the basis of their relief needs.

"In order to assist the committee in making this transfer, the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission has instructed its county accounting supervisor to furnish us with a classified list of all CWA employees, showing those now working assigned from relief lists and those now working assigned through the re-employment office. These lists will be used in determining those who shall continue on work relief after March 31.

"The Moultrie County Emergency Relief Committee will make a prompt and thorough investigation of the case of all workers transferred from CWA to work relief in order to determine their present relief needs and in this way to make whatever adjustments may be necessary in their relief incomes."

He was born near Lexington, Kentucky October 24, 1872 and at time of death was past 61 years of age. His parents were Nathan and Elizabeth Sams. The family later came to Illinois and settled near Danville.

WILL WABASH LOSE ITS U. S. MAIL CONTRACT?

There is a prospect that the Post Office department will discontinue its contract with the Effingham-Fement branch of the Wabash, which passes through this city. It is proposed that the mail be carried by trucks on a star route basis.

The Wabash line passing through Moultrie has for a number of years been a losing venture for the company. If it loses its mail contract, petition will doubtless be made for permission to stop operation and in time dismantle the line. Loss of the Wabash would incur a serious loss in taxation for this county.

Local communities all along the line served by the Wabash are protesting against the proposed mail change.

APPROVE SCHOOL JOBS

Approval was received here on Wednesday of the proposed job of painting and otherwise improving the township high school building interior and outside woodwork and laying a new gym floor. The district will pay the cost of the material and the government will furnish the labor. A similar project was approved for the Lovington high school building.

The Cardinal's Message

The day was commonplace and filled
With dull, prosaic things,
When, suddenly, a song was trilled—
I caught a glimpse of wings,

Of crimson etched against the grey
Upon a maple bough,
His vibrant notes rang clear and clean
I hear them even now.

It seemed almost as if he had
A special song for me;
Somehow, it made my being glad,
Exultant and care-free.

Abruptly then, the music ceased,
And, like a flaming dart,
He vanished, yet he left a feast
Of beauty for the heart.

Victory Brings Problems Defeat Never Knew.

Democrats have troubles now that they never had during the good old days when Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover were presidents.

Back in those good old days nobody paid much attention to Democrats. They just constituted a pestiferous minority—something that could not be entirely suppressed, so it had to be tolerated.

Some were Democrats by inheritance, some because they wanted to be contrary, and some because of their absolute conviction that the Republican party's theory and practice of government was all wrong.

When the overwhelming, undisputed and conclusive evidence of the wrongness of Republican party principles and practices became so glaringly apparent, it was this Democratic minority in the country's affairs, that led the way to victory, aided and abetted by millions of independents and Republicans.

Then what happened? Why practically the entire government of the country was dumped into Democracy's lap while Republicans with a sickly grin facetiously remarked: "Now you've got it, what are you going to do with it?"

President Roosevelt and Governor Horner have endeavored to answer that question to the satisfaction of that great bulk of the American population, especially those who constitute the working class.

Our Democratic party by the verdict at the polls in November of 1932 suddenly became the majority party. Instead of standing on the outside of governmental affairs and making faces at the Gee-o-Peers, they suddenly found things reversed. Instead of criticising, they were called upon to make good — to point with pride rather than to heave rocks and shafts of sarcasm at the government.

We believe that the country as a whole approves of what has been done. We know that the President is more popular today than he was on election day.

Our Republican friends, suddenly changed from defenders of their acts and misdoings to plaintiffs against the new regime, have floundered around hopelessly. They have no leadership, no great issue around which they can rally. The scattered human fragments of a once all-powerful political steam-roller are scattered far and wide and what little sniping is being done is of the guerrilla type.

The most fruitful Republican activities are those of stirring strife and discord among the newly victorious Democrats. Right after the election when some of the party leaders had so far recovered as to be able to sit up and take nourishment, they started egging Democrats on to make application for jobs and appointive offices. "You've been a good Democrat. You deserve a job. Make application and then insist and persist until they give you one" was their fiendish and gratuitous advice to all and sundry.

Here of late they have turned their attention to Post Office matters. Many Civil Service examinations have been held all over the country in which candidates for Postmaster appointments have written. The Civil Service Commission, under executive authority, certifies the three making highest grades on an eligible list from which three one may be recommended by the Congressman for appointment.

Naturally in cases where there are more than three applicants, some will be disappointed. The Republicans, weeping crocodile tears on the shoulders and breasts of those who have failed to make a grade high enough to entitle them to a place on the eligible list, whisper "Politics! It's all politics! They've double-crossed you. There is some dirty work somewhere! You didn't get a fair deal! You're the guy who ought to have had this, etc., etc., etc."

Disappointment does not choose its friends and sympathizers wisely and this gives our Republican friends their opportunity to get in a lick toward Democratic disruption. Do we blame them for their tactics? Hardly, for we Democrats might do the same thing. We plead guilty to having done it about six years ago when about two hundred or more Emmerson Republicans in this county failed to get the lucrative state jobs promised them.

All of these things are part of politics and it is hard to get the average citizen to understand these fine technical points in the game.

The main objective of the Republicans now is to create discord in Democratic ranks. The newly victorious Democrats are very vulnerable and susceptible to such an attack. If our Republican friends can start enough fights in the Democratic ranks, they may be able to gain a foothold in those dearly beloved offices from which the voters have thrown them out.

If the Democrats lack sense enough to consolidate their gains and maintain party solidarity and harmony, they deserve to lose. It will be an interesting development to watch within the next few years.

We believe that the Democrats will not go to a court of divorce because of their family troubles within the party. We hope and trust that they will treat the meddling Republicans just like the average fighting husband and wife would treat a buttinsky neighbor—turn on him, sock him in the jaw, wield a broomstick over his dome and then, when the rout of the meddler is complete, fall into each others arms in an ecstasy of love and affection.

The people of this country have given the Democratic party victory—naught but bone-headedness right within the party can reverse the verdict. The game of politics is never a sure-thing. If you would seek political office, lay off unless you can take the bitter as well as the sweet.

With a tear for the loser and cheer for the winner—let us Democrats close our ranks after the forth-coming primary and with a call to battle, proceed to organize the campaign against the friendly enemy for another victory next November.

Piatt-Moultrie Republicans Look On.

Campaigning for an office has its compensations. You meet a lot of nice people. Also, you meet up with gobs of public opinion.

On a trip in Piatt county last week we saw Republican friends. They do not look with unalloyed joy and pleasure on their brother Republicans in Champaign county. They contend that they are not treated exactly right.

For many years Moultrie county and Piatt county have had no Republican representatives in the Legislature. Champaign county has the votes to nominate its own men and all it asks of Piatt and Moultrie Republicans is to be regular and vote.

The situation is unfortunate, to say the least. Granted that the Champaign Republicans are as representative as members of the G. O. P. can be, nevertheless, there are also good Republicans in the other two counties who would be a credit to the district if they could be sent to Springfield as legislators. The Piatt-Moultrie Republicans are developing a grouch. They do not feel like always helping "bring home the bacon" and then being denied a taste of it.

In the Democratic ranks a more representative system has been followed. The party organizations of three counties have had and still have a "gentlemen's agreement" by which the counties rotate in selecting their candidates for the Legislature. In that way Piatt and Moultrie share with Champaign in legislative matters as they may be presented for decision under the Capitol dome at Springfield.

This year the party organizations in all three counties are backing Rigney and Brandenburg, who are Moultrie's choice—this being the year when, according to agreement, Moultrie is to have the nominations.

The ideal legislative government would be, in our opinion, where each county could send its representative to the state capital. Smaller counties could have one representative and larger ones more, based on a population ratio. Each county has some problems that are just a little different from those of neighboring counties. The district system seems to have outgrown the needs of the people, but since it is the best we have, it should be handled with fairness and common sense.

Moultrie and Piatt Republicans should not be disqualified from service in the Legislature, simply because they reside in smaller counties. Champaign county Republicans should be (although that may be too much to expect) as liberal in this matter as the Democrats are.

The Democratic plan is being put to a strenuous test this year, for three Champaign county candidates, are challenging Moultrie's rights to recognition. From what we have learned in our campaign work, we feel hopeful that Champaign county voters and workers will stand by Moultrie.

Sunday School Lesson

by Rev. Charles E. Dunn

Jesus Responds to Faith.
Lesson for March 18th. Matt. 15: 53-16:12.
Golden Text: Matt. 7:7.

It is a striking fact that the greatest life ever lived concentrated its energies upon a tiny area. Palestine does not comprise much more than 9,000 square miles, which makes it about the size of our state of Vermont. Now Jesus stepped outside this small region only once, in the incident of our lesson. Except for this single interruption, He lived entirely within the borders of the Holy Land, carrying on a varied ministry in Galilee and Judea, with brief excursions into Samaria and Peraea. Within this circumscribed district the Master lived the most complete and perfect life of which history has any record. As our lesson text points out, he conceived His mission in definitely Jewish terms. "I have only been sent to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." (Chap. 15:24.)

One is reminded of the great German philosopher, Immanuel Kant, who, although much interested in geography, was never more than a few miles distant from his native city Konigsberg, in Prussia, and never saw the sea, which could be reached by a walk of two hours. In that relatively unimportant provincial capital he spent a long, full life, rich in friendship, and profound in thought.

A more familiar example is our own Henry David Thoreau, who could never be persuaded to leave his native Concord, then a village of some 2,000 folk only.

If people would be content to stay where they are, and live simply, making the most of what is immediately at hand, life would be much more serene and wholesome.

Jesus, however, did once cross the border of Palestine into the Gentile territory of Syria, seeking retirement and recreation. But His fame had preceded Him, and at once He was sought out by a Canaanish woman of the district who persistently demanded that her sick daughter be relieved. So impressed was the Master by her ardent faith that He granted her request.

ROBINS ARE HERE

Whenever we see a robin during a snowstorm, we feel sort of guilty. If a robin could talk, here's about what he would say:

"If it were not for these blamed pesky newspapers, we'd not be so foolish as to almost freeze to death."

"I know I came North early, but here is why: you see I spend my winters in Louisiana. Some time ago, I heard a man say: 'I see by the Sullivan Progress that they are having ideal spring weather up in Moultrie county, Illinois.' I was interested, for that has been my summer home for some time. I told some friends. We started. When we got up into Tennessee, we met a flock from Southern Georgia. 'Why so early?' we asked. 'It's like this,' said the leader: 'I was out in a garden the other day when the mailman came. The man who got the paper out of the box, called to his wife: 'Oh Ma, we don't have to send the relatives up in Sullivan, Illinois any more money to buy coal with for in The Progress here it says that the weather there is fine and warm'."

"Now on that sort of information, can you blame us birds for coming North? I just wish that Progress editor would have to sit on a limb and shiver because he sent such bum information down south. You see most everybody reads his paper."

And then the robin flew away, after spotting the cherry trees so he could return later to get his revenge.

WATCH FOR SLICKERS

Warning has been issued to retailers of the state that they be on the outlook for persons who, pretending that they are agents of the department of finance of the State of Illinois are out "adjusting" claims and collecting taxes. Through a reptile and a fish,
It never once forgot its wish.
Through the monkey and the ape,
Still it climbed in higher shape.
Through the forest, by the stream,
It followed still its early dream.
From the cave, and up the steep,
Man, emerging from his sleep;
In his hand, a broken stone,
For to make the world his own.
Through his struggles and his fears,

Through the slow, unnumbered years,
Through his heartbreak and his pain,
Through his triumph and his gain,
Through his passions and his crimes,
Through his failures, still he climbs.
By the sword and battle axe,
With the ballot and the tax,
By the scaffold, rope and chair,
By his faith, his hope, his prayer,

WHAT ABOUT SULLIVAN'S SCHOOL TAXES?

Much has been said concerning Sullivan's School crisis and the fact that the city grade school board has been unable to pay necessary expenses of operation from the rapidly diminishing income. What are the facts and what must be done?

The statutory maximum tax rate per hundred dollars of assessed valuation for elementary school districts, without a referendum, is $1.38. During boom times and boom prices Sullivan was forced to build a new building and issue bonds to pay for it. When the crash came with its declining property values, the $1.38 rate failed to bring in enough cash to meet bond payments and pay teachers. Sullivan, unlike Chicago, could not go to the Governor with a request from its City Council and obtain a $30,000,000 bond issue at the expense of the entire state to tide it over! The school board faced the wall!

What are the facts? Figures taken from the files of the Moultrie Farm Bureau Taxation Committee show that Sullivan school taxes have been cut 18% during the past two years while all other taxes were cut only 6%. Teachers salaries have been radically reduced and every economy made. The schools have made greater reductions in tax cost than any other branch of government.

What then is the basic cause of all our tax troubles? Is not this just another example of the breakdown of the antiquated property tax system in use in this state? Taxation records compiled at Springfield by John C. Watson, taxation expert for the I. A. A., show that 90% of all tax money collected in Illinois is paid by the owners of tangible property such as land, city lots, buildings and personal property. This same tangible property that pays 90% of the taxes receives only 10% of the net income of the entire state according to Federal government figures. In other words, the real reason for our school tax troubles here in Sullivan is that some of the citizens of our community who own no property but receive good salaries or commissions are sending their children to school at the expense of the small home owners, business men and farmers who pay 90% of the taxes and receive only 10% of the net income. The blame for this condition is not on the local community, but upon the antiquated state constitution and our indifferent voters who allow it to remain.

What is the way out of our Sullivan situation? The city faces an emergency and quick relief must be found. The only road open is to increase the tax rate by a referendum vote. The only permanent solution is a more equitable distribution of the tax burden in accordance with ability to pay,—more specifically, a state income tax.

You can live in Florida
Exactly as you please
Have expensive suites of rooms
Or camp among the trees.

I know some people think
That if you would be swell
You must be registered
At some high-priced hotel.

But no one cares a rap
Where you board or sleep
Just so you pay your bills
All obligations keep.

And many people here
That come to miss the snow,
Are careful with their coin
They see how far 'twill go.

I've seen cars in tourist camps
That did not look worn out,
Many folks are camping
That are well to do, no doubt.

The finest things in Florida
It does seem to me,
Are scenery and sunshine
And both of these are free.

And I know for certain
There is no winter here,
For the vegetation proves it
And it's that way every year.

GYPSY MOTH RIDES HIGH

Federal entomologists have captured the tiny first stage larvae of the gypsy moth floating in air currents as much as 2,000 feet above the ground. They point out that it is fortunate for the rest of the country that the first gypsy-moth infestation was in New England where the winds are principally from the west and northwest, and so carry the larvae out to sea. If the first infestation had been in the central part of the country the spread of the pest through wind dispersal might easily have been rapid, and the area invaded would have been much greater than it has been.

Mattoon Eliminates Reds, 20 To 18 In District Semi-Final

Mattoon — Sullivan glorified Reds were eliminated from the state cage derby here Friday night when Mattoon's rangy Big Twelve co-champions outlasted them for a narrow 20 to 18 triumph in a semi-final's contest which bordered on perfection.

The Reds skipped off to a 6 to 3 lead but Mattoon rallied to tie it up at 7 apiece at the quarter, then went ahead, 9 to 8 at the half when Referee O'Brien ruled out Ebby Scher's free throw on the basis that Horn had prematurely sprang into the circle.

That Final Quarter

The victors had fattened their margin to 14 to 12 at the start of the final chapter; then Substitute Wayne Austin drove in to count a one-hander from the free throw line. Captain Horn, who averages scarcely more than two shots per game, arched the ball in from the 30-foot mark. Following a minute of hectic play Johnny English found himself alone under the hoop and forthwith banked in the fielder which squared accounts at 16 all.

Sleek little Mickey Cochran, who has made the Mattoon folks forget all about Harry Gaines, flapped the net from back of the circle.

Killian danced in for a pushup and the hosts were leading, 20 to 16 with little over a minute remaining. Cochran fouled Schack for his fourth personal and quit the floor amid tremendous applause. Schack, at best in the crisis, sank both pitches, placing the Reds just one bucket short of a tie.

The score board had just flashed the one minute sign when the Reds ward off another one of Mattoon's close-in sieges and Johnny English was paddling the ball down the court. There seemed no need for haste but lo as the dribbler neared midcourt the final gun exploded, leaving our Redmen quite surprised and agonized by their failure to let go a long-range hopeful.

Reds Look Good

There were no regrets as each of the Reds put up a laudable exhibition. In fact it was somewhat miraculous that they, little men as cagers go, were able to stem the boring in tactics employed by the towering Mattoon specimens, who were favorites by many to pile up a topheavy score.

Bob Spicer, Austin and Cochran listed as guards, accounted for 14 of the Youngmen's points, but in reality, they were offensiveness of the first order. Cochran, a floor guard, conveyed the ball down the court and frequently continued in for a one-hander, while it was Spicer's lot to rebound at both baskets.

Measuring 6 feet 4 and possessing with the will to excel, Spicer was truly a wild horse under the basket. He was off his feet for every Mattoon basket thrust, endeavoring with long arms to beat the pill back into its satchel. However staunch Leo Horn rose to heights unknown as he repeatedly soared into the air, creating tie balls with the black-haired giant to prevent his malicious intentions. Thus the latter was able to show but three baskets while Leo himself checked in with a pair.

A rabbit's foot dangling from a cord about his neck, ball-hawk George Poland was here, there and everywhere in his check of Frank Killian, a neat-featured youth who glides over the court with the ease and grace of a ballet dancer. Brick proved a rough carpet to the dance-master, restricting him to one bucket in each half.

Schack Goes Unstopped

Frankie Schack, who has now gained statewide recognition contributed 10 points to the Reds' total. Early in the game he brushed past Howard Wade for a pushup, but then fell to single handed pitches from far out, which were lacking of their customary accuracy. Wade, who at intervals smiled like a cat munching thistles, hung to Frank throughout and was so employed that he could garner himself but one fielder.

The battle was viewed by the largest crowd ever to see a game in the palatial Mattoon gym, 2,200 to be exact. And you remember that both Thornton and Streater appeared there this year.

Sullivan was benefitted by charity throws, sinking six of their nine, while the winners made but two of eight. Mattoon's captain, Charlie Beem, showed to advantage in his directorship of his club's smooth floor play, which of course, doesn't turn up in the box score—a criterion which portrays him as a rather useless character.

Reds Start Well

Cochran opened business with a free throw only to see Schack twist in a rebound. Spicer dribbled in to regain the lead for Mattoon. Schack rushed in a hard pass to Horn, who relayed it into the web. Schack swung around Wade for a pushup, but Cochran flipped in a one-hander as he dribbled up from the side. Schack hit one of two free throws. Killian romped around, scoring to make it 7 all at the quarter.

Mattoon Forges Ahead

After three minutes of second quarter play, Scher came in for Pifer. English's penalty throw put the Reds in front, and Scher notched a similar toss which was disallowed on the claim that Horn had stepped into the circle during the shooting. Spicer counted from below to afford Mattoon 9 to 7 half-time lead.

Wade lengthened it to 11 to 8 as he slapped the ball in from close quarters shortly after the third stanza had opened. Pifer's free throw and Schack's long, knifing one-hander tied it. Spicer played a rebound for his final bucket. Then Schack punched in one of two gift tosses with Spicer duplicating and the quarter elapsed with Mattoon clinging to a 14 to 12 advantage which they fostered to the end.

Shelby Thumps Reds, 38 To 26 For 3rd Place

Disinterested Reds Watch Charles Garvin Score 22.

Mattoon—Footweary and low-spirited over their previous night's elimination at the hands of Mattoon, an indisposed Sullivan high quintet tramped back Saturday night to absorb a 38 to 26 cuffing from Shelbyville in one of these unnecessary third place games in which nothing is at stake.

In past years these consolation affairs usually developed into a farce as both contingents have been knocked from the running and the winner of the event remained nothing more than an also-ran. In quite a number of the districts this year these useless tilts were abolished, but here at Mattoon, where tickets came at a higher price, the contest was felt necessary to give the patrons a longer run of entertainment on their investment.

Final Appearance for 6

The game marked Shelby's third victory in four meetings with Sullivan this year and also served to close the prep cage careers of three members of each team. Leo Horn, Ebby Scher and George Poland and Charles Garvin, Leo Stampfer and John Frizzell of the winners will be graduated this spring.

And of that group, Charlie Garvin, a rather frail but willing black-haired scrapper, made his swan song a most auspicious one, ripping the ball thru the cords for a total of 22 points as compared to a mere eight for Schack. His seven field goals recorded in the opening half accounted for all the Shelby points save two free tosses by Frizzell.

Charlie Vas Dere

In the final half, Charlie added two more baskets and four of five attempts at the charity line. All of his nine fielders were of the push-up variety as he dribbled under. During the first half he dropped in five consecutive baskets.

Finley Pifer opened the scoring with a fielder from beyond the circle then a free throw. There the Red attack paused while Frizzell was sinking one of two penalty tosses. Schack picked up the rally when he pegged in a one-hander from the side, and Poland added a tally on two gratis throws.

Garvin Takes Charge

While the Reds leading, 7 to 1, the aforementioned Mr. Garvin completely changed the complexion of the game with a run of five close in baskets which elevated his team into a 11 to 7 advantage. At one time in the second stanza English looped a long basket to reduce Shelby's lead to 12 to 10, but the Bishopmen soon pulled away never to be headed.

Brakemen O'Brien and Henry slowed the exhibition down to a walk as they distributed a total of 26 personals. The Reds converted half of their 16 while the Okaw co-champions sank a dozen out of 17 tosses.

Schack's version of the contest was that his mates were putting out in the first half while he idled; then in the second portion the procedure was reversed. Frank was replaced by Jimmy McLaughlin at the start of the final lap but he was soon returned as the fans set up a clamor for his presence.

Bouncing George Poland was a martyr to a lost cause, providing the Tribe's only brilliance, except for occasional flourishes on the part of Schack. He held adroit 2d Garvin to four tallies while he himself collected 10. Just before the final whistle the little rubber man counted a beautiful long basket and then returned to roll in a push-up and free throw. Milt Lewis and he were the only regular combatants who did not foul at least twice.

Gains in Cooperative Marketing

That the cooperative marketing of livestock is gaining rapidly in Moultrie County is shown by figures just received from the stock yards. During 1932 only 17.7% of the livestock produced in the county was being sent to market through cooperative channels while in 1933, 24.1% went the cooperative way. A total equivalent to 167 carloads of livestock was sold through the Producer agencies in 1933 as compared to only 121 cars in 1932. Farmers in general are seeing that the cooperative plan is the only sure way to producer control of prices. For the state as a whole the gain in volume for livestock cooperative has been from 19% up to 21% of the total.

Marrowbone Demos Had Booster Meeting Thursday Night

Entertainment Was Excellent and Candidates Were Heard.

(Contributed)
About 125 Democrats attended the regular March meeting of the Democratic Booster club of Marrowbone township last Thursday night in the Lion's club rooms.

Many of the visitors commented on how fortunate we were in Bethany to have such a beautiful hall. We are glad to publicly pass this on to the members of the Lion's club and to thank them for renting us their rooms for the meeting.

The Democratic ladies of the township and most of the candidates of the Democratic party of this district were guests of the club. In the social get-together the voters were permitted to meet and become acquainted with the various candidates and renew old acquaintances and visit their neighbors.

President A. T. Goetz presided over the meeting and after the business preliminaries, turned the floor over to the chairman of the entertainment committee, George Foster. Hugh M. Rigney, chairman of the central committee of Moultrie county and a candidate for State Legislature delivered a very interesting address in which he briefly reviewed the history and causes of the depression and contrasted it with the "New Deal". He said that the Central Committee picked no slate and may the best man win and spoke on the State ticket.

Miss Madeline Weaver, the Illinois Songstress, accompanied by her mother on the piano, beautifully sang three selections.

Ed Brandenburg, editor of the Sullivan Progress and a candidate for the State Legislature, delivered the major address. Mr. Brandenburg stressed the good points (which are many) of the party. Contrasted the idea of giving ev-United States Senate. Of course with the Roosevelt program of aiding the "forgotten man." Ed spoke on government planning and the new banking law with deposit insurance. He also brought to the attention of his audience the World importance of Roosevelt influence and that even the Republicans are running for office on a Roosevelt platform, as for example the Governor of Pennsylvania, running for everything to the Barons of finance we of the general public will elect Democrats who will be capable of carrying through the program of the "New Deal."

All the county candidates had a few words to say.

After the meeting sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee were served.

The entertainment committee aided by other members of the club are to be complimented for their work of making this, our first host meeting, a real success.

Dangerous Curve
Last Friday night Hugh L. Martin and family were awakened at 11:30 by an awful crash, a Ford V-8 had landed front wheels inside their east bed room tearing quite a hole in the east side of the house. The Ford which was driven by one of the Kelly Bros. of the Kelly Grading Co., wasn't damaged to any great extent. The cause of the accident was making the curve and the slab being slick the car got out of control and ran across the ditch through the fence and into the house. No one was sleeping in the bedroom at the time and now they are afraid to sleep there as a car the night before almost did the same trick.

LATE DEVELOPMENTS IN CIVIL WORKS SERVICE IN MOULTRIE CO.

tha Jensen, and the chairman of the Moultrie County Emergency Relief committee, Frank C. Newbould, were called to Chicago for a meeting Monday relative to relief activities following the demobilization of CWA work which is taking place. As has been announced, the CWA will be over March 31. It is expected that there will be some plan for completion of work on CWA projects which are not finished by that date.

Relief offices all over the state have been instructed to investigate very carefully all applications for relief from persons who have just been laid off by the CWA. "Too many of them seem to feel that they are entitled to relief if they cannot have CWA work," Mrs. Jensen stated. "We are urging these applicants to make use of their own resources and to seek other work instead of immediately applying for relief and relying on us."

No More Federal Foods
The CWA workers in Moultrie County will receive no more federal surplus foods, by order of the Federal Relief Administrator, Harry L. Hopkins. This announcement was made in February from Washington.

Questions occasionally come to the relief office about the policy to be followed with regard to transient individuals and especially transient families. They are very apt to come to business men and local officials, asking for food and gasoline in order to get out of town. Some of these cases are genuinely in need, but others are known to be using this as a "racket."

et." One small family which travelled around in Illinois, Missouri, and Iowa for about a year, showed a record they had kept of what they had received in this way. The total was almost a thousand dollars.

Strict Supervision
Because transients have become such a problem, the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission is asking that all cases in each county be sent to the local relief offices. The office investigates the family's needs, gives temporary assistance if necessary, and sends the family to the nearest state transient center. There are seven of these in Illinois, the one in Springfield being the one which serves Moultrie county. The transient center is equipped to take care of homeless individuals and families until it is determined where they can best settle down and be at least partially self-supporting.

At the THEATRE

Manager Hays two big shows on Friday night are "Cocktail Hour" and "Hold the Press."

In the first picture Bebe Daniels stars, assisted by Randolph Scott and some others whose names would not mean much to you. Bebe is listed as being 50% of the show. You'll like her singing, especially "Listen, Heart of Mine." Bebe is the wife of Ben Lyon and has a two-year old daughter. Her press agents say she likes spare-ribs and sauerkraut and that is enough to recommend her ability to this column writer. Randolph Scott is a bachelor and can act—weighs 195 pounds, but not particularly heavy above the ears. See him and judge for yourselves.

The "Hold the Press" picture is a highly exaggerated picture of a news hound and his battle with vice and wickedness. Tim McCoy is the hero. If you see this picture you'll know what newspaper reporters have to contend with—yes, you will NOT. But it will fill an exciting hour or so. Charley Ruggles used to be good in playing the part of a drunken reporter. This guy McCoy is not that type, but he is of a more heroic mold—though less true to nature.

For the folks who do not like the big feature pictures there will be some short features.

Tombstone

Way down in southwest Arizona there is a town named Tombstone. At one time it was quite a place—lots of excitement, bad men, etc. In recent years it has not been so prosperous. We had an inclination to go there a few years ago to buy the weekly newspaper. These might have been a tombstone in it for us.

Saturday's show is a picture the scenes of which are laid in Tombstone back in the roarin' shootin' corrupt days of the early and partly fictitious wildwest. The name of the picture is "Frontier Marshal" and George O'Brien is the glamorous hero while Irene Bentley is the feminine package of beauty and virtue. This picture is said to be the "cream" of the season's crop of Westerns. Plenty of good shorts make a well-rounded program.

Six of a Kind

Get this—if you like good clean humor, don't miss the Sunday-Monday show. Look who's here—Charlie Ruggles and Mary Boland; W. C. Fields and Alison Skipworth; George Burns and Gracie Allen.

If this isn't one of the best comedies seen at the Grand in many a day, we miss our guess.

Enjoy Their Troubles

The Tuesday night offering is "Shadows of Sing Sing" with Mary Brian and Bruce Cabot. This is one of those popular themes where love runs athwart the law and your sympathies are all with love. The lovers face the desperate plots of a villainous gang—but hang the gang—loves triumphs. You'd expect it to, wouldn't you?

Picture goes pay to see happy endings. That is why some pictures just can't be natural. The picture fans must be pleased. If you'd show them a picture showing the hanging of an innocent hero, they'd never forgive the theatre man and would never come again.

Wednesday - Thursday

The gushing press agent says: "He climbed to success on a ladder of dancing women" and we ask "Why didn't he float there on a Raft?" Hotcha! You see the fellow's name is George Raft. Maybe we could sell that gag to adorable Gracie Allen. She's just that smart-dumb. This man Raft stars in "Bolder" and with him are Carole Lombard and our old World's Fair friend, Sally Rand. According to the sample pictures of the performance Sally is wearing split skirts, feathers and such-like frills. That makes her better looking, for it hides a lot of unsightly white meat. You know, we believe that clothes actually improve the looks of all girls who wear them. This is just a guess, of course. After nudism becomes more prevalent, columnists will have a better opportunity of forming sound judgment.

Do not be staying away from this show for fear Sally might shock you. We'd bet she will disappoint you. The picture really ought to be good. Raft and Lombard are top-notchers.

MEDICAL ADVICE

If you want to

- ... relieve constipation safely
- ... regulate the dose to suit your exact need
- ... avoid danger of bowel strain

—use a liquid laxative

Can constipation be safely relieved?

"Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" declare thousands who have followed their advice and know.

You are not apt to cure your constipation with salts, pills, or tablets, or any habit-forming cathartic. But you can relieve this condition just by gentle regulation with a suitable liquid laxative.

Why Hospitals Use a liquid laxative

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can be controlled. It forms no habit;

SULLIVAN BOOSTER

Lose Fat Safely and Quickly

Kruschen Salts—(a perfect combination of the six mineral salts your body should possess to function properly) purify your blood of harmful acids, and aid the kidneys and bowels to throw off waste material—the continual formation of which is probably the cause of your fat.

But don't worry just as long as you have Kruschen Salts. Take a half teaspoon every morning before breakfast in a glass of hot water—little by little that ugly fat disappears, you'll feel better than ever before—years younger, more energy. You'll soon possess that enviable beauty, clear skin sparkling eyes, superb figure which only perfect health can impart.

An 85c bottle (lasts 4 weeks) at any progressive drugstore in America. Money back if Kruschen doesn't convince you that it is the safest, quickest, easiest way to lose fat.

High School News

Margy Lou Scheer

Well, the basketball season is over. Old STHS hasn't made such a bad record for herself this year. Out of thirty three games, only 7 went to opposing teams. The Moultrie County and Okaw Valley tournaments were both Sullivan's "meat." The prospects for next year look pretty good but we'll sure miss our Senior "stars". Before long Mr. Dennis will start spring football and track. Neither of these will be the drawing card that basket ball has been but we'll still follow the school.

A new project has been started out here. The Home Economics club is redecorating the rest room. They are putting up new blinds and putting new covers on the bed and lounge. The room certainly needed something to brighten it up.

The girl's basketball tournament has been postponed until next Monday and Tuesday. Teams have been picked from the four gym classes and drawings for the tournament will be held next Monday. The teams are:

7th hour Tuesday and Friday: (colors black)—Marrabelle Sears, captain-forward; Lucille Freese, f.; Celia Sears, f.; Ruth Jenkins, g.; Donna Frederic, g.; Mary Fleming, g.; Florence Crockett, side center; Genevieve Duff, side center; Katherine McFarland, center.

4th hour Tuesday and Thursday (colors white)—Nancy Condon, f.; Mildred McDonald, f.; Lorene Kingrey, f.; Mary Ellen Baker, g.; Pauline Shirey, g.; Amanda Fichon, g.; Lurene Freese, side center; Grace Rozene, side center; June Cochran, captain-center.

3rd hour Tuesday and Thursday (color pink)—Frances Carnes, f.; Doris Reynolds, f.; Alice Kenney, f.; Esther Epperson, g.; Ada May Vail, g.; Clara Colclasure, captain-guard; Edna Carnes, side center; Dorothy Green, side center; Louise Graven, center.

4th hour Monday and Wednesday (color green)—Ann Reeser, f.; Eloise Pifer, f.; Rose El Harmon, f.; Helen Sona, g.; Hazel Vaughn, g.; Wilma Spauld, g.; Betty Reeser, side center; Gene Wheeler, side center; Margy Lou Scheer, captain-center.

Those little missiles of happiness were handed out Wednesday. Who said report cards were missiles of happiness? It sure will be a relief to get just two more of "them things."

"All the world is a stage." The English four students were "honoring our ears" with that a little while ago and now the English two pupils are trying their best to learn it. Queer as it may seem, a good many pupils wish that Shakspeare had never been born. I wonder why.

Mr. Scheer took the day off on Monday to celebrate Dad's Day at McMurray college.

Lola Belle Schultz is back in school after a long vacation in which she persuaded pneumonia that she "couldn't use it."

Last week seemed to be old home week for last year's grads. Hugh Grote, Loyce Davis, Bill Dwyer, Beechie Hill and Elmina Scheer were all in town to see the tournament. Too bad we couldn't win for them but they saw a good game Friday night. The game Saturday night can just be counted as "past history."

Bill Bone, a rambling poet, entertained us Friday. He received a lot of laughs and gave us some examples of good old common sense.

schools we are leading by a little more than fifty. We accept a correction regarding our report of the recent local contest. We stated last week the men and boys lost. We should have used the word "won." The women and girls will entertain the winners.

"The Christian Life is like an airplane." Isn't that fine to be able to get up in the air and go places? But when the airship stops, it drops. Draw your own moral.

Why a Funeral Home?

WHILE we will, of course, serve anywhere, we always recommend the use of our comfortable, modern funeral home because it offers many advantages over the private residence as the most fitting place for the funeral service.

The private home is constructed for the activities of life and even in the hours of sorrow these activities must go on. Our funeral home is designed to meet all the special needs of this trying period with the greatest possible convenience and comfort.

Here everything is provided for paying the last beautiful respects to the departed in perfect freedom from the distractions of the residence and intrusion from without.

Reds Defeat Hammond, 41-29 Tuesday Night

Sullivan's Reds breezed thru an easy 41 to 29 post-season victory over Hammond at that place Tuesday night.

With the citizenry in and around Hammond hungry for their first view of Frank Schack, Coach Carlock booked this game as compensation for a football engagement the Reds owed them.

Sullivan was off to a poor start and trailed, 10 to 8 at the halfway mark, only to find themselves in a last half onslaught.

Schack had sprained his ankle that afternoon and did not start. He spent the first period on the sidelines but when the second began the capacity crowd howled in protest for that which they had paid to see.

Dennis relented so Frank limped into the game to thread the net with eight baskets and three free throws.

The all-tourney selection were chosen by the following sports writers: John Bowman; Alexander Summers, handsome Charleston Teachers college scribe; Clyde Johnson, Herald-Review's Coles county correspondent; and the writer.

— S O S —

Pat Harmon, a Freeport basketball writer who takes precedence above Mark Peterman as the state's best dopster, has named his all-star teams. Here they are:

First Team
F—Boudreau, Thornton.
F—Anderson, Marion
C—Manis, Benton.
G—Hutchins, Thornton.
G—Spurgeon, Centralia.

Second Team
F—Cushing, Pontiac.
F—Schwab, Litchfield.
C—Wagner, Mt. Pulaski.
G—Rector, Benton.
G—Wright, Mahomet.

Honorable Mention

Forwards—Musso (Collinsville), Scheffler (Springfield), Barclift Quincy), Dupee (Freeport) Graf, (Elgin), SCHACK, (Sullivan), Johnson (Lawrenceville), Rogan Hillsboro), Palm (Streator).

Centers—Hart (Moline), Frary (Prophetstown).

Guards—Spurlock (Mt. Vernon) McLeod (Glenbard), Wardley (Joliet), Unitis (Westville), Boyle (Sycamore), Marsh (Waterman), Nisbet (Thornton).

— S O S —

He has the following to say about Schack: "Frank Schack of Sullivan was touted as a dead shot from almost anywhere on the court, but some critics expressed doubt as to his ability to star in faster competition. Perhaps he will gain proper recognition next year, as he is only a junior now."

— S O S —

Mr. Harmon, we would have you understand that Schack uses a deadly overhead push shot whose effectiveness would remain constant whether he was caging in the Big Ten or Sunday School league.

It's true that Frank's a little weak on defense, but what great offensiveness isn't? He could enhance his value to the team by spreading out his arms on defense and intercepting a few of the enemy passes which have gone unmolested past his ears. On intercepting he would have a nice clear floor on which to dribble goalward.

— S O S —

We almost forgot to mention, Mr. Harmon, that to our notion you have a lousy pair of second team forwards. No doubt you were vividly impressed by one of Riley Schwab's warm nights, but did you notice that the next time out he netted only two field goals?

Sullivan has a better organization than Pontiac, and if the two could be paired in battle Frank Schack would play little circles around Lyle Cushing.

If we were managing your second team, Mr. Harmon, we'd yank Cushing and Schwab in favor of Schack and Mattoon's Bob Spicer and then stand by and watch them give your first stringers all they desired in the way of basketball.

We would instruct Schack to blaze away from the circle and would ask Messrs. Spicer and 6 feet 9 inch Wagner to follow them in. That would be a lovely procedure.

— S O S —

Picking all-state teams is ticklish business, for quite often the flowers of cagedom are blushing unseen on some small high school quintet.

If Schack had not moved from Ina to Sullivan then Harmon, for one, would never have learned of his prowess. Similarly, if he had passed up Sullivan in favor of say Peoria Central, he probably would have been ranked a notch higher by that writer.

— S O S —

Harmon has completely overlooked that fine material prevalent down Charleston way, which was good enough to tumble Mattoon's Big Twelve co-champs on three different occasions. Their captain, Red Holmes, whose decorum is that of an ideal sportsman, is one of the best ball handlers in this section. And Center Brown, an untiring driver, shapes up as a perfect pivotman.

— S O S —

There are other excellent tilters in this territory such as Vavrek of Witt and Ray Garriott of Clinton. Although the later has just finished his first year of basketball, he is cool to extremes with an eagle eye on close in shots, which he renders on either hand.

— S O S —

From far-away New Mexico, Wayne Smith has received a letter from Pete McDavid, who says that conditions with him are ideal, and the athletic competition is one grand romp after having come from the University of Illinois.

— S O S —

Rebounds—Louis Gruenkle-meyer, Salem's star guard, is a former captain of a Sullivan grade school five. . . Howard Wade, Captain Beem and Bob Spicer are the seniors on the Mattoon quintet. . . Killian and Cochran are juniors. . . Shelbyville and Windsor are scheduled to resume athletic relations next year. . . We have a bone to pick with Madame Agnus Buova. . . Gene Davis, Mattoon frosh star, looks like a real comer. . . A car bearing the Windsor basketball forces home from their first district tourney game turned over, but somehow all of the boys escaped injury. . . The bad fog was to blame. . . Just a week before Aurice Young, one of Coach Dunscomb's regular forwards broke his arm in a similar smashup. . .

management was entirely right in its stand. . . A district meet is a thing apart from seasonal contests. . . A loudspeaker was installed for the tourney with Harry Gaines, who is going to make some college a great end, doing the mouthpiece. . . Not only did he emphasize the strength of each entry but when Sullivan took the court for the first time, Gaines caused Schack quite a little embarrassment as he told the fans all about him. . .
