

WEATHER

The intense heat has let up. Cooling breezes blow instead of hot blasts. There have been showers. The Findlay and Windsor localities had very heavy showers Wednesday morning. Some parts of Moultrie had very little of that rain, which was quite general over the southern part of the state.

Corn fields look good. If bugs are doing much damage, it is not apparent now. Soybeans bring joy to the farmer's heart and prospects for a good crop. We note in neighboring papers stories about Moultrie's big sunflower crop, but where is the acreage? Broomcorn cutting has started.

There are few if any peaches in this part of the state and you do not hear much about the crop in the downstate counties. Every property owner ought to have a few fruit trees. They beautify the place and there is nothing more delightful than to gather plums, pears, peaches and other fruits off your own trees.

This is a good fruit country. We know. We've tried it. Home grown fruit tastes much better than the stuff shipped in. No fruit has a better flavor than that raised in central Illinois. The shipped fruit is usually picked green and ripened in transit or in cold storage. It is insipid and punk as compared to what we can raise right here at home. Why not make plans now for planting a few fruit trees this fall or next spring?

If you follow this suggestion, in a few years you'll say: "That Progress fellow, did know something after all."

Illinois collected almost $2,000,000 more in automobile license fees this year than last year. Improved business conditions cause this.

General reports from the country over point to more automobile accidents and more drunken drivers. There is one way to keep the liquor situation under control. Jail one and all drunken drivers. If drunken driving causes death, prosecute the drivers for murder. Alcohol and gasoline do not mix well.

Hurrah for Commissioner Buck Fisher. He serves notice that weeds must be cut and trash cleaned off the streets and sidewalks. We hope that the city officials will have the intestinal fortitude to stand back of this order. Folks like a city council that means business. Make property owners clean up their premises and they too will be grateful when they see the big improvement.

Weeds are like careless habits. If you don't stop them in time, they take a lot of the joy out of life. If you haven't the time to cut your weeds, give the job to a man on relief. Offer him fair wages. Help the country recover.

John Croyle Gets 4 Months At Farm

John Croyle, who got into trouble in Mattoon the latter part of last week, created some disturbance in the north part of this city Wednesday evening. He threatened his wife, who is suing him for divorce. He also threatened to commit suicide. As a result of the disturbance he was gathered in by the law.

When Croyle got to the Enoch Ray (his father-in-law's) home on Wednesday night he threatened to "end it all" and to kill his wife and Mr. Ray. They got out of the way. He then confined himself in a room and discharged a shotgun. Neighbors who had gathered phoned to Sheriff Lansden and told him Croyle had committed suicide. The sheriff and undertaker went to the scene of action. Croyle appeared in a door, very much alive, but still threatening to kill himself. He then closed the door. The sheriff shot through the top of the room and used tear gas. Finally, Croyle surrendered.

Thursday morning he was brought into Judge Lambrecht's court. States Attorney Robert W. Martin prosecuted the case.

The result was that Mr. Croyle was found to be a vagrant and sentenced to a term of 4 months at the state penal farm.

Sheriff Lansden took Croyle to Vandalia and had him checked in Thursday afternoon.

John Croyle Had Trouble In Mattoon

John Croyle, well known man about town, was arrested Friday night in Mattoon and jailed on charges of being drunk and resisting an officer.

Saturday he was fined $5.00 and costs on each of two charges. He must have squandered the account for he is back in this city.

Miss Fern Garrett returned to Springfield Sunday after a week at home.

Contracts For Corn-Hog Soon Ready To Sign

Committee Will Notify Farmers When Signatures Are Wanted. All Government Conditions Being Met as Speedily as Possible.

"When will we get our Corn-Hog money?" is a question that is agitating the minds of about 1000 Moultrie county farmers.

Chairman O. E. Lowe of the committee that has the matter in charge says that work is being done as rapidly as is possible.

The farmers originally signed applications for contracts to restrict corn & hog production. The state committee for the federal reduction plan, set a quota for Moultrie county. This quota had to be met. It required various adjustments, before contracts could be prepared.

Now contracts are being typed in the Farm Bureau office, where the committee has its headquarters. Mr. Lowe says that all contracts had been typed by Wednesday morning except those for East Nelson, Whitley and Lovington.

As these contracts are typed, a summary of them all is furnished to the state. After the state committee approves the farmers will

The firm of Thompson & White has been in the general practice in this city since July of last year, at which time they took over the law practice of Judge J. L. McLaughlin. Mr. Ingram has been associated with them since March of this year.

The firm handles general practice in both the state and Federal Courts. Mr. White and Mr. Ingram will look after the trial of cases and the court work, and Mr. Thompson will look after the handling of estates and the general office business.

URGE SCHOOL DISTRICTS TO HOLD DOWN LEVIES

The Moultrie County Tax Reduction committee of the Farm Bureau is sending letters to school directors of the county relative to their tax levy.

It is urged that where a district now has a "needlessly large balance" on hand the levy for the coming year be "materially reduced or eliminated." Figures are given showing balance on hand in the districts on June 30th of this year. Many of the districts have enough funds on hand for next school year.

Sneak Thief Purloins Underwear And Gold Watch. Part Of Loot Is Found

One hot night last week, a picnic party of friends, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pifer, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Leeds and families, John Pence and members of the McIntire family went swimming in the Okaw near the McIntire home.

The evening was, as has been stated, hot. The cool waters of the Okaw were delightful. The swim over, the swimmers proceeded to don their other garments. John Pence's underwear was missing; so was part of Elmer Leeds' foundation garments and his gold watch.

In the light of the following morning the banks of the stream where the crime had occurred were scanned closely. Footprints were on the sands, even like unto those that Robinson Crusoe and his man Friday saw many years ago. A barefoot man had been in proximity to the bathing scene.

No City Water On Patterson Farm

Water superintendent R. P. Blystone and street superintendent Walter Birch motored to Paris on Tuesday and called at the office of district highway engineer. They asked permission to lay water mains along route 32 near the plant. The permission was granted.

At present the mains cross the C. O. Patterson farm. Mr. Patterson has tapped on, claiming he had the right to do so. Evidently he did, for the city's protest did not stop him.

Now the city will lay its main on its own property and abandon the cut-off through the Patterson pasture.

Golf Champion In Making At Country Club

Leo Horn Made Desperate Attempt to Eliminate Davenport But Failed. Other Near-Champs Are Still Nursing Hopes.

The men's championship golf tournament at the Sullivan Country club is stepping right along. Many good and noble men have had their hopes blasted and are out of the contest for another year at least.

One of the closest contests was that of Sunday afternoon when Leo Horn, youthful sorrel-top lost to Bill Ray Davenport of Arthur, 2 up and one to play. It was a thrilling match, both boys putting their best into it. Horn shot a 77 for 18 holes and Davenport shot a 76. Davenport has twice won the cup and retains ownership if he again wins this year.

William A. Gardner, one of the club's championship threats has emerged into the next frame in opposition to Davenport and hopes to stop the Arthur lad's habit of winning tournaments.

John Eads, Arthur banker, the man with the wide sweeping drive meets one of Sullivan's youthful bankers, Raymond Getz. O. F. Cochran, former champion, will have to dispose of Jas. McLaughlin and then goes up against F. C. Newbould. Supervisor Newbould recently in one afternoon disposed of Gerold Elder and Carl Hill.

As was expected, Doc Butler had an easy victory over The Progress editor, but he goes up against the real thing when he next tackles Ras Selby, the youthful grounds keeper and pro who put Doc Norris out of the running last Sunday.

John Gauger got onto Frankie Thompson's southern California curves and putts and eliminated him and next play Archie McCorvie who recently blasted Doc Johnson's championship hopes. The winner of this match goes up against strong competition in the winner of the Crosno vs. Bud Hankla match.

Monticello Here

Monticello golfers were here Thursday afternoon to play Sullivan. Sullivan will play them a return match later in the summer.

Grace Morrison to be Dalton City P. M.

The Progress is in receipt of a letter from Congressman Dobbins conveying the information of a change in the office of postmaster in Dalton City.

Following an inspection of the office and investigation of charges filed, Mrs. Wilson will be dismissed and Miss Grace Morrison will be named acting postmaster.

Mr. Dobbins comments: "From an item in The Progress a few weeks ago, I observe that this (Dalton City) is the only post office in Moultrie county that is not in Democratic hands. Therefore, with the advent of Miss Morrison to the position, Moultrie county will be one hundred per cent Democratic in post office administration. It is my understanding that this condition does not apply to any other county in state."

The Audience We Do Not See.

Writing for a newspaper is like addressing an unseen audience.

People like to be entertained. They want information. Where entertainment and information can be combined in the columns of a paper, it is a welcome visitor in the homes that subscribe for it.

What has an editor in mind, when he edits a newspaper? Well, let us take a look at the situation.

First, he must justify the name of "newspaper" by gathering, or having reporters and correspondents gather, an accurate statement of the events of the day. Just which of these events constitute "news", justifying their publication, is quite well established by custom and precedent over a long period of time.

Here is what I have in mind when I edit: I am telling my friends and subscribers things that I feel they would like to know. All items do not interest all readers.

For instance: I may write a death report. I know that outside the local circle of readers, that report will prove interesting to R. C. Parks in Texas, to Cleve Miller in Oregon, to Dr. Bateman in California, to Mrs. Angie Wright in Florida. Why? Because they knew the person who died real well.

Then I may write about a wedding. All folks in this community may be interested. Older subscribers away from here, who do not know the couple are not interested. But young folks like Stewart Seass in Massachusetts, Mack Freese in West Virginia, Homer Wallace in Arizona, Charles Kellar in Cincinnati, will read that item with a great degree of interest for they know the young people—perhaps went to school with them.

Farmers in this county want farm news. Women want club news and household items. 4-H club members and parents want to see their names in the paper, telling what is being done. Teachers like school news. Taxpayers want general news about taxes. M. & F. bank depositors want to know how the liquidation of the bank is progressing. Politics always furnishes some news and comment.

In the court house we get news of new suits being filed and old ones disposed of; of real estate transactions, insanity cases, marriage licenses, etc.

Now our conception of editing a newspaper is to round up all of these things once a week and tell the folks about them. When we write our stories we have in mind certain subscribers, whom we consider representative, and we write so as to inform and entertain them and tell them the things which we feel they would like to know.

Editing a newspaper is a continuous job. You must keep in close touch with anything and everything of public interest that transpires in a community.

Our favorite work is editing. If we may confess having a weakness it is editing the Editorial page. We seek to make that so interesting that people who never heard of Sullivan, will nevertheless, read that page. At that, the page always falls far short of what we would like to make it. A multitude of other duties such as selling advertising and job printing, managing a circulation, billing, collecting, etc., take up the greater portion of our time.

We could write a book, telling of all the things that are necessary to get out even a small weekly newspaper, such as The Progress. It is not an easy job. But the work is pleasant and despite its ups and downs we like it.

We are proud of our unseen audience. Several years ago an aged friend walked into this office with the pleasant remark: "I am proud of my Progress, that you send me each week, and I want to tell you I am pleased with the way you edit it."

Bouquets and brickbats. We get a smattering of both. We feel thankful for them. It is all part of the newspaper game.

Dobbin's Service To Veterans

A certain element, opposed to re-election of Congressman Dobbins, is spreading the report that he was opposed and hostile to Veterans' Legislation in the recent session of Congress. The following letter from Hon. J. E. Rankin of Mississippi, chairman of the committee on World War Legislation conclusively refutes these charges:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES UNITED STATES
Washington, D. C.
June 29, 1934

Hon. D. C. Dobbins, M. C.
Champaign, Illinois
Dear Dobbins:—

I wanted to see you before Congress adjourned and to thank you personally for your support of veterans' legislation.

I particularly wanted to express my thanks for your support of my Widows and Orphans bill, H. R. 9936, which passed right in the dying hours of congress, and which President Roosevelt has just signed. It is one of the most meritorious pieces of veterans' legislation ever passed by the American Congress. It will take relief into the desolate homes of 13,900 dependent widows and orphans of World War veterans, a vast majority of whom received their disabilities in the firing line on the Western Front. The disabled ex-service men and their dependents owe you a lasting debt of gratitude for your splendid services in their behalf.

Thanking you again for your assistance and support, and with very best wishes, I remain

Sincerely your friend,
J. E. RANKIN.

Chairman, committee on World War
Veterans' Legislation.

European Communism.

Two things are keeping Europe from an open outbreak of war. First, they fear that the United States may not finance it; second, no one nation seems to be ready to take the initiative.

Crazy, fear-torn Europe does not know what is ahead of it. Cut up into a lot of little countries with silly borders and a militaristic complex, it seethes and stews, with an outbreak now here, now there.

Its puppet kings and princelings have been pushed in the background by buccaneering adventurers. Past wars have taught it nothing. War is a European occupation. It is in the fields of war that the ambitious of those countries seek glory.

Bloody carnage must precede European peace and stability. One country must emerge victor of the entire continent and must forge the links for a United States of Europe.

Right now the prospects are bright that Russia may be that country and that communism may be the ultimate fate of a crazy, war-torn Europe. If the people are converted to communism they will overwhelm their leaders, upset thrones and Russianize the land.

That will not be a final solution. Government is an experiment. It changes from generation to generation. Kings and chancellors are but puppets on the stage and fate pulls the strings to make them act.

The world is all right. But the people are apparently all idiotic, some more, some less, but mostly more.

Civilization Degeneration.

Moultrie county is not a poor county. Its residents are presumed to be above the average in intelligence; it has no colored people and no foreigners. Its soil is above the average in fertility. It is watered by rivers and creeks; it is bisected by hard roads.

It is not, however, self supporting.

If a wall were built around this county to prevent things from coming in or going out, great distress would result.

Our comfort depends so much on things shipped here. We are dependent on fruits from the southland, flour from Kansas, potatoes from Wisconsin and a thousand and one other things that enter our daily life and to which we seldom, if ever, give a thought as to where they come from or who produces them.

Of course we send things out of here—corn, wheat, shoes, dairy products, etc.

Our prosperity is dependent on a balance of trade. Do we ship out as great a value as is shipped in here?

We import thousands of dollars worth of foodstuffs that could just as easily be produced here.

The old time independence of the pioneer Americans has been merged into a civilization of dependence. A century ago, many an American home was sufficient unto itself. It raised all the food it needed; it made its own clothes. It lacked many of the sissy comforts which we deem necessary to our present day existence.

Could the old time pioneers come and have a look at what the country has brought forth, they would doubtless bite off a big chunk of tobacco and spit disgustedly into the dust and remark, "And is this what we fit and bled and died for? Aw hell!"

Give Men A Chance To Earn.

We have one fault to find with relief operations.

In many cases able bodied men are being given relief without being given the privilege of earning it.

That is unfair to these men. It is unfair to those who will eventually, through their taxes, have to pay for this relief.

There are so many big public projects on which men could work, that it seems folly to give them any direct relief. Give them work at a fair wage instead. Those who refuse to work, give nothing.

We hope that the CWA will be reinstituted this fall and that good work will be available as was the case last year. Very few of Sullivan's meritorious CWA projects were even started ere this work ceased last spring. There are a dozen available projects that would employ our unemployed from early fall throughout the winter.

President Roosevelt in a recent radio message said in part: "A government's first duty to its citizens is to see that they are properly fed." To this we would add, what the President evidently had in mind: "To meet this obliga-

Sunday School Lesson

Elisha Helps the Needy
Lesson for Aug. 5th. 2 Kings 4.
Golden Text: Matthew 25:40.

What a contrast is Elisha to his very, two-fisted, flint-like predecessor Elijah! Elisha is a gentle, gracious person who devoted himself, like our Master, to deeds of mercy. He truly lived in accord with the meaning of his name, "God is Salvation."

Our Chapter opens with an appealing story of help administered by Elisha to a poor widow whose husband had been a devoted prophet. He found her burdened with a heavy debt, her creditor, in his impatience, actually demanding her two sons in payment of her obligation.

Now note that Elisha did not give money to the woman, but wisely enabled her to help herself. "What hast thou in the house?" was his inquiry. One is reminded of Peter and the lame man who sat at the gate of the temple. The apostle had no funds, but he gave the poor fellow something much finer, namely life itself. Thus he lifted him to a plane of self-help where he was able to work and earn in self-respect.

And what was the widow's reply to the prophet's query? "Thine handmaid," she said in despair, "hath not anything in the house save a pot of oil." No doubt she thought this oil was hardly worthy of mention. But the Bible is never tired of assuring us that the weak can become strong, that the small can grow into the large. Here we have a graphic illustration of this truth. Elisha instructed the widow to borrow vessels from her neighbors, to shut herself up with her sons and then pour oil into the vessels. She obeyed. And with what results? The oil miraculously increased so that there was enough to fill all the vessels!

The lesson here taught is obvious. The woman had little. But spurred on by Elisha she put that little to work. And to her amazement it multiplied many fold! We grow through using what little capacity God has given us.

A farmer has handed in the following poem in which he tells of the things that are grieving him:

THOSE CORN-HOG CONTRACTS

Oh, for what are they waiting
Oh, where have our contracts been sent
We would like to see them
Before all the money is spent.

So long we have hoped and waited
It is an awful suspense
Can the red take and produce them

Before they are consumed by expense.

On them to pay tax we depended
And some of us interest too
It was most of our cash income
And if you fail us, we are through.

Don't say we are all liars
About the hogs that we sold
We had sales slips from the buyers
That is enough we were told.

The skies are all brassy above us
The chinch bugs have ate all our grain

Our livestock will have to go hungry
Forgive, if we seem to complain.

We have been hopeful and patient
And will stick until help comes
But while public servants are feasting,

We would like to have some of the crumbs.

As I Knew Him Years Ago.

H. S. Butler

I knew him many years ago
When I was still a boy,
He always seemed so cheerful
Had so much to enjoy.

His parents owned a Section
His future looked so bright,
I envied his position
Although, that wasn't right.

He always drove two horses
To a buggy that was new,
And the boys that drove around him
Were, indeed, a very few.

And then when he got married
And started out in life,
A farm was given to him
The day he got his wife.

Then when he went to farming
It looked like he would win,
Everything, he planted, grew
He filled up every bin.

As the years moved swiftly on
The tide began to turn,
He got to spending money
Much more than he could earn.

The girl he married years ago
Failed in health and died,
Sickness left him penniless
He even lost his pride.

Now, when I want to see him
I know which road to take,
I drive out to the County Farm
And there, his hand, I shake.

Editorial Shorts

A special feature writer in Chicago's Sunday Tribune worked himself up to a high pitch of excitement because Secretary Wallace's farm in Iowa will get a few hundred dollars for compliance with the corn-hog reduction program. Why should that one farm be excluded from such payments?

The Tribune has evidently forgotten that its own pet politician, Andrew Mellon, while secretary of the treasury in the Hoover cabinet, paid back to himself and his corporations, hundreds of thousands of dollars as tax refunds which the Wilson administration had collected on war-time profiteering.

The Monday Morning papers brought prospects of more trouble in Europe. The new chancellor of Austria, Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg looks somewhat like Adolph Hitler. Like Adolph, he has such a cute little mustache and will that make Adolph and his Nazis mad!

You know Adolph's mustache answers the same purpose as does the tip of a cat's tail. Have you ever seen a cat about to pounce on a mouse? The tip of its tail keeps weaving slowly and fascinatingly. 'Tis said the mouse watches that tip and forgets about the fate about to befall it. The German people and the world at large have been so fascinated in looking at the cute little Hitler mustache that they have not sensed the bloody, power-crazed chancellor who hides behind it. But alas, Austria's new chancellor knows Adolph's secret and henceforth the battle will no longer be between Nazis and Fascists, but it will be Adolph's mustache against Dr. Kurt's mustache. So seiner Schrecklichkeit!

When the Carnine vs. Sullivan case came to so abrupt an end in court here recently, Sullivan missed something.

The case was an action against Sullivan for polluting the pure waters of Asa creek by dumping its sewage into it.

Attorney Wolf for the city had several bacteriologists on hand to testify but he held his trump card up his sleeve, as it were.

He had in mind summoning Chic Sale to testify. Mr. Sale is a specialist on sewage in the raw, its places of deposit and ways of handling. His appearance here would have focussed the eyes of the world on Sullivan's sewer needs and we blush to think what the world might have thought of us.

Relief Com. Gives Outline of Work Being Done In County

Mr. E. C. Brandenburger
Sullivan, Illinois

Dear Mr. Brandenburger:

Because of the interest which members of the community naturally feel in the activities of the relief organization, and because it has not been possible in brief conversations to go into detail regarding it, it is thought that perhaps a letter covering essential points will be appreciated.

In many counties of the state, the Emergency Relief has had to take over all or almost all the normal welfare activities of the county, as well as the unemployment relief burdens, because funds were no longer available for other agencies. Perhaps it is from this situation that some people have concluded that the Emergency Relief wishes to take over all such activities. If so, this is unfortunate, particularly in a county where there are still some local resources available. The Emergency Relief intends to supplement, not to supplant, other agencies, by taking over the unemployment load only, and cooperating with the other agencies. It has been necessary in this county, for the Emergency Relief to take over part of the welfare load, but mother's pension cases, the aged, and the chronically ill, chronic alcoholics, cases of domestic difficulties and other types of regular welfare cases are still in tended to be the responsibility of the local government as far as it is possible for them to take care of such cases.

Because the funds for relief are limited, it is, of course, not possible to help all those who apply. Relief is intended to be applied for only as a last resort, when all other resources have been exhausted. As was explained in the newspapers of the county recently, the source of part of the emergency relief funds is federal, and these are not to be paid directly by the county, but more than half of the funds now being used will come from motor fuel tax and occupational tax. In other words, all of us are paying for relief. If the community realizes this, surely everyone can realize more fully that it is his money that will be saved if he cooperates with the committee and helps to prevent the giving of relief to families not in extreme need. There will always be people in a community who would like to lay back and let the community carry the load. Frequently these are the ones who make the most efforts to influence officials and other members of the community, instead of spending the same amount of energy in trying to secure some employment. We want to give needed assistance to people in need of assistance, but equally we want not to give assistance to people who are not in need. Reports to the local relief office regarding income and resources of persons on relief will be handled confidentially and investigated as thoroughly as possible.

The county relief administration has been placed in the hands of a committee, which has employed a trained director of social service, and personnel selected locally to secure the necessary information and to keep the records required by state and federal relief administrations. This is a larger task than most persons unfamiliar with social service work realize, and the more so because there was no unified county welfare unit before the coming of the Emergency Relief. Personnel has been selected primarily on the basis of qualifications for the job, with need also considered. Whenever possible, employment has been given to persons on relief or almost in need of relief. Administrative costs are being kept as low as is consistent with efficient management.

As perhaps most persons in the community know, no cash is handled by the relief office. Relief given is in the form of orders on dealers. Grocery orders are ordinarily issued for a two-week period, the gocer being chosen by the client, and clients may purchase only items on an approved price list which sets a maximum price. This list includes staple foods, fresh meat, fruits, vegetables, etc. at a moderate price. Maximum prices are revised from time to time as is made necessary by changes in the market. The list provides all the types of food necessary for health, giving considerable variety among low-cost foods, but includes no luxuries. Fresh milk is provided for children, for pregnant women, and in cases of illness as requested by the physician. Fuel is provided only when the client can not provide it. Medical care is available in acute illness and in emergency, when applied for at the relief office.

It is the purpose of the relief organization to try to help people to help themselves, as much as to give them needed relief. To this end we have a garden program, with 88 gardens in two community plots and one hundred twelve home gardens, also some separate plots of potatoes. Canning facilities are also being arranged, these being available for the rest of the community as well as for persons on relief. These gardens are felt by the clients themselves and by others who have watched their progress to help the clients much more than by just furnishing them with vegetables—they are educational because of the way in which they have been handled, and are helping many clients to get better ideas of helping themselves.

The work relief program is another related type of project. Through it, the community receives some useful return for money spent for relief, and the man has again for the first time in months, perhaps, the feeling of a regular job and of doing something for the common good. We are very happy to be able to report that the employers of work-relief labor in Moultrie county have made many favorable comments regarding the type of labor they have had in this county, its efficiency, and the willingness with which the men have worked.

Another related project is that of rural rehabilitation, which is intended to help clients who are already on small plots of land but are unable to supply all their own food from land. This provides a plan by which they may secure a cow, chickens, pigs to fatten for their own meat, paying for them by work relief and making themselves practically self-supporting so far as food is concerned. While we have only about twenty clients in this county eligible for this program, they have been very eager to have such an opportunity.

In spite of our attempt to maintain rigid standards of eligibility for relief, the case load has been gradually increasing during the summer months. The figures showing case load and expenditures are practically self-explanatory, with the exception that it should be noted that increased services have been given by the relief office as time went on. For example, the handling of the Civilian Conservation Corps registrations has been transferred entirely to the county relief office since June 1st, the rural rehabilitation program is new, drought relief was handled by the office, etc.

discontinued the writing of regular orders and are requiring a re-application and re-investigation of every case. In this, the client must submit a new application in his own handwriting, which will be checked by the worker with our previous records before it may be notarized. All able-bodied persons in the family must register at the Moultrie County National reemployment service office, and certificates must be submitted showing that they are willing to take work which they are physically able to do when it is offered to them. When these have been filed the worker will revisit the home as soon as possible, also making other visits which seem necessary to determine the family needs. This will take considerable time, but it seems essential if relief is to go only to those who need it.

It is hoped that this letter will better acquaint the community with the job of the committee and the relief office. Some mistakes have been made, no doubt, and some will be made in the future, but not through intention. This is an emergency job, for which there are few precedents or outlines of procedure, and we are doing the best we can. We will appreciate suggestions at any time, and above all your continued cooperation.

Joel 1:18 "How do the beasts groan! the herds of cattle are perplexed, because they have no pasture."

Joel looking down through the centuries of time saw, by the eye of faith, things that would come to pass in the last days. Mingled with the many things seen by the old prophet, are herds of cattle perplexed because there was no pasture. Recently a magazine carried an article written by one who had been an eye witness to the terrible drought conditions pervading in the northwest, stating how he had seen great herds of cattle starving to death because of lack of feed and water. We are not going to say, this is what the old prophet saw, but we do believe they are shadows cast by the nearness of what he did see. We are not now living in the end-time but

I truly believe we are living in the times of the end. One of the later writers speaking of the end-time said "But evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse." Evil men are responsible for evil conditions and with the rapidity with which conditions are waxing worse and worse we have a right to believe we are nearing the end of the age. While the knowledge of this fact brings great fear in the hearts of those who have denied Christ a place in their lives, to those who are abiding in Him it is a great joy and anticipation.

TRAIL'S END
By Agnes Louise Provost

Near the sun-baked station the town of Marston straggled informally, a single dusty street with a few dwindling offshoots on each side. In the door of the post-office a young man appeared, looking up the road toward the station. He was tall and sun-browned, but without the weather-beaten, desert dried look. He had an arrogant nose with pride in every line of it, rather nice gray eyes, clear and steady and pleasant, finely curved mouth, curiously at war with the prideful nose. He caught sight of a shabby automobile over by the station, and a faint grin twitched at the corners of his mouth. He was wondering what some people of his acquaintance would say if they ever came to Marston and had to be met by that car.

"It looks like an old hobo," he reflected, "but Petry loves it like a

TO THE VOTERS OF MOULTRIE COUNTY

It has been brought to my attention that a rumor is being spread throughout the county that I am not for the Democratic ticket which was nominated in the April primary, at which time I was an unsuccessful candidate for the nomination for treasurer.

These rumors are absolutely untrue. I am a Democrat and I am for the entire Democratic ticket nominated. I am 100 per cent for Clarke Lowe for county treasurer. I failed to win, simply because I did not get enough votes.

I sincerely hope that this statement will now and all time stop the silly and untrue reports that have been circulating.

Publicity Letter From Relief Hdqs.

Relief clients as well as the staff of the relief office are all hoping that the canning equipment will arrive in the very near future. A supply of cans arrived Tuesday, but word has not yet been received as to when the remainder of the equipment will arrive. As soon as it does arrive letters will be sent all clients. Corn and other vegetables in relief gardens are at the prime for canning at the present time.

The Moultrie county price Stabilization committee met at the relief office Monday evening with all members present. Few changes in the prices which prevailed during July were found necessary by the committee.

Clients Self-Supporting

Families who were previously on relief have shown a very good attitude about the reapplication and reinvestigation which were begun over a week ago, according to Mrs. Dortha Williams Jensen, County Relief Administrator. Many of them have stated that they will be able to get along without further assistance, for sometime since they recently received federal surplus commodities, and are having a great deal of garden produce at the present time. Also, they are finding some employment on the farms. The case closing has made it possible to reduce relief expenditures for July and to give the necessary emergency aid to families without any resources.

Drought Loans

Not all the warrants for farmers who applied for drought relief loans have been called for as yet, and therefore a complete report on drought relief expenditures in this county cannot be made at this time. The seventeen drought relief loans were for a total of $928.75. These loans draw five per cent interest and are payable on or before January 1, 1935. They may be repaid in cash or by work relief. Nine of the seventeen warrants have been distributed, and a total of $47.22 has been returned by these farmers because they were able to purchase the necessary feed and seed for a smaller amount than was at first estimated.

The ninety-three farmers who received drought relief grants were furnished with the following feed and seed:

525 bushels soy beans, $1,001.25

Chinch Bug Oil

It has been called to the attention of the relief office that there have been some complaints regarding the chinch bug oil which was received in Moultrie county as a part of the drought relief aid. Since Moultrie county was one of the last counties to be declared in the drought area, the chinch bug oil could not be secured as early as it was really needed. However, 630 gallons of chinch bug oil were distributed to farmers who requested it, and the balance of the oil will soon be placed in suitable storage to keep it until needed next year. It is stored in air tight drums and will not deteriorate.

SNEAK THIEF PURLOINS UNDERWEAR AND WATCH

accompany the men to the place where he had hidden the watch.

The Heidelberg home is on the Okaw at end of a road. Arrived there, Clarence led the party into a berry patch. Near apost he started digging, just like a dog who is expecting to feast on a long-buried bone. About 18 inches down he came on a tin box. He up-ended it and the watch fell out. The officers took it. Mr. Leeds identified it as his own.

"Now where is the underwear?" was the next question. "I'll find it," said the willing Clarence. He went into the house where Pa and Ma were sleeping on a sod floor. In another room he reached into the pockets of an old leather coat. A look of consternation o'erspread his face and his hair stood on end. "Well, I'll be damned! Some low down onery cuss stole that off'n me!" he exclaimed.

Clarence was taken back to the Mattoon house-gow. Tuesday the Sheriff and Mr. Leeds again visited the Heidelberg home. They wanted the costs in the case paid. They were rewarded richly with promises but no cash was in sight.

And the sad part of the whole affair is that the men are still out their change of underwear.

MRS. CARRIE SMYER WRITES FROM LOS ANGELES
Los Angeles,
July 23, 1934

Dear Mr. Brandenburger:

Wish I might transport some of our sea breeze to Sullivan. I have read with much interest of the old subscribers of the Progress. I have been a reader of it, ever since it came into existence.

We moved to Sullivan in September 1874 and have always been very much interested in the success of the city.

As you know Brother Henry Smyer was one of the editors, after that editor of the Champaign Times. Allyn Stearns was in the Progress office when quite a young boy and with steady application to his calling, has made a very successful business man and in the Journalistic World.

I wish that I may come east some time in the late fall and spend Christmas in Sullivan. Regards to all my friends.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Carrie Smyer

Elder Fans 13 As Indees Nip Bethany, 10-8

Dale Gives Up 8 Hits, Walks 7. Bethany Errors Pave Way for Indee Scores. Rule, Fiest Triple.

By Jim Scott

Bethany — The reorganized Bethany Merchants started anew here last Sunday, but a batch of 7 errors sent them off on the same old route which led to a 10 to 8 victory for the neighboring Sullivan Indees.

Little flashes of mediocrity prevalent in most every inning, blazed into an unsightly display in the fifth when 11 runs swept over the plate. Six of these were tallied by the visitors, who had to utilize every bit of charity shoved their way as their own power was limited to two singles.

But the Indees returned the contribution in the next half inning, helping Bethany to five runs on their three-single investment.

Elder Fans 13 — Hurler "Big Bear" Elder, who was pitching into the mitt of his brother, "Little Bear" Elder, was alone responsible for Bethany's rally for besides yielding three singles, he issued two passes and hit one batsman. But outside this one bad round, "Big Bear" was a formidable chucker. Although raked for eight safeties, he was strong in the clinches through the use of his knockout ball. All told he fanned 13.

The Merchants never did succeed in retiring Billy Drum, the crack little Hillsboro athlete, who started the game in left field and then moved in to third when Fritz Poland decided that he had had enough. Drum collected a single, double, two passes and was safe once when Marshall dropped his left field fly.

Bill Rule and Dalton City's Harold Feist fronted the Bethany attack, each socking a triple and a single. While on the other end were Trojan Scott and Senator George (Century of Progress) Reed who whiffed on each of their three official missions to the plate.

V. Elder Starts It — Two hits and two errors earned Sullivan but one run in the opening chapter. The "Middle-Left Bear" Vernon Elder, led off with a single thru short. Fritz Poland fanned, but Drum deposited a safe bunt down third base way. Elder moving to third. McDavid was safe on a fumble by Majors, Elder scoring. Rule juggled L. Poland's grounder and failed in his attempt to force Drum coming into third. Then with the runways loaded Davis popped to Majors and Wayne Elder hoisted to Scott.

With two gone in the second V. Elder again got loose for the second Sullivan marker. After his fly to left had caromed off Marshall's glove, he stole second and scored when Rule erred on Fritz Poland's smash. The latter pilfered second but was thrown out on an attempt to take third.

Strategy Fails — An alert play by Peter Paul McDavid in the home half of the second only served to manufacture the initial Bethany tally. After fanning Marshall and Rule, Elder walked Scott, who stole second and then took the customary long lead off the bag. McDavid then tip toed in from centerfield, but Elder in his haste to complete the putout, threw the ball past him and Scott galloped all the way home.

A brilliant running catch by Harry Snow turned back the Indees in the fourth after the first three hitters had singled. Both Wayne Elder and Harrison connected for singles to center, but the former was caught off third. D. Elder followed with another safety, but Snow raced into right field to pull in V. Elder's fly, then pegged to first in time to double Mister Vernon.

Came the Fifth — We do not care to go into detail on this hubbub in the fifth which will merely state that Sullivan counted their half dozen runs thus: Drum walked. McDavid was safe on a fielder's choice which failed to retire Drum, L. Poland received credit for a single when Majors neglected to throw the ball to any base, Davis was hit by a pitched ball, W. Elder reached first on a misplay by Scott, Morrison singled and D. Elder was safe on a fielder's choice.

And here is the way Bethany got back five of the tallies in their half: Majors singled; Reed fanned; Snow and Fiest walked; Stocks forced Majors, D. Elder to W. Elder to W. Elder; Kelly singled; Marshall was hit by a pitched ball; Rule singled, but Scott fanned.

Rule Triples — Bethany went to work after two were gone in the seventh, scoring two runs to deadlock the contest at 8-all. Marshall walked and scored when Rule strapped a triple to center. Elder gave Scott a free ticket, and then Majors clipped him for a single, Rule counting.

The final Bethany error in the eighth paved the way for the Indees two-run victory margin. Scott snatched D. Elder's grounder only to throw the ball over the first baseman's head. Elder continued on around the circuit and later scored on a passed ball. After V. Elder and Stark had struck out Drum drew his second pass and subsequent singles by McDavid and L. Poland chased him across the platter.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

BY JIM SCOTT

Billy Drum the Sullivan Indees' right able 125-pound blond, will return in a few weeks to Hillsboro high, where he will embark upon his senior year. As a quarterback Drum is expected to lead school's eleven to another South Central grid title. On last year's championship machine he played quarterback on defense and guard on offense.

Principal Gerhardt, who is attending summer school at the University of Illinois, told Vernon Elder that the little speedster would be given a full time job of quarterbacking this fall and should blossom into a star of the first water. He also stated that the team will be greatly weakened by the loss of Herbert Rogan, the huge Negro, who is now over the 20-year age limit.

Drum incidentally, passed his first two prep years at Charleston T. C. high school.

After two or so years of intermittent effort it now appears that Leo Johnson has landed Earl Freeman for James Millikin university. Earl was in Decatur Saturday to make inquiry anent the Student loan fund.

Should Freeman go through with his plans, Millikin will be assured of a better cage team this winter. At least a pair of forwards such as he and Mel Goldman of Taylorville will provide the Big Blue forces with lots of offensive power.

It will be recalled that Earl was named on the Progress' all-time county cage five and, although 2 years out of high school, he has kept in touch with a basketball through Sullivan's City cage league. Johnson is also aware of Freeman's potentialities on gridiron and I believe, if he could use him in but one sport, then the Earl would lie idle during the winter months.

In that Webster City, Iowa baseball tournament, Bill Kinsel's aggregation dropped their first contest through no lack of efficiency on the part of the Bruce youngsters. Bill accounted for his nine's only run when he drove the ball out of the park.

His club was even less potent afield, many errors being committed, and worse yet, his battery mate was under the influence of alcohol.

Turner Graham's Sullivan Cyclones, a softball club composed of boys whose ages range from 9 to 14, are being lauded and applauded as the best young outfit in this sector. Undefeated to date they last week overwhelmed the gal ensemble, 17 to 2.

Third baseman Jim Yates has a throwing arm that even some of the older gents would be proud to possess.

A few weeks ago Pitcher Floyd Dietz of Shelbyville while twirling for some scrub nine out of Dalton City pulled a "Rube Waddell" at the expense of a Charleston club.

In the seventh inning he called in his outfielders, placing them directly behind the bases and then proceeded to retire the side in order. One batter batted to the 3rd baseman while Dietz took care of the other two.

A rather cockeyed procedure but I guess it was okay. I just remembered that Floyd was serving for a very goofy organization. Yes, 'twas the Dalton Grays.

Now that baseball is becoming popular in Rome with Mussolini rating as the No. 1 devotee, why shouldn't these stiff old gentlemen who write our high school Latin texts throw in a few diamond terms? Most students would rather play a baseball game than fight Caesar's Gallic wars.

But even a Latin lexicon of baseball terms is free of slang and like the account of Caesar's campaign among the Helvetians shapes up as so much stilted diction. Here is a brief Latin lexicon of baseball terms:

Pitcher: iaculator, -cris, m. First baseman: custos primae stationis.

Catcher: receptor, -cris, m. Left fielder: custos sinistri (exterioris) campi.

To put a man out: cursorem excludere.

To catch a runner stealing: cursorem, furtive progradientem excludere.

To catch: recipio, ere, epi, ceptus An outshoot: pila exterius curva A slow ball: pila lente-jacta.

To walk a batter: clavatore gratis ad stationem promovere.

Like Freeman there is another athlete chosen on the Progress' all-time county basketball five who I have always regretted, never saw fit to carry on his sparkling feats at some college university.

He is Harold Rhodes of Bethany, the most natural all-around athlete that I have ever glimpsed. Although seven years out of high school, married and possessed of a young heir, he could still become a headliner with any Little Nineteen school.

Softball recently brought him out of his retirement from athletics and his brilliance almost leads one to believe that he has played the sport all of his life. His alertness and speed is uncanny. Just ask the local Reds. They saw him go all the way to third on a ball which went no farther than six yards from the third base satchel.

BETHANY NEWS

(By Jim Scott)

Rhodes Funeral Saturday
Funeral services for Virgil Rhodes, 54, who died last Wednesday in Milwaukee, were conducted by Rev. D. E. Williams in Cumberland Presbyterian church here on Saturday afternoon. Interment was in the local cemetery. Mr. Rhodes was a son of "Uncle Billy" Rhodes and a father of Harold Rhodes, one of the finest all-around athletes ever produced in this county.

Gebharts Win 5-0
The fastest pitcher local softball enthusiasts have ever been privileged to watch was on display here Friday, hurling Gebhart's to a 5 to 0 decision over the local club.

Carrying an Atkins appellation he fanned 18 and yielded but two hits, both singles off the bat of Jim Snow and Troy Scott. He had a most singular delivery which was later found to be illegal. This, no doubt, explains why he has not been participating in Gebhart's Inter-City league tilts. Atkins' blinding fast ball comes out of a "windmill" windup which culminates with the releasing of the ball as his wrist sweeps against his thigh. The rule book emphatically states that snapping of the ball off any part of the body is an illegal delivery.

Gals Lose Again, 18-4
Pert little June Cochran and her associate Sullivan softballers repeated their previous triumph over the Bethany gals, winning 18 to 4 Tuesday night. And the athletic Miss Cochran, who circles the bases with masculine speed and grace, again supplemented her excellent pitching with a home run drive. Vel Wallace, a dangerous first base siren, was a heavy contributor to the offense and also handled most of the put outs.

Attiberrys Feted
Mrs. Birdie Attiberry gave a shower last Saturday afternoon for her son Dwain and his recently acquired bride, the former Miss Lena Myers of Bruce. Out of town guests were Mrs. Ethel Horn, Mrs. Anna Watkins, Mrs. Anna Shasteen, Mrs. Orpha Hilliard, Mrs. Goldie Shasteen, Mrs. Helen Goodwin, Mrs. Bell Mayberry, Mrs. Betty Silvers, Mrs. Cora Wright, Mrs. Freda Horn, Mrs. Mabel Bathe, Mrs. Effie Byrom and Mrs. Ella Woodruff all of Sullivan; Mrs. Grace Harding of Tulsa, Oklahoma, Miss Fay Blankenship of Decatur; and Mrs. Olive Harchous, Mrs. Mattie Brown and Mrs. Eva Low of Dunn.

Ban Immoral Exhibits
P. J. Dawson is now attached as special police to the Dunn Station beer tavern. It is Mr. Dawson's duty to break up any licentious exhibitions such as occurred at the rendezvous last week when one overly sozzled lady tried to show the patrons how Sally Rand got her name on the front page.

Mail Route Shortened
Postmaster Jim Farley and his boys have snipped two miles off Bethany's northern mail route. The change became effective August 1. Previously the mail carrier Ira Leitch, had been going this distance out of his way to serve one citizen, Father Maloney of St. Isadore.

A Word from Robert
If Emily Post will excuse us let us take a peek at a letter which Bob Crowder has sent to a friend. En route to Korea, he writes:

Dear Bob:
This is the last evening before the Pacific will separate me and my roommate. I'm sailing tomorrow at noon. The strike is raging here now and only passengers can enter the docks and they are likely to get their heads blown off. Well here's hoping they take good aim when they see me coming.

I've sure had one grand time after another out here in California. Last night we went fishing in the ocean and had more fun. It's so cool here we had to build a fire on the beach in order to keep warm.

Bruce Defeats Decatur Nine

(By Jim Scott)

Bruce—The Decatur Postoffice nine's six game winning streak went into the dead letter office here Sunday when a fusillade of Bruce safeties in the seventh drove Wilson Chamberlain to shelter and chinked another victory for Forrest misenheimer. With five runs in this chapter Misesy's final margin swelled to 8 to 1.

The fact that four Bruce regulars were absent didn't frustrate Mr. Misenheimer. He allowed the visitors not so much as an earned run, providing them with but six well-spaced bingles and fanned 14. Offensively he received his backing from Jimmy Evans and Carl Abbott, a young substitute.

The former stroked himself a double and a single while Abbott smashed a home run in the big home seventh and scored behind Wilson, who had been plunked by a pitched ball.

Chamberlain and his submarines offerings had the Sluggers well under control until the aforementioned eruption.

be notified to come in and sign the contracts. They are not to report for signing until notified.

There are about 970 contracts. The committee feels that when signing starts, at least 200 a day can be signed. No one township will be given precedence over others. The contract signers will be called in alphabetically. For instance when those whose names start with "A" are called in, they will be from all townships. That assures that when the day's signed contracts are sent out from here there will be some from each township.

The committee has some assurance that first payments will be made within about ten days after contracts are sent in and approved. The first payment will be $2.00 a head on hogs and 15c on corn. A second payment of $1.00 on hogs and 15c on corn will be made in the fall, perhaps November; the additional payment of $2 on hogs will be made later than that. Hog payments will be $5.00; corn payments 30c per bushel.

These payments are not for hogs or corn produced, but they are payments to the farmers on approximate corn that could have been produced on acres held out of production this year, and on decrease in hog production. The basis on which this is figured covers an average production for a number of years past.

While payments have been slow in coming, Moultrie county farmers, co-operating with the Corn-hog reduction program will eventually get a total of $244,928 less a small cost of administering the plan.

This sum is divided as follows: corn reduction $138,563; hog reduction $106,365.

The purpose back of this entire proposition is to reduce the available corn and hog supply, so the surplus will not glut the market. Farmers have for a number of years been suffering from overproduction which at one time sent corn down to about 10c a bushel and hogs, to less than 2c a pound. Chairman Lowe and his committee have been getting excellent co-operation from the farmers and assure them that they are working full speed ahead to get some of the money for them as soon as possible.
